Pre-Shearing Advance 50 Cts.

J. M. Lea Urges Growers Not To Shear This Fall

The pre-shearing advance from the National Wool Marketing Corporation on sheep not to be shorn this fall will be 50 cents a head, J. M. Lea of San Angelo, announced this week. In a formal statement, mailed to The Stockman, Mr. Lea urges ranchmen not to shear their flocks this fall. His statement follows:

"The present stocks of Texas 8 months and fall wool on hand in Boston is estimated to be about 20 million pounds in the hands of the National and various dealers. This quantity under normal consumption is fully sufficient to supply the demand for the next 18 months. For the past 18 months the demand has been much below normal for these wools. However, within the last few weeks there has been some sales made of 8 months and it seems that these wools will come into their own within the next few months.

"There are only two States which produce 8 months and fall wool; they are Texas and California. Texas produces the largest quantity and most of these wools come from the Southern part of the wool territory.

Beggar Lice Plentiful

"On account of range conditions this year, there was more beggar lice and hoarhound than for many years. Any one shearing their sheep this fall will most likely find that they have beggar lice, hoarhound or both in the wool. This means a discount of anywhere from 1 to 5 cents per pound. Beggar lice and hoarhound that is in the wool now and which would cause the wool to be discounted this fall will rot out before spring if left on the sheep and will not affect the price of the 12 months next spring.

"In comparison to other commodities there are only a small group of people who produce and control these short wools and they are very close together and should realize the importance of not shearing this fall when it is unnecessary.

"Some growers will say they cannot run 12 months wool successfully and will offer many arguments for shearing twice a year

If this was really true why is 80 per cent of the wool produced in Texas 12 months length? Why do growers continue producing 12 months wool who join pastures with growers who are producing 8 months and fall wool if they cannot successfully run 12 months?

Growers Were Warned

"In the past and as late as one year ago, wool growers were warned not to shear in the fall; that there was danger of being over-produced on this type of wool. Many growers gave the impression that they would not shear but when the fall clip was all shorn, it turned out to be one of the largest clips ever shorn in Texas.

"As a rule producers of any of the agricultural commodities will agree among themselves that they will cut down on acreage, shearing or anything else but they usually go home plant more acres or shear more sheep, thinking and expecting the other fellow to do the cutting down. They seem to think that if the other fellow cuts down it will give themselves an opportunity to get something for nothing. They seem to forget that the neighbor, who they have agreed with to cut down, has the same thoughts they do and he plants more and shears more. The consequence is that when the crop or clip is ready for sale, there is an over-production and low prices. There is no one to blame but the producer in such cases but he no doubt, blames every one else but himself for his predicament.

"It is the opinion among some warehousemen and bankers in the sheep territory that the wool growers will not make the mistake they made last fall by shearing too much fall wool this year. It

Two Coyotes Bagged In Wolf Drive On Hoover Pecos Ranch

By Rev. M. M. Fulmer

Two coyotes were killed as a result of a large drive on the A. C. Hoover Ranch in Pecos County last Wednesday, in which a large crowd participated. There were thirty men and boys mounted in the drive while a number of men were stationed at vantage points in automobiles. Mr. and Mrs. Hoover in their car supervised the drive, which was staged in a fourteen section net wire pasture. The drive was one of a series that has been staged and yet to be preparatory to running sheep in that section of country. Hitherto the country has been run altogether by cattle and horses with a few goats under herd.

The participants in the drive came from the local ranch and near by ranches and farms. Wolf chases are new to many of the farm boys but they entered into it with a real zest and enjoyment. Lon Freeman was in charge of the drive, being assisted by Mr. Stone government trapper from Fort Stockton. Three goats had been butchered to feed the crowd, and Ford Armstrong, local expert, had them on the coals before the hunt started shortly after daylight.

Aside from the serious business of killing wolves, the gathering partook of the nature of a picnic. Lots of fun and frolic, jokes and banter about horsemen and saddles and guns, which ranged from a 30 U. S. rifle to a 410 sawed-off shotgun loaded with number 7 chill shot. Following the drive of the morning the barbecue dinner was suggestive of rodeos, and when after dinner the crowd was corralled for a sermon by Brother Fulmer of Ozona it began to look like a camp meeting. But a good time was had by all and the hunt was on till late in the evening, then to supper again at camp, with sore muscles but glad hearts because of a successful and enjoyable hunt.

Woman's Club To Fight Mosquitos

Action Planned At Opening Of Season On September 15

The opening meeting of the Ozona Woman's Club for the 1931-32 season, scheduled in the original program for September 8 has been postponed to September 15 on account of the late opening of school, it was announced this week by Mrs. W. J. Grimmer, president.

One of the first problems to be undertaken by the club in the way of civic betterment when the club resumes activity for the season will be that of ridding the community of the mosquitos declared by old timers to be more numerous this year than in many years. Just what action is planned has not been announced but Mrs. Grimmer said that the mosquito question would be submitted to the club for consideration and some action might be taken toward getting a campaign under way to rid the town of this nuisance.

The first meeting of the club will be in the form of a luncheon at the Hotel Ozona in observance of "President's Day." Mrs. A. C. Hoover will be toastmaster and leader. Mrs. Bryan McDonald will furnish vocal numbers, two songs from the South and Mrs. Lee Childress will play a piano solo "Sheep and Goats," by the Texas composer David Guion. The president's message will be delivered by Mrs. Grimmer, Mrs. Evert White will discuss "What Is Going On In Texas," and Mrs. Vernon Cox will give a reading "Texas," by Henry Van Dyke. The program will close with "The Eyes of Texas," sung by the club.

Mrs. Eldred Newton and son, Jule, of Columbus, Ohio, and Mrs. Louis C. Bernays of Camden, Ark., are spending the week here visiting their sisters, Mrs. Scott Peters and Mrs. Floyd Henderson.

Street Paving Being Boosted

Property Owners On Ave C Being Signed Up On Project

J. L. Neill of Eldorado, paving contractor who recently completed an extensive paving program in Eldorado, has been in Ozona several days working on a paving project for this city, enlisting property owners along certain streets in a co-operative paving plan.

Avenue C, extending from the W. E. West corner south, is the first project to be undertaken by Mr. Neill.

More than half of the property owners along this street had signed an agreement to pay their share of the paving cost should the whole street be included and Mr. Neill was confident that all property owners on the three blocks of Avenue C would sign up for the paving.

In the event the plan is realized, an eight-inch gallic base with Uvalde rock asphalt hard surface would be laid on the street, 34 feet wide, from curb to curb. The street would also be curbed from one end to the other. Under the plan worked out by Mr. Neill, property owners would be allowed four years in which to pay their part of the paving assessment in the event they did not wish to pay cash.

After this street has been signed up, Mr. Neill hopes to get property owners on other streets to co-operate and to bring about a general street paving program for Ozona. Broadway from the edge of town to the downtown section will likely be one of the streets to be paved from curb to curb. Property owners along this street, which will be traversed by the Old Spanish Trail Highway, are understood to have already signed up to pave the street from curb to curb, meet the highway paving down the center. Mr. Neill says that if possible he intends to get the state and federal highway departments to agree to pay their share of the paving cost of the town street at once in order that the street paving might be done now instead of waiting a year or two until the highway surfacing work gets under way.

Lemmons Offers New Stock Of Fall Goods In Big Opening Sale

Giving local buyers the benefit of unusual bargain prices on the newest seasonal merchandise, bought recently on a personal shopping tour of the northern and eastern market centers, the Lemmons Dry Goods Company will offer its entire stock of quality dry goods and ready-to-wear in a big fall opening and "St. Louis Purchase Sale" which will get under way Friday morning of this week.

Complete announcement of the opening and sale, with hundreds of items listed at bargain prices, will be found in a double page ad occupying the center spread of this issue of The Stockman, pages 4 and 5.

Mr. Lemmons has just returned from a marketing trip and by reason of advantageous purchases possible this year is offering the most unusual bargains in the four years history of the firm here, he declares.

EMBALMER EMPLOYED

L. E. Townsend, late of Winters, has accepted a position as embalmer at Joe Oberkamp's. Mr. Townsend is a licensed embalmer and an experienced furniture man and will assist in waiting on the trade in addition to his other duties. One of Mr. Townsend's first acts upon reaching Ozona was to order the Ozona Stockman sent to him for the coming year. Mrs. Townsend and their two children are here and the family expects to move into the Homer Smith home this week.

Mrs. L. J. Kittle is visiting relatives in Comanche.

OZONA BOUND TO GET SEWER, SAYS S'WEST BULLETIN

Describing Ozona as one of the "brightest, cleanest, best built little towns you have ever visited," a bulletin titled "Underground News" issued by the Southwest Sewer Company of Dallas and dated August 25, says that all Ozona lacks is a "sanitary sewer system and it's bound to get it."

Here is the paragraph referring to Ozona in the bulletin, issued for employees and representatives of the company:

"Another very desirable little city that wants us to build a sewer 'now' is Ozona, Texas, where a very live Lion's Club followed up preliminary work of two of our representatives by printing their own 'connection pledges' and getting them signed by property owners. They certainly did a thorough job and we are having some engineering tests made there at present. If you have never seen Ozona, get the surprise of your life some day by driving across the apparently uninhabited stretches of Crockett County and dropping down, 'all of a sudden like,' into one of the brightest, cleanest, best built little towns you have ever visited. All it lacks is a sanitary sewer system and it's bound to get it."

WORK ON ADDITION

The new two story addition to the Joe Oberkamp store, which will extend the building to the back street, is nearing completion. It is of concrete and tile. The new addition will house the plumbing and undertaking departments and will provide additional display room.

Meredith Tells Lions Of Trip

Interesting Highlights Touched In Brief Summary Of Sights

Members of the Ozona Lions Club enjoyed one of the most interesting talks in several weeks at its luncheon Monday when Rev. J. H. Meredith, pastor of the Ozona Methodist Church, who has just returned from a 7,000-mile vacation trip which took him through half the states of the Union and into one province of Canada, gave a brief running account of the most interesting points visited on the extensive tour.

Rev. Meredith and his two daughters, Misses Ruth and Mary Meredith, concluded a six-weeks trip last Friday when they returned to Ozona.

Many points of historical and scenic interest were visited, the most important of which were described by Rev. Meredith. At the club's request, Rev. Meredith promised to discuss other phases of his trip at future club meetings.

THREE RENEWALS, THREE NEW STOCKMAN READERS

Three renewal checks were received and three new subscribers were added to the rolls of the Ozona Stockman during the past week. The new additions to the Stockman's family of readers include L. E. Townsend, undertaker at Joe Oberkamp's, Mrs. Ben Jones of Arden, who will receive the home town paper as a gift from her sister, Mrs. Clafin Ell-edge, and Jake Young, who, no doubt, wants to keep a close check on what the Town Gossip has to say about him.

Miss Lola Taylor, who has been spending the summer in California, returned last week in company with Miss Alma Johnigan and Raymond Lawrence, who accompanied Frank James and his mother on a vacation trip to the west coast.

Ranking School Boy To Be Lion

Plan In Vogue For Last Year May Be Changed This Year

Following the plan that was in effect last year, the highest ranking boy in the Ozona High School will be accorded privileges of membership in the Ozona Lions Club for the period of one school term, it was decided by the club at its meeting Monday.

Some changes in the plan of adopting the school-boy Lion will be made this year, although definite plans have not yet been worked out. It is likely, however, that other phases of school life than scholastic standing will be considered this year and a plan worked out whereby boys representing each phase of school activities will have the opportunity of becoming a member of the club. Boys who are outstanding in school athletics, extra-curriculum activities, etc. as well as the highest in scholastic average may be considered for the honor.

Whatever plan is adopted this year will be worked out with a view to reaching the greatest number and most representative boys in all phases of school life, it was decided.

Five Are Baptized At Imperial Result Of Revival Meeting

Five members were baptized into the fellowship of the Baptist Church at Imperial in Pecos County, as a result of a meeting conducted there last week by Pastor M. M. Fulmer of Ozona. Another professed faith in Christ who did not at the time unite with the church.

The meeting lasted but five days, beginning Monday night and running through Friday night. The baptism was in the Pecos River Saturday morning. Rev. Loyd Miller of Grandfalls, is the pastor at Imperial.

Advertising Campaign Seeks Recruits To "Roll Your Own" Idea

A special newspaper advertising campaign in behalf of Prince Albert smoking tobacco is being inaugurated immediately by R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C. The campaign is being handled by Erwin, Wasey & Company, which also handles Camel cigarettes for Reynolds.

First copy appeared Tuesday of this week in Texas newspapers and is scheduled to start Friday in a big list of Ohio papers. Both dailies and weeklies are being used, the number in both states approximating four hundred news papers.

The theme of the campaign is, of course, variations of the "roll your own" idea.

J. W. Owens Pays Top Price For Ram From Madsen At Utah Sale

J. W. Owens, Crockett County rancher and breeder of registered Rambouillet sheep, topped the National Ram Sale in Salt Lake City, Utah, recently by paying $550 for a yearling stud ram from the registered flock of John K. Madsen of Mt. Pleasant, Utah. "Governor" the choice ram purchased by Mr. Owens, has been brought to Ozona to be placed in the Crockett County herd of J. W. Owens and Son ranch.

Other Texas buyers at the National sale were Texas A. & M. College, George Williams of Eldorado, and N. M. Scott of Sanderson.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Meredith and Misses Ruth and Mary Meredith left Wednesday to go to Kingsville to see Mr. and Mrs. Meredith's new granddaughter, Mary Ellen Meredith, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Meredith of that city.

SEWER CO. MEN HERE TO MAKE SURVEY

Tests Being Made To Determine Extent Of Rock Formations

CONTRACTOR HERE

Company Decides To Install System If Cost Is Reasonable

The contractor who has done much of the company's work, engineers and other representatives of the Southwest Sewer Company of Dallas are here this week making a detailed survey of the soil, rock formations etc. in an effort to determine as nearly as possible what investment will be necessary to install a modern sewer system for Ozona.

Representatives of the sewer company accompanied J. S. Barlow, independent engineer employed by Crockett County to supervise sewer installation, back to Ozona for the survey and Mr. Barlow is assisting in gathering the necessary data upon which the company's final decision as to whether or not it will undertake the local project will depend.

Directors of the sewer company, after considering the proposition outlined to them by Mr. Barlow, agreed to undertake the Ozona system provided the installation cost is not excessive, Mr. Barlow reported on his return here.

Blanks containing the signatures of 108 Ozona property owners agreeing to connect with the sewer mains in the event the system is installed were among the exhibits presented to the sewer company directors by Mr. Barlow. The 108 signers represent approximately 150 sewer connections, it was pointed out, the Hotel Ozona, the schools, courthouse and other large institutions being included in the list.

Borings are being taken in all parts of the town this week in order that construction firms might have definite information about the amount of rock that will be encountered in ditching for the sewer mains. This careful check-up indicates that as close a figure as possible will be given the company and it is thought likely that the final estimate will be satisfactory to company officials and that work on the system will begin in the next few weeks.

MRS. HILTON NORTH IS NAMED PARTY HONOREE

Miss Hester Bunker entertained for Mrs. Hilton North with seven tables of bridge at her home Monday morning. Mrs. North was presented with a set of Madeira napkins. Miss Ellen Schauer won cut and was presented with three linen handkerchiefs. Other guests present were: Mesdames Tom Hunter, John Curry, A. A. Perry, Jr., Marshall Montgomery, Boyd Clayton, Sherman Taylor, Ralph Meinecke, Hugh Childress, Jr., J. W. North, W. W. West, Alvin Harrell, Massie West, Chas. E. Davidson, Jr., Richard Flowers, Bob Weaver, W. J. Grimmer, Misses Wayne Augustine, Louise Henderson, Jessie Ingham, Mary Childress, Berenice Bailey, Elizabeth Perner, Carolyn Montgomery and Aline Friend.

Phillip Lee Childress, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Childress, has returned after spending the summer at Rio Vista camp for boys.

Miss Ethel Childress has returned from a visit of several weeks in California.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 3, 1931.

"AND THEN-?"

A salesman sent into the tropics
to sell agricultural machinery, came back with a story which illustrates a number of things.

He found the natives contented sitting around while abundant Nature grew all their food with the lightest possible effort on their part.

"If you had a plow and a harrow you could grow more food,"
said the salesman.

"And then-?" asked the native
"Then you could get money for it and buy more land."

"And then-?"
"Why, then you could buy more machinery and grow still more food and get more money."

"And then-?"
"Why, then, after a while you would have so much money you wouldn't need to work."

"But I would be no better off, Senor. I don't work now!"

To those who hold to the Puritan doctrine that work is a virtue in itself and that he who does not work is a sinner, the spectacle of anybody getting a living without working is abhorrent. But when you consider that in every religion the ideal of Heaven is the same—a place where nobody has to work—it raises the question whether that point of view is entirely sound.

There is no doubt that the habit of work builds character, even though the work itself may not be congenial. The happiest men and women are those who have found work which interests them so much that they prefer it to anything else. But work merely for the sake of making enough money so you won't have to work is something else again.

Perhaps a lot of us are as foolish as that native thought he would be if he spent a lot of time and effort merely to avoid working.

W. R. Mulroy has been confined to his home by illness for the past

Mrs. J. H. McClure has been ill

Mrs. J. M. Baggett and her visiting Mrs. Baggett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Boerner, in Floydada. They will return the first of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan McDonald

their vacation spent with relatives in Hereford and Canyon.

Miss Jessie Ingham has been receiving treatment for several days
for an eye infection.

Mrs. Albert Kay, who suffered a strained ligament in her knee
while on a fishing trip recently, is improved this week, although attending physicians found it necessary to place the injured member in a plaster cast.

SCANDALS

By The Town Gossip

Well, customers, it pained Gossip very much that it was necessary to deny you the benefits of this uplifting and enlightening patter last week, but it was more than necessary, it was imperative.
As you all know, Judge Montague blew in here sort of unexpected last week and called together a special grand jury. Now, a special grand jury might have been called together to consider the case of this fellow who risked his life in Mexico for 15 years just to dodge the inconvenience of a trial and acquittal in American courts for murder—and it might have been called for any number of other things.

Anyway, Gossip is a careful soul and takes no unnecessary chances. Consequently, he felt it necessary that he take his presence elsewhere. And not being prepared, of course, it came just when we were ready to pitch in and pour it on some of the boys—
but in a case like that it just naturally takes some quick action.

Some of Ozona's new married couples have reported married life just like the Garden of Eden. They have nothing to wear and are in daily fear of being turned out.

A local motorist was boasting a few days ago that he hadn't paid a cent for repairs on his automobile since he had had it. And his garage man will tell you the same thing.

Reports have been circulated recently that there are a few mosquitoes in Ozona. This report must have been exaggerated. But come to think of it we did see a strange looking animal a few days ago—about the size of a cow and with a snout like a post hole digger.

No foolin' we saw two of these mosquitoes holding a screen door open the other day while the rest of them went into the house.

The other night one had finishing refilling on T. G.'s tasty blood pulled his rods and packed up his plunger and started to be on his way when he slipped and fell off the bed. Blood spattered on the opposite wall of the adjoining room.

We spent the rest of the night mopping up the floor where the concussion had proven too much for an already overtaxed abdominal wall.

Rev. Meredith blames old Noah

for the mosquito curse, and well he might. He says if Noah just had two of them there, he doesn't see why in the world he didn't kill 'em.

But the best joke on the whole mosquito tribe happened a few nights ago. One sunk his auger in the Gossip's short ribs, bored on through and, failing to judge the distance, penetrated deep into the interior of one of Joe Ober-kamp's all-cotton mattresses and died from a fit of coughing when he sucked up a wind pipe full of hay.

Believe it or not, these are
SOME mosquitoes we have here.

Read the other day where an undertaker in London who advertised free funerals for all suicides had been arrested for contributing toward extermination of the

And then, there's the Scotchman who was asked why he persisted in using such a dull safety razor blade.

"It was good enough for my father and it's good enough for me," he replied.

ROWENA

Rides The Rumble

BY ETHEL HUESTON

It was indeed very plain what they thought about Peter. The friendly, admiring smiles with which they said good-by to Rowena froze in to cold disapproval in their curt nods to Peter. He felt quite cut up over it all.

"Don't you care," said Rowena. "When they find out how things really are, they'll be so mad at me for fooling them that they'll rebound your way and think you're quite the nuts."

"Well," said Peter, "there's one thing sure. Everything in the world has happened to us now. From desert sands to mountain mud, from separate floors to bridal suite, we've run the gaunt of the unexpected. Nothing will surprise me after this."

"Me, either," agreed Rowena. "I've used up the very last of my surprise sensations. No matter what happens, I'm expecting it."

But they were both wrong. Incredible as it seemed at the moment, they were due for many more surprising denouements and more sensational ones. Even climatic conditions conspired to add to their discomfiture.

The sky had been overcast for hours, and a heavy downpour of rain was followed by a steady, disheartening drizzle that showed no signs of diminution.

They smiled at each other after a terrible day and in friendly comradesly quiet pulled slowly up to the hotel.

"Just ask for two singles," advised Rowena. "And if they give us adjoining ones we can't help it. We've got Spokane to fall back on."

They followed the boy with their bags into the hotel lobby. And the first thing they saw there was little brown Bobby Lowell sitting all hunched up in the biggest upholstered chair in sight.

"Bobby!" they cried. "You little duck, you! Where did you come from? Where are you going? What in the world are you doing here?"

Bobby dimpled, wept and giggled, kissing them both again and again with complete unpartiality.

"You angels!" she said. "I've been so lonesome and I'm so glad to be back with you again. I feel like a poor little lonesome orphan that just found out it is a Smith!" "Where's Carter? Is it your honeymoon?"

The small brown nose uptilted itself to a very haughty angle.

"Never mention his name to me again," she said thickly. "I never want to see him again as long as I live."

"Carter! You never want to see Carter? Oh, you can't mean Carter!" protested Rowena, who simply could not conceive of a Bobby with no Carter at the tip of her tongue. "It's just not possible!"

"It is possible—it's a fact. All is over between us for ever and ever. That's why I came to go on the rest of the trip with you."

"But see here," said Peter sternly. "you can't just be on and off with us like that. You left us in a terrible hole, running off the way you did—"

"I knew I had done wrong," said Bobby, "and so I said the best thing to do was to come straight back as fast as I could. That's why I didn't send back the money I borrowed, Peter. I needed it to come back on."

"Well, what happened?" demanded Rowena. "How in the world did you ever get off with

AM I sold on Prince Albert for home-rolled cigarettes? Ask me another! I like P.A.'s fragrance. And I like the way P.A. rolls, it rolls easy and stays put. But the big point in P.A.'s favor is its marvelous taste. Cool as a summons to serve on the jury. Sweet as the news that you have been excused. Mild and mellow beyond description, but with that full, rich tobacco-body that satisfies your smoke-hunger to the absolute limit. Try rolling 'em with P.A. Try this tobacco in your pipe, also.

PRE-SHEARING ADVANCE 50¢

is also the belief of some that the wool growers will profit by what has happened to the wheat and cotton farmers who followed the above practices in many cases and who are today over-produced to such an extent that it will probably take many months to adjust themselves to the demand.

50 Cent Loan Available
 "Another reason why a grower should not shear this fall is because he can in most cases secure a loan of 50 cents per head now on his sheep if the wool is left on sheeps backs to be a 12 months clip in the spring of 1932. This loan will be made available by the National Wool Marketing Corporation, through the local Co-operatives here in Texas.

"In the event a grower was going to shear because he needed ready cash; he had better take the loan of 50 cents per head instead of shearing because in this way he can get more than by shearing. Shearing expense and death loss from worms will be about 15 cents per head. The average sheep will probably shear 3½ pounds this fall. If a grower will try to figure for himself he will see that he will have to sell his wool at 18 cents per pound or better to realize as much ready money as he can get by leaving the wool on the sheep and taking the 50 cents per head loan. Under the present conditions does any one think they can sell their fall wool at this price?

"At the present time the writer does not see any reason why the National Wool Marketing Corporation should make any advance on fall wool, however this is for them to decide on later if necessary."

MORE FIRST AID

A small boy isn't worth a cent that doesn't try to climb the shade tree in the rear lawn once in a while. Naturally he may fall in his efforts to get somewhere that he doesn't belong. He may tumble from his tricycle in an unusual spurt of speed. He cuts his scalp; it bleeds something fierce; he runs to mamma howling for first aid.

Don't fear fracture of the skull from a trifling injury. Don't fear bleeding to death. Wash the wound with clean soap and warm water, using clean things always. DON'T POUR PEROXIDE IN A SCALP WOUND at any period. After washing as above, paint the wound with tincture of iodine; smarts a little, but apply it freely. Dust freely with talcum powder and apply a loose bandage. Keep the wound dry until recovery.

For a "crop" of chiggers, get at em early as possible, before they have bored in deeply. Fight a scrubbing with good soap and water; dry, and apply the bug-i-cide, whatever you have. Use a mixture of carbolic acid, one dram, spirits camphor, one ounce, menthol twenty grains, and rose-water, enough to make four ounces. This can be daubed over the lesions freely, allowing it to dry without wiping off.

Sunburn is not to be sneezed at—it has been accompanied by big doses of the ultra-violet ray—a blessing in disguise. The oxide of zinc, a dram to the ounce of rose-water ointment will soothe the inflamed skin in time. Keep out of the fierce sunlight until well.

For a child's "busted toe," bruised, torn and bleeding, soak the foot in water with a teaspoonful of carbolic acid—or formalin—to the pint. Make the member clean. Then apply soft dressing of carbolized or borated vaseline—quick—and wrap comfortably.

ROWENA Rides the Rumble

Carters?"

"It was like this. At first he was simply overjoyed to have me back and then in about an hour we got to talking about it and he got madder and madder and said he really didn't know whether he wanted to ruin his future by marrying a woman who had no more sense than that. So naturally I broke the engagement and gave him back his ring. I put my things in my bag and called up Rackruff to find out where I could catch you, and here I am. Oh, darlings, I've been so unhappy and it is so good to see you again.

They were none too well pleased about it. Bobby was an expensive addition to the party, seemed doubly expensive now that they could dispense with her presence.

It did not clear the atmosphere when they found waiting a telegram from the company with preemptory orders to send her back at once.

It said it was better publicity for the roadster to have the bridal couple continue their honeymoon alone.

Bobby said it was none of their business what she did, that she was responsible only to Carter. Was she going to let any ten-cent company give her orders? Certainly not! Her arrangements with Rowena had been for the entire tour she would continue.

So Rowena retired to the rumble seat, although Peter insinuated strongly that he was not vitally interested in the details of the falling-out with Carter.

South to Portland proceeded the thoroughly chaperoned bridal party. It was in Portland that Bobby, who had been delighted into genuine hysterics over their gay account of the big doings in Spokane, demanded to see the wedding presents. Peter brought out the cocktail shaker and the cigarette lighter and Rowena showed her the watch and the candy box with the kissing Cupids. It was the last time Rowena showed that watch for a good many weeks. She left it in extremely safe deposit—for a consideration —right there in Portland. They gave Bobby a lurid account of the desperate strait in which she left them, and how Rowena conceived the bright idea of getting married as a sop to the requirements of society. Bobby said she always did think Rowena was just too clever for words.

"But aren't you just as married as if you really were married?" she asked interestedly.

"Not at all. We're just pretending that way. In fact we're the same old maids and bachelors we always were."

"Isn't it too bad you are both so disagreeable?" said Bobby sweetly. "If you were just a little nicer you could fall in love with each other now—you know, they write best sellers about men falling in love with their wives—and it would be too romantic for words!"

"Thank God we're not nice then," said Rowena. "With the example before us of you and Carter in love and all it leads to, Peter and I have entirely too much sense to be anything but enemies!"

In San Francisco Peter found Rowena was starving herself to send money back East.

He had suspected that she was in debt. Evidently her creditors were pushing her hard. He went abruptly out to the little park where they were snapping the pictures.

"You must have enough," he said. "We're both dead tired. Let's lay off."

Rowena's smile was grateful. "I am tired," she confessed.

When they got in the roadster to return to the hotel he said in a voice so offhand and unconcerned that if she had not been so vitally interested in his words she must surely have suspected some hidden prompting.

"By the way, I got the expense money today. Of course, we're not supposed to have it till Monday but I cashed the check so you may as well have yours."

"P-Peter!" gasped Rowena. And pressed the back of her hand quickly to her lips. Peter hoped she was not going to give anything away, confide any embarrassing details, but he needn't have worried. Rowena shuddered her own worries.

"I'm hungry as the deuce," he said. "Let's see if we can find a good chop house and get a decent steak."

Rowena never said a word about soup. For himself Peter ordered the thickest, juiciest steak they could get their hands on, and plenty of "French fries."

"That sounds good," said Rowena meekly. "Two."

She hoped Peter could not tell from her voice how the very thought of it made her mouth water.

"Well, there's one nice thing about traveling trio," said Rowena. "You know just what to expect of every town. A bed, and food, and no adventures. It seems a bit snug after the life of adventure Peter and I have lived."

Bobby said nothing at all. She was brooding painfully over the probable state of affairs in New York and her heart was wrung with doubts.

There was no letter for her at the hotel in Los Angeles and she wilted visibly.

It was probably her absorption in her personal grief which kept her from sensing at the first moment, as the others did, that something was wrong.

Peter registered for all three, and the clerk instead of consulting the room chart as clerks are supposed to, turned without a word and went into the adjoining office.

"Peter," whispered Rowena. "I don't like that clerk. He looks like the worst sort of manager to me. I don't like this hotel either. I have developed a sixth sense about hotels. Let's go somewhere else."

"Oh, that's all imagination," said Peter, uncomfortably aware that it was not imagination and that Rowena was right about it.

But the clerk came back from the inner office at that moment, summoned a boy, and immediately they were on their way up. Rowena and Bobby shared a large double room with Peter in a single one adjoining, the bathroom between. He was thickly lathering his hands with soap to get rid of his accumulation of motor oil and California dust when there was a knock at the door and Rowena opened it to admit three men, one the manager of the hotel.
