HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From State Capitol

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Austin, Texas — No one envies the job of the Texas legislators who convene here on the 11th.

They face the state's biggest financial problem in years. Cut out for them is the task of: (1) providing more money for increased enrollment in public schools; (2) finding additional funds for public welfare; and (3) locating construction dollars to maintain and enlarge public highways.

A heavy load of students during the next two years will add $24 million to school expenditures.

Public welfare, increased by a November constitutional amendment, will take $14 million more over the same period.

An estimated $50 million per year is needed for highway maintenance and construction.

Education, public welfare and highway already take 90 cents of each tax dollar. And there is pressure for more money from other quarters.

In the general fund is slightly more than $12 million.

What To Do?

A two cents per gallon increase in the gasoline tax is one proposal. Present tax is four cents state, and two cents federal. That would meet highway needs.

Adding $2.75 per barrel to the present $2 per barrels beer tax is another proposal. This would bring in an estimated $10 million annual revenue.

Colleges may be asked to increase the present $24 per semester tuition fee to $50. That would bring in $3.5 million more per year.

Legislators are eyeing natural gas production. A 1954 tax law allowed a levy on the market value at the well, with a one per cent tax reduction each following year. They may vote to cancel the reductions. By so doing the state would keep $14 million per year of the tax money.

Veterans Land Sales

Hearings will be resumed next week by a Senate Investigating Committee looking into "block" land sales made to the state under the Veterans Land Program.

Testimony during the first two-day session showed that individual land sellers had made as much as $200,000 on a single deal.

Indicated by the committee were suits to cancel some block sales to veterans, criminal prosecution in other cases, and changes in the law.

Duval County

Attorney General Shepperd is turning over the investigation of Duval County affairs to District Attorney-Elect Sam Burris.

Shepperd, who forecast recovery of some $500,000 in stolen public funds, said he was in complete agreement with Burris.

The transfer brought to an end a two-year personal investigation of the county's affairs by Shepperd.

Motor Vehicle Tax

A bill to abolish the ad valorem property tax on motor vehicles will be presented to the Legislature by State Rep. Douglas E. Bergman of Dallas.

His bill also would propose a one-third increase in the registration (license tag) fee.

Another Bergman bill would allow banks to close Saturdays.

A third bill would permit judges to deny bail on second felony indictments when the accused is out on bond for a previous felony charge.

Crop Income Up

A cheerful note from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The USDA office in Austin reports that the value of Texas crops for the year reached $1,036,000,000 despite the drought. That's $67 million higher than the preceding year.

Methodist Hospital At San Antonio Plan

San Antonio — Progress was made toward a Methodist Hospital in San Antonio at a called session of the Southwest Texas Methodist Conference January 3, at Travis Park Church, San Antonio, Bishop A. Frank Smith, presiding.

The Conference was approached last May by the Bexar County Medical Society and the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce relative to hospital needs in San Antonio.

The called session adopted a report from a 12 member committee. Rev. C. Herman Murph, Llano, Chairman, named at the May session providing for a site of a minimum 25 acres to be donated by San Antonio along with $1,500,000.

The corporation provided for in the report is to ask for a federal grant of approximately $2,500,000 and secure a long-term loan of a maximum $1,500,000.

The Conference agreed to underwrite a minimum of $25,000 yearly for 10 years toward maintaining and operating a hospital.

Rev. Bolton Boone, Manager of the Methodist Hospital, Dallas, spoke to the Conference.

A nucleus of 16 members of a 21 members board of trustees was named.

What's in it for you?

Every Texan profits in a large way from every barrel of crude oil and every cubic foot of natural gas produced in the State.

Directly. Taxes paid by the petroleum industry to support all agencies of the State Government, including schools, old age assistance, and welfare institutions, totaled $170 million in 1954, more than a third of all the taxes collected by the State. And, in addition, the industry pays millions in other taxes to counties, school districts, and municipalities.

Indirect profits are even greater. Industry employees receive and spend about $850 million a year; royalty and lease payments to landowners add up to $500 million. Most of this money passes promptly into trade channels.

As a result, you'll find oil dollars on every balance sheet in Texas and in every bank account, including your own.

... But you can't figure profits in money alone.

The chief profit from the production of oil and natural gas rests in what these fuels do: In the miles you cover with your car... in heat for your home... in the usefulness of articles made from petroleum hydrocarbons... in the power that moves long trains across the continent and turns the wheels of the large industrial plants.

This profit Texans share with all Americans. It is reflected in the American standard of living, which is the world's highest; and it provides a dividend of national security, because a well developed, efficiently operated petroleum industry is one of the major resources in the U. S. arsenal for national defense.

The holidays were spent mostly at dances and parties. One of the dances to start things rolling was the dance given in Del Rio for T. J. Jarrett, the ones that went to this dance reported a good time and were ready for more.

Christmas night Jack Free and his orchestra put everyone in the dancing mood for the Christmas dance even though the country club was crowded Kent, and Martha still had room to put on a "Bop" performance and even Elizabeth P. assisted Jack Free with a song the night was exciting and everyone had a wonderful time.

Being a little worn out from the Christmas dance, Ozona had only a few attendants at the Sonora dance which was given for a few of the Sonora Seniors.

One of the biggest dances of the year is the Big Annual Barnhart dance and of course the Aggie dance in San Angelo—Ozona had a rather big crowd over the Barnhart dance Dec. 28th but of course that dance is always so much fun that no one can stay away. To the Aggie dance were Jimmie M. and Ann R., being Jimmie is an Aggie himself he and Ann both agreed that the dance couldn't have been better.

The best time of the year is New Years Eve, this always calls for a dance and a dance it was given out the country club. Everyone out of the dance was celebrating the New Year coming in. The club was filled with singing and slaughter from one end of the club to the other. After the dance at the club a few of the kids decided to have a dance again over the McMullans everyone was talking over old times with the exes and around 3:00 o'clock you could even smell the frying of bacon and eggs over that way.

Another party given New Years Eve was a church party called the "Night Watch" games were played and fun had by all.

This was the latest dances, and parties in the year 1954 — and we are all looking forward to more dance, and parties and especially to a fine and better year in '55.

BLUE MONDAY

By Suzann Dale

"You mean it didn't burn down?" "Oh no! Not today!" "Don't tell me it is already Jan. 3."

"Crud" Feeling like this were expressed by each and every member of O. H. S. on Monday. Amid the yawn etc. were memories of a wonderful, care-free vacation, and the realization of coming mid-term tests.

It seems as though some people got their days and nights mixed up or something, because it seems as though beds were put to very little use during the holidays. Instead, school desk are now being used during classes for such purposes.

Most people were expressing sincere regrets for their activities while others were still going strong. Even so, all in all, down underneath, really, everyone was "sorta" glad to get back.

First Thought on Monday Jan. 3 By Suzanne Dale

Mrs. Schumann — I tried to convince myself that school started Tuesday.

Martha Bailey — "Lord a Moses"

Susie Schneemann — "Oh, I have to put out another paper."

Johnny Butterfield — "It seems like September"

Ann Baggett — "Oh no! I don't want to get up."

Jan Jones — "Oh goody! I get to see Freddy again."

Mr. Harlan — "Where are those cigarettes?"

Liz Pearson — "Great honk! That Rinky-Dink school".

Jimmy Carroll — "Good ole school".

NEW YEAR RESOLUTIONS

By Darlyne Alford

Since every one has just returned from the Christmas holidays, we have decided to find out how many good boys and girls we have by finding out some of their "resolutions" for '55. They may not be excellent ones (example is Mr. Hickman's) but they have gone to the trouble to make them and the paper staff has taken a little effort to see a few of them. Here are a few of the ones going around.

Martha Bailey says she is going to "play it cool" this year. Miss North has decided that she is "not going to lose her temper any more." That sounds nice doesn't it. Dear ole Liz! She says she can't stand sadness so she has resolved that she is going to "keep it gay".

Joe Everett decided to keep on "loafing" while Herman Carroll is going to be "a good boy" in '55. The licks must have worked Mr. Rollins. Charles Goodman says "no more sliding down banisters when Mr. Rollins is around." Also Charleen Galbraith has decided to not get kicked out of Mr. Rollins class any more than necessary. Sounds as if Mr. Rollins has made a big impression on the kids of O. H. S.

Here is some good news! Jacquelyn Williams has decided to "REFORM" — No more cutting off cats tails. Bet all cats around town are real glad. Mike Clayton has gotten smart and decided not to go steady any this year. And just listen to this! Janice Spencer is going to be quiet all year in all classes! Freddy Van is going to have more fun??? this year than last. Wonder if Jan is going to have anything to do with that? Mrs. Schumann is pleased with life so why make resolutions?? Susie isn't beat yet. Her resolution is to try and have a better paper this year. Everyone be sure and read it every week now so you can find out how much better! Jan is going to be a good girl and Study while Benny is going to lay off—awhile anyway.

Orville has really turned over a new life. He says that he is going to hibernate this year. Can you imagine?? Don Lott must break all of his resolutions because his main one this year is not to make any more. Here is a terrible one. Mr. Hickman says he is going to make the tests harder than ever and also get more sleep. Della Mason has changed quite a bit too. She is going to be a good girl in classes and never play hooky again. Kent Chapman is real sweet. He is going to help Miss North not to lose her temper and also gain 40 pounds. A real he man. Watch out gals. Mr. Rollins went to a lot of trouble to think this one up. " I do not make New Year resolutions because if I made them I would just break them so why go to the trouble to make them. Well, I guess by now everyone (Continued on Page Five)

How Advertising helps you

BY CHARLES B. ROTH

Life at Both Ends
ONE of the most fascinating and at the same time humane developments of this generation is the lengthening of the life span. Not only do those who are being born have a better chance to survive the precarious first years, which formerly cost so many babies lives, but they have a chance of living far longer than their mothers and fathers, grandmothers and grandfathers.

WANT TO GET FAST "GIFT" SERVICE FAR OR NEAR?

For this credit, most of the credit, that is, must go to the science of medicine. But please save a little credit and give it to advertising, because in a direct and powerful way advertising has been partially responsible for the increased health and longer life of Americans.

You may be wondering how advertising, formerly only a selling force, could be responsible. Maybe you are incredulous that it is.

You may recollect from reading an article earlier in this series that I mentioned the fact of advertising's acquiring a third dimension—a service dimension that has nothing to do with the sale of goods, only of ideas.

This health contribution of advertising began as long ago as 1922, when the country's largest life insurance company began publishing public service ads, teaching Americans how to take care of themselves. In 1922, one of the big problems was tuberculosis. Since then the death rate from tuberculosis has dropped 54 per cent.

Meanwhile various diseases have been exposed to the light of knowledge through this company's advertising—cancer, pneumonia, childhood diseases, appendicitis. Results have been exciting. Pneumonia deaths have dropped 88 per cent, deaths from childhood diseases have dropped 98 per cent, while appendicitis deaths are 88 per cent lower.

As I say, all credit for this certainly does not belong to advertising, but to advertising must go the credit for making Americans health conscious.

When you see an ad in your newspaper you may not look upon it as a protector of your health as well as your family budget but it could very well be that. If anything comes close to being "all things to all men" it is advertising.

The run was predominantly fat lambs on the market at Fort Worth

By the time clearance was completed the slaughter lambs were 50 cents to $1 lower, with woolled lambs top- ping at $19, and horn lambs with No. 1 pelt $18 and $18.50 and be- low.

Shippers paid up to $18.50 down some No. 1 pet lambs. Most good and choice slaughter lambs sold from $17 to $19, and medium and lower grades sold from $10 to $16. Feeder lambs sold mostly from $16 downward in small lots, with sizable strings to shippers as men- tioned above at more money.

Most other kinds of sheep and lambs were steady, and rather poorly tested. Slaughter yearlings were quoted from $10 to $16. Old ewes drew $5 to $6.50, and old bucks sold around $4. Breeder ewes were quotable from $6 to $12.

ties as honor, responsibility, and a devotion for the common good.

We are too materialistic, too much for ourselves, too inclined to worship the man who has the dollar, too ready to sacrifice conscience for gain.

Because we are addicted to supremacy of "things", we are trying to shape life for our young people so they will have the maximum opportunities to feather their nests and avoid hardships. And they are bored to death with it all.

The young people giving trouble today are not those who are working to support families and own homes. They are what might be called "the convertible class," having no compelling necessity for employment, living off the fat of the land, indulging every whim.

At the other end of the economic scale there is trouble with young people from the underprivileged areas, wandering aimlessly around the country, having no objective but to relieve immediate bodily needs, ready to do anything.

I don't know what we can do about it. Do you?

But this I do believe with all my heart. The only thing in life that ultimately matters is character. And the only way to have character is to live day by day with God.

Every ultimate truth sounds corny. So does this one.

But corn is not any the less true for being corn.

Until we have character as the basis of life, we shall not have any life that matters. And until we cannot possibly have character.

The security based on a personal life with God is the only peace we know, the only real security we will ever have.

stocking; all based on the better vegetation present. Sometimes more intense measures such as pitting and seeding of bare areas is feasible. However, judicious stocking is a prerequisite, regardless of what methods are used. Regardless of the method used, improvement is brought about by allowing the more desirable and palatable grasses to go through their normal cycle of growth without too much competition. The vigor of a plant depends on the amount of plant food that has been transported down to the roots and crowns from the leaves and stems.

As animals competition eliminates the better grasses, nature will replace them on the bare areas with quick growing annuals that are also quick disappearing. As each stage of vegetation is eliminated, a lower value type will replace it, that is, less desirable to livestock. Improvement must come about by going back up the ladder by judicious stocking.

Fortunately, the characteristics of most of the Crockett Soil Conservation District, is one of great variety of desirable grasses. In most areas, a sufficient seed source remains to start the rangeland back to its strong potential when proper management permits

Great strides have been made in better understanding of our grasses and their problems the past few years. Much remains to be yet in reclaiming our heritage, the land, following many years of drought and adverse conditions. It is the goal of your local Soil Conservation District and Soil Conservation Service to assist all interested land owners and operators in studying and solving their problems in 1933 to a greater extent than ever before.
