Trial On Statutory Charge Begins

KENNEDY CHARGED WITH OFFENSE ON WIFE'S DAUGHTER Case Is Transferred After a Mistrial At Stanton

Trial of O. C. Kennedy, charged with a statutory offense against his step-daughter, Edith Palmer, began in district court here this morning. The case was transferred from Martin county where a mistrial resulted in the last term of court.

Kennedy, arrested early in April, has been in jail since that time pending outcome of the trial.

Jurors selected this morning to try the case included W. Clinton Lackey, O. C. Harper, W. T. Forehand, Druce A. Dunn, G. N. Donagan, C. H. O'Neal, Roy McLean, Don Davis, Sam Summings, B. H. Blakely, Hugh Corrigan and Geo. T. Abell.

The Palmer girl, placed on the stand shortly before noon, testified to relations with Kennedy over a period of three years, charging that on or about January 15, 1935, he committed the offense after threatening to choke her. She testified that she is an expectant mother.

District Attorney Cecil Collins, assisted by County Attorney Walter K. Wilson, is conducting the prosecution. R. W. Hamilton is representing the defendant. Hamilton questioned the witness as to alleged relations with other men, seeking to prove that she had become tired of Kennedy and that through the resultant ill feeling the charge was filed.

First Drawing for Alaska Farms

Hope and anxiety reigned as this group of modern American pioneers brought from impoverished midwestern farms to carve new futures in Alaska's Matanuska Valley, excitedly awaited the drawing that would determine their future homes and farms. In this scene, Martin W. McCormick, former Michigan farmer, is drawing from a box the slip of paper designating the 40-acre tract that will support him and his family. Fears of separation from old friends were lessened by the announcement that slips might be "swapped."

FRANCE PREPARES TO MEET GERMAN CHALLENGE TO STRENGTHEN FLEET AFTER WASHINGTON TREATY BROKEN

PARIS, June 20. (AP)—French officials said privately today that France intends to meet Germany's naval challenge by strengthening France's fleet "as much as necessary."

The French view was said to be that the new Anglo-German naval agreement, permitting Germany to build a fleet 35 per cent as large as that of France, was a "trick" and that "France's hands are free."

A naval race was forecast in quarters close to the Chamber of Deputies' Naval Committee as result of the accord allowing the Reich naval tonnage 35 per cent of Great Britain's.

Members of the committee, which met secretly, said its consensus was that the Washington treaty was dead and France was free to build whatever warships she chose. The majority, it was stated, favored building up the French fleet at once.

Premier Pierre Laval told the Chamber's Foreign Affairs Committee he was satisfied by the Anglo-German agreement. Members of the Navy Committee used like expressions.

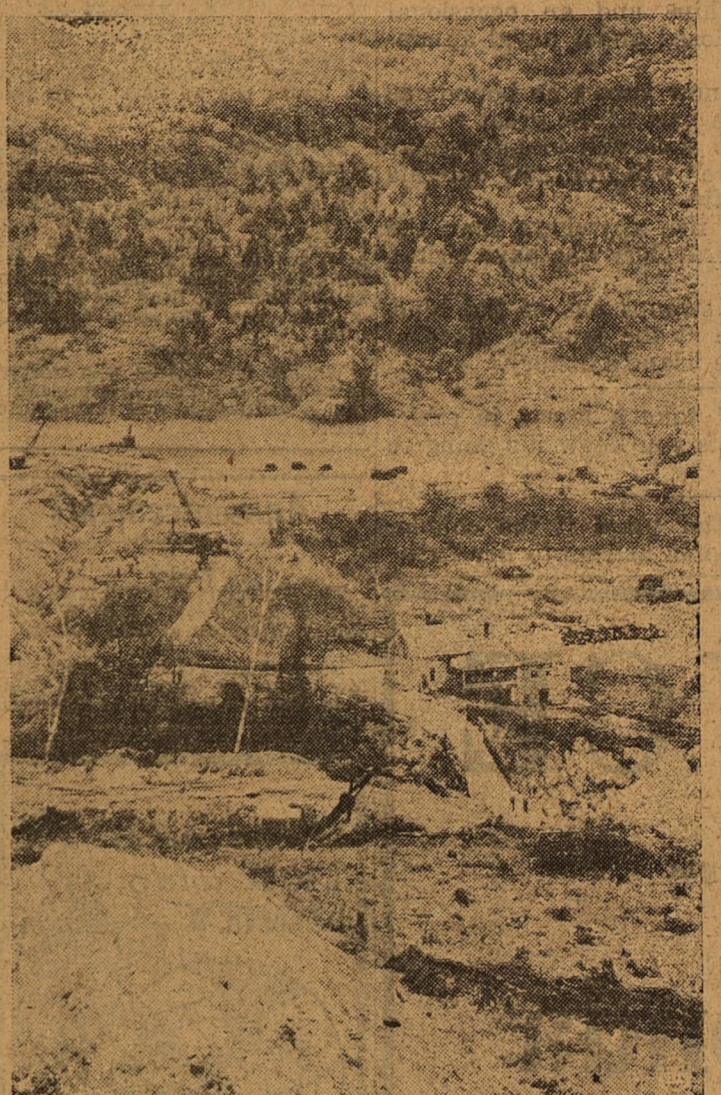

Laval and his Naval Minister, Francois Pietri, were requested to appear before the committee Friday to discuss enlargement of France's fleet of 600,000 tons, of which, members said, roughly 400,000 tons are available for Mediterranean service and 200,000 for Asiatic.

The Atlantic fleet has been quietly strengthening during recent months, however, through removal of ships from the Mediterranean toward the North Sea. The navy's second squadron, responsible for protection of the coast from the North Sea to the Gulf of Cascoquois, has been more than doubled, with the addition of one battleship, two new destroyers and four torpedo boats. Twenty-five submarines, including one which in the world's largest, also have been returned to the fleet.

It is expected the fleet will be further reinforced at the end of maneuvers in the Atlantic off Morocco, considered the most important since the World War, now going on. Pietri will review eighty warships off Brest when the maneuvers are finished.

Even so, members of the Naval Committee argued that France would be hopelessly outclassed in the Atlantic if Germany were allowed 400,000 tons of fighting ships. All units now in the Mediterranean, they said, are needed to protect long coastlines and transport Colonial troops.

WAS BULLDOZED BY WILLENTZ IN CASE, CLAIMED

Fourteen Judges in High N. J. Court Hear Pleas

TRENTON, June 20. (AP)—The attorney for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, condemned to die for the murder of the baby Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., argued in New Jersey's high court today that Hauptmann was unfairly tried.

Pleas were heard by fourteen judges, five of them lay members of the bench of the court of errors and appeals, behind locked doors which kept the spectators in their seats.

Hauptmann's brief charge that the state wrongfully used varying theories as to how the Lindbergh child met death called the trial summation of Attorney General David Wilentz "inflammatory."

He charged that he "bulldozed" the defendant, and contended that the trial should not have been in Hunterdon county, but in Mercer county where the body of the baby was found.

The state's answer said the evidence proved conclusively that Hauptmann was guilty of murder.

TRENTON, N. J., June 20. (AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's fight for life enters the second stage today.

Four months and a week after his conviction at Flemington for murder of the Lindbergh baby, his counsel will go into the court of error and appeal to ask for a reversal of the verdict of the eight men and four women who said he must die in the electric chair.

Should Hauptmann lose he still has recourse to the court of pardons and from the court should there again be an unfavorable decision, his lawyers have indicated they will appeal to the supreme court of the United States.

The defense of errors and appeals will not announce its decision until the autumn and tomorrow's proceedings will, in fact, be preliminary to a summer's story of the reasons set forth by the defense for reversal of the trial verdict and of the long record of the 32-day trial itself.

The defense will charge the state offered varying theories as to the cause of death in the case. They will argue that Supreme Court Justice Thomas W. French, presiding judge, erred in admitting and rejecting certain testimony, that Attorney General David T. Wilentz's summation was inflammatory and that he bullied and bulldozed witnesses and Hauptmann himself.

Hauptmann will not be in court.

SENATE PASSES SOCIAL SECURITY

WASHINGTON, June 20. (AP)—The administration's vast social security plan, calling for the biggest tax program in the Nation's history, Wednesday was shown through the Senate by a 76-20 majority and thereby assured final enactment.

Despite scattered outcries from both the Democratic and Republican camps that parts of the bill were unconstitutional, opposition melted when it came to a record vote on the measure proposed by President Roosevelt last January to remove certain hazards and vicissitudes of life for Americans.

It was shuttled quickly back to the House for action on Senate amendments. In the end, the bill rode through the Senate in a form closely approximating that recommended by the President.

Although it excludes farm labor, domestic, casual, governmental and charity workers, the bill would create a huge national unemployment insurance fund. It is estimated it would cover nearly 25,000,000 people who would draw from $10 to $85 a month after they reach 65 years of age.

Effective Next Month

Beginning next month it would offer $15 of Federal money a month, if matched by State funds, for every individual over 65 years of age, or needy blind persons of any age. States without pension plans would not have to match the Federal fund for the first two years.

It also would appropriate about $50,000,000 for dependent and crippled children, mothers' aid and other welfare work, all of which must be matched by the States.

Eventually the bill contemplates that about 25,000,000 workers will be covered by State unemployment insurance funds to take care of them during periods of temporary idleness.

Altogether the measure contemplates eventual expenditures of between $4,000,000,000 (billions) and $5,000,000,000 (billions) annually, more than the normal present cost of running the entire Government.

The national old-age pension fund would be financed by taxing employers and employees each 3 per cent on the pay rolls of employees up to $3,000 a year. This is estimated to yield almost $2,000,000,000 (billions) annually by 1950. Companies with approved private pension plans would be exempt.

PERRY BROS. TO REMODEL STORE

J. O. Moore of Lufkin, employe of Perry Bros. and R. D. Spears, district manager of the same concern, left Wednesday afternoon after making plans and provisions for the remodeling of Perry Bros. Variety store here.

Specifications for the remodeling call for the addition of 125 to 130 feet of display space, new floor, ceiling, and fixtures. The latter will be constructed of Texas gum hardwood from the company mill at Lufkin. The present building will be extended westward to the alley and a store room will be cut off at the rear.

Moore and Spears went from Midland to Eastland and Mineral Wells where they will be occupied with changes in company stores.

HARD WIND DAMAGES BIG SPRING PROPERTY

Winds of near cyclonic proportions swept Big Spring last night, according to reports here, blowing roofs from buildings, breaking plate glass windows in store buildings and causing heavy damage over the city.

The East Fourth Street Baptist church was the worst hit, reports here said, the roof of the new auditorium being damaged approximately $5,000.

The roof from a lumber shed at Rockwell Bros. & Co., was blown a quarter of a mile. Part of it falling on the roof of a warehouse of the Republic Supply company and breaking through into LUBBOCK, June 20. (AP)—Two persons were killed and at least nine others were injured, numerous houses were demolished and crops were damaged by a tornado striking Crosby county late yesterday.

The dead were W. T. Easter, 60, and wife who lived south of Kalls.

Fifty families were reported in need of relief.

Reports stating charges might be filed against the mutineers were denied by Warden Lacey Simpson—the softspoken former Kansas farmer who participated in a final charge which brought the convicts' surrender early Wednesday after 21 hours of rioting.

"There have been other riots and nothing like that, resulted," the bronzed warden drawled. "All we do is put them in solitary. The time they stay in will depend on their individual records and attitude."

The 348 rioting prisoners lost on all counts in their demands for the discharge of Dr. David F. Parker, 32-year-old penitentiary physician, better cooked food and immunity from punishment as the price of their submission.

Senate Committee Opposes Roosevelt's Tax Requests

WASHINGTON, June 20. (AP)—The senate finance committee today refused to aid any of President Roosevelt's wealth tax proposals in approving the house resolution extending the $5,000,000 of nuisance and excise tax levies expiring June 30.

"These are based," he said, "on the broad principle that if a Government is to be able to carry on its must produce ample revenues without discouraging enterprise; and if it is to be just it must distribute the burden of taxes equitably."

"I do not believe that our present system of taxation completely meets this test."

Our revenue laws have operated in many ways to the unfair advantage of the few, and they have done little to prevent an unjust concentration of wealth and economic powers."

Mr. Roosevelt said the idea of taxing income as the measure of benefits and of ability to pay still is a wholesome guide for national policy.

"Taxation according to income," he added, "is the most effective instrument yet devised to obtain just contribution from those best able to bear it and to avoid placing onerous burdens upon the mass of our people."

Roosevelt pointed out how the movement toward progressive taxation of wealth and income had accompanied the growing diversification of society.

"Wealth in the modern world does not come merely from individual effort; it results from a combination of individual effort and of the manifold uses to which the community puts that effort," he continued.

In discussing gift and inheritance taxes the President said:

"The desire to provide security for one's self and one's family is natural and wholesome, but it is adequately served by a reasonable inheritance. Great accumulations of wealth cannot be justified on the basis of personal and family security. In the last analysis such accumulations amount to the perpetua-

Mexico Longhorns For Pecos Rodeo

PECOS, June 20.—A carload of 35 tough, mean longhorn steers, brought from the interior of Mexico, arrived here this week for use in the sixth annual rodeo of the American Legion, to be held here on July 3 and 4.

The steers are wiry and cantankerous, and capable of making the cowboys who rope and ride in this year's show extend themselves to the utmost.

Over $2000 will be given away as prizes to the winners in the rodeo, and 50 or 60 top rodeo performers—the best in the Southwest—are expected to attend.

Pecos will be host to a crowd of visitors which, American Legion officials say, will outnumber all previous performances.

One of the best arranged and most convenient rodeo arenas in this section was being completed this week, with lights for night shows, and other preparations were in full swing, to insure a first-class celebration.

AN ISLAND "REDISCOVERED"

Of all the romantic features that attend the coming of the new transpacific air service, none is more fascinating than the "rediscovery" of forgotten Guam.

Four decades of isolation under the Stars and Stripes and several centuries of neglect under Spanish rule had left the islanders resigned to their fate. To this smiling tropic island came only warships and an occasional freighter, as its port has been closed under naval administration.

So the joy of the islanders now knows no bounds as they realize that they are to be a part of the great world. Planes flying from California to Asia will make regular stops and strangers from "outside" will find new delights in this garden spot of the Pacific.

No more hospitable people live anywhere than the Chamorros of Guam, as the few travelers who have visited them can attest.

When the first air cruiser swoops out of the blue, every resident of Guam will be at the landing place to celebrate the greatest day in the island's history.

Heavyweight fighters could take a lesson in ethics from Uncle Sam. He at least lets you know it's going to be a sham battle.

The world would be a better place if the cobbler stuck to his last, and the Hollywood actress to her first.

FEMININE FANCIES

One of the things that is calculated to give the average person a friendly feeling toward his fellow men is to be served strawberry preserves for breakfast; or strawberry short cake for mid-day; or iced tea and sliced tomatoes on any hot day.

Nobody can say that people in Midland aren't willing to take a chance of several thousand odds to one, when he sees the crowds that attend bank night. We know perfectly well that our name will never be drawn but we have to go just the same.

For the girl who needs some eye-protection when playing tennis and yet doesn't like the conventional eye-shade or a hat, we've noticed a gadget in a downtown store. One corner of a sizeable bandanna has been cut off and a white visor attached so that the handkerchief can be tied about the head like a turban and the visor will serve as a hat brim.

Wonder how people who worked in newspaper offices before electric fans were invented ever managed to exist?

Mental Attitude Affects Feeling In Hot Weather

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

"No, summer weather doesn't bother me," and executive told me last summer. "I simply refuse to think about it. After all, we always have hot days in July and August and I decided long ago that I minded them less if I stopped commenting about the temperature and thought of more pleasant things."

It seems to me that his idea is a good rule for all of us to follow right now. It stands to reason that the less you think about something unpleasant, the less it annoys you. Since nothing you do or say will make the breezes cooler, you might as well accept the weather philosophically and forget about it.

Wear the coolest clothing you can buy, of course. This means underwear of sheer cottons (new and fashionable this season) or silks that absorb moisture and let the air get to your skin. For town, you'll probably discover that dark chiffon jacket dresses and cool-looking, short-sleeved prints are the most comfortable. White hats and other accessories make you look cool, even to yourself.

Remember to put on fresh lingerie and stockings each morning. Incidentally, it's better not to wear the same pair of shoes two days in succession. Take two baths a day—a lukewarm one before you go to bed and a cool shower when you get up in the morning.

If you are home at lunch time, another shower will help you to get through the afternoon in a more

Rev. Harrison Officiates at Granger Wedding

Rev. Edw. P. Harrison of St. George church returned last night from Granger, Texas, where he officiated at the marriage of his brother, Mr. Frank C. Harrison, Tuesday evening. Father Harrison was accompanied on his return by his mother, Mrs. E. Harrison, and his sister, Mrs. William Earl Miller, both of Del Rio, who will spend the weekend with him.

The following account of the wedding comes from Granger: A wedding, beautiful in its simplicity, was that of Miss Inez Gilstrap, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford F. Gilstrap, and Frank Harrison, which took place at twilight Tuesday evening at the home of Harry Gilstrap. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edward Harrison of Midland, Texas, brother of the groom. The home was decorated with profusion of vari-colored blossoms and the ceremony was performed before an improvised altar of flowers and ferns. The bride, who entered with her brother, Harry Gilstrap, wore a gown of flesh organza over a tea roses showered with lilies of the the knee with flounce of double pleated ruffles making a slight train. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses showered with lilies of the valley. Mrs. Melvin Rowland, the only attendant, wore a turquoise blue gown of taffeta with gold accessories, and carried a bouquet of rose gladiolus. Mr. Harrison was assisted by Melvin Rowland who acted as best man. The bridal chorus from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. Gilstrap who wore a gown of blue lace. Following the ceremony an informal reception was held and later Mr. and Mrs. Harrison left for a short trip. They will be at home in San Antonio after June 24, where Mr. Harrison is employed. For traveling Mrs. Harrison wore a navy blue silk linen ensemble trimmed in pink silk linen with accessories to match. Out-of-town guests were as follows: Mrs. E. S. Harrison, Mrs. W. Earl Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Rowland of Del Rio; Mr. and Mrs. K. L. McCord of Taylor; Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Tege of Schwertner; and Mrs. Fred Denson of Austin.

Rich Diet Kills Dog Actor

PITTSBURGH (U.P.)—Skippy, a fox terrier, lived not wisely but too well. The pet scaled historic heights in a high school stage production after amateur dramatists capoled him into his part with sweets and meats. The "high living" brought death in three weeks.

Facts About New Securities Law

Editor's Note: This is the third of three articles explaining the new Texas Securities Law, published through courtesy of Gerald C. Mann, Secretary of State. "I own a piece of property near an oil field. I want to sell this interest," one man recently inquired of the secretary of state. "I understand that oil and gas leases and royalty interests are classified as Securities under Texas' new Securities Law. Will I have to register and get a license before I can sell this interest?" In answering the question the Secretary of State pointed out that isolated transactions are exempt under the terms of the law. But if a person is engaged in the business of buying and selling oil leases, royalty or other such interests, he must qualify as a dealer and in some cases as an issuer of securities. The lease "peddler" must qualify. In a single deal, it is not necessary to qualify under the Texas law. The same applies to vendor's lien notes and other forms of commercial paper. However, if a person makes a practice of selling commercial paper, the transaction is not an isolated case and that person must qualify under the law. The simple rule is—Single and individual transactions are exempt. Multiple transactions are not.

Friday's Big Boot Off to San Diego

George Friday's size 36 boot, made in his shop here and recently displayed at El Paso, will be sent soon to the San Diego exposition. A spur, made especially for the boots by Kelly Bros. of El Paso, with a highly stamped spur leather made by the Myers' saddle company there, is mounted on the boot which now is displayed at Friday's shop. The entire outfit will be taken to San Diego by members of the El Paso concern.

Unused table butter was stamped with her signet ring by Queen Charlotte, wife of George VII, to make sure of its appearance at the next meal.

Gift Tax--

(Continued from page 1) est corporations," he said. "In addition to these three specific recommendations of change in our national tax policies, I commend to your study and consideration a number of others. Ultimately we should seek through taxation the simplification of our corporate structures through the elimination of unnecessary holding companies in all lines of business. "We should likewise discourage unwieldy and unnecessary corporate surpluses. These complicated and difficult questions cannot adequately be debated in the time remaining in the present session of this Congress. "I renew however, at this time the recommendations made by my predecessors for the submission and ratification of a constitutional amendment whereby the Federal Government will be permitted to tax the income on subsequently issued State and local securities and likewise for the taxation by State and local governments of future issues of Federal securities." He concluded with commendation for the House action in extending excise taxes two years more. Golden eagles can fly more than two miles a minute.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Reporter-Telegram: Merle is gone—but far from forgotten, for her memory shall always be in my heart. Her beautiful character, pure mind, and loving spirit have made an impression on me that nothing can erase. I had known her personally for several years, but it was only in the past year that I became intimately acquainted with her. She was an inspiration to me, and I hope that in the years to come I will be able in some small degree to measure up to the standard she has set. Her friendship meant much to me and I shall always carry a picture and a beautiful memory of her in my heart. May God's blessings be with her loved ones who were left behind. Especially upon the young man who was to have been her life-long partner and co-worker with God. A Friend, Bessie Flournoy.

Blight Resistant Feed Crop for West Texas Is Sought

BALLINGER (U.P.)—A yellow seeded variety of sorghums, a cross between milo and kafir, is to replace milo maize as the principal feed crop of West Texas in experiments in this section are successful. R. E. Karper, vice-director of the experiment station at Texas A. & M. College, and other agronomists will be in San Angelo and Ballinger soon to make a study of the milo maize infestation which has become serious. Runnels county, with 40,000 to 50,000 acres in milo maize, has sustained nearly a 50 percent loss from the blight which is spreading. Tom Green, Coleman, Taylor, Callahan, Concho, Coke, Brown and other counties report heavy losses. The blight is believed to be a bacterial disease and chinch bugs are apparently associated with its spread, Karper has written county agents. He said similar trouble had developed in other sections of the state. Karper suggests that farmers replant with more resistant varieties of feed, such as hegar, kafir, fetteria and sumac. There is ample time to produce a crop, he states. Karper has sent county agents some seeds from a strain of Dwarf Yellow maize, supposedly resistant to the disease and plantings have been made in Tom Green and Runnels counties. "This yellow seeded variety of sorghums, which is a cross between milo and kafir, seems quite resistant to this disease. We developed it at the Chillicothe Station," Karper wrote county agents. The variety resembles milo closely but is not the real yellow variety that farmers are used to growing. "We are working on the problem of developing disease-resistant strains which closely resemble milo and can be substituted," Karper stated.

Former Slave Is At His Same Home

CONROE (U.P.)—"Uncle" William Butler, former slave on a Virginia plantation, has lost count of his years, but he has lived in a little cabin near here for 70 years and his friends claim he is far past the century mark. Uncle William was born on the Col. Alf Butler plantation "in de Blue Ridge mountains," near Stafford, Va., and was "crafft off" an army wagon in Montgomery county "by de Yankees" at the close of the Civil War. He said he didn't return to his former home because it "gits so cold back in de Blue Ridge mountains." He exhibited his crippled feet as evidence. When he was a little fellow, "old Colonel Alf" sent him for some whiskey. On his way home he de-ceded to "tap de jug." Soon he was "daid drunk." He lay on the roadside all night and his feet froze. He was hired as personal servant to a Federal officer and traveled with the Northern army many places and through many battles, but Uncle William has forgotten the names. He has nine sons, three daughters and numerous grandchildren.

NIGHT and DAY you're safe on CONCRETE

AT night the superiority of concrete becomes most apparent because of its visibility. Its light gray surface with sharply defined edges reflects light but is not glossy. Concrete conforms precisely to the formula for the ideal pavement set up by the International Illumination Congress of 1928 and by the Illuminating Engineering Society in 1934. The importance of this is emphasized by the fact that the rate of death per accident is 43% higher during hours of darkness. Concrete, smooth but non-skid, insures a quick, certain stop even in the rain. Blow-outs, spring breakage, steering gear failures, accidents of all kinds are less apt to happen on concrete. Yet concrete is not only safe—it is more comfortable—it saves in driving costs—it costs less for upkeep—and cost of construction is less than that of any other pavement of equal load-carrying capacity.
