9 Per Cent Jump In Registration Motor Vehicles

Total of 780 Sets Of Tags Issued Here By Deadline

An approximate 9 per cent increase in the number of motor vehicles registered in Crockett county was noted at the close of the registration period last Friday over the same date last year, according to totals available in the office of Sheriff W. S. Willis. The increase was about equal in all types of vehicles registered.

Total registration of passenger cars, farm trucks, trailers and commercial trucks, dealer and motorcycles was 780 against 714 last year.

Passenger car registrations increased this year from 464 last year to 509 this year. Farm licenses jumped from 118 to 131, trailers from 18 to 22 and commercial licenses from 109 to 114. In addition there were three dealer licenses and one motorcycle tag issued.

Crockett county retains all of the motor vehicle license fees, amounting this year to an estimated $10,000.

ONE THING and THEN ANOTHER

By FRED GIPSON

SAN ANGELO.—It was late evening. The day's work was done. It was time to go home. But he didn't want to go home. He was lonely here on the street. At home, a hotel room, with only its four walls, bed, desk and chair for companionship—well, that would be unbearable.

He turned to stroll down the sidewalk. And there she was! A little queen of a woman, all loaded down with bundles, coming to meet him!

He liked the sure, resolute tread of her trim little feet. Every stitch of her clothing, in no way lavish, showed taste. The spring and grace of movement of her well-rounded body showed breeding and youth and vitality. A foolish little hat could in no way detract from the beauty of her dark hair that shone, even in the half-light of late evening. Her lips were full, friendly, inviting. Her eyes—

She raised her eyes to his as she walked past. And for a fleeting moment he was sure they were radiant, radiant as if with joy at the sight of him. He was also sure that there was a slight intake of her breath, like one does when he's first set eyes on what he's long searched for. There was a perceptible pause in her stride.

Looking into her eyes, he wanted to say: "Hello, Lady!" Always afterwards, he liked to (Continued on Page Four)

Anniversary Of Big 1938 Freeze Brings Threat of New Danger

Ozonans were jittery this morning as they huddled in winter wraps against a sharp north-east wind, remembering that it was a year ago tonight, April 6, 1938, that the "big freeze" of last year struck West Texas with devastating effect.

It was the night of April 6, 1938, that a hard freeze swept this section to blacken vegetation that had advanced far into spring growth. Pecans were in full bloom, fruit trees were loaded with young fruit and flowers were in full bloom—all withered back to the bare branches or to the ground by the frigid blast.

And this morning's cold wind and overcast skies brings fear that the weather man might repeat on this anniversary of 1938's disastrous freeze.

Two Suspended Sentences Given In Theft Cases

Court Disposes Of Business Here In Two-Day Session

Two suspended sentences, handed out to the Kimball brothers, Garland and R. B., and two divorce cases constituted the term's work for 112th district court when it convened here Monday morning with Judge W. C. Jackson of Fort Stockton sitting on the bench for the first time since his appointment to fill the unexpired term of Judge Joe G. Montague, resigned. The Kimball brothers were charged with theft of saddles from the Tom Owens ranch, where they had been employed. They both entered pleas of guilty before the court and each received a suspended sentence, Garland's for three years and R. B.'s for two. They were indicted by the grand jury which met Monday.

Divorces were granted by Judge Jackson in the cases styled Millie Jordan vs. J. L. Jordan and Mildred Burleson vs. Troy Burleson.

The only criminal matter pending on the docket, the two indictments returned by the grand jury in its brief session, having been disposed of before the court, the petit jury, summoned for Wednesday morning, was dismissed without reporting, and the court adjourned Tuesday afternoon.

Seniors Choose Merry Vehicle In 'The Charm School'

"The Charm School," a comedy of youth in three acts, was charmingly portrayed by a big cast of Seniors from the class of 1939 at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening, winning approval from a crowd which almost filled the big auditorium.

The center of feminine interest at the girl's school was Austin Bevans (Walter Escue) a young man who inherited the school and made charm the most important course. Particularly was he the center of interest for Elise Benedotti (Ora Louise Cox), president of the Senior class, David Machesie (Beecher Montgomery), George Boyd (Phillip Schneemann), Jim Simpson (Joe Williams) and Tim Simpson (Willie Joe Hubbard), friends of Bevans, lend their cooperation to put into practice his ideas of education and find the task, surrounded by an adoring group of girls, not at all distasteful. But Homer Johns (Jeff Fussell), Elsie's guardian, sees a chance to foreclose a mortgage on the school and get possession of it for Miss Hays (Doris Bunker) in whom he has more than passing interest.

A buffer between the higher ups and the girls is Miss Curtis (Posey Baggett) whose trials are not fully appreciated by the students, Tommie Kirby, Billie Jean Lnthi (Continued On Last Page)

Name of Mrs. Eva Lena Hill Signed to $60 Worth Checks

Three Mexicans were placed under $1,000 bonds each in justice court here this morning on charges of forgery and passing forged instruments following their arrest by Sheriff W. S. Willis.

The Mexicans, Manuel Arsoia and Paul Hernandez of Del Rio and Escine Falela of Sabinal, entered pleas of guilty to the charges, which grew out of the passing of three checks at local places of business, one in the sum of $20.90, one for $20.95 and one for $21.80. The checks were cashed at C. G. Morrison Co., Ozona Market and James Motor Co.

The name of Mrs. Eva Lena Hill, wife of Claude Hill, was signed to the checks. Two of the Mexicans had worked for Mr. Hill in near eradication work.

A FINISH FIGHT

Daily it is becoming more apparent that the battle to halt gigantic public spending and ceaseless deficit financing has begun in earnest. Senator Harrison, chairman of the Senate Finance committee, joined the cause of economy with the remark that "the government's fiscal picture must be carefully scanned, and that doesn't mean next year, but now—and not through a colored lens... I am opposed, unless exceptional circumstances arise, to increasing by law the present limit of the national debt. The only way... is to begin immediately a radical and substantial cut in government expenditures."

Official estimate of total expenditures for the current fiscal year, is nearly $9,500,000,000—three times the average annual expenditure for the "pre-deficit" years of 1922-1930 inclusive. Forty per cent of this total in the current fiscal year will go for relief and public works.

In answer to the fatuous challenge of "where to start cutting" the National Economy League has outlined in detail a program of budget balancing that the New York Times has termed "an important public service."

Far-sighted individuals in public and private life have dug in for a finish fight on uncontrolled public spending. Whether they win or lose depends entirely upon the degree of public support they receive. If they are permitted to go down in defeat, the most valued possession of every American citizen—liberty—may go down with them.

WORLD TRAGEDY

Czecho-Slovakia, coming un-stuck only 20 years after the treaty of Versailles, might borrow its epitaph from Cheltenham churchyard:

It is soon I am done for, I wonder what I was begun for. —Kansas City Star.

PRICE-FIXING

The way to promote the sale of a product is not to increase its price. Every one knows that. It follows naturally that the producers of butter disapprove of a bill before the Minnesota legislature, requiring retailers to mark up their prices at least 10 per cent over the cost. Such an attempted regulation would increase the price of butter to the consumer, at a time when every effort is needed to promote butter sales and reduce the price depressing surplus. The Nation-wide retailer campaigns to promote the sale and use of butter, such as the Journal took part in last year, could not have been so successful if the dealers had not made prices attractive to the buying public. The protest of Minnesota creameries against such legislation is justified. But the bill in its broad application is certainly not in the public interest. We have anti-trust laws, state and national, to penalize "restraint of trade." The mark-up bill would just be a legal means of forcing restraint of trade. Consumers are not needing protection against low prices. And what is a fair margin of profit on one type of merchandise is not fair for another. It is not likely that any court would uphold such legislation, even if the legislature took it seriously. And how many inspectors would it take to enforce such a law?—Minneapolis Journal.

In summing up the sheepmen's situation, the vice president of a Kansas City bank says: sheep are increasing in numbers, the census being 53,762,000 head or an increase of 2 per cent for the United States, and the total is three million head above the 1927-36 average. As of January 1, there were 10 per cent less lambs on full feed than in 1938 and the movement to feed lots had been late. Texas and California conditions are against heavy runs of fat yearlings or lambs. The consumption of mutton in 1938 was about an average showing good demand. Wool is in a stronger position than in March 1938. Mill consumption was heavier in November and December than any months since March, 1937. Stocks on hand December 31 were smaller than a year earlier. Exports totalled thirty-one million pounds in 1938 against one hundred and fifty million in 1937. There would be unsatisfied demand as consumption of wool in the United States was in 1938, 13 per cent smaller than in 1937. There is still an unsatisfied stocker demand in the drought area which will, with the normal crop year in 1939, be an element of strength. If general business could improve to near normal degrees of replacement and employment the ultimate effect of the unanimous trend of increase in livestock could be delayed, but unquestionably cattle, sheep and hogs carry the high prices of all farm products with cattle in the number one position. Scarcity by reason of drought years followed by increased demand is the reason. Most other products show a dangerous surplus over-riding their markets.

There's an early reminder of the Coleman county rodeo in the lobby of the Coleman County National bank—an elaborate saddle, marked as first prize in the sponsors' contest. The saddle is the work of J. M. Nance of Coleman and the bank will serve as donor at the rodeo on July 12, 13, 14 and 15.

One of the next things in line for the 4-H and FFA boys of west Texas, Pete Gulley of the firm of Gulley & Sons, Angora breeders of Uvalde, believes, is a breeding stock show to be held during the selling season. Mr. Gulley feels that such a sale would encourage the young feeders to choose breeding stock as their club projects. His idea is that the youngsters show the stock at the spring shows and then hold them in good condition for a sale when the season is right.

Jess Koy of Eldorado tried out a new method of putting up meat last fall and has recently tried a part of it. The meat was cured and then left immersed in a container of cottonseed oil. The Eldorado says the flavor is kept perfectly.

While most of West Texas is worrying over a short lamb crop, Mr. Koy marked up a 90 per cent total. He says there has been some loss in his section through lambs having milk colic.

Bruts Johnson of Brady bought two loads of short aged yearlings the last of the week from Ben Meckel of Sonora.

Martin de Moya, the South American who has been touring the livestock country of the state, purchased a car of registered heifers and bulls at the Brook Hereford Ranch at Brady. Jamie Brook recently sold two lots of stock to two Louisiana men, one of 13 bulls and another 10 bulls and a number of cows.

Production of wool in Coleman county is around two and a quarter million pounds, Theo Griffis, vice president and cashier of the Coleman County National bank, said. Approximately 10 per cent of the new clip has been sold, he said, most of it going to Eisemann, Inc. Griffis operates a warehouse at Coleman. All of the county clip of mohair, about 20,000 pounds, was purchased by the Stallings warehouse at Lometa, Griffis said.

Ben Cusenbary of Sonora sold a small string of calves at 8 and 9 cents to C. D. McMillan and Sons of Mason. The calves weighed 500 pounds and were delivered the last of the week.

E. B. Ligon has resigned his place with the Predatory Animal Control Board and will return to Fort Stockton to operate his ranch. His place has been taken by James E. Poore, who has been with the board since 1930. Ligon, who has worked with the predatory animal unit for around 15 years, owns a ranch at Stockton adjoining that of his brother, Lloyd. The two ranches were operated for years under the name Ligon Brothers but the interests have been divided for some time.

Sam Gray, vice president of the First Coleman National at Coleman, estimates that there were between 10,000 and 15,000 head of sheep in Coleman county ten years ago as compared with the 200,000 to 275,000 head there at present.

Wool news from the western front: In California, Sodie P. Arbios purchased the Frank Arb urua clip at 20 cents f.o.b. shipping point; Fallon & Tilton got the Mendota section of Fresno county sold 3,000 fleeces to H. I. Haber at 23 cents f.o.b. shipping point. The same buyer bought five or six other clips at 18 to 21 cents. Haber also got the Theo Redin 12 months wool at 22 1/2 cents, and the Traynham wool, Colusa county, 1,600 fleeces sold to E. H. Tryon at 23 cents. Late sales in Arizona ranged in price from 18 1/4 to 22 3/4 cents, including the Jose Elorga, Frisco Mountain Sheep Co., Hardy Bell and Wilson Dobson clips.

Organization of the Southwest Rodeo Association will be completed at a meeting of 20 or more rodeo associations at Colorado on April 9.

The second annual Llano rodeo will be held during the month of June, according to Clinton Hardin of Willow City, director and manager, with definite dates to be set later. Llano's first rodeo last summer officially opened the new lighted stadium at the high school.

One of the latest of the several new wool warehouses opening this year is the Santa Anna Wool Association, Inc., at Santa Anna, a grower-owned-and-controlled unit, according to Dewey L. Pieratt, cashier of the Santa Anna National and secretary-treasurer of the new firm. Of the 96 stockholders in the association, 90 per cent are sheepmen, Mr. Pieratt said.

She did it, too, without breaking the egg, by using a Chevrolet, in which vacuum from the motor supplies nearly all the power necessary in shifting gears with the new steering-column shift lever.

The new association will not buy wool, but will serve as a warehouse only. Wool will be sold thru a sales committee composed of Tom Stewardson, J. R. Pierce, W. T. Stewardson and J. W. Barnes.

J. W. Vance has been named president of the firm, Tom Stewardson is vice president, and Pieratt is secretary-treasurer. The site of the old glass plant was purchased by the group and a new warehouse is being constructed. The house is expected to be ready for business by shearing season.

A uniformly light lamb crop is being reported from various sections of the ranch country, with the following estimates having been made: Coleman, 50-55 per cent; Winters and Ballinger, 50 to 55 per cent; Del Rio, 55; Uvalde, 65; Brady, 60; Sonora, 60-62, and Ozona, 63.

think that she would have wanted to say in return: "Hello, Man!"

But a strange man doesn't say "Hello, Lady!" to a strange woman of her sort in the late evening on a city street corner. Nor could he approve of her sort giving answer to such a greeting under such circumstances. Such things are just not done in conventionalized society.

He dropped his eyes as he walked past. She dropped her eyes and continued on her way.

At the street corner he turned to glance back at her. She had paused at a corner to glance back in his direction.

Then, as if guilty of some major crime, she turned and darted around the corner and was gone. She was a lady.

He walked on back home, a hotel room, with only its four walls, bed, desk and chair for companionship.

As a boy, he dreamed always of that day he would become a man, self-sufficient and able to travel in the far countries, see the strange peoples, their strange manners and ways of living, see the beauties of nature in every part of the globe and the curious creatures with which nature had inhabited it.

But his father was a big business man and kept urging that his son carry on the business after him.

So when he became a man, rather than hurt his father's feelings, he took over the business. And he worked day after day, week after week, year after year. And the business prospered. But always, back in his mind was the promise of what he'd treat himself to some day.

The father died. It was a relief to the son, though, of course, he never would have admitted it, even to himself. For he loved his father like any son loves his father.

He started making arrangements to close out the business and start on his travels. But a storm of protest arose from the stockholders of the company and from his business associates. Who else could handle the business successfully? Was he so callous as to

Declining Prices Cut Dollar Sales

AUSTIN, March 29.—Declining retail prices reduced dollar sales of Texas department store sales for the first two months of 1939 to a figure 2.7 per cent below January and February last year, University of Texas business statisticians said today.

Volume of goods sold is estimated to be fully equal to or slightly in excess of that of last year, the University bureau of business research has found.

Sales during February declined 3.6 per cent from January and 3.3 per cent from February last year.

Proportion of credit sales to net sales increased substantially over February last year, while proportion of collection to outstanding accounts declined, the bureau's report said.

leave them in a lurch, tight when business was at its worst? It would be ruinous for every one of them, starvation, maybe, for the company employees!

So he stayed to help out his friends and dependants. And the years came on, while he dreamed of his travels.

Then, suddenly, he was old, and the stockholders felt that new blood at the head of the business would strengthen it.

He sighed with relief. At last he could travel.

But his physician would not permit it. "Your health!" he said. "I won't stand it. You must take it easy for awhile."

He took it easy for awhile, still dreaming and planning of the trips he would take when his health would permit. He studied tourist folders. He studied maps. He read of the places he would visit. He planned where he would go first and what he would do there. He laid out his whole trip, one that would require years to make.

Then one day he died.

Man, with all the conventions and responsibilities with which he burdens himself, is undoubtedly the most foolish creature that ever left his footprints in the sands of time.

And the most wretched.

Producers Seek Hike In Mohair Gov't Loan Level

Texas Growers Look to Higher Loan As Price Stabilizer

DEL RIO, April 3.—(Special)—Armed with records of mohair sales for the past 30 years from five of the state's principal wool and mohair warehouses, G. W. Cunningham, secretary of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, is in Washington to attempt to secure a 10-cent raise on the approved government mohair loan of 20 and 30 cents.

Mr. Cunningham is being assisted at Washington by Byron Wilson, member of the National Wool Growers' Association executive committee.

Other matters of interest to wool growers that will occupy his time in the capitol are hearings and committee reports on the predatory animal appropriation, the truth-in-fabric legislation, and the wool marketing investigation.

When 20 and 30 cents was named as the mohair loan figure in 1928 a protest was made by the Texas growers because it was felt that the fiber justified a higher loan. In preparing for his trip to the capitol Mr. Cunningham compiled sales records kept by five of Texas' principal houses and found that the 30-year average, 1908 to 1938, was 42.71 cents a pound for crown hair and 55 cents for kid hair. "The loan rate being asked, 30 cents for adult hair and 40 cents for kid hair, doesn't amount to 60 per cent of the average price for the past 31 years," the secretary remarked.

So far as is known by the office of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, there was only one loan applied for in 1938 on Texas mohair. Indications are that the situation in the state remains unchanged, but growers feel that, other than the justification of the higher loan, the 30 and 40 cent basis might serve as a stabilizer, should such be necessary. In the face of a 1939 clip two to three million pounds lighter than that of 1938 and with the increasing use of mohair in fine fabrics, growers are optimistic concerning this year's prices, Mr. Cunningham said.

In 1938 there was $14,900,672.01 loaned on 72,514,370 pounds of wool and $15,393.08 on 73,454 pounds of mohair. On March 17 the government had outstanding $4,953,159.99 on 27,715,868 pounds of wool and $1,286.38 on 6,303 pounds of mohair.

It is the belief of the association officials that the total poundage of Texas wools in government loans this year will be much lighter than that of 1938.

Mr. Cunningham will join Mr. Wilson in Washington and the two will be in constant touch with Fred R. Marshall, secretary of the National Wool Growers' Association. Mr. Marshall is in Chicago at present with G. N. Winder, Colorado member of the national executive committee, and Roscoe Rich, national president, conferring with the National Livestock Meat Board on lamb advertising.

With reports out of the house committee on the same basis of 1938 for the predatory animal work, namely $665,000, the state association, through Mr. Cunningham, will join the national organization in an attempt to have the appropriation raised to a million dollars. Marsh Lea of Fort Stockton is the Texas member of the national predatory animal committee.

It is a waiting period for developments on the truth-in-fabrics legislation, Mr. Cunningham said. Hearings before the house committee were completed on the 22nd and a report is expected momentarily from the senate group, whose hearing was wound up several weeks ago.

With an additional appropriation secured by Senator Adams of Colorado for continuance of the wool marketing investigation begun last year, further hearings are scheduled in Washington for that committee. Representatives of both the state and national organizations will attend meetings of the groups.

Livestock Boost Cash Income Of Tex. Agriculture

AUSTIN, April 5.—Revenue from livestock and livestock products boosted Texas agricultural cash income for February to a point more than a million dollars above February last year, Dr. F. A. Buechel, University of Texas statistician, said today.

Farm cash income from all sources last month totaled $15,531,000 compared with $14,254,000 during February, 1938, a gain of 9.1 points in the University bureau of business research index.

Compared with the bureau's index base period, 1928-32, during which the average February income was only $11,511,000, farmers' receipts last month showed an increase of 34.9 per cent.

For the first two months of the current year, farm cash income has totaled $36,330,000, compared with $36,119,000 for the first two months of 1938.

Income from cotton, cottonseed, wheat and other grains declined

Movement of Feeders Brings Sharp Hike In Livestock Shipments

AUSTIN, April 5.—Livestock shipments to Fort Worth stockyards and interstate points during February jumped to 4,298 cars, an increase of 33.6 per cent over February of last year, the University of Texas bureau of business research reported today. The increase was due largely to increased shipments to feeding areas in Kansas.

Cattle shipments totaled 2,082 cars, up 39.4 per cent over last year; calves, 507 cars, gained 28.4 per cent; hogs, 689 cars, increased 27.1 per cent and sheep, 302 cars, gained 16.1 per cent.

EDITOR'S MUSINGS

Band Concert . . .
Band Contest . . .
District Typing Meet . . .

The Ozona high school band presented its spring concert in the high school auditorium Thursday night. The band played several numbers, two of which were the required contest pieces. Five band members presented solos, which they will play in Abilene next week.

The soloists in the band will leave for Abilene Thursday morning. The rest of the band will leave Friday morning. The solos will be played Thursday. The band will play, as a whole, Friday. The marching contest will be held Friday at night. It will be held on the Hardin-Simmons field. The soloists and band will play in the Fair Park auditorium.

The Ozona typing team, consisting of three pupils, will go to Fort Stockton on April 15 to type against teams from the other counties in this district.

They will type at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, taking a 15-minute test. The winner of the contest will go to Alpine to type in the regional meet.

DETECTIONS?

Of course we, the student body, do not like detentions, which is naturally the feeling of a student body. However, we feel that we have some logical reasons for not liking detentions, and we also feel that there are better ways to get students to get their lessons, etc., other than by detentions.

We, the student body as a whole, present our reasons for our dislikings, so that you may "weigh and consider" our reasons.

We don't mind the extra time, because most of us stay here after school until six o'clock, anyhow. To us, detention is only another class. To tell the truth, we feel that if we must be punished, we had rather be punished and get it over with and have nothing else be said of it. For instance, if a student doesn't have his daily lesson, just let him come to see the teacher for help (which he will do if he has any "backbone" at all). This, we feel, would help the student to develop will-power as well as to get a better knowledge of his lessons. (Of course, we realize since there are exceptions to every rule, that this plan might not work, but detention has its exceptions, also.)

Detentions, to us, only create a bitter feeling. The small amount of work that is done in the detention hall could be done better, and with a better feeling, in a study hall. (To be honest, one might admit that we are given this opportunity before being assigned to detention.)

When we were children we were whipped; when we were 12, we were fussed at; and now we are told by our parents what is right and wrong. So you see the time changes, and sooner or later time will change detentions to something a little less, well a little less that way, to something a bit more helpful and handy.

One-Act Play Presented In Assembly

The one-act play, "The Blue Teapot," which was sponsored by Miss Mildred North, was presented by two casts in assembly Wednesday afternoon.

Three judges from Big Lake selected the best actor for each part. The winners will present the play at the district meet in Fort Stockton.

The contestants were George Ann Kirby, Crystelle Carson, Noma Miller, Helen Mayes, Jeff Fussell, Miles Pierce, W. B. Robertson and Bobby Lemmons.

But West Point Was Never Like This

Dashing Costumes Seen On April Fool

April Fool fooled the students of OHS by coming on Saturday this year. However, "Our Gang" came dashing to school Friday morning dressed as sons and daughters of the "Ole West." Cow girl Mary Harvick was resplendent in a red satin shirt and green skirt. About her waist she wore a wide black belt on which was printed her name. On her golden blond hair rested the largest 10 gallon hat east of the Pecos. Toots Smith and Bill Linthicum wore "dos muy ma vaqueros." Toots wore an ensemble of tan "duckins" (they were too big), brown shirt, and fancy brown boots. Bill was a "dog" in a plaid shirt, tan duckins, and brown boots. Tommy Kirby was also seen dressed in the "Hollywood Fashion" of a cowgirl.

Here's to the boys! I haven't seen a single girl wearing what the well dressed basketball player wears (for you dummies I refer to the new basketball sweaters. The styles for girls are wide and varied this spring. Among brightly colored sweaters and skirts are seen strolling in the halls of OHS the latest fad in shoes. There are worn by none other than Posey Baggett. She claims they are called "Klompers," but I think the name "stompers" would be the "real McCoy." These shoes consist of two pieces of leather and pieces of wood held together with a string. If you chemistry students can get a reaction and equation that says "shoes" out of those "stompers", you're better men than I think you are.

SECOND GRADE NEWS
 When we came back to our room from the gym Friday, we found gingerbread men on our desk. Joe Bean's mother had made them for us.
 We sang a song "The Gingerbread Man" and ate our cookies. They were very good.

OHS Volleyball Tournament Won By Schneemann's Team

The rampaging "Want-to Be's" of Phillip Schneemann finished their schedule in volleyball with a clean slate. The other three teams, the Yankees of Walter Escue, the Wallflowers of Beecher Montgomery, and the Could-Be's of Jim Dudley ended in a three-way tie for second.

The Want-to-Be's defeated the Yankees 1-15, the Could-Be's 22-17 and the hopeless Wallflowers 24-19. With these top heavy scores they also took high score honors with a grand total of four points. The Yankees came out second with 52 points.

The all-tournament team consists of the following: B. Montgomery, P. Schneemann, J. Williams, W. Escue, D. Wilson and Elton Smith.

Joe Williams, is it beginning to be a habit? Joe, I wonder if you can stand up and touch your feet without bending your knees?
 Beecher, where did you go after intermission? We missed you and your date.
 Bettie Lou, let me be the first to congratulate you on the excellent manner in which you took care of your date at the dance.
 Phillip, I thought you were going to stay home. Monday night and study Chemistry. Phillip was really swinging 'em at the dance.
 Byron and Lloyd were the only Freshman dancing. That's right, boys, set a good example.
 I wonder what girls really wanted to be dumped Friday night? Ella what do you and they have to say?
 Girls, how many pillows went 'round and 'round Saturday night up at Posey's?
 Miles, did you finally get her Friday night? What time was it?
 Till, I guess you were left out in the rain Friday night, weren't you?
 Howard, Phillip, how many miles did you cover following the street car?
 Could any of the Senior girls tell us about how many tents there were up at the Scout Cabin Friday night?
 The freshman boys were looking for someone Friday night, and someone was also looking for them.

WHERE HEROES ARE BORN
 Have you heard the one about the little boy who had just experienced his first day in school? His father asked him how he liked it. "Oh, it's all right, I guess, but they ask too many questions," answered the boy. "First they asked me where you were born, and I told them. They asked me where mother was born and I told them. But when they asked me where I was born I had to tell a lie."
 "Why?" asked the father.
 "Well, gee whizz, I didn't want to say I was born in the women's hospital and have them think I was a sissy, so I told them I was born in the Yankee Stadium!"

Cozy California Home

This home was built by an operative builder in San Jose, Calif., to meet Federal Housing Administration requirements. It was designed to afford ample daylight in each room. Attractively furnished as a demonstration by a local store, more than 10,000 persons visited the dwelling in a 3-weeks' period. One hour after being opened for public inspection, it was sold to a visitor. The Federal Housing Administration has issued a commitment to insure a $6,000 mortgage on the property.

should be controlled by a push-button located inside the house. Care should be taken in selecting the fixtures, for to fully serve their purpose they should be in harmony with the design of the home.

KITCHEN SHELVES

In deciding the arrangement of kitchen cabinets, home planners should consider the inconvenience to the housewife involved in installing low-lying pot shelves and cupboards.

High closetlike shelves, with space in which large pans can be hung from the ceiling, will eliminate the necessity of the housewife getting on her knees each time she needs to select a certain pan.

GAMES CLOSET

Few features of a home contribute more to general orderliness than a games closet or a built-in cabinet to house sports equipment.

Many housewives are faced with the problem of where card tables are to be kept, while the male of the home would welcome a place to store his hunting and fishing equipment. The solution to this problem is a closet dedicated solely as storage space for tables, tackle, guns, tennis racquets, backgammon boards and all other articles of equipment associated with sport. The ideal games closet would have a number of shelves so that various games could be separated and kept in order. There should also be a bin or hamper in which to store seasonal sports equipment.

"Paint Styling" Of Interest To Home Painters

"Styling with paint," or the selecting of colors currently in demand and using them in painting a house in the current style, is a subject that should be of interest to all home owners who are contemplating Spring painting work. The council for paint styling has recently released its information on current style trends, derived from an analysis of the different exteriors and interiors which it has surveyed. Some suggested decorative notes on interior style trends include: (1) plain one-tone walls are most popular. (2) One or two walls should be in a color different from the remaining walls. (3) Panels should be painted to match the style color. (4) Border spot stencils are increasing in use. (5) All-over patterns are occasionally used. (6) Vertical stripes are popular. (7) Horizontal stripes are next most popular.

ENTRANCE LIGHT

A front door or entrance light can repay the home owner in convenience many times more than the modest cost that goes with installing such a light.

Besides making it no longer necessary to grope blindly for the door or keyhole, the entrance light can be an attractive feature of the house. Inviting to visitors, entrance lights can turn a gloomy exterior into one of cheer.

Usually these lights are placed over the doorway or on the walls at each side of the door, and they cakes, remaining after being sampled by the cooking school class, baked by Mrs. Gertrude Burbank, lecturer, were donated for the sale. Judges in the cake contest were Mrs. George Harrell, Mrs. E. B. Baggett, Jr., and Mrs. Paul Perner.

More than seventy women were present each day of the two-day class in cooking and home management conducted by Mrs. Gertrude Burbank, widely known home economist. Mrs. Burbank's lectures were interesting and contained many valuable suggestions for more efficient and economical administration of the home. Many members of the two-day classes declared this year's school the most interesting and helpful in the history of the feature.

Mrs. Burbank prepared her demonstrations in an all-electric kitchen set up by the West Texas Utilities Co. Free Coca-Colas were served each day to all present thru courtesy of the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of San Angelo. Two beautiful potted flowers were given away as attendance prizes by the Walker Morgan Flower Shop of San Angelo. The San Angelo firm also furnished cut flowers for decoration.

Other concerns whose cooperation made the cooking school possible and whose products were used in the demonstrations included the makers of K C Baking Powder, Valley Gold Butter, Gandy's pasteurized milk, cream and ice cream; Admiration coffee; Baker's Piggly Wiggly grocery.

Mrs. Tucker's Shortening, C. G. Morrison & Co.'s Coors were, also cooperating were Wilson Motor Co., San Angelo Telephone Co., Ozona Water Works, Ozona Drug Store and the following additional prize donors: West Texas Lumber Co., Smith Drug Co., Jones Sandler, and Lemmons Dry Goods Co.

Rodeo Dates—

entertaining three-day programs in history.
The June dates selected for the 1939 rodeo were found successful last year when the show was held June 23, 24 and 25. Up to last year the local show had always incorporated July 4th. The third week in June, however, places the local show halfway between two other important events, the annual fair at Rocksprings the previous week, and the Brady Jubilee, July 2, 3 and 5. This placing of celebration dates gives opportunity for race horse owners to make a circuit with their racing animals and thus improve the quality of entries in this event. It also tends to provide better rodeo talent for the same reason.

Present for the organization meeting of the local fair association Tuesday afternoon were J. V. Blaylock, Max Schneemann, T. A. Kincaid, Jr., Stephen Perner, W. E. Friend, Jr., W. R. Baggett, Paul Perner, J. W. Owens, Dock Lee, Scott Peters, W. R. Baggett, Jr., V. I. Pierce, Jones Miller and Wayne West.

This Should End It All!

LONDON, April 1.—Major Vernon Bartlett, independent member of parliament today had expressed the belief in a speech that Prime Minister Chamberlain's new foreign policy would "save the world from the idiocy of another World war."

However, he added: "We shall not be able to enjoy ourselves until Franco's widow tells Stalin on his deathbed that Hitler has been assassinated at Mussolini's funeral."

The Holy Week Services have been well attended this week. This evening we shall observe the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The theme of the service is "Love that gives itself." On Friday evening the theme will be "Love that never fails." Plan to attend these two services.

Sunday school teachers, the members of the choir, the choir director, and the organist are all working to make the services of Easter Sunday as beautiful and as meaningful as possible. Every member of the family should attend Sunday School. The lesson material will help to enrich the Resurrection experience. At the morning worship service, the babies of our congregation will be dedicated to God in baptism, and the Lenten love offering will be received. In the evening the choir will present a beautiful Easter Cantata. You are cordially invited to attend all of these services.

Claude Russell, office deputy to Sheriff W. S. Willis, is in a San Angelo hospital where he is to undergo a minor operation this week.

CRITICALLY ILL
