25,000 Crockett County Lambs Sold At 7 Cents

Elrod-Finley Hike Lagging Market Half Cent Pound

Lamb prices, slow to keep pace with the booming wool market, at last joined in the general advance of commodity markets Wednesday afternoon.

After standing at 6½ cents for several weeks, the price was hiked to 7 cents here Wednesday afternoon by Jess Elrod of San Angelo and Dee Finley of Finley and Kitchens and in a few hours they had listed as purchased at the 7-cent figure approximately 25,000 Crockett county lambs, which ranchmen had been holding for seven cents or better. Mr. Elrod had orders for a total of around 20,000 head.

Among those selling in the rapid-fire marketing here Wednesday afternoon to Elrod were:

Max Schneemann, 1850; Charlie Coates, 2000; Boyd Clayton, 2500; Ben Robertson, 1000; Fred Hagelstein, 800; Mrs. W. H. Augustine, 400; Pleas Childress, Jr., 600; Ralph Watson, 900; Strick Harvick, 800; Stephen Perner, 750; A. B. Hoover, 650; Brock Hoover and Son, 750; Mrs. Pon Seahorn, 1000; Cox and Kelly, 1000; Leo Richardson 1000, and Joe Montgomery, 4000.

Finley purchased the following at the new high figure: Roy Henderson, 3500; J. W. Henderson, 700; George Montgomery, 3300; Frank McMullan, 1600; Bob Owens, 600. Finley also bought nearly 4,000 ewes, 1200 from Bob Owens, 2200 from Joe Davidson and 300 from Fred Hagelstein.

Growers viewed the wool market with optimism this week as long wool sold for a new high of 30½ cents in a sale at Del Rio. Reports are current of offers to contract fall wool, shearing of which will start in the next two weeks, here at 22½ cents. Predictions are being made that the fiber will sell for 25 cents or better.

ONE THING and THEN ANOTHER

By FRED GIPSON

SAN ANGELO.—Sometimes I like to find a comfortable place to sit and watch the funny people go by. Down in the dining room of the Cactus hotel here is a good place. There's a plate glass window next to the street. A man can see out through it. Venetian blinds keep him from being seen.

It's very necessary that a man watching people cannot be seen by the people he's watching. In the first place, when people know you're watching them, they cease being themselves and start being somebody different, for your benefit. Then, too, the people watched might think the sifter was funny, too. And that would take a lot of fun out of the thing. People are funny that way.

I sat at a small table in the Cactus dining room just the other night. I put in my order and started watching.

First came a newsboy, selling papers at the top of his voice. He was on a dead run, when suddenly he halted short and dragged his bare foot across the pavement. He'd picked up a sticker of some kind. I could tell. I've dragged a thousand grass burs out of my bare feet, pulling them across the grass or sand, just the same way. This likely wasn't a grass burr, but a bent pin or a curled shaving of steel. I wouldn't know. I never did run barefooted on the streets.

A quick-moving little man with a cane came next. He came from the West. A woman of draft-horse proportions and a fierce eye, met him, going West. The two seemed to be in a hurry. (Continued on Page Four)

Contestants were judged on four points—personal appearance, appearance of horse and saddle, ability of girl to ride and handle her horse, and ability of the horse to be reined.

Only 17 years old, Miss Owens has won several other contests in West Texas and plans to enter the Quemada rodeo September 23, 24, 25. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Owens.

Jones Miller Calls For Cooperation In Pulling Cockleburrs

Jones Miller, self-appointed cockleburrr extermination chairman of Crockett county, has again issued an appeal to residents everywhere in the county to destroy cockleburrs wherever found.

Mr. Miller makes his appeal especially to residents in this immediate vicinity and owners of town property. Many burrs were washed in along Johnson and Gurley's draws in the summer floods and these should all be destroyed before they seed, he pointed out. Cockleburrs do considerable damage to ranchmen by producing wool defects and the Crockett veteran rancher urges cooperation of citizens in ridding the county of the noxious plants.

Nine Veterans Nucleus Of 1939 Lion Gridsters

Likely Youngsters Add Strength to Promising Squadron

Coach Ted M. White is looking to nine veterans, lettermen from last year and the year before, to form the shock troops for his football crew in the impending fall struggles, now scheduled to begin Friday night, September 15, in Big Lake. But behind these veterans are a group of likely youngsters and Coach White is counting on these lads to develop into finished performers to make him a well balanced club in the coming engagements.

The season's schedule was completed the past week, calling for five games on the local battle ground, and four on foreign fields. The complete season's schedule is announced as follows:

- Saturday, September 15 (night) — At Big Lake.
- Saturday, September 23 — Mertzon here.
- Saturday, September 30 — At Junction.
- Saturday, October 7 — Rankin here.
- Saturday, October 14 — Rock-springs here.
- Saturday, October 21 — At Menard.
- Saturday, November 4 — Mason here.
- Saturday, November 11 — Sonora here.
- Saturday, November 18 — At Eldorado.

Junction, Rocksprings, Menard, Mason, Sonora and Eldorado are six conference opponents the Lions will meet for the District 31B championship scrap. A new entry in the district, as a result of a reshaping at the end of last season, is Mason, reputedly a fairly rugged clan.

Coach White has two potent ball carriers for his backfield in the person of Howard Lemmons and Captain Jim Dudley. Lemmons has what it takes to make one of the district's outstanding players and Dudley, shifty and fast, with plenty of power, will shoulder with Lemmons the ball carrying load from the quarterback slot, at least at the outset of hostilities. Coach White has some promising youngsters he hopes will develop into effective aids for a ground-gaining combination.

In the line, there will be a preponderance of veterans and a deal of weight to cause some trouble for the opposition. In this list are "Man Mountain" Fats Thurman, bulky Wayne West, Jr., Boochie Coates, Joe Couch, Harold Keeton, Don Wilson and J. K. Colquitt. This line is Coach White's hope for the necessary weight and power to tangle up opposition teams on the front lines.

Bobby Lemmons, Stanley Lemmons, Jess Hancock and Louis Wardlaw are among heavies among the youngsters who will help bring up the average and perhaps effectively fill in any gaps. Then there's Billy Hannah, Bud Cox, Mustard Williams and a number of other promising lads who may show lots of stuff as training progresses.

Anyway, that's the ammunition available to Coach White and Assistant Jake McCulley, and you may make your own predictions on the season's outcome.

Ozona Softballers Fall Early Victim To Angelo Youths

Ozona's picked softball crew, under the leadership of Vic Montgomery, came to the end of their tournament ambitions suddenly last Thursday afternoon when they were beaten in the opening round by the Sons of the Legion team of San Angelo.

The locals led the Angelo team by three scores to near the middle of the game when the Legion lads went on a batting rampage to pile up four scores. The final tally was 6 to 4.

Crockett Well Completed For 18 Bbls. Hourly

Gilcrease 1-13-U. In University Field Flowing Well

Gilcrease Oil Co.'s No. 1-13-U, largest well in the University field in northwestern Crockett county, was completed the past week at 1,444 feet for a flow of 18 barrels of 24.5 gravity oil hourly. The well flowed 108 barrels through quarter inch choke on a line off casing and lacked 35 minutes of lasting six hours when storage was filled.

The well increased production in deepening from 1,408 feet where it was completed in December for 63 barrels daily on the pump. It began flowing heavily on August 16 through 7-inch casing and placed approximately 2,000 barrels of oil in storage, plus approximately 7 per cent water, before being shut in. The heavy production was unexpected and the well flowed uncontrolled for five hours, overrunning pits and small dams as rapidly as they could be thrown up for a distance of a half mile. It is 2310 feet from the south, 990 feet from the west line of section 13-14-U.

Gilcrease No. 10-13-U, north offset to the big well, has been completed at 1,439 feet pumping 75 barrels of 27 gravity oil in 24 hours. It was deepened from 1390 feet where it was completed by Black and Eubanks for 94 barrels a day on the pump following a 140-quart shot of nitroglycerin.

Patrolmen Change Hours For Weekly License Visit Here

Announcement of a change in the hours each Tuesday when members of the state highway patrol will be in Ozona to issue drivers licenses was announced last Tuesday by Patrolman Hugh Shaw. The patrolmen will be here from 8:30 to 10 o'clock each Tuesday morning instead of 8:30 to 10:30 as heretofore it was announced, thirty minutes being cut from the time spent here.

Patrolmen Shaw and Glen Warner, both stationed at Sonora, are here once a week to take applications for drivers' licenses, chauffeur's licenses, etc., and to stamp old licenses for persons contemplating trips out of the state. The last legislature having failed to pass a license law, the old licenses are still in force, and they will be so stamped by the patrolmen for persons who may go out of the state, thus avoiding questioning by authorities in other states not familiar with the fact that Texas licenses, even though the dates have expired, are still good.

ENROLLMENT FIGURES UP FOR SCHOOLS

Gain Of 12 Pupils Is Made In H. S.; 7 In Mexican

OPENING MONDAY

Many Patrons Attend Opening Exercises In Auditorium

Registration in the Ozona public schools Monday morning at the opening of the 1939-40 term, showed a slight increase in comparison with the total pupils enrolled on the opening day in 1938.

There was an increase of five pupils in the American enrollment and seven pupils in the Mexican settlement school. The grade schools dropped off seven from last year's opening day total and the high school had an addition of 12 new pupils over last year.

This year the enrollment figures show that the grade schools had 187 pupils in comparison to 194 in the 1938-39 school session. The high school had 95 where there were only 83 pupils last year, and the Mexican settlement increased from 138 pupils in 1938 to 145 pupils on the second day of school this year.

The enrollment this year by grades is: kindergarten, 14; first grade, 83; second grade, 27; third grade, 31; fourth grade, 29; fifth grade, 25; sixth grade, 25; seventh grade, 22; eighth grade, 28; ninth grade, 22; tenth grade, 24, and the eleventh grade, 21.

Thirteen new pupils that were registered Monday morning are Ethel Neal, Lometa; Norman Lovelace, Mary Edwards, Cecil Randall Luther, Willie Louise Luther, Mildred Luther, Lola Fay Myers, San Angelo; Jack Sawyer, Robert Sawyer, Iraan; Maynard Welsh, Wayne Ketchum, Eula Mae Stevens, Doris Welsh, Odessa.

School bells chimed again Monday morning as the citizenry of this community gathered in the Ozona high school auditorium to inaugurate a new school session.

The opening program began at 8:30 with Rev. Eugene Slater pronouncing the invocation. Introductions of the new teachers, Miss Zelma Scott, Miss Rebecca Anderson and R. L. Springer, were made by Supt. C. S. Denham. Norman Heath played a cornet solo, accompanied on the piano by Miss Ruth Graydon, followed by a five minute talk on "Three Rules of Living" by Rev. Clyde Childers, pastor of the Baptist church. A violin solo played by Miss Ruth Graydon was accompanied on the piano by Miss Rebecca Anderson. Judge Charles E. Davidson, who has served the schools since their beginning in 1891, expressed the appreciation of the school board for cooperation of patrons in developing the school system. Announcements by Mrs. R. L. Adams, instructor in speech arts, Mrs. Neal Hannah and Miss Ruth Graydon, teachers of private piano lessons, and Superintendent Denham concluded the program.

Mexican Revival Meeting Closed

Rev. John Abbot returned Tuesday to his home in Lubbock after concluding a ten-day series of revival services in the Mexican settlement.

A splendid attendance greeted the pastor at each of the services in the settlement and the last night the building was filled to capacity. There were 11 conversions during the meeting and a baptism was held in the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon. At the night service the Mexicans observed the ordinance of the Lord's Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Brock Jones and son, Brock, Jr., are here from Houston for a visit with Mrs. Jones' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey.

Nothing for Nothing

"Nothing comes from doing nothing," wrote Shakespeare.

The Bard of Avon died some three centuries ago, but his advice seems more necessary today than ever before. For the first time, in our American history at least, a substantial group of citizens have come to believe that they are entitled to something for nothing. They feel that the world, as exemplified by their government, owes them a living. They are quite convinced that no responsibility devolves upon them to save, to work, to think, to plan.

Well, it is time they learned otherwise. For the country has spent billions providing something for nothing, and about the only result is a tax and debt burden that is throttling our productivity, and a new "class" holding out their hands for more money they did nothing to earn. We've squandered a great deal more than we can afford already, to learn that "Nothing comes from doing nothing."

Obsolete

Speaking of a sizable group of politicians and officeholders, Senator Tydings of Maryland, recently described them as "counterparts of those who wielded power in ancient Rome. These men preach democracy and free enterprise while they set in motion the machinery to destroy it."

The very insidiousness of the attack against democracy is one of its most menacing attributes. The men involved never preach socialism, communism, fascism or nazism as such. Always their position is camouflaged, and always they talk ringingly of democracy.

Unless the American people see through this transparent disguise, democracy will eventually be nothing more than an obsolete word found in dictionaries.

Rather than a country biting off more than it can chew, 'twould be far better for it to go hungry.

ON THE SPOT

SEVENTY-SIX PAPERS CLOSED

Wilkes-Barre (Pa.) Record: A few days ago there appeared in the Record an item setting forth that four publications had quit the newspaper field through merger or suspension, one in Minneapolis, one in Buffalo and two in Syracuse. This item reported only the latest chapter in a long story which for more than two years has been growing in length.

Seventy-six newspapers of the United States have either suspended or merged with other publications since June, 1937. Thirty-five of these closed their doors during the first five months of 1939. The authority for these statements is the New York Times issue of August 6.

Responsible in large part, according to executives of newspapers concerned, for forcing these newspapers to the wall were increased labor costs, higher white paper prices and the growing burden of federal and state taxation.

Newspaper managements are challenged today as seldom before. They have the problem of maintaining the newspaper quality to which the American reading public has been accustomed and of meeting rising costs out of revenues that have declined. Meeting this problem taxes the ingenuity and drains the resources at the same time.

When a friend tells you not to worry about your troubles, he probably means he doesn't want you to worry him about them.

We have come a long way from that day when every woman with a cracked voice was believed to be a witch.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—BUSINESS—There is reason to believe that American business and financial markets are in a better position to stand the shock incident to European developments than was the case in 1914. For one thing, events leading up to the tragedy have taken fully two years to unfold, giving business men plenty of time to plan for an emergency. When the World War started, hardly any warning of its likelihood appeared in the press until a few days preceding the actual outbreak of hostilities.

Financially our position seems invulnerable. In 1914 foreigners had large sums invested in this country, which they needed almost immediately after the war began, causing a severe drop in stock market prices and a heavy drain on our gold reserves. The total of European investments here today, plus European-owned cash in American banks, is estimated at $4,800,000,000, a sum which the excess reserves alone of our commercial banks could cover. Moreover, our gold reserves have climbed to the fantastically high figure of $16,600,000,000.

WASHINGTON.—Further assurance that U. S. business can maintain an even keel regardless of upheaval in Europe has been voiced by Jesse Jones, federal lending administrator, after conferring with President Roosevelt. The Export-Import Bank is in a position to finance American exports of surplus commodities abroad, and the RFC has plenty of unused credit with which to finance industrial production here should such a step become necessary, he revealed. Meanwhile, it was being pointed out by government economists that American industries may be able to obtain a larger share of the profitable South American market. Trade between Latin-America and European nations has been increasing in recent years, but during the last few weeks there has been noted a tendency for our southern neighbors once again to look to

FOOTBALL FOTOS

By IRVIN G. STAFFORD

It must have been back in the time of George Washington (he's the one who started that two-term tradition, isn't he?) that the South West Conference schools decided that they would all gang up on the defending football champion, and see that it wouldn't come right back with another title. Anyway, it has never happened. They never repeat in this league.

Rice followers thought their 1937 champions would do it last year, what with the touchdown twins (or was it the time-out twins?), Lain and Cordill, plus a host of other star players. They'd have boys riding the bench whom other coaches would like to have for first string players.

But you know what happened. Along came Texas Christian, gathering power like a tornado, to take Rice and all the rest of its foes in easy fashion and win not only the conference championship but the designation as America's No. 1 team.

Our Sympathies to Dutch

So we feel a little sorry for Coach Leo (Dutch) Meyer of the Froggies. Dutch has a bunch of boys out and is plugging away, apparently planning to go ahead and play out the schedule. He should know what everyone else knows—that his club hasn't a chance—that in this league champions never repeat. Graduation thinned out his crop of all-American and all-conference boys, and, well, it just looks bad, that's all.

What's that Dutch? You say you have a passing, running, kicking quarterback named Jack Odle who will make us all forget Davey O'Brien? No, not that, Dutch! We know that's what you said before—that you had a little Irishman by the name of O'Brien coming up who would make us forget Sammy Baugh. And he came through as advertised.

But you're not serious, Dutch! You don't really mean you're going to try for the championship! But what about Rice, and S. M. U., and the rest of those tough clubs?

They'll all be gunning for you.

Eleven-Game Schedule

Rice looks plenty good from this corner. If it weren't for that terrific-plus schedule, we'd be tempted to take the Owls against the field, what with Lain and Cordill in their senior year, and a bumper crop of good, big juniors and sophomores. But the Owls play eleven games on consecutive weekends, starting September 30—well, just take a look: They meet Vanderbilt and Centenary under the new lights at Houston, then go over to Baton Rouge for a night game with those bad boys at Louisiana State. Then back to Houston for a comparative breather against Sam Houston Teachers—also a night game. And the next week, things really start getting tough. The Birds play their annual "big game" with the Steers at Austin, shove off for New York City and the Fordham Rams, and then return to Houston to meet Arkansas. Along about this time Coach Jimmy Kitts should be living on a diet of aspirin and finger nails. But yet to be played will be A. and M., Texas Christian, Baylor and Southern Methodist. And if the Owls get through that with even a fair record, they should get a Congressional medal—or something.

But T. C. U.'s Frogs, now—they have all the breaks in this schedule business. They open out at Los Angeles against the U. C. L. A. Bruins, then the next week they'll be in Philadelphia for a Friday night game with Temple. Then the wandering Froggies will settle down to a schedule which finds Centenary and Tulsa sandwiched in between conference foes. Not exactly a pushover schedule, but a little softer than some of the others.

Southern Methodist would like it to be known that they're going to have a real contender this year. And they will have. The Mustangs have—of all things—an open date on their schedule the week before they start their conference merry-go-round. Behind them will have been Oklahoma, North Texas State, Notre Dame and Marquette—a sizeable chunk of football.

Porkers Finish Early

Arkansas is coming down out of the Ozarks this season ready to wrap up the championship and take it home early. The Porkers will finish their schedule November 17, when some of the rest of them are just getting a good start. Central Oklahoma Teachers, Mississippi State, Villanova and Tulsa are listed on Arkansas' inter-sectional card.

Texas will be improved. Well, at least Steer fans think it's about time for the Bible plan to begin paying dividends in the form of victories. The University has a relatively light schedule, meeting Florida, Wisconsin and Oklahoma plus the six Southwest opponents.

Texas Aggies will be right in there pushing hard. The Farmers take on Oklahoma Aggies, Centenary, Santa Clara and Villanova before approaching T. C. U., Baylor, et al. Don't forget the Farmers—they may be the season's dark horse.

Bears Play Huskers

The presence of the Nebraska Cornhuskers adds a little luster to the Baylor Bear schedule, which includes Southwestern, Oklahoma Aggies and Centenary outside the league. No Billy Patterson and no Sam Boyd—but still a pretty fair ball club.

So we'll take Rice, T. C. U. and S. M. U. in the top bracket; Texas Aggies and Arkansas in the middle, and Texas and Baylor playing with the white chips.

SECOND TWISTER RETURNS GRANARY CARRIED AWAY

ANADARKO, Okla.—Now that his 1,000-bushel steel granary is back in place, H. E. Stephens now hopes that the wind will leave it alone.

Recently a twister hit Stephens' farm, picked up the granary and set it atop a small road grader 150 feet away.

A week later, while Stephens still puzzled how to get the granary off the grader, another twister came along. It lifted the bin and returned it to the foundation.

The answer, brewers realize, lies in with the distribution of their mild, wholesome beverage through responsible retail outlets. Obviously, the brewers can enforce no laws. But they can

There has been a good many lambs moved out of here in the past week at 6 1/2 cents a pound, but the bulk of the ranchers are holding for 7 cents or better. The ranchmen seem optimistic about lamb prices for the future.

Babe Phillips recently purchased a bunch of registered bucks from Vic Pierce.

Melvin Brown of Ozona Wool & Mohair Co., recently sold 41,000 pounds of 12-month's wool for Ad Harvick at going prices to Tom Richey for A. W. Hillard of San Angelo.

George Montgomery bought the Hicks and White lambs during the past week. They were sold by the head to be delivered September 20.

Elton Holland sold 1,000 lambs to R. Norris of Clovis, N. Mex., at 6 1/2 cents to be delivered September 25. Mr. Holland ranches on the Live Oak creek and reports that he believes this is going to be a prosperous winter.

Slim Craven, who has just returned from a trip through the northern states, advises sheepmen they can discount the story of lamb buyers that there is a short feed crop in the north. He says he stood in a corn patch, stretched his arm above his head and the top of the plants cleared his finger tips by three feet—and Slim is no midget, you know. And he says there's "millions" of acres of it.

Vic Montgomery lost his prize roping horse in a freak accident at the Midland rodeo last week.

The animal was instantly killed when someone slammed a gate on his head in one of the rodeo pens.

Harry J. Friend and son sold 1,000 lambs to George Montgomery at $4.25 per head, to be delivered next Tuesday.

Jake Young has leased the Harry Goode estate ranch, formerly the Rowdy Hoover country, purchasing about 1,000 head of sheep to add to his flock.

Frank Kirkpatrick, former Crockett county resident, now ranching near Springfield, Colo., was here over the weekend visiting his brother, Foster Kirkpatrick, employed on the Joe Blake-ney ranch.

Jake Short is giving up his lease on the John Fogarty ranch land near Dryden and plans to stock a ranch which he owns near Banderita this fall.

Ralph Watson sold his ewe lambs to Roy Henderson at 7 cents a pound. They were delivered to the Roy Henderson ranch at Fort Stockton Friday. Mr. Watson Wednesday sold his mutton lambs at cents to Jess Elrod, delivery in Barnhart.

Mrs. B. B. Ingham is leasing her ranch to Morris Dudley with exception of the part which lies across the river in Terrell county, which is being leased to her sons, B. B. and David Dudley Ingham.

Crops were greatly damaged recently by the largest hailstones ever seen in Pau district of France.

sawed back and forth for a moment, in one of those silly meetings people are always getting into, where they both start to the same place at the same time, back up and start over again.

The little man looked frightened. The woman was obviously very annoyed. Finally she stepped straight at the little man, as if she meant to walk right over such a pest.

The little man ducked around her just in time. He turned to bow and tip his stiff-brim hat. The courtesy was lost on the broad and indignant back of the woman. She kept walking straight on, nose high in the air.

A cop came and leaned up against the window for a moment or two. He hung one heel on the frame that held the window. His feet hurt him. I could tell. I know how I act when my feet hurt me. He reached down, rubbed the toe of his foot with one hand. I figured it was a corn, I wanted to tell him that you can sometimes shave corns off with a clean razor blade and they don't hurt so bad. But then the plate glass was between us. Also, you never know whether or not it's best to advise a cop. They're not used to taking advice. They give it.

Next came a frizzy-haired spitz dog, leading a twisty dame on a leather leash. The spitz made for a light pole. The dame jerked him back. The spitz whimpered and tugged. The dame pulled and quarreled. The spitz set back, howling. The dame dragged him on past the window, out of sight. But she wasn't twisting any more.

A little old bundle-loaded woman shuffled by, talking to herself. She looked like the kind of little old woman who doesn't have anybody to talk to at home.

I was watching a gangling boy, with a gleam in his eye, just about to kiss a girl, when the waitress interrupted.

"Anything else, sir?" It always make me feel important when waitresses say "sir" to me.

I looked down. My plate was clean. While watching the funny people on the street, I'd wiped it clean as a hound's tooth. And had no more idea than a bat what I'd eaten.

The couple outside the window was gone when I looked out again. I don't know whether they ever kissed or not. I like to think they did.

People are funny things.

Endurance Contest

Two Scotchmen had dinner together in a restaurant. After dinner the waiter brought the check. The two of them sat and talked for a couple of hours, after which conversation failed and they merely smoked in silence. At 1 a. m. one of them got up and called his wife:

"Dinna wait up any long for me, lass," he said, "it looks like a deadlock."

Wife Beater Collapses in Court

Max Hartwell, confessed Los Angeles, Calif., wife-beater, collapsed in court recently when the judge administered a withering tongue-lashing. Hartwell was accused of the unmerciful beating and kicking of his crippled, frail wife, and of torturing her. After hearing Hartwell's surly admission, the judge lauded the fact that whipping post punishment could not be administered.

109 Cases Infantile Paralysis Reported In Texas This Year

AUSTIN, Sept. 6.—Infantile paralysis, like typhoid fever and intestinal disturbances of infants, is largely a summer disease. Although cases may occur during any month of the year, over half of the total number occur during July, August, September and October. To date, 109 cases of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) have been reported to the Texas State Department of Health in 1939.

Direct contact between persons is regarded as being the chief factor in the spread of infantile paralysis. Because of the seasonal prevalence of the disease, flies and other insects have been suspected of conveying the virus or germ. Insect transmission has not, however, been scientifically proven. Although animals are subject to paralysis, they are seemingly not susceptible to the human type of this paralytic disease. Carriers are difficult to determine; this fact makes advisable the reduction to a minimum of human contacts during an outbreak.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis comprise headache, fever, vomiting, intestinal disorder, drowsiness and irritability, followed by neck or back stiffness. Prompt medical care, early recognition and reporting of cases to health authorities make possible the use of valuable preventive and control measures.

After the acute state of the disease has passed and walking is permitted the patient, under no circumstances, must the affected part be fatigued. It is thus observed that the secret of successful rehabilitation lies in continuance of professional guidance and large doses of patience.

Donkey Cart Returns to Tokyo Streets

Japan's war-time economy has resulted in the reappearance in Tokyo of the old-time donkey cart, used to transport goods on even the busiest streets. Gasoline, an important munition, is so valued that a drop of it is now compared to a drop of blood. Charcoal burning automobiles, a new invention, have also made their appearance.

Heed that SQUEAK!

... Like the first sneeze of a hay-fever victim, it's a sign of approaching trouble. For it indicates that your car has gone too long without lubrication, and you know, as well as we do, that the life of any kind of machinery is dependent on its proper lubrication at regular intervals. ... Note that we've underscored the word "lubrication"; there's a reason for that. It's to differentiate the lubricating needs of your automobile from the old-time "grease job" which survived the axle-greasing days of the horse-and-buggy era. ... Nowadays, lubrication requires experts using specialized lubricants developed by other experts to do the job asked by the automotive engineers—it's a thing far different from "greasing. . ." So heed that squeak: take your car to the nearest Humble sign for verified Humble lubrication—for an expert job utilizing continually improved Humble lubricants as recommended by the manufacturer of your car. ... Incidentally, this is a good time to do that squeak or no squeak: we'll bet you've been driving a lot this summer.

TEXAS OUT-OF-DOORS

AUSTIN.—The growth of deer herds in Colorado county from 125 in 1924 to approximately 7,800 fifteen years later despite the fact the big game animals had been hunted a great deal in that district is an excellent example of why Texas is one of the leading deer states in the country. The total for 1939 was determined by a recent survey made by Texas game, fish and oyster department officials.

Of the 7,800 deer now in Colorado county, 4,800 are adults and 3,000 are fawns. Of the adult total 1,500 are bucks and it is estimated by veteran game officials that 650 bucks can be killed in Colorado county next season without doing damage to the breeding stock.

Game department officials throughout the state are issuing warnings that the 1938-39 hunting and fishing licenses expired August 31 and that fishermen using artificial lures and hunters above the age of 17 who shoot outside the county of their residence must procure new licenses for 1939-40. Hunting licenses are $2 and artificial lure licenses $1.10.

Another example of how strong the maternal instinct is in the breasts of wild turkeys came to light recently in Kerr county, where two days in a row a turkey hen was observed beating off the attack of five-foot whipsnakes who attempted to steal her chicks.

C. M. Hill, caretaker of the L. T. Davis ranch saw a huge reptile repeatedly dash through a brood of little turkeys, each time grabbing one in its mouth. The old hen, which is of half wild stock, jumped up and down on the snake each time, pecking it and striking it with her wings until the young turkey was released and the snake fled. After the third attack by the snake, Mr. Hill killed it. The following day another snake attacked the brood, got the same treatment from the hen and was dispatched by the ranch caretaker.

Antelope trapped last spring in the Trans-Pecos and transferred to new range thrived during the summer, it is reported by the game department regional game manager in that area. The physical condition of the animals is excellent and many dropped young. The trapping of antelope as conducted by the game department has been hailed as the first successful attempt made in the country and opens up new range for them. Antelope will not jump fences as high as four feet and as a result had been overgrazing land upon which they ranged while other sections were devoid of them. They thrive only in plains country.

4-H Club boys of Warda, Fayette county, are now building quail shelters on farms in that section after having received instructions in constructing them during a recent course conducted at Warda by a game department regional game manager and other officials of the department.

Early arrivals among the ducks have been reported from many sections of Texas during the last two weeks. Many are already in the Panhandle. Pintails and teal predominate. The early birds arrived, almost everywhere they have been reported, a week earlier than last year.

Flood Waters Undermine Dixie Street

Undermined by flood waters from a swollen tributary of the Alabama river, this section of the Prattville, Ala., main street collapsed, halting traffic through the business district. Floods were caused by heavy rains, and though there was no loss of life, more than 3,000 persons in the southern part of the state were forced to see their homes.

Highway department foremen who have refrained from cutting weeds along the right-of-way where quail nests were located have added materially to the quail crop this year. A foreman in Dawson county saved nearly a score of nests by not cutting weeds until August.

While the prairie chicken has a long road to travel before there could be an open season which would not destroy the few remaining birds, good hatches of Attwater Prairie chickens were reported this year in Colorado, Austin, DeWitt and Refugio counties by game department officials. Young birds in Refugio county flourished so well they were difficult to distinguish from the adult birds in June. Birds have been located in several sections where they had not previously been, but in other sections the converting of more land to rice fields each year is cutting down the range of those fine game birds, game department biologists report.

"Grand Old Man" Of Texas U. Writes Life Of Jesse Chisholm

By W. D. HORNADAY

AUSTIN, Sept. 6.—When one Texas pioneer writes the life story of another pioneer who belonged to the era of the old cattle days the chronicle would be expected to be of unusual interest. When the character is no less a person than Jesse Chisholm and the biographer the "Grand Old Man" T. U. Taylor, dean emeritus of the College of Engineering at the University of Texas, the expectancy of the reader is much augmented.

In the case of the book, "Jesse Chisholm," which recently came from the press, no disappointment will meet those who peruse its contents. Dean Taylor has been of valuable service in this work because of his historical accuracy in recounting the eventful career of the man for whom the famous Chisholm Trail was named.

As a boy in Johnson and Parker counties, Dean Taylor lived in the atmosphere of the frontier. Contacts in the days of his youth with people and incidents of the pioneer period gave him a personal knowledge of those stirring times that has enabled him to picture faithfully the background of Chisholm's life. For thirty years Mr. Taylor has collected scraps of published and unpublished information in regard to the man whose name and deeds he has perpetuated in the modest printed volume that he has contributed to the history of the Southwest.

Mrs. Gilbert Noakes, George Allen, and Mrs. Noakes' brother-in-law, Herbert Noakes, arrived Tuesday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jones. Another son, Gilbert Noakes, Jr., has been visiting here for the past month but will return to his home in Corpus Christi with his mother next week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Linthicum and Billie Gene of Barnhart, and Miss Mary Margaret Harris have returned from a week's vacation in Corpus Christi.

TATTLING— in the Younger Set

By C. MAYE DUNLAP

There is no law against going to the dance, thank goodness, and not a tax or age limit. In fact, it is like the younger set was taking advantage of this privilege that dear ole Uncle Sam has provided for us because Saturday night was so crowded with dances that you couldn't walk a step without meeting a "home-made" product. Among those seen at the dance were: D. Kirby, Johnny Henderson, Mary Alyce Smith, Bud Kinney, Totsy Robison, Martin Harp, Spot Friend, Dennis Fleet, Katie and Demp Jones, J. Colquitt, Max Schneemann, Jr., Phillip Schneemann, John Childers, Betty Lou Coates, Mary Parker, Lib Coose, and C. Dunlap.

It has been rumored that a couple of popular young bachelors are going to throw a dance before the college crowd leaves for school. Mind you, I said rumored. My big worry is that they are not doing there wouldn't be enough to pay expenses—m-m-m. The whole town isn't anxious waiting for something exciting.

Mr. and Mrs. Pleas Childress have just returned from Lubbock, where they brought Miss Kathryn over home with them. All three of them were attendants at the wedding of Miss Nance Leaverson (she visited out here last summer, remember?). Mary Geniece Childress she knew that it was the most beautiful wedding she had ever attended and she certainly hated to see the bride go to the first to leave the group of parties that was being given.

S. P. C. A. Approves Bull Fighting—If It's Weaponless

An exhibition of bull-baiting was given in New York recently before members of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals by Sydney Franklin, Brooklyn, N. Y., matador who made good in the arenas of Central and South America and Spain. This was a preview performance for the A. S. P. C. A., who gave their approval of this form of bull fighting as long as Franklin and his assistants leave their weapons at the ringside. Regular fights started later—but without benefit of cutlery. Franklin is shown feinting with a scarlet muleta, his only "weapon" of defense.

Electric Industry Observes Birthday Of Electric Light

The electric industry—among the nation's youngest and most progressive—will join the country at large in paying homage to the inventor of electric light on October 21, according to W. R. Cabaness, local manager of the West Texas Utilities, who cited statistics showing the economic importance of the industry after 60 years of existence.

It was on October 21, 1879, that Thomas Alva Edison announced his invention of the electric light bulb. Three years later the first commercial, privately-owned power plant was opened for public service in New York.

"The industry developed to its present stage of efficiency and service at low cost without subsidies from the government," it was recalled. "So many companies went broke trying to improve their service and grant low rates at the same time that the transmission line type of service was evolved whereby several towns might be served from a single large generating plant and thus reduce production costs for all."

The first transmission line in West Texas was constructed by the West Texas Utilities in 1914 between Abilene and Merkel and proved so beneficial in lowering production costs, and as a result rates could be lowered correspondingly, that other lines were constructed to surrounding towns which either had no electric service or small, isolated plants which gave poor service at high rates. The West Texas Utilities, last year paid $489,983.21 in city, county, state and federal taxes—amounting to $9.75 per residential customer. Savings to customers, through rate reductions made just within the last three years, total approximately $150,000 a year—or about $4 a customer.

The company provides jobs for 1,000 men and women each year and has an annual payroll exceeding $1,300,000.

Work Started On High Marshall Ford Structure

AUSTIN, Sept. 6.—Intended to greatly increase the Lower Colorado river authority's potential flood control capacities, work was started this week on the high Marshall Ford dam 17 miles above Austin.

The dam, already completed through its first construction stage, will be raised from its present 190 feet to 270 feet in height.

When completed, Marshall Ford, being built under direction of the bureau of reclamation, will be the key flood unit of the LCRA's series of flood control, water conservation and power generation dams on the Colorado river above Austin.

Construction of the dam to its ultimate height will make it the fourth largest masonry structure in the world. It will be completed in approximately two years and will provide more than 800,000 acre feet of storage space devoted exclusively to flood control plus super storage and the normal storage for operations.

Huge Crater Dug By Meteor Near Odessa Explored

WPA-U. of T. Crew To Excavate 600-Foot Texas Pit

ODESSA, Sept. 6.—Excavation of one of the nation's largest known meteor craters, eight miles southwest of here, was started last week by a crew of 20 men under joint supervision of the University of Texas and WPA.

Measuring 600 feet from rim to rim, the Ector county crater is known to be exceeded in size only by the famed mile-wide Canyon Diablo pit in Arizona. Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of the University's bureau of economic geology and in general charge of excavation, said.

It was Dr. Sellards who first announced in 1927 that the largely filled-in Odessa crater was actually caused by an "iron" meteorite, which appears to have smashed into the earth "thousands of years ago."

Dr. Sellards said excavation was being pushed to study the effects on the earth under the impact of a large meteor. The Canyon Diablo crater has never been completely excavated, he said.

The bureau director added that he was unable, as yet, to estimate the actual size of the original meteor—other than that it was "quite large"—or whether excavation would yield any of the projectile imbedded deep under ground.

"It may easily have exploded at impact," he explained. "We have already found and examined several fragments."

In accord with University-WPA plans to make the excavation accessible to the public for its educational value, Ector county officials are constructing a two-mile road from U. S. highway 80 to the crater's edge, Dr. Sellards said.

Ozona Buick Crew Previews New Cars In Trip To Factory

Lee Wilson, manager of Wilson Motor Co. here, and four members of his organization, returned the first of the week after attending the largest field sales organization conference ever held by the Buick motor division of General Motors in preparation for what company officials believe will be the biggest year in Buick history.

While at Flint, Mr. Wilson and other members of his party inspected the new Buick models for 1940 and reported them outstanding in style treatment and mechanical advances, and the "hot-test" line of new cars he had previewed in his years as a Buick agent.

Other members of the local Buick organization making the trip to the factory were J. P. Pogue, Slim Craven, J. K. Colquitt and Shorty Colquitt.

"While details of the new cars are to be withheld until the public announcement date," Mr. Wilson said, "it is no violation of confidence to say that two new Buick lines will be added for next year. We will thus have a Buick car to fit every need and every purse just above the lowest price field."

The Ozona party traveled a total of 3,550 miles, taking in points of interest along the way, including the trip through the Buick factory at Flint, the All-Star-N. Y. Giant football game in Chicago, and as a finale, the Casa Manana at Fort Worth.

As Amazed Britishers Viewed Runaway Launching

H. M. S. Formidable, new British aircraft carrier, rides serenely off the Belfast, Ireland, ways after launching herself a half-hour ahead of time. The 23,000-ton craft started sliding down the ways as workmen were knocking out the props preparatory to the launching. As it picked up speed, careening wildly into the water, it hurled timbers in all directions, killing one woman and injuring 20 other people. Lady Kingsley Wood, sponsor of the boat, managed to hurl the traditional bottle of champagne at the retreating craft. The new craft is considered one of the most modern of its kind in the world.

Busy Londoners Find Time to Read Open Air Bible

Busy though they may be, rare are the pedestrians who fail to stop at least for a moment outside St. Paul's church in London to read the Bible which lies open in a glass-topped stand. Each day the Bible is turned to a different page. Here is pictured a window-cleaner, a porter, a page boy, and a mother and her child, attracted by the open volume. Each day hundreds of people stop in front of the famous church, read for a few moments, and go on about their duties. Many of the pedestrians admit that it's about the only time they read the Bible.

PROSECUTION USES FILM OF INTOXICATED DRIVERS

FRESNO, Cal.—A new system, developed here, for convicting intoxicated drivers, has proved so successful other countries are adopting it.

Under it, what the driver says to the traffic officer, or what tests of tongue-twisting pronunciation or words the driver passes have no weight. Instead, he is presented with a photographic movie scene showing just how he was driving. It costs $7.50 to film a driver, but saves $200 in jury fees and the district attorney's time in trying to convict.

The spirits of these tiny waifs from Germany were buoyed temporarily when one of their numbers struck up a tune on her violin as 156 refugee children arrived at the Liverpool, London, station. Women had been found for the children previous to their arrival, and excitement kept them from becoming completely dependent.
