THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 1933.

Every governmental official or board that handles public money should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it, showing where and how each dollar is spent. This is a fundamental principle of democratic government.

DOLLARS COME HOME

Trace the course of a dollar spent for property improvement, repairs, or replacement.

Part of it goes to local merchants, who provide the needed materials. Another part goes to the workman on the job.

The workman spends his part for the necessities of life. The corner grocery, the drug store, the department store get it—and through them it goes to their employees, to the farmer and the manufacturer. Then the circle begins again—the money enters your pockets, passes through other industries, travels to other sections of the country.

The part of the dollar going to the store providing the supplies follows much the same course. It pays the store's workers. It pays bills. It goes to factories to purchase new stock. From the factory it goes to other workmen, to related industries supplying raw materials, to investors.

And, at last, the dollar comes back, through one channel or another, to the original spender.

In a short length of time that dollar has had a thousand uses. It has done the work of a thousand dollars.

That's the beauty of money which is actually circulating—it is used an infinite number of times, and it does as much good each time.

Now is the time to obtain needed repairs at the lowest cost in decades—and at the same time do your bit in fighting depression.

Jobs are cheaper than charity—and without the jobs, there won't be anything for charity.

Austin.—Action of appropriation bills thus far carry out the announced intention of the Legislature to trim government expenses by from 25 to 30 per cent. Several of the major items have been finally acted upon by both houses and are in the Governor's hands. There is a difference of some $500,000 between the House and Senate on the eleemosynary appropriations. The Senate amended the House bill to provide for construction of buildings, said to be needed to take care of the increasing number of inmates in various institutions.

This is the only serious difference between the branches of the Legislature with regard to important appropriation bills. For the most part the House schedules have been lower than the Senate, but thus far differences have been compromised without serious difficulty.

The one big question yet to be determined is the amount of support to be provided for public schools. This situation is more difficult than the other major items of expense, because schools throughout the State are suffering from the double embarrassment of reduced State support as well as reductions in the payments of local taxes.

During the past few years State support of the public schools has steadily increased. State apportionment in 1923 was $12,965,000. In 1931 this had been increased to $27,362,912. Special aid appropriations in 1923 were $1,000,000. In 1931 they were $2,500,000. Local tax support in the same period increased, though by a smaller ratio.

Increases in support from both local and State sources have far outrun increases in enrollment, making power of the people and the wealth of the State. Likewise public school costs have mounted more rapidly than have the costs of other functions of State government. Illustrating this point, total property assessments in 1922 were approximately three and a half billion dollars. In 1932 they had increased to slightly less than four billions, a gain of about 14 per cent in taxable wealth, compared with increases in expenditures for public schools of considerably more than 100 per cent from the State and somewhat less than 100 per cent from local sources.

It seems fair to point out that while school enrollment was increasing about 10 per cent and taxable wealth about 14 per cent, public school costs were more than doubled. These percentages are average for the State. The factors vary in different localities.

That it will be a difficult problem to adjust these differences goes without saying. It is clear however, that if the existing standards of support of the public schools is maintained new sources of revenue must be found.

An income tax bill has received a favorable report from a House committee. The rates for individuals scale from one per cent on the first $1,000 of net income up to seven per cent on amounts in excess of $11,000. For corporations the rates scale from two per cent on the first $1,000 to six per cent on incomes in excess of $6,000.

The sales tax has been killed again in a House committee, but there is talk of it being brought out on a minority report. Its prospects of passage seem slim, but search for needed revenue may win sufficient support to bring about enactment of a modified sales tax on certain specified articles.

Appropriations for the support of the State board of water engineers and the board of mineral development have been killed by the House. The items are small, the two combined amounting to only about $36,000 per year. The Senate has not yet received the departmental appropriations bill from the House.

Remains Of Ancient Hitching Post Dug Up In Street Work

The old rail hitching post in front of the saloon, so familiar in the memories of old timers of the West and to the younger generation through the vicarious channels of the movies, is dead and buried along with the saloon itself and the days when the six gun was the law of the land.

But the dead came to life, in imagination at least, Wednesday afternoon when the big plow used to cut the grade on Powell Avenue, through the main business section, in readiness for paving the highway through town, unearthed the remains of an ancient hitching post which stood in front of a saloon, then located about where the Ozona Drug Store now is, according to old timers. Broken off at the ground level to make way for the automobile and progress, the old hitching post went the way of the horse and buggy, and that stump had slept on nearly a half century undisturbed. And now more progress, and even the buried secrets must out.

Mrs. S. E. Couch and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cox were here from San Angelo Wednesday visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Millsbaugh were Ozona visitors the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Brooks have returned from a visit to the Rio Grande Valley section.

Bealer Brown underwent a serious operation in a San Angelo hospital Wednesday morning. He was reported resting well this morning. Mrs. Brown is with him. Miss Mabel Lewis a graduate beauty operator, is in charge of Mrs. Brown's beauty shop here during her absence.

Mrs. Bob Weaver suffered an injured back last week when she slipped and fell in the basement of the Methodist Church while assisting in serving the P.T.A. conference visitors at luncheon. She has been confined to her bed since the injury but is reported improving this week.

The three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hufstetler was burned about the face a few days ago when he fell against a stove at the home here. The injury is not thought to be serious, however.

at all times be kept in a sanitary condition. Foods displayed for sale such as pastries, cooked meats, candies, etc. must be properly covered and fully protected against flies and other insects. Persons in which domestic fowls and animals are maintained must be kept in a sanitary condition at all times. Any other condition which might be considered unsanitary or a public nuisance can be condemned by health authorities and ordered abated, the health officer pointed out.

To Control Mosquito
A number of regulations looking toward the control of mosquitoes were also promulgated. Installation of the sewer system eliminated a number of mosquito breeding places. Dr. McIntire pointed out, but there are still numbers of others that can be eliminated with proper co-operation of the people. Keeping all tall weeds cut will help in the mosquito campaign. Moisture on the surface under weeds provide breeding places for mosquitoes and the weeds harbor the insects.

All persons with overflowing septic tanks will be required to put them in proper operating condition or tie on to the sewer system by May 10, the physician said. The damp surface of septic tanks that are out of order provide breeding places for mosquitoes and a source of contamination by flies, in many cases a source of danger almost as great as the open toilet, Dr. McIntire declared.

There are some homes in Ozona where the overflow from bathtubs and bath tubs is allowed to drain on the surface of the ground, thus providing pools of water or constantly damp earth that are excellent breeding places for mosquitoes. Where such conditions are found, owners will be required to make proper sewer connections by May 10, it was announced.

In the enforcement of these things the county health officer has the co-operation of not only the County Commissioners Court but also the State Health Department.

"We are trying merely to formulate certain regulations for the better protection of community health, to avoid outbreaks of contagious diseases, and to eliminate fly and mosquito nuisance as far as possible, and we expect the co-operation of the people, in undertaking," Dr. McIntire said.

AVERAGE 200 ATTEND P T. A. MEETING HERE

The Hotel Ozona Thursday evening luncheon Friday noon in the basement of the Methodist Church a chuck wagon supper Friday evening furnished by ranchmen of Crockett County, and a luncheon at noon Saturday by the girls of the Home Economics department of the High School in the E. E. Rooms at the school.

Program Crowded
Following the luncheon Thursday noon, registration of delegates and visitors and assignment to quarters got under way in the High School auditorium during the afternoon. A pre-conference board of managers meeting was held in the afternoon. At the evening session, visitors were entertained with a toy symphony orchestra composed of pupils of the first grade under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Fussell, and a playlet entitled "Swords and Plowshares" by pupils of the seventh grade under the direction of Mrs. Tom Hunter. The visitors were welcomed to the city by Rev. J. H. Meredith for the town, by John L. Bishop for the schools and by Mrs. Ira Carson, president, for the Ozona P.T.A. Mrs. Joe Simmons of Ballinger, district vice president, responded. Two splendid addresses, one by Rev. J. Conger Jones of Del Rio and the other by Miss Helen Hardy of Austin, division of child welfare, Board of Control, were features of the evening.

The business sessions of the Conference formally opened Friday morning. Most of the morning session was taken up in hearing reports of district officers and chairmen, city and county councils, local Congress units and other reports. College Heights P.T.A. of Abilene won most of the awards on publicity exhibits made Friday morning, taking first place in public record books, thrift, good investment and humane education posters. Sonora took the yearbook award; Midland, health; Sonora, fire prevention; Comstock P.T.A. significance, poster prizes. Features of Friday afternoon's session were an inspirational address by Rev. A. D. Foreman of San Angelo on "Safeguards of the Home" and a report on the Texas conference on child health and protection by Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith of Austin, national chairman of citizenship and a member of the state board of education.

WOMEN: watch your BOWELS

What should women do to keep their bowels moving freely? A doctor should know the answer. That is why pure Syrup Pepsin is so good for women. It just suits their delicate organism. It is the prescription of an old family doctor who has treated thousands of women patients, and who made a special study of bowel troubles.
It is time for children, too. They love its taste. Let them have it every time their tongues are coated or their skin is sallow. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients.
When you've a sick headache, can't eat, are bilious or sluggish; and at the times when you are most apt to be constipated, take a little of this famous prescription (all drug stores keep it ready in big bottles), and you'll know why Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the favorite laxative of over a million women!

SYRUP PEPSIN
A Doctor's Family Laxative

An open forum discussion led by Mrs. A. F. Woods of Athens, state president, was also an interesting feature of the afternoon.

Liquor Opposition Voiced
Presentation of the life membership campaign by Mrs. Thomas Head, district president, reports of local Congress units, committee reports and classes completed the afternoon's program.

The threatened repeal of the eighteenth amendment was described in an address on "Spiritual Safeguards" by Rev. M. M. Fulmer at the evening session Friday, Rev. Fulmer voicing the sentiment of the announced stand of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers against the return of liquor.

A combined chorus of Mother Singers from Sweetwater, San Angelo and Ozona, directed by Mrs. Bryan McDonald, was an enjoyable feature of the Friday evening program, as was a piano solo by Miss Maxine Murdock and a reading by Mrs. Tom Hunter. Supt. A. M. Blackman of McCamey, former high school supervisor with the State Department of Education, spoke on behalf of retention of the per capita appropriation at the present figure and maintenance of general school standards. Mrs. W. A. Kay of Ozona, district vice president and general program chairman, and Mrs. Ira Carson, president of Ozona P.T.A., were among the graduates of the state home study course to receive diplomas for their work. Mrs. Wood, state president, making the awards.

Classes in publicity conducted by Mrs. George Baker of Sonora, publicity chairman for the district, in home education by Mrs. M. J. Woodson of Temple, state chairman, reports of local congress units, a question box and symposium and an open forum discussion of school problems conducted by Mrs. S. T. Gilmor, Sonora, honorary vice president and former district president. Selection of the 1934 conference city and the final business of the session was disposed of at the post-conference board of managers meeting. ### Court Disposes Of Civil Cases

Non-Jury Cases Tried In Opening Days Of April Session

Judgment of foreclosure on one of the most important business buildings in Ozona was rendered in district court here this week in the case styled L. B. Cox, Jr., et al, against L. B. Adams, et al, for debt and foreclosure. Judgment was rendered in favor of the plain tiffs for $10,500 unpaid debt on the property, and foreclosure on a vendor's lien note secured by the business buildings known as the Adams buildings.

The court directed that the property be sold to satisfy the judgment. The 30-day moratorium on operation of foreclosure proceedings, recently declared by act of the legislature, will postpone the sale proceedings for that period of time.

One divorce had been granted by the court yesterday, Leopoldo Longoria securing a decree from Ofilio Longoria. Miss Mamie Kirkpatrick was granted judgment removing her disabilities as a minor.

Tom Casbeer was given judgment of foreclosure on a note signed by B. O. Jacobs and secured by a house and lot which Mr. Casbeer sold to Jacobs several years ago. Sale of this property to satisfy the judgment will also be held up pending lifting of the foreclosure moratorium.

Rob Miller was denied an injunction to restrain the Burnet Mercantile Company of Burnet, Texas, from enforcing a judgment rendered in Burnet County court against Mr. Miller for approximately $700. Notice of appeal to the court of Civil Appeals at El Paso was given by attorneys for Mr. Miller.

Two cases were transferred to other courts upon agreement of attorneys. The case of J. R. Rushin against the Hartford Accident and Indemnity Co. was removed to the United States district court for the northern district of Texas at San Angelo. The case of H. O.

PICTURE OF ANCIENT MULE-DRAWN STREET CAR, 34 YEARS OLD, BRINGS MEMORIES TO MIND OF OZONA MAN

A 34-year-old picture published in a page ad of the San Antonio Public Service Company in the San Antonio Light last Sunday brought a flood of memories to an Ozona man, who posed with the group in the picture 34 years ago.

The picture showed one of the early forms of transportation in San Antonio, the mule car, or mule-drawn street car. S. L. Butler of Ozona was the conductor on that car and is seen sitting in the car window near the rear.

As a contrast to the modern street transportation of the Alamo City, the mule-car picture was used with a photograph of one of the modern motor buses, which were recently placed in operation to replace the noisy electric street cars. Mr. Butler has a clipping from a San Antonio newspaper about 1900 showing another pictorial story of the development in street transportation methods, this group comparing the other modern electric railway car with the old mule-drawn vehicle of ten years previous.

"Old 'Fatty' Woods was my motorman on the mule-car those days," says Mr. Butler. "He was the fattest man in the service and I was the leanest. The superintendent had a sense of humor and made us a team. Our run was out the San Pedro park line to Laurel Heights." Woods is shown standing on the car platform holding the lines in the old photograph.

Glenn Rutledge Buys Abilene Paint Store, Partner To Manage It

Glenn Rutledge, proprietor of the Rutledge Paint Shop here, has purchased the Abilene Builders Supply Company at Abilene in partnership with Hubert Ingraham, for the past six years manager of the Miller Paint Company in San Angelo. The deal was completed the first of the week and the new owners have taken possession of the property.

Mr. Rutledge will remain in Ozona for the present and Mr. Ingraham will be in charge of the Abilene business. The Abilene Builders Supply Company is a paint and glass store located in the heart of the business section of the city in the Medical Arts Building. It was purchased from the owner, Guy Griffin, who sold out to go into another business.

The Abilene store is an established and going business and has enjoyed a lucrative patronage in

Ozona Students Doing Good Work

Tabulation Of Grades Shows Locals Rank Above Average

A tabulation of mid-term grades in Ozona schools, made recently, shows Ozona students to be doing far above the average work in classes in comparison with grade-curve averages accepted by school authorities.

In the first seven grades of school, students were credited with a total of 1729 grades, including the entire range of A, B, C, D, and F. Of this total, 104 were grades of A, 504 grades of B, 760 grades of C, 302 grades of D, and only 59 grades of F.

In High School, the total grades given was 364. Of this number 51 were grades of A, 109 of B, 134 of C, 63 of D, and 7 of F.

In the grading system used in the local schools, C (75) is the average grade, or the grade which the average pupil makes. In the lower grades, under ordinary conditions or in an ordinary group, 1192 grades for the mid-term should have been C, B or A. There were actually 1368 grades in this class in the Ozona school. These figures show this group to be far above the average.

In the High School group, under the same conditions, 260 of the grades should have been in the higher bracket. There were actually 294 in the A, B and C range, the tabulation shows, thus placing the advanced students above the average also. These figures reveal that Ozona students are as a whole doing an exceptional brand of work.

The system of grading used in Ozona schools, a system which leaves it to the judgment of the teacher and not to the iron-bound demands of a grade curve system, is largely responsible for the high standards enjoyed by the school and the favor with which the state Department of Education looks upon the local institution.
