Nearly 50 Pupils Enrolled For New Band Instruction

Nevins Hopes For Full School Band Of 60 Members

Band instruction as a part of the school curriculum got off to a good start with an enrollment of nearly fifty students for the band course under the leadership of James B. Nevins, graduate of Texas Tech and experienced band leader.

High hopes are held for the future of this phase of school instruction by the band leader, who has set a goal of 60 pupils, the number considered necessary for a fully instrumented band. Mr. Nevins is urging all students interested in band work to join as soon as possible in order to get all beginning classes started together. There is to be no tuition charges, music is to be furnished and class schedules and rehearsals are to be arranged during school hours and to avoid conflict with other school activities.

Uniforms for the band may be secured by November 11, school officials hope. Several plans are being considered for providing the uniforms as well as badly needed instruments, it was declared.

Enrollment to date in the band includes the following: Flutes—Bland Tandy, Mary Louise Harvick and Pat Tyler; Piccolo—Scott Smith; oboes—Ora Louise Cox and Dorothy Hannah; bass clarinet—Vernon Wilson; B-flat clarinet—Mary Bess Parker, L. Choate & Hogan Sell Crockett Pool Holdings

New Field On U. Land Brings $102,000 To Midland Men

L. H. Choate and Fred T. Hogan, Midland independent oil operators, last week sold four leases of 2,160 acres, with three wells, in the new oil pool which they opened last April in the extreme northwest corner of Crockett county on University land, for a total consideration of $102,500, part in cash and the balance in deferred payments.

Sale of the Choate and Hogan leases was made to the Gilcrease Oil Co., of San Antonio. The pool opened by Choate and Hogan consists of five wells, all pumps except Choate & Hogan No. 1-H University which initially flowed 62.77 barrels of 31 gravity oil in 24 hours through 2-inch tubing following a 160-quart shot at 1,425 feet. Choate and Hogan retain this well.

The new Crockett pool had no pipeline outlet, although it was only six miles south of the McCamey producing district. No new locations have been announced by the Gilcrease Oil Co. on their new properties.

Lions Prepare For Rugged Way Down Grid Trail

Local Eleven May Be Bit Troublesome For Touted Dist. Teams

No grass is being allowed to grow under the feet of the football charges of Coach Ted White of the Ozona high school Lions. Coach White and his assistant, Jake McCulley, are putting the lads through their paces each afternoon conditioning them for their opening practice bout with the Iraan Braves on September 17 at Iraan.

The Lions are going to jump into tough competition from the first kick-off and it's going to be tough the whole route, with no "set-ups" for weekend relaxation. For instance, the opener with the Iraan crew, always a strong contender for district honors in their own district. Then follows the San Angelo Junior High Crimson Tide, then district combat with Junction, then a night game with Big Lake. Next comes the rugged Rocksprings crew, as horny handed a bunch of lads as ever donned the moleskins. Then there's Menard, never a pushover, and the San Angelo Kittens, then Sonora and last Eldorado.

One Month Of Shooting Allowed Under Simpler Law

Hunters of this section of Texas are oiling up the old shooting irons in anticipation of the opening of dove season September 15. The open season on mourning doves in this section covers one month, from September 15 to November 15.

O. Z. Finley, game warden in this area, outlined the essential provisions of the game laws in a resume handed the Stockman this week. The bag limit for mourning doves is 15 in any one day and the possession limit 15. Doves can be hunted with shotgun only and these of not more than three-shell capacity. All repeating and automatic shotguns must be plugged to three-shell capacity, the warden pointed out.

Hunting hours for dove are from 7 a. m. to sundown. Duck season opens November 15 and continues through December 30. Shooting hours are 7 a. m. to 4 p. m., bag and possession limit 12.

All persons over the age of 17 must have hunting license to hunt with a gun, with the exception of those persons hunting on their own land, Mr. Finley said. Quail season opens December 1 and extends through January 16. Deer season is from November 16 to December 31.

Rev. Eugene Slater, pastor of the Ozona Methodist church was called to Rochelle, Texas, Wednesday to conduct funeral services there for J. P. Williamson, a pioneer settler of that community, Rev. Slater's first pastorate.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johnigan are having an addition to their home built this week.

Miss Riddle, who is a graduate of Scarritt college and George Peabody college at Nashville, Tenn., will serve the entire community, working among the Mexicans of the local settlement and among the underprivileged class of Americans. At present she is visiting the homes, cataloging families and laying plans for her work of uplifting the underprivileged class.

Plans have almost been perfected for construction of a community house, to serve the Mexican population particularly, and as soon as this center is completed, Miss Riddle will inaugurate a program of training for the Mexican people in citizenship, health, cleanliness, cooking, sewing, prenatal care and care of infants and children, and will organize clubs among the boys and girls for supervised play.

Miss Riddle's work is to be non-denominational and community wide. She has secured the cooperation of the ministers of all three churches in fostering the work. A mass meeting of ministers and members of the congregations of all churches has been set for 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church when Miss Riddle will outline her proposed work and show her plans for the community center.

REGISTRATION FIGURES DROP FOR SCHOOLS

Mexican School Shows Sharp Increase On Opening Day

47TH OPENING

Judge Recalls Development From Two-Teacher System

While the grade and high schools were registering a slight drop in enrollment with the opening of the 47th annual session of the Ozona schools Monday morning, the Mexican school showed a sharp increase in total enrollment over the opening day of the 1937 term.

A decline of 16 pupils in the American school enrollment contrasted with an increase of 29 in the Mexican school. The grade school dropped off 12 from last year's opening day total and the high school's total registration was off four.

Enrollment figures this year as compared with last show the 1938 enrollment for the grade school at 194 against 206 last year, and the high school at 83 this year compared to 87 last year. This year there were 138 pupils registered in the Mexican school against 109 last year. There are an estimated 15 pupils in the Powell Field area to be transported to Big Lake by bus.

The enrollment this year by grades is as follows: Kindergarten, 17; first grade, 33; second, 31; third, 19; fourth, 23; fifth, 27; sixth, 20; seventh, 24; eighth, 21; ninth, 15; tenth, 24, and eleventh, 23.

Schools opened Monday morning with formal exercises in the auditorium. Supt. C. S. Denham as master of ceremonies, introduced the new teachers for the term. Group singing was led by Mrs. H. B. Tandy and Miss Mildred Morris played two violin numbers, with Miss Ruth Graydon accompanying. James B. Nevins, band instructor, was introduced. Rev. A. C. Nance, minister of the Church of Christ, addressed the assembly, stressing the theme that the essential element in any success formula is "work." Judge Charles E. Davidson recalled that he was making his 47th appearance at an Ozona school opening. From a two-teacher school to one that ranks at the top of the list in Texas, Judge Davidson has watched Ozona schools grow and has been a moving factor in the 47 years of the school's growth.

COMMUNITY RESPONSIBILITY

Every person who resides in a community has a certain personal responsibility to that community. Whether or not a majority recognize that responsibility and the degree to which they do recognize it determines the development and progress of that community or its ultimate failure.

The people of any community, large or small, are inter-dependent upon each other for the forward progress of their community. No one person could provide all the advantages of community life—schools, recreation, law enforcement and governmental services, and the convenience of business enterprises. And without these, no person would be interested in building and making a home. Social intercourse is pleasant for most people and that is why they gather into communities. By their cooperative efforts, then, after they have gathered in communities, they provide themselves with the ordinary conveniences which we too often take for granted.

Too many people fail to recognize their individual responsibility to their community. Their failure increases the burden on their fellows and takes that much away from the cooperative effort necessary to keep their community progressing. It is more often than not short sighted policy to ignore one's responsibility to his community, for by his so doing he deprives himself and his family of the advantages that build up year to year in a progressive community toward making it a more and more pleasant place to live.

Not only do residents of a community owe it to themselves and to their fellows to use wherever possible the services of the business enterprises of their own community, but also they owe it to themselves and to their fellows to take an active interest in the affairs of the community, to stand for its progress, to speak a good word for its institutions wherever possible, and to shoulder their part of the load that must of necessity rest on each individual in carrying on the affairs of a community. Whether or not you owe your living directly to the people around you, you do nevertheless owe those people your best efforts toward the success of the community life.

Especially does this responsibility rest on the public servants of a community. Too often these public servants succumb to the flattery of outside interests, seeking their favor and a share of the public funds which they expend, and send business out of their community which would otherwise inure to the benefit of all in the end. This practice is a tragic example of the failure of an individual to realize his responsibility to his community—to the people upon whom he depends directly for his support.

THE TRAGEDY OF EXCESSIVE TAXATION

If anyone wishes to know why industry is finding it difficult to go ahead these days he can find one potent reason in the gigantic tax burden.

The American Federation of Investors recently made a study of 150 representative large corporations, involved in every leading line of business. The total assets of these companies amounted to nearly $42,000,000,000. Their capital has been furnished by 6,490,000 shareholders, most of them small investors with less than 100

Far Reaching Benefits Of Band Instruction Cited By Leader Of New Department In Ozona Schools

Nevins Hopes To Have 60-Piece Band Organized Here

By JAMES B. NEVINS Director Instrumental Music, Ozona Public Schools

Ozona, well known in the state as one of the leading communities in the field of education, is starting a department of band instruction this year as a part of the curriculum. Naturally, to have a leading band, it is necessary to have a complete instrumentation and to have an enrollment of at least 60 students. These students may be in any grade from the fourth up and with a few exceptions below that grade if exceptional talent is shown by an individual.

Rehearsals will not be held at night but during school hours, and there will be no conflict with athletics or extra curricular activities. I wish to urge all students who are interested in band work to see or contact me as soon as possible in order that we may determine what instruments are needed and to get all beginners started at the same time if possible.

If enough interest is shown by the students there is no reason why Ozona can not have as large and fully equipped band as any school in the state its size.

Music education is limitless in its scope and attains a value that can not be measured in dollars and cents. It is a learning process through which an individual undergoes a change and a growth, introducing him to a life enriched by music education. We are not concerned with what our children can do to music, but what music can do to or for them. Music develops, as no other activity can; appreciation of good music that is everlasting; training in group shares of stock. Their total number of employees was 3,171,000 in 1937.

In that year, the companies paid their common stockholders an average of $1.45 per share. And their tax bill amounted to $2.62 for each share of common stock outstanding—close to double as much as was received by the companies' owners.

Putting it another way, these 150 typical large corporations paid taxes amounting to $291 for each common shareholder, and $514 per employee.

Those cold figures tell a tragic story. Excessive taxation is depriving investors of revenue that would flow into the stream of commerce, creating purchasing power and business opportunities. It is depriving a legion of workers of productive jobs. It is an ever-growing barrier in the road of progress. And it is one of the main reasons why industry, in spite of occasional upward flurries, looks with fear and uncertainty to the future.

JAMES B. NEVINS

cooperation, loyalty, self-control, concentration and ability to study; ability of child to meet public and public appearance; ability of child to overcome bashfulness; a quickened mental response; poise, self confidence, character, true talent, and in some cases has proved to be an excellent cure for stuttering.

The public school in progressive communities today is recognized as a democratic institution maintained for the purpose of teaching youthful citizens how to live as responsible members of their community, not only during the school years but after they have finished school.

To attain this end, the National Educational Association has set up seven major objectives for the modern public school which today have become the foundation on which the work in the public school system is based. These are: (1) Health, (2) Command of the fundamental processes; (3) attainment of worthy home membership; (4) preparation for a vocation; (5) worthy use of leisure time; (6) civic education, and (7) ethical character. Therefore, the value of any phase of activity in any school system can be tested from these seven standpoints.

Let us consider band as an education factor on the above points:

(1) Answer this by observing the chest development and erect postures of the members of any school band. The training in breath control and lung development alone is worth all the effort involved. Drills and marches are beneficial to health.

(2) Dr. Charles Elliot, famous educator, has said, "The sight reading of music is the best mind trainer of them all." Sight reading and development of the senses of tune, tempo, and rhythm coordinate eyes, ears, nerves and muscles as no other subject can. There can be no mental sluggishness in the band.

(3) The primary social problem of today is to preserve the greatest of all American institutions—the home. Instrumental music furnishes entertainment and develops the spirit of cooperation, unselfishness, and obedience.

(4) The field of radio has opened a new field to musicians. The universities have recognized the importance of a good college band as an advertising medium and are now offering part and full tuition for their band members. Many students receive a college education by playing in the musical organizations of the school.

(5) Let us remember the old adage—"Idle minds breed evil thoughts." William J. Burns, nationally known criminologist, states that when he finds a city with a maximum of good music, he finds a city with minimum crime. George Bernard Shaw says, "If young men had music and pictures to interest them, to engage them and satisfy many of their impulses, they would not go to the low pleasures of the street." It was a warden of Leavenworth Federal Prison who said, "Teach a boy to blow a horn and he will never blow a safe." Employment of leisure time is one of the major problems of our day. That problem is solved when one knows how to play an instrument. Music breaks down social barriers because "Music is the Universal Language."

(6) Respect for authority and cooperation in action are the basis of both band training and civic training. To develop the band every member must cooperate fully with every other member. In no other activity must such complete group cooperation prevail to achieve desired results.

(7) Character and responsibility go hand in hand. Every boy and girl has a definite, essential responsibility in the band, in every musical part written. Upon the shoulders of each lies the successful execution of any composition. As mentioned before, respect for authority and strict discipline must be enforced in the minds and thinking of the participant, and these factors are influential in moulding the character of an individual.

July Farm Income Shows Sharp Drop

AUSTIN, Sept. 7.—Farm cash income in Texas during July, although greater than in June, failed to increase by the usual seasonal amount; and, therefore, the July index of farm cash income dropped sharply both from the preceding month and the corresponding month last year, according to Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director of the bureau of business research at the University of Texas.

Total farm cash income, exclusive of government payments, for Texas, as computed by the bureau of business research, was $28,802,000 in June compared with $30,989,000 in July and $43,806,000 during July, 1937. For the first seven months of the year the total computed farm cash income for Texas was $159,317,000, compared with $190,370,000 during the corresponding period last year, a decline of 16 per cent.

Current Issue Of 'Cattleman' Devoted To A. and M. College

FORT WORTH, Sept. 7.—High tribute for the outstanding part it has played in the development of the Texas livestock industry was given the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Texas today when "The Cattleman," official publication of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Inc., released its current issue as a special Aggie number.

Breaking a precedent in the makeup of trade journals, "The Cattleman" devotes most of the 76-page issue to A. & M. for the expressed purpose of "bringing about a better understanding and appreciation on the part of livestock producers for the school and its work."

Even the cover is so designed as to bring a thrill of remembrance to the many thousands of ex-Aggies scattered over the Southwest—carrying as it does a pictured between-halves "T", and a bar of the chorus and music from the school anthem "The Spirit of Aggie-land."

Nearly 30 articles and a photo section take the stockmen of the state on an instructive journey behind scenes in the institution which, as the magazine points out, is only one year older than the Cattle Raisers Association.

Tad Moses, for several years the editor and himself an A. and M. ex-student, has spent several months assembling the copy, and the issue marks the first time that he has contributed a personal column, an article of reminiscences of college days which he calls "I Remember."

Other writers, furnishing a rather complete picture of the school's methods, are college officials like Dr. T. O. Walton, the president; Col. Ike Ashburn, executive assistant to the president; department heads, instructors for the college proper, and officials of the Agricultural Experiment Station and the Agricultural Extension Service.

Texts not only include all phases of animal husbandry, but touch on such subjects as football—showing that many of the Aggie gridiron "great" have come from the cow camps of the Southwest. Joe Routt, all-American guard in 1936 and 1937, for instance, is the son of an association member.

Night football started in 1904.

Ministers Of Little Entente Meet

BLUED, JUGOSLAVIA—The various Foreign Ministers of the Little Entente which includes the three states of Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Jugoslavia, are shown during their meeting here recently, following which it was announced that important preliminary agreements between Hungary and the Little Entente had been reached. The agreements recognize Hungary's right to rearm despite the restrictions imposed by the Treaty of Trianon of 1920, and all four states renounce the use of force to settle disputes among themselves. In front in the group above are: M. Petrescue-Comnen, Rumanian Foreign Minister; Prince Regent Paul of Jugoslavia; Dr. Krofta, the Czech Foreign Minister; Princess Olga, wife of Prince Paul; and Dr. Stojadinovitch, the Premier and Foreign Minister of Jugoslavia.

Truck Driver Fined For 'Chasing a Cop'

AUSTIN, Sept. 7.—Since the Corrigan influence has invaded Texas, even traffic enforcement is reversed.

Captain Frank Albright of the state police reported he was closely followed by a truck while pursuing a speeding automobile on a highway near here. As the officer increased his speed the truck driver did likewise.

Finally the officer flagged both vehicles to a stop and arrested the drivers, charging the truck driver for "following a police car at 65 miles an hour."

Texas Women Join In Nation-wide Tax Reduction Crusade

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Texas women today joined forces with others in 29 states in launching organizations of the National Consumers Tax commission in what they termed "America's first nation-wide crusade against local, state and national taxes that are raiding the family pocketbook."

Announcement of the setting up of the commission, which has established national headquarters here, and statement of its objectives came from the group's president, Mrs. Kenneth C. Frazier, of Dallas.

Mrs. Frazier, long prominent in consumer campaigns in the southwest and active in the South-wide Association of Consumers, will cooperate with Mrs. Volney W. Taylor, of Brownsville, in heading the Texas drive. Mrs. Taylor, past president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, is Texas member of the tax commission's national committee.

Mrs. Frazier declared the commission has set as its goal enlistment of two million members working in units in every city and town in the country. She has plans call for annual membership dues of 60 cents.

"Throughout the country," Mrs. Frazier added, "women are showing an increasing impatience with politicians and other selfish groups who are still trying to tax the backs of the consumers."

Auto Clinics Seek To Correct Defects That Cause Accidents

AUSTIN, Sept. 7.—Auto clinics conducted by state police are testing 2,000 cars daily for mechanical defects which might contribute to traffic accidents.

Homer Garrison, Jr., assistant state police director, said modern equipment is being used by two units of state patrolmen in searching for defective horns, brakes, lights, wheels and windshield wipers.

He explained that the intent of the officers is to have the faults corrected rather than bring charges against drivers. The clinics, in cooperation with local officers, operate on schedules of from two to five days in Texas towns and cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. "Red" Wright of San Angelo enjoyed a fishing trip to Devil's river this week.

Paustian Praises Texas Plan For Control Of Traffic Accidents

AUSTIN, Sept. 7.—Texas is the first state that is establishing a traffic death record through an enforcement program, according to R. G. Paustian, University of Iowa engineering official who is conducting researches into traffic setups for the federal bureau of road roads and the national safety council. Mr. Paustian was in Austin conferring with state officials.

He told safety officials here that he was favorably impressed with this state's low accident record and efficient handling of traffic accidents and other favorable results gained through "its unique enforcement program."

Texas is the only state in which I have found an enforcement index-speed in relation to traffic movements and accidents used as a basis for placing penalties at high accident localities," he commented.

Mr. Paustian also commended state officials for their various classifications for chauffeurs in which applicants for commercial driving permits are examined for the types of vehicles they propose to operate. He said he plans to recommend to other states that they adopt many of Texas' traffic control systems.

The visiting official left Austin for Oklahoma City where he will examine traffic records of Oklahoma.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—BUSINESS — The key to tomorrow's business may lie in last week's headlines from foreign capitals. While the majority of Americans spent the week with nothing more than to clean up their work to get away for the 51st observance of Labor Day weekend, all Europe was tense as a new war scare gripped the continent. Hitler made an unexpected tour of inspection of Germany's fortifications along the Rhine opposite France and Switzerland no doubt to show he meant business in backing demands of the German minority in Czechoslovakia for territorial autonomy. Heavy fighting occurred in China as the Japanese army renewed its attacks in the Hankow area. Italy passed a decree ordering all Jews who have taken up residence in the country since the world war to leave within six months, even those who have acquired citizenship. In Mexico City, President Cardenas opened the Mexican congress with a denunciatory speech refusing demands of the United States for arbitration of payments for seized land, attacking the position of this country as an attempt to impose the will of the strong on the weak. Meanwhile, in America a fighting unit of the Navy was assigned to patrol the Atlantic ocean for the first time since 1932 when the naval scouting force was transferred to the Pacific.

WASHINGTON. — Officials here continue optimistic over the business outlook believing that more definite statistical evidence of the steady rise now going on in many lines will appear within a few weeks. Whether business can be lifted bodily into considerably higher sales volume brackets before next year, however, depends pretty much on three factors, economists point out: (1) The buying response of the public to the 1939 model automobiles. (2) Expansion in the capital goods industries, iron and steel, machinery, transportation equipment, nonferrous metals, lumber, stone, clay, glass, and the like. (3) The ability of the textile industry, now booming, to maintain this pace; observers don't overlook possibility that present business may represent merely stocking up in anticipation of the new wage-hour law as it did in anticipation of NRA.

BUSINESS SPEAKS. — There are 2,009,035 business concerns in America employing 30,644,099 persons, according to the latest statistical abstract of the United States. These two million companies—large and small—are the creators of America's standard of living, highest in the world. That they are being subjected to attack, observers agree, is due in large part to their failure to tell the public about their objectives and activities. There are always two sides to a story, but to date the American public largely has heard only the version of business' opponents. Therefore, announcement in New York by the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company that it is cooperating with consumer or other public study groups caused quite a ripple on industrial waters as marking a new era in corporate public relations.

The A. & P. in announcing a $2,000 contribution to an emergency consumers tax council representing women in some 100 New Jersey communities, told the public frankly that it is cooperating with "this and similar organizations dedicated to the protection of the consumer from further rise in the cost of living as a result of punitive or confiscatory taxes levied on independent merchants, chain stores, producers or distributors of any kind. We feel the great need is to help provide ways and means of bringing out the facts. The people will form their own opinions. To this end, we are planning to augment cooperation with consumer groups with a program of paid advertising in the near future."

Papers from coast to coast editorially are praising the move. Typical is an editorial in Newsdom, a magazine for publishers, which said in part: "Business has every right to present its side of the case to the public, just as has the politician. The A. and P. . . has a definite interest in helping to expose punitive or confiscatory taxes levied on merchants, whether they be independent or chains, and in assisting in informing the public that the taxes must be passed on to the consumer. It does not conceal its motives and that in itself is worthy of praise. Let business tear a page from the book of the A. and P. and speak out."

THINGS TO WATCH FOR: "Fuzz-less peaches," a new, smooth variety said to ripen a week or ten days earlier than the ordinary kind. . . A device which locks two auto doors simultaneously when a key is turned in one. . . A cap for medicine bottles that shows when the next dose is to be taken; a tiny steel ball in a ribbed groove is moved to the hour or half mark as a reminder. . . A new type oil filter for automobiles, said to cut down consumption, clean and recondition the old oil, thus eliminating the need for frequent changing.

HEADLINES IN NEW YORK. — Radio Corp. of America acquires rights to new patent which may overcome the almost "prohibitive" cost of establishing a network of stations for commercial television broadcasts. . . Nickel Plate Railroad defers interest payment on 4 1/2 per cent bonds; Lehigh Valley and Baltimore and Ohio railroads move for temporary scaling down of interest payments. . . California bonds sell lower as state supreme court approves inclusion of the "$30 every Thursday" pension plan on November ballot. . . Silk mills more active in August. . . Federal Surplus Commodities Corp. to purchase 10,000,000 pounds of butter. . . Potato growers in 15 late producing states refuse to support proposed AAA marketing agreement. . . Government takes loss of from four to seven cents a bushel as wheat export plan begins with shipment of 451,000 bushels.

Efficient Small Home

This dwelling, which is situated in New Rochelle, N. Y., was financed by means of a $4,000 mortgage insured by the Federal Housing Administration. The property was valued by the FHA at $5,250. While conventional in treatment the house has dignity and charm that will be enhanced when the effect of the landscaping becomes more pronounced. Each room, it will be noted, has cross-ventilation and affords a maximum of privacy.

FHA SUGGESTS SIMPLICITY FOR SMALL HOUSES

Important economies in small-home construction may be effected through good design and the elimination of costly and unnecessary construction factors, according to Howard Leland Smith, chief of the Federal Housing Administration's architectural section. Honesty in small-home architecture, he maintained, is far more to be desired than symmetry in architectural details. A desire for symmetry frequently produces complicated construction problems which add materially to the total cost. The owner of the small home, he said, will do well to consider simplicity from the outset, as excess maintenance costs caused by bad design add an additional burden. It is important that there be simplicity of design likewise in keeping the mortgage sound and the buyer satisfied with his purchase. Mr. Smith cited as examples of pure simplicity in small-home design the Williamsburg and Cape Cod types. "In these homes you find the utmost in simplicity," he said. "They are simple, straightforward, and honest in design, with no false front or sham to detract from their inherent dignity and character. As exemplified by these types, simplicity in construction can be defined as a condition where the exterior tells you exactly what the interior will be.

DWELLINGS HAVE TWO TYPES OF QUALITY

There are three fundamental items that enter into the building of a house. These are: Cost, size and quality. Quality may be divided into two types, that which is essential and that which may be termed luxury. Essential quality cannot be slighted if a house is to be durable and its maintenance cost low. Luxury items can be added from time to time, but essential quality must be built into the structure through the use of good materials correctly installed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. We are installing all new, modern fixtures in our bathroom. The room is paneled in wood. Can tile be installed in its place?
A. Yes. The wood paneling can be taken down, wire lath put up, and tile cemented to it.

Q. Is it safe to set wood floor beams right into the brick walls of a house?
A. Yes; if they have not less than four-inch bearing. The beam ends should be treated against moisture where they enter the walls. The walls, of course, should be at least eight inches thick to permit this.

Extra Windows In Attic Make Space Livable

A popular modernization project is the conversion of attic space into living quarters.

Frequently homes are designed with a view to future expansion of upper story is often not finished the quarters. In such cases the and is used for storage purposes or not used at all. When the owner desires to make use of the space it is often necessary to have windows cut to permit satisfactory lighting and ventilation.

If such is the case, an architect should be employed. If the owner undertakes to place the windows and to decide the size and type he may impair the design of the dwelling.

Dormer windows, when properly adapted to the size and design of a house, are attractive additions, but if out of scale or improperly located can distort the lines of a house.

WOODEN STRIPS USED ON GLAZED DOORS

The panes in glazed doors should be held in place with wooden strips or beads and not with putty alone. When beads are used there should also be a thin layer of putty used. This should be placed between the wooden shoulder against which the glass rests and the glass itself.

Constant opening and closing of doors will soon loosen putty and cause the glass to fall out. By using wooden strips the possibility of breakage is greatly reduced.

LEAKING FAUCETS

Leaking faucets are not only annoying but when certain minerals are present in the water supply are the cause of sinks and bowls becoming stained. As a rule they are easily remedied, for the common cause is worn washers. In the ordinary kitchen or bathroom fixture they can be replaced by taking out the spindle that is attached to the handle.

The LONG ROAD

The long stretches of Texas highways are an example of the special problems posed by driving conditions in the State. These problems, made more acute by the fact that motor oils and lubricants are concerned, have been solved by an organization with a thorough experience in the needs of Texas motorists.

Humble motor oils, motor oils and lubricants are manufactured in Texas from Texas crude oil produced by Texas. The people who guide these manufacturing processes are themselves operators of Texas automobiles. They know, from first-hand experience, what the average Texas motorist must have for dependable performance, and they know no store returned to give him products which he can depend on in every day hard use. Perhaps that's one reason why so many Texas motorists stop for motor oils and motor oils where they use the Humble sign.

The Humble products yourself. The next time you need complete stop at a Humble Service Station or dealer's and fill up with a Humble motor oil, try a Humble motor oil. Performance in your car will convince you of their exceptional suitability to your own kind of driving—you'll come back for more!

North Motor Co. CHEVROLET - OLDSMOBILE. Dealers: Tires & Tubes. OZONA, TEXAS

Nine Years Ago This Week...

The present management of this store came to Ozona. After a little more than a year of association with the people of this community, we decided to cast our lot among you, purchasing the store and building it up to its present position.

Naturally, we are proud of the progress we have made, proud of the friendships we have enjoyed and proud that we have the good fortune to live in such a splendid community. When we took over the store, it was in a decidedly run-down condition. Through your liberal patronage you have made it possible for us to build you a store of the first rank. We have bent every effort in that direction. We are by no means through. With your continued good will and patronage we hope to continue to grow with you and for you. It shall be our constant aim to build you a bigger and better drug store, one to which you can point with pride. "Never a backward step."
