Opportunity For Profit In Lamb Feeding Is Seen

Abundant Feed and Big Lamb Crop Combine In Favor Of Feeder

College Station, Aug. 24—“The approaching season offers an opportunity to Texas farmers and ranchmen in feeding out lambs, according to W. R. Nisbet, animal husbandman of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, who bases his belief on U. S. Bureau of Agriculture Economics figures.

“The last lamb season was unprofitable for most feeders,” Nisbet declared. “A year ago they were busy contracting lambs on the range but this year they are largely absent. Experience shows that the time to make profit thru feeding operations is to buy feeder lambs on a depressed market.”

The largest lamb crop since 1931 has been reported and range conditions have been well above average throughout the 13 western states, while the volume of fat lambs through the spring and summer has been sufficient to make mutton about the cheapest meat on the market, Nisbet said. Wool, which plays a big role in determining lamb prices, reached the low price this summer since 1935.

Though the 1938 lamb crop is large the rate of slaughter has and will continue to be above normal. The fed lamb season of 1938-39 will likely not involve as many lambs as the size of the crop would indicate. The outlook for an improvement in the wool market is good, the reports are.

“The spread between the cost of feeder lambs and the market for fat lambs should be good, and feeds suitable for fattening lambs will be produced in abundance in Texas this year,” the animal husbandman pointed out.

“Alfalfa hay and grain, such as milo or corn, is the standard lamb fattening ration. High quality silage plus grain and cottonseed meal can be marketed successfully through lambs,” he said. “Fattening a lamb means the sale of approximately 300 pounds of feed.”

Practical suggestions on all phases of lamb feeding can be obtained from county agricultural agents.

July Death Toll Of 139 In Texas Traffic Mishaps

First Seven Months Of 1938 Show Drop Of 145 From '37

Austin, Aug. 24—Texas' traffic casualty picture remains dismal in spite of regular monthly decreases in death tolls, state police said today, as they watched the July records rise to 139 dead.

While there has been a saving of 145 lives in the first seven months of this year compared with 1937 figures, traffic experts of the safety department declared that ruthlessness and recklessness have snuffed out the lives of 909 people on Texas streets and highways since January 1.

Because of holiday and vacation travelers causing crowded conditions and additional traffic hazards during the month of July, there was a predicted increase in deaths and injuries, but the 1938 toll fell short of the July, 1937, death rate by 15. Still, the officials pointed out, 99 per cent of these fatal crashes were unnecessary and could have been avoided had drivers followed simple rules of safety.

Cities are showing improved accident records as only 38 deaths occurred on city streets last month. There were 92 laid to open highway traffic. Intensified enforcement, educational campaigns and publicity programs were

RESIGNS POST HERE

Miss Nancy Dawes of Big Spring, public school music teacher in Ozona last year, has resigned the position to resume her studies at the University of Michigan where she will take her M. A. degree in music next spring. Miss Mildred Morris of Greenville has been elected to succeed Miss Dawes.

Dawes Quits Post Of Public School Teacher Of Music

Continue Study; Miss Mildred Morris Chosen As Successor

Miss Nancy Dawes, public school music teacher in the Ozona schools last year, this week tendered her resignation from that position to C. S. Denham, superintendent of schools. Miss Dawes resigned the post in order to continue her music studies in the University of Michigan.

Miss Mildred Morris of Greenville has been selected to succeed Miss Dawes in the local post. Miss Morris, who will be remembered by many Ozonans from her visit here this summer during the celebration, is a graduate of the Greenville High School with the class of 1935. She received her degree from Greenville Junior college and a Bachelor of Science degree with music major from Texas Technological college this year.

At Texas Tech, Miss Morris studied piano under Julian Paul Blitz, head of the Tech department of music, and violin and voice under Miss Myrtle Dunn. She was here this summer making an investigation with a view to locating here this fall to conduct private classes in piano. She was recently elected to teach public school music in the Abilene schools but preferred the Ozona position.

Miss Dawes, who has just returned to her home in Big Spring after a summer's work in the University of Michigan, expects to return to that institution with the opening of the fall term to complete her work toward the Master's degree in music.

“May I say again that I enjoyed my year in Ozona, the friends I made and the associations with the fine people there,” Miss Dawes wrote in her letter of resignation to Mr. Denham.

Ozona Girl Thrills Crowds With Roping Prowess At Big Lake

Miss Margaret Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Owens, Crockett county ranch family, took her place beside the men in the roping events at the rodeo held in connection with the celebration of Reagan County's 35th birthday last week in Big Lake. And crowds were properly thrilled with her performance as witness the following paragraph from the San Angelo Times “Windmill” column:

“She didn't win any outstanding laurels but she gained the admiration of the rodeo crowd! This statement refers to Miss Margaret Owens' performances

Crockett, Terrell Ranch Properties Sold At $8 Acre

H. Phillips Buys From N. W. Graham; Latter Buys Bates Place

Two ranch deals, involving lands in Crockett and Terrell counties, were completed here during the past week, with consideration in the two deals amounting to over $96,000.

Hilery Phillips purchased a six-section ranch, 35 miles southwest of Ozona, the former Cal Word place, from N. W. Graham at $8 an acre.

Mr. Graham has closed a deal for purchase of the F. C. Bates ranch along the Pecos river on the north boundary of Terrell county. The consideration in this deal was the same as that for the Crockett county land, $8 an acre. Possession is to be given November 1.

The ranch purchased by Mr. Phillips is under lease to Ralph Watson, Cy Posey and Mr. Bates have been operating on the land purchased by Mr. Graham in Terrell county.

Dorley Back After Summer Of Baseball At Bloomington, Ill.

Carl Dorley, once chief headache for opposing pitchers in the Permian Basin League while a member of the Ozona baseball club, has returned from a summer spent in Bloomington, Ill., where he played with the Bloomington team in the Three I league during the past season.

Dorley was manager and utilities man for the Bloomington club, during the course of the summer playing as catcher, first baseman, third baseman and in outfield positions. He accounted for a total of seven home runs during the season, which will not close for two more weeks.

Mr. Dorley resigned from the club to return to Ozona to resume his duties as building custodian for the schools. Mrs. Dorley and their son remained for the present in Bloomington, where she is undergoing treatment for a slight illness.

These two young men face each other for the final decision of voters in the run-off primary next Saturday for the Democratic nomination for the office of state representative from the 86th district. The district is composed of ten West Texas counties.

Second Primary Vote Expected To Be Swelled By Spirited Race For State Representative By Blackburn-Gilmer

Voters Have Choice Between 2 Fine Young Men For Place

Although there are no county contests to interest local voters and the hillbilly band having settled the governor's race in the first primary, voters in the ten-county area composing the 86th state representative interest in Saturday's run-off primary by reason of the spirited race being waged for the nomination as representative from this area to the state legislature.

This race is between C. H. Gilmer of Rosksprings and Marvin E. Blackburn, Jr., of Junction, both seeking the place to be vacated by Coke R. Stevenson of Junction, twice speaker of the House of Representatives, and now a run-off candidate for Lieutenant-Governor against Pierce Brooks of Dallas.

Both Gilmer and Blackburn are carrying on clean, dignified campaigns, discussing issues with voters and refraining from personalities or mud-slinging. Both are fine young men, native West Texans and both have the backing of folk in their home towns.

Gilmer shaded Blackburn slightly in the first primary, but it was one of the closest fought contests in the entire area. A third candidate in the race polled a sizable vote and both the run-off candidates have spent the past month at a furious pace in an effort to hold their first primary vote and take the lion's share of the third candidate vote.

Both Mr. Blackburn and Mr. Gilmer were visitors to Crockett county in the last two weeks, Mr. Blackburn last week and Mr. Gilmer the early part of this week. They have visited with as many voters as possible on these trips and their race is expected to bring out a considerable vote in the final balloting for the Democratic nominations Saturday.

The district is composed of Edwards, Real, Bandera, Kerr, Schleicher, Kimble, Menard, Mason, Sutton and Crockett counties.

'38 Soil Program To Bring $160,000 In Improvements

Near 99% Participation In This Year Range Program

An almost 99 per cent participation of Crockett county ranches in the 1938 Soil Conservation program has been registered this year, according to a report from C. J. Van Zandt, Crockett county agent.

As against 84 participating ranchers last year, there are 118 participating in this year's program, the agent said. Total acreage involved is approximately 1,020,000, on which the government recommended soil saving and grazing improvement practices are being carried out.

Storage of water by means of dirt tanks and header dams, which will catch and hold flood waters for the improvement of livestock watering facilities, has been the principal practice carried out in this county this year. A close second has been another water-saving practice, that of contour ridging and furrows. Cleaning of prickly pear is another widespread operation in the county, and clearing of cedar reseeding and other accepted features of the program are being carried out in some cases.

It is estimated that this year's operations under the soil conservation program will bring between $160,000 and $170,000 in government funds to this county, representing that amount of improvement to ranch properties, plus additional amounts spent by ranchers themselves above government allowances.

THE FARMER AND THE LABOR BOARD

When the National Labor Relations Act was being debated in Congress nearly four years ago, government spokesmen assured worried farmers that Federal control over farm labor relations was not anticipated under the act.

Further, farmers were told that it was going to be a means of preventing industrial strife. Thus agricultural groups were led to believe that factories would not be closed by strikes and that there would be no danger of any interruption in the flow of farm goods to factories.

Now, however, it appears that the farmers have been misled in respect to the functions and effectiveness of the Federal labor law. In the first place efforts are already being made by labor groups (with the apparent tacit approval of the labor act's administrators) to organize the farm workers and give them the "blessings" of the National Labor Relations Board.

TOO MANY HITCHHIKERS

sage of the act seem to prove unquestionably.

So serious has the threat become in one state that the State's Council of Agriculture, said to represent 80,000 farmers, has taken up the cudgel in an active fight against intrusion of Federal politics into the agricultural field.

Perhaps it is time for the farmers to give thought to allying himself with the groups already active in seeking the amendment of the labor act. It is as much to his interest as that of the business man that industrial warfare be ended and both the employer and employee be given equitable protection under the labor act.

TWENTY TO ONE

When the European war broke out in 1914, no one knew how many Americans sympathized with Germany and her allies. But two to one for England probably would be a generous estimate. Yet today, despite the disillusionment resulting from the World War, a current Gallup poll shows that—except for those who claim to be neutral—Americans are twenty to one in sympathy for England and France, as opposed to Germany and Italy.

If this sympathy had existed in 1914, America might have been drawn in the war earlier than she was. Whether this would have shortened the war or merely increased American casualties is a matter for speculation. But the present state of public opinion in regard to the European situation may assume much importance in case war should break out between the democratic countries and the dictatorships.

There is, of course, a strong movement here to keep the United States neutral in the event of another general European war. But neutrality and sympathy do not mix as well as they might. If twenty to one Americans continue to sympathize with Europe's democracies, as well they may, the problem of keeping neutral may become more complicated than it was in 1914-17.

More consideration needs to be given to relationships of this country to Europe in case of possible war. The question is: Can we help the cause of democracy in Europe without being entangled in war? The neutrality acts answer in the negative. Many people are willing to take the risk, and others are merely hazy on the subject. The last war failed to promote democracy, and there is no assurance that another will do better. But if war comes, it may prove hard to keep in check a popular sympathy of twenty to one.—Dallas News.

THRILL IN DEFEAT

AN ALL-EMBRACING ISSUE FOR EVERY STATE'S CITIZENS

When "purge-marked" Senator Tydings tells his fellow Marylanders that their decision on President Roosevelt's interference in their State's senatorial campaign "is the biggest issue you are going to decide in this primary," it is rather an understatement.

That is not alone the "biggest" issue before Maryland's electors. It is virtually an all-embracing issue before every State's citizens in this year's primaries and elections for National Senators and Representatives.

Mr. Tydings, who has been in the Senate since 1926 and served in the House for two terms before that, arrives at his "biggest issue" estimate by arguing that "the success of the President's invasion of State election would mean placing the representative branch of the Government under the Chief Executive's control. All of us—you, as well as I—are facing the loss of our right to be represented in the Federal Congress by representatives of our own selection, who can vote our views and those of no other... The Constitution of the United States contemplates that the people of Maryland shall elect their own Senator."

Those considerations are weighty enough to warrant the Senator's estimate of "biggest"—yet he himself suggests the premises for the conclusion here drawn that it is likewise the all-embracing issue. Should the Congress' personnel be brought (even more largely than it was between 1933 and the spring of 1937), under Executive control by Mr. Roosevelt's purge, "the Supreme Court issue would be renewed and the next time the fight for an independent judiciary would be lost, because the fight for independence in Congress would be lost."

Thus, not alone the legislative, but also the judicial branch of the Government would feel the crushing weight of excessive, extra-constitutional power lodged in the executive.

The hope—even the expectation—that the citizens of Maryland, New York, Georgia, South Carolina and other purge-plagued Commonwealths will meet this all-embracing constitutional issue right on primary and election days, is reinforced by several polls conducted by the American Institute of Public Opinion. Those inquiries showed the general citizenry determinedly opposed to the Roosevelt court-packing and governmental reorganization schemes—which are of a piece so far as concerns the grant of excessive power to the President.

That having been the civic temper in 1937, why should the people now turn about and elect a Roosevelt rubber-stamp Congress that would blunder into the very wrongs which they condemned before?—San Antonio Express.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

New York, Aug 24—BUSINESS Progress is still being made, though slowly, in the nation's fight for economic recovery. Operations in America's huge steel mills last week rose to 40 percent capacity for the first time since November. An estimated 24,000 men were returned to work in the Ford River Rouge plant. PWA predicted that work will begin early dates on about $800,000,000 of non-federal construction activity. Plenty of jobs there. Inventories of automobile dealers, according to Secretary of Commerce Roper, are now at the lowest point in four years. AAA officials believe that loans are now mandatory on the current cotton crop inasmuch as the price on 10 designated spot markets has fallen to 8.20 cents a pound. Such a decline in the purchasing power of cotton growers. Looking ahead, experts of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics foresee a gradual improvement for business during the fall and winter months.

THE SHOEMAKER — Today very few "shoemakers" actually make shoes. They repair them. The name simply is a carryover from the pre-machine age when the shoe repairman also was the man who made the shoes. In America there are some 85,000 shoe repair shops, owned largely by men of Italian or Greek extraction. This is more than there were in 1929, the reason being that in good times people often throw away shoes without bothering to have them re-soled or re-heeled. The demand for shoe repair work there fore improves when general business get worse and vice versa. It is estimated that the annual business done by shoe repair shops in America amounts to approximately $125,000,000, making an exceptionally low average of only $1,500 per store. About 35 per cent of what the shoe repairer charges for fixing a pair of shoes goes for leather, rubber and other materials. Total business done 20 years ago was $550,000,000 and 15 years ago $375,000,000. In those days new shoes were more expensive than nowadays, and people had their shoes repaired over and over before discarding them.

HERE AND THERE— If every American ate one more slice of bread daily, farmers could sell 50,000,000 more bushels of wheat a year. . . There are 15,240,000 work animals on U. S. farms, or approximately 2.2 per farm. . . Hot coffee is served in 96.4 per cent of American homes, hot tea in 87.5 per cent. . . From 1915 to 1936 the birth rate in the U. S. has dropped from 25.1 per 1,000 population to only 16.6, a decline of one-third.

SOFAS GOING UP—And chairs too. For reliable reports indicate that shortly after Labor Day, furniture retailers plan to advance prices from five to 10 per cent. The reason is that the cost of lumber and other raw materials has been going up during the last few months and manufacturers are finding it difficult to supply whole salers and retailers with furniture at former prices. If the expected increases take effect, furniture prices would be restored to approximately the level prevailing last year. The furniture industry has not suffered to the same extent as others during the business downswing of the last 12 months. Present estimates are that total sales in 1938 may fall only five per cent below the 1937 volume of $500,000,000. Such a figure indicates that America spends around $16 per family on furniture every year.

If All Autos Were Placed End To End— It Would Be Sunday

And All The Horns Would Be Blowing; Opines State Police Statistician

Austin, Aug. 24— State police statisticians, with fingers crossed, offer this information to Texas drivers:

There are 189,300 miles of high ways, roads and streets in Texas over which one and a quarter million vehicles travel. If all these vehicles were jammed bumper to bumper the line would reach 3,000 miles, or over three times the distance from El Paso to Texarkana.

Furthermore, the statisticians opined, if the horns of these vehicles were blowing at one time it would be Sunday afternoon.

One accident recorder, quoting scientists on their findings that human intelligence is 40,000 years old, laughingly pointed out that there are many drivers who still believe that the blowing of horns will untangle traffic jams.

Americans Seeing America First, Says Reports Of A. A. A.

The summer of 1938 has shown a marked increase in auto travel in all parts of the country, according to reports from the American Automobile Association. Europe's unsettled condition has prompted Americans to do as they have often been told: "See America First."

This great movement of motorists from place to place under the touring counsel of the AAA has been of great benefit to many businesses in all communities. A survey was recently made by Mr. E. S. C. Coppock, San Antonio manager for the AAA, and his study reveals a steady influx of tourists to the Southwest from all parts of the country. The money that these travelers spend has brought about an improvement in hotels, tourists courts, service stations, and eating places, as these firms became able to spend for improvements due to their increased volume of business.

Mr. Coppock urges all communities to make an organized effort to cater to visiting motorists. The seasoned traveler is always greatly influenced by appearances and will offer stop to trade where he sees a well-kept, inviting, restaurant, shop, etc.

AAA's national membership of 1,200,000 motorists is being constantly urged to visit the scenic Southwest. Towns prepared to cater to these "good spenders" will benefit materially. In the report to this paper, the San Antonio office of AAA expressed a desire to cooperate with the business firms and citizens of this territory in promoting tourist travel.

Washington Predicts Little Change In '39 Conservation Program

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—So well pleased are ranchmen over the working of the range provisions in the 1938 AAA program that the one in 1939 will be little changed if at all, according to Grover B. Hill of Amarillo.

Mr. Hill, who by his stature, bearing, heartiness of speech and habit of dress is easily spotted here in Washington as not only a Westerner but as a Texan, has been one of a delegation aiding Secretary Wallace draft next year's AAA program. He has remained in Washington until this week to work on details connected with range plans.

"We have quite a number of counties in Texas," Mr. Hill said, "with 100 per cent participation in the range program. In this state alone ranchmen, with the aid of county and district agents, have constructed some 10,000 stock dams. The small number of these dams washed out in the recent heavy rains are negligible."

Mr. Hill believes that these dams not only conserve and give better distribution of water for stock, but that they form the second step in flood control, the first step being the principle of terracing or the construction and preservation of contour ridges.

THIS TAVERN OBSERVES THE LAWS

When you drink Beer in a tavern...choose your tavern

WHEN YOU restrict your patronage to legal, respectable retail outlets, you not only encourage those better outlets but you've made a start toward driving out the bad spots in your community.

And that is exactly the aim of the great body of honest retailers of beer who, along with the brewers, recognize that Beer's only problem is to remove the anti-social conditions that sometimes surround its sale.

Existing laws can curb these evils. Help us by demanding their strict enforcement! Sales to minors, or after legal hours...or use of a beer license as a screen, for selling illicit liquor or for operating an illicit resort... all these are violations of the law and should be stopped. Public opinion, once aroused, can see that such practices are stopped!

Soundproofing Adds Comfort To Residence

The practice of dedicating a portion of the basement to recreational use has increased the necessity for noise control in the home.

Livability may be enhanced perceptibly by the use of sound absorbing plaster in rooms of this type, as well as in nurseries, bedrooms, telephone recesses, and other sections of the house where sound control is desirable.

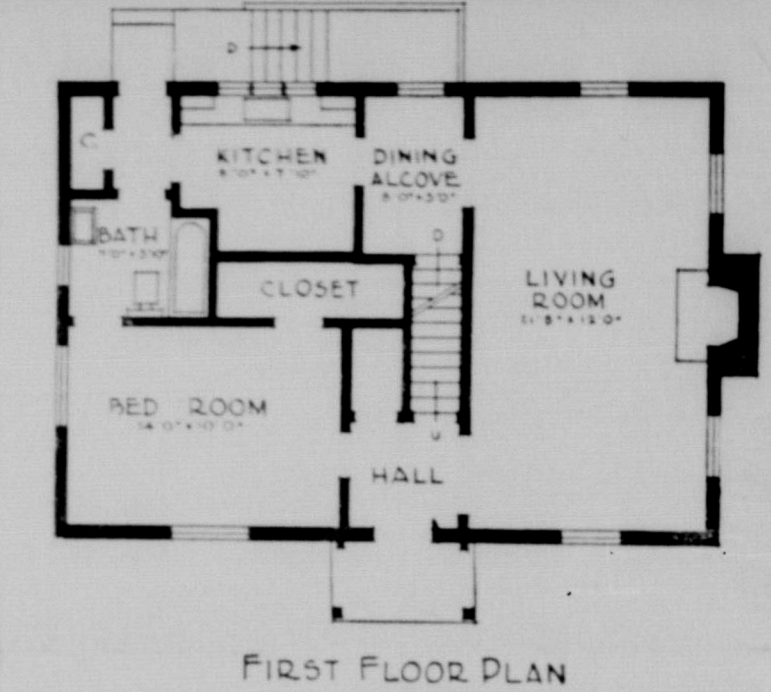

Air pockets in the plaster prevent the deflation of sound waves, thus deadening them without excessive vibration and controlling the sound within a room. It may be had in white or colors, and its finished surface is of proper hardness to withstand normal wear and tear.

Green Is America's Favorite Roof Color

Green is America's favorite roof color. Second place goes to color blends, and third to blue-black shingles.

This is the most recent verdict of 2250 typical homeowners in seventeen representative cities, according to a survey conducted by the Ross Federal Research Corporation.

The replies showed that more than a third of all those interviewed selected a green shade of shingle—exactly 37 per cent preferred that color to the other four most popular color shades. Color blends, a mixed color shingle, received 28.71 per cent of all voted

There is really more to this little dwelling than meets the eye at first glance. It has a full basement and an unfinished second story that may be developed into two additional bedrooms and bath when the occasion demands. Also featured is the exceptionally large amount of closet space.

The house is located in Columbus, Ohio, and was appraised at $4,175. The Federal Housing Administration has insured a mortgage on it of $2,700.

Miss Elizabeth Coose has returned from San Antonio where she has been attending Draughtons Business College the past three months.

for second place, and blue-black with 17.14 and red with 15.06 per cent polled positions three and four. Gray shingles received 1.18 per cent of all votes and all others less than one half of one per cent.

An oblong room that has sufficient width to accommodate the necessary fixtures on both sides is generally more efficient than a square one. Ample light and ventilation are essential. Where there is no cross ventilation possible, some positive means of air circulation, such as a fan in the wall, should be installed to carry off cooking odors and hot air.

Brick walls of old houses frequently crack, or the mortar becomes loose throughout large sections of the wall. When this is noted, the home owner should not attempt to correct the faults himself but should call in a brick mason to estimate the extent of the damage and make the required repairs.

GROUP PLUMBING DESIRABLE FEATURE

The Federal Housing Administration stresses the desirability of the home that is planned for efficiency and privacy. In attaining these two qualities it is frequently possible to save money. This is often done, in the case of a single story house, by grouping the plumbing.

In the single story dwelling the bathroom should be backed against the wall of the kitchen sink. When this is done installation costs are lessened due to the saving in water and waste lines. When the house has two or more floors the bath should be placed above the kitchen.

To enhance privacy as well as livability, the bath should be so located that it is not necessary to pass through any room to reach it.

CORK TILE PANELING FOR DECORATIVE USE

Pleasingly different effects in paneled interiors may be achieved by making use of cork tile.

The cork comes in a variety of handy lengths and is easily applied to the wall surface. The colors are natural, soft brown tones.

A wide range of materials are available to the home owner who wishes to do over room decorations. These include among others, plywood, wallboard, paint, paper, cork, and others.

Q. The baseboard in our living room has cracks in it. Can something be used so that when it is repainted these will not show?

A. Yes. Various plastic materials may be used to fill the cracks, such as plastic wood, glue and saw dust.

A DUTY—A PRIVILEGE VOTE SATURDAY!
An Editorial

Fewer candidates in the field make less noise—the individual voter's candidate lost out in the first primary—the governor's race settled, and—well, what's the use anyway?
So, the voter who was that enthusiastic in the first primary and his interest lagging when the second, or run-off primary came along, and he just stays away from the polls or forgets to cast his ballot. And thus a sprinkling of the state's voting strength is left to register the final choice for the selection of men for highly important executive, judicial and legislative offices in the state's government.

Although the din of the political office seekers is not so pronounced after the field has been narrowed by the first primary, the run-off is perhaps more important to the voter than the first. That election means the final decision. True, in theory at least, the field has been narrowed to the two best men in the race, but the millennium has come if these two men are of such calibre that it makes no difference at all which is elected. There is a difference in human nature and it takes a majority of the people in a democracy to pick the best one of two men.

If, on the other hand, a bare handful of voters express a choice it leaves a doubt on the selection.

If, then, your candidate was eliminated in the first primary, it is your duty to study the two selected by the majority as the best in the running, form your opinion as to the best of the two and cast your vote in accordance with your judgment.

In the election next Saturday, Crockett county voters must help decide a very important question—that of who is to represent them in the House of Representatives at Austin. Two splendid young men are candidates for the office. One is going to be elected for a two-year term next Saturday—for the Democratic nomination is tantamount to election—and the voter who stays away from the polls has no complaint to make if the man of his choice is not elected. On the other hand, if he casts his ballot and loses, he has done his duty and has been overruled by the majority, and if things don't work out right his conscience is clear. The same is true in the other state races on the ballot.

To use an oft repeated bromide, it is both a duty and a privilege to vote. Resolve now that you will cast yours next Saturday.

SUIT SETTLED

Immunization From Diphtheria Urged To Cut Death Rate

Austin, Aug. 24 — "Few conquests of science have been so spectacular and complete as those relating to diphtheria. Science has firmly established the value of serum treatment in both its preventive and curative phases. However, toxin-antitoxin and its successor toxoid for immunization and antitoxin for cure, are serums of which the general public is even yet not fully aware," said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"As indicated, toxoid is the immunizing or preventive agent now usually employed. However, three or four months are required for the body to develop immunity. At that time the Schick test can be applied to determine the results of the preventive treatment.

"Children should receive diphtherit immunization as early as possible, preferably as soon as they are six months old. The necessity for this immunization is recognized when it is known that two-thirds of all deaths from diphtheria occur in the age group under six years.

"It can not be too strongly emphasized that to deprive children of this protection science has made possible is to subject them to unwarranted and unnecessary hazards that can easily turn into a tragedy. Parental interest in immunization must be more widespread, if the Texas death rate from this disease is to be decreased from the 1937 total of 257.

"When a child has been taken ill with diphtheria, antitoxin is the only treatment that will save its life. Also, to be effective, it must be given early in the illness and in large doses. Delay is usually caused by parents failing to realize that any sore throat may actually be diphtheria.

5,000 Arrested By State Police, 23,000 Warned During July

Austin, Aug. 24— Texas highway patrolmen charged 5,174 drivers in traffic complaints and warned 23,314 others during the month of July when Texas was credited with continued decrease in street and highway fatalities, according to state police reports.

During July 278 patrolmen investigated 280 traffic accidents, recovered 34 stolen automobiles and apprehended 43 fugitives while working with local peace officers. The force was credited with traveling 751,351 miles in automobiles and 84,259 miles on motorcycles enforcing traffic regulations.

The report stated that 75 drivers were arrested for intoxication, 283 were charged with misdemeanor intoxication and eight were arrested for leaving the scene of an accident. Patrolmen also rendered

PATRIOTISM CALLED SURE CURB ON 'ISMS'

Albany, N. Y.—A plea for "good old-fashioned American patriotism" was made here by Rear Admiral Clark H. Woodward, commandant of the Third Naval District, at a meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"What we need today," Admiral Woodward said in his address, "is more of that good, old-fashioned, honest-to-goodness patriotism—the kind that gives a tug at the heart strings and makes a person feel proud to be a citizen of these United States, the greatest country on earth; the kind that gives us an internal glow when we see our flag waving on high; the kind that inspires us when we hear the national anthem."

"It is alien 'isms,' particularly, and all other unfriendly influences in our midst which seek our ruin, that all loyal Americans should unceasingly combat by building up the patriotic character of our rising generation," he said.

World-Eds 'Dated' Twice A Week Back In 1900

Austin, Aug. 17—The severely training tone of student regulations when the co-eds at the University of Texas were under the dean of women are in contrast to present day modified rules that govern them.

Found recently among papers in the file of Mrs. Helen Marr Kirby, dean of women at the university, was a leaflet published in 1900, setting forth regulations for approved boarding houses for girls dormitories were at that time unknown to the university campus, young ladies then living in boarding houses under the jurisdiction of university rules.

In interesting contrast to regulations under which university of Texas girls now reside is the stipulation in 1900 that "callers will be received twice a week, on Saturday and Sunday evenings from 8 to 10:30." Present rules allow guests in university dormitories and boarding houses after 4 p. m. on week days except Saturday, when the visiting hours begin at 5 p. m., and after 12 noon Sunday. Sunday excursions, dining unchaperoned at hotels or restaurants, and riding in buggies were altogether objectionable.

"Sitting on steps and lingering about gates with escorts is discontenanced by refined society and should be avoided by university girls," one of the rules read.

AND AN INDIAN LURKED BEHIND EVERY BUSH

Austin, Aug. 24 — "Shades of Buffalo Bill!" exclaimed Captain J. D. Moffatt, state police statistician, when he read this traffic accident report from Potter county:

"Dave Griest of Kansas City, Mo., was driving his car along the highway two miles east of Amarillo when a full grown buffalo jumped in front of it.

"The driver did not see the prairie roamer in time to avoid the collision which resulted in slight damage to the modern automobile and subtracted from the diminishing buffalo census."

Terrell Predicts His Re-Election In Final Campaign

Judge C. V. Terrell, Railroad Commission Chairman and candidate for re-election, inaugurated Monday in Houston a state-wide move designed to enable him to visit sections of the state in the last five days before the runoff.

The week's schedule will run Terrell's campaign speeches to more than 300 and his miles traveled to over 25,000.

Last week Judge Terrell traveled through the South Plains and central Texas and found in those sections such a large number of real supporters and such complete attention by the big crowds to which he spoke that he, in Marlin at a big "Re-elect Terrell" rally Saturday night predicted "I'm going to be re-elected, and by a big majority."

For Your Family's Sake...

KEEP MILK SAFE! ... IT IS THE FIRST RULE

OF ALL-WEATHER FOOD-KEEPING

● Keep milk fresh and pure, if your family is to have one of Nature's most wholesome foods. To be sure milk is as fresh as the minute it's delivered to you, the U. S. Government recommends that you store it in a refrigerator, where the temperature is 50 degrees or less. Above 50 degrees, milk spoils rapidly, curdles, gets sour. Other food, not so easily detected as milk, spoils too in higher temperatures. Below 50 degrees, milk and other food is safe. Check your refrigeration now!

KEEPS MILK SAFE... KEEPS MEAT FRESH... KEEPS VEGETABLES CRISP
... AND MAKES ICE CHEAPER THAN YOU CAN BUY IT!

● Don't waste money or endanger health with spoiled food! Keep foods safe in a modern electric refrigerator. And save money at the same time!

An Electric Refrigerator keeps foods safe, sweet, fresh, and saves you money every way there is to save. Saves on Current... on Food... on Ice... on Upkeep. You must save All Four Ways—or you may not save at all! And in addition, a Frigidaire provides a remarkable ice service for all-year needs—freezing tremendous quantities of ice cheaper than you can buy it!

Friday at the afternoon rodeo program during the 35th anniversary celebration of Reagan county at Big Lake. The 17-year-old daughter of Tom Owens was the only girl competing but the contestants knew her name was on the entry list. In the roping events she rode her horse out of ring into the arena like a veteran. Her lariat found its mark. But her trouble came in throwing her catch. She tussled for some time with a salty goat, finally wrapping it up in neat style. More will be heard of her in future years.

Another note from the report of the same celebration:

"Max Schneemann has never lived in Reagan county but all of the residents know him as one of their own friends. For 41 years, he has resided just over the boundary in Crockett county. Consequently, he got a real kick out of hobnobbing with friends at the Reagan anniversary event Friday and Saturday."

TO THE VOTERS OF CROCKETT COUNTY:

Judge Harry N. Graves of Williamson County, who was appointed to the vacancy on the Court of Criminal Appeals after Judge Lattimore's death, is a high-class citizen, a man of the highest integrity and fitted by natural endowment, education and much and long practical experience in the Courts to succeed himself.

He was a leading member of the Texas Legislature for nine years and cooperated fully with our representatives from this section to secure the passage of West Texas measures and made the Tuberculosis Sanatorium his special charge.

He is a nephew of Judge W. L. Davidson, who occupied the same Bench to which he aspires, so acceptably for more than thirty years.

Judge Graves has been engaged actively in the practice of both Civil and Criminal law ever since he reached his majority, is only sixty years of age, and about ten years younger than his present opponent.

He was not a member of the Legislature which originally raised the salaries of appellate Judges and only voted to restore the salaries to the normal amount after they had been temporarily reduced during the worst of the depression. (Political Adv. paid for by local friends of Judge Graves.)
