Mexican Fatally Cut In Shearing Camp Altercation

Agebo Barrera Victim Knife Fight On W. Odom Ranch

Agebo Barrera, 25, Mexican sheep shearer, was fatally stabbed in a shearing camp fight on the Worth Odom ranch in Pecos County Monday night. Another Mexican, said to have been a close friend of the dead man, was taken to Fort Stockton, where murder charges were to have been filed.

Barrera's body was brought here Monday night and prepared at the Joe Oberkamp funeral home for shipment to Eldorado, his home town, where burial took place Tuesday.

A slash across the throat which severed the jugular vein was Barrera's fatal injury. He was stabbed in several other places over the body and arms.

According to reports to officers here, Barrera was asleep when attacked. Mr. Odom, hearing the disturbance, went to the camp armed with a rifle, and held the knife wielder until Pecos County officers arrived to take him into custody. The two Mexicans both from Eldorado, were employed on a shearing machine operated by Ramirez Bros. of Ozona.

Junior Carnival Is Slated Tonight On School Playground

Members of the Junior Class will turn ballyhoo artists for a night when they pitch tents and doll racks on the school playground between High School and Elementary school buildings for a carnival to which the general public is invited.

By the patronage of the "rubes" the Juniors hope to raise sufficient funds to finance the annual banquet for the Seniors, which is to be at the Hotel Ozona Tuesday evening, May 4.

There will be at least ten "concessions" operating on the midway, including doll racks, shows, games and various stunts. One of the features of the offerings will be a horned toad racing booth, where some twenty-five toads are expected to do their stuff on the circular track at intervals during the evening.

Mrs. Martha Robertson and Mrs. Ruth Wyatt, both of San Antonio, are guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Peters. Mrs. Peters entertained with a bridge-breakfast for the visitors Wednesday morning.

Construction Of Tennis Courts Near Complete

Backstops Being Set This Week; May Be Ready In Week

Erection of backstops and setting of posts for center nets, under way this week, mark the finishing touches to the double tennis courts being constructed by the school system on school property north of the kindergarten building.

The tennis courts are being constructed at a minimum cost, with the WPA street project here, under the direction of C. L. Cameron, furnishing more than 600 yards of surplus dirt from city streets to fill the area chosen for the courts site. A caliche topping, requiring an additional 130 yards of caliche, has been set in place and rolled to the smoothness of concrete.

Backstops are being constructed of one-inch wire netting set on posts made from 3-inch well casing, the casing donated by Judge Montgomery. All weather nets have been purchased and cloth tape line markers are to be used. The fill has been terraced and a concrete retaining wall constructed. The courts are expected to be ready for play in the next week.

Mrs. Lowell Littleton, who has been visiting several weeks with her parents in Lubbock, is expected to return to her home here the end of this week.

Joe Oberkamp was a business visitor in San Angelo Monday.

Cooking School Attendance Sets New Record Here

Gifted Lecturer Heard By Large Group In 2-Day School

More than a hundred women of this community went home with a wealth of new ideas in cookery and home management at the close of the Ozona Stockman's third annual cooking school held here Thursday and Friday.

That this year's school was one of the most thoroughly enjoyable and profitable in the local history of the enterprise is attested by the many favorable comments from the women who attended the two-day school.

Mrs. William A. Browne, nationally known home economist, expert on cookery and home management, brought a well balanced program of demonstrations, and in charming manner, presented from her store of experience many helpful suggestions for more efficient management of the "greatest industry on earth—the home."

In addition to a large number of attendance prizes given by participating business firms and food manufacturers, attendants at the daily lectures were further treated to refreshments of cake and ice cream. The cake, a huge three-tiered creation with beautiful decorations, was baked by Hartley Johnson at the Ozona Bakery and donated to the school to be served guests. The ice cream, made by Gandy's Creamery in San Angelo, was the gift of Gandy's and the Ozona Drug Store. Both of these refreshment delicacies were thoroughly enjoyed by the school attendants.

Firms cooperating with The Stockman in bringing the cooking school to Ozona were the West Texas Utilities Co., furnishing electric kitchen; the Jaques Manufacturing Co., makers of the famous K. C. Baking Powder; Duncan Coffee Co., of Houston, makers of Admiration Coffee; Interstate Cotton Oil Co., of Sherman, makers of Mrs. Tuckers' Shortening; Gandy's Creamery of San Angelo, producers of pasteurized milk, ice cream, butter, etc.; Flowers Grocery, Ozona Market; and J. H. Williams and Son grocery. Additional local firms who donated attendance prizes included West Texas Lumber Co., Miller Service Station, Ozona Hardware Co., Ozona Drug Store, Smith Drug Co., Inc., Ozona Theatre and Lemmons Dry Goods Co.

Combined Ozona-Sonora Team Blasts Way To Twin Win

STICK WORK MENDS

Crippled Oilers Prove No Match For Slugging Locals

Men of might on the combined Ozona-Sonora team, contenders for Permian Basin league honors in 1937, blasted the Iraan Oilers for a brace of games the past week-end to emerge from their initial league contest of the new season with a still unblemished record.

The twin city team pounded out eleven hits and chalked up eight runs in Saturday's fracas here to win 8-3 and at Iraan Sunday blasted out another eleven hits but pushed over twelve runs to win 12-8.

Myers, Mangold, Heatherly and White were the big guns with the stick in Saturday's game here, Myers and Mangold blasting out long home runs over the center-field fence and each of the quartet turning in two hits each. Dorley, Stuart and McLeod accounted for one hit each. C. Lemeilleur, Iraan rightfielder, had two good days at the bat, cracking out two safe ones in the Saturday game here and three more in the Sunday game on the home lot. Brother Ray LeMeilleur got only one hit each day, but Sunday's was a long drive that was good for four bases.

M. McLeod, who also hustles 'em with surety in the right garden, was chief circuit clouter for the locals on the Iraan diamond Sunday. Brother Paul McLeod, however, was the day's leading hitter, with three safe blows to his credit. Ratliff and Myers cracked out two each and Mangold, Dorley, M. McLeod and Weaver one each.

Pitcher Lefty White, mainstay of the Station A crew in the Concho League last year, proved he could go in the Permian League in a big way when he kept the sit-

Pumpers Mixit The Week-End With McCamey

Saturday Game In Oil Metropolis; Sunday's At Sonora

The McCamey Refiners, sorely roughed last week-end by the defending champion Crane Gulfers, are expected to be next victims of the Ozona-Sonora combination Station A team when the Pumpers journey to the oil metropolis next Saturday for the series opener and return Sunday to Sonora for the league opener for the city sharing the fortune of the merged team.

The Cranes, who took both games of the week-end meet from the Refiners, will rest this week-end while the yet untried Texon Oilers, not yet in league combat, take on the Iraan nine. All hands will be due a score in league standing after the smoke has cleared next week-end.

The only upset in the smooth-working Station A team is the resignation this week of Hogcaller Myers, homerun slugger and fast stepping outfielder, who lays aside classroom cares and baseball ambitions to become a well paid oil field roustabout on the Superior deep test being drilled on the Todd ranch.

Just how the hole in the outer garden is to be plugged is not known here, but it is presumed that catchers Stuart and Paul McLeod, and pitchers White and Fields will take turns when not working at regular positions.

THE "KITCHEN PARTY"

The Stockman and cooperating business firms and manufacturers who sponsored this newspaper's third annual free cooking school here last Thursday and Friday felt well repaid for their time and expense in bringing this feature to Ozona when women of the community showed their interest and appreciation with the greatest attendance figure in the history of the enterprise.

From the many expressions of appreciation and words of praise for the work of the demonstrator in bringing new ideas for home management in an entertaining manner, the sponsors are confident that the school was thoroughly enjoyed by those who attended and that they found profit in the many up-to-the-minute suggestions for saving money, time and energy in managing affairs of the household.

The Stockman is grateful for the opportunity of service to the housewives of this community in sponsoring these "kitchen and home parties." The Stockman is also grateful for the splendid cooperation of merchants and manufacturers who cooperated in making the school possible, and commend their products and services to the women who appreciate their

Physical Check-Up Valued Result Of Child Health Day

Austin, April 28.—"One of the valued by-products of May Day—Child Health Day activities of recent years has been the stimulus to physical examinations in the schools of our state," is the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Early detection of these defects and their correction will assure better health and well being of our coming generation.

A child with defective vision cannot be expected to do the required work in school until the handicap is removed. Inflamed, watery eyes, granulated lids, chronic stys, nervous actions as habitual winking, may be caused by a defect and should have immediate attention.

The far reaching effects of infected tonsils on the system has been recognized by health workers for years. Many of the ills of later life, such as heart disease, arthritis, deafness, etc., are directly traceable to tonsils that became infected during childhood and allowed to remain untreated.

Dental defects are found in more children than any other imperfection, and for this reason children should be taken regularly to their dentist for examination and cleaning of the teeth. This precaution keeps the mouth clean and makes it possible to discover dental defects as soon as they appear.

Postural defects appear in the life of a child much sooner than we formerly suspected. Have your family physician see if your child's shoulder blades project and if his arches are low.

News Bureau
Texas State College for Women

Denton, April 21—Those who see Texas in the future as a great manufacturing state could well consider the potentialities of the woolen industry.

Leading the entire union in the production of wool, this state has to ship the whole output to New England for manufacturing and marketing, $750,000 is the price Texas pays annually to get its wool in marketable condition.

A large increase in wool production over the past twenty years has made the need for home factories more evident each year. From 1,808,000 in 1910, the number of sheep raised in Texas has grown to 7,026,000 in 1935. This means that about six times as much wool is produced today as at that time.

The industry is highly concentrated in the Edwards plateau region, extending west of Austin and beyond the Pecos. Only a few other sections, including the plains, North Central Texas and small portions of East Texas are engaged in sheep-raising.

Increase in quantity has been accompanied by an increase in quality of Texas sheep. The fine Rambouillet variety are principally raised in the Edwards plateau section today, and in North and East Texas are a few Shropshire and Hampshire-down breeds. These three have entirely replaced the Merinos brought in by the Mexicans in the early years of Texas history.

Denton, April 28 — Although interest in the military setup does not run riot in Texas as in European countries today, the history of this state makes this phase of its government well worth observation.

Active military establishments in Texas seem rather small in number in comparison to the hundreds of old abandoned forts scattered around during the five different eras passed through by this part of the country. In each of these eras, the Spanish and Mexican period, the era of the Revolution and Republic, the years before the Civil War, during the war, and after that time, new forts were constructed at the changing vantage points.

At present there are nine forts in use which, with the exception of a few old timers, date from the post Civil War period or World War days. These are located on the coastline at Galveston, Bolivar Peninsula, Galveston Island and Brownsville; on the border at El Paso, Bracketville, Laredo, and Rio Grande City; and at San Antonio, which is the only fort in the central part of Texas.

San Antonio is also the home of four military flying fields, including the well known Randolph Field, Brooks and Kelly fields, all established during the World War and Dodd Field, which is attached to Fort Sam Houston. The two training camps, Bullis and Stanley, and Normeyle Quartermaster Depot, where supplies are stored, are placed near the same city.

In Dallas is another flying field established in 1928 and named for Col. William N. Hensley. The only military hospital in the state, Beaumont General Hospital, is situated in El Paso and attached to Fort Bliss.

Texas Employment, Payrolls Continue To Gain In March

Austin, April 28 — Reports to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research from 1,753 Texas establishments show a total of 89,906 workers during March, an increase of 1.7 percent over the preceding month and 10 per cent over March, 1936. Weekly pay rolls of these establishments totaled $2,173,072, an increase of 4.8 per cent over the preceding month and a gain of 16.7 percent over the like month last year.

Industrial groups in which there was an increase greater than the average increase for all industries combined were: cement, foundries machine shops, millwork, cotton textile mills, clothing, manufacturing, bakeries, confectioneries, meat packing, furniture manufacturing, commercial printing, power and light, and business and personal service.

Since January 1, 1937, a total of 66 establishments employing 13,219 workers have reported wage-rate increases averaging 6.6 per cent and affecting 12,682 employees. Most of the increase in rates of pay occurred in petroleum, meat packing, and sulphur industries.

Only one wage-rate decrease was reported and that affected only six employees.

Mummified Head Of Ecuador Indian, Is Gift To U. Museum

Austin, April 21— Shrunken to the size of an orange, the "cured", or mummified, head of Ayule, a chief of the Jivaro tribe of Indians in Ecuador, has been presented to the anthropology museum of the University of Texas, through Dr. C. The features are perfectly preserved, and ears and lips are pierced for ornaments. Smuggled out of Ecuador in the Camera of Dr. John E. Hartsaw, a mining surgeon of Cristobal, C.

Z., the head, known as a "Tzantza," could be purchased by the museum for not less than five of six hundred dollars, according to Helen Donovan Barnard, in charge of the museum. Dr. Hartsaw obtained a complete history of the head from an Ecuadorian official who seized it while attempting to stamp out the practice of "curing" heads, Mrs. Donovan said. He desired that it be given to the University, and transmitted it by Dr. Hearne to be placed in the Mary Hearne Collection, named for the latter's daughter, who is a student in the University.

Practical Cookery

Dept. Home of Economics
Texas State College for Women

Denton, April 28—What home-maker hasn't found that preparing each part of the menu three times a day takes up practically all her time? The main hot dishes require special attention for every meal. Desserts lend themselves easily to bulk preparation—that is, prepare them for one meal—the same time conserving energy.

Cold desserts do not become less desirable from being held over if carefully covered and kept at a low temperature. The various types of custard, tapioca, and gelatin desserts lose nothing by being prepared in sufficient quantities to serve more than once, especially if they appear in different menus or with different sauces or accompaniments.

When making pie for dinner it is possible to make sufficient crust for two or three desserts. Bake the extra crust into pie shells or tart shells to be filled later with fresh fruit topped with cream or other filling.

Sandwiches having a sweet filling are satisfying for dessert if served with a hot or fruit beverage. Hot toasted sandwiches with sweet filling served with a custard sauce are quickly prepared. Fancy breads made sweet and rich can serve as hot bread and as dessert. And don't forget to keep your cookie jar functioning.

Since desserts must be sweet, why not serve candy and nuts? Certain dried fruits as dates or raisins served with nuts are satisfying. Choice fresh fruit served alone are adequate with some menus. In other words, why not occasionally serve more of the salad and dessert materials in their natural state?

Houston, April 28.—What home-makers haven't found that preparing part of the menu three times a day takes up practically all her time? The main hot dishes require special attention for every meal, but desserts lend themselves easily to bulk preparation—that is, more than enough for one meal—so that the same time conserving energy.

Cold desserts do not become less desirable from being held over if carefully covered and kept at a low temperature. The various types of custard, tapioca, and gelatin desserts lose nothing by being prepared in sufficient quantity to serve more than once, especially if they appear in different menus or with different sauces or accompaniments.

When making pie for dinner it is possible to make sufficient crust for two or three desserts. Bake the extra crust into pie shells or tart shells to be filled later with fresh fruit topped with cream or other filling.

Sandwiches having a sweet filling are satisfying for dessert if served with a hot or fruit beverage. Hot toasted sandwiches with sweet filling served with a custard sauce are quickly prepared. Fancy breads made sweet and rich can serve as hot bread and as dessert. And don't forget to keep the cookie jar functioning.

Since desserts must be sweet, why not serve candy and nuts? Certain dried fruits as dates or muscated raisins served with nuts are satisfying. Choice fresh fruit served alone are adequate with some menus. In other words, why not occasionally serve more of the salad and dessert materials in their natural state?

TAPIOCA CREAM: 1/4 c. minute tapioca, 1/2 c. sugar, 1/4 t. salt, 2 egg yolks, 4 c. milk, 2 egg whites stiffly beaten, and 1 t. vanilla. Have all but 1/4 c. of the milk hot in top of the double boiler. Add tapioca, cook seven minutes, stirring frequently. Beat the yolks un-cold milk. Pour slowly into the tapioca mixture stirring thoroughly. Add the salt and sugar. When thickened slightly from the addition of egg yolks, remove from the boiling water. Add vanilla, fold in the egg white mixing only slightly. Cool. Serve plain or with whipped cream.

PEANUT COOKIES: 2 c. brown sugar, 1 c. butter, 2 eggs, 3 c. flour, 1 t. soda, 1 t. cream of tartar, 1 c. chopped peanuts. Cream the butter, add sugar and beaten eggs. Mix and sift the soda, cream of tartar and flour. Combine with the other ingredients. Add peanuts. Chill the dough. Form into rolls the size desired for cookies. Slice, place on baking sheet and bake 10 to 12 minutes in a hot oven.

SUGAR COOKIES: 1 c. sugar, 1/2 c. butter, 2 eggs, 1 t. cream, 2 1/2 c. cake flour, 1 1/2 t. baking powder, 1 t. flavoring. Mix according to directions for peanut cookies. Roll out, cut into shapes and sizes as desired. Bake 10 to 12 minutes in hot oven.

Household Hints

By Mrs. William A. Browne

Soft bluing water to be used in washing windows. Use no soap and see how it cuts the dirt. Polish with dry cloth. The windows will glisten and shine like nothing else will make them.

In making caramel, after the sugar is browned, add 1 large lump of butter and stir well. It will not lump when added to your hot milk, but will make a smooth delicious caramel.

A meringue, fluffy and crisp never fails if 2 tblspns of cold water is added to each egg white before beating.

To keep poached eggs whole. Before dropping egg into boiling water, whirl the water rapidly with the spoon and drop egg into the hole at center of the boiling water. This will hold egg together until heat coagulates the whites.

Save all shortening from deep frying and sauteing to make kitchen soap.

In making meringue, add 1/2 tspn cream tartar and let pie or custard cool before putting on. This makes meringue stick to custard. Bake very slow to cook meringue before browning. This will cut like a pie.

If waffle irons stick, fill irons with dry salt and heat very hot, turning several times. While irons are still hot, clean out the salt with a clean dry cloth. Grease old fashion irons with shortening.

The usual paper page. Bread put in a paper bag and hung up will not mold and is ready for crumbs at any time as the moisture evaporates.

When butter is too hard to spread, turn over it a very warm bowl for a few minutes. This softens butter without melting it.

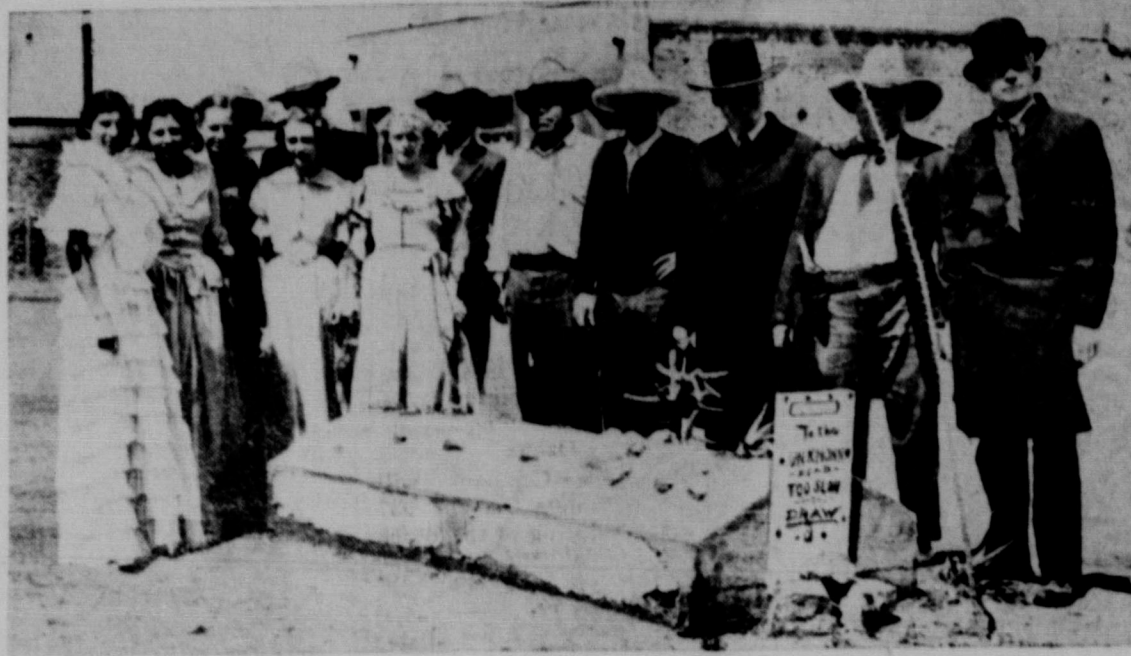

Lemon dropped into scalding water for about 1 minutes grates more easily than fresh ones. You will appreciate this tip.

A little white of egg spread over the bottom of the crust before adding filling, will keep crust from soaking.

Glasses which have contained milk should be first rinsed in cold water before washing in hot water.

Flavoring extracts should be added if possible, to a mixture when cold. If added while mixture is hot, much of the goodness passes off in the steam.

Tombstone Builds Memorial to Its Tough Old Days

As a memorial to the tough old days in the eighties when Tombstone, Ariz., was the scene of some of the bloodiest gunplay in the history of the Southwest, a concrete coffin has been erected on the main street as a monument to the nameless dead who fell in front of the notorious Bird Cage theater, because they were too slow on the draw. Immortalized through Walter Noble Burns' book, "Tombstone—an Iliad of the Southwest," the town is now a mecca for tourists. The dedication ceremony is shown above.

"Generally speaking, innocent or willful neglect is largely responsible for the preventable maternal deaths. It is to be emphasized that the proper time for expectant mothers to seek medical attention is when the expectancy is first realized.

"Indeed, prenatal care is the great defense against many of the conditions that cause tragedy at birth. Consequently, expectant mothers should place themselves under the supervision of a physician at the beginning of the term. If this fundamental safety rule would be adopted more generally, the present maternal mortality toll could be markedly diminished. "As one authority aptly states, "To cut the appalling maternity death rate, thoughtful and cooperative initiative must originate in the home!" In other words, science has done its part, now the prospective mothers must do theirs."

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin — First indication that the senate planned to get down to the real business of the regular session of the 45th legislature was given by the senate, as the final week of the four month session began, when it named a committee to consider the house's tax program, and bring recommendations to raise additional revenue.

Although the senate has not finally disposed of pending resolutions to amend a constitutional amendment for a sales tax, it became apparent that the resolution probably could not muster the necessary votes at this session. Work has begun on the regular biennial departmental appropriations, and as fast as these appropriation measures are shaped up, the amount of new revenue needed will become apparent. The opinion of the majority of the senate subcommittee has been made clear, that if appropriations are held to approximately the same as for the biennium, there will be no additional revenue needed. Whatever additional funds are appropriated for other phases of the social security program, including the care of the dependent children blind, teachers' retirement, and similar legislation, will have to be raised. This revenue obviously will come from additional imposts on sulphur, gas, oil and corporation franchises—measures already passed by the house.

Queen and Children at Concert

Senate To Go Slowly

But the senate is not going to rush hastily into new social security adventuring. It has learned thru experience with the old age assistance program that such legislation can run into tremendous sums of money, and that there are not now available any reliable estimates on the costs of aiding the underprivileged. So there is a strong disposition to go very slowly, leaving to time and possibly to a vote of the people in some cases, the decision as to whether the state shall obligate itself further to aid additional groups of its citizens.

It is already apparent that the house's taxation program, which has been cooling for weeks in senate committees, is going to be sharply pared down on final passage. Nothing like a 6-cent oil tax will be acceptable to the senate majority, for example. There is also a strong disposition on the part of the senators to bring out the racetrack betting repeal measure—long buried on the calendar—and if so, it doubtless will pass. This will remove the greatest incentive which the governor has to call a special session immediately, particularly if some additional tax money is provided.

Advertising Bill Endangered

The constitutional amendment sponsored by the Texas Press association and piloted thru the senate by Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul, authorizing a vote by the people on a proposal to carry out a five-year advertising program by the state to attract new industries and tourists to Texas, barely escaped an untimely death in the house, when a tie vote defeated its submission. A motion to reconsider is pending, and Gov. Allred lent his support by sending up a special message, urging its passage. Gov. Woodul has worked earnestly for its passage, took it successfully thru the senate, and has the support of virtually every newspaper in the state, for the measure. Members of the house appeared not to understand the proposal, some expressing the opinion during debate that the newspapers were for it because they hoped to receive the advertising money. Such an advertising program, of course, would be carried out in the north and east—where the tourists and industries markets are—and not within the state. So the newspapers' support is unselfish, and is chiefly based upon their own knowledge of the great good that would come to all of Texas thru an intelligent advertising campaign. It will require a two-thirds vote to submit the matter, however, and a good many house members must change their minds if the people are to be given a chance to vote on the plan.

Harris Overplays Hand

Harris-co interests which sought remission of state taxes for flood control had high hopes of passing their bill over the veto of the governor, after the senate overrode the veto, but the measure met sudden and emphatic death in the house. The Houston folks ran a special train from Austin to the Bayou City, taking the whole house, and gave the members a royal day of entertainment on San Buick Announces Appointment Of Wilson Motor Co.

New Firm To Handle Complete Line Of New Buick Cars

Announcement was made today by W. F. Hufstader, general sales manager of the Buick Motor Division, General Motors Sales Corporation, of the appointment of the Wilson Motor Company as Buick dealers in Ozona.

Wilson Motor Company will handle the complete line of 1937 Buick cars consisting of the Buick Series 40 Special, the Series 60 Century, the Series 80 Roadmaster and the Series 90 Limited. A total of twenty-two models are listed ranging in price from $765 to $1995 at the factory.

These valve-in-head, straight eights, according to Buick engineers, are more efficient and economical than engines of other design and because of their cool running characteristics and other features of design, are more rugged, dependable and long-lived.

Sealed chassis, that keeps out dirt, water and other foreign matter from all moving parts, the famous Buick torque tube drive knee action front wheels, hydraulic brakes and streamlined bodies by Fisher with "Unisteel" turret tops and no-draft ventilation, are among the standard features of the 1937 Buick models.

Complete sales and service facilities will be maintained by the Ozona dealer which will serve a large potential market for new Buicks in this territory as well as the needs of many owners who —goes further than merely helping the borrower who obtains the loans.

The Usefulness of Bank Loans

BANK loans provide business enterprises with immediate cash for payrolls. They make possible the purchase of raw materials to keep manufacturing activities going. They enable merchants to buy goods to serve the public and thereby earn deserved profits. They help the farmer to finance his crops and livestock during the growing season and to make wise purchases of needed material and equipment.

Because these credit functions are necessary not only to profitable operation for business but also to the comfort, welfare and health of all the people, the banker deems it a part of his professional obligation to grant sound loans to qualified borrowers.

uation well in hand here throughout the afternoon Saturday. Nine hits nicked from his offerings were well scattered, only two runs were earned, and eight of the Iraan sluggers who faced him were retired the strike-out route.

Six of the eight runs scored against the combined team at Iraan Sunday were made when the veteran "Sad Sam" Gray weakened in the sixth and was retained on the mound in the seventh. An error and three hits in the sixth netted the Oilers two tallies and a bombardment of two singles, a double and a home run that accounted for four more runs in the seventh finally drove the former St. Louis and Philadelphia big leaguer chunker to the showers with one out. Fields took over to retire the side without further damage.

Johnny Mangold, who joined the team last week, turned in a mid-season performance at shortstop despite the fact that he had little time for liming up before the league openers. Mangold, who has just attained manhood, sparkled for the Ozona Giants two years ago.
