Ernie Boyd's All-District 8-A Pick For 1957 Features Offensive Team Dominated by Champ Ozona Lions and Fast, Alert Defensive Squad

By Ernie Boyd

As usual in the selection of all-star or all-district teams there is a great deal of difference in the opinion of any given group as to whom the honors should go. This year the district coaches were at wide disagreement as to who should make the coveted roles even to the point that several of the first ballots came in without Bobby Sutton's name.

For the above reason, your writer does not hesitate to enter the field as a fearless prophet crying out in the wilderness the names of those I have chosen for the honored roll.

It does not seem to me to be out of line that a team which defeated its nearest rival 34 to 13 and the balance in a like manner should dominate the selections.

Without a doubt our all-district team is based on how each player played against the champions and what I know of their play in a few other games and it is of course possible that we saw a few players at their very worst and, of course, some at their very best.

We did not find the competition for jobs so heavy that we felt justified in naming more than one player to each job, so our squad will be made up of 22 players plus a few honorable mentions.

On defense we felt the selection of ends was indeed simple as there were two outstanding wingmen neither of whom had any competition as far as we could tell. John Neville of Sonora is a senior and a tough, dependable wingman who distinguished himself throughout the year and at the other position Ozona's Jake Young stood head and shoulders above any end in the district. Young was rarely circled and never run over. Sonora lost its chance in the district race when Young recovered enough to play part time at the strong side end and stop the Broncos power game.

At defensive tackles, Sonora's Doroteo Castro and Junction's Larry Haines were big and tough all season. Ozona's B. B. Ingham may have been the best tackle in the league the last two games but lacked experience in the early part of the season and was not the same boy through the early part of the year.

Billy Bob Holden and H. C. Allsup of Ozona and Junction are the choices at guard and Holden would have to be our choice as one of the outstanding linemen in the district this year.

The defensive backfield has speed, alertness and willingness to come up fast to stop a running play or dog a pass receiver. At linebackers are Eddie Sosa of Sonora and Mickey Cavness of Junction; at the halves are Jerry Jacobs of Ozona and Vivian Vasquez of Sonora and at safety Stan Williams of Ozona.

The offensive club was stacked with Ozona players, seven of coach Pete Hickmans offensive team made the mythical club and even though this is a big number in view of the district's outcome, it is not so strange after all.

The ends chosen are Jerry Jacobs and Humberto Cervantez of Ozona. These two wingmen caught 32 passes good for 655 yards and 9 touchdowns in the regular sea-

UT Coach Royal To Be Speaker At Annual Banquet

All-District Honor Banquet Set For Jan. 13 By Lions Club

By Ernie Boyd

The Ozona Lions Club announced the engagement of Coach Darrel Royal of the University of Texas Longhorns as speaker at the all-district football banquet scheduled to be held in Ozona Jan. 13th.

Even though no commitment was made, it was indicated that either the Sugar Bowl game or the Texas-Texas A&M film would be shown by the Texas mentor as a part of the banquet program.

Coach Royal was an All-American at the University of Oklahoma and served a coach at Mississippi and Washington before coming to the University of Texas as head coach last spring.

In his first year as coach, Royal brought the Longhorns from last place to second in the Southwest Conference with a season record of six won and three lost, with one tie.

The banquet is an annual affair honoring the players chosen on the all-district team by the coaches of the district.

Ozona players making the honor list this year are: Jake Young, Billy Bob Holden, Stan Williams, Jerry Jacobs, Bobby Sutton and Rodney Franklin.

Ozona won the district title this year with Sonora finishing second. Menard and Junction tied for third and fourth places and Eldorado finished last.

The season marked the last season at least for awhile in which the Eldorado team will compete in class A. Taking Eldorado's place will be Big Lake. The Owls have been competing in district 7-A where they finished second to Alpine this season.

TS&GRA Changes Rule To Re-Elect Kincaid President

Ozonan Re-Elected At Annual Convention In San Antonio

San Antonio, December 4 — The Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Association changed a constitutional rule of long standing Wednesday to re-elect T. A. Kincaid, Jr., of Ozona president. The old one-year ruling was amended to allow two terms.

Lance Sears of Sweetwater was elevated to first vice president. L. M. Stephens, Lometa wool warehouseman and ranchman, was named second vice president.

The rule change on tenure had been considered several years, and it was brought about this time partly because of the resignation of Virgil Powell of San Angelo as first vice president for reasons of health.

Normally, Powell would have succeeded Kincaid to the presidency.

The membership gave a rising vote of thanks to Powell for his work as an officer of the association.

Kincaid's father was president of the TS&GRA longer than any one man, a total of 10 years.

The association took another step for the first time. Noting an increase in livestock thefts, it voted to post a reward of $500 for information leading to arrest and conviction of anyone stealing livestock from a member.

The sheepmen chose Dallas as site for next year's annual meeting and College Station as site for the spring quarterly director's meeting.

16th Anniversary Of CAP Observed At Program Wed.

CAP Cadet Squadron, G.O.C. Featured In Assembly Program

Civil Air Patrol Cadets and Ground Observer Corps of Ozona presented a program at the High School Auditorium Wednesday morning in observance of the 16th Anniversary of the Civil Air Patrol.

Lt. Maurice A. Lemmons, commanding officer of the CAP senior Squadron was the initial speaker on the program. His topic was "Defense Readiness and Objectives of the CAPC Program."

Major Frank Radzikuin, commanding officer of the Ozona Air Force base, and guest speaker for the program, spoke on the service rendered by CAP. The Major cited a factual example of a typical rescue mission which saved the lives of thirteen persons. He brought out the fact that 65% of all rescue mission hours flown by the Air Force is flown by the U. S. A. F. Auxiliary CAP.

Director of the G. O. C., Sgt. Vernon Harlan, discussed the progress of the Ozona G. O. C. and introduced its members.

Cadet Commandant, Lt. James M. Coker, introduced the officers of the Ozona CAP Cadet Squadron. These are: Jake Young, C. O.; Becky Davidson, Adjutant; Jonathan Burton, Flight Leader; Stanley Franklin, Flight Leader; Stanley Williams, Cadet 1st Sgt.; William Anderson, Supply N. C. O.; and Jim Burton, Public Information Officer.

Lt. Jake Young, Cadet Commandant, discussed the current activities of the Cadet Squadron.

The program was given added color by the presence of the entire Cadet Squadron in uniform on the stage.

BROWNIE TROOP 2

Brownie Troop 2 met at the Girl Scout cabin. Refreshments were served by Barbara Kirby and Gloria Loudamy. Plans were made to make Christmas present for mothers.

Patron Cooperation In Mailing Will Improve Holiday Mail Service

In an effort to minimize the delays in mail service during the peak of the holiday mailing period, Postmaster Floyd Hokit is taking steps to enlist patron cooperation to prevent needless delays and extra work for employees, particularly in the handling of the large volume of Christmas greeting cards.

For instance, the postmaster points out, the sorting and facing of thousands of Christmas cards which are dumped into the mail bin through the mailing chutes occupies the time of at least one employe throughout the day in the heavy mailing period. Christmas cards could be cancelled and dispatched in a minimum of time if all were separated into two separate groups—1. Local, 2. Out of State, and 3. In Texas, outside Ozona.

In an effort to reduce delays in mail service during the coming rush period, the Postmaster has made available in the lobby of the postoffice three mail sacks in a regular postal rack. The sacks are marked for "Local," "Out of State" and "Out of Town—In Texas." Patrons are asked to separate their Christmas cards into such classifications, each faced the same way, and each bundle tied with string provided on the postal counter in the lobby. The sacks in the lobby are for Christmas cards only and no other class of mail should be deposited there. And no Christmas cards should be pitched into the sack unless tied into bundles, as the job of facing the letters for cancellation would add greatly to the time of handling them.

Deposit your Christmas card mailing during the open hours of the postoffice. Do not dump your cards into the mailing chutes at night—wait until morning and hand them in at the window or tie them in bundles and deposit them in the proper mailing sacks in the lobby.

"Since our space for working such volumes of mail is limited, your bundling of mail will greatly reduce the amount of time necessary to face the mail for cancellation," said Postmaster Hokit. "Thus, it will give us time to give you faster, more efficient service during the peak holiday season load."

"Windows will remain open after regular closing hours when business demands it. "Try to mail your packages before 2 o'clock in the afternoon, since they will have to be sorted before going out on the 3:10 dispatch," the postmaster concluded. Do these things and you will have better mail service this Christmas.

ANOTHER YALTA. POTSDAM, GENEVA?

"Assistant President" Sherman Adams is quoted as saying that the American people want Adlai Stevenson to advise the Eisenhower Administration on foreign policy. But, without access to Governor Adams' crystal ball, we can only look back on the evidence of 1952 and 1956 which indicates that the people did not want Adlai formulating and policies (foreign or domestic) for them, and that Adlai's foreign policy views of 1956—notably on recognizing Red China and stopping bomb-tests—were definitely not those of President Eisenhower.

What seems most likely is that Thomas E. Dewey told Mr. Adams that the people wanted Adlai (even though Paul Hoffman and Dr. Milton Eisenhower are said to have sold the Stevenson to the President). All of which makes one wonder what a voter has to do to get former candidates out of his hair.

SHORTER WORK WEEK?

Deep down inside of him, every man (we're not so sure about every woman) is lazy and shiftless. We don't want to work—for work's sake. We haven't been out of the trees long enough.

But the hard fact is we can no longer get a banana or a coconut by merely reaching for it. We have to work to eat. And since it has become the custom to wear clothes and live in houses and give our kids a better start than we had, it has also become the custom to work. What is called "ambition" is a liking for money, or things, or social standing or leadership among our fellows that is stronger than our dislike of work.

Thus, when labor leaders raise the issue of a shorter work week, they are playing with human dynamite. And when they explain, as Walter Reuther has, that they are seeking not merely fewer hours of work but a still fatter pay envelope the lure is atomic!

Less work at higher pay means less goods—at tremendously higher cost. And, as we know from sad experience, when goods are scarce, the competition is not to find buyers but to find things-to-sell-and prices go through the roof. If you think we have inflation now, just hold your hat!

John L. Lewis, who has always been a tough, bitter, no-holds-barred fighter for his mine-workers, and who has gotten his boys the highest pay-scale in labor, has told them flatly: "If you want to stop eating so much and loaf more, we can get you the six-hour day."

We've been thinking our days are pretty long too. It would seem like semi-retirement for an editor to go to the 40 hour week. But we just don't know how we'd buy the fish-hooks we'd need for all that leisure.

And even if this crisis-torn nation didn't go to you-know-where in a hand basket economically, we can't help wondering how long the rank and file of us could physically survive more idle time. Some would have to work 40 hours-or-more just to rescue the rest from the accidental shootings, drownings, highway mayhem and assorted immolation associated with modern recreation!

It is a tribute to sorely-tempted human judgment—and a sorry, too—that recent Gallup poll has shown that people (in all categories) are opposed to the shorter week. Even manual workers voted only 20 percent in favor, 55 percent against, six percent having no opinion.

HAVE DOLLARS - NEED SENSE

Even before Vice President Nixon sounded off in San Francisco for increased spending and an end to tax reduction talk to meet the implied threat of Sputnik, Brig. Gen. Bonner Fellers, US Army (Ret) warned of this reaction from "those who believe America's salvation lies in spending our way out of every difficulty and danger."

Writing in the October 12 issue of Human Events, General Fellers decries "hysterical spending" as "absolutely unnecessary" to an adequate national defense. "The truth is," he says, "more than enough money has been readily available—and more than enough has already been spent—to place the US far ahead of the Soviets in satellite development." Interservice rivalry, he charges, has forced us into second place in this field and also to lag in air power, which he describes as "the only weapon available to us today which can be decisive against the Soviet Union."

"The meaning of our drift into second place militarily—and that is precisely where we are drifting—is terrifying," says General Fellers. "Once the Kremlin dictators gain air and missile supremacy, they will be free to pursue their announced goal of world domination. Today Britain could be utterly destroyed by Red bombers and H bombs. As a consequence, of necessity her policy is not to permit the gap to widen between her and the Soviet Union. Soon, unless we greatly expand our air and ICBM program, we shall be in the same unenviable position as Britain. Should this tragic situation eventuate, it will be the end of liberty everywhere. The Soviet satellite as it encircled the globe, has sounded our last warning. But there is yet time to prevent disaster if we act intelligently now."

Rather than "hysterical spending," General Fellers would expand our air power, accelerate the ICBM program—and cut the budget by $10 billion as well! His suggested program calls for cutting the Army-Navy budget $9 billion, the Foreign Aid budget $5 billion, increasing the Air Force budget $2 billion, spending $1 billion on research and development and $1 billion on the ICBM.

But it certainly does not make room for the ridiculous, witless and childish retaliatory measures now under consideration at the Pentagon—such as, for just one example, a rocket that will fly around the moon!

As General Fellers says, more than enough dollars have been appropriated. The thing to do now is to cut out the foolishness—and spend them where they can give us the most defense.

LABOR'S WHITE KNIGHT.

WALTER REUTHER, told the Washington convention of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department he would like Federal legislation that would put "the Becks," "the Sheffermans" and the "the corrupt employers who cooperate with the Sheffermans" in jail. He didn't like "the Goldwaters" either. This is doubtless because Arizona's Senator Barry Goldwater would like to see the Reuther goons who have terrorized Kohler, Wis., in the jailhouse—and is determined that the Senate Rackets Committee will investigate the Kohler strike, in spite of the pressure on Chairman McClellan to forget it.

The Sicilian "Black Hand", or Mafia, which the McClellan Committee hears directs New York's $50 million garbage hauling racket, might also be considered the Red Herring that is distracting public attention from the promise of a Reuther-Kohler probe.

A Thanksgiving family reunion was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Perner when all of their children and grandchildren gathered for the holiday. From out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Son Wilson and children of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Allen and children, also from Odessa, and from Ozona Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Perner and children and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Montgomery.

Miss Mary Grace Varela celebrated her 18th birthday Friday night at a party at the Ozona Community Center. Refreshments were served to about sixty of her friends by the hostesses, Leon and Socorro Taylor. Good used clothing available at Ozona. Phone 2. Mr. and Mrs. Carl children spent Thanksgiving.

*A Tribute . . .
To Friendship!*

Through the years, as we learn to evaluate people and personalities, we find that enduring friendships are one of life's precious jewels. What is more comforting than a treasured visit with someone to whom you can be just your natural self! Do you know what the definition of a friend is? It is a person who knows all your faults but still likes you, in spite of them. None of us is free from faults. That is only human. So we gravitate to those who like us and who, in turn, we think rather special. Let's cherish our friendships and make the most of them . . . lest auld acquaintance be forgot!

Wildlife Conservation Should Be Practiced As Part of a Well Managed Ranch Operation

By Dick Ketchum
The fall is the time of year when we are most conscious of our wildlife. The deer season opens the middle of this month and those landowners interested in deer as a cash crop are wondering how many bucks they will be able to harvest. Deer numbers and the available food supply should be a year round consideration and should be considered in the stocking rate of the ranch. A complete conservation plan should include measures to improve the wildlife habitat. Those plants utilized most heavily by deer should be maintained or increased and sufficient escape cover should be left if brush control is practiced. Kidneywood, shin and liveoak, bush sunflower, and Texas wintergrass are some of the more important plants preferred by deer that are found in the Crockett Soil Conservation District.

Deer and goats compete directly for the available food supply. Sheep also compete with deer, but to a lesser degree. On a range in poor condition, all classes of livestock compete with deer for the available food supply which results in a die off and a poor fawn crop. Deer will rarely range over 1.5 to 2 miles although bucks have a slightly larger range than does. Supplemental feeding of deer is sometimes practiced but may result in the deer population exceeding the annual feed supply.

A rancher interested in wildlife improvement should consider escape cover when he practices brush control for although deer like to feed on open country, they prefer to be near escape cover. Strips of brush 100 feet wide with connections to other brush areas are adequate for cover, but cleared should not be over 900 feet wide and not less than 25 percent of the pasture should be left uncleared.

Studies were initiated in March, 1949, to determine the reactions of livestock to three intensities of grazing with four kinds and combinations of livestock at each intensity. The three grazing rates were heavy, moderate, and light or 48, 32, and 16 animal units per section, respectively. The kinds and combinations of livestock were cattle alone, sheep alone, goats alone, and combinations of cattle, sheep, and goats together. A deferred rotation grazing rate using a combination of half cattle, one fourth sheep, and one fourth goats. Each pasture is rested four months and grazed twelve months.

In those pastures that were heavily stocked with goats alone, sheep alone, and combination of sheep, cattle and goats, with the exception of those stocked heavily with cattle alone, deer are seldom seen. Grazing with cattle alone has apparently failed to reduce deer numbers at any rate of grazing. Deer counts in the heavily and moderate grazed cattle pastures show a deer to every 15 to 16 acres. Moderate grazing with sheep alone has been the only moderate grazing intensity that has resulted in range deterioration, but the deer population has been at the same level as the pastures stocked moderately with sheep, cattle and goats or cattle and goats. These moderately stocked pastures have a deer population of one deer to 20 acres.

Moderate grazing with goats alone has resulted in relatively heavy browse use and deer numbers have declined to one deer to 40 acres. The moderately grazed deferred rotation pastures have shown marked range improvement during the drought with an increase in the deer population to one deer to 8 acres. Light grazing with sheep has allowed range improvement but the deer population has not followed the general trend of increasing as a result of light livestock use. Light grazing by a combination of cattle, sheep, and goats has shown range improvement through the drought and has a deer population of one deer to 11 acres. Light grazing with cattle alone has shown a marked range improvement over the last nine years and has a heavy deer population of one deer to 7 acres.

The instructor in a Y M C A charm course was urging her students to give their escorts every chance to be gallant.
 "Remain seated in the car until he has had time to step around and open the door for you," she said. Then, bowing to reality, she added, "But if he's already in the restaurant and starting to order, don't wait any longer!"
 The Sportman's Association of Jefferson County, Alabama, had to cancel a scheduled fish fry because the members failed to catch enough fish.
 My youngster came into the house with a black eye, bloody nose and all the marks of a tough fight. As I was patching him up, he said, "Gosh, Dad, what a fighter! Last week when I challenged Jimmie to a duel and gave him the choice of weapons, gee whiz, I never thought he'd use his sister!"

Two women who were maneuvering their car into a tight parking space gave up after a valiant struggle when the driver shut off the motor and said to her companion: "This is close enough. We can walk to the curb from here."

A visitor to New York stopped two teen-age girls in blue jeans and asked the way to the Empire State Building. Pointing down the street, one of the girls said: "You can't miss it. It's right across from the record shop."

Only One-Tenth Of Vehicles Inspected

With only one-tenth of the motor vehicles in Texas inspected for the year 1958, automobile and truck owners were urged today to obtain their new inspection stickers before the holiday season.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, called upon motorists to obtain their 1958 inspection stickers as soon as possible in order to alleviate the last minute rush on the 4200 inspection stations in Texas.

Garrison said only about 450,000 of the four million registered vehicles in the state have been inspected and approved.

"While this number exceeds that for the same period last year," he said, "the present rate of inspection will not prevent inspection stations from being rushed again during the last few weeks of the inspection period ending April 15, 1958. Vehicle owners who complete their inspections before the holiday period will avoid the inconvenience of waiting at the inspection stations."

Sharon Majean Fairweather Becomes Frankie Joe Jones In Midland

Sharon Fairweather of Ozona, bride of Frankie Joe Jones of Midland, was married at 11:05 a. m. Sunday, Nov. 27, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fairweather, 1105 West 1st St., Midland. The bride was given in marriage by her father, the groom by his father, Mr. Frank Jones. Officiating at the ceremony was Rev. W. V. Long, Jr., pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church. The organist was L. L. Lavery, organist of the church. The bride wore a white dress with a high collar and a full skirt. She carried a white bouquet. The groom wore a dark suit and a white shirt with a tie. The ceremony was held in a room decorated with white flowers. The reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom will be at home at 1105 West 1st St., Midland, on Monday, Nov. 28, from 2 to 6 p. m.

the matron of honor. She wore a princess styled dress in amethyst crystalline. Her headdress was an orchid pearlized bandeau with orchid veil trimmed with seed pearls. Orchid satin shoes and orchid tulle mitts completed her ensemble. She carried a colonial bouquet of Virginia pink carnations finished in picot pink satin.

Jim McCorquodall of Garden City was the best man and Jack Lewis was the usher.

The ceremony took place before a background of emerald fern. Matching baskets of white stock and white carnations flanked the greenery and seven-branched candelabra completed the decoration.

Assisting the couple in receiving guests at the reception following the ceremony were their parents and the matron of honor.

The reception table featured a balanced arrangement of white stock and white carnations accented with nylon tufts. An arrangement of the same flowers graced the registry table.

For a wedding trip to South Texas, the bride changed to an orchid knit suit with fur jacket and hat and beige shoes and handbag. She also wore a corsage of white phalaenopsis orchids. The couple will be at home in Alpine after Sunday.

205 Violent Deaths In Texas During Holidays
Is Prediction Of DPS

The violent deaths of 205 persons in Texas during the 12-day Christmas-New Years holiday period was predicted today by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas PDS, announced the prediction of all forms of violent deaths compiled by N. K. Woerner, manager of Statistical Services. The estimate include 113 motoricides, 48 suicides and homicides and 44 other accidental deaths for the 12-day period extending from 12:01 a. m. Dec. 21 through 11:59 p. m. Jan. 1.

During the same 12-day period last year 108 persons were killed in 89 fatal traffic accidents, seven below the 116 predicted motoricides.

The state police director said the same "all-out" effort of traffic law enforcement employed in holding down last year's count of traffic dead will be used again during the forthcoming holiday.

"Our estimated 115 motoricides (traffic deaths) for last year could have been exceeded except for the cooperative around-the-clock effort of all law enforcement agencies throughout the state. Traffic law enforcement will again be strengthened in an effort to prevent traffic accidents and accident prone situations.

"From all indications, the two week-ends during the forthcoming holiday period will be high accident periods. With Christmas and New Years falling on Wednesday, both days plus the day preceding each will also be with high accident days. This means that we will have the equivalent of four week-ends within the 12-day period.

"IT WAS A NICE TRY, BUT..." seems to sum up public opinion about competitive cars attempting to equal the styling and features of the Sweep-Wing 58. They tried to get as low, but had to lower the roof to do it. (Less headroom, same high, boxy, cooped-up look.) Their windshields got smaller, while ours got bigger. Most of them still don't have Total-Contact Brakes to assure smooth, even, safe stops when needed. Nor do they offer push-button TorqueFlite, the proven automatic transmission, and Constant-Contact power steering that works full time - not part time as some other systems do. And Dodge no-sway, no-dip Torsion-Aire is standard equipment. (Bus-type air springs offered by some cars cost well over $100.00 extra.) So compare all the 1958 models with Dodge. We think you'll agree: Other cars are catching on, but they can't catch up.

son. Both men have speed and are able blockers. The record speaks louder than I can.

At tackle, Rod Franklin of Osoma and Larry Haines of Junction were outstanding blockers. At guard Holden of Osoma and Dan Cauthorn of Sonora seemed best on the occasions we saw them play.

We will have to be frank and say that the selection of Duane Lovelace as center was based on the selection of this player by the coaches as both an offensive and defensive center. In the only game we saw him play, Menard had little in the way of an all-district player except for Curtis Leggett.

In the backfield Stan Williams at quarterback had no competition and we are sure that Bobby Sutton was the league's standout at halfback. At the other half we chose Junction's fleet Bert Mansfield and at fullback Jake Young. Young was late at starting at the fullback post but came on strong and in our opinion was not only the best fullback in the league but also one of the top ground gainers when the Lions chose to use him.

Well, there it is! We thought there should have been a spot for Allen Wall of Sonora, Curtis Leggett of Menard and Charles Fox of Junction along with Dick Runge of Eldorado and David Patterson of Menard and, of course, B. E. Ingham who barely missed both at center and at tackle.

Increased Receipts At Fort Worth Stockyards

FORT WORTH—Increased supplies of livestock were offered at Fort Worth for the Monday trade, compared with figures of a week earlier.

Demand for stocker cattle and calves was broad during Thanksgiving week and the trade continued active and fully steady at the start of this week even though supplies expanded. Slaughter calves sold as high as during the previous week.

Good and choice stocker steer calves brought $21 to $25. Most stocker heifer calves ranged downward from $22. A few bull calves sold as high as $23. Yearling stocker steers sold from $16 to $22.50. Stocker cows sold from $12 to $16.50.

Beef cows sold mostly from $14.50 to $16, canners and cutters $10 to $14, shelly lightweight cows $8 to $10. Bulls brought $13 to $16.50. Good and choice slaughter calves drew $21 to $23.50, outstanding odd head to $24, low grade butcher calves $15 to $19, cull sorts $12 to $14.50.

Lamb Prices Firm

Sheep and lamba sold fully as high as during the previous week. Good and choice 55 to 65 pound woolled and No. 1 gilt slaughter lambs brought $27.50 and $22, plainer kinds $21 down.
