OUR HELD IN THEFT SUTTON COUNTY WOOL

Two Bags Of Fleeces Recovered Here By Officers

Recovery of two sacks of wool, allegedly stolen two weeks ago from the H. W. Evans ranch in Sutton County, early this week and the arrest of three persons on charges of complicity in theft or handling of the wool, in addition to some already held, were developments this week in a case which has occupied the attention of officers of two counties for two weeks.

Walter Wilkins, former Ozonan, and Lawrence Glover of this city, were charged with theft in Sutton County in connection with disappearance of the wool. W. H. Haire of Ozona was charged recently with conspiracy in connection with alleged efforts to complete sale of the wool here.

The two bags of wool were voluntarily turned over to officers by C. Phillips, Crockett County rancher, who, in a statement to officers, declared that he had purchased the wool without knowledge that it had been stolen. Phillips was placed under $1,000 bond on complaint signed by District Attorney Weaver H. Baker in connection with the case.

Pennies Saved To Ride Hobby Horses Given By Children For Flood Relief

Stories of heroic sacrifice are legion from the flood ravaged Ohio and Mississippi valleys as the most disastrous flood in the nation's history sweeps over this area. But the spirit of sacrifice and love of humanity is no better exemplified in any of these stories than by newspaper and radio than that of three little children in Ozona who yesterday emptied their penny-boxes for the benefit of flood sufferers. But the little minds had been made up, and, by newspaper and radio than that of three little children in Ozona important and capable of doing who yesterday emptied their penny-boxes for the benefit of flood sufferers. But the little minds had been made up, and, by newspaper and radio than that of three little children in Ozona important and capable of doing who yesterday emptied their penny-boxes for the benefit of flood sufferers.

No Crockett Sheep Found Among Flock Of Stolen Animals

A commentary on the efficiency with which Crockett County ranges have been guarded from the widespread operations of livestock theft rings operating in West Texas in recent weeks is contained in the report from an examination of alleged stolen flocks of sheep concentrated near Mason.

Clint Hamer, special deputy under Sheriff W. S. Willis of Crockett County, assigned to guard against thefts of livestock from Crockett County ranches, was sent last week to examine the flocks of stolen sheep. In the lot not one animal was found identifiable as coming from Crockett County ranges.

Sunday Deadline For Paying Poll And Property Tax

Collector's Office To Be Open Sunday For Late Comers

Next Sunday, January 31, is the deadline for paying poll taxes to enjoy the privilege of voting during the year 1937, and for paying property taxes of 1936 assessments without penalty. Sheriff and Tax Collector W. S. Willis reminds in a last minute warning to tardy taxpayers.

Since the last day of January, the tax-paying deadline, comes this year on Sunday, the tax collector's office will remain open all day Sunday, for the convenience of those who put off the painful duty to the last minute. Claude Russell, office deputy in charge of tax collections, will remain on duty throughout Sunday, it was announced, and will be available until midnight Sunday night to help taxpayers avoid the added penalty which automatically applies on tax accounts not paid before February 1.

As the deadline neared, tax collections took a decided spurt the middle of last week, Mr. Russell said. Collections have been exceptionally good this year in comparison with the last few years, the collector's office reports, and it is believed that when the paying period is ended, the percentage of delinquents will be unusually small.

Poll taxes must be paid on or before Sunday to entitle taxpayers to the privilege of voting the next year. Although 1937 is an "off year" for elections, there is likely to be some special elections, on constitutional amendments and other questions, and taxpayers are urged to pay poll taxes before the deadline in order to insure the voting privilege during the coming year.

STATE HIGHWAY DEPT. GRANTS DESIGNATION OF EXTENSION NO. 163 SOUTH TO COMSTOCK

WINS SCIENCE AWARD

Dr. Wendell M. Stanley, thirty-two-year-old chemist of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research of Princeton, N. He was awarded the prize for his discovery of the nature of the disease-producing viruses that cause influenza, infantile paralysis, common colds, and many other diseases.

3-Year Effort Crockett Val Verde Officials Success

A movement begun three years ago by Crockett and Val Verde County authorities was crowned with success early this week when the State Highway Commission at Austin granted designation of a route from Ozona south to Comstock as a state highway.

The designation, which will be a continuation south of Highway No. 163 from Barnhart through Ozona, was granted by the Commission on condition that state maintenance of the route should not begin until the road had been constructed. This provision was interpreted here to mean that state maintenance would begin as soon as a state-approved route is surveyed, right-of-way provided by the counties, and fencing completed. Most of this route is already provided in the present road to Del Rio, county officials voicing the opinion that a new survey south from Ozona would vary but little from the present road. Elimination of a few turns and widening in some places will be necessary, however, if the route now in use is adopted.

Extension of Highway 163 will provide a connecting link joining three principal east-and-west highways, linking No. 10 at Barnhart with No. 27 in Ozona and intercepting the border highway, No. 90 at Del Rio. It will provide a direct outlet to the north for the Del Rio sector, an outlet which will assume additional importance both to Del Rio and Ozona if the original plan for extension of the highway north from Barnhart through Garden City or Sterling City to Lubbock and a connection to points north and northeast, is finally realized.

Official notice of the new designation was received this week by Judge Charles E. Davidson, county judge of Crockett County, who, with the county judge of Val Verde County, has been advocating opening of the north and south highway for several years. Original efforts to secure designation of a through route from Del Rio north to connect with main highways to provide a direct outlet for this section to the north and east were said to have been blocked by San Angelo interests, who opposed opening of routes that might provide openings from this area to other trade centers. Designation of the extension of Highway 163 south from Ozona to Comstock, to connect with an existing highway to Del Rio, is the first step in accomplishment of the objective of communities interested in the original project.

U. S. May Send Man To West Texas For Bitterweed Study

Sec. Wallace Notifies Thomason Move Is Contemplated

A representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture may soon be sent to the West Texas livestock area for the purpose of making a study of the bitterweed problem in this section, according to a statement of H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, in a letter to Congressman R. E. Thomason of the 16th district, a copy of which was sent The Stockman this week by Mr. Thomason.

"It will be something accomplished," Congressman Thomason said, "if he will send one of his representatives to look into the situation in West Texas as mentioned in his letter. It goes without saying that I will do all in my power to be of service to the

Ozona Cage Squad Loses By Point In Barnhart Tourney

Another one-point margin eliminated Coach Ted White's Ozona High School cage squad from tournament competition the past week-end when the Rankin Red Devils judged the Lions from the Barnhart basket tourney by a count of 28 to 27. Rankin was eliminated in the semi-finals by the tourney champs, the Crews cagers.

The Crews quint knocked off Big Spring in the tournament final by a score of 30 to 27 to grab the championship.

RED CROSS IN ACTION

Every new American disaster has one compensating feature in the renewal of the people's faith in the innate goodness of humanity.

Whereas in the normal course of existence in this country the average person becomes a bit cynical with the constant reminders of the smallness of man, of the bickering and back-biting among his close associates, of the graft and corruption apparent in administration of public affairs, of the greed and blood lust too often manifest, it is refreshing, in time of national disaster, to know that there is one organization, untainted as yet by graft and so far incorruptible, whose strength and admirable organization is available to throw into the breach for human relief.

The American Red Cross has again met the challenge of disaster. Americans, disgusted and cynical at the spectacle of official waste and inefficiency, are refreshed that there is this nationwide organization capable of efficient action without delay, and whose history is yet unsmirched by a charge of inefficiency or dishonesty.

This great organization calls for ten millions of dollars in contributions from American people for relief of flood sufferers in the Ohio Valley will be heeded. American people outside the flood zone are pouring out their millions through the Red Cross with the utmost confidence that with this mercy organization in charge of its expenditure, every penny of it will be spent where it will bring a maximum of results. More power to the American Red Cross!

PAY YOUR POLL TAX

Only three more days in which to qualify yourself to exercise the right of franchise for the next twelve months. In order to enjoy the privilege of casting your ballot on questions to be submitted to a decision by the electorate during the coming year, you must pay a poll tax on or before next Sunday night, January 31. After that date, you will be disfranchised for twelve months if you have not paid the poll tax. A penalty applies on property taxes not paid before February 1, but not so with poll taxes—you simply can't vote if you don't pay before the deadline.

Some voters may be laboring under the impression that it really makes little difference whether or not they pay poll taxes this year, since it is an "off year" in politics and consequently "no elections." Few years pass without one or more elections on some question or other, either statewide or local issues. There is likely to be some constitutional amendments submitted next fall, and there may be other vital issues upon which you would wish to express your sentiment via the ballot box.

After all, the right to vote is cheap enough at $1.75 a year. Pay your poll tax now. And we might point out further that the announcement of Sheriff Willis and Deputy Russell that the collector's office will be open on Sunday to accommodate last-minute taxpayers should not be taken as an invitation to wait until the last minute. There may be some who will be unavoidably detained, or unintentionally overlook the duty, and these the sheriff and his staff are more than willing to accommodate. But don't take advantage of good nature and put off paying to the last minute. DO IT NOW!

Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Broadfoot are the parents of a daughter born here Monday. Mrs. Broadfoot is the daughter of Mrs. Walter Kyle. Mr. and Mrs. Broadfoot reside in McCamey.

Mrs. Melvin Brown had as her guest this week Mrs. C. W. Rathman of Lampasas.

News Bureau
Texas State College for Women

Denton, Jan. 27—It's a simple matter now a days to start a fire. Just a twist of the wrist, and you have heat to cook your meals, keep you warm, generate enough energy to supply your daily needs. But in the early part of this century, starting a fire meant a long series of duties: chopping wood, splitting it into kindling, bringing it into the house, and then coaxing the tiny flame into a blaze. All that took place before the gas industry came into being, and certainly long before it became known that the world's largest natural gas field lay under large sections of Potter, Moore, Carson, Hutchinson, and Wheeler Counties in the Texas Panhandle. It was the discovery of this field immediately following that of the great Richland field in Louisiana that placed the natural gas industry definitely upon a new national basis.

Natural gas resources of Texas are as widely distributed as its petroleum reserves. From the low Rio Grande Valley to the Panhandle and from Winkler County in the west to the Texas-Louisiana border are found many producing gas reservoirs.

Texas leads the nation in the production of natural gas, its production in 1934 being almost three times that of California, which held second place. A total of 692,776,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas was produced at that time.

Denton, Jan. 22—Planning the diet for the winter months involves not only the consideration of the necessary foodstuffs to make up a balanced meal, but also the problem of obtaining necessary foods which are out of season, and therefore, expensive in winter. Canned vegetables and fruits may be used in winter months to replace those which can not be bought fresh; these provide variety and lend themselves to the attractiveness of the menu. Whole cereals, macaroni and rice dishes are nutritious winter foods. Dried fruits and vegetables also lend themselves to keeping down the cost of winter meals.

Future of Our Boys And Girls on Trial

There are 45,000,000 boys and girls in the United States under eighteen years of age.

It has long been recognized that it is an American heritage for parents to rear their children without any Governmental supervision as is often the case in some foreign countries.

Do you now wish to relinquish this heritage in favor of a bureaucratic Governmental control?

If the Texas Legislature, which convenes on January 12th, ratifies the Child Labor Amendment, it will in effect mean that you relinquish many of your parental prerogatives in favor of inspectors and bureaus appointed by the Government.

These inspectors will seek to prevent your children under eighteen years of age from doing any work of any nature around the home and the farm.

What would the normal farmer do were it not for the aid of his sons in doing necessary chores around the house and on the farm?

What would the normal farmer's wife do if the daughter under seventeen years of age were prevented by Governmental agencies from assisting with the farm home's household tasks?

If you believe that you, as a parent, should be the one to decide these vital questions, write your Senator today in Austin and ask him to vote against ratification of this so-called Child Labor Amendment.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Who was the first woman to go up the old "Chisholm Trail" with a herd of cattle? T. C.

A. According to Dr. T. U. Taylor in "The Chisholm Trail and Other Routes," Mrs. Harriet Cluck, of Williamson County, accompanied her husband, Geo. W. Cluck, up the Chisholm Trail in 1871, being the first woman to make the hazardous trip. She traveled in a hack with her three children; Allie Annie, aged 7; Emma, aged 5; and Harriet Minnie, aged 2. The Clucks spent the winter of 1871-72 at Abilene, Kansas, where another child, Eucl, was born, and returned in the spring, buying a home at Cedar Park, Williamson County, still the family home.

Q. When was the next Mexican invasion of Texas made after that of March, 1842? E. K. D.

A. On Sept. 11, Gen. Adrian Woll, with 1400 men appeared at San Antonio, and after a brief skirmish took the district judge (court then being in session), several court officers, and lawyers and other citizens to the number of 53 as prisoners and after three days withdrew with them to Mexico, where the Texans were imprisoned.

Q. How did Houston feel in regard to Austin's imprisonment in Mexico? T. R.

A. Along with many other Texans, he felt that Austin was indiscreet in his letter from Mexico urging the San Antonio ayuntamiento to lead a movement for a state government for Texas. In a letter to John A. Wharton, Houston said: "I was provoked by his first letter, where he broke into prison."

Q. How much Federal relief has been spent in Texas? W. G.

A. The president's report made to Dec. 12, 1935, showed total expenditures in Texas in all branches of recovery and relief totalling $150,804,967 with an additional amount of $37,635,405 allocated, but not yet expended.

Q. What was Houston's reply to Santa Anna when the latter was captured at San Jacinto and taunted him with the scornful statement that Texas had no government and was fighting under no flag? K. D.

A. "So far as the first point is concerned, the Texans flatter themselves they have a government, and they will probably be able to make a flag."

Q. What flag was used by the Texans at the battle of San Jacinto and what became of it? K. D.

A. So far as history shows, the only flag the Texans had at San Jacinto was one made by the ladies of Newport, Ky., and presented to Capt. Sidney Sherman and his company of Kentucky Rifles. It was of white silk and in the center a young woman was standing, leaning forward, a flagstaff in her right hand; in the outstretched left a sword with the words "Liberty or Death" on a streamer hung over it. The flag was sent by the Republic of Texas to Mrs. Sherman at Frankfort, Ky., in August 1836, and returned to Texas by the family in August, 1896. The crumbling fragments were restored through efforts of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas, and in a formal presentation the flag was placed behind the chair of the Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, April 21, 1933, where it may now be seen in almost its original beauty.

Q. How many airports are there in Texas and does any other State have more?

A. At the beginning of 1937, there were 134 airports and landing fields in various stages of improvement and efficiency in Texas, California with 184 being the only state with more.

Q. Who wrote the "Hymn of the Alamo? K. G.

A. A Reuben M. Porter of Brooklyn, N. Y., author of a number of Texas historical sketches.

Nutrition Vital To Good Health

Austin, Jan. 27—Importance of maintaining uniform good health for all parts of the body stressed in a message sent out by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "More and more," he said, "we are coming to realize that the normal functioning of special parts of the body are dependent to a large extent upon the general condition of the body as a whole."

"All parts of the body are nourished from the blood stream," he said, "and so if all the essential elements of the body are met by an adequate food supply daily each part will receive what it needs to function normally. Experimental work in nutrition in all parts of the world has shed new light on the relationship between a properly balanced food intake and the eyes."

"Essential to adequate nutrition is the inclusion in the diet of foods containing vitamin A. When general bodily health is impaired by a lack of vitamin A, it often happens that the tear glands of the eye cease to function. Such results have repeatedly been shown in animal experimentation, and also among humans in times of food shortage. During the World War extreme cases of this eye disease known as xerophthalmia were found in Denmark among malnourished children who were living on skimmed milk and a very restricted diet. To cure this disease the government ordered that butter be added to the diet and a certain percentage of butter fat be retained in the milk.

"Since vitamin A is such an important factor in growth, development, and health, it is essential that everyone, especially children, eat foods containing it. Vitamin A is found principally in green and yellow vegetables, in fresh eggs and cream, and in various animal fats. It may be manufactured from carotene, the yellow coloring matter of these foods.

"Although a deficiency in vitamin A might not result disastrously immediately, its effects over a period of years probably would culminate in a lack of normal growth, physical debility, and injury to various parts of the body."

[QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING]

"Are profits essential to sound banking?"

YES, over a period of time, reasonable profits are essential to sound banking. In this respect banking is no different from any other business enterprise.

During recent years banks generally, like other businesses, have found it difficult to operate profitably. Costs have increased and income has decreased. The decrease in income has been due chiefly to less demand for commercial loans, lower interest and reduced yield on Government bonds and other high grade investments. Consequently, banks have found it necessary to practice drastic economies, reduce interest rates on time deposits and to make service charges on checking accounts if insufficient balances or excessive activity caused an operating loss.

A bank's first duty to its depositors — and to itself — is to build up, from earnings, its surplus and reserves.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPEER JR.

Austin—Pursuing its leisurely course, the legislature made some slight headway during its second week by adopting rules of procedure in the house, and Speaker Calvert announced he would name standing committees at the beginning of the third week. The session after a brief session Thursday adjourned until Monday, indicating they were in no rush to get down to hard labor.

The senate confirmed more than a score of Gov. Allred's appointments, including all that were submitted except the three members of the unemployment compensation commission. Bob Anderson, R. Miller and Wallace Reilly, after opposition to Reilly, former executive secretary of the Texas State Labor federation, was the cause, as there is no opposition to either Anderson or Miller. The fight on Reilly is led by Weaver Moore, of Houston, and Clint Hall of Amarillo, who contend Reilly, thru his organized labor support, tried to defeat them for reelection last summer, because of their failure to support legislation Reilly and the unions favored. They have been joined by anti-labor members of the senate, who dislike Reilly because of his vigorous support to that end, and at the weekend, the situation looked serious for Reilly's confirmation. If he should get confirmation, Reilly would resign an embarrassing position, as he resigned his labor federation job to take the commission post offered by Gov. Allred, and he would be "out in the cold" if the state rejected him.

TRUCK LOBBY HITS SNAG

The active lobby which is sponsoring amendment to present state laws to raise the load limit and permit huge trucks to ply the highways with loads far in excess of the present 7000 pound limit, and to remove certain trucks owned by private mercantile establishments from regulation as common carriers, has run into a chain of circumstances that appears to have hampered their program seriously. Instead of liberalizing the truck laws, they may find the legislature disposed to tighten up substantially the present restrictions. A wave of public sentiment throughout Texas is reported by many legislators, demanding safety measures to put an end to the slaughter and maiming of citizens on the highways. Gov. Allred lent the weight of his office to this effort, when he recommended doubling the state highway patrol and other specific remedies. Safety councils, chambers of commerce, newspapers and other organizations are demanding rational amendments to the drivers license law. Armed with figures from the state bureau of vital statistics, showing that, based on their relative numbers, trucks kill twice as many people as passenger cars, the safety advocates are centering their fire on trucks as the greatest menace on the highways. They are also demanding that a reasonable fee be charged for issuance of drivers licenses, on the theory that if the motorist must pay for the privilege of driving, he will value that privilege and seek to keep it. The present drivers' license, issued free and without restriction, has proved chiefly useful for identifying the dead and dying motorists after wrecks. Those who would make the right to drive a car in Texas a privilege point out that revenue from licenses would finance additional highway patrolmen, and other safety measures. Gov. Allred has a personal, as well as an official interest, since it was a privately operated truck which killed his sister in an East Texas wreck last summer. With an aroused public sentiment that is pouring letters in to legislators, and bringing other pressure to bear in behalf of tightened restrictions.

ANOTHER SQUABBLE

Interest of sportsmen centered this week in the row on the game, fish and oyster commission, which by a 3 to 2 vote, asked the resignation of Will J. Tucker, executive secretary for the past 10 years. Jack O'Brien, San Antonio, Mrs. Hal Peck of Amarillo, and Chairman Jess Showers of Vernon voted to remove Tucker. Gus Schreiner of Kerrville, and C. G. Pillot of Houston opposed the action, and Caesar Kelburg of Kingsville was absent. Question as to the legality of the action has been raised. Whatever its outcome, the row has had an adverse effect on legislation sought by the hunting and fishing license laws, and a law to give the commission more authority in control of hunting certain migratory game. Terms of Schreiner and Kleberg expire soon and the action of Gov. Allred in reappointing them, or appointing their successors, may clarify the present bad situation.

BIBLE TO COACH

Friends of Texas U. football hailed with joy the signing of a 10 - year contract with Dana X. Bible, former A. and M. head coach, and later head mentor at Nebraska for eight seasons, as head man of Longhorn gridiron activity. They pointed out Texas U. will now be able to attract its share of promising high school stars, with assurance they will be able to play under an able coach, whose continuous tenure is assured long enough for pupils to learn his system, and build read football careers. Bible's salary, reported as $15,000 annually, drew some opposition from President Benedict and faculty members, who aren't paid nearly so much, but everybody agreed harmoniously in the end.

ranchers in their fight to eradicate bitterweed from the ranges. "As you indicate," Secretary Wallace said in his letter to Congressman Thomason, "the weed does offer a serious problem. The Texas Agriculture Experiment Station, through its branch station at Sonora, has experimented with bitterweed control, the result being published in Texas Bulletin No. 464. The Bureau of Animal Industry of this Department also has conducted studies of the poisoning of sheep by this plant, results of which were published in the Journal of Agriculture Research.

Blames Over-Grazing

"The bitterweed plant occurs from central Kansas south and west into southern California, but we do not have a record of complaints concerning it from any area except southwest Texas. The difficulty seems to be definitely tied up with over-grazing. The plant has an obnoxious flavor and sheep reject it when other feed is available. Poisoning begins to occur in December or January during the period when grass is least abundant and when the bitterweed is greater in amount. If some way could be found to reduce the number of bitterweed plants during the period from December to March or April, it seems likely that there would be small losses from poisoning.

"The work of the Texas Station indicates that the weed can be eradicated by spraying with sodium chlorate solution during periods of damp weather. Spraying is not successful when the weather is dry, nor have other chemicals such as sulphuric acid or petroleum oils been found satisfactory. Spraying in itself, however, is an expensive proposition, and obviously could be used only for destroying concentrated masses of the bitterweed in relatively small areas and would be out of the question in treating large areas or for destroying scattered plants on the range.

"Workers of the Texas Station suggest that concentrated areas be destroyed by spraying and hand pulling, and scattered areas by hand pulling and adjusting the grazing to give grass an opportunity for greater growth. It has not been proven that when grazing is adjusted the grass will replace the bitterweed but it is quite evident that when over-grazing has been practiced the amount of bitterweed tends to increase. In view of the fact that the weed is so widely distributed and that its control is so intimately tied up with range management it seems to us that eradication is not a practicable undertaking.

"While the Department is entirely sympathetic, we could not consistently recommend an appropriation for eradication purposes. Even though the weed could be removed from certain areas, its wide general distribution would probably mean its reappearance in these areas without proper grazing management, and apparently there is not now information indicating just what such a management system should entail to insure its entire success.

"We note your suggestion that a representative of the Department be sent to investigate the bitterweed situation in western Texas. We have had this in mind for some time and it is possible that we may be able to do this in the near future." Sincerely yours,

H. A. Wallace, Secretary.

IN TRUCK LEGISLATION

Any change in existing Texas truck laws which will increase the present 7,000-pound load limit will affect adversely all communities in the state, both rural and urban. This statement is proved best by identifying the causes and effects upon Texas communities.

These are:

1. Increasing truck loads mean correspondingly increasing the distance which the truck can profitably carry its load.
2. Increasing the distance of profitable truck haul means bringing the small town wholesale houses and industrial plants, such as wholesale grocers, bottling plants, feed mills, oil mills, grain elevators, cotton compresses and retail lumber yards, into direct competition with similar establishments in large cities.
3. Such competition will inevitably result in further drying up the small country towns by taking from them the payrolls, taxes and local purchases represented by their present establishments. Property values, both residential and commercial, will decline; volume of retail sales will grow smaller and former employees will migrate to the cities to reinforce the ranks of the unemployed and the bread lines.

4. Large cities, at first stimulated by increased trade territories, bought at the expense of the country towns, will be ultimately affected adversely because of the resulting unhealthy condition of the rural communities forming the trade territories.

5. Because of the consequent shrinkage of the state's tax revenues from country towns, taxes from the cities will have to be increased correspondingly.

6. The lower truck load limit of Texas now has the effect of acting as a barrier at Texas borders to the movement of the larger truck loads carrying merchandise from the metropolitan and producing centers of other states. Any increase in Texas truck load limits will break down that barrier and permit the free truck movement into the state of many commodities which unquestionably would be sold directly to the retailers, thus destroying, in a large measure, the business of wholesalers and jobbers now located in Texas cities.

Conditions which affect adversely the well-being of Texas communities also affect Texas railroads in identical manner and degree.
