HELLY HUNTS EVIDENCE FRAMED

Suspect Arrested After Corpse Given 2,000 Mile Ride

MICHIGAN MAN'S DISAPPEARANCE IS BELIEVED SOLVED Confession Obtained After Patrolmen Make Arrest

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Feb. 7. (AP)—A murder suspect's 2,000-mile automobile ride with the body of his alleged victim was disclosed at a police outpost on the California-Nevada border today and solved the disappearance of a Kalamazoo, Mich., trucking contractor.

Clarence Frechette, 25, driver of the machine, was reported by Capt. Joseph Blake, of the California highway patrol. He confessed he shot Robert Brown, his employer, at Howell, Mich., Jan. 29, and carried the body in the trunk of the machine for nine days.

Frechette became known as "the flying bandit" seven years ago when he was convicted of slugging his flying instructor, Harry W. Anderson, with a hammer during a flight from Pontiac, Mich.

A Proclamation

THE BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA, incorporated February 8, 1910, and chartered by Congress June 15, 1916, have during the past thirty-five years rendered notable service to the Nation. They have done effective work in this community and throughout the country during the War their efforts on behalf of Liberty Loan and War Savings campaigns and other measures were outstanding. During the period from flood, hurricane, tornado and other disasters they have demonstrated the effectiveness of organized volunteer service.

The Boy Scouts have not only demonstrated their worth to the Nation, but have also contributed to a deeper appreciation by the American people of the higher conception of good citizenship.

The objective of the present Ten Year Program of the Boy Scouts of America is to provide for the nation a citizenry in which one of every four of the new male citizens each year will have had at least four years of Scout training.

During the past twenty-five years 6,530,330 persons through the various branches of Scouting have enjoyed Adventure, Camping, Swimming, Woodcraft, Handicraft, Fellowship, Health and Safety, and have learned how to be helpful to others and have been trained to be participating citizens.

During the week from February 8th to 14th the Boy Scouts of America will celebrate their Twenty-Fifth Anniversary, continuing with a year of special activities including a National Jamboree in Washington, D. C., as announced by President Roosevelt.

THEREFORE, I, M. C. ULMER, MAYOR OF THE CITY OF MIDLAND, do hereby recommend that the citizens of this city observe this Boy Scout Week and Anniversary Year for the purpose of strengthening the work of the Boy Scouts of America.

I earnestly recommend that our civic organizations, our churches and our schools cooperate in carrying out a program for a definite recognition of the effective services rendered by the Boy Scouts of America in order that the work of the Boy Scout Program may be extended to a larger proportion of the boyhood of this City.

The Boy Scout Movement offers unusual opportunity for volunteer service. It needs men to serve in various capacities as leaders of boys. I hope that all who can will, through the organizations with which they are connected, enlist for such personal service. Anything that is done to increase the effectiveness of the Boy Scouts of America will be a genuine contribution to the welfare of this City, the State, and the Nation.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of this City to be affixed.

Done this 7th day of February, in the year of our ord., one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five.
M. C. ULMER.

Boulder Dam Operation Starts

Man's control over the mighty Colorado river became reality when water poured down the spillway from No. 1 diversion tunnel to begin filling the mammoth reservoir of $49,000,000 Boulder dam. PERRINI WILDCAT HOUSE REJECTS BILL TO PROBE STATE OFFICIALS MAY OPEN A POOL IN FISHER FIELD

By PAUL OSBORNE
Possibility of a new pool in Fisher county came yesterday with the encountering of oil in Merry Brothers and Perrini No. 1 Howard, a wildcat test about five miles north-east of Rotan and the same distance west of the Stephens area.

The well, which is being jointly drilled by Merry Brothers and Perrini and Tide Water Oil Company, is reported showing 3,000 feet of fluid, 1,200 feet of which is water, in the hole from total depth of 2,670 feet, five feet below the top of the pay. Heads were made yesterday morning and this morning, but operators are uncertain as to whether the water showing is bottom hole sulphur water or comes from further up the hole and so are preparing to run casing to test.

Location of the Fisher county discovery is 1,320 feet from the north line and 660 feet from the east line of section 180, block 2, H. & T. C. Railway survey, and is reported to be on a block of about 8,000 acres jointly held by the operators.

After several unsuccessful attempts to make drill stem tests, it shows between 3,850 and 3,905 feet, packer not holding in wildcat, Amerada No. 1-D State, west of well southwest of Monument, Lea county, is reported showing to run casing and swab to unload the hole for definite test of the horizon.

The opinion of some is that the showings to date are of commercial quality for a new pool opener, but that they have been obscured due to the heavy drilling mud used in the rotary operation.

Health Board Report Recites Enviably Accomplishments in County During 1934

Editor's Note: The following report of the health work done in Midland county during the past year was made by Mrs. Young at the annual meeting of the county Public Health board Tuesday evening.

By MRS. ADDISON YOUNG
Although the history of the public health movement goes back beyond the year One, it is only since 1918 that we have made much headway. Until the beginning of the 19th century, practically all such work was conducted by private philanthropic organizations; but municipal and state governments, and finally, the federal government have taken an increasing interest in the movement. Our public health nursing service here in Midland was organized as, and still is, a 50-50 proposition with the state and the national government. With this in mind, you will see that this is the report of but a single unit in a huge cooperative body, moving forward with the determination to bring about healthful living conditions in our country.

Government Sponsored Health Work
Along with the New Deal in politics has come a new deal in economics, and along with that an increasing interest of the state and federal governments in our national health. Since the Child Health Recovery conference called by the Secretary of Labor in October 1933, practically every state has worked out some plan for care of needy children. Surveys have been made in most states to find out the health conditions of the nation.

Under the direction of the state department of health and the Civil Works Administration, a sanitary survey of Midland County was made early in the year, from which a great deal of information regarding the health of our community was learned. The major interest of this survey was to check up on home sanitation and immunizations. It was found that about 130 Middle houses are not connected with the city sewer lines, but have cesspools. There were 333 outdoor privies, of which 102 were of the pit-type. Of the 4,897 individuals in the survey, a little more than half had been vaccinated against smallpox. Only little more than one third of the individuals surveyed had been immunized against typhoid fever. There were 623 child under ten years of age who had not been vaccinated against diphtheria.

Following this survey a C. W. A. project was put on to install pit privies, and a C. W. A. nurse assisted in carrying out the project. The state department of health has been particularly interested in child welfare, and because of that Midland county has been the banner county in carrying out the project planned by the state health and social service advisors to bring relief to our under-privileged children. In some counties which have a much larger public health service than we have, very little has been done along this line, so we feel that Midland county Public Health board, and in fact Midland county owe a great deal of thanks to Mr. Taggart for the pressure we have gained in this work, as it depends upon the local administrator's judgment as to how the money shall be spent.

Ever since the service was begun in 1931 the board has been working toward having hot lunches served in the schools. Some success was reached in a few schools, but the parents have never been convinced of its importance, neither were the school officials. But through the help of the relief administration all of the elementary schools in the county and city are now serving a hot lunch to the children from relief families. In all schools except North Ward school, a kitchen and lunch room have been provided for (See HEALTH BOARD, page 4)

Rotary Governor Visits; "Sits Back and Listens"

District Governor Thos. T. Taylor, of the forty-first Rotary district, staying on his "second round" in the 62 clubs under his jurisdiction, visited the Midland Rotary club today as a Rotarian and not as an official.

Following a desire expressed in a letter, he took no part on the program but wanted "sit back and hear some Rotary." Consequently, a varied program was conducted by E. H. Barron.

Robert H. Hamilton, newest member of the club, was inducted in a brief talk by W. I. Pratt who told the relation of Hamilton's vocation, lawyer, to Rotary.

Percy W. Bridgewater, former member of the club, was re-elected to membership. Names of two prospective members to be voted on soon were read.

An invitation from the Rotary-A. M. E. organization to attend a ladies' night program of entertainment on Thursday, February 21, observing the thirtieth anniversary of Rotary was unanimously accepted.

Visiting Rotarians included Irbin Hershey of New York, Randy Ransderson of Abilene, Governor Taylor of Brownwood and John Simpson of Sweetwater. Phil Cordell of Fort Worth was a guest of R. L. Miller.

Group songs, prior to the luncheon, included one specially written for and dedicated to Governor Taylor. The group also sang "The Flying Trapeze" in honor of Miss Margaret Strickler, spending the winter here from a tour with the Ringling and Barnum circus. She was at the luncheon, assisting the ladies of the Christian church in serving the meal.

Joe Pyron gave a talk on "Why I Like Midland", in which the outstanding advantages of the city were pictured in glowing terms and the future of the city was forecast in optimistic vein.

Quartet numbers were sung by the club's "Bill" group, composed of John Crump, Percy Mims, Winston F. Borum and T. Paul Barron.

Arthur Yeager gave a "newsreel" in which affairs of international, national, statewide and local interest were reviewed briefly.

L. H. Thiffin gave a talk on the life of John P. Howland, telling of his interesting experiences in Mexico and other high spots.

District Governor Taylor, in a brief speech, told of active OTM committees he had found in the clubs of the district, meaning On To Midland groups, and expressed the district committee's hope that here May 6 and 7 would be heavily attended.

President Fred Wemple called a meeting of the executive committee on conference plans for a session with Governor Taylor following the luncheon.

GOVERNOR CHARGES HORSES DOPED AT ALAMO DOWNS TRACK; SWEEPING INVESTIGATION OF "FIXING" ORDERED

AUSTIN, Feb. 7. (AP)—Governor Allred revealed today that he had ordered a sweeping investigation into operations at Texas race tracks of a ring purportedly "fixing" races through use of narcotics.

The governor said the inquiry had been quietly under way for several days, starting after eight trainers at Alamo Downs, San Antonio race course, were suspended for alleged improper practices.

The governor expressed the belief that certain former state employees as he knew only one track was involved.

The inquiry has disclosed, the governor said, that information on "doped" horses had been wired to all parts of Texas and outside states.

The governor said: "There is no doubt from the investigation that doping horses is being done and that gamblers are reaping a big profit. I have evidence to prove it."

Art Dealer Will Bring Display Here

J. E. Henson, international dealer in fine arts, will arrive in Midland Saturday with a collection of oil paintings which he will display here. The exhibition will open probably Monday, it was said today, and will last about a week.

Henson has been in Midland before. The Hotel Scharbauer is the owner of three canvases bought from him including the large painting in the lobby, an ocean scene, and a floral "Apple Blossoms." Four other pictures from his collection have been on display in the hotel for about two years.

Further details of the exhibition will be given in Sunday's issue of the Reporter-Telegram.

Given 15 Years in Labatt Case

LONDON, Ontario, Feb. 7. (AP)—David Meisner Cincinnati bookmaker, Wednesday was sentenced to 15 years in prison on each of three counts, the sentences to run concurrently, in connection with the kidnaping of John Labatt, wealthy London brewer.

Two of the charges against Meisner dealt with the kidnaping, while the other charged him with robbery with violence.

Justice G. F. McFarland, who presided at the trial here, passed sentence immediately after the jury returned its verdict.

Meisner heard the verdict calmly. His face showed little expression, his mouth drooping open slightly. The jury was out just over an hour before it filed in with its verdict.

As the jurors filed in and Meisner faced them, he mopped his face with a handkerchief. He looked straight at the 12 men.

Although imposition of the lash would have been permissible under the charges against Meisner, the little Cincinnati bookmaker was spared that punishment.

"RAIL 16" OF KIDNAP LADDER CAUSES BATTLE

Square Nail Hole Is Said Made After March 1932

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Feb. 7. (AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's defense today pursued the hint of "framed" evidence with an expert witness, Dr. E. M. Hudson, New York physician and fingerprint man, who insisted in the face of the photographs and government reports that three incriminating nail holes in the Lindbergh kidnap ladder were not in existence when he examined it. Hudson clung to his testimony that "rail sixteen" part of the kidnap ladder that the state charges came from Hauptmann's attic — had only one square nail hole when he saw it March 13, 1932, thirty days after the Lindbergh baby was kidnaped and slain.

The rail, in evidence, has four nail holes which state experts and police said filed with nail holes in joists in Hauptmann's attic.

Mrs. Augusta Hie, mother-in-law of Gerta Henkel, who testified yesterday, said that the deaf Isador Fisch, accused by the defense as the receiver of the ransom money, borrowed $4,350 from her and never repaid it.

FOR SAFETY AT SEA

Department of Commerce officials are quoted in current Washington dispatches as saying that it would be a good thing if Congress should order an investigation into recent steamship disasters; and with this comment the ordinary citizen probably will be in complete agreement. It is utterly impossible for the innocent bystander even to hazard a guess as to what may be wrong—if, indeed, there be any one cause for our recent tragedies at sea; but there is a general belief that something is out of line somewhere, and that it needs looking into. Generations of experience have proved that American designers, builders and seamen are as good as any on earth. We should not be having accidents at the rate we have been having them. A congressional investigation might be an excellent remedy.

Youthful Romance

Helen Foster and Glen Boles in a scene from "Road to Ruin" at the Ritz today and tomorrow.

Occasionally a picture comes along that, through some new twist or some novel method of treatment, causes the jaded movie fans to sit up and take notice. Such a picture is "THE ROAD TO RUIN" which is now showing at the Ritz. In addition to being wonderful entertainment and a story of compelling interest, "The Road to Ruin" deals with a subject that is close to the heart of every normal American—the welfare of our girls—and as such, it has been endorsed by Juvenile Authorities and Police all over the country. From the moment the two lovely girls start their trip down the primrose path that leads to the ROAD TO RUIN until the final fadeout, there is not one uninteresting moment and the audience sits spellbound. Rarely in the history of the screen has a picture been so beautifully cast and perhaps never has a subject dealing with such a delicate topic as sex delinquency been so cleverly handled. The thrill seeker will get his full quota of emotion, the sensation seeker will not be disappointed, yet the thoughtful will leave the theatre feeling that they have seen a masterly presentation of the most serious problem facing the American people today. "The Road to Ruin" is well worth while.

groomed effect, the chances are you literally long for the beauty preparations that are home on the dressing table.

Why not start bringing some of the necessary makeup cosmetics to the office with you? Pour part of your favorite foundation lotion into a tiny bottle, put some of your regular face powder into a small box, get another container of cream rouge and a jar of hand cream, and then arrange everything in a box in the corner of a desk drawer.

You'll find your beauty problems greatly simplified if you take this box along to the dressing room with you each time your face needs to be cleaned and made up again.

In addition, keep a fresh handkerchief and a clean pair of gloves in your desk. If you wear suede shoes, a wire brush will be handy. And, on those days when you have to go to work in the rain, you'll be grateful to your forethought if you've remembered to tuck a clean pair of stockings beside the gloves. If you are one who objects to soap and water cleansings, better keep a bottle of cleansing lotion or a bit of cleansing cream at the office.

All these suggestions won't lessen your efficiency one particle. As a matter of fact, it takes no longer to make up correctly than it does to do a haphazard job. Besides, it's a splendid idea to look well-groomed and neat in the afternoon and at tea time as well as in the morning when you arrive from home.

MISS LANHAM READS ELMER STILA PLAY
Miss Stella Maye Lanham read "Judgement Day" by Elmer Rice at the meeting of the Play Readers club at the home of Mrs. Chas. L. Klapproth. The three-act play is primarily a story of political conditions in a country of southeastern Europe, and practically all the action takes place in a court room.

Roll call was answered with current event topics connected with the theatre and moving pictures.

A brief business session preceded the reading of the play and a round-table discussion of it followed the social hour at the close of the afternoon.

Light refreshments were served to club members. Miss Wade Heath, T. E. Flood, E. H. Barron, Ralph Barron, Rawlins Clark, De Lo Douglas, Bryan C. Henderson, E. Hazen Woods, Glenn Brunson, Bob Hamilton, Miss Stella Maye Lanham, Miss Leona McCormick and the hostess, guests, Misses Al Luskamp, J. J. Kelly, Bryan Ware, W. C. FEMININE FANCIES

Weather that is undecided what to do is just as boring as a person in the same condition. We want rain but half-rain is just plain disagreeable.

A new hat is one of the means of freshening up a wardrobe that has begun to pall on its wearer as winter frizzles out into spring. Here is a note on hats for wear just now:

Tulle, faille and corded silks are perfect fabrics for inbetween season hats. One particularly nice model to wear with your winter coat right now and with a spring suit later on is of bright blue tulle with a jaunty red feather stuck in the crown. Another, made of dark gray cord silk, is trimmed with alternate rows of blue and red braid.

The new suits with three-quarter of full-length coats are probably the season's best answer to the woman who wants a light weight coat for wear during the next few months. They are reasonable in price and fashion-right.

Valentine is in the offing as the parties given this week indicate. The approach of a holiday that lends itself as gracefully to entertaining as does this favorite.

ARE YOU MISERABLE?

If your day begins with backache, headache or periodic pains, you need the tonic effect of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Mrs. T. S. Jeter of 207 Hood St., West Monroe, La., said: "I was thin and was quite weak. I used to have awful headaches too; also fainting spells. I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it strengthened me, and helped to build me up so that I felt better in every way. I regained my normal weight, too. Contains no harmful ingredient. No army planes had landed today, the one o'clock afternoon report showed.

The Glendale, Calif., airport has "airplane crossing" signs posted along the road which runs close to the landing field.

SAFEGUARD HIS FOOD THE YEAR 'ROUND with ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION
BABY'S food needs the protection of Electric Refrigeration in winter as well as in summer, for Nature is a poor substitute for an electric refrigerator in this part of Texas. Milk, the main item on Baby's menu, spoils quickly unless refrigeration is used, and one warm day or keeping food in a warm kitchen without refrigeration may cause trouble and illness. Electric refrigeration costs less in winter than in summer, for during cool nights the refrigerator has less work to do, and is always protecting food with a 50-degree temperature or less on those days when the temperature in the kitchen or on the porch climbs above this safety mark. Be safe and let your electric refrigerator give you year-round food protection.

through which to teach many health lessons to the school children. In the rural schools the older girls prepare the food and they are getting some valuable lessons in home management.

P. T. A. Health Work The Parent Teacher Associations also were responsible for getting the hot lunches in the school. If they had not used their influence to get interested enough in the work to see that the lunch rooms were installed, until the hot lunches were started by the relief office the P. T. A. of the city had furnished milk to the children of the elementary schools. Those who were able to pay for it were allowed to do so, but children from relief families were given milk at the expense of the local P. T. A.

Nursing Committee As the nurse will make a report of her work, we have not to duplicate. However, in looking over the record of things that have been done by the nursing service this year, we are proud of the accomplishments. And as in all other work which has been done, it has been through the close cooperation of the nursing staff and the purpose of bringing about better health and living conditions for the whole community.

Medical and Dental Committees The health committee has been very busy in professional services. Besides the clinics held during Health Week in the spring, they donated their time and service to the immunization clinic, and also were a major part of the nurse's work. For the diphtheria toxoid clinics they were paid a nominal fee of $10 out of the health department funds, but all other services were gratis.

Local Health Projects As our health committee's meetings during the summer months we might divide our work into two sections; the spring term and the fall term. National Health Week programs and a campaign against unclean dairy products were the health projects carried out during the first part of the year, while the most of the fall term was taken up with the tuberculosis seal sale drive, and education along that line.

A report from Mrs. H. N. Phillips and her committee on negro and Mexican health shows that some definite steps were taken in health education among both races. The board received a certificate from the United States Public Health Service in recognition of the work which it has done among the negroes. Besides health talks made by the board chairman and Mrs. Phillips at the negro and Mexican schools, F. F. Barnwell and Ortega, of the negro and Mexican health association, spoke at mass meetings of the citizens. Much interest was shown by the people of both communities; so much so that the meeting places were overcrowded. Mr. Barnwell and Mr. Ortega have been asked to make a return visit in the spring of 1935.

The clean-up campaigns were very successful. The city furnished trucks for hauling the garbage and trash, while all the citizens entered whole-heartedly into the work of cleaning up their yards and alleys.

Since Health Week in April 1934 the following improvements have been made in the negro settlements: streets graded to prevent standing water; planting of trees and shrubs around the school building by the P. T. A.; and the trash is now being hauled regularly. The chairman of the negro work has had five consultations with the negro health committee, and given personal aid to two negroes in securing jobs. Requests for grading the streets in Mexican Town have been turned in to the city, and aid has been given to one Mexican woman with a young baby.

In April the milk committee, of which J. V. Stokes Jr. served as chairman, accompanied by City Marshal Lee Haynes, went on an inspection tour of the dairies which supply milk to the city of Midland. Most of the places were fairly clean, but none of them lived up to the full requirements of the state milk ordinance. The survey of the grocery stores show that only one or two people were selling butter without their names on the package.

This regulation was made a year or so ago in order to keep check on sanitary conditions on the farms which supply butter to grocery stores, and are not otherwise inspected.

We feel that the report of our tuberculosis seal sale serves as an accurate mirror in reflecting the spirit of cooperation that exists in Midland. If there was a business firm or individual person in the entire county who was asked to aid in the campaign and refused, we have not heard of it. The newspaper staff, the theater men, the garage men, the merchants, the bankers, the real estate men, carpenters, school teachers, preachers, radio announcers, and in fact the whole town gave their best to this campaign. And it is certainly a challenge to the health board members to give all they have to directing the use of these funds in the most efficient and most useful channels.
