Church of Christ Sheffield Encampment Under Way Sunday

The annual Church of Christ encampment seven miles north of Sheffield got under way last Sunday with good attendance at the opening sessions, James F. Black, minister of the Sheffield church reports this week.

A daily program beginning at 6:30 each morning with inspiration services and continuing through the evening service and recreational periods is being followed and a large number of campers are on the ground. Weslie Mickey of Odessa is doing the preaching and Ross Hufstetler of Ozona is directing the song services. All Ozonans are cordially invited to attend any or all of the services.

Sam Houston who operates the Sam Houston Helpy Selly Laundry this week announces the addition of dry cleaning service. Modern equipment has been installed to provide satisfactory service. Mr. Houston said. The laundry has also added finish work to its service, he announced.

Vaccinate Children Now Is Advise Of School Superintendent

A reminder that the annual peal of the school bell is not too far distant is dropped this week by Supt. C. S. Denham who urged that parents of children who have not been vaccinated for smallpox or immunized against other contagious diseases should see to it that this vaccination and immunization is done now so that the child will be fully recovered before school opens.

In case of smallpox vaccination there is often a considerable period in which children are uncomfortable with sore arms and there is less danger of infection from bruises and accidental injury if this can be accomplished during the vacation period. Likewise, in the case of immunization shots, there may be some reaction in some cases and if it is delayed until the start of schools, it may mean the loss of time from school for the child. There is no requirement by the schools for vaccination or immunization but it is suggested as a protection against illness.

Mr. Denham also reminds parents of children entering the kindergarten or first grade of the advantages to securing a birth certificate for such children to present to school authorities. Birth certificates are not required of children entering the schools, but if a certificate is available, it will be of benefit through the child's school career.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer King of Houston were here to spend the Fourth of July week-end visiting Mrs. King's sister, Mrs. B. B. Ingham, and other members of the family.

Mrs. Lowell Litteton, who recently underwent an operation in a Temple hospital, is reported still improving and may be able to return to her home here late this week.

WE BELONG TO GOD IS METHODIST THEME

Rev. Horace M. King, pastor of the Ozona Methodist Church will preach next Sunday morning on the theme "We Belong to God." Many important questions will be considered in this discussion, the pastor said.

The evening service at the Methodist Center will be devoted to another book of the Bible. Last Sunday night's attendance showed an increase over previous Sunday nights of over a hundred percent, the minister reported, with many full families in attendance. "A nationwide interest in the Bible is a wholesome sign," Rev. King said. "Bible study pays good dividends. The Center is air cooled—you are invited to all services."

Cottonseed Crushing In Texas Declines

AUSTIN. — May crushings of cottonseed at Texas mills plunged 71 per cent below April crushings exceeding the expected seasonal decline, according to Bureau of the Census reports released by The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Since the usual April-to-May decrease is 54 per cent, the Bureau's seasonally-adjusted index felt a 33 per cent slump, falling to 34.1 in May. (Base: 1935-39-100).

Crushings, totaling 6,602 tons in May, dipped 20 per cent below the figure recorded in May of last year.

May receipts at mills felt a sharp reduction of almost 100 per cent, dropping to only 206 tons in May. Receipts remained 84 per cent above the May 1946 level, however.

Stocks at the end of the month, also on the skids slipped 24 per cent below April stocks to total 20,535 tons at the end of May.

Mrs. John Childress recently visited relatives in Houston.

Accurate and Complete
RANCH RECORDS
Are More Important Today Than Ever

Government regulations and heavy tax programs are destined to be a part of the American way of doing business for a long time. For that reason, it is more important today that every business keep accurate records of its operations.

The ranch business is no exception. With the stiff federal taxes, you will want to take advantage of every saving item in your expense account and at the same time have clear and convincing records available for inspection by tax agents to prove up any item on your income tax return.

Start now to keep a complete record covering all operations in your business with the Stockman's RANCH RECORD BOOK. Your cancelled checks or your present records can be transcribed to this handy record book, together with your income and inventory records and you can have your entire record in a simplified form contained in one volume.

Thomason To Leave House Soon To Accept U. S. Judgeship In West Texas Dist.

By Leslie Carpenter.
EL PASO, July 5. — A member of the El Pasoan of Swedish descent who has become one of the most popular members of the House of Representatives will leave Washington, where he has served 17 years as a congressman, to accept this month for a new career—federal judge for West Texas.

R. Ewing Thomason, now 68, says that his departure from Capitol Hill, where he played one of the most important civilian roles toward winning World War II, will be with a lot of regret. In making this remark (however, Thoma-son does not minimize the importance of the responsibility of his new undertaking—donning the judicial robe for a United States district which runs all the way from El Paso to San Antonio Austin-Waco.

Thomason, a long-time personal friend of President Truman, received a direct nomination for the federal bench from the president. The usual patronage procedure of consulting the two U. S. Senators from the state was side-stepped. The Senate confirmed Thomason in short order without an objecting voice being raised.

Hot Political Race Seen.
When Thomason resigns his House seat—which he expects to do "around Aug. 1"—it will open the door for a red hot political fight in the big 16th congressional district for the election of his successor. A number of outstanding men in the district are expected to file as soon as Governor Jester designates the election date.

It is expected that the governor will decide on Aug. 23 as the date since that is election day for constitutional amendments, and a city election will be held in El Paso that day.

That Thomason is one of the most popular men sitting in the House is doubted nowhere. When former Speaker Rayburn of Bonham announced last fall that he did not want to become minority leader, Thomason's name was spontaneously proposed as a candidate for Democratic leader by fellow members of his party.

Although Thomason has followed the Roosevelt and Truman administrations on practically every vote and has veered from his Southern States colleagues on such major subjects as the poll tax (which Thomason has fought to abolish for 25 years), his friendship with Republicans and Southern Democrats is practically unanimous to a man.

An El Pasoan once told Thomason: "I don't agree with most of the votes you cast, but I've always voted for you, and I guess I always will because I like you."

Missed Chairmanship.
Thomason barely missed being chairman of the House military affairs committee during the war. Thomason was elected to Congress first and appointed to the committee initially on exactly the same day as former Representative May of Kentucky. Because May comes before Thomason in the alphabet and also because Kentucky was admitted to the Union before Texas, the chairmanship went to May instead of Thomason.

As ranking Democrat on the committee, however, Thomason played a vital role during the war, carrying the ball for the administration in countless instances to obtain passage of bills aimed to further the war effort.

Thomason describes as his most exciting day in the House as the one in 1941 when the Selective Service Act was extended for another year by a margin of only one vote. Thomason was one of the administrative stalwarts who fought for passage of that bill.

Thomason had begun his congressional career when Herbert Hoover was president, and the first vote the El Pasoan cast in the House was for John Nance Garner for speaker.

Born near Shelbyville, Tenn., he came to Texas with his family at an early age. His father was a country doctor and settled in Era (Cooke County). As Thomason grew up, a playmate of his was Judge Marvin Jones of the Court of Claims, who was congressman for the Panhandle for many years.

Thomason attended Southwestern University at Georgetown.

"My friends always kid me about that," Thomason says. "They claim I went to Southwestern and studied the ministry so that I could get a free education." (Tuition was free for theological students.)

Then Thomason graduated in law from the University of Texas. He likes to recall the time that he and C. S. Potts, former dean of the Southern Methodist University law school, were partners in the university's debating team and went to Waco to debate Baylor University.

Thomason's and Potts' opponents were J. Frank Norris, Fort Worth minister, and D. A. Hill. The subject was "Shall Trusts Be Abolished?" and Thomason and Potts argued that they should be abolished.

"Potts and I won a decisive victory in that debate," Thomason says.

Thomason was elected district attorney of Gainesville but a doctor feared that he had tuberculosis and ordered him to go west for his health. Thomason settled in El Paso, where the minor symptoms he had were cured. He practiced law and was elected mayor twice before coming to Congress to succeed former Rep. Claude B. Hudspeth.

"The most serious time I ever spent," Thomason says, "was when I had to vote for war."

Thomason was in Gainesville attending the funeral of his father-in-law, W. O. Davis, attorney, on Dec. 7, 1941. On the way to the cemetery he heard the news that Pearl Harbor had been attacked.

He flew back to Washington to cast his vote and to dig in and make every effort to speed victory.

WEEKLY SWING OF SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

(USDA) — Cotton and some grains dropped sharply last week, and easy spots appeared in livestock and vegetables, according to the Production and Marketing Administration U. S. Department of Agriculture. Other southwest products sold steady to strong. Volume movement of the new crop punctured recently ballooning sorghum markets, and prices collapsed to levels 70 to 80 cents per hundred pounds lower last week. Quotation at Fort Worth and Galveston Thursday stood at $2.61 for No. 2 milo. White corn gained 22 cents to reach $2.83 per bushel, and yellow corn dropped six cents to sell at $2.29. Other grains changed very little from a week earlier.

Rains delayed prairie hay harvest in the southwest and damaged alfalfa in the Central West. Oilseed meals climbed higher, but millfeeds dropped, and other feeds remained fairly steady. Good staple 12-months Texas wools sold at 47 to 55 cents per pound.

Most cattle sold about steady last week, but Oklahoma City paid 25 to 50 cents higher prices, while cows and bulls went lower at Houston, as did calves bulls, and low grade cows and heifers at Denver. Common to medium cows bulked at around $12 to $15 at most places and canner to cutter grades $8 to $16 at Houston, while medium and good stocker steers and yearlings brought $13 to $16 at Houston, while medium and good kinds moved at $16 to $20 at Fort Worth, and $16.50 to $18.50 at Wichita.

Most sheep and lamb markets held fully steady, and some classes gained up to 50 cents, but slaughter and feeder yearlings dropped $1.00 or more at Fort Worth. San Antonio bought medium to good fat yearlings at $14 to $16.25, while Fort Worth paid $13.50 to $17 for short lots. Denver took shorn lambs at $18.50 to $21.

Rat Control Should Be Unending Campaign Says Health Officer

AUSTIN.—Because of the economic losses they cause to industry and commerce and the annoyance they create in homes, rats have been considered a serious menace to mankind since long before their role as vectors of disease was understood. Today at least six diseases which are transmitted to man from the rat are known to medical science, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. These diseases include the dread plague, typhus, trichinosis, a form of jaundice tapeworm, and food poisoning. The whole history of the role rats play in the transmission of disease remains as yet unknown.

"It is necessary to public health, Dr. Cox said, "that a continuous rat control program be maintained in every urban area throughout Texas. This is of especial importance on farms where rats may flourish by feeding on grain and other farm products."

The doctor pointed out that rats like other living things, require food and shelter if they are to propagate and increase in number. Destroying their shelter and breeding places requires the rat-proofing of buildings and providing for periodic inspection of buildings to insure permanent safety. This program will force the rat out into the open where its destruction may be accomplished.

Of equal importance as a control measure is the elimination of all food supplies. This consists of storing all foods in ratproof buildings or in ratproof containers, the proper storage and disposal of garbage, and careful feeding of stock to prevent waste feed from being picked up by the rats.

Certificate of Title Now Required On All HOUSE TRAILERS

Owners of House Trailers are advised that it is now necessary to secure a Certificate of Title on these vehicles the same as for motor vehicles. Under H. B. No. 286 recently passed by the Legislature the term "House Trailer" means a vehicle without automotive power designed for human habitation and for carrying persons and property upon its own structure and for being drawn by a motor vehicle.

The same type of Title will be issued on House Trailers as is now issued on motor vehicles except that the words "House Trailer" will appear under the Title number.

The 1 percent tax, collected on motor vehicles, will not be collected on House Trailers.

House Trailers MUST BE REGISTERED at the time application for Title is filed, and House Trailers now registered should apply for Title.

To register and secure Certificate of Title to a House Trailer owner must present manufacturer's certificate or bill of sale, serial number of the trailer, its weight and make. On homemade House Trailers the owner should execute an Affidavit of Ownership for Homemade House Trailers.

If House Trailer does not have serial number an application for assignment of a serial number must be made for which a charge of $1 will be made.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Fish Bites Woman!

Willie Wells was coming home from Seward's Creek the other evening with a string of trout, when a stern looking lady (visitor at the Boxwood Inn) stops him, and tells him a man his size could be better occupied than catching fish.

Willie tells her off real good-naturedly by saying: "Perhaps you're right, but if these fish had kept their mouths shut, they wouldn't be here." (At that, says Willie, laughing out loud, she looked just as if a fish had bit her!)

Blabbing mouths never cause

anything but trouble. Nobody who knew the facts would ever criticize Willie's right to go fishing on his one day off—any more than they'd deny his right to come home to a mellow glass of beer.

From where I sit, the slower we are to criticize—and the quicker we are to recognize another's tastes, the better we'll get along together—whether those tastes apply to beer or fishing.

"WHO WILL RUN THE NATION'S LARGEST BUSINESSES IN 1974?"

YOUNG MEN back from war wonder about the country's future and their own future. What will they be doing 27 years from now?

The 143 top men who manage 50 of the nation's largest businesses can help answer that one.

Twenty-seven years ago, most of them came back from a war, too.

All of them, after the war or before, began their business careers at the bottom.

One started work for $1.50 a week—11 others for less than $5 a week. 43 others started work for less than $10 a week.

Eighty-one others received between $10 and $25 a week. Only 7 received more than $25—the highest getting paid $69.23 a week.

The average first wage of all 143 was $13.40 a week.

Who will manage the nation's largest businesses in 1974? Exactly the same kind of men.

Then, as now, they will be leaders with courage, ambition and initiative enough to come up the business ladder, rung by rung.

Neither the men and women in industry nor the money in industry can be effective without good management. Nothing else is so important to the workers' welfare, the investors' welfare, or the public welfare.

Looks that stay looked at

-and Ability to match

GIVE yourself five seconds, and you know that here's car styling as up to the minute as the time of day.

Spend a few fast minutes to see why — and you spot both smartness right from tomorrow's designing boards and everything that should go with it.

Measure the reach and spread of that Buick bonnet, brim-filled with Fireball power.

Sweep your glance over the broad beam that spells room, the stretch that means easy-riding wheelbase, the size that tells of enough roadweight to end jounce and jitter.

Here, you tell yourself, is something to see. Here are looks to hold the eye for seasons to come — and lively, durable ability to match:

... Rich abundance of smooth, hushed Fireball horsepower from a straight-eight kept young and lively by Accurite cylinder finish.

... Tireless coil springing on all four wheels, leveling all roads to boulevard smoothness.

... Riding poise from two steadying tons of roadweight — ease of handling from balance to draw a ballet dancer's envy. Soft, roomy cushions seating three apiece — finish that's the very last word in richness and taste.

Yes, it takes no time at all to show that you and Buick belong together, should go together steady — so what's holding you back?

After all, we can't do much about getting one to you till you make your wishes plain. You do that simply by placing your order — which will get equal consideration whether or not you have a car to trade.

TUCK AWAY PLENTY: Roomy luggage compartments hold plenty — and high-lifting lids make it easy to get at any piece.
