Postpone Revival Due To Illness Of Dr. Grady Timmons

Methodist Meeting To Be Set For New Date In January

Sudden illness of Dr. Grady Timmons, pastor of the Parks Heights Methodist Church in San Antonio, resulted in last-minute postponement of the scheduled revival meeting at the Methodist Church here this week.

The meeting was to have opened with services Monday evening. Dr. Timmons was seized with a severe attack of the flu following services Sunday morning in his church and Rev. Eugene Slater, pastor of the Ozona church, was notified of his condition. At a meeting of the church board, it was decided to postpone the meeting until a new date can be arranged, possibly sometime in January, when Dr. Timmons will be available.

Dr. L. U. Spellman, presiding elder of the district, will preach at the morning hour Sunday. The church's quarterly conference will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

De Luxe And Standard Lines Shown Over U. S. Today

Ford V-type 8-cylinder cars for 1938 go on display today in Ford dealer showrooms throughout the United States. They are offered this year as two distinct lines, differing in appearance and price. Both are in the lowest price field.

One is a newly-styled standard Ford line, in coupe, Tudor and Fordor body types, powered either with the 85 or the 60 horsepower V-8 engine. Mexican Sentenced Here, Pardoned, Is Again Facing Term

Man Allred Said "Rail- roaded" Gets 7 Years In San Angelo

Joe Rodriguez, whom Governor James V. Allred once pardoned from the state penitentiary on a two-year sentence from Crockett County on the grounds that the Mexican labor agitator had been "railroaded" from this county, is again afool of the law and once again is in dire need of a little skillful labor whip-cracking over the heads of politicians.

Rodriguez faces a 7-year sentence handed out by a jury in 51st District Court in San Angelo recently on a charge of assault with intent to murder on Fred Martinez. Martinez suffered knife wounds in an altercation with Rodriguez, the latter pleading self defense.

Rodriguez also faces another assault charge in connection with the alleged shooting of another Mexican by the same name in San Angelo. This altercation is said to have taken place the day before the sentence was passed by the district court jury on the previous charge.

Rodriguez was sentenced to two years by a Crockett County jury on his conviction on a charge of perjury. He was charged with false testimony in connection with interrogation concerning his alleged activities among Mexicans of the local settlement with a view to obstructing justice. He was alleged at the time to have advised Mexicans summoned to testify in a case then before the court that they fail to appear as summoned. Governor Allred, after his ill-advised indictment of members of the Crockett County jury which sentenced the Mexican, ordered the term "railroaded" and its odious references stricken from records of the pardon proclamation.

Mexican Charged In Beating, Chaining Of Brother's Children

Girl And Boy Placed In Kinder Hands As Man Released With Nominal Fine

Manuel Lopez, Mexican pear cutter employed with a crew on the Ralph Jones ranch, was released with payment of a nominal fine assessed in justice court early this week following his arrest in connection with the cruel beating of two children in his custody. Lopez spent several days in jail before his release.

The two children, a girl and boy, children of Lopez' brother, showed marks from severe beatings which they charged their uncle had administered. A pair of home-made handcuffs fashioned from leather straps wired together, and a heavy trace chain, were found in the Mexican's quarters, alleged to have been used by him in chaining the children, one 11 and the other 12, to the bed at night, and for trussing them up during the administration of the beatings.

The children were taken from their uncle, the girl being sent to a sister in San Angelo and the boy being given a home and employment by Joe Pierce on the ranch. Mr. Pierce outfitted the lad with clothing and took together, and a heavy chain, him to the ranch, where he will have a home.

HUGE BOULDER CRUSHES LIFE FROM MEXICAN

Unusual Accident Re- sults In Death Of Isidoro Martinez

POKING FOR COON

Six-Ton Rock Dislodged, Rolls On Man's Body As Boys Look On

A huge boulder, dislodged from its precarious footing near the top of a canyon wall on the J. W. Henderson ranch, Monday afternoon crushed the life from Isidoro Martinez, about 25, young Ozona Mexican employed in a prickly pear cutting crew at work on the Henderson ranch.

Poking at a coon which he and two companions saw dart under the rocks, Martinez in some manner dislodged the meager support that held the big boulder on its perch. The rock, estimated to weigh in excess of six tons, rolled over once, pinning the man's body to the ground.

Two young Mexican companions of Martinez recounted details of the horrible tragedy, which they witnessed, to officers called to conduct an inquest. The two boys, both in the teen age, were above the rocks and Martinez lay down on the ground to attempt to rout the coon from his sanctuary among the boulders.

As the big boulder rolled over on Martinez, he screamed, the boys said. The full weight of the stone was held off the man's body momentarily by stumps and brush on which it fell. He told the youngsters to hurry to get help in removing the rock, but he could speak but a few words more, before the huge boulder settled and the life was crushed out instantly.

When Sheriff W. S. Willis, Deputy Clint Hamer and Justice of the Peace J. T. Glover reached the scene, the rock still rested on the body. Pinch bars were brought and the combined strength of a dozen men, using the pinchbars, was required to roll the rock off the man's body and into the canyon. The boulder landed squarely on Martinez' body just back of the head and was long enough to reach almost to the feet, about three feet in thickness.

The body was brought here for burial Monday afternoon, from the Joe Oberkamp funeral parlors.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Austin and children of Fort Worth were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kersey during the holidays. They also spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bailey on their ranch near Iraan.

Scenes and Persons in the Current News

1-Ray Hanson of Minnesota, newly crowned national corn-husking champion, shows how he husked 21.3 bushels of corn in 1 hour and 20 minutes at the national contest at Marshall, Mo. 2-King Carol of Rumania bestows a fatherly kiss on his sixteen-year-old son, Prince Michael, after the crown prince was made a sub-lieutenant in the army. 3-Lord Cecil, chairman of the First National Congress of the International Peace Campaign as he listened to discussions at the opening of the congress in London, recently.

A curious and perhaps unprecedented situation has arisen in San Francisco where two great public-owned bridges spanning the Bay have recently been built. Before the day of the bridges, San Francisco commuters were served for two generations by a picturesque ferry system which carried passengers and automobiles from the city to all other Bay points. The ferry system, privately owned and publicly regulated, represents private investment, and must pay its own way in addition to heavy taxes. The new competition of the tax free bridges caused the ferries to lose the great bulk of their passengers. Finally they sought and obtained permission to reduce their fares from 50c to 30c a trip.

Now the publicly owned and tax exempt bridges complain that the low ferry rates are cutting into the bridge business and they are asking that the ferries be forced by law to raise their charges.

To quote the San Francisco Chronicle: "We are familiar with instances in which public ownership, by using the public credit, escaping taxation and falling back on taxpayers to pay deficits, has driven private ownership to the wall. In this instance it is argued that private ownership can be compelled to charge rates high enough to drive away business, go into bankruptcy and leave a monopoly to its public ownership competitor."

Here is an entirely new theory of rate making which asks, in effect, that publicly owned businesses, backed by the money of all the taxpayers, be allowed to destroy a private company to escape competition. It demands that where a private business takes patronage from publicly owned businesses, the former should be forced to increase its charges to the point where it loses all its trade. One main argument for the establishment of the publicly owned bridges was to reduce ferry fares for the public—they have succeeded and the public is profiting—what are they kicking about? This is one for Ripley of "Believe It or Not" fame.

Blame Cold Wave For Flu Increase

Austin, Dec. 1 — Reports from widely separated parts of Texas to the State Health Department indicate that influenza is on the increase. Recent snows and colder weather account for the increase, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Colds, grippe, influenza or whatever we may call them are believed to be spread from person to person through discharges from the nose and throat. To protect yourself and others from such discharges, here are precautions to be followed:

Influenza is highly infectious. Practically everyone is susceptible. No matter how many times you may have had the disease, you may contract it again. Therefore, keep away from people who are sneezing, coughing, or sniffing, or who are actively ill with colds, influenza, or pneumonia.

Keep away from crowded places. Have your own towel and drinking cup and always wash your hands before eating.

Keep yourself as fit as possible. Drink plenty of water, eat simple, nourishing food, exercise out of doors every day, dress according to the weather, get plenty of sleep in a well ventilated room.

If you feel an attack of flu, or even what you may think is an ordinary cold, coming on, go to bed, send for your doctor, and follow his directions. A cold can too easily develop into a fatal mistake.

We deeply regret the sudden illness of Dr. Timmons. Although he was not seriously ill, our Board of Stewards felt that it would be unwise to insist that he come to us until he was entirely well. It looks as if we shall have to postpone our meeting until some date in January. Dr. Timmons will be our preacher.

Our Presiding Elder, Dr. L. U. Spellman, will preach for us at the morning service this Sunday. He will hold our First Quarterly Conference at 2:00 p. m. at the church. All the officials of the church and all others interested in the work of the conference are invited to be present.

We urge every person in Ozona to worship at the church of his choice every Sunday. We invite all who will to worship with us. We want strangers and visitors to feel at home here.

MY PRAIRIES

Oblique patches of sunny wild flowers. Changing fire-opal aglow. Stretching across our vast prairies, On slopes rising gently they grow.

They spread to the boulder-strewn mountains— Horned toads squatting at rest, Away from all sullied pretences, Purple thistles, a barb in their breasts.

Blue, hazy looming in distance, High peaks with green-feathered crest.

Purple shadows lining the valeys, My Prairies,—my Homeland—my West.

Not So Efficient

While crossing a railway bridge one afternoon, a small boy was astonished to see two freight trains running on the same line at about to crash head-on.

He stood on the bridge and witnessed the crash.

A few days later, says London Answers Magazine, the railway officials learned that there had been an eye-witness and brought the boy to London to be examined. "Now then," said the official who was conducting the inquiry

"I understand you saw the trains crash. What were your thoughts at the time of the crash?" "Well, sir," answered the boy slowly, "I thought it was a rotten way to run a railway."

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. How long was it after Coronado's Texas exploration before other Spaniards began a search from Mexico to the north for gold and silver?

A. Forty years later, in 1581, Hernan Gallegos listened to stories of immense wealth to the north of Mexico as related by a captured Indian, these being substantially the same as were told to Cabeza de Vaca, and he organized a party to search for the golden wealth.

Q. Who led the Gallegos party to Texas and from what place did it start?

A. Gallegos had with him in the party that started from the Spanish outpost of Santa Barbara, Francisco Sanchez Chamuscado, who was appointed leader and three friars, Frays Agustin Rodriguez, Juan de Santa Maria, and Francisco Lopez, besides nine soldiers and nineteen Indian servants.

Q. What did Gallegos learn about Cabeza de Vaca's wanderings across Texas?

A. In answer to inquiries as to whether other Christians had been in the country, Gallegos was told by Jumanos Indians that many years before four Christians had passed that way. The descriptions of these showed that the party must have been Cabeza de Vaca, and his companions.

Q. What other parts of Texas did the Gallegos party explore after leaving the Big Bend section?

A. After going into New Mexico to Taos, they turned east, crossed the upper Pecos, and followed somewhat closely the route of Coronado into the upper Texas plains the route, according to Gallegos, taking them to Indian pueblos, the location and description of which corresponded with that of the Quivira of Coronado's search.

Q. What caused the Gallegos expedition to return to Mexico after meeting the Querecho Indians?

A. Ill will and open hostilities of the Querechos whom they encountered, who so greatly outnumbered the Spaniards, determined them to go back. Frays Rodriguez and Lopez refused to return, preferring to remain and preach to the Indians.

Q. What expeditions to Texas soon followed that of Gallegos and his companions?

A. In the fall of 1582, Antonio de Espejo, enticed by visions of wealth but with the search for Frays Rodriguez and Lopez as a pretext, crossed the Rio Grande into Texas at the Big Bend, with a party of 14. Proceeding north, they learned of the murder of the two friars, and hearing of golden riches to the west, they turned west from the Rio Grande into New Mexico. Finding neither gold nor silver, they turned east and after much fruitless wandering, finally followed the Pecos south and crossed into Mexico some distance above the mouth of the Pecos.

Q. What explorers led parties into Texas from Mexico following Espejo's visit?

A. Cascando de Cosa in 1590, who entered Texas near the mouth of Devil's River, went west to the Pecos and up that stream into New Mexico; Leiva Bonilla and Gutierrez de Humana, who in 1594 made a disastrous trip pretty much along the Coronado's route to Quivira; Juan de Oñate and Vicente Zalvarar, who crossed the Rio Grande at El Paso in 1598 and after a time spent in New Mexico were at Quivira in 1601. Oñate named the ford at which he crossed the Rio Grande, "El Paso del Norte."

Q. Who led early expeditions from New Mexico in search of Quivira?

A. In 1634, Capt. Alonzo de Vaca led a small party of soldiers and Indians from Santa Fe some 300 leagues east, but turned back to avoid hostile Indians. In 1659 Capt. Hernan Martin and Diego de Castillo, under orders from the governor of New Mexico, with a group of soldiers and Indians, explored the Texas Concho Rivers, where they found pearls, but no gold.

Q. What followed the discovery of pearls on the Concho River in 1659?

A. The pearls were sent to the viceroy of Mexico and created such interest that in 1654 another expedition of some 30 soldiers and 200 friendly Indians, under command of Major Diego de Guadalajara, was sent to make further explorations of the Concho rivers and fuller reports. These encountered hostile Indians and turned back after a fight in which they captured 200 Indians and many bundles of deer and buffalo hides.

Q. What Spanish expedition was the first to cross the lower Rio Grande into Texas?

A. Fernando de Azcue headed a punitive expedition across the lower Rio Grande in 1665 against the Cacaetles Indians; who had been raiding the country between the Rio Grande and Monterrey. This expedition was for the further purpose of capturing Indians and selling them as laborers in Mexican mines.

Q. Who was General Ord, who constructed the quadrangle and other early buildings of Sam Houston Post, San Antonio?

A. His full name was Edward Otho Cresup Ord, and he was a grandson of King George IV of England, his father being the son of the king and Lady Maria Anne Smythe Fitzherbert by a morganatic marriage. He was an army engineer and in 1849 laid out the city of Los Angeles. After serving in the Federal Army during the Civil War, he was sent to San Antonio and placed in command of the Department of Texas.

Q. Who was John Twohig and what unique method did he use for welcoming newcomers?

A. John Twohig was a pioneer San Antonio banker, who came to this country from Ireland, about 1830. When introduced to a stranger, who looked like he was worth knowing, Twohig invited him to join his burial club, collected a dollar membership fee, agreed to attend the stranger's funeral should he die and be buried in San Antonio, and took him out to dinner. He kept his agreement and always sent flowers. Every prominent visitor to San Antonio in Twohigs time belonged to his club.

Q. What is the official seal of the State of Texas?

A. The constitution provides: "The seal of State shall be a star of five points encircled by olive and live oak branches, and the words, 'The State of Texas.'" The olive and live oak branches signify peace and strength. It is the same seal adopted by the Republic of Texas, with the words, "State of Texas" substituted for "Republic of Texas."

Q. What do the red, white and blue colors of the Texas flag signify?

A. Red is emblematic of courage; white of purity; but of loyalty.

FORD offers two new cars for 1938—the Standard Ford V-8 and the De Luxe Ford V-8. They are different in appearance—but built to the same high standard of mechanical excellence—on the same chassis.

Because people liked our 1937 car so well, they bought more than of any other make. They liked its looks, its smooth performance, and the way it handled. We have improved on that car in the newly styled Standard Ford V-8.

But some folks wanted still more size and style, with the same Ford advantages. For them, we designed a new De Luxe line.

The De Luxe Ford V-8 Sedans are longer with more room, larger luggage space, and finer appointments all around.

De Luxe cars are equipped with the 85-horsepower engine only.

The Standard is even lower priced than the De Luxe. It has graceful new lines and well-tailored interiors—with a choice of engine sizes—85 or 60 horsepower.

Before Ford made V-type 8-cylinder engines available to every one, they were used only in expensive cars. Since then, four million Ford owners have learned the genuine enjoyment of driving an eight-cylinder car with all-around economy. The thrifty "60" engine, especially, makes possible in Standard models a very low first cost and equally low operating cost. With two distinct designs, two engine sizes and two price ranges, you'll find a 1938 Ford car to fit your needs exactly.

PRICES FOR CARS DELIVERED IN DETROIT—TAXES EXTRA

Standard Ford V-8 (60 hp.)—Coupe, $599; Tudor, $644; Fordor, $689. Standard Ford V-8 (85 hp.)—Coupe, $629; Tudor, $669; Fordor, $714. De Luxe Ford V-8 (85 hp. only)—Coupe, $689; Tudor, $729; Fordor, $774; Convertible Coupe, $774; Club Coupe, $749; Convertible Club Coupe, $804; Phaeton, $824; Convertible Sedan, $904.

Standard and De Luxe cars equipped with bumpers, bumper guards, spare wheel, tire, tube, tire lock and hand, cigar lighter, twin horns, and headlight beam indicator on instrument panel, at no extra charge.

In addition, De Luxe cars are equipped with extra tail light, windshield wiper, sun visor; also de luxe steering wheel, glove compartment lock, clock, and chrome wheel bands, at no extra charge.

From "Everyday Manners"

It is very easy to be selfish in giving presents.

A little boy once bought his father a Kiddie Kar; a woman presented her husband with a vacuum cleaner; a girl gave her mother a pendant which she knew her mother would be sure to allow her to wear. What do you think of such selections as these?

Do you always consider carefully just what the person to whom you are giving would really like to have? It takes thought and tact to find the present that is "just right." It does not necessarily take a large sum of money.

Sometimes it is more considerate not to give presents at all. For instance, boys and girls often plan to give class presents to their teacher. Isn't it better not to try to do something which forces every child in a class either to give toward a present or to explain his reasons for refusing? Good will, understanding, and responsiveness from their pupils are gifts which teachers appreciate far more than things which money can buy.

The habit of sending cards of greeting at Christmas and other anniversaries is becoming more and more popular. If gifts are to be given, remember that boys may give girls flowers, candy, a book, or a bit of music perhaps, if they wish, but not jewelry, silk stockings, gloves, or other personal articles. As a rule, girls offer boys the hospitality of their homes rather than other gifts.

If we receive a gift, a letter of thanks should be written immediately. This letter should be so worded that the one who receives it will feel the sincere appreciation behind the words. While we should not forget courtesies shown us, we should not hurry to give a gift in return. It is unpleasant to feel that one is being "paid back" immediately for some thing given. It is better not to be so lavish with presents that our friends will feel under constant obligations to us. If we are sure that our gifts always represent nothing but our sincere desire to give pleasure to some one else, and if we exercise good taste and tact, we cannot go far wrong in this difficult matter of giving presents.

TEACHER'S LIBRARY

On one side of the study hall there are three shelves of books which are to be used by the faculty only. There are many books placed upon these shelves. Among them are Dale Carnegie's "How to Win Friends and Influence People," Joseph Aven's "The Excellent Teacher," Christine Ingram's "Education of the Slow Learning Child," G. D. Strayer's "Principles of Teaching," R. E. Langfitt's "The Small High School at Work," Leonard Koo's "The High School Principal," P. R. Mott's "The Individual Pupil," M. Anne MacDonald's "The Class Organization and Activities," and many others. The faculty of the entire school system is permitted to check these books out as individual needs arise. Every teacher should keep up with the new professional books, especially those in her field of teaching.

CAMPUS PHILOSOPHY

By Mickey Couch

How fine it would be if we had less law, less lawyers, and more living and more lovers.

We knew a man who worked his way from poverty to riches and lived to good, happy old age, and he always minded his own business.

We like to be laughed at for our wit, but not for our folly.

The ability to say no is more valuable to a man than the ability to read Latin.

Anger wrecks nerves and later becomes a chronic disease.

PRESS CLUB MEETS

The semi-monthly Press Club meeting was held Wednesday night, December 1, at the home of Mary Louise Harvick.

The following program was brought under the direction of Jack Baggett, program chairman: "Learning to Write"—Norman Rendall.

"Structure of the News Story"—Lurinne Townsend.

"Subjects"—Mickey Couch.

SENIORS GET RINGS

The Senior Class of 1938 has at last received their long anticipated class rings. When you see a Senior, be sure to ask to see his ring, unless he shows it to your first; then watch his eyes shine with pride. They will probably out sparkle the ruby stone, which centers the ring's emblem. The words "Ozona High School," and "Loyalty, Service, Truth, Honor, Knowledge, and Service" surrounds the stone.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF—

Everyone passed English?

Eloise "stepped on the gas"?

P. C. and Dorothy were separated?

Howard agreed with the teachers?

The Physics class was run by the "Honor System"?

The Lion's Roar staff agreed?

The senior class didn't worry over their rings?

There were no teachers in the hall between classes?

Miss Mildred never whistled?

Myrtle Luther didn't always chew gum?

Carl Thurman got underweight?

Mary Bess and Mary Alyce were never hungry?

Jeff fell in love?

Phillip wasn't teasing girls?

Miss Terry never assigned any lessons?

Ora Louise, Dorothy, Lois and Lurinne broke up?

Gene Drake never asked a question?

THEY SAY

By Doris Bunger

Jack Baggett: "Game very spectacular and the performance between halves would be hard to beat." (A&M-Texas U.)

Coach: "I liked it because it turned out the way I guessed. At times I saw some of the best blocking and tackling I have seen this year and at other times the poorest. San Angelo could have defeated Stephenville anywhere except in the middle of Lake Michigan." (Angelo-Abilene.)

Mary Alyce: "Game grand and exciting. March between halves was very good." (Angelo-Abilene.)

Catherine: "The Pep-Squad was well trained and certainly knew their business." (Angelo-Abilene.)

Beecher: "Pretty good ball game. Both teams had good bands. I saw a lot of pretty girls." (A&M-Texas U.)

THE PROWLER

By Maurice Lemmons

If anyone wants to know how it feels to go to the wrong door when taking your date home, he can ask Jack B. I think he ought to be able to tell you.

Who was the little blond that Clifton T. was trying to beat out of her address over the weekend?

It seems that Beecher M. did all right in Marlin over the week-end. Beecher, was it this year's senior ring?

I wonder if Dorothy H. will ever laugh at any one now when he fails to do what he started.

I wonder if Catherine C. and Betty D. are happy.

Maurice never puts anything in here about himself; I guess he wants everyone to think that he is an angel. It seems as if he were really going to town with a girl named "Beemie" at the skating rink during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Someone ask Mr. Nelson what he has in his left, top desk drawer.

THE PERFECT HIGH SCHOOL BOY SHOULD HAVE

Haskell's wit.
 Fat's appetite.
 Jack Baggett's clothes.
 Phillip's dimples.
 Coach White's grin.
 Maurice's hair.
 Wm. Beecher's eyes.
 P. C.'s good looks.
 Junie's sportsmanship.
 Welton's voice.
 Mr. Nelson's tennis ability.
 Every girl's heart.

FOOTBALL CAPT. FOR 1938

Beecher Montgomery, who will graduate with the class of '39, has been named Captain of the Lions for the next season.

Captain Beecher is an Ozona product, beginning school with his present classmates in the Ozona grade school. Probably no other high school boy has so rightfully gained the admiration of both his teachers and classmates—a cheerful smile, courtesy toward everyone, an a "do or die" spirit are characteristics of this fighting little quarterback, who promises to lead the Lions through a season of which all their boosters may well be proud.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

The United States bought Louisiana from France?

The boundary dispute that was settled with Spain was that the Spanish retire to the Sabine River and the Americans to the Hondo Creek.

Outlaws flocked to the Neutral Ground.

Phillip Nolan was the leader of the horsehunting expedition and was slain near Waer.

The Spaniards took Nolan's men back to Mexico.

The Mexicans became patriots. Magee's expedition was destroyed in Mexico.

A young lieutenant that was in the battle later became a hero.

Dr. Long was skilled when he led people into Texas.

La Fitte was a very rude pirate. On a little island near Galveston was his headquarters.

He and his friends captured a U. S. A. ship.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

The third grade is making a Treasure Box Book. We are making the front of the book this morning. — John Fussell.

The third grade have sold all of the pencils. We have made $4.50. We have sent for our curtains.

— Myrtastine Hokit.

The third and fourth grade boys have changed seasons. They have changed to baseball. The last season was football. Arthur Byrd was the champion football player.

— Fred Currie.
 Thanksgiving Day, Jo Nell Coose ate dinner with us. She stayed all night with us. We had a lot of fun.

— Muggins Davidson
 The third grade children drew Dutch windmills. They wrote sentences about how they help people. — Jo Nell Coose.

The third and fourth grade girls are going to have baseball, starting today. — Barbara Bowers.

WHO AM I?

I am an interesting Junior and believe that people like me better after knowing me. I have a twin sister, but we don't favor much.

I seem to be very intelligent in school but slow to catch on to things outside of school work. I am a Junior boy, talk rather fast, and am hard to understand sometimes.

I am at one of my happiest moments when there's a crowd around so I can "strut" a little. I am a master in my chosen avocation.

Look for answers next week in Lion's Roar.

POETRY

Spring isn't here, but it must be close to the surface of the earth, because several poetical efforts have been placed in the Press Club box. Here's one:

THE ARMY

By Johnnie Boyd

My brother is in the army and I think he likes it fine.
 He's seen a lot of the world.
 He's having a grand old time.
 I guess it does get tiresome.
 Just doing the same old thing.
 But when you get out you'll be Proud of what you've done and seen.
 I guess it's not so pleasant taking Orders all day.
 But some day maybe you'll be giving.

Them in the same proud way.
 Sometimes I wish I was a boy I know just what I'd do.
 I'd join the army and see what Uncle Sam could find for me to do.

TEACHERS ENJOY HUNT

Mr. C. E. Nelson and Mr. Guinn Caruthers enjoyed a hunting trip to the Bunger ranch this past week-end. They had the good fortune to bring down a nice eight point buck. They were accompanied on the expedition by Welton Bunger and Charles Phillips.

CAN ANYBODY TELL US WHY

Pete blushes in Spanish class?

Irvin grins?

Haskell is so witty?

Lois likes Texas Tech?

Miss Demmer has such a pleasing voice?

Eloise is never in a hurry?

Roy never pays attention in Math and History class?

Clifton's hair stands on end?

Phillip is never still?

Lurinne is always on the "go"?

Ora Louise likes "brown"?

Crystelle has such a pleasing laugh?

Howard never agrees with anybody?

Coach tells such "wild, hair-raising tales"?

Bobby L. missed part of biology class Monday?

Maurice is always pestering people in the hall?

Welton has taken a "fancy" to Sonora?

Mary Bess likes a "uniform"?

William Beecher is always so cheerful and polite?

BASKETBALL

The basketball season for 1937-38 is now open. There are about 23 Lions out for practice every day. Suits were issued Monday afternoon, November 29.

Coach White and Coach McCulley expect to have a good team this year. If all the boys will cooperate with them, the season should be quite successful.

Denton, Dec. 1—Are you a bread crumb collector? Most housewives will testify that they are all too inefficient in this respect, and that old bread has an unhappy habit of filling all available storage space.

Here are a few solutions to the problem. Crumbs made from buttered toast must be used at once or they'll become rancid, and whole wheat bread should be dry before it is made into crumbs or it may mold quickly. With these instructions as a beginning the recipes come next.

Honey Fig Pudding

(6 servings) Add two beaten eggs to one half cup honey. Mix in one half cup whole wheat bread crumbs, one half cup chopped figs, one half cup chopped pecan meats and one half cup flour, sifted with one fourth teaspoon salt and two teaspoons baking powder. If the mixture is too dry, add one or two tablespoons milk or orange juice. Pour into greased baking dish and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven (375 F. to 400 F.). Serve with cream hard sauce.

Cream Hard Sauce

Cream one fourth cup butter. Add gradually one cup powdered sugar, one fourth teaspoon vanilla and one fourth cup heavy cream. Beat until stiff.

Brown Betty

(6 servings) Pare and core two apples and peel three bananas. Cut into thin slices and sprinkle with three tablespoons lemon juice. Fill a greased baking dish with alternate layers of buttered toast cubes and fruit, having three layers of crumbs and two layers of fruit. Sprinkle each fruit layer with one fourth cup sugar, a pinch of salt, and one fourth teaspoon cinnamon. Pour in one half cup water. Cover and bake in moderate oven (375 F.) for 20 to 30 minutes. Remove cover and continue to bake until apples are tender. Serve with lemon sauce.

Lemon Sauce

Mix one tablespoon cornstarch and one cup sugar. Add one and one half cups boiling water, stirring constantly. Cook for five minutes and add grated rind and juice of one lemon and one tablespoon butter. Serve hot.

1100 Freshmen Can't Be Wrong

Not content with being elected president of 1100 freshmen at Texas State College for Women, petite Marguerite Walling of Childress also walked away with the beauty honors of her class. Although she's a demure little blonde, five feet two, with eyes of blue, she has had no trouble in capably leading her classmates through first year difficulties.

Indian Pumpkin Pudding

(8 servings) Sift one half cup yellow corn meal into two cups boiling water. Stir constantly until thick. Cook ten minutes. Remove from heat and stir in one cup sifted pumpkin, one half cup honey or brown sugar, three cups rich milk, one fourth teaspoon salt, one half teaspoon ginger, one half teaspoon cinnamon, dash nutmeg, one tablespoon orange juice, and two tablespoons melted butter. Pour into greased baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (375 F.) for one and one half hours. Serve with butterscotch sauce or with Hard Sauce.

Butterscotch Sauce

Mix one cup brown sugar, one tablespoon cornstarch, and one fourth teaspoon salt. Add one and one half cups boiling water. Stir until thick. Cook five minutes. Remove from heat. Add one tablespoon butter and one fourth teaspoon vanilla.

Pirates Ahoy!

Denton, Dec. 1—Children who demand the proper cave facilities for playing "Pirate" can easily find them in Texas. The eight principal caverns include Austin Cave, Cascade Caverns near Boerne, Longhorn Cavern near Marble Falls, the third largest cave in the United States, and Wonder Cave at San Marcos. Unexplored ones are Devil's Sink Hole in Edwards County, Jeff Davis Cave in the county of that name; Robber Baron's Cave near San Antonio, which has one known channel two miles long; and Treasure Cave near Richland Springs, which is said to be the location of buried treasure. Page Robert Louis Stevenson!

Piney Woods Prospects

A two hundred million dollar industry is not to be sneezed at, and that's what speeded up the pulses of Texas business men when the possibilities of large scale newspaper production in this state became known. The discovery that young slash and yellow pine had no resin and was therefore suitable for manufacturing into newsprint opened the way for predictions that the huge industry now centered along the Canadian border will move southward eventually. The southern pine belt extends through East Texas and along the entire gulf coast to the Atlantic, and the growth of trees is much more rapid than in the north.

Advice

The lonely American entered a tearoom in London.

"May I take your order?" the sprightly waitress inquired.

"Yes," he replied. "Two eggs and a kind word."

The waitress brought the eggs and was moving away when the American stopped her. "What about the kind word?" he said.

The waitress leaned over and whispered, "Don't eat the eggs."

She: "And if I refuse you, Jack, will you kill yourself?"
Jack: "That has been my usual custom."

If it's a small colonial home which interests you most

In the $2800 to $300 class, this home of colonial siding is a striking example of a small home that will please many. The porch is a feature many like. The fireplace is between two windows. Bedrooms are roomy and well ventilated and there is plenty of closet space.

Interior walls are of ship lap and paper, and all windows and doors are flashed. The foundation is of cedar block, treated for termites, and the under pinning has screen openings.

This plan meets F. H. A. requirements and can be financed by W. K. Ewing Co., Inc., of San Antonio, under the F. H. A. plan

LIGHTING OF CLOSETS AID LONG-APPRECIATED

There are numerous ways of lighting a closet, with relative merits and disadvantages in all methods. When building a home that is to be financed under the Insured Mortgage System of the Federal Housing Administration, the plan you will follow should be decided upon when the plans for the house are drawn.

A ceiling light in the closet may have a pull chain or a wall switch. However, there is always the danger that this light will be forgotten and burn needlessly for hours. A switch outside of the closet door could be provided with a pilot light that glows red while the light is on.

The door switch, which automatically turns the light on when the door is open and turns it off when the door is closed, is satisfactory if the occupants of the house are careful about closing doors. One of the newer arrangements is the light that burns for a stated time and then automatically turns off. This is a guard against wasted electricity, but is occasionally an annoyance when it goes out before the desired article has been found.

FHA PROCEDURES BECOMING STANDARD

In establishing the insurance of residential mortgage on a firm, nation wide basis, the Federal Housing Administration has developed and put into effect mortgage risk rating and valuation techniques, which have become standard with lending institutions throughout the country. Lending officials in every part of the United States have called the technical and underwriting procedures of the Housing Administration a significant step forward in the handling of mortgage risks.

ADJOINING KITCHEN, BATH FOR ECONOMY

The technical division of the Federal Housing Administration points out that in the one story houses the greatest economy can be achieved by planning kitchen and bathroom as adjoining rooms but with sufficient space in the separate wall to carry the necessary plumbing lines. Through this combination of rooms and by placing the fixtures in the adjoining rooms along the common wall, only one vent stack is required for all the fixtures, and the lengths of drainage and water lines are reduced to a minimum.

DOUBLE OUTLETS FOR WIRING CONVENIENCE

The primary requirement of any electrification system is to provide artificial lighting or service as near as possible to the point where it is needed. Recommended is the use of an ample number of double convenience outlets so that movable lamps and appliances may be utilized rather than permanently placed fixtures, thus permitting a system of great flexibility.

TAX BURDEN EXERTS INFLUENCE ON AREA

The tax and assessment burden to which properties in an area are liable exerts a tremendous influence on the future of any residential area. In the case of an undeveloped area, the Federal Housing Administration determines what before issuing a commitment to the approximate burden will be insured a mortgage.

When wood shingles are being laid on a roof, paper should be used between the shingles and the lath or sheathing to which they are nailed. Wood sweats with change in temperature and humidity, and paper beneath the shingles keeps the dampness inside and rots the shingles.

Scout Notes

The dedication of the Boy Scout cabin has been set for December 14. In connection with the dedication ceremonies, there will be a barbecue and Court of Honor with about twelve advancements in prospect. The dedication program will be announced in full next week.

Scouts will meet at the cabin Saturday to cut down cedar trees and other brush that are in the way on the cabin lot. We will also dig a hole for the flag pole.

Patrols will be rearranged during the next few weeks. The boys will be placed with boys their size, with one leader of the patrol to look after them, etc.

Next week there will be a talk on "Leadership" by W. B. Robertson and on "The National Council and Its Work" by Norman Rendall. There will be a belt line for these boys if they don't have their talks up. (I'll bet they both have an hour's talk ready.)

The Camporee of the Ranch district to be held in Ozona has been postponed until the middle of January. All plans have arrived and will be discussed in this column later.

Special the meeting Tuesday, we will have a presentation of Mr. Rendall.

as the club coupe, convertible cabriolet, club convertible cabriolet, convertible sedan and the phaeton.

The two lines of cars have the same improved V-8 chassis, but their styling is distinctly different.

The de luxe cars are larger in appearance. The hood has been lengthened. Its nearly vertical front is carried in a "V" well down into the radiator grille, with the familiar V-8 emblem at the tip of the "V". Horizontal lines of the grille bars and the louvres are echoed in a bright rustless steel hand which is carried along the belt to the rear.

The new standard line cars also present a larger appearance, with a newly designed front end, grille, hood and fenders. The front end is formed in a "V", with the horizontal grille bars extending unbroken along the hoodside to form the louvres.

Fenders in both cars are massive, formed lower to provide more complete coverage of the running gear and extending farther back. Headlamps are again recessed in front fender aprons, new type tail lamps in the tips of rear fenders.

Interiors of the two cars are roomy and attractive, styled in keeping with the exteriors. The de luxe sedan interiors are larger.

A new instrument panel adds measurably to the beauty of the front compartment. The panel of the de luxe line cars is in walnut grain finish, that of the standard line cars in mahogany finish.

Instruments are arranged in two groups directly in front of the driver. In the middle of the panel is a grille, for radio speaker installation when specified. At the right is a glove compartment. In de luxe cars a lock is provided for the compartment and a clock is recessed in the compartment door.

Instruments in both cars are lighted by improved fringe illumination, designed to provide safer lighting for night driving. Interior lights are located on the right and left pillars of the sedans and over the rear windows of coupes.

Steering wheels of the de luxe cars are of flexible multiple steel spoke type, with hubs of rich brown bakelized material and rims of lighter contrasting color. Standard car steering wheels are of three spoke type, finished in beige. The upper spokes are widely spaced to give the driver unobstructed view of the instrument dials.
