Tennis Courts Being Fitted Out By School

Double Courts Constructed For Use Students And Public

Double tennis courts are under construction on public school property here on the area lying north of the kindergarten. Work of making the fill preparatory to laying a surface of caliche started recently, and the courts are expected to be completed and ready for play within next month.

The fill is being made with surplus dirt from the WPA street paving program now under way in Ozona. Superintendent C. S. Ham said. This dirt is being hauled without charge to the school. With this assistance from WPA project, it is estimated that two courts, complete with bleachers, can be constructed for less than $200.

The first fill is to be leveled and rolled with county machinery, after which a three-inch surface treatment will be applied. This wet and rolled to complete a hard surface. Double courts are being constructed at each end of the courts, twelve feet in height and covered with a mesh net wire.

The tennis courts are for the use of both the student body and general public, the superintendent said. Students are to be given preference during school hours and after school on other days, but at other times, the courts will be open to use of the general public.

Car Stolen From Mrs. Warren Clayton Is Reported Found

The car was stolen while Mrs. Clayton was on a visit with relatives in San Angelo. She received word yesterday that the car had been found, but full details were not given. Mrs. Clayton was advised that the car was locked and apparently was not materially damaged. It was understood officers were searching for a man and woman believed to have been driving the car. Mrs. Clayton expected return of the car today or tomorrow.

Skeletal Remains Of Prehistoric Horses Being Excavated In Panhandle Of Texas

Plains Area Yields Specimens Of Strange Animals Extinct Over Million Years

San Antonio, March 3—Misfortune which directed the hoover of tiny giant-headed horses into the treacherous quicksands of the Texas Panhandle more than a million years ago is now being hailed by Dr. C. Stuart Johnston, West Texas State Teachers College paleontologist, as good fortune for science.

Supervising a small band of WPA workmen, Dr. Johnston is discovering that the long-dried quicksand beds have preserved skeletal remains of the extinct horses in almost perfect condition. The prehistoric animal is described by Dr. Johnston as being slightly smaller than the modern pony but with a head as large as that of the average draft horse.

The WPA workers are excavating and helping to reconstruct a veritable menagerie of strange and extinct animals which once roamed the western plains of Texas. For several decades the rich fossil beds of West Texas have been combed for scientifically significant deposits by representatives of out-of-state museums and scientific institutions. Dr. Johnston said. With the provision of federal funds it has been possible to employ workers and researchers to excavate Texas fossils for Texas institutions. Reconstructed skeletons of prehistoric animals are being placed in the Panhandle Plains Museum on the WTSTC campus at Canyon.

HIP BOOTS FOR WEST TEXAS OIL DRILLING CREW

Superior Rig Builders Unload Half Truckful On Site Of Crockett Deep Test

Being prepared for any eventuality is the long suit of oil field workers, and no doubt has saved them much discomfort. But members of the rig building crew now engaged in constructing the tower and making other preparations for spudding the Superior company's deep test on Todd ranch near here carried preparedness a bit too far when they came to the Crockett County job with a half truck load of hip boots among their accoutrements.

The crew is fresh from a stay in the swamp region of Louisiana, which accounts for inclusion of such equipage, and members of the crew are probably already aware of the fact that transportation of the "rubbers" to this section was a long haul of dead weight. It hasn't so much as showered since they came, nor for a long time before.

Rig Building Under Way On Todd Deep Test

Cellar Near Completion; May Spud In Next 2 Weeks

A rig building crew is at work this week on the site of the Superior Oil Company's deep test to be spudded in the next two weeks on the J. S. Todd ranch northwest of Ozona. The crew, comprising about twenty-five workers, has completed digging cellar and has poured much of the concrete foundation and walls. Erection of the 125 foot steel tower is expected to begin in the next few days.

The Superior deep test is located in the center of the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 55, block UV, G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co. survey. The test is scheduled to go 7,500 feet if necessary seeking production from the Ordovician structure.

The drilling crew is expected to move in to the site in about a week to spud in the well. The well will probably be spudded with a standard rig, which will be replaced with a big rotary outfit similar to that used on the Stanlind Todd test nearby.

Mrs. Warren Clayton returned Saturday from an extended visit with relatives and friends in San Angelo.

Driver Of Fence Breaking Car Is Object Of Search

Car Crashes Thru Ball Park Fence And Into Iron Goal Post

Local officers are searching for the driver and occupants of a car which some time Saturday crashed through the strong wire fence surrounding the Powell athletic field, snapping off two big cedar posts, cutting the net wire and folding one of the iron goal posts set in the ground at the north end of the football field.

The car was said to have been traveling south on the newly graveled street which comes to an end at the north fence of the athletic field. Evidently traveling at such speed that the driver was unable to make the right angle turn necessary at the intersection, the car crashed through the fence and ploughed into the iron goal post.

The car is said to have been occupied by several Mexicans, none of whom were hurt. The car itself was not seriously damaged, it was declared.

Sonora Names Group To Judge Merits Of 'Advertising' Plans

Effort To Uncover "Skin" Games Often Worked On Small Town Firms

"Give Sonora a wide berth; they don't 'fall' for a scheme like ours in that town."

That is to be the impression which the Sonora Lions Club hopes to instill in the minds of the hundreds of sellers of worthless schemes of this sort who travel over West Texas and other parts of the country, "merchandising" them in the guise of "advertising".

At the Lions Club luncheon Tuesday noon a lengthy discussion of the problems of this sort which beset Sutton county business men was the chief portion of the program. W. J. Fields, Jr., vice president, was in charge of the meeting.

George E. Smith, city manager, was named chairman of a secret committee of four to pass upon all such solicitation of business firms by out-of-town individuals.

Business men of Sutton county are to be urged to ask solicitors if their plan has been presented to this group of men. If it meets with the approval of the committee a letter stating that fact will be sent.

Permian Entry Doubtful, Berth In Concho Circuit Talked

Doubt was expressed here this week by leaders of last year's Ozona entry in the Permian Basin baseball league that this city would be represented in the coming league conference slated for Sunday in Crane. The meeting was called by Fred Haddock, secretary treasurer of the league, at the request of League President Bill Collins, and is to be held at Recreation Hall, Gulf Camp, in Crane, starting at 2 p. m.

Financial difficulties encountered by the local entry last year has resulted in a sort of "hands off" policy on the part of last year's club officials. If Ozona is to organize and support a team in the 1937 season, the impetus must come from the fans themselves, George Russell, 1936 club president, has declared.

The general opinion among local Giant boosters is that the Permian Basin league, composed for the most part of oil company-backed teams, is a too expensive circuit for the city to join. If the Giants are to take part in any organized league, the logical one would be the Concho Basin league recently organized for the new season with a starting line-up of four teams, a majority of local fans declare.

Nucleus Ready

With only a bare shadow of last year's runner-up Giants available for this year, considerable recruiting would be necessary to assemble a club to go even in a league as slow as the Concho Basin. But with such mainstays as Byron Stuart, Carl Dorley, Wallace Myers, and Bob Weaver of last year's regulars, and Red Greer and Frank Russell, with possibly Vic Montgomery later in the season, a good start is already assured. With these big guns in the line-up with one of the number as manager, a brace of pitchers and two or three additional players, the Giants would set the pace in the Concho League, and nobody is more convinced of that than those who echo the yelp from the recent Concho loop meeting that Ozona is afraid of Sonora Station A team and thus is shying off the circuit.

Conley Cox, shortstop on last year's Giant nine, will report this month to the San Antonio Missions of the Texas League for a try-out, and can not be counted on for service with the local team in a 1937 campaign. Some additional talent might be discovered among the crews of road workers and oil well drilling crews now stationed here, which would be a help in keeping operating costs down.

Fire Department Answers Call To Blaze Next Door

Slight Damage Results From Flames In Ozona Hotel

Ozona's fire department made something of a record run Sunday afternoon when it answered the second fire call in less than a week's time.

Sunday's fire didn't exactly come to the fire department, but was just next door to the station, located at the North Motor Co. The blaze was discovered in the Ozona Hotel, presumably caused by defective flue. The blaze was quickly extinguished with only slight damage to the structure.

A similar fire Tuesday at the Britt Williams home west of the draw, ignited by a faulty flue, was extinguished with only slight damage.

"SOGGY SENTIMENTALITY"

"In former days it was supposed to be a cardinal virtue in a public man to prevent waste of the public funds," writes Frank Kent, "Today he is treated as something reprehensible... That such a state of affairs can exist without public concern is the best evidence of the degree to which the popular mind has been anesthetized by soggy sentimentality..."

Emergency spending, taxes and the national debt have marched inexorably to new high records. The magnitude of this spending has given the average citizen an entirely false idea of economic values. Where, a generation ago, we regarded a million dollars as a lot of money, we now read about billions with little or no thought. Where once the country was stirred by the rise of the Federal debt to the billion mark, we today view a Federal debt of thirty-five billions with equanimity. Where a single Congress that a generation ago appropriated as much as a billion dollars for a year's Federal spending was once denounced for extravagance, we now take a ten-billion dollar congress for granted.

Whether this is due to "soggy sentimentality" or something else, it is obvious that the public mind has become anesthetized—it fails to see its place in the debt and tax picture. It is almost incredible that we should permit the central government to spend two dollars for every dollar taken in—but we do, with the apparent idea that someone besides ourselves will pay. It is equally incredible that the pre-election promises of "economy," of a thousand officeholders should be openly and even proudly violated—but they are.

When will the American people come out of the ether, and realize that they are the ones who must pay the tax and debt load? The government has no way to pay its bills except by taking hard-earned money away from all the people through taxation.—Ex.

FLOWERS FOR TEXAS SENATE

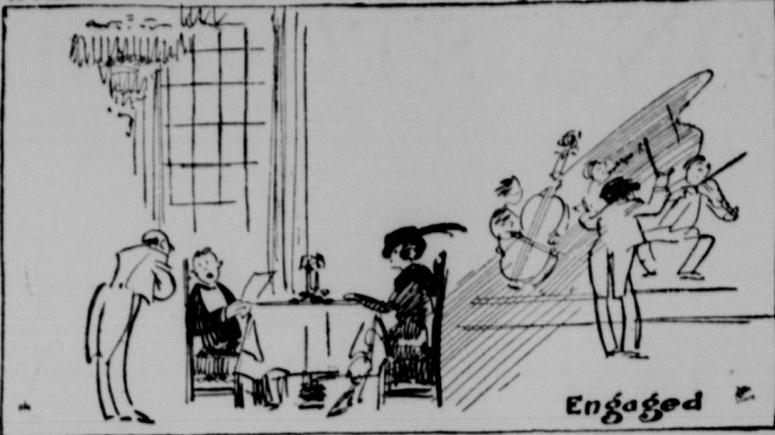

The Texas Senate once again has turned thumbs down on the so-called child labor amendment to the federal constitution. The Texas Senate also adopted a resolution condemning President Roosevelt's proposal to pack the United States Supreme Court with judges who would see eye to eye with him on some of the radical

New Deal measures he advocates and thus give him undisputed control over the last governmental power that stands between the American people and a one-man government—a dictatorship they call it when it's east of the Atlantic.

The Texas Senate should be loudly applauded by the people of Texas for these two actions. The child labor amendment, another proposal, like the president's court reform move, that is an attempt to do one thing by subterfuge while proclaiming to seek accomplishment of another and more laudable aim, is just another step toward destruction of the last vestige of local self government for the people of the United States. It places in the hands of the federal government control of the children of free Americans from the cradle to manhood with no safeguards to prevent even the forcible taking of children from homes of their parents and rearing them in community houses. Sovereign states should never delegate such powers to their central government, even if the president and all members of his family are conducting a systematic campaign for its adoption by the several states. More especially so where that president is as patently desirous of personal power as Mr. Roosevelt apparently is. For those who hold this view of the two actions by the Texas Senate, there was no little disappointment in the absence of the name of our own senator, H. C. Winfield of Fort Stockton, from the list of names of nineteen senators who voted against ratification of the child labor amendment as quoted in press dispatches of the day. Senator Winfield was not listed as voting for ratification but was not in the group of opposing senators in the press dispatch we read.

The Medicine Man

—: Yesterday :—

In dim primeval forests, besides great lakes or babbling brooks, at the foot of purple shadowed hills, around flaming campfires—every American Indian tribe had its Medicine Man. He claimed supernatural powers, practiced with charms and fetiches, chanted, prayed, and dispensed medicines—mostly herbs in the form of decorations, ointments, plasters, liniments.

—: Today :—

How different are the practices of the Medicine Man today! How fortunate are we of this enlightened age. Our pharmacists study under similar circumstances the action, appearance, dose, care and compounding of drugs and other agents which the physician prescribes. Neither physician nor pharmacist practice the hit-or-miss method — and neither should you. Don't practice self-treatment. Go to your doctor for periodical health examinations, abide by his advice, and take his prescriptions to your pharmacist.

News Bureau
Texas State College for Women

Denton, March 3—Texans can justly boast of the size of their state and the hospitality of the people. They can speak with pride of their industries—of oil, cotton, and cattle. And they could—though seldom do—do a little exulting over the higher educational facilities which reach into every corner of the state's vast area.

No section of Texas is beyond the reach of some of the higher educational institutions. There are 116 colleges, universities, and academies in the state, 71 of which are fully accredited.

In the accredited schools, there are 51,950 students enrolled, and the unaccredited institutions claim 11,320, making a total of 63,270 young men and women registered in Texas schools of higher learning. The enrollment in a single school varies from 90 to more than 8,000.

The state supports 16 colleges and universities. Largest of the state schools is the University of Texas at Austin with more than 6,000 students in its regular session. Following the University in size are A. & M. at College Station, Texas Technological at Lubbock, and Texas State College for Women at Denton. This latter school being the largest standard college for women in the United States.

Within the state's borders are 33 denominational schools, 4 private schools, and 18 municipal schools. Junior colleges number 14, and they are topped by 36 four-year schools. There are 61 accredited coeducational schools in the state, 6 women's colleges, 3 men's colleges, 7 teacher's colleges, 2 medical colleges, and 2 theological seminaries. Texas also provides for the education of negroes, with four negro colleges enrolling approximately 5,000.

A company of colored recruits had received an announcement they would drill on the morrow on how to attack a fortification.

When the company had been dismissed, a big, awkward private approached the corporal in charge of his squad and asked: "What am I a fortification?"

The corporal seemed to swell with contempt at such ignorance, "Fortification ain't nuthin' mor'n two twentifications."

Denton, March 3 — Small portions of many common, inexpensive foods, left-overs from the last two or three meals, may be so combined and treated as to produce most acceptable dishes in appearance, in flavor, and in nutritive properties. Cold vegetables are an unlimited basis for many appetizing salads, and many housewives depend almost altogether upon yesterday's vegetables for today's salad.

Meat Balls: Mix 2 c. ground cooked meat (may be both pork and beef), 1 c. bread crumbs, 1 tsp. salt, 2 c. cold mashed potatoes, 2 eggs, 1 sweet green pepper and season with chopped parsley and onion and pepper to taste. Form into cakes. Sear over in a little fat. Pour Spanish sauce over cakes and simmer gently for thirty minutes.

Spanish Sauce: Fry 1 small onion chopped fine in 2 T. fat. Add 2 c. canned tomatoes, 2 tsp. chili powder and ½ t. salt. Let simmer until slightly thickened.

Casserole of Vegetables: Arrange in a glass baking dish, a layer of cooked potatoes, diced, a layer of cooked peas, a layer of cooked carrots, diced, and a layer of stewed celery. Pour over these a sauce: melt 2 T. butter; add 2 T. flour and ½ t. salt; mix well and add 2 c. milk. Bring to a boil and let thicken slightly. Cover with a layer of buttered crumbs and place in a moderate oven to brown.

Stale Cake with Custard Sauce: Place stale cake in cover pan and reheat to freshen. Cut into squares. Serve with sauce.

Custard Sauce: Scald 1 pt. of milk in a double boiler. Beat 2 egg yolks and 1 whole egg; add one third c. sugar and ½ t. salt and mix well. Gradually add the scalded milk to the egg mixture. Mix well and cook in double boiler until the mixture coats the spoon.

Bean Loaf: 2 c. dried lima beans, 1 c. dry bread crumbs, 4 T. peanut butter, 1 T. bacon fat, 2 T. grated onion, 2 t. salt, ¼ t. pepper, 1 c. rice stock or other liquid, and 1 T. celery leaves or seed. Wash, soak, and cook beans 45 to 60 minutes. Drain; when cool, chop coarsely and add crumbs and all other ingredients. Put into greased bread pan and bake in a moderate oven 30 minutes.

Meat and Potato Salad: ½ c. cooked meat cut fine, 1½ c. cooked potatoes cut fine, ½ c. celery cut fine, ½ t. salt, 2 T. finely chopped pickle, and salad dressing. Mix in order given, cover with dressing, and garnish with sliced pickles and celery tops. White cabbage may be used in place of celery.

Enjoy Waterless Cookery With The Modern Electric Range

It reduces time of cooking . . . cost of operation . . . and more important, preserves the health-giving value of foods

● Imagine cooking ten pounds of potatoes in only one cup of water. That is all it requires if you cook electrically. Fresh carrots, beans, peas and many other vegetables cooked on a modern electric range do not need to be drowned in a fathom of water to cook them tender—thoroughly.

● Waterless cookery gives you nutritious, full-flavored food with all of its vitamins and mineral elements preserved — not poured down the kitchen sink due to cooking in an excess of water.

● Enjoy waterless cookery in your own home on the most modern range in the history of civilization. Its amazing speed, cleanliness, safety and consistently better results have captured the imagination of West Texas women.

The cleanliness of the electric range has forever banished "hand-biding" for hundreds of West Texas women—only one of the score of its modern features.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q How did the Llano Estacado or Staked Plains derive the name?
 A. Despite the fact that several legends have been accepted by different historians, it is altogether probable that the region was so named because of the "palisade", "barricade", or "estacado" effect of the escarpment at the edge of the plain.

Q. What three expositions, international in character, are being planned to run simultaneously in Texas in 1937?

A. Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition, at Dallas, a continuation of the Texas Centennial of 1936; Southwestern Frontier Exposition, at Fort Worth, succeeding the Texas Frontier Centennial of 1936; and the International Oil Exposition, at Houston, for which a $1,500 exposition hall is being constructed.

Q. What was the first county seat of Brazos county?

A. Boonville, about 16 miles from the present town of Millican. When Bryan was made the county seat, Boonville soon went into decay.

When, where and by whom was the Northern Standard established?

She did not know that Miss Blank, who was her daughter's teacher last year, got married last summer.

She did not know that one of her former neighbors and good friends was in the hospital, and so did not go to see her.

She did not know about the special program at the church because nobody thought to tell her about it.

She did not go to the club meeting because she did not know that the day of meeting had been changed.

She missed the grocery sale, because she did not hear about it until it was all over, and she could have saved enough right there on every day needs, to have paid for having The Stockman delivered to her home a whole year. Austin—A militant delegation from West Texas, with fire in their eyes, brought a sharp crisis to Austin this week. They came to protest against what they claim is rank discrimination by the major oil companies against West Texas oil, in fixing purchase prices. They assert there is as much as 40 per cent discrimination against their oil, as compared with the East Texas product, and they brought an expert, Dr. W. L. Nelson, of Tulsa university, who stated figures to prove just what comes out of a barrel of West Texas crude, what those products sell for, and why a 12-cent increase in the posted price in East Texas ought to bring more than a nickel a barrel up in the West Texas price. The major oil companies, obviously perturbed by the matter, asked the point investigating committee for time to analyze the situation, and the hearing was resumed March 9.

The truth is the oil companies are extremely anxious to settle this matter without too much publicity, because of two good reasons. First, the University of Texas is largely interested, owning much of the oil-producing West Texas land, and everybody in Austin knows it is bad luck to get the university crowd" out after your scalp. The university has many powerful friends in high places, and if they get the idea somebody is gyping the university, they can and will make plenty of trouble, political and otherwise. The other reason is some very good lawyers have expressed the opinion the university and other land-owners might instigate a lawsuit to recover millions in back royalty, if they can prove discrimination in the posted price. Whether they could win such a suit or not, it is one no major company wants to be mixed up in. So the chances are an amicable adjustment in the price of West Texas oil will be worked out in the near future.

Scenes and Persons in the Current News

Walton Moore, assistant secretary of state as the senate foreign relations committee plans neutrality legislation. 2—Workmen punch the time clock in General Motors plants as post-strike auto production mounts. 3—Dr. Charles Seymour, newly elected president of Yale university, who will succeed Dr. James Rowland Angell at the end of 1937.

SAFETY LAWS IN SPOTLIGHT

Highway safety legislation took the spotlight in Austin again, as a house committee definitely turned down the plea of truck operators to double the present 7000-pound load limit on trucks. There were enough votes in committee to bring out a majority report, but observers here felt the chance of filling the highways with huge trucks again was pretty slim, in view of the adverse committee recommendation.

Meanwhile, a favorable report was brought out of a senate committee on a bill to permit merchants and manufacturers operating their own trucks to deliver their own products, but charging a delivery fee, to avoid regulation as common carriers. But Clint Small put on an amendment limiting the drivers of such trucks to 10 hours service daily—which the safety folks claim would be a big factor in reducing the highway hazards created by drivers of such trucks who now work as high as 16 to 20 hours continuously, out of 24.

The house registered its strong approval of safety plans by passing to engrossment a greatly strengthened drivers' license bill, requiring license-holders to prove their ability to drive, and carrying other important provisions of the uniform national drivers' license law.

ALL-CHAIRMAN SESSION

Judge R. L. Bobbit, new highway commission chairman, officially began his duties as a highway contract letting session here, sitting with Harry Hines and John Wood, both former commission chairmen. Hines was late to the meeting, and didn't get to introduce the new chairman, but Wood gracefully did the honors. All the members pledged co-operation and it looks like the era of bickering and political checker-playing in the highway department resulting from a divided commission, will be succeeded by a period of goodwill and efficiency, under Judge Bobbit's able leadership.

UTILITY PROBLEM UP

The perennial problem of regulating public utilities was again in the forefront, with the usual difference of opinion among those affected as how best to do the job. With the federal government making it possible for cities to obtain substantial grants to build their own power plants, many legislators lean now to the belief that such open competition results in lower rates than an state-regulated monopoly granted to the private power interests might obtain. The power representatives are citing some rather convincing figures, compiled by the federal power commission, showing the average price for 40 kilowatt hours of energy in 40 Texas cities with many plants is $3.45, and the average price of the same amount of current in all Texas towns over 1000 population privately served is $2.60.

Then, too, there arises the old objection of larger cities, who now regulate their own utilities, and don't want to relinquish the power to do so to a state commission. The house passed the Tennyson bill, extending this regulatory power to cities under 2000. The house corporations committee has favorably reported a substitute bill which provides for a dual system of regulation by cities, with reviewing power granted to a state commission, and it appears if any utility bill is passed, it will be something on this order, rather than a general transfer of the sole regulating power to the state. Mayors of several Texas cities who have appeared here have been emphatic on this point.

The house exhibited a not unfriendly spirit toward the utilities when its corporations committee turned down a bill that would have prohibited the utilities from selling appliances.

CHILD LABOR ACT DEAD

Nineteen senators voted "No" on the resolution to ratify the federal child labor amendment, thus killing it for this session, and preventing the necessity of the house voting on the question. Voting "No" were Aiken, Beck, Burns, Cattle, Cotton, Davis, Head, Holcomb, Isbell, Moore, Neal, Newcomb, O'Neal, Redditt, Roberts, Sulak, Weinert and Woodruff. Albert Stone was paired against with Vernon Lemens for.

Miss Esther Kate Pierce And Dempster Jones United In Marriage Saturday In Impressive Rites At Methodist Church

Young Couple To Make Home On Ranch After Mexico Honeymoon

Before a flower banked altar at the Ozona Methodist Church, Miss Esther Kate Pierce became the bride of Dempster Jones at a beautiful ceremony at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe S. Pierce, Jr. and the groom, a young Crockett County rancher, is a son of Mrs. W. D. Jones of San Angelo.

The nuptial rites were performed by the Rev. L. U. Spellman, presiding elder of the San Angelo district, in the presence of hundreds of friends of the young couple who crowded the church for the ceremony. Palms and ferns, flanked by baskets of gladioli, and candelabra in which yellow cathedral tapers burned, formed the altar decorations.

As pre-nuptial music, Mrs. Earle Chandler, a cousin of the bride, sang "All For You" and "I Love You Truly," Mrs. V. I. Pierce accompanying her at the piano.

Mrs. Joe Sellers Pierce 3rd, matron of honor, Miss Vicky Pierce, maid of honor, and Mrs. James Baggett and Mrs. Miller Robison, bridesmaids, and Mary Alyce Smith, junior bridesmaid, wore frocks fashioned alike of net over taffeta. The full skirts and puff sleeves were covered in ruffles. Outlining the pointed necklines were frills of net. Pastel shades, including orchid, pink, blue, yellow and green, were used in the gowns of the bride's attendants. Bridesmaids carried arm bouquets of pink gladioli while Mrs. Pierce 3rd carried yellow roses and Miss Pierce, jonquils. They wore clusters of the flowers in their hair.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a dress of ivory satin, designed in the princess mode, with a soft draped neckline. At the back of the bodice were tiny satin-covered buttons, and the sleeves were full at the shoulders and fitted from the elbow to the wrist. Folds of the skirt extended into a demitrain. The bridal veil was of Belgian lace and was held to the head by a circlet of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of calla lillies.

Ralph Jones, a brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Foster Rust of San Angelo, William Allison of Sonora, Joe Sellers Pierce, 3rd, Jake Miller, James Baggett, Sid Millsbaugh, Jr., and Rip Ward of Sonora were ushers.

The bride's parents entertained with a reception at their home for the bridal party and friends of the young couple immediately after the ceremony.

Receiving with the bride and bridegroom and her parents were the bridegroom's mother and members of the wedding party. Baskets of gladioli were arranged before the mantel in the living room.

Centering the bride's table, on which the cake was placed, was a large crystal bowl of white roses. The cake was decorated with sugar spun flowers topped with a sheaf of orange blossoms. After the cake was cut, it was served by Mrs. Fred Deaton, Mrs. John Henderson, Mrs. Tom Smith, and Mrs. Monroe Baggett.

Presiding at the coffee service were Mrs. Jack Ransom of San Angelo, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Ralph Jones. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Sherman Taylor, Mrs. Wayne West, Mrs. Early Baggett, and Mrs. Victor Pierce.

The bride, a graduate of Ozona High School, is a former student of Gulf Park College, Gulfport, Miss., and Southern Methodist University. Mr. Jones attended Schreiner Institute and Oklahoma University.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones left after the reception for Monterrey, Mexico, and will be at home on their ranch, 11 miles east of here, upon their return. The bride traveled in a navy blue wool suit trimmed with a silver fox collar. Her accessories were gray.

Dempster Jones is having his ranch home east of Ozona completely remodeled.

Hearty Welcome Is Given First Rain Here Since Fall

Rain this morning brought new hope to the ranching area of this section. Although amounting to little more than a shower in most areas, the moisture, being the first of any consequence since fall, was most welcome for whatever start it may give to Spring growth of grass and weeds.

Telephone reports from ranches of the county indicated the showers and drizzle amounted to approximately the same as that in Ozona. However, heavier falls were reported toward Barnhart.
