Many Crockett Auto Owners To Pay Tax Penalty

Percent Penalty Applies On All Cars Not Registered

More than 900 operators of motor vehicles in Crockett County are complying with the new law securing driver's licenses, but there still remain between two and three hundred owners of motor vehicles who have not registered their machines for the coming year, according to estimates from the tax collector's office.

Up to yesterday afternoon, total registration of motor vehicles in the county, including passenger cars, trucks and farm trucks, had reached only 556. Passenger cars registered totaled 377; trucks, 63 and farm trucks, 116.

The deadline for registration of automobiles passed at midnight last night, April 1, and from today, a penalty of 20 percent of the amount of the registration fee will be charged.

Driver's licenses must be in the possession of all operators of motor vehicles after April 1. There will be no penalty, however, against those who secure the licenses late. Miss Rachel Schrader, in charge of issuance of the driver's licenses announced. The licenses may be secured at any time, free of charge, but the law requires that persons who operate motor vehicles must have them after April 1, or be subject to arrest and a fine of from $1 to $200 upon conviction.

Mexican Colony Observes Clean Up, Health Week

Community-Wide Campaign Being Waged In Settlement

This week is being observed by residents of the Mexican settlement of Ozona as Clean-Up Week, and a community-wide campaign is being waged by a committee chosen to direct the drive to see that every part of the settlement is given a thorough cleaning during the week.

The clean-up and health week is observed annually by residents of the Mexican settlement under sponsorship of the Texas Tuberculosis Association. During the week health pictures will be exhibited, literature distributed and several plays and talks given during the period. School children are taking a large part in the educational features of health week observance.

Residents of the area are being urged to clean up all parts of the town not cleaned in the recent campaign sponsored by the Woman's Club and county officials. To make for permanence, several large signs are being erected along the draw reading "No Trash Here." The committee in charge issued a statement expressing thanks to the Woman's Club and County Commissioners for their assistance in the recent clean-up drive in hauling off trash from the settlement.

THANKS!

The publisher and Stockman force wish to express thanks to all who so kindly assisted in getting in material for this week's issue of the paper. Thanks a million!

Sheriff Willis Slightly Hurt In Auto Crash

Jammed Accelerator Results In Smash Into Parked Car

Another in the long list of misfortunes that have dogged the trail of Sheriff W. S. Willis of Crockett County in recent months descended on the sheriff Monday night when his car crashed into the rear of a parked car, belonging to a local negro, in front of the Pleas Childress residence shortly before midnight.

Mr. Willis, who had been on a cruise over the town, was headed toward the business section when the accelerator on his car jammed. He reached down with his hand to loosen the pedal, taking his eyes off the road momentarily, and looked up to see the parked car in front of him, too late to stop.

Both cars were badly wrecked in the smash. Sheriff Willis was slightly hurt when he was thrown against the steering wheel of his car. He suffered three broken ribs and an injury of the nose.

Fire Department Quenches Blaze At Water Works

Sparks From Engine Exhausts Start Grass Fire At Plant

Ozona's new fire engine, manned by Fire Chief Joe North and his crew, got its third work-out last night carrying water to the water works.

A grass fire, starting from the exhausts of the big oil-burning engines that operate the pumping equipment of the Ozona Water Works, had gained considerable headway when the fire equipment was called, but the blaze was extinguished in a few minutes with water from the reserve tank of the fire engine. No property damage was done.

This is the third call answered by the fire department since installation of the new engine. In only one of these was there any property damage, and that was very slight.

BALL PARK IS IMPROVED AS SEASON NEARS

Field Moved Out, Score Board Refinished, Field Worked

TWO NEW PLAYERS

Pitchers, Outfielders Report For Practice With Giants

Baseball fans of Ozona are figuratively licking their chops in anticipation as a daily bustle is in progress each afternoon on Powell Field, where members of the 1936 edition of the Ozona Giants, under the leadership of Bryan (Slim) Harris, go through their daily work-outs in preparation for the opening of the Permian Basin League season.

A number of improvements to the park have been made and are being made as the season approaches. One of the recent improvements is the moving of the diamond approximately twenty-five feet farther toward the centerfield fence. This change was made in order to provide more room between the home plate and the back stop, to give fans in the grandstand a better view of the diamond, and, from the standpoint of players, to bring it within the scope of possibility to lift one over the centerfield fence when the home fans are crying for a "home run."

The score board, gift of the West Texas Lumber Co., and Kay Johnson, is also undergoing renovation. The board is being extended in the blank area opposite the balls, strikes and outs tally to make room for including the line-ups of competing teams. The board has been placed at an angle so that fans in the stands may have a better view and the whole is being repainted and repaired in preparation for the opening of the season's hostilities.

New Players Here

The entire playing field has been shaped and leveled and wire screens repaired. Carpenters were to start work today boarding in a section under the stands to be used for storing materials needed in maintaining the park. Ladies who recall the neck-blistering sun that trickles in through the open slats above the stand seats as the afternoon wanes, will appreciate announcement that plans are being

POWER FROM WITHIN

I've never met a person," says Dr. Preston Bradley, "I don't care what his condition, in whom I could not see possibilities. I don't care how much a man may consider himself a failure, I believe in him, for he can change the thing that is wrong in his life anytime he is prepared and ready to do it.

Triumphant, victorious living depends on our own inner attitude. One cannot climb up, while thinking down. One cannot develop power while thinking weakness.

At the end of his life, Charles Darwin made the wise observation that men differed less in capacity than in zeal and determination to use the powers they have. And it was William James, the psychologist, who taught that the average man uses only ten per cent of his potential ability. Few men energize up to their maximum.

The real person to blame for our failures is usually one's own self. We may rave against fate, conditions and bad luck—but it is just a waste of time. The secret of conquest is to turn on more power within. The scientists tell

HITS NAIL ON THE HEAD

It seems "advertising experts" have visited Rankin during the last few days trying to induce candidates and business men to buy worthless advertising on fans, and the Rankin editor has the following to say:

"It seems, locally, that the advertising business is lucrative for nearly everyone except those who are in it. We note that candidates and business men are being "asked" to buy fifty cents worth of advertising space (for $2.50) on fans to be placed in the churches of the county by a local agent. The agent says very little about the fact that the fans will be printed in De Leon, Comanche County, Texas. Most of the candidates have purchased space on the fans in this end and of course the scheme will also be tried in McCamey on an entirely different set of fans.

Every printing office in the state is probably a jobber of the fans, and as far as advertising scheme being unique, it is as old as the hills. What we are driving at is this, and we take it as well as the next one, why pick on the candidates who will be gouged enough during the campaign which they must make for office with every little advertising scheme, using the 'old army game' of the local organization sponsorship to raise the money or this and that and the other. And the poor merchant is gouged enough on this and that advertising proposition that in most instances is not worth ten cents to him.

You don't go to the blacksmith shop to purchase a dress with the idea that you will get what you need as well as your money's worth out of what you buy. A merchant don't purchase his groceries from a lumber yard and neither do Upton County candidates seek votes in Comanche or any other county in Texas. Why purchase advertising from anyone else except the local newspaper or printer?

Local people who are in the market for merchandise do not look up fans, song books and such to find the place to buy it—they look at a newspaper. Voters don't search out those things either to find who to vote for. If they don't know the candidates they have only to look at a newspaper to find something about them. It is entirely true that advertising must

Guards Placed Over Precious U.S. Documents

Historic Papers To Be On Display At Texas Centennial

DALLAS, April 1.—Guarded night and day by detachments of United States soldiers and Marines some of the most precious documents in the archives of the United States will be on exhibition in the Federal exhibit building at the Texas Centennial Exposition during the coming summer.

On display in specially constructed glass cases will be the Louisiana Purchase Treaty of 1803, the Florida Purchase Treaty of 1819 and the joint resolution of Congress of 1845 annexing the Republic of Texas to the Union. Diplomatic correspondence between the United States and the Republic of Texas and the historic report on the "Condition of Texas" made to President Andrew Jackson by Henry M. Morfit in 1836 will also be on exhibition.

"The United States government exhibit at the Texas Centennial Exposition will be valued at more than $25,000,000," says E. H. Burdick, Federal exhibits director. "The historical documents, of course, are priceless but there will also be shown the United States Post Office Department's collection of stamps, which will leave Washington for the first time. It contains specimens of every United States stamp ever issued, stamps of the Confederacy and as nearly as possible all stamps issued by foreign governments. It is worth some $10,000,000.

"The United States Navy will display $100,000 worth of models of war vessels each about 17 feet long. Scientists from the Smithsonian Institution will reconstruct prehistoric animals during the entire progress of the Exposition

She Pays Her Expenses With Prizes

Earning one's way through college is no longer a new idea, but winning one's way by means of contest prizes is certainly a new method of accomplishing this. The contest winnings of Miss Margaret Simpson, Denton, have been sufficient to cover the entire cost of her education at Texas State College for Women (CIA) where she is a junior in the department of Journalism. She is pictured above with her latest award—a five passenger automobile which she received as first prize in a national contest.

10,000 Applicat'ns Received By Old Age Investigators

10,000 Blanks Sent Out; Payments Start When Work Is Thru

JUSTIN, April 1—“Knowing business yet being courteous, field workers must understand the viewpoint of the many citizens whose homes they visit,” said Orville S. Carpenter, executive director of the Old Age Assistance Commission, this week explaining the setup.

Investigators have been calling the homes of applicants for several weeks now. Some 140,000 agents have applied, and as there were 10,000 blanks distributed, many more applications are expected to be filed.

We are sending men from the field office to the twenty district offices and are holding schools for investigators. Our field workers must have a thorough understanding of their work.

All investigators in a district meet with the men from the central office at the headquarters city of that district. Policies of the commission, the law itself, and technical questions are explained to the assembled field workers.

“We have a humane purpose. We have good workers. The commission is anxious for the aged to receive the most good possible from the old age assistance law,” Mr. Carpenter declared.

“Applicants are cooperating with us and they realize that we are doing everything we can to facilitate these investigations

Employees of the State Office and those of the twenty districts have been working fourteen and fifteen hours a day. As some 140,000 separate investigations must be made (and many more are expected to make applications), an enormous task faces the Old Age Assistance Commission.

“Payments will start just as soon as investigators complete their work as required by law. We hope to complete all investigations and approve applications before July 1,” the Executive Director said.

“Records of birth dates, property owned, cash in bank, residence, and citizenship (if the applicant is a naturalized citizen) should be ready to show the investigators when they call during the next few weeks,” Mr. Carpenter advised.

Life Of Bee To Be Visible At Texas Centennial

Swarm Of Bees To Be Housed In Glass Hive

DALLAS, April 1—The life of the bee, made familiar by Maurice Maeterlinck's classic, will be visible to visitors to the Texas Centennial Exposition this summer from birth to death.

A glass hive, every part of its interior visible, will house a swarm of bees. A hollow glass tube, four inches in diameter and twelve feet in height, will provide them with an exit from the hive to the outdoors.

The bees thus will be able to gather their nectar from the flower gardens over the grounds of the $25,000,000 Dallas World's Fair, return to the hive and there convert it into honey as the visitor looks on through the glass hive. Apiarians say bees are so intelligent they will recognize the purpose of the tube a few moments after they are placed in the hive.

The average cruising radius of a working bee is three miles, so the denizens of the Exposition hive will be able to fly over the fence of the fair and gather their nectar from private flower gardens if they ever get tired of the myriads of blooms within the grounds. Apiarians assure Exposition officials that city bees will return to the hive, even as they do those on farms. Apparently the bee is as self-confident as he is industrious, and never suffers from stage fright or annoyance, no matter how many people observe him in his most intimate activities.

J. A. Moore, director of agricultural exhibits, says that during the six month's run of the World's Fair the bee colony will produce any number of queen bees as well as workers and drones. Visitors thus will be able to see the bees elect their queens without ballots, and change their food where the selection is made to ambrosia, as far more fitting royalty.

TEXAS PECANS WILL FORM MINIATURE WATER FALLS

DALLAS, April 1—Pecans, of which Texas is the world's greatest producer, will be used to represent water in a large model of Niagara Falls at the Texas Centennial Exposition this summer. Millions of the nuts will travel over a precipice, tumbling into a maelstrom of more pecans.

A large map of Texas will be made of pecans as a feature of the Agricultural Exhibit at the Exposition. Open country and highways will be represented by unshelled nuts, while cities and other points of interest will be shown

THE AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC RANGE IS THE ANSWER!

Every member of the family appreciates wholesome, well-cooked food. It's necessary to health! However, few people realize, except the housewife, the toil and drudgery necessary to prepare three meals a day. Just think of preparing over a thousand meals a year beside the many other laborious duties of a housewife.

Many West Texas homemakers have found a happy solution in the elimination of unnecessary toil in the kitchen. Today, the modern mother can place an entire meal in the oven of her range, set the oven control and time control and return home hours later to find a “piping hot” meal ready to serve. This is the marvel of automatic electric cookery!

Texas Remembers Tragic Massacre With Observance

GOLIAD, Texas, April 1—The aged, stone walls of Mission La Bahia near here, from which 390 Texans, prisoners of war, were marched on Palm Sunday, March 27, 1836, to be massacred on the South Texas coastal plain, will be the background for one of the most impressive of the state's Centennial year observances.

Solemn ceremonies at the mission Friday, March 27, were held to commemorate the tragic event which decreed the independence Texas won less than a month later on the fields of San Jacinto.

The Goliad massacre came as Texas was waging its revolt against the tyranny of Santa Anna, the Mexican dictator. Colonel James Walker Fannin of Georgia was in command of the Texan force at Goliad when the order was received to evacuate the frontier post as Houston retreated from Gonzales to the east. The retreat from Goliad was started on March 19 but Fannin's force was engaged by the enemy at Colito. The battle lasted into the next day and ended with the surrender of the Fannin men as prisoners of war. They were returned to Goliad and imprisoned in the walls of the mission.

A few days later Colonel William Ward and a Georgia battalion, captured near Victoria, were added to the prisoner band.

At daylight on Palm Sunday, March 27, the Texans were roused from sleep and marched from the fort in three different companies, each guarded by a file of soldiers. They had been told they were going for wood, to drive up beehives, or to proceed to Copano and were entirely unprepared for the assault made on them when they were mowed down by fire from their captors' guns. Only a few men were saved or escaped.

Colonel Fannin, wounded at Colito, and other wounded men were killed in the fort.

15 Pct. Increase In Deaths Due To Auto Accidents Last Year

AUSTIN, April 1—Deaths from automobile accidents in Texas increased fifteen per cent last year, while the national rate showed a drop of one per cent, according to information in the State Bureau of Vital Statistics. In 1935 the deaths from automobiles totaled 1,148, while in 1934 they had jumped to 1,323—an increase of 56.7 per cent.

To date, statistics apparently have had little effect upon the motoring public. The evident desire to get there in a hurry, overcome judgment and prompts the use of power under prohibited conditions, with the consequent and lamentable sacrifice of human life.

Somehow motorists must be made to realize that a high-powered machine racing along even at legal speed on the highways is no more a plaything. A driver who is not held down to warning signs and highway regulations, that pedestrians are pests, and causes the operation of a car as though the driver is the only one on the road—such egotism is frequently fatal. But unfortunately, in many instances, the innocent and law-abiding motorist pays the supreme penalty for this type of folly.

When to this appalling loss of life, we add the million others who in the same period have been hurt more or less seriously because of the motor car, the problem assumes vital importance not only to the safety-first people, but to the medical profession whose members are fundamentally interested in the conservation of human life. Let us all cooperate.

Fort Worth To Have $5,000,000 Centennial Entertainment, Opens July 1

FORT WORTH, April 1—With Billy Rose, creator of "Jumbo" New York Hippodrome show world sensation, as director general, this city, "where the West begins," will spend about $5,000,000 for the entertainment of Centennial Year visitors to Texas.

The "Fort Worth Frontier Centennial" will be the name of the amusement attraction which Rose is creating for Fort Worth's part in the State-wide observance of Texas' One Hundredth Anniversary. It will open July 1.

"Not a pale carbon copy of the Chicago World's Fair, but a living, breathing, highly exciting version of the last Frontier," is the way Rose describes the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial.

"Stars of the stage, screen and radio with hundreds of beautiful girls gathered from over the state and Nation will mingle with big name orchestras and with the outstanding rodeo and circus performers of the world in this original amusement attraction that utilizes the Frontier theme in what is now being described by critics as the show of tomorrow."

Rose said. More than $2,000,000 will be spent on sites and permanent structures and at least $1,000,000 more on semi-permanent buildings including a Frontier City of the days of '49. Construction is already under way.

Ford Building to House Pageant of Transportation

Building operations are underway on the Ford Exposition Building, model of which is shown above, for the Texas Centennial at Dallas, according to officials of the Ford Motor Company.

The Central Contracting Company of Dallas, Texas, has been awarded the general contract for the Ford Exposition Building, it was announced today. The same firm was previously given the foundation contract. The plumbing and ventilating contract will be let later this week.

Excavation for one hundred twenty-one column footings and the pouring of approximately eight hundred cubic yards of concrete for the foundation will be completed this week. Erection of three hundred sixty-three tons of steel will be started immediately, according to officials of the Mosher Steel Company of Dallas, who were given the steel frame work will be completed April 12th. The building will be of steel, concrete and sheetrock. It will be completed for the opening of the Exposition June 6th.

The structure which will have a complete air cooling and humidifying system, will contain 55,000 square feet, of which forty-three thousand square feet will contain an interesting group of exhibits showing manufacturing and testing processes used by the Ford Motor Company at its River Rouge plant at Dearborn, Michigan. There will also be a pageant of transportation, dioramas showing the progress of raw materials from the soil of the Southwest to the finished parts of Ford cars and an exhibit from the Henry Ford Trade School.

An outdoor court adds thirty-six thousand square feet to the exhibit's total space. The court will be attractively landscaped with trees, shrubs and flower beds. There will be comfortable chairs and benches distributed in the court where visitors may relax in the shade under colorful umbrellas. There will also be a display of passenger and commercial cars and trucks in the court.

On one side of the Ford Building will be a group of nine reconstructed historic roads and trails known as the "Roads of the Southwest." Each unit of the series will be surfaced with an exact duplicate of the original paving material used on the roads which played important roles in the development of the Southwest. Included in the roads will be San Antonio Road, Fort Worth Pike, "Chisholm Trail," Butterfield Stage Road, Santa Fe Trail, Pan American Highway, Yuma Road, Magazine Street in New Orleans, and Main Street in Dallas.

ONE FORECLOSURE BY HOLC OUT OF EVERY 140 BORROWERS

More than $600,000 is being received daily by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation in Washington in payments by its borrowers located in every city and town in the United States on loans for relief of home mortgage distress during the past 2 1/2 years. As of February 29, total payments of interest and principal amounted to $246,795,297 or 73.4 per cent of the $335,669,010 total due the HOLC to that date since the beginning of its operations in the Summer of 1933. In the 24 business days of February, total payments were $15,179,851. March payments through the third week were running much higher.

Of the total of 7,295 foreclosure proceedings instituted by HOLC—out of 998,850 home owners to whom loans were made, 4,162 were described as having persistently refused to attempt to make settlements although "demonstrably in a position to pay."

The foreclosure proceedings, about half of which are subject to settlement, amount to one out of every 140 of the corporation's borrowers, practically all of whom were in default on their original loans from other sources, and therefore faced the loss of their homes when HOLC came to their assistance.

Woodrow Wilson May Get Army Quarterback Berth

Former Ozona Boy Is Star Of Academy Plebes

Bill Latham in El Paso Times—

El Paso is going to break into the sport pages of the nation's papers in a big way next fall when the Army eleven swings back into action in the gridiron battles.

Or Lt. Eddie Doyle of the Headquarters Troop, Seventh Cavalry, at Fort Bliss is mighty wrong.

Lt. Doyle is the end coach for the West Point team and he frankly admits that Woodrow Wilson, El Paso boy and former College of Mines star, is going places in Army football. Wilson is going to see plenty of action in the quarterback post on the service club.

Lt. Doyle predicts. "Gar Davidson, head coach, told me that Wilson needed a little more polish and then he would see plenty of service," Lt. Doyle said. "He hurt his ankle at the close of the season last fall, but in the game with Dean Academy, one of the strongest prep schools in the east, Wilson scored two touchdowns practically single handed."

Wilson was a utility man in the Plebe backfield, starting off at the No. 3 post and later being used at quarterback. He weighed 167 pounds when he entered the Academy, 185 now and should add another 10 before football season opens.

"The quarterback on the West Point team does no passing, but plenty of kicking. Wilson's style is peculiar, but he's good at punting and he's plenty fast on his feet," the Army coach explained.

The El Paso boy is quite popular with his classmates. In his studies he is outstanding, having graduated from the 20th section to the fifth section in his year there. Spring practice for gridirers will be called soon and all promising freshmen report out, eliminating Wilson from the track squad.

"El Paso's going to be proud of that boy before he gets through at West Point," Lt. Doyle said. He's not only a good football player, he's an all-round good student."

Woodrow Wilson, who is a son of Lee Wilson, former Ozona Buick dealer and now connected with the Schuch Motor Co. in San Angelo, is a former student of Ozona High School and a former track and football star for Ozona and Stanton High Schools. He was this year's captain-elect of the College of Mines team at El Paso, but went to West Point at the beginning of the school year.

[QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING]

"What is meant by a Bank's capital and surplus?"

The "capital" of a bank is the amount of money the stockholders have invested as owners of the bank. The Federal and State governments have minimum capital, and frequently subscribed surplus, requirements that must be met before a bank charter is issued.

In addition, the "surplus" of a bank is built up, usually out of earnings set aside to increase the protection of depositors. In addition, there are reserves for meeting known liabilities or guarding against contingencies.

The capital, surplus and undivided profits constitute an element of protection to a bank's depositors which supplements its policies of sound, honest management in safeguarding the funds entrusted to its care and applying them in useful loans and investments.

Texas Beauty Presents "Blue Bonnet Blue"

A new high note in fashion was struck last week when the Texas Centennial Celebrations presented beautiful "Blue Bonnet Blue" to the fashion world in a style show at the Waldorf Astoria hotel in New York City. Scores of leading stylists, designers and fashion editors applauded when lovely Janice Jarratt, San Antonio girl known to the nation as America's most photographed girl, appeared in this striking Blue Bonnet gown designed especially for the occasion by Vogue. Decorating the luxurious lounge were 250 flowering Blue Bonnet plants gathered near San Antonio and Corpus Christi and air-exposed to New York.

Official adoption of "Blue Bonnet Blue" by fashion authorities has caused the lustrous State flower of Texas to be introduced into spring and summer fashions throughout the nation. Thus enthusiasm for the Texas Centennial Celebrations, already evident in many fields, witnesses progress in the fashion world.

Ozona Museum Is Complimented In Centennial Paper

Curios and relics have been collected so abundantly by students of the Ozona High School that an entire room in the school building has been set aside as a museum and the museum has received special recognition from the Texas Centennial Review, a paper of the Centennial and published in Dallas.

Recent additions to the museum, as the result of increasing interest in the State-wide Texas Centennial Celebrations, include two skeletons of Texas cave dwellers, dating back some 3,000 years. Many frontier items are included in the collection.

Inquiry came from Yuma, Arizona, this week about the museum and about the ranching industry in Crockett County. The letter complimented the school on its effort to preserve, as such history can be preserved only by a museum.

A new home is nearing completion on the Joe Pierce ranch south of Ozona. The old house was razed to make way for the new.
