Mexican Fatally Wounded In Early Morning Shooting

P. Longoria Dead, Emmet Ramos Faces Murder Charge

Emmet Ramos, Mexican ranch hand, was released under bond following the filing of a charge of murder against him in justice court here Monday in connection with the fatal shooting early Sunday morning in the Mexican settlement of Paulino Longoria, 20.

The shooting took place in the early morning hours Sunday in the streets of the Mexican settlement. Longoria suffered three bullet wounds, two in the stomach and one in the right leg. The wounded man was rushed to a San Angelo hospital where he died from a hemorrhage at 11:10 o'clock Sunday morning.

An argument is said to have preceded the shooting. Details of the difficulty which led to the fatal ending were not brought out at a preliminary trial and furnishing bond. The case will have the attention of the grand jury at the Spring term of court.

Funeral services for Longoria were held in San Angelo Sunday afternoon, with burial in Fairmount Cemetery there.

Week Of Prayer To Be Observed By Methodists

Missionary Group Will Hold Daily Services Next Week

Annual "Week of Prayer" will be observed all next week by members of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, with daily services throughout the week.

Monday's observance will be a vesper service from 5:30 to 6 o'clock at the church.

Tuesday, a one-hour service will be held starting at 10 a. m., with the subject, "Our Comrades." "All Day Retreat" will be observed Wednesday, with the morning session starting at 10 o'clock and the afternoon session from 1:15 to 3 o'clock. A covered dish luncheon will be served at the noon hour.

Thursday afternoon, Armistice Day, will be a one-hour service starting at 3 o'clock on the subject, "Serving Him." Friday afternoon at 2:30 a playlet will be presented as the closing feature of the week's observance. The playlet is to be directed by Mrs. Stephens Perner.

The week's offering will go to the preachers retirement fund of the church.

Ozona's Annual Cage Tournament Set For Jan. 28-9

Coach White Lays Early Plans For Greatest Meet

Seeing around the corner from the football season, scheduled for its swan song locally about two weeks hence, Ozona High School athletic department is already set for the basketball season — and its annual cage tournament.

Dates for the 1938 basketball meet were announced this week by school authorities for January 28 and 29, Friday and Saturday. Invitations will go out in a few more weeks to schools throughout the West Texas area.

A handsome array of trophies and individual awards will be selected and every effort will be made to make the coming tournament one of the greatest in the history of the school, Coach Ted White declared.

Grown-Ups Are So Unreasonable, Opines City Lads Who Ran Away 'Out West' To Be Cowboys Only To Be Overhauled Here By 'The Old Man'

Grown-ups are so unreasonable at times! Can't seem to get the idea at all. Always gloomy — sure something's gonna happen to a feller, when he knows darned well he's plenty big enough to take care of himself.

Too young to be a cowboy! Pooley! Who says so? Just show us an empty saddle and a wild cayuse, we'll show 'em a thing or two!

Just two romantic lads who got tired of the hum and bustle of the city life in San Antonio and stole away "out west" to be cowboys. About fourteen years of experience behind them, they set out, depending on the bent thumb to get them to their goal. And the old thumb got the job done for better than two hundred miles, and then—"Jiggers, the old man!" And a sorrowful ride back to the city again — just another bubble busted — but just you wait, we'll show 'em — a few more years and they won't have anything to say about it— be afraid to when they see us, tall and bronzed and muscled, a-wearing a big-ten-gallon "Stutson" and a-swingin' a big six-gun on each side—just wait 'n' see!

But the "old man" caught up with the would-be "pioneers" via the long distance telephone about noon Tuesday, and Sheriff W. S. Willis intercepted the lads about fifteen minutes after the telephone conversation — on the west edge of town, industriously wagging the bent thumb at every passing car headed "Out West." And a few hours later, they started back to the city in dad's car—perhaps not altogether unwillingly as they contemplated the comfort and safety of home after two days and a night "on the bum."

Sadie's Out Again!

Gal From Tucson To Return But Says She'll "Be A Lady" Next Time

Sadie Foust, the gal from Tucson, who took the dilemma by the horns, so to speak, here last week when she attempted to gain possession by force of her automobile held "in hock" by a local garage for repair charges, has moved on — but promises to return — only she'll be a "lady" next time.

Friends "back home" sent the money to pay Sadie's fine, assessed in justice court here on a charge of drunkenness, and she left for San Antonio with the avowed intention of "beating up" her husband and getting enough money to come back and redeem her car.

Sadie was the object of a frenzied three-hour search over the countryside for sixty miles about last Wednesday night when she jockeyed Lee Wilson, manager of the Wilson Motor Co., out of the car to leave her under the wheel, and then roared away in the car. She was intercepted a few hours later at the County Line Inn 15 miles east.

"When she comes back, she'll have to take my word for it that the car is in good running order," observes Mr. Wilson.

WINS SALES PLAQUE

The Wilson Motor Co. is displaying a plaque awarded by the Buick Motor Co. for exceptional sales record since the business opened here last June. The local agency registered a score of 33.3 per cent registrations in its price class on Buicks in national rating, averaging approximately twice the average national percentage for Buick.

Jack Williams will be home over the week end. He is in school at the State Teachers College at Denton.

P.T.A. Presents 'Bobby Shaftoe' Here Tues. Night

Full Evening Of Entertainment Promised Customers

With the spectacular short play, "Bobby Shaftoe," the chief course, the Ozona Parent-Teacher Association promises to serve up an entertainment menu that will measure up to the best in the amusement world next Tuesday evening in the High School auditorium.

Based on the old familiar lines, "Bobby Shaftoe's gone to sea, silver buckles on his knee," the play is to be presented by a large group of children from the kindergarten to the fourth grade. The play is presented in three short parts: the proposal and rejection, the return, and the wedding. The costumes and staging of the wedding scene follow the style of 1800.

As an additional entertainment feature for the evening, a one-act comely skit, "Waiting for the Train," will also be presented by a cast of grown-ups and children. Both plays are under the direction of Mrs. A. W. Jones.

Miss Merle Draper will present a group of her dancing pupils in artistic dance numbers. Admission charges for the evening will be 10 cents for children, 25 cents for high school students and 35 cents for adults.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pierce have gone on a trip to Del Rio, Laredo and into old Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Miller of Snyder are here for a visit with relatives. Miss Alberta Kay, who has been a guest in the Miller home for several weeks, returned with them.

Early Day Ozona Resident Buried Here Saturday

A. A. Perry, Former Stage Driver Here, Died Fri. Night

Funeral services were held here 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the Charley Coates residence for Acrel Allison Perry, 70, an early-day resident of Crockett county, who died at 11:15 Friday night at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Collins Coates, on the Coates ranch near Fort Stockton.

Services were conducted here by the Rev. Eugene Slater, pastor of the Methodist Church. Burial followed in Cedar Hill Cemetery, with Joe Oberkamp's funeral directors in charge.

Mr. Perry suffered a stroke of paralysis early in September from which he never recovered.

Born in Franklin County, North Carolina, October 2, 1867, Mr. Perry was married January 1, 1888, to Miss Martha Ray. A year later, the newly married couple came to Texas to settle in Limestone County. They came to the West Texas area about 1900 to make their permanent home. In the early days, Mr. Perry drove the stage coach between Ozona and San Angelo.

Five sons and two daughters were born to the couple. The widow and the two daughters survive, the five sons having preceded their father in death, the last, A. K. Perry, 38, being buried here last April following his death in Long Beach, Calif., where he was accidentally killed in a fall from a building under construction.

The surviving daughters are Mrs. Collins Coates and Mrs. Ford Coates, both of Fort Stockton.

BRIEF NEWS

SONORA BAPTIST PASTOR TO PREACH HERE SUNDAY

Rev. R. C. Brinkley, pastor of the Sonora Baptist Church, will deliver the sermon at the morning hour at the Ozona Baptist Church next Sunday, it was announced yesterday by church leaders.

CLOSE ARMISTICE DAY

Armistice Day, next Thursday, will find most of the retail stores of the city closed in observance of the nineteenth anniversary of the World War end, it was indicated by a number of merchants who made announcements this week.

HALLOWEEN FIRE

Fire, believed to have been set by Halloween pranksters, destroyed the brush arbor covering picnic tables at the roadside park north of town Saturday night. The blaze was seen from town and the fire department made a run to the scene to extinguish embers. No damage was done further than destruction of the cover over the picnic site.

DAUGHTER TO SCHNEEMAN'S

Mr. and Mrs. Max Schneemann are the parents of a daughter born last Friday in a San Angelo hospital.

SON TO HUDSPETHS

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hudspeth, Jr., are parents of a son born Wednesday of last week in a San Angelo hospital. The newcomer has been named James Royale, after his great uncle, Roy Hudspeth, San Angelo rancher, banker and wool man.

DEL RIOANS VISIT

Rev. and Mrs. James F. Black, Mrs. B. J. Smith, Miss Patty Smith, Mrs. Roy Erwin and Mrs. S. T. Dawson, all of Del Rio, were Ozona visitors Tuesday. Rev. Black was former minister of the Ozona Church of Christ.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Henderson have had the exterior wood work of their home painted.

Postmaster Unhurt In Crash Of Auto

Postmaster J. R. Kersey escaped without injury last Thursday night when his car was wrecked in a highway accident two miles from Mertzon on the San Angelo highway.

A front tire blow-out is thought to have been responsible for the crash. The car careened into a row of posts lining the highway, barely brushed the first, crashed squarely into the second, skidded completely around and butted the third with the rear of the car, finally coming to rest on the side of the grade, right side up and still pointed in the same direction in which it had been traveling.

A slightly bruised cheek was the extent of the postmaster's injuries. The car was badly damaged.

Lions Prepare For Peace Day War On Sonora

Look Beyond Saturday Fracas Here With Grand Falls

Fresh from a 26 to 6 victory the past week-end over the San Angelo Junior High Crimson Tide, Coach Ted White's Ozona Lions are looking beyond the coming week-end's non-conference engagement with the Grand Falls aggregation to the all important Armistice Day classic with the Sonora Bronchos on the home soil.

The annual game with the nearest neighbor town draws more interest from players and fans alike than any other engagement of the season, and this year in particular interest is high. The two teams are both underdogs so far as district competition is concerned, with powerful clubs like the Eldorado and Junction Eagles and the Rocksprings Bulldogs sweeping them aside to fight among themselves for district honors.

The Bronchos rate with a decided edge over the Lions as favorites to take the Peace Day classic, but the boys themselves do not give up with the paper ratings as the only evidence. They are demanding proof on the gridiron and the chances are excellent for a thrilling contest with the two hottest rivals among the lower bracket teams this season meet on the field of combat next Thursday afternoon.

Without an abundance of information about the Grand Falls team, the Lions are expected to knock off Coach White's brother's aggregation here next Saturday afternoon. The game will get under way at 3 o'clock.

Captain P. C. Perner, with Leath and Montgomery ably assisting.

GOBLINS SKATE

A masked Halloween affair at the tented skating rink near the Mike Couch store, occupied the attention of the "spooks" who were expected to roam at large last Saturday night. But a few trickled out of the rink gathering to indulge in the pointless pastime of marking downtown show windows with soap. On the whole, however, the Halloween observance was quieter than usual, due to the combination circumstance of the actual Spooks Day falling on Sunday and the Saturday night masquerade at the skating rink. The only act of pure vandalism was the burning of the brush covering over the picnic table at the roadside park on the Barnhart highway, aside from the soap marking, a near approach to vandalism.

DAVIDSONS RETURN

Judge and Mrs. Charles E. Davidson and Mrs. Pom Seahorn returned yesterday from a visit of several weeks in Winfield, Iowa. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grimmer on the Davidson farm near Winfield.

Teams Selected For Annual Red Cross Campaign

Two-Day Drive Nov. 12 and 13 To Fill Roll Call Quota

Team captains to have charge of the annual Red Cross Roll Call drive in Ozona were selected at a meeting of the Red Cross committee here Tuesday afternoon. Four teams have been organized to canvass the town by sections, and Roll Call Chairman Eugene Slater expects these workers to exceed the chapter's assigned quota in a two-day whirlwind drive.

Friday and Saturday of next week, November 12 and 13, have been set as the Roll Call drive period, normally open from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving. Workers are confident, however, that the drive can be brought to a successful conclusion in those two days.

The quota for the local chapter is a membership enrollment of 220 and a financial goal of $390. The large financial goal was fixed with a view to getting a total of twenty supporting memberships of $5 each and ten memberships of $10 each. For each membership enrolled, the local chapter remits 50 cents to the national organization, the balance remaining in the local treasury to meet human needs. The larger memberships, then, mean a larger fund for the local treasury, as only the 50 cents for each member, regardless of the amount paid in for the membership goes to the national treasury. If the goal fixed is reached the local chapter fund will be increased by $280, with $110 to go to the national Red Cross.

The town has been divided into four sections for the canvass, the two highways crossing through the city being the boundary lines of the districts. A team captain has been assigned to each section.

Scattered Rains Fall In Section

Scattered rains through the ranch section early this week added considerably to the rosy outlook for the winter season on the range country.

The fall in Ozona was light, amounting to only .03 of an inch, but was heavier in sections of the surrounding country. Heavy rains were reported to the south and southwest.

'38 Dist. Music Club Convention To Be In Ozona

Mrs. Tandy Elected To State Board At Abilene Meeting

The 1938 Sixth District Music Clubs convention will be held in Ozona in the Fall of 1938, it was voted at the conclusion of the district meeting held in Abilene last week.

Mrs. H. B. Tandy, president of the Ozona Music Club and retiring district secretary, extended the invitation of Ozona to the district conclave. Mrs. Tandy also responded to the address of welcome by Mrs. Ellis Douthitt, president of the host club.

In the balloting for new officers of the district, the Ozona Club president was named to the state board from the district. Mrs. R. P. Wyche of Abilene was named district president.

Mrs. Tandy, Mrs. S. M. Harvick and Miss Nancy Dawes composed the Ozona delegation attending the convention. Mrs. Harvick as the local club's official delegate. Miss Dawes appeared on the Fine Arts program Friday evening, and the delegation contributed a stunt for the "Midnight Frolic" Friday night.

Traffic Tickets
And Crime

By J. Edgar Hoover
Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation

If you can get a traffic ticket fixed in your town, the chances are strong that many a dangerous criminal is going scot-free for his far more serious crimes.

It may seem far-fetched that such a minor thing as a traffic violation can be blamed for the system by which major criminals sometimes escape punishment. Nevertheless, there is a close affiliation.

You drive past a red light; the criminal robs a bank. The offenses may be far apart as night and day—but the method of getting them "fixed" is exactly the same. Both traffic law violator and bank robber have to get aid from someone with political pull. A political monkey wrench must be thrown into the machinery of justice.

It will not be possible for honest law-enforcement men to smash the influence of the underworld until an example has been set by the wiping out of influence from the upper world.

Once the "fixing" racket gets started in your community, it's almost certain that it isn't going to stop at the "fixing" of traffic tickets. The corrupt politicians who wink at traffic offenses, for the sake of possible votes, find it just as easy—and far more profitable—to wink at burglary, and blackmail, and even murder.

Scenes and Persons in the Current News

1—Dictator Adolf Hitler (right) of Germany and Dictator Benito Mussolini of Italy riding together in Munich, during the Italian leader's visit to Germany recently. 2—Welterweight Champion Barney Ross shoots a hard left to Cerefino Garcia's jaw during their title bout in New York in which Ross retained his crown. 3—One of China's "women of valor" who have answered their nation's call to arms, pictured at one of the defense posts near Woosung.

The prosecutor, or judge, who may be amenable to the influence of these corrupt politicians has the excuse that he does no more for the crook than he does for the honest citizen. For both he has performed a favor in time of stress.

The criminal feels the same way about it; if the traffic violator can beat the law, the bank robber should be entitled to beat the law.

"I've never done anything that an honest guy doesn't do," a bank robber once said before being taken to Atlanta Prison. "Sure, I've used every dodge I could to keep out of trouble. I've hired shyster lawyers, I've hidden behind crooked politicians, I've gotten people to go to the front for me. And what of it? Doesn't anybody do that when he gets in trouble? Suppose a fellow gets a ticket on a traffic charge? What's he do? He calls up some friend who's got a drag and asks him to fix things for him. Well, I do the same sort of thing!"

He was merely voicing the wide spread belief of the underworld that desperadoes should have the same rights to "square" and "fix" their cases that a traffic violator has to "square" and "fix" a ticket to Traffic Court.

The average citizen will argue that there is a tremendous difference in the status of the offenses. That, naturally, is true. But one must remember that there is also a difference in the way of thinking between an honest man and a crook.

No decent citizen would consider robbing a bank. To him such an action not only represents a crime against his community, but a foolish and thoughtless action for which he will be caught, convicted and punished. But there is every likelihood that he will, upon the slightest provocation, violate a traffic law and believe that it is his right to do so. And if caught he will use every possible means of "drag" to get out of the results thereof.

A crook, if he has any intelligence or shrewdness whatever, will observe every traffic law that a city possesses. He looks upon breaking a traffic law as a violation of every rule of common sense, for it may result in his arrest upon a minor charge, with consequent investigation bringing forth the facts of his past and a possible prosecution for more serious crimes.

However, he will, without the slightest compunction, rob a bank. That is his business. He thinks little more of a "heist" of this kind than the honest man thinks of breaking a traffic law. So now we arrive at a common plane.

When either the honest man or the crook does something against the law, but something to which he is accustomed, both use the same methods in attempting to get out of it. They hurry to find someone of influence to intercede for them.

Because we look upon a traffic law infraction as a minor and annoying thing is no reason who we should use underworld methods by which to combat it.

If the traffic laws of your city are annoying or unfair, there is a way to remedy the injustice. The worthwhile men's and women's organizations can demand that conditions be bettered so that the average citizen will not be constantly tempted to break the law.

However, if the traffic laws are fair, and you are caught violating them, who not be a good sport and take your medicine? If more persons would do this, there would be less of an incentive for men in positions of power to grant "special favors" or clemency. Moreover, the good citizens would have a rightful cause for complaint if it were found that "influence" had been used in the discharge of dangerous criminals.

For again, you must remember that the crook has an alibi. He says:

"What's all the kick about. We don't do anything that isn't done by everybody else. The average fellow gets in a little jam and he sits up all night telephoning friends to help get him out. We got in a little trouble—and we do the same thing."

And the corrupt politician, who "fixes" the cases of traffic law violator and murderer, has the same alibi.

Think how an honest law enforcement officer must feel after a traffic ticket is cancelled? His self-reliance, integrity and respect are lowered. He feels humiliated. The next time he sees some one careening through traffic he cannot help but wonder, "What is the use?" Steadfastness to duty is gradually washed away.

What of the "fix" in court? By-standers observe—they talk—rumors spread—the dignity of justice approaches decadence. If tickets can be fixed, so can petty thievery, pilfering, plundering.

The man who breaks the law and gets it fixed the next day in court just because he has "pull" is a purveyor of lawlessness. Faith in law enforcement and the sacredness of the law must not become tainted—the "fix" must go.

AFTERMATH

O, I am not afraid to die—
For I could see the whole world from the sky.
It would be very lovely—but then
I might wish I were back again.
—Joy Kirgan, Fairfield, Texas

THE SINNER

His sins were many and grievous,
You knew about them all.
They were open so man could read them
Like posters on a wall.

You were loud in your condemnation—
I gave no answer to you.
I knew of his sins for I saw them,
But I saw his suffering, too.

I saw him struggling in darkness
Beneath a thick black pall.
He sinned, but, Christ, now he suffered.
But you did not see that at all.
—Ella Vilosa Freeman, Dallas.

TRAILS

Trails that lead to Nowhere
Are trails that call to me.
Trails that climb the mountains
And drift down toward the sea—
Beckon me to follow
Their gypsy company.
—Muriel Harrison, Lubbock.

LITTLE HOUSE

Little house beneath the trees
Did someone's dreams die that you
Are left forsaken?
Did a soul who loved you
Tire of living, leaving you—
Shutters closed like poor dead eyes
Forever blinded?
—Mrs. J. G. Noel, Atascosa.

BEHIND SCENES AT A FOOTBALL BROADCAST

At left, Kern Tips, see sports announcer, makes ready to take the air at the Baylor-Texas A. & M. football game on October 23rd. The instrument in front of him is a grid-graph, electrical contrivance for quick identification of players. Beyond Tips is the Baylor "spotter". Gene Wyatt, color announcer, assisted Tips with the broadcast, and an A. & M. "spotter" was on hand.

Two engineers and almost a truckload of equipment are necessary to handle a radio broadcast of a Southwest Conference football game. At right is Harvey Wheeler, chief engineer on the broadcast of the Texas A. & M.-Baylor game, with duplicate amplifying facilities. His assistant is on the field handling a parabolic microphone to pick up band music and other color.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. What flag was used by the Texas Navy during and after the revolution of 1836?

A. On April 9, 1836, Pres. David G. Burnet adopted for the Navy a flag with the upper left corner a union blue centered with a white star and with 13 alternate red and white stripes. This was as much like the United States flag that it was often mistaken for it to the advantage of Texas. It was known as the "Commodore Hawkins" flag, and was used by the Navy until Jan. 25, 1839.

Q. Why was the Burnet flag design used instead of the de Zavala flag that was adopted by the convention of 1836?

A. President Burnet was not a member of the convention that adopted the de Zavala flag, the original minutes of which were missing after adjournment, and evidently did not know that Texas had an official flag other than that of the Navy, and members of Congress overlooked the fact that a flag had been adopted.

Q. Who designed the Texas flag of Jan. 25, 1839?

A. Although President Burnet often is credited with designing it, it was submitted to Congress by a committee of which Oliver Jones, Dr. Charles B. Stewart, and William H. Wharton were members. Historians differ as to who drew the design, but doubtless all members of the committee, President Burnet and others offered suggestions.

Q. Describe the present Texas State flag.

A. The Texas State flag is the flag of the Republic first known as the "National Flag of Texas." As described in the act of Jan. 25, 1839, adopting it, it consists of "a blue perpendicular stripe of the width of one third of the whole length of the flag, with a star of five points in the center thereof, and two horizontal stripes of equal breadth, the upper stripe white, the lower red, of the length of two thirds of the whole length of the flag."

Q. When and by whom was the present townsite of Liberty laid off and named?

A. In 1831, by Francisco Madero, land commissioner for the state of Coahuila and Texas, who was arrested for this at the instance of Col. John D. Bradburn in charge of the military post at Anahuac. Madero was soon released and resumed his work, changing the name of the place from Atascosito to "Village of the Most Holy Trinity of Liberty," which soon was shortened to Liberty.

Q. What reason did John D. Bradburn give for annulling the ayuntamiento (council) set up by Madero at Liberty?

A. He replaced it with an ayuntamiento at Anahuac, where his military post had been established, giving as the reason that Liberty was within the ten league coast reserve, a territory not open to colonization. He followed this action by placing the reserved coast under martial law.

Q. Who was the first alcalde (judge) of the municipality of Liberty?

A. Hugh B. Johnson, who was among the colonists who had settled there before the ten league coast reserve was established by the act of Aug. 18, 1824, and had made extensive improvements on lands to which they had not received titles, although the Mexican government had officially approved their settlement on Aug. 27, 1828. Bradburn's arbitrary treatment of these colonists as squatters assisted in bringing about the Battle of Velasco.

Q. When was the Texas Highway Department created and who was the author of the bill creating it?

A. The Texas Highway Department was created by the Legislature in 1917, the basic law under which it still operates, with necessary modifications from time to time, being credited to the late Leonard Tillotson of Sealy, then a member of the Legislature.

Q. How were Texas highways first constructed and maintained? When and why was a change made in this system?

A. Prior to 1923, each county built and maintained its own roads. In 1929 Congress appropriated a fund to assist in building roads over which United States mails were carried and in 1921 modified this act, requiring the building of roads aided by Federal funds to be under the supervision of a State Highway Department. A legislative act of 1925 met this requirement and placed construction of all state highways in the hands of the State Highway Department.

Q. Where is Kickapoo Shoals and why is it so-called?

A. It is a shallow on the Trinity River in Leon County where Kickapoo Indians had a village or encampment when Anglo-Saxons first saw that country about 1830-31, soon after which the Kickapoos abandoned their settlement.

Q. What name did the French generals, Lallemand and Regaut, give to their colony planted near the present town of Liberty in 1818?

A. They called it "Champs de Asile," meaning "Field of Refuge."

Q. Where was the last Battle of the Civil War fought?

A. At Palmito Ranch, about 12 miles below Brownsville, on May 13, 1865, when Union forces numbering about 800 were defeated by about 300 Confederates under the command of Col. J. S. Ford. The Confederate Army east of the Mississippi had surrendered, and the Union men were en route to Brownsville, and were not expecting resistance from the Texans who had not learned of the termination of the war.

Q. How far south along the Gulf coast did Pineda go in 1519 and why did he turn back?

A. He reached the vicinity of Vera Cruz in August, 1519, and found that Cortes was there ahead of him, having sailed from Cuba for Yucatan, Nov. 18, 1518. After an unpleasant encounter with Cortes, Pineda turned north, stopping at the Panuco River and again at the Rio de las Palmas. He explored the Rio de las Palmas some 40 leagues, and spent about 40 days studying the territory for colonization by Garay, governor of Jamaica, for whom he was making the expedition.

Q. Did Garay establish a colony on the Rio de las Palmas following Pineda's exploration and report in 1519?

A. He made two unsuccessful attempts from 1520 to 1523, but these were failures, largely due, perhaps, to his greater desire to acquire territory on the Panuco, where Pineda's report led him to believe the opportunities for acquiring gold and other riches and for profitable trade with the natives were greater.

Q. Who was in command of the expedition that Garay sent in 1520 to colonize the Rio de las Palmas?

A. Diego de Camargo, a former governor of Jamaica. The Indians there soon became antagonistic and Camargo abandoned the undertaking, later joining Cortes at Vera Cruz, with about 60 survivors of his party, in the recapture of Mexico City.

Q. How did Garay's efforts end?

A. He joined forces with Cortes and later became his virtual prisoner. He had lost his fortune and died in Mexico in poverty.

Q. When was Caldwell County organized and for whom was it named?

A. It was created in 1848 from Gonzales County and named for Col. Matthew ("Old Paint") Caldwell, who was in command of the Texans who defeated a large band of Comanche Indians at Plum Creek, near Lockhart, in 1840. Lockhart, (first called Lockhart Springs) the county seat, was named for Byrd Lockhart, of Gonzales, a surveyor of Austin's colony, who surveyed a number of grants in that section and acquired the land upon which the town of Lockhart is located.

Q. Who is heading the movement to raise funds for the purchase of land for the Big Bend National Park and what sum is to be raised?

A. Dr. H. W. Morelock, president of Sul Ross Teachers College

Alpine, is chairman of the fund-raising committee, which was created and is sponsored by the Alpine Chamber of Commerce. An effort is being made to raise $1,000,000 by private subscriptions.

Q. Why hasn't the State appropriated money for the purchase of land for the Big Bend National Park?

A. At its last regular session the Legislature appropriated $750,000 for that purpose, but Governor Allred vetoed the appropriation, giving as his reasons that the state was without funds and that the National Government had not obligated itself to spend any certain amount for improvements and maintenance of the park.

THE MEANING OF FRIENDSHIP

By Ora Louise Cox

Mr. Webster's definition of a friend reads, "One attached to another by esteem and affection; an intimate." If one is a friend—and he must be if he wishes to have friends, he must learn to attach and adjust himself to another person by esteem and affection. This does not mean to flatter someone, but it does mean to show your friend that you think of him affectionately and share his troubles accordingly.

"Friendship is in being a friend, not in having a friend." Usually, a person who has a friend, a real friend, is a friend to himself; however, many people wait until it is too late to show their gratitude to those who have done some kind or friendly act for them. This is chiefly, on the part of a human being's nature, his negligence, his carelessness, his inability to recognize friendship and visualize its possibilities when it "passes his way."

It may seem the natural thing to show less friendship and courtesy at home than in public. To me—and I am as guilty as anyone else—this is one of a human being's major blunders. At times, it is probably difficult to realize that one's family composes his best friends; nevertheless, this fact is true. For this reason, if for no other, we should feel grateful and thankful for a family and a home, no matter how humble it may be.

AN IDEAL PERSONALITY

By Jeff Fussell

In my mind I have created an ideal man, one whom I should like to resemble and one whom I should like to have for a companion. In the first place, he is very friendly, not only to his equals but also to those of lower rank. He is well balanced, not the sort who gets angry at nothing. He really enjoys doing things, accomplishing difficult feats. He likes to travel, to hike, to climb. He has a sense of humor and laughs often and smiles. His smiles make friends; he knows many people. He likes people too. His habits are rather regular; he meets his engagements on time. His hobbies are similar to mine. He has some instructive hobby, such as printing or music. He "keeps up" with current events, movies, books. As a companion, he has some desirable traits that I haven't. I could learn much from him. Never does he waste time, not that he rushes through everything, but he is steady. He is certainly not the "good old steady" type. He is more than I have named. Sometimes is rather dashing and thrilling; sometimes he is lively and spirited. Always he is unusual and vastly energetic.

NEW BOOKS

At last some of our new books have arrived. People are now crowding the library rail in order to get their hands on a good book. Among the new arrivals are G. H. Carroll's "As the Earth Turns," H. Daniel's "Head Winds," E. M. Dix's "Merrylips," E. P. Kelly's "The Christmas Nightingale," L. Hemon's "Maria Chapelaine," C. Dickens' "David Copperfield," and "Christmas Carol," M. S. Davis' "A Friend of Caesar" and "The Beauty of the Purple," H. Garland's "Trail Markers of the Middle Border," V. Stefanon's "My Life with the Eskimos," C. R. Brink's "Caddie Woodlawn," E. Hess' "Buckaroo," J. Massfield's "The Bird of Dawning," C. M. Yong's "The Dove in the Eagle's Nest," A. Dumas' "The Three Musketeers," O. Wister's "The Virginian," C. Meigs' "The Pool of the Stars," H. C. Forbes' "Mary and Marcia Partners," Jane Addams' "Twenty Years at Hull House," and E. S. Millay's "Poems."

Each of these books is highly recommended by the American Library Association in "1,000 Books for the Senior High School Library" and by the H. W. Wilson Company's "Abridged High School Catalog," most of them having double stars, being doubly recommended for first purchase.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPT.

The seventh grade girls, who are classified as Home Economics A. girls, are putting the "finishing touches" on their school dresses.

The Home Economics I students who are working in the food department this first semester have finished the breakfast unit and are beginning to study the supper or lunch. They plan to prepare a lunch and invite guests very soon. Notice, faculty, you'd better be sweet to those freshmen!

The Home Economics II girls are finishing their tailored dresses and have begun to study the current fashions that are appropriate for girls of their age.

The Home Economics III students are planning and preparing meals to meet the nutritional need of the family. This includes the study of dietaries for the person that is over weight, under weight, normal weight, a person having a cold, and one with anemia. This class is scouting about for the football banquet, although no date has been set.

Miss Moss, the teacher of Home Economics, said that there would probably be a show of some sort later in the year in order to let the Home Economics students model their dresses that they have made this year in school.

New Venetian blinds have been put into the Home Economics living room, and new draperies are expected soon.

Montgomery, trumpet; Jim Ad Harvick, trombone; Roy Henderson, Jr., trumpet; Dick Henderson, saxophone; Crystelle Carson, trumpet; Lurinne Townsend, clarinet; Byron Williams, clarinet; Willie J. Hubbard, saxophone; Billy Hannah, baritone; W. B. Robertson, trumpet; Doris Bunger, French horn; Ernest Brownrigg, saxophone.

WHY WE SHOULD HAVE GOVERNMENT

This topic can be explained by listening in on a conversation.

Teacher: If a person going out on a bicycle finds the roads rough or dirty, whose fault is it?

Pupil: The government's.
Teacher: Suppose somebody were to knock the rider down and take away the bicycle. If he could obtain no redress, whose fault would it be?

Pupil: The government's.
Teacher: Suppose a foreign enemy, in time of war, robbed him of it. Whose fault would that be?

Pupil: The government's.
Teacher: Suppose you bought a bicycle from a man who represented it as something different from what it was. If you couldn't peaceably make him exchange it for one as represented, whose fault would it be?

Pupil: The government's.
Teacher: Suppose you sold your bicycle to a person with plenty of money. If you couldn't peaceably make him pay you, whose fault would it be?

Pupil: The government's.
In the above conversation we have learned the two great divisions under which the functions and necessary actions of government come. They are (1) the protection of our rights and (2) the promotion of the general convenience.

NEWS

The Ozona Lions have played many football games this season and have lost a few of them, but after they made their first touchdown in the game against Rock-springs they have been in very high spirits.

They won the game with Menard and are determined to win about four or five more games this next month, especially since they took the game with San Angelo. They plan to have an average of 500 which, at the end of the season, won't leave them at the "bottom" of the list.

"THEY ARE OUT TO FIGHT AND FIGHT TO WIN."

PHYSICS CLASS

The physics class has been making experiments about the amount of water displaced by an object. An object that is lighter than water displaces its weight, and an object that is heavier than water displaces its volume. The weight of water that is displaced is found by dropping the object into an overflow can. An overflow can is one which has a spout in the side. Water is filled up to this spout. When the object is dropped into the water, excess water runs thru this spout into a beaker. This beaker is weighed with the water inside. The weight to the beaker is subtracted.

CAMPUS PHILOSOPHY

By Mickey Couch

It's better to tell the truth and run, than to lie and get caught in the act.

Money talks, but not in the presence of the man who has wisdom. The man who gets angry suffers more than the fellow who is object of his anger.

Every man who has saved $1000 is thereafter a safe and conservative man.

He who gets rich quickly, usually gets poor quickly.

Never judge a man by the clothes he wears, for many a patched pair of trousers covers an honest heart.

Friendship consists in being a friend, not in having a friend.

HAVE YOU READ THIS?

The auctioneer works in a glare of light from unfrosted bulbs, under which gems are endowed with a brilliant sparkle. The rear of the store is blocked off by another row of showcases, and it is back there that the real stock is stored and the strategy directed. When Duff knocks down a watch for $10, for example, and asks the chump or rummy—the Mid-town's names for its customers—to "kindly step into the back office for a bill of sale and guarantee," the chump is being consigned to a further "gypping"—a term derived from "hypodermic." The boys in the back are often able to persuade the customer to part with an extra $5 for "a much finer watch—a better buy at the price." And the watch he gets will be worth less than the one he paid $10 on, which may have cost the firm as much as five.

This may be found under "Auction Sale This Day" by Carlton Brown. —Reader's Digest.

RAH! RAH! FOR OZONA!

Were you at the Menard game? If you were, did you notice how well the pep-squad, band, and drum corps marched. We have been practicing hard this year so that we would make a good showing. We hope to have our march down "pat" when we beat Senor.

The fellow students are certainly looking forward to that game on November 11.

"The San Angelo Morning Times gave the Lions such a good write-up after the Angelo game that we should like to have it repeated here.

OZONANS SMACK JUNIOR HIGH BY 26 TO 6 COUNT
Ranch Country's Heavyweights Run Over Crimson Tide

By Joe Storm

San Angelo's Junior High's Crim-son Tide went out 26-6 Friday afternoon before a bunch of rawn-boned boys from Ozona High School.

Maybe, as a school girl from Ozona told a local lad in a hot sideline exchange, "little boys should be seen, not heard," but Dee Wilson, Angelo halfback, had a retort to save defeat. On his way to dressing room he said: "Cripes! We could beat anybody our size."

Anyway, it was Junior Hi's fourth defeat out of five starts, and a couple of big boys named P. C. Perner and Haskell Leath are largely responsible.

Capt. Perner, a handsome streak made three of the touchdowns and Leath made the other. Wilson plunged for Angelo's loan marker after Swede Chase snagged a pass from Stewart that netted forty yards and placed the ball about five yards from the goal.

Twelve Men To 11

It was a rough and tumble conflict with the weights decidedly uneven. After quarterback Curley Bowman was tossed out of the game in the fourth quarter for roughness, Coach Bob Blackburn of the Tide sent in Ray Elege who weighs an even 100 pounds. Coach Ted White then sent in Carl (Fats) Thurman, 232-pound, 14-year-old Ozona freshman; and some charged Ozona, at least according to size, had 12 men on the field to Angelo's eleven. But Pee-wee Elege was not to be frightened. With the aid of lineman Hill he layed the (Fats) on his back at least three times in making holes for backs who met sterner opposition from Perner in the secondary.

Once Ozona's Montgomery intercepted a pass and was well on his way to pay when little Ray grabbed him by the shirt tail, and a way they went, the two of them, for some fifteen yards before Monty hit the sod.

Score On Long Runs

Leath made his touchdown from his two-yard line after putting the ball there with a 20 yard dash. Perner scored with long runs, one an interception for 8 yards, another a left-hand skirt for 30 yards, and another the same way for 45 yards. He simply out-ran the boys and knocked them over when they got in his way. Montgomery was the best broken field runner on the grid.

Defensive stand-outs included Lee Standlin, rough and tough little Crimson lineman, who recovered a fumble among other things; Ozona's Schneemann, and little Bobby Baldwin, Angelo substitute who gave some big opponent a charley-horse near the end of the game.

Perner plunged one of the extra points and Montgomery kicked the other.

ASSEMBLY

"Jack and Jill went up the hill To fetch a pail of water. Jack fell down, broke his crown And Jill came tumbling after."

The above Mother Goose rhyme furnished the text for a splendid address to the high school assembly from Rev. Slater of the Methodist Church, Thursday, Oct. 28.

A caution against "following the crowd" and doing things because our friends and neighbors do them was well received by the high school student body.

Bill Hannah and Bill Carson played a violin duet, "Melody of Love."

THE PROWLER

By Maurice Lemmons
I wonder if Mickey C. likes a high altitude or the scenery up high?

I would like to know who that was that let the air out of the tires of my car last Sun. about 11 o'clock.

Lurinne T. must like bumper gates. How many did you go thru last Sat., Lurinne?

We wonder if Hack and P. C. had a good time in Angelo Sat. night and Sun. morning?

It seems that Crystelle C. and some of her friends must like the climate out on the Juno road about two or three miles.

Jack B., Lela Mae P., Howard L., William B. M., and Dorothy D. must have been practicing last Sun. night to be firemen.

It seems as if Haskel L. had a little trouble getting a fire crackler out of his car Sat. night. I think that the window might have been raised.

Will someone please give me a tip on who the dark, handsome young men were that were with Noma and Johnny B. Sun. night?

I wonder if Mary Frances could tell us what is so interesting at the skating rink, surely not the two cute boys.

Christine was seen with a handsome young man—Say how about giving the poor girls a break by telling them where you found him, Chris?

PICK-UPS

By Pete Perner

Jack: "Give me a match, Norman?"

Norman: "Here it is."

Jack: "Can you beat that? I've forgotten my cigarettes."

Norman: "Too bad, give me back my match."

Mr. Hollon: "Guess there's a lot of big men born in this town."

John C.: "Does the moon effect the tide?"

Phillip S.: "No. Only the untied."

Betty Lou: "What was the explosion on your farm?"

Mary Alyce: "I fed my chickens some 'lay or bust' feed, and one of them was a rooster."

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

Did you know that the United States produces three fourths of the world's corn crop? Did you know that in 1839 it took 193 minutes to produce one bushel of wheat, and in 1930 it took only seven minutes?

Did you know the yearly corn crop in the U. S. is worth more than all the gold from the mines of the world in one year?

Did you know that Illinois, Iowa, and Nebraska raise more corn than do all the countries outside the United States together?

Did you know that an American farmer could work 80 acres while the Chinese can work only two?

KINDERGARTEN NEWS

Come see our ranch house animals in the kindergarten. Chris Perner brought us nine little gold fish, which we are going to watch grow.

L. D. is our new pupil. We have twelve girls and fourteen boys going to kindergarten now.

We are going to have a great deal of fun on Hallowe'en.

FIRST GRADE NEWS

The first grade entertained their parents with a Hallowe'en party last Friday. The parents were invited to visit the room and were served refreshments by the children, assisted by their Room Mother, Mrs. Walter Augustine.

On Thursday we made a trip to town to shop for our party. We found all of the store-keepers very nice and courteous.

We wish to thank the mothers who contributed to our party.

SECOND GRADE NEWS

The second grade celebrated Hallowe'en with a gay party.

The room was decorated with cats, owls, and jack-o'-lanterns. Stories and games in keeping with the occasion were enjoyed. Clyde and Patsy won prizes for finding the most owls in the Owl Hunt.

Sammie Sue and Preston were also celebrating their birthdays.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Taylor Word, Mrs. Preston Williams, and Mrs. Sam Beasley, who served delicious refreshments of cake, hot chocolate and jack-o-lantern oranges to members of the second grade and the following guests: Mrs. Bill Hoover, Mrs. Sid Schwalbe, Mrs. Robert Weaver, Mrs. Jewel Miller, Pat Miller, Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. S. N. Crawford, and Betty Williams.

THIRD GRADE NEWS

Mrs. Hillery hillips, the third grade room mother, assisted by other third grade mothers gave us a Hallowe'en party. First we went through the hall of horrors where there were ghosts, witches, and goblins. Then we went to a room that looked very pretty with many Hallowe'en decorations. We ate apples from a string; played "Hallowe'en" and a pumpkin game, pinned the cat's tail on, and had our fortune's told by Mrs. Clarence Nelson, the witch. Finally, Mrs. Nelson told an interesting story and we were served pumpkin pie and punch. Our favors were Hallowe'en whistles, and we went home, making our part of the Hallowe'en noises.

FOURTH GRADE NEWS

Mrs. W. E. Friend, Jr. brought us two new flowers to keep for her this winter. They are a fern and a wax plant. We appreciate them a great deal; they help to make the room look prettier.

SIXTH GRADE NEWS

By Priscilla Jean Baker

The sixth grade had Glee Club. We practiced on a new song. In English Miss Martin is going to let the sixth grade have groups and give plays on Friday.

America's Youngest Freshman

Joanna Xenos, thirteen, daughter of a Chicago cook, is America's youngest college freshman this fall. She matriculated at Mundelein college. Miss Xenos, shown above, is working in the chemistry laboratory. She has been famous as a prodigy ever since she was seven years old.

Practical Cookery

Dept. Home of Economics
Texas State College for Women

Denton, Nov. 3—Unless there's a dog or a pig pen handy, every cook has the problem of left-overs. A little dab of this and a little dab of that can quickly crowd an empty box, and most people follow the pointless policy of keeping scraps a few days and throwing them away.

A vegetable loaf can solve this complexity, for vegetables, cereals, bread crumbs and meats can be used in this one dish. It can be served either hot or cold, but the sauce is usually served hot. Vegetable water and meat broth may be used for moisture in mixing the loaf and as liquid for the sauce, and if necessary milk or eggs may be added.

Corn Loaf

(Six servings) Drain the liquid from a No. 2 can of corn into a measuring cup and fill the cup with milk to make white sauce. Add three tablespoons butter, add three tablespoons flour and stir until smooth. Add the cup of corn and milk. Stir over low heat until thick. Add the corn, one cup bread crumbs, and two eggs (lightly beaten) to the white sauce. Season with one teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon paprika. Pour into greased baking dish and cover with one-half cup butter. Dot with butter. Bake in moderate oven 40 to 50 minutes. Serve with cheese sauce. If an onion is used, it should be finely chopped and lightly browned in the butter used in making the white sauce.

Cheese Sauce

Melt two tablespoons butter. Add two tablespoons flour and stir until well blended. Remove from the heat and add one cup milk. Stir over moderate heat until of the consistency of thick cream. Add one-half to three-fourths cup of American cheese grated or cut into small pieces. Stir constantly over hot water until cheese is melted.

Vegetable Roast

(Six servings) Mash three medium sized boiled carrots and six medium sized baked potatoes (peels removed). Mix in one cup boiled rice or grits, one cup bread crumbs, and one half cup left over fat beef (cut into cubes and browned with one fourth cup of finely chopped onion. Add one egg (well beaten) and one half cup beef broth. Season with one half teaspoon salt and one fourth teaspoon paprika. Bake in greased loaf pan 40 to 50 minutes. Serve with tomato sauce.

Tomato Sauce

Melt two tablespoons butter or bacon drippings. Add one tablespoon finely chopped onion and cook until onion is light brown. Add two tablespoons flour and stir until well blended. Pour in one cup tomato pulp and juice. Stir constantly and cook until of the consistency of thick cream.

Hail Popeye!

Denton, Nov. 3 — Popeye may well be the patron saint of many people in Texas' other than children, since this state leads the nation in the production of his well-advertised power food. Over six million bushels of spinach were grown in 1936, with a total value of $1,800,000. With Winter Garden Zavala and Dimmitt counties, as the center of this industry, the town of Crystal City has won a name as spinach capital of the world. Citizens there have even erected three statues to Popeye. There is a farm nearby of about 3,000 acres which frequently produces more spinach than any other state in the union. The crop is also grown in the lower Rio Grande Valley and around Corpus Christi.

Thirteen Days Off

Everybody likes a holiday, but does everyone know how many there are and when they come? Three state celebrations are scheduled during the year: Texas Independence Day on March 2. San Jacinto Day on April 21, and Texas Pioneers' Day on August 12. But the national holidays are more numerous. These ten include New Year's Day, Washington's birthday and Arbor Day on February 22, Jefferson Davis' birthday on June 3, Independence Day on the Fourth, Labor Day in September, Columbus Day October 12, Armistice Day on November 11, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

This One Has Points That Appeal

It's English in type but the floor plan presents a design particularly desirable for southwest Texas climate. Too, not a single square foot of waste space is allowed.

Those in the dining room have an appealing view of the glowing embers in the living room fireplace. In the housewife's workroom — the kitchen — there are dual cabinets over tiled drainboard. Separate entrances to terrace are provided for dining room, breakfast room and bedroom.

Specifications of the house, costing about $4,500, call for reinforced concrete foundation, insulation, fireproof roof and excellent plumbing fixtures.

The design complies with the rigid inspection of the Federal Housing Administration, and can be financed by F. H. A. loans through the W. K. Ewing Co., of San Antonio.

Production Of Well-Built Houses Aided

The Federal Housing Administration encourages the production of well built, well protected homes. Its standards are such as to assure the borrower that the benefits of mortgage insurance will be extended only when properties possess the qualities of sound value which will produce security and satisfaction to the home building public.

Consider Furniture When Planning Home

Color Consideration of Value For Pleasing Results

If you plan to use your present furniture in the new home you are going to build, this should be considered when the architect draws up the plans.

Harmony is an important factor in adjoining rooms and if you are planning on an informal modern dining room, when your living-room furniture is, for instance, formal Georgian, it would be well to choose a plan that has the two rooms well separated.

Color may be the keynote on which two rooms of the same general character meet. One may have figured wallpaper, while the other has plain walls of one of the predominating colors in the paper.

Carpenter, walls, and draperies may be identical with a difference in the type of furniture or the color schemes of the room may be reversed, such as yellow walls and blue draperies in one, and blue walls and yellow draperies in the other.

Questions and Answers

Q. How can I repair cracks in my concrete foundation wall?

A. Open up and clean out the crack; roughen the edges, moisten the old concrete and fill crack with mix 1 part portland cement and 3 parts sand mixed with just enough water to make a workable paste; when patch has set it should be dampened and kept damp for several days.

Q. Is indoor paint suitable for exterior use?

A. Outdoor paint can be used anywhere, but paints intended for indoor use should not be exposed either to weather or to air that is continuously moist. Paint for use outdoors must have qualities suited to exposure. It should have elasticity, that quality which allows it to expand and contract with extremes of temperature; also tightness which causes it to hold to its base and be proof against hard-driven rain; toughness to stand the beating of sleet storms and other severe exposure.

Q. Is it practical to replace ordinary glass with plate glass in windows with small panes?

A. Yes, it is. It may be necessary to increase the size of sash weights, as plate glass is little heavier than ordinary glass. If you use thin plate glass, however, the difference may not be great enough to necessitate change.

If you can't . . . PREVENT IT!
You can PROTECT IT!

The best protection is caution. The next best is insurance! Don't risk losing property and other valuables.

The LIVESTOCK SITUATION

by J.A. McNAUGHTON

Los Angeles, Nov. 3.—Declines that have taken place in livestock markets were not unexpected, yet the severity of the break in hog prices was far greater than members of the livestock trade anticipated. From an extreme top of $14.15 a cwt. on the Los Angeles market August 9th, the market declined gradually until the extreme top early in October was $12.00. The most severe drop in prices came during the last ten days, the decline carrying the top below the $10.00 level for the first time this year.

Statistically, the hog market does not seem to warrant such a drastic decline, for supplies of hogs reported at the leading markets are far below normal. There are many who believe that after such a spectacular decline, some definite upward reaction seems probable.

As this writer pointed out several months ago, extremely high prices for a few loads of prime cattle were bound to attract wide spread newspaper publicity to the detriment of the whole livestock structure. Many trade observers believe that unfavorable publicity attracted by a few high cattle sales at Chicago is the primary factor back of the present unsettled condition of the markets. Fundamentally and statistically, the livestock markets appear in rather a strong position, although of course, the livestock price structure must always depend to a great extent upon business and industrial conditions generally, and the buying power of the consumer.

Middle western demand for feeder cattle is somewhat unsettled due to delay on the part of the Federal government in making clear its agricultural policy, particularly in regard to corn loans. Here on the west coast, there is a healthy demand for replacement cattle, a factor which adds much to the firmness of the present cattle market. About 25% of the cattle and calves now being marketed at the Los Angeles Union Stock Yards are being purchased to go into feed lots and back on ranges and pastures.

Advantage Of Kindergarten Training Proved In Intelligence Tests Given First Grade Pupils Of Ozona Schools

Average Mental Age Is Advanced A Year By Early Training

By C. S. Denham
Superintendent of Schools
In a recent study of the pupils of the first grade the educational value of attendance at Kindergarten was proved.

On October 1, the Detroit First Grade Intelligence test was administered by Miss Jo Demmer in order to find the mental age and intelligence quotient of each child. The mental age of a pupil is that age at which normal pupils make the score made by the pupil in question. The intelligence quotient is the quotient obtained by dividing the mental age of a pupil by his age in years.

The first grade enrollment on October 1st was 33—21 boys and 12 girls. One boy was absent and three are boys retained in the first grade. These four boys were not included in the study.

Of the 17 boys included 9 had a year in Kindergarten in Ozona and 8 had not. The average mental age of those with K. training was, according to the study, 7 years and 6 months. Those who did not attend Kindergarten had an average mental age of 6 years and five months. Thus we find 13 months advantage in favor of the group who attended K.

For the girls who had the previous year of training the average was 7 years and 5 months as compared with 6 years and 5 months for those without. An even 12 months advantage is held by the girls of Kindergarten experience.

The intelligence quotient of the boys with Kindergarten experience was 111.5 as compared with 94.4 for those without. According to psychologists Perrin and Klein normal people range from 90 to 109 in intelligence quotient. Thus it may be seen that a year in Kindergarten brought the boys from the low of the normal range to the high.

The girls with K. training average 112.5 in intelligence as against 97 for those without such training.

One will readily detect from this study the value to a child of a year in a standard Kindergarten. The major educational purpose of this phase of a school plant is to provide for social adjustment on the part of the individuals. As this adjustment is being made the mental age is being brought to a higher level so that upon entrance into the first grade the child has a ready advantage. The intelligence quotient is likewise improved.

It is not suggested that every pupil must have Kindergarten training or that every one who does not have such training starts at a disadvantage. The are pupils in the first grade who had no previous training who rank higher than certain pupils who had such training. This study is based upon averages.

Proper Specifications Eliminate Case Delays

To facilitate the processing of new construction cases submitted for insurance, the Underwriting Division of the Federal Housing Administration has made public a list of the most frequent omissions and errors in plans and specifications prepared by builders and contractors.

Lack of essential information on many important points has hampered the efficient handling of business in many offices. Frederick M. Babcock, director of the division, explained. While incomplete cases are received in all states, the greatest difficulty has been experienced in states in which the Administration has not yet established minimum construction requirements.

Further study of Technical Bulletin No. 3, "Contract Documents," he said would assure the preparation and submission of the type of plans and specifications desired by the Federal Housing Administration. Copies of the booklet are available at all local insuring offices.

New Houses
"Approximately 50 per cent of the business handled by the Federal Housing Administration involves the insurance of mortgages on new houses," Mr. Babcock said.

"In handling such cases, the underwriting staffs must depend upon the plans and specifications submitted in determining approval or rejection of the mortgage. Specifications and plans also form the basis of compliance inspections.

"Adequate plans and specifications are a definite protection to every person party to a contract. It is for this reason, as well as for office efficiency, that the Federal Housing Administration lays such stress upon the proper and full preparation of specifications.

"While offices in which we have installed minimum construction requirements report decided improvement in the form and content of plans and specifications received, many other offices are finding them utterly inadequate in many respects. Many builders prepare specifications which are so brief and so vague as to give little clue to the method of construction to be used.

Frequent Errors
"The most frequent errors and omissions noted by the underwriting staffs are the following:

- "(1) The omission of drawings of wall sections;
- "(2) Incomplete description of the method of bracing and framing;
- "(3) Inadequate description of the sizes, types and grades of lumber;
- "(4) Inadequate designation of the quality of workmanship;
- "(5) Incomplete wiring layouts which fail to give specific location of all outlets;
- "(6) Failure to give grade and type of plumbing fixtures and capacity of heating plant;
- "(7) Incomplete specifications for flashing, counterflashing, and caulking;
- "(8) Failure to give the grade of roofing to be employed;
- "(9) Inadequate specifications for the type and number of coats of paint;
- "(10) Incomplete specifications for grading, sodding and walks, as well as improper indication of finish grade.

"It should be noted that the submitting of badly drawn, incomplete, and ill-conceived plans may result not only in delay in processing cases but may necessitate the rejection of the loan or a reduction in the size of the mortgage accepted for insurance. In order that houses may meet at least minimum standards of livability and architectural attractiveness, it is often necessary to require the redrawing of the plans. Specifications are also returned, in many cases, with the request that the method of construction be clarified."

GOOD-BY, PUMP MONKEY

Time was when you called the fellow who filled your fuel tank and checked your oil a "pump monkey". Nine times out of ten, he looked the part. But those days, as the saying goes, are gone forever. In Humble service stations, you'll find neatly uniformed representatives of the company, carefully trained in the service of your car, thoroughly competent to give you expert advice on its care. Their merchandise — Humble motor fuels, motor oils, and other Humble products — is plainly labeled and guaranteed as to quality; their service is a by-word among Texas motorists. These days, there are no "pump monkeys" in the Humble picture; that's a good reason why so many folks stop for service where they see the Humble sign!

Scout Notes

By Miles Pierce

Regular Scout meeting was held Tuesday night at 7:30 in the band house. Attendance was good.

Plans for the cabin, now under construction, were discussed. Work on the cabin started Monday of last week; foundation has already been laid and rocks are being placed. There will be long rafters across the top, made of knotty logs. The wagon wheel, which was used at the Tenderfoot Investiture ceremony recently, may be swung from the ceiling as a light fixture. There will be one big room for Troop assembly and four small patrol rooms. Decoration of the interior will be left entirely to the Scouts. The cabin is located on the hill east of the grade school building, facing east. After the dedication, the Scouts will clear the brush from around the cabin and may build a fence around it.

Ozona Troop 53 will go on an overnight trip to Devil's River Friday, November 12. But more about this next week.

After the business of the meeting Tuesday night, Scouts were given instructions in military drills by Mr. N. E. Rendall. Scouts of all the world know how to drill and it is important that we learn, since drills are used at every Scout convention, etc. We thank Mr. Rendall very much for his help.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deepest gratitude to the people of Ozona and Crockett County for their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy on the occasion of the death of our husband and father. Your loving kindness was a bulwark of strength in our hour of greatest need and we shall ever be grateful to you.

Mrs. A. A. Perry and children.

Among Ozonans attending the T. C. U.-Baylor game in Waco last Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Friend, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Doug Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Young, and Mr. and Mrs. Marbury Morrison.

Mrs. Jake Short is recovering from an operation performed in a San Antonio hospital the first of last week. Mrs. Scott Peters who went to see her was also taken ill. She returned home with Mr. Peters yesterday.

Tax Payments On Increase As Pay Period Advances

Over $1,500 Paid On County, State And School Taxes

With the tax paying period less than a month old, tax payments in Crockett County have been dribbling in at a fairly steady clip, according to Claude Russell, deputy collector in the office of Sheriff W. S. Willis.

Already more than $1,500 in state, county and school taxes for 1937 has been paid into the collector's office. In addition to this amount, there has been more than $2,500 in delinquent tax collections received in recent weeks to bring the payment record to better than normal.

The collector's office is expecting business to be on the upgrade in the matter of tax collections for the next three months, gradually increasing in volume as the deadline approaches at the end of January. Taxpayers who are delinquent may save additional penalties that apply December 1 by paying during November. Delinquent penalties increase with each month of delinquency.

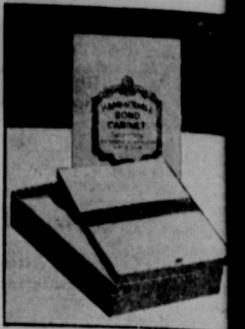

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Bailey and Mr. Bailey's sister, Mrs. Nora B. Gee, have just returned from a visit in Houston. Mrs. Gee is spending this week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bailey on their ranch in Pecos County near Sheffield.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Nelson have moved to the house previously occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dorley adjacent to the school. Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hannah are occupying the house vacated by the Nelsons. This house was repainted inside and out.
