Body Of Crockett County Ranch Hand, Victim Of Howard Draw Flood Waters, Buried At O'Donnell, Texas, Saturday

Frank Melliwe, Employee On Blakeney Ranch, Drowned Thursday

Funeral services for Frank Melliwe, 25-year-old Crockett County cowboy, victim of flood waters of Howard Draw last week, were held Saturday at O'Donnell, Lynn County, home of the drowning victim. The victim's mother and sister, living at O'Donnell, survived.

The ranch employee was drowned Thursday morning when he, with a companion, Foster Kirkpatrick, rode horseback into the swollen stream in Howard Draw on the Joe Blakeney ranch, thirty-five miles southwest of Ozona. Attempting to cross the usually dry Howard Draw, the two rode their mounts into the swirling waters and Melliwe jumped from his horse. The companion turned back to the bank and it was reported that the other rider held to a tree, but only for a few seconds. The mount crossed safely.

News of the drowning caused immediate search and when the body had not been recovered Thursday night, a group from Ozona set out to aid in the search but found that the body had been found early Friday morning. The body was found by Frank Kirkpatrick, Blakeney ranch foreman, about one hundred yards below the point where the man had attempted to cross.

The two had been riding fence on the Blakeney ranch previous to the accident. Torrential downpours had made the long-time dry Howard Draw a swirling ravine and the two riders did not reckon the depth and swiftness.

Melliwe had been employed on the Blakeney ranch for the past five months.

Joe Oberkamp was in charge of the body which was carried Friday night to O'Donnell.

Girls Organizing Softball Teams In Proposed Tourney

Challenges and counter challenges are beginning to fly thick and fast as ladies of Ozona begin to take serious interest in the game of softball, and plans are understood being made for a meeting on the field of battle about June 10 of two of the three or four girls teams now in the process of formation.

Alma Johnigan has indicated that she is organizing a team to play under the colors of the Lions Club, challenging all comers. Mrs. Warren Clayton is understood to be engineering the organization of a team to play for the Methodist Missionary Societies, and ladies of other groups may become interested in being represented on the playing field.

Home Owners Get New Chance For Loans From HOLC

Six Local Applicants May Get Loans With New Funds

Six Ozona home owners will have a second chance to receive loans for financing of their homes when the virtually certain signature of President Roosevelt is placed on the new bill giving the corporation an additional $1,750,000,000.

When funds were exhausted from the first apportionment, six applications for home loans were left unfilled in the office of N. W. Graham, Crockett County attorney for HOLC. Ten loans were made.

In all, the corporation has before it 283,899 old applications for loans totaling approximately $851,649,000.

Ozona Scouts, 22 Strong, Take Honors In Camp

Largest Delegation, Neatest Camp Awards To Local Troop

A large delegation from Ozona, including the three Scout committeemen from here, accompanied in cars the twenty-two Scouts who left Ozona Sunday for Camp Louis Farr at Mertzon for summer camp.

The Ozona Troop No. 53 snatched first honors of competition at the outset of the camp session when they garnered the award for the neatest camp arrangement among troops from Iraan, Rankin, Sonora, Eldorado, Brady and San Angelo. The Ozona troop erected an attractive camp site soon after arriving. The unit from here was given credit also for having the largest attendance at the camp session which is due to close for the towns named above, the end of this week. However, many Ozona Scouts have designated plans of remaining two to four weeks in the camp, which is permissible.

The summer gathering of the Concho Valley Council will be represented by member troops from over this part of Texas and is being directed by Bob Billington, council executive, Jack Stone, assistant, and Joe Haddon of Ozona, a director. The Louis Farr camp at Mertzon is classed among the best of the southwest, located at a colorful site on Spring Creek.

Before leaving for the camp, Ozona youths were given physical examination here and again on reaching the camp, the boys were tested physically. Each youth is given camp assignments and during the stay will prepare several of his own meals. Penalty is placed on a Scout not reporting to his camp by nine o'clock each night, Scout executives report.

Ozonans furnishing cars and making the trip Sunday to Mertzon were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Grandy, Bryan McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Pierce, Vicky Pierce, Ele Bright Baggett, Bill Johnigan, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lemmons and Mike Couch.

Dr. W. A. Grandy of Ozona is outdoor activity man for the group.

Giants Nose Out Miles Giants In Non-League Game

Reinforced Ozona Nine Shows Promise Of Going Places

A revamped Ozona Giants team, playing almost perfect baseball, nosed out the Miles Giants in a non-league game here Sunday afternoon with a score of 2 to 1. With a new shortstop, second baseman and catcher, with Frank Russell, shifted from second to left field, the Giants clicked in a fashion that augurs trouble for other teams in the Permian Basin league during the balance of the season.

Wind of almost gale proportions limited hits in the Sunday game, several of the long flies sent to the outfield being probable long hits had not the wind lifted and slowed them so outfielders could shag them. The revitalized Giants looked good with the stick and in the field, although they were able to chalk up but five hits for the day.

The visitors scored first in the second frame on a walk, steal and a hit. The Giants evened the count

Lions Register Big Attendance As Contest Ends

Club Has More Than Doubled Membership Since January

One of the largest attended luncheons in several weeks and marked with a high enthusiasm was registered Tuesday at the Lions Club noon meeting at which time the winning attendance team, captained by Hugh Childress, Jr., was announced to be the recipient of a chicken dinner in two weeks as guests of the losers.

Guests of the occasion were the Rev. M. M. Fulmer, former president of the Lions Club here and pastor of the Baptist Church, now of Jackson, Tenn., and Slim Harris, manager of the Ozona Giants.

The visiting minister, who left Ozona last fall at a call from the Jackson church, addressed Lion members on "Intangible Assets of Life." With a sufficient number of new members gained to their credit, Ben Lemmons, R. O. Smith were announced to be eligible for key membership and Dr. W. A. Grandy, president-elect, was announced eligible for the Lions' master key, for securing twelve new members for the club here. The winner of the master key was also named delegate of the club to the Lions International Convention which he will attend in Mexico City July 23 to 26.

Three new members were voted into club membership at the Tuesday meeting and one transfer of membership was made to this club. Edwin Lear, new manager of the Palace Theatre, C. J. Watts, proprietor of Watts Service and Jimmie Blaylock, Hotel Ozona manager, were the new members and J. O. Lusby, new manager of the West Texas Utilities here, was given transfer of membership to the Ozona club from Merkel.

The Lions Club here has more than doubled membership since the first of the year, the roster having been swelled by addition of twenty-one members since that time. The increase was spurred by the team attendance race, in which the club was divided into half and the two sides were given one point for each single attendance, ten points for transfer of membership gained and for reinstatements of old members.

HEAVY RAINS GIVE DROUTH FINAL ROUT

Bountiful Falls Here And Over Wide Area Brighten Future

LIGHTNING HITS House, Light Pole Hit But Only Slight Damage Results

A general rainfall covered this area when heavy downpours came in the immediate vicinity of Ozona Monday evening continuing alternately into the night to give the locality 2.2 inches and lighter rains fell again Tuesday night adding .4 inch, according to the Joe Oberkamp gauge.

The heavy rain which fell Monday night was reported extending in all directions from here but Ozona was among the top for inches received. It was the heaviest rainfall here for the year and was accompanied by a terrific electrical display which damaged a telephone pole on the west highway just across the bridge and was reported to have destroyed a radio when a flash struck near four people in the Senne home north of town.

Heavy falls Monday reported to the south and west of Ozona, the B. E. Ingham ranch on the Pecos reporting 1 3/4 inches. Probably the heaviest recorded fall in the immediate area of Ozona was on the Davidson ranch seven miles south of here where 3 1/2 inches was reported. On the W. R. Baggett ranch, just north of town, however, and on the Jake Young place to the east, only a quarter inch was reported.

Rains during the past few weeks have covered practically all of the erstwhile drouth stricken area of West Texas. Sunday night the heavy rains in the Fort Stockton sector drenched one of the last remaining strongholds of the drouth, that section having had less than most of the area in the falls of the past few weeks.

But For Napoleon's Timely Invasion Of Spain, Texas Might Have Become An Appendage Of The House Of Godoy

Strongly Entrenched Colony Planned By Spanish Nobleman

AUSTIN, Texas, May 28.—The events in Europe culminating in the sale of Louisiana to the United States brought into the limelight so far as Texas was concerned a very famous personage, Manuel Alvarez de Faria Sanchez y Zaragosa de Godoy, "the Prince of the Peace," about whom Ashbel Smith, the diplomatic representative from Texas to England, France and Spain wrote:

"More than thirty years ago I met repeatedly in Paris a personage very noted in European history during the early years of the present century who said to me that his master Charles IV, King of Spain, had bestowed upon him the Province of Texas to be an appendage of the house of Godoy. The King had also assigned to him the young women in the female asylums of Spain to go thither, together with 2,000 soldiers for the settlement and permanent inhabitation of this our present state of Texas. The soldiers were designated, the transports were being gotten in readiness to sail when the French invasion of Spain under Napoleon made the soldiers needed at home. The enterprise was arrested and the Spanish damsels were restored to their asylums."

Smith then added: "There appears no reason for doubting Godoy's narrative. The whole was a fitting incident in the history of the Spanish court during those horrible times."

His judgment is borne out by documents that have been recently translated from the Bexar Archives in the library of The University of Texas; for on May 30, 1804, the King's Councillor, Miguel Cayetano, wrote to the Viceroy, Don Jose Yturriagaray, saying:

New System Government
"The field marshals, Don Antonio Sampec and Don Jose of Navarero explain that the general-in-chief, the Prince of the Peace, has decided upon a new system of government for the Interior Provinces of North America and that since the paper they enclosed was a part of the plan, the execution of the undertaking might be undertaken immediately. The plan mentioned includes the following points:

"Under existing conditions, it is well to divide the command of the Interior Provinces into two distinct governments under the names of Eastern and Western Interior Provinces. The first shall contain parts of Nuevo Leon and Santander situated between the Rio del Norte or Bravo and the Pilon River from the point where the last named river flows into the sea at Soto la Marina to its headquarters near Aldea de Labordores. From thence there shall be drawn a line to the northwest through the edge of the mountains to Saltillo and, passing thru the Pueblo de Parras, it shall continue in a northerly direction until it strikes the Rio Bravo.

"For the western division there will be left the Province of Sonora, Sinaloa, Nuevo Viscaya, and Nuevo Mexico.

"The new governor or commandant-general of the eastern division shall be appointed with the same powers and functions for his particular command as those held by the actual commandant-general of all the Interior Provinces.

"There shall be elected a subordinate officer—second in command—who, imbued with the same ideas and principles as the former, shall be able to aid or to take the place of the said commandant-general.

Military Organized

"For the present, there shall be formed provisionally a body of infantry taken from the regiments of New Spain and about two hundred men who wish to go as volunteers from the army of the Peninsula from among the soldiers who have served more than fifteen years and from those able-bodied retired soldiers who have not reached the age of fifty. One company of mounted artillery, with its officers also from the Peninsula, with some engineering officers and two aids for the governor, shall be formed.

"Since the principal object is directed toward the establishment and development of the population of the Province of Texas by means of military colonists and militia, as it must be a buffer, and since there are not found in it sufficient supplies, these shall be collected in the province of Coahuila until the troops and colonists arrive. Meanwhile, the examination, the clearing and the distribution of the lands which are to be first settled shall be begun.

"Since it is necessary to begin to settle along the coast, there shall be examined, with all possible care and attention, such places as may be suitable near the Rio Grande del Norte; and, to overcome such resistance as there may be on the part of the cannibal Indians, there shall be constructed boats and armed barges to enter the Rio Grande del Norte and the Colorado rivers, and the Bays of Espiritu Santo, San Bernardo and Galveston. To this end, the laborers and other necessary things shall be furnished by the governor of the Island of Cuba, the general of the department of marine at Havana, and the commandant-general of the Western Province with whom the commandant-general of the Eastern Province shall have the closest relations as well as with the viceroy of Mexico, touching all that may be conducive to the realization of his plans. It will be well to arrange that there shall be set apart two light vessels for the transportation of the mails, the introduction of colonists and their families, goods, ammunitions and for other necessary purposes.

Protection Extended

"In proportion as the establishment and settlers continue increasing in the future, there shall be created a regiment of infantry and another of cavalry, a third part of whose officers and sergeants shall be promoted from the army of Spain and the other two parts from the troops of America and the presidios of the frontier which shall be organized one after another. There shall be formed likewise, another company of mounted artillery and, when circumstances demand it, there shall be named officials of the departments of the treasury, justice, parish priests and whatever else may be necessary for organization and good government in the new system.

"Later, in a letter of the 22nd of the same month the secretary of war advised me that his Majesty at the suggestion of the said general-in-chief, the Prince of the Peace, had designated to name as the new governor and commandant-general of the Eastern Interior Provinces of North America, Colonel Don Pedro Grimarest, Commander of the Third Battalion of the Regiment of Infantry of Extremadura, with a salary of ten thousand pesos, and, so second in command, for the present, Lieutenant-Colonel, Don Luis Baccigalupi, Sergeant Major of the Royal Engineers, who is to serve as commandant of engineers with a salary of two thousand pesos per year in addition to his present salary."

Scattered letters in the Bexar Archives show that preparations for the reception of the fleet that never came were made and the incident was almost forgotten until Ashbel Smith revived the memory again in his old age when reviewing his colorful experiences, dismissing its effect upon the history of Texas with the words:

Chance Decried History

"According to my understanding of history, relentless Destiny—God's government of the world rolls on regardless of accidents. Contingencies, obstacles, though it might seem to human short-sightedness that a trivial circumstance could change or divert its course. Such circumstances are only a fly on the wheel of the chariot of the human race. Texas, slightly modified, perhaps, would in the main have become what it is this day, even though chance once seemed to decree a far different fate.

"Had Napoleon listened to the admonitions of Talleyrand, the boldest and most farseeing of all his counselors, and avoided the Spanish imbroglio and turned South and his legions elsewhere, Prince Godoy would then, without hindrance, have poured into Texas, his armed Uhlans wived with the maidens of the religious houses of Spain, making for the latter homes and families, creating for themselves the strong local attachment of home. In numbers and by their training as soldiers they might have been able to keep their homes and to hold these goodly lands now our own. The Spaniards were once an eminently war-like race. They had shown that they were a colonizing race, founders of an Empire inferior only to the great English speaking race."

CARD OF THANKS

To the people of Ozona and Crockett County we want to express our thanks for their assistance and many acts of kindness on the occasion of the tragic death of Frank Mellwe. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kirkpatrick Foster Kirkpatrick.

B. B. Ingham has recently had his garage torn down and a new one constructed at his home here.

Hunger Marchers in Ohio's Capital

Carrying American flags, several hundred persons on relief rolls marched on the state capitol in Columbus, Ohio, claiming they had received no money or food for a week. They blamed politics for their plight.

METHODIST CHURCH

At the morning service the pastor will administer the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and preach the first of three sermons on "Faith in Modern Life." The specific topic for Sunday will be "An Adequate Faith." The night service begins at eight o'clock and the sermon subject will be "Hold That Line." We hope to continue with a choir and special music at all services during the summer. Mrs. Floyd Henderson and Mrs. Chas. Williams will have charge of the adult Sunday School class during the summer.

Showing the Country to City Children

To create a rural atmosphere for the benefit of city children, the New York park department has built the "traveling barnyard" shown above. It is mounted on a truck and visits the various parks and play grounds, attracting crowds of little ones who never before have heard a chicken cluck or felt the soft nose of a calf.

Colorful Adventure Story Of British Soldiers In India Told In "Lives Of a Bengal Lancer," to Show at Palace

One Of Year's Greatest Films Coming Fri. and Sat.

A picture which combines magnificence, sheer spectacle, and breath-taking action with the poignance of human drama, Paramount's "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer" comes to the Palace Theatre here Friday and Saturday. There have been any number of screen spectacles based on the lives and adventure of fighting men, but never one of the calibre of "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer." Over four years in the making, it employed more than four thousand actors in scenes shot in the mountain fastnesses of India and in five separate locations in California.

Gary Cooper, Franchot Tone, Richard Cromwell and Sir Guy Standing head the cast of the picture as officers of this colorful regiment. The drama arises from the conflict between Sir Guy Standing, who plays a crusty, hard-shelled colonel, and his subordinate officers.

Cooper and Tone adopt Cromwell, the colonel's impulsive son, as their special charge. When he becomes involved with a Russian girl and is carried off by a neighboring chieftain, Cooper and Tone follow, although the colonel refuses to go to his son's rescue.

They, too, are captured and the chieftain employs torture to wring the secret of an enormous ammunition convoy from Cromwell. The chieftain captures the ammunition and the Lancers, although they face certain destruction, prepare to attack in order to check the revolt which will follow.

At this crucial moment Cooper hits upon a plan, and, first swearing the boy to secrecy on his own shameful betrayal, goes out to blow the fort to smithereens and save the Lancers.

That, in its essence, is the story. But it gives you no idea of the wild, pounding charges, the stirring horsemanship, the suspense and the fascination of glimpses of a strange and unexplored East that make "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer" one of the grandest spectacles ever to be filmed.

The cast, which features only one girl, Kathleen Burke, includes such Hollywood favorites as Monte Blue, C. Aubrey Smith, Douglas Dumbrille, Akim Tamiroff and Colin Tapley.

In addition to this superb picture, Edward C. Lear, manager of the Palace, announces a full 2 1/2 hour program Friday and Saturday, including the feature, "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," a Grantland Rice "Sportlight," a "Scrappy" cartoon and the "Three Stooges" in "Punch Drunk," an excellent comedy.

A number of improvements have been made on the Palace since Mr. Lear has taken over its management. The last difficulty in utilizing the building as a show house has been overcome with recent installation of new lenses and raising of the picture about two feet, permitting persons sitting in any part of the house to see the film without being blocked by persons sitting in front. The projecting booth has been enlarged and various other improvements are planned in the near future, including installation of a cooling system.

Texas Highway Delegates Seek Federal Funds

Hundred Million Asked for Gap Closing Before Centennial

AUSTIN, May 28—In a determined effort to obtain $100,000,000 for gap-closing on Texas highways before the Centennial and the opening of the Mexico City road, Harry Hines, new chairman of the State Highway Commission will head a delegation of Texas leaders to Washington in mid-June he has announced.

His hope is to impress the federal administration with the fact that the building of modern highways in Texas can provide more and better and quicker employment than weed-cutting, ditching or many of the other former CWA activities. It can do this, he contends, with minimum waste or abuses, and the result will be useful, permanent, revenue-producing facilities.

Accompanying Chairman Hines to the capital will be the other commissioners, Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, Col. Ike Ashburn of the Texas Good Roads Association and envoys from many other groups.

Gov. James V. Allred favors utilization of road-building as a means of unemployment relief in Texas, and has wired his view to President Roosevelt.

"Well over 90 per cent of the Texas road dollar goes to labor either on the job or in the factories, mills and pits behind it," Mr. Hines explained, "and this is why we hope to get some of the money from purely temporary relief projects shifted to it."

"Texas should get over $50,000,000 for roads and grade separations from appropriations already made, and we will ask for $40,000,000 more. We have the plans all ready for badly-needed roads that will exceed this amount, and we can get them under way swiftly."

The highway chairman explained that he has no thought of disturbing the many worthwhile city and community projects to be presented through PWA, but only random and unplanned work relief.

YOU HAVE TO PUBLISH THE NEWS

Hillsboro Mirror: A lot of people have been inclined to criticize the newspaper because of so much crime news published; forgetting that crime is news and it is largely because there are so many law-abiding people and so few who are criminals.

Possibly there is some reason for the cry against the newspapers, however, because of the fact the headlines play up crime.

Anyway, the Dallas Journal, in the recent celebration of its 21st birthday, eliminated all crime news from its first page, and it was a costly commendable manner in which to celebrate its anniversary, and yet the next day, it started back to the newspaper plan of playing up the news of a sensational nature whether it related to crime or otherwise.

Perhaps the best plan would be to play up the punishment which overtakes the criminal, and, recently, the country is to be complimented on the fact that there have been many opportunities to emphasize the fact that the criminal must pay, and in justice to the newspapers of the country it must be said that they have not failed to take advantage of the opportunity.

Then, too, instead of playing up the fact that some guy like Samuel Insull had failed and taken down with him thousands of innocent investors, we might emphasize what some man like Rockefeller had done with his millions to benefit humanity, how some man sacrificially had ministered to those more needy, how some man had given his life to save someone else. In other words place big headlines on worthy deeds and little headlines on unworthy ones, for after all the worthy deeds are more numerous than the unworthy, and yet more entitled to recognition.

It may be true that our magnifying the divorces of the movie stars, have encourage more divorces, our playing up of the wild drinking parties may have encouraged more drinking parties, thus placing a glamour upon them.

We know that it is true that playing up the daring escapades of Barrow, Parker and Hamilton caused a sympathy for them, a kind of admiration for their bravery and daring, all out of proportion to the meekness with which Hamilton and Ralph Fultz surrendered when finally cornered. And we fear that in the public mind, because of the glaring headlines, the escapes made a deeper impression than the surrender.

It seems to be human nature to enjoy the evil report more than the good, but it is possibly due to the fact that there is so much good that it is commonplace, unappreciated, while the evil is unusual and therefore attractive.

That kind of an attitude might be somewhat changed by different treatment by the newspapers. But it might as well be understood that the individual citizen could himself have a part in that change by training his mind to think good of his neighbor and magnify it rather than seeking for the evil.

After all, the newspaper is very, very human, conducted by humans, written for humans, and largely representative of the people themselves.

AN OUTWORN SYSTEM

Several years ago the late Chief Justice Taft declared that American criminal procedure was a disgrace to the nation. A recent utterance on the same subject by Judge Walter B. Jones of Alabama is to the same effect, and is worthy of being widely published. He said, in substance:

In the interest of Justice and in the name of common sense a change is needed in the ideas we have about criminal trials. Instead of a procedure in which one side works entirely with the object of finding a defendant guilty and the other side with the object of finding him entirely innocent, both sides disregarding or distorting the facts to suit their opposing purposes, he suggests that everything should be subordinate to the truth, and then let the chips fall where they may.

He pleads for doing away with the absurdities of the average criminal trial, for sweeping away of all sham and pretense, and the squelching of technicalities which serve only to defeat the ends of justice. In conclusion Judge Jones declared:

"We are living in an age of the airplane-machine gun killer and robber, and yet we are apparently content to hunt him in an ox-cart with slingshot."

GOVERNMENT BY MAIL

Long, Coughlin, & Townsend Fill Mail-Boxes and Ballot-Boxes

Senator Huey P. Long, of Louisiana, with his "share-the-wealth" program; Father Charles E. Coughlin, of Royal Oak, Michigan with his National Union for Social Justice; and Dr. Frank E. Townsend, of Long Beach, California, with his old-age pension plan, account for much of the mail which travels over the country each day, reports The Literary Digest.

Most Senators occupy three rooms in the Senate Office Building. But Huey Long has five rooms. When his staff overflowed the normal Senatorial quarters, Senator Long moved some of his clerks into the corridor. As a result the Government allotted him, without extra charge, two more rooms.

Long Expands At the peak, in April, Senator Long employed twenty-two clerks on the day-shift, and fourteen at night. The mail averages 60,000 letters a week.

Doctor Townsend had a paid force of fifty in the main office at Long Beach last winter. One thousand two hundred dollars a day was spent on postage-stamps. Father Coughlin hires 217 clerks.

YOU need Never Feel THIS Way!

These First of the month bills which are perpetually larger than you expected never bother our customers any more.

It is not rather a mark of sound business to see a man or woman who CAN and WILL safeguard their expenses by taking advantage of LOW Prices? The grocery bill of the average family is 35 to 40% of the family income. Only the very few can ignore the prices thereof.

One lady says she can't see much difference in the prices. If the price difference were but $4 a month on a $40 bill it would be 10%. Rather high interest is it not? 10% a month—12 per cent a year—for the privilege of charging? No one can doubt it. Only a VERY few HAVE to charge and if you needlessly do likewise—you pay for their necessity.

Billion Pounds Of Meat Conserved By Government Buying

Records of the Commodities purchase section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration show that nearly a billion pounds of meat were available to those on relief rolls through the Government's emergency purchases of cattle, hogs, sheep and goats. The conservation purchases were made by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the animals turned over to the Federal Surplus Relief Corporation for processing and distribution to families on relief rolls. About half of the cattle and sheep purchased were processed by relief labor under the supervision of State Emergency Relief Administrations. About 790 million pounds of beef and mutton were conserved through the emergency cattle and sheep purchase program, and approximately 104 million pounds of pork and lard resulted from the emergency sow and pig purchase program. Storage supplies of meat held by the Federal Surplus Relief

Corporation on May 1 included 115,224,187 pounds of beef, 7,977,402 pounds of veal, and 5,572,183 pounds of mutton, a total of more than 128 million pounds. In addition, it is estimated that State Emergency Relief Administrations still have in storage an equal amount, making a total of more than 250 million pounds of meat still available for distribution to those on relief. All of the pork products obtained through the hog purchase program have been distributed.

16-foot Aermotor on Ward Ranch, Sutton County. Has been in constant service since 1900. Now has self-oiling motor; original wheel and other parts.

This old-style Aermotor still in the Norris community in Runnels County has been in continuous service since 1898. Good for many years service!

Old-style Aermotor on the Ash Farm in Runnels County has been in daily operation since 1897. Purchased from C. & G. Hagelstein, erected by a Mr. Roper.

Forty years old! Old-style, 8-foot Aermotor on J. S. Hall farm in Runnels County is still giving service and in fair condition. Very low upkeep record!

The combined service of the above four Aermotor Windmills is 150 years! And, apparently, each is good for many more years of service! This should convince you that the Aermotor will last longer and, in addition, will pump more water and give less trouble than any other Windmill on the market today.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN, May 28—The old adage "it never rains but it pours" has proved itself again, in connection with the discovery of new Texas oil fields. The Southland Life Insurance Co. of Dallas is on the catching end this time. Records of the railroad commission recently recorded the fact that the Union Sulphur Co. brought in a deep-test wildcat well seven miles north of Mercedes. The oil tested out the highest gravity of any ever found in this part of the country, 56.9 and the Southland has 600 acres in the immediate vicinity, located strategically around the well, which has been flowing at its full allowable ever since it came in. Commission records also show that last week a test in Duval-co was spudded in and a few short weeks will disclose whether the Southland has oil on another 1200 acres it owns there. Major companies drilled both wells on lease. Still a third announcement last week reported the Olean Oil Co. had found production on a ranch owned by Southland near Weleetka, Oklahoma. Under a quarter-inch choke the well is flowing about 50 barrels daily and is expected to develop into a large producer under treatment. Any one of these three fields could make the Southland one of the richest companies of its size in America, should any one or more of the three develop present indicated potentialities.

Jimmie Jr., 7-year-old son of Gov. James V. Allred, has demonstrated that a good many Texans need to review their Texas history in preparation for the Centennial next year. Jimmie observed the knowing comments which visitors to the executive mansion made on viewing two beautiful oil portraits of two of Texas' greatest heroes—Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin—that hang in the mansion. So he switched the two brass plates, with the names of the two men that were attached to the bases of the frames. When he giggled delightedly to himself for a couple of hours as dozens of visitors admired "General Houston" while gazing at the portrait of Austin and vice versa. Not one of them noticed the difference and young Jimmie had so much fun he couldn't keep the secret, so he told his dad. The governor sternly bade him put the proper name back on each portrait, but Jimmie Jr. still thinks it was a good joke.

Now comes prospect of dog racing as another "amusement" device on which Texas citizens can wager their earnings, if the slot machines, marble boards and horse race mutuel machines leave them any. A syndicate in Dallas has announced that it will build a $10,000 dog racing track, and Dist. Atty. Bob Hurt of Dallas-co countered with an announcement that he will seek an injunction if the track attempts to open. Attorneys for the promoters claim the San Antonio court of civil appeals has rendered a decision that dog track betting is as legal as horse track betting. The dog tracks aim at the pocketbook of the little fellow who can't afford to go to a horse track.

They charge 25 and 50 cents admission, and take bets from a quarter up. Bill Cunningham, once a Texas newspaperman, recently wrote a graphic account of how dogs are trained to chase the mechanical rabbit by attaching a real live Easter rabbit to the machine, and letting the dogs chase it, after they've been starved for several days. The dogs catch the helpless Easter bunny and devour it. Nobody's Business recommends to any reader who isn't sure how he feels about dog racing that he read Cunningham's article in a recent issue of Collier's.

Charles H. (Chuck) Newell, once vice president and general manager of The Dallas Dispatch and later publisher of the Texarkana Press, has recently been elected manager of the Texas highway branch of the Associated General Contractors of America, with headquarters at the Austin hotel. Newell, known to most Texas newspapermen as an able member of their clan, plans to risk the association of further benefit to the people of the state as well as the road builders. Shortly the A. G. C. will inaugurate an information bureau, prepared to furnish any information on any road project in Texas to newspaper editors—daily or weekly—who will take the trouble to write and ask for it. With millions of dollars of state and federal funds available for highway construction in Texas this year, local newspapers and citizens' committees interested in highway development in their sections should find Newell a capable and accommodating ally.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce adopted resolutions condemning the AAA's cotton policy, but at the same time a large delegation of dirt farmers from this state was in Washington pledging support to Secretary Wallace and President Roosevelt for the cotton limitation program. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce also indoged the sales tax some time ago, but the legislature didn't pay much attention to it. Probably Secretary Wallace won't either. How the farmers and rural communities of Texas feel toward the New Deal was pretty well demonstrated last year in the Connally-Bailey senatorial race, where it was the only issue.

Earl Cross, former Ozonan and now residing in Bell County, has been a visitor in Ozona for several days.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for such election, and shall have the same published and such election held as provided by the Constitution and laws of this State.

THIS wise father has put his reading lamp to double use. He found that when both he and his son shared the same light neither one could really see properly. So here's what he did: He bought a floor lamp equipped with an indirect lighting reflector. In the sockets under the shade he put 60-watt lamps for reading. In the reflector at the top he inserted a 300-watt Mazda lamp.

Now they can both see. Dad can place the lamp wherever he wants it without robbing the boy of the light he needs.

Giants Nose Out—

in the third when Greer and Meyers walked in succession. Lenz, second baseman, shot a grounder to short, who tried for a double play at second and first, one being down, but Lenz was safe at first, Greer scoring on the play.

The Giants took the lead in the sixth after two were out. Dorley singled, stole second and scored on Catcher Stewart's single down the first base foul line.

The visitors threatened in the ninth when with none down, two successive singles hung a momentary cloud of gloom over local fans, but the runner on first tried to stretch his advance to third only to be thrown out by Bob Weaver's perfect peg from center field to Dorley on the bag. The next two batters rolled out, pitcher to first and short to first, respectively.

The Giants played errorless ball save for one miscue charged to Meyers, Ozona pitcher, who threw one low to first to let a runner on, but the error resulted in no damage. Eight other chances were handled perfectly by the hurler, who fielded them all over a wide circle about the box. As a matter of fact, the box score shows Meyers with more assists, or fielded balls, than all of his teammates together. He struck out five men and allowed five hits in nine innings.

The Giants go to Iraan next Saturday and Sunday for a two-game series with the Iraan league entry. The two teams split one-all their two-game series here earlier in the season. Bill Rabb, for Fort Worth Cats hurler, and now on the Giant pitching staff, will see service in one of these games.

Ozonans Visit—

for the sermon the Ozonans heard.

At Sarasota, Florida, the tourists saw one of the most interesting features of their trip, the Ringling Fine Arts Museum and the Ringling Brothers' Circus in winter quarters.

Crossing the Potomac at Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Cox invaded one of the storehouses of American historical lore. Here, with cherry blossoms to embellish the scene, in one glance was to be seen the Washington Monument, an elaborate shaft of marble, Lincoln Memorial, an enlarged statue of the Emancipator seated, Mount Vernon, and in the distance, the national capitol.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox visited Washington, D. C., and heard discussions of the old-age pension on the floor of congress, visited the Library of Congress, largest library in the world, and also toured to Arlington Cemetery and the Pan-American Building.

From Fredericksburg, Va., the Ozonans drove on and walked over the grounds of Bunker Hill and Gettysburg. At Philadelphia they drove beside Independence Hall and looked at the Liberty Bell and journeyed on to New York.

Points of interest to the visitors in New York City were the Rockefeller Center where Radio City was visited, the Statue of Liberty, the American Museum of Natural History, the Hudson Tunnel and the George Washington Bridge. They left New York City and visited Niagara Falls, touched on all the five Great Lakes and journeyed into Ontario, Canada.

A high point of interest in the trip occurred when the two were in Detroit, Michigan. Near there, at Royal Oak, they beheld the famous Shrine of the Church of the Little Flower, where an inconspicuous little church stands beside the elaborate splendor of the huge new cathedral built by followers of Father Charles E. Coughlin. It is in the more impressive structure that the politically-minded priest speaks to thousands of radio listeners. In Detroit the couple saw Belle Isle, beautiful garden spot, the Ford factory at Dearborn (suburb) and Greenfield Village, village depicting early American life and erected by Henry Ford. They went through the Thomas A. Edison Museum there also.

Among the many sights which attracted the people from Ozona in Chicago was the Planetarium, astrological building where visitors may scan the heavens under detail of huge lenses. There, the Ozonans were shown into the illustration room where the movements of the heavenly bodies are simplified to visitors.

At Milwaukee the two were visitors at the beautiful Lake Park, viewing the sunken gardens. They also toured the Washington Park Zoo there.

Completing the broad circle and climaxing two months of glamorous sightseeing, the Ozonans swung down into Oklahoma and back into Texas, arriving here in Ozona May 22.

Anthropological Research Work Is Planned In Area

Archaeologist of University Seeks Ancient Relics

That anthropological research will be carried on in the west part of Crockett County along the Pecos River and its tributaries during June or July was revealed by the visit here last week of T. A. Jackson, University of Texas field archaeologist.

While here the university man was taken to various sites about the county where he surveyed the possibilities of Indian "finds" in dry caves. The archaeologist is in quest of rock inscriptions, chiseled objects, pottery, basket work and other Indian remains.

In quest for material of perishable nature left by Indians of earlier days in this sector, the Austin man points his search to caves, the only spots where perishable objects have not decayed.

Black paintings and chisel work in a cave on the Ben Ingram ranch were photographed by the archaeologist. He was carried to the spot by Will Baggett, Ozonan. The visitor was also directed to other known Indian sites by Tot Grimmer and Royce Smith, local men. The Indian enthusiast was shown old Indian grounds near Live Oak by Mr. Baggett but the cave there had been worked previously and nothing of consequence could be found.

From here the archaeologist left for McCamey where he was to ascertain if the grounds there will merit search this summer. One of the caves there is of such dimensions that a still was once found inside. He is also to go to Glen Rose.

The seeker of Indian bits was through Ozona two years ago. He was successful about three years ago in finding various Indian leavings in dry caves in the Seminole Canyon west of Comstock. The relics he found there, he declared to be more than one thousand years old.

Mr. Jackson is the only field man for the University of Texas and his quests here this summer will be especially for material to be displayed at the Texas Centennial Exposition next year.

Honoring the Rev. and Mrs. M. M. Fulmer on their return visit here from Jackson, Tenn., members of the Baptist Church feted the two Tuesday evening from six until nine with an informal dinner in the dining rooms of the church.

The occasion was marked with welcomes and toasts for the visiting two, who in turn expressed their gladness for being here among old friends again.

Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Meredith and their two children of Del Rio were also honored at the reception. Dr. Meredith is an uncle of the former pastor.

For the dinner program Rev. L. M. Gambrell presented two solos, accompanied by his son, David, Mrs. Fulmer played two piano numbers, Mrs. Royce Smith spoke for the W.M.U. and Mr. A. W. Jones and Mrs. C. J. Watts gave toasts to the honored guests.

Brother Of Nick Wigzell Died In Marathon Sunday

Ozonans Attending Funeral Water Bound In Torrential Rain

A party of six went from Ozona Sunday to Marathon to attend the funeral of Hubert John Wigzell, 84, brother of Nick Wigzell, Ozona, who died there suddenly at 3 o'clock Sunday morning.

The Ozonan's brother was an early resident of Marathon, having come to that town fifty years ago. He had been in ill health several years. There had been no critical change in the man's condition and his death came as a shock, he having walked from his home to town Saturday. Mr. Wigzell was born in 1850 and had never married. He would have been eighty-five in July.

Surviving Mr. Wigzell are two brothers, Nick Wigzell, Ozona, Malcolm Wigzell, Deming, N. M., and one sister, Mrs. Doris McClary, Granger, Texas.

Funeral services were held at 6 p. m. Sunday at Marathon. Following the burial rites the Ozona party set out for Ozona but were halted before coming into Fort Stockton by a rain "flood" which poured from nearby hills onto the flats causing the party in the Tom Casbeer car to become stranded.

Heavy rains began to fall when the returning Ozonans had come within ten miles of Fort Stockton but when they had advanced to a spot four miles from Fort Stockton, the car became deeply embedded in a bar of gravel washed into the road by the rains. It was reported that water inundated the flat area until greasewood emerged but an inch or two above the water.

Halted by the deluge, two of the party waded knee deep into the town for a wrecker to free the car from the gravel. It was 3 o'clock in the morning when the group was able to leave the site where they were stranded a great part of the night.

In the group from here which attended the Marathon man's funeral were Tom Casbeer, J. T. Cas-beer, Drennan Slaughter, Drennan Slaughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Wigzell.
