Ballots Printed For 2nd Primary

Eight Races To Be Decided By Texas Voters August 27

Ballots for the second or run-off Democratic primary election were printed and placed in the hands of the county clerk this week in preparation for the election to be held August 27.

Eight contests for state, district and county offices are to be decided by the voters of Texas in the run-off primary. The balloting will center around the white-hot race for the governorship between Governor Ross S. Sterling and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson.

Next on the ballot is the contest for the office of railroad commissioner for the six-year term, between C. V. Terrell of Wise County and Lee Satterwhite of Ector County. W. Gregory Hatcher of Dallas County will battle with Ernest O. Thompson of Potter County for the nomination for the four-year-term as railroad commissioner.

The final heat in the three-way contest for the three at-large seats from Texas in the national House of Representatives will be between Pink Parrish of Lubbock County and George B. Terrell of Cherokee County for place No. 1, J. H. (Cyclone) Davis of Hopkins County and Joseph W. Bailey, Jr., of Dallas County for place No. 2, and Sterling P. Strong of Dallas County and Joe Burkett of Bexar County for place No. 3.

Judge William Pierson of Hunt County and Judge J. E. Hickman of Eastland County will oppose each other in the run-off for the office of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas.

Senator Benjamin F. Berkeley of Alpine having withdrawn from the run-off contest for reelection to that post, K. M. Regan of Pecos, Texas, will be the party nominee. Regan's name will appear on the local ballot for that office, however.

The only local race in the run-off is that for the office of county tax assessor between O. W. Smith, incumbent, and W. M. Johnigan.

On account of delay in certification from the state executive committee of candidates eligible to enter the run-off, local ballots were not printed until Tuesday and absentee voting, which should have gotten under way Monday, did not start until Wednesday.

It is expected that the run-off primary will bring out almost as large a vote in this county as did the first primary, due to the fact that so much interest is being taken in the governor's race and the local race for tax assessor.

Cattle Tick & Scab Inspectors Retained But Without Salary

B. B. Inham, state cattle tick inspector, and J. W. Owens, state sheep scab inspector, who have acted in this capacity for several years, will continue in their official capacity but without salary from the state or county, an order of the Commissioners Court here this week disclosed.

The court declared in its order that the work of these men had been satisfactory to the state but that notice had been received that funds were no longer available to pay them a salary and asked that this obligation be assumed by the county, the inspectors to retain their official status with the state.

At the suggestion of Mr. Inham and Mr. Owens, the court ordered the inspectors to confine their work but provided that they receive no salary. Itemized bills for actual expense of work done by the inspectors will be honored by the court and ordered paid, it was decided.

County To Pay Part Of Trapper's Salary In N.W. Part County

Upon petition of Claude Owens rancher in the northwest part of Crockett County, the County Commissioners Court in session the first of the week agreed to pay $15 a month for the next six months as its part toward the salary of an experienced trapper to work in that section of the county under the direction of C. R. Landon, head of the predatory animal control division of the U. S. Biological Survey.

The trapper, Ed Legion, will be paid by contributions of $40 a month by the state, $10 a month by Mr. Owens, $10 by J. H. Felps, $15 by Crane County and $15 by Crockett County.

Senator Berkeley Drops Out Of Race

Alpine Man Orders His Name Taken Off Ballot In Run-Off

Senator Benjamin F. Berkeley of Alpine, 29th district representative in the upper house of the Texas legislature for the last eight years, and second high man in the recent Democratic primary, has withdrawn from the run-off race, leaving K. M. Regan, oil man and mayor of Pecos, Texas, the party nominee for State Senator from this district.

Senator Berkeley wired Houston Smith, Crockett County Democratic chairman, Tuesday morning asking that his name be withdrawn from the ballot for the August 27 run-off primary and announcing his withdrawal from the race for reelection.

Mr. Regan almost attained a clear majority over his three opponents in the race for Senator from this district. Senator Berkeley leading J. C. Fuller of Marfa and B. J. Stewart of Barksdale for a place on the ticket for the run-off against Mr. Regan.

"I have reached a decision to withdraw as a candidate for reelection to the office of State Senator from the 29th Senatorial District in the run-off primary election to be held August 27, 1932," a statement by Senator Berkeley received by the Stockman said. "In the present chaotic state, politically and financially, I believe an early adjournment of politics would be welcomed by the majority of our citizens and I am inclined to contribute to this end. Of greater moment than the destinies of any candidate for public office, is the immediate and pressing question of earning a livelihood, which has taxed the ingenuity of so many of our people during these trying times.

"When the hour arrives to surrender my commission as your State Senator, it will be in the consciousness that I have performed the highest degree of service within my power. The principles and policies I have advocated in State government are as enduring as Mother Earth. My record is an open book, on it I stand and would not change it if I could. Perhaps the mellowing influence of time will act as a leaven in deepening appreciation of my record of constructive achievement in behalf of my district and the State, which will compensate abundantly for all the vexations and monetary sacrifices instant to holding public office.

"To the thousands of loyal friends who stood by me in the first primary, I am profoundly grateful and to those who expressed a preference for other candidates, I have only the kindest feeling. Let us continue with renewed energy and enthusiasm, our efforts for the good of Texas."

Rev. M. M. Fulmer, pastor of the Baptist Church here, will leave Monday for a ten days series of revival meetings at Imperial Church in Pecos County. Rev. Loyd Miller is the pastor of the Imperial Church.

Approaching Marriage Of Miss Beth Davidson To Arkansas Newspaperman Announced At Bridge Breakfast Here

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Elizabeth Davidson, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Charles E. Davidson, and Mark Garver of Little Rock, Ark., was announced at a bridge breakfast given by Mrs. Joe T. Davidson at her home Wednesday morning.

The color scheme of yellow and green was carried out in both the bridge and breakfast appointments. The breakfast was served in green glassware and consisted of cantaloupe cut in balls followed by a plate with creamed chicken, hot biscuits, frozen orange and pineapple, jelly roll and coffee. Each table had a center decoration of cream bachelorette buttons in a green vase.

After the serving of breakfast, little Edna Beth Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Davidson, Jr., attired as Cupid in yellow entered bearing a Cupid's bow and arrow with which she shot arrows to the guests. These arrows bore the news of the coming wedding, to be solemnized September 10.

Miss Davidson, the honoree, was attired in a gown of biege pink, sheer crepe, trimmed in lace of the same shade, with a turban to match. She was presented with a piece of pottery and the prizes were likewise pieces of pottery, awarded to Mrs. Ralph Meinecke for high and to Mrs. Massie West for low.

Other guests were Mesdames John L. Bishop, Roy Henderson, L. B. Adams, Royce Smith, W. E. Smith, J. W. North, Welton Bunker, Tom Hunter, Evert White, Floyd McMullen, Rusty Smith, Ashby McMullen, Sherman Taylor, John Curry, H. H. Both were students of the department of Journalism at that institution and Mr. Garver is now an active newspaper man. He has the purchase of a newspaper in Arkansas under advisement.

Treasurer Ordered To Make Quarterly School Fund Report

An order of the county Commissioners Court passed at its session this week directed that the county treasurer make quarterly reports to the court on the condition of school funds.

The order recited that the treasurer had not filed with the court continuously reports of the school funds, citing that the county depository and not the treasurer handled such funds. The court, however, contended that the depository should make annual reports and that the treasurer make quarterly reports and ordered the treasurer to act accordingly.

County Pay For Sexton Service

Cemetery Assn Unable To Keep Work Going, Court Is Told

Hereafter Crockett County will maintain the services of a sexton at the Cedar Hill Cemetery, Ozona's burial plot, according to an order passed by the Commissioners Court in session here this week.

This action was taken upon petition of members of the Ozona Cemetery Association, who represented to the court that the association is no longer able to bear the expense of maintaining the cemetery.

Cedar Hill Cemetery being the only burial plot in the county, the court was of the opinion that the county should bear the expense of a sexton's services in keeping the plot in condition and ordered the county clerk to pay monthly for such services until further action by the court.

Dean Phillips is at present employed as sexton at the cemetery at a salary of $75 a month. The Cemetery Association had paid his salary through the month of June but is without funds to pay further, the court order said. Consequently, the court ordered the July salary paid at once.

Paisano Encampment Closes Great Session, Ozona People Present

After one of the best meetings in its history the Paisano Baptist Encampment, located in the Davis Mountains 12 miles west of Alpine, came to a close Sunday night. More than a thousand people were present this last day of the meeting. Throughout the ten days of the encampment more than 1700 meals were served at the Encampment Cafeteria indicating an average daily attendance of around 600.

Dr. George W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Dallas, was the Encampment preacher as he has been since the first session thirteen years ago. DELAY FIXING CO. TAX RATE ON BOND MOVE

Sterling To Ask Legislature To Take Over Road Bonds

BIG SAVING HERE

Absorption Of Bond Tax Would Cut 65¢ Off Tax Rate

Fixing of the county tax rate for 1932 in Crockett County will be delayed in accordance with a request from Governor Ross S. Sterling until the legislature is assembled in called session in Austin sometime next month for the purpose of considering the governor's proposal that the state assume all outstanding bonded indebtedness of counties for road building purposes to be paid out of receipts from the gas oil tax.

Governor Sterling, through the association of county judges of Texas, has advised commissioners courts of the various counties to delay fixing the tax rate pending action of the legislature on this proposal. Members of the local court declare that the governor's advice will be followed here and that the court will not take up the matter of fixing the tax rate until this question is settled.

If Governor Sterling's plan is adopted by the legislature in called session, it is proposed to put it into immediate operation, to affect the payment of taxes for the past year, due this fall, thus offering relief to taxpayers. If over the state who are facing a real problem in meeting the tax demands of government in the face of the economic depression.

Absorption of the outstanding road bonds of Crockett County by the state would mean a saving of 65 to 70 cents on the $100 property valuation by the taxpayers of this county during the coming taxpaying period, it is pointed out by county officials. The levy of 55 cents on the $375,000 issue for surfacing of the east and west highway and the Barnhart road, plus an additional levy for previous issues could be lopped off the county rate should the legislature adopt the governor's plan. This reduction, together with the 5 cent cut made by the state would mean a reduction of around 75 cents on the $100 valuation in this county.

Heavy Downpour Soaks West Tex.

Nearly Two Inches Of Moisture Fell Here Tuesday Night

Heavy rains soaked most of the stock raising area of West Texas Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, according to available reports here.

The general rain came on the heels of scattered summer showers that have been falling for several days, breaking a prolonged heat wave that held the entire state in its grip for two weeks or more.

Roads in this area were in bad condition Wednesday morning, but cars were able to make it through early in the day. The fall here amounted to 1.7 inches, which is thought to have been about the average for the entire section.

A dance will be given Friday night on the platform at the fair grounds. Music will be furnished by "The Lads." Sports clothing will be worn by dancers, according to Herbert Kittle, promoter.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Adams were here from their ranch near Fort Stockton Wednesday.

NOT VERY CREDITABLE TO THE LONE STAR STATE

(Ariz. Republic, Phoenix, July 26)

The tremendous lead Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson has shown in the Texas primary for the nomination for Governor, again shows us why it is that we so often fail in this country to show that we are capable of self government. There were in Texas about 1,000,000 voters eligible to vote in the primary but probably not more than 500,000 votes were cast. "Ma" Ferguson has received something less than one-half of these votes, leading Governor Sterling, a competent and popular Governor, by about 78,000.

She so led him two years ago but was defeated by him in the run-off as it may be hoped by intelligent Texans she will be this year.

It is not creditable to the Lone Star State that nearly one-fourth of its voters should vote for Mrs. Ferguson, knowing that she is no more competent to be Governor than she is to be President of the world. They know, moreover, that she could not be Governor in the event of her election; that she was not Governor when she served as Governor once; that she had no conception of her duties and that she performed none of them.

It is well understood that each of her three candidacies was a subterfuge to put into power her husband, impeached for misconduct in office, and a part of whose punishment was his disability thereafter to hold any position of trust and responsibility in the government of Texas.

There is a Ferguson party in Texas as opposed to the Democratic party of which it is nominally a part. The run-off is all that has saved Texas from the disgrace of Fergusonism since the election of "Ma." It will probably save Texas again though that it apparently not quite so assured as it was at the last state election.

Governor Sterling has made some influential enemies. No doubt a part of the votes cast for Hunter, the third candidate, will be cast for Mrs. Ferguson as it represented a sentiment opposed to Sterling. The intelligent part of the Hunter strength will probably submerge its objections to the Governor in favor of its loyalty to Texas.

Giants Beat Winters 7 to 5 Here Sunday; Play Mertzon Sun.

The Ozona Giants nosed out a victory over a team from Winters on the local diamond Sunday afternoon in a closely fought game which ended with a score of 7 to 5 in favor of the locals.

Winters scored three runs in the second when Frank Russell threw at an empty bag at second base and pushed over two more in the ninth. Ozona scored once in the second frame, five in the third, and one in the eighth.

The Giants, led by Jack Sharp, who was on a hitting spree, ran up a total of seven hits. Sharp accounted for three of the number. Winters turned in ten safeties.

Tot Grimmer hurried for the locals, with Gray for Winters.

The Giants will meet Mertzon on the Powell Field diamond next Sunday afternoon.

See where Texas is in line for some eleven million dollars in Federal aid for highway construction. THE SPEED CONTEST

By Albert T. Reid

BRUCE BARTON

Writes of "THE MASTER EXECUTIVE"

Supplying a week-to-week inspiration for the heavy-laden who will find every human trial paralleled with the experience of "The Man Nobody Knows."

IN LATE AFTERNOON

It was very late in the afternoon in Galilee. The dozen men who had walked all day over the dusty roads were hot and tired. The sight of a village was very cheering, as they looked down on it from the top of a little hill. Their leader sent two members of the party ahead to arrange for accommodations, while he and the others sat down by the roadside to wait.

After a bit the messengers were seen returning, and even at a distance it was apparent that something unpleasant had occurred. Their cheeks were flushed and their voices angry. Breathlessly they told it—the people in the village had refused to receive them, had given them blunt notice to seek shelter somewhere else.

The indignation of the messengers communicated itself to the others. This back-woods village refuse to entertain their master—it was unthinkable. He was a famous public character. He had healed sick people and given freely to the poor. In the capital city crowds had followed him.

"Lord, these people are insufferable," one of them cried. "Let us call down fire from Heaven and consume them." The others joined in with enthusiasm. Fire from Heaven—that was the idea! Make them smart for their boorishness! Show them that they can't affront us with impunity! Come, Lord, the fire—

There are times when nothing a man can say is nearly so powerful as saying nothing. Every executive knows that instinctively. To argue brings him down to the level of those with whom he argues; silence convicts them of their folly; they wish they had not spoken so quickly; they wonder what he thinks. The lips of Jesus tightened; his fine features showed the strain of the preceding weeks. He needed that night's rest, but he said not a word. Quietly he gathered up his garments and started on, his outraged companions following. It is easy to imagine his keen disappointment. . . . Would they never catch a true vision of what he was about?

Down the hot road they trailed after him, awed by his silence, vaguely conscious that they had failed again to measure up. In the mind of Jesus the thing was too small for comment.

"And they went to another village."

Eighteen hundred years later

His wife promised to quit driving from the back seat when he quit cooking from the dining room table.

"and what's more, sir, he said you are a fool."

"Did Stanton call me that?" he asked. . . . "He did, sir, and repeated it." "Well," said the President with a dry laugh, "I reckon it must be true then, because Stanton is generally right."

The angry gentleman waited or the storm to break, but nothing happened. Abraham Lincoln turned quietly to his desk and went on with his work.

Miss Nettie Word and her niece Miss Patricia O'Leary of San Antonio, Monroe S. Decker of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gallenkamp, Mr. and Mrs. Slick Miller and Miss Edith Word enjoyed a weekend fishing trip to Devil's River.

"The Store That Lowered Prices in Ozona"

ARE YOU PROUD OF YOUR HOMETOWN

And Have You Done Your Part In Making Your Town A Better Town?

Is it not with a feeling of pride that you take your visitor from out-of-town on a tour of Ozona—your home town? Don't you have a feeling of pride when you point out to your guest the beautiful new hotel that Crockett County people built, with but little outside help? Aren't you proud when you point to the handsome new school building, one of the finest of its kind in the state? Aren't you proud to show them the neat, progressive stores in your town, the beautiful residences, the substantial business buildings, the beautiful churches, the pretty public park and yards of private residences, the road work that is in progress in our county with its vision of ribbons of hard surfaced roads in a few years?

Don't you have a feeling that all of this is partly yours, that it is YOUR town you are showing, that you and these people who are your friends and neighbors did these things to make this a town which you are proud to show to visitors? Don't you, in short, have a proprietary feeling about the whole town, especially when you are showing it off to strangers?

But in truth, is the town partly yours; are you partly responsible for all the things of which you are proud? Did you do your part toward making the town what it is? Are you doing your part now?

Do you give your local merchants and your community as a whole the benefit of your buying power wherever possible? Do you buy at home; do you employ home labor; do you bank at home; do you support with your time, your money or your good influence every worthwhile project that your community undertakes? Do you try to see the good points of your home merchants, your home workers and your home community in general? Do you pay your bills with home merchants promptly and not "put them off" to pay your cash to the out-of-town merchant or the mail order house? When you find that you cannot pay your account promptly as agreed when your merchant extended you the courtesy of a charge account, do you return the favor by spending what cash you have with that merchant instead of sending it to the mail order house?

If you do all or most of these things, you may be justly proud of your home town. You have had a part, and a considerable part, in making it what it is. If you have not, you are taking to yourself the pride and credit for an accomplishment in which you had no part. Worse than that, you have done everything you could to prevent its accomplishment; you have been a drag instead of a boost. You have been a stumbling block in the path of those who were trying to build YOUR town.

That feeling of community pride is what makes prosperous, thriving communities—where pride is translated into action for the betterment of the community. Be a part of the march of progress; do your part toward making this a better town; share the burden with your neighbor who IS trying—and your joy and pride will know no bounds as your town takes its place among the best in Texas.

It must meet all requirements, large or small—from a large factory to a small household—at any time and at any place. Small local plants serving single communities lack this flexibility... they lack the variety of volume and demand which enables a larger system, serving a wide area by transmission lines, to operate efficiently. The transmission line delivers larger amounts of power at once without the delay of installing additional equipment. Thus it clears the way for a rapid and permanently expanding industrial growth. The present day industrial progress of small communities is based in a large measure on the ample and economical power supply which resulted when transmission systems replaced inefficient and expensive small local plants throughout the nation. THE COMMERCIAL USE OF TEXAS HIGHWAYS IS A PRIVILEGE, NOT A RIGHT

The highways of Texas are the property of its citizens. They constitute a system of nearly 200,000 miles of road of which 20,000 miles are designated as State highways and the remainder are county roads. All types of road are represented in this system, less than 5% have so-called "permanent" surface.

The total cost of these highways is unknown but it amounts to many hundred million dollars. From 1917 to 1930, inclusive, counties and road districts of the State issued $243,592,834 in bonds for the construction and improvement of roads and bridges. In the two-year period ending August 31, 1930, the State Highway Commission expended $89,032,825, of which $22,488,426 was for maintenance of the State highways.

In view of these tremendous costs the preservation of our highways from rapid wear and destruction is a matter of very vital interest to their owners, viz., the public. It is especially important that they be made to outlast the life of the bonds, which run from 20 to 30 years.

The use of the public highways for commercial purposes is not a right but a privilege which may be withheld or granted subject to such restrictions, regulations and charges as the Legislature may see fit to impose. Such regulations are intended to promote safety, preserve the highways and safeguard the interests of the public.

Texas Railroads, which pay the entire cost of construction and maintenance of their own roadbeds and, in addition, make substantial contributions to the cost of Texas highways, are thoroughly regulated with respect to their services, rates, methods and practices. There is no good reason why commercial users of the highways, built and maintained at the expense of the public, should not likewise be regulated to such extent as the public interest requires and pay such charges as will represent proper compensation for the privileges granted them.

The statutes governing highway transportation as enacted by the Forty-second Legislature represent the wishes of the citizens of this State and express their desire to give equal rights to all and special privileges to none. These statutes should be given a fair trial and their value ascertained. Unless this is done, a chaotic condition in transportation is a which will surely ensue.

HAS THE WORLD GONE CRAZY?

Whosit put his bill in again lately and said if the world wasn't, he dang near was. With this and that—and Groceries so cheap he hardly knew he ate any more, he said he thought a shake up was in sight.

In Whosit's own words— Of course I've heard a lot about Chain Store price cutting, but never paid much attention to it until lately, when I've had it roost in my own back lawn. Not that we have chains, but any price cutting works just as bad. Used to, Flowers Grocery paid me a whole lot more for eggs than they do now—'cause competition won't let him pay me more.

I just got to studying—if we didn't have a flexible tariff that keeps foreign countries from running things plum to zero, where would we be? Russia or some other seaport could do just as a store does—we special wool at 2¢ a pound. Come and get it while it lasts. Who the Sam Hill would pay us an 8¢ premium for ours just because we are home folks. Answer—Nobody! If we sold any we would have to take 2¢.

Well, I cursed my Grocery Store out for such a bone head thing, but they said it was pushed on 'em—that they had always been peaceable 'till lately—but that they were raising sand on their own little hook. Here's to 'em. I got a preview of their Saturday Specials—They will be on cards IN THE STORE.
