Pres. Cardenas to Continue His Church-State Program

GIVES VIEWS IN FIRST MEETING OF NEW CABINET

Says Will Enforce Present Laws on Problem

MEXICO CITY, July 2. (AP)—A clear indication that the government of President Lazaro Cardenas intends to continue its present program and policies came today from the first meeting of the new cabinet.

It was unofficially reported yesterday that the government campaign against the church would be relaxed but news today indicates that the President is opposed to any movement in that direction.

Well informed sources today said that Cardenas had not altered his proposal to issue an order to federal and state officials to withdraw charges of rebellion against exiles, permitting them to return.

To Wed

Two experts on the subject of international relations will turn the hand to domestic relations when Grace Roper, above, daughter of Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper, weds Dr. Frank Bohn of New York, like his bride-to-be a specialist on economic problems. A European honeymoon will follow their wedding at the Roper home in Washington.

The Simple Life

Not a wild girl of the road is this fair damsel but Roberta Semple, daughter of Aimee Semple McPherson, pictured in the rustic garb in which she is setting out to hobnob with Ozark hill-billies in search for book, magazine and radio material. "That's a atmosphere in them thar Arkansas hills," is Roberta's motto, and she intends to bathe in it.

Lag of Government Spending Is Brake on Up-Swing of Business

Mysterious to the layman are the factors and forces that lie behind the upward and downward trends of business. Looking backward from mid-year 1935, John Flynn, famed writer on economic topics, describes the major influences at work upon present-day business in his march toward recovery. This is the second of three important articles which Flynn has written exclusively for The Reporter-Telegram and NEA Service.

By JOHN T. FLYNN
NEW YORK, July 2.—Business this year tended downward from February to the end of May, contrary to a normal seasonal trend. But in its total result, business during these last six months was slightly better than the first half of 1935. The general impression created is that business has used up the energy it now possesses for further rise and awaits some new force to lift it another notch.

ATTY GENERAL DEPT. GIVES THE RULING TODAY

Was Passed in Last Session of the Legislature

AUSTIN, July 2. (AP)—The attorney general today ruled an act imposing discounts for the prompt payment of property taxes as unconstitutional.

The act, enacted at the last called session of the forty-third session of the legislature, proposed a discount of three per cent for the payment of taxes in October, two per cent discount for payment in November and one per cent discount for payment of taxes in December.

The decision was given by the attorney general after he had been asked to investigate the validity of the act.

REUNION OPENS AT STAMFORD TODAY

STAMFORD, July 2.—Announcement from Governor James V. Alred that he will attend the Texas Cowboy Reunion Wednesday afternoon, highlighted the reunion activities, which included the registration Monday afternoon of 135 cowboy contestants from Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

The reunion opened this morning. Governor Alred wired President W. G. Swenson he will arrive by plane at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in time to attend the afternoon rodeo. He will be accompanied by his secretary, Adjutant General Carl Nesbit, Captain Tom Hickman, Captain Fred McDaniel and several rangers will attend the reunion.

Full entry lists are assured for the rodeo events, distinctive in the fact that only actual cowboys from real ranches can take part. Bronco-riding, wild cow milking, calf-roping and special events will be the order of the day as cowhands from the various ranches try their skill.

An entirely new feature of this year's performance will be the wild horse race when wild horses will be ridden across a given line and back to the opposite side of the race.

Since the horses are expected to do more bucking than running the race is expected to be even more exciting than the usual horse races.

A prize list of $2,500 will be awarded in rodeo events for the three days. Saddles will be presented the champion cowboy calf roping, wild cow milker and bronco rider.

MIDLAND COWMAN FLIES TO RODEO

Piloting his own plane, Ed Benedict, ranchman, left Midland Monday afternoon for Stamford where he will attend the Cowboy reunion.

Leaving here at 5 o'clock he arrived at Sweetwater at 6:30 o'clock, where he spent the night. He will go on to Stamford today.

Benedict's plane is a Commandair with a Stewart-Warner engine, developing 125 horsepower.

The Midland cowman, who holds a student's license, learned to fly at the Midland port under direction of Harold M. Becherer and others. He has owned a plane for about 15 months.

"WORK FOR A SANE FOURTH"

Editor's Note: The following is the second editorial on a safe and sane Fourth of July to be printed at the request of the Midland County Public Health Board.

"Work for a sane Fourth", says former governor of New York, Alfred E. Smith, in an editorial for the Parents Magazine. "We are told on good authority that more persons have already been killed or injured in celebrating our independence than were killed in acquiring independence. . . I am firmly convinced that none of these deaths and none of these injuries need take place.

"The correction of the situation this year lies almost entirely in the hands of the fathers and mothers of American children. Nobody knows which children in America who are now alive, healthy and happy may be killed in fireworks accidents between now and the Fourth of July; nobody knows in which households are the 3,000 or more children who will be injured by fireworks accidents between today and the Fourth of July. They may be your children; they may be your neighbors."

"If I were writing the prescription for the correction of this year's fireworks accident situation, I would put it about as follows:

"Use no fireworks and make it impossible for your children to use fireworks before or after the Fourth of July.

"If you do use fireworks on the Fourth, put no fireworks in the hands of little children; there is no such thing as safe fireworks for little children. Deaths have been caused by so-called harmless sparklers and by other apparently 'harmless' fireworks.

"If your children do use any fireworks, be present and watchful throughout the celebration to caution against or stop any risky practice.

"Better still, confine your celebration of the Fourth to watching the shooting of fireworks by pyrotechnic experts.

"Best of all, provide a worthwhile recreational program for your children and your neighbors' children on the Fourth of July."

EASY LIFE ON THE RANCH

The easterner who takes a vacation in the great open spaces of the west, seeking a taste of the life of the cowboy and the plainsman, seems to be a tough chap to satisfy.

I. H. Larom, president of the Western Dude Ranchers' Association, says that members of the association are having a hard time providing all the conveniences of home for their guests and at the same time meeting their demand for a taste of real, old-fashioned ranch life.

The easterner, it develops, wants his room-with-bath and music with his meals; so some dude rancher will give them to him, only to discover that the guest is dissatisfied, on the ground that the west is no longer wild and woolly.

The rich man who sets out to get back to nature very often makes a spectacle of himself in this way. He plans to "rough it" in an Adirondack hunting lodge, for instance, and then equips the lodge more elaborately than the ordinary suburban home is equipped—and wonders why he is missing something.

The private bath is a blessing—but don't try to take it with you when you are getting back to nature.

EARLY "FOURTH" CASUALTY

It isn't often that a big league baseball star can offer an object lesson in favor of a safe and sane Fourth of July. But Earl Averill, star outfielder for the Cleveland Indians, seems to have done just that.

Averill was setting off big firecrackers for his children the other day. One of them failed to go off, and he picked it up to relight it. Then, with the perversity occasionally exhibited by fireworks, it exploded—and mangled his hand so badly that it almost ended his baseball career.

It's a timely warning for children. Fireworks are dangerous, and a moment's lack of care can bring painful, crippling injury. The Fourth will be safe and sane enough—if children and adults alike keep constantly in mind the necessity for caution.

Thought Liberty Next Big Battle

DALLAS, (U.P.)—The next great battle facing the world is for liberty of thought, according to Dr. Samuel Guy Inman, missionary and representative of the League of Nations.

Following a tour of 19 Latin American countries as a representative of the League, Dr. Inman stopped off for a brief visit in Dallas.

"The battle is already on," Dr. Inman said. "We have gotten to the point where we cannot live with anyone who does not agree with us. The world must check itself and learn that there must be harmony."

During his trip in Latin America Dr. Inman made contacts with the governments of many nations, seeking to find places for refugees from the Nazi regime.

Included among these refugees, he said, are 100 of the most famous scientists in the world. Germany's loss, he said, will be Latin America's gain.

The American public does not realize the number of political refugees in the world, Dr. Inman said. Those who have fled from Russia, Germany, and Italy, are almost countless.

Missionary work in Latin America would make greater progress, he said, if all churches would band together and have a single goal. Individual, uncoordinated efforts result in much waste, he said.

Banged So Hard He Broke Table

DALLAS, (U.P.)—Mayor George Sergeant is now looking for a new sounding block to strike with his gavel.

During a recent heated session of the City Plan commission, Mayor Sergeant banged so hard on the marble top of his desk that it was broken in several pieces.

Can This Be Texas?

BROWNWOOD, (U.P.)—Dates for the first annual Lake Brownwood regatta have been set for Saturday and Sunday, August 3 and 4, by the recently organized Lake Brownwood Regatta association.

The program for the two-day celebration include boat racing for amateurs and professionals, a bathing beauty revue, diving contests, bait and fly casting tournaments and surfboard races. Cash and merchandise prizes will be awarded winners of the motorboat races. Four races will be held under the auspices of the NOA with two heats for each race over a five-mile course.

Progress Made At Work Center

SAN ISIDRO, (Starr county) Tex. (U.P.)—Rehabilitated relief clients are learning to help themselves in San Isidro work center here.

Six "units" are represented at the center, where former unemployed this spring produced articles valued at $307 at a cost of only $126. The units producing almost every type of home necessity for rehabilitation relief were divided into canning, mattress, blacksmith, woodworking, leatherworking, and sewing divisions.

Women in the sewing unit perform the most important duty, making and renovating clothes and other needed articles for the home.

Woman Miler Boasts Record

WINNIPEG, Man. (U.P.)—Phyllis Dewar is the new "unrowned" queen of the "one-milers." Running at a meet here, Miss Dewar covered a one-mile course in 23 minutes and 32 2/5 seconds. The time is believed to be a new world's record.

Famous Autographs Worked on Quilt

OMAHA, Neb. (U.P.)—Miss Grace McCarron of Omaha has a quilt bearing the embroidered autographs of many nationally and internationally famous persons. Among the signatures are those of Mrs. Mary Lloyd Harrison, wife of President Benjamin Harrison; Thomas A. Edison; Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel of New Orleans; Charles A. Lindbergh; Alfred E. Smith; Former Presidents Taft, Coolidge, Hoover and Theodore Roosevelt; Alice Roosevelt Longworth; Thomas N. Garner; President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt, and former Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska.

Began in 1928, Miss McCarron recently completed the covering. She mailed quilt blocks to each person asking for a stenciled autograph in the corner. They then were embroidered and "pieced."

The Boy Emperor Who Never Ruled

AS tragic almost as the Romanov line itself was the short life of the boy emperor, Peter II, of Russia. Born in 1715, grandson of Peter the Great, the child from the beginning was kept in seclusion, apart from the royal family, and almost unknown to the people. He was the heir to the throne of the great Peter, but Catherine I, consort of the emperor, was made empress in his stead.

On her death in 1727, Peter became the center of a political storm before it was agreed that he should become ruler of Russia. Coming under the control of an unscrupulous politician, Peter was betrothed to Catherine, second daughter of this schemer, Alexis Dolgoruki, but the child fell ill with smallpox and, on the very day that had been fixed for the wedding, Jan. 30, 1730, he died.

In 1913, on the centenary of the founding of the Romanov dynasty, Russia issued a series of 17 stamps commemorative of its rulers. One of these, the four kopek, has the portrait of Peter II.

Lack of Conveniences In Housekeeping Lends Zest to The Work in Foreign Lands

Mrs. Miriam B. Davidson (center) entertains friends in the manner during her residence in Japan.

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK. - The easiest, but at the same time the most uninteresting country in which to keep house - that is what Mrs. Miriam B. Davidson calls the United States. She speaks with authority, too, for she has kept house in seven countries during the past forty years, moving from place to place as required by the business of her husband. Married twice, both times she became the wife of a man employed as foreign agent for large corporations.

"Housekeeping here is dull because you don't have to use your ingenuity," explained Mrs. Davidson, who, with her bright brown eyes, dark hair almost untouched by gray and tireless energy, looks about forty, but is really sixty-three. "Everything you could possibly want is right at hand. Electricity, gas and plumbing accomplish miracles that people in many other lands cannot believe exist until they see them with their own eyes."

"I like housekeeping when I'm met by a daily challenge to my imagination and resourcefulness. The curious thing was, before I came to this country to keep house, I imagined that all American women spent their entire lives making something out of nothing. I got that from your magazines. I read about the girl who saved her mother ten dollars by building all the furniture in the house out of old boxes and spools and a little paint, but since I've been here, I haven't been able to find the girl!

"The funny thing is, I lived in other lands by what I thought was the American rule, but now I find it isn't. You aren't resourceful, but then you don't need to be."

Knowledge Helps Her Here

All the same, Mrs. Davidson finds that what she discovered about housekeeping in various lands is a great help to her here. In China and Singapore, for instance, she learned to make a little of anything - meat, vegetables or fruit - go a long way by the addition of rice. She has found that a fine help in hard times.

In India and Borneo she learned how to battle heat by eating pungent, highly-seasoned foods and keeping the hot air away from the body by means of cotton clothes which were changed entirely twice a day. American men especially need to discover how much more comfortable they could be in our hottest weather by following the tropical rule, Mrs. Davidson thinks.

It was England where she lived during the war years, that taught Mrs. Davidson the advantage of the personal, intimate touch in the home, whether it "goes with" the rest of the furniture or not.

Laments Impersonal Homes

"It is awful to contemplate some of the homes in this country," she says with a sigh. "There is no more individuality to them than there is to the show room of a department store. If people can afford it, they turn their homes over to decorators. If they can't afford decorators, they force themselves into the same impersonal attitude. In England, homemakers feel it important to have around them things they have loved, that have meant a great deal in their family life. They believe a home should look as if some special person owned it!"

Ring Lost 35 Years Is Found

BASTROP, Tex. (UP) - C. J. Hubbard's mother lost a ring 35 years ago, made by his father from a $10 gold piece. Hubbard found the ring, a few days ago while working in his cotton field.

In the West Indies Mrs. Davidson found the most considerate women employers she had ever seen and discovered, incidentally, that they got the best service from their servants.

It was in Singapore, where she sacking bulls with the hump on their backs wandered around more or less at will, that it was not unusual, according to Mrs. Davidson, to find one of them sitting in her own bathroom. She learned several dialects in India, where there are perhaps 375 ways to say egg; grew to like living on top of the equator in Singapore, and when she cleaned up a plantation in the West Indies decided that you can beautify any place for little or no cost, provided you put a great deal of yourself into it.

Wants to End Days in U. S.

Mrs. Davidson has brought back so many recipes from various lands that it is not unusual for one meal in her home to be cooked in four or five "languages."

"And now after all this extolling of the homemaking habits of other lands, where do you suppose I want to end my days?" she asked, her eyes twinkling. "Why, right here in this grand and glorious country!"

ERPOD IN LOVE

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

We note that the law in a small European country has decreed that a certain woman may say only four words a day, when not spoken to, so long as she shall reside in the home of her son-in-law. Those words are "Good morning" and "Good night." Only four words spoken on her own initiative through the long hours of the day! And here we had been cherishing the illusion that the day of medieval tortures was safely past!

There is to be another woman in the office. Now we feel sure that we can win a few arguments with the masculine part of the staff. Numbers do help, verbally.

Things that take the sun out of the sky and leave the world temporarily dark: A letter that doesn't come when it should; having an evening that you have looked forward to turn out to be a total loss; finding out that some one you are interested in isn't interested in you; discovering that one's financial budget won't permit purchasing that love of a dress seen in the nicest store in town; realizing that you have unthinkingly hurt the feelings of a good friend.

Some one has suggested that we turn this column into "advice for lovers." N sirres! Our life lies under a fate that is unfortunate enough anyway. We refuse to have it beset by irate couples to whom we've given the wrong advice and who therefore are intent upon calling down upon our defenseless head various and sundry maledictions. Come to think of it, however, there might be no danger of such results. Probably nobody would take the advice anyway.

Irisome "Polly" Kidnaped

DES MOINES, Iowa. (UP) - There is nothing quite so bad as a heckling parrot, especially when the bird sits on a limb at No. 1 green and irks golfers. This led to the "parrotnaping" of Polly, a Mexican species. It's owner notified the sheriff's office of the "abduction."

Delphos Baby Also Healthiest

DELPHOS, O. (UP) - Barbara Jean Barnes, 1 1/2 years old, has won two separate titles. She was adjudged the healthiest baby in this district over 140 entrants. She also was selected as the prettiest.

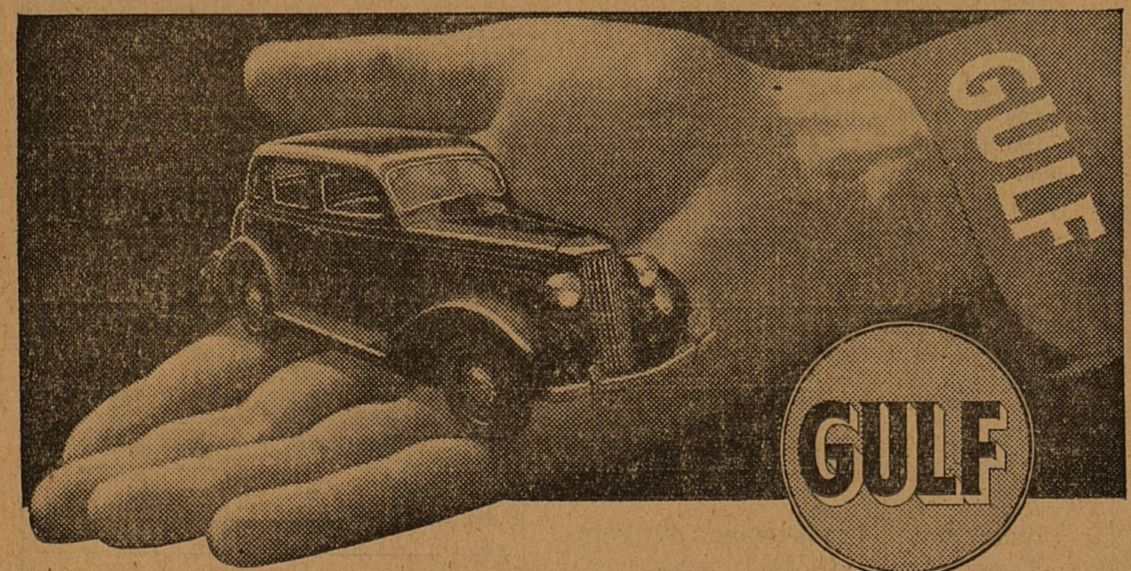

Musket of '61 Suicide Weapon

SANDUSKY, O. (UP) - Belegured by financial set backs, Ray Washburn, 49-year-old farmer, tamped an extra heavy charge of powder into the muzzle of a Civil War musket and killed himself.

Boy Spells Tongue-Twister

JEFFERSON, O. (UP) - Can you spell "Antidistestablishmentarianism"? A Kingsville, O., boy did, and won the Ashtabula county high school spelling bee. Alvin Olin recited off the word without halting.

PUT YOUR CAR IN OUR HANDS for a 3-week "Tank Test"

A Sporting Offer

Unless you've made friends with Gulf gas recently, you can't know what a really great fuel it is!

Just try it 3 weeks. Then see if you don't check with the motorists who've already made this "tank test."

750 "takers"

These 750—average owners of average cars—agreed to try That Good Gulf and judge it themselves. They drove it 3 weeks—comparing it against their regular brands for mileage, starting, pick-up, power, all-around performance.

555 converts

555—more than 7 out of 10—found Gulf definitely better in one or more of the 5 ways. Many chose it on all five. Reason? Gulf is 5 good gasolines in one. Controlled refining gives it not merely 3 or 4, but all 5 important gasoline qualities.

Try Gulf 3 weeks—and you'll never leave the bandwagon!

GULF REFINING COMPANY

What free Gulf tire service can boost your gas mileage? You'll find the answer in this Gulf booklet, plus 14 other valuable economy hints. Free—at the Sign of the Orange Disc.

of capital goods is a revival of the long term credit market. I have decried the criticism that the various measures in Congress have been the cause of business weakening.

Up to now, however, that devaluation has not worked its way into our domestic acceptance of the dollar. Its effect has been limited to the dollar's value in international exchange.

Much has been said of the apparent revival of the capital credit market. But this is more apparent than real.

The events of the past six months just closed so far as business is concerned, are quickly summarized.

Next came the Utilities Holding Company bill—measure which is alleged to be designed to end all holding companies in the utility field.

The next most important event was the voiding of the NRA by the Supreme Court decree. This created a great stir.

Youth Stages Red Ant Fight In Lobby

By HARRY HAIGHT

"Sparky" Mahan is a real sport. He is the ten year old son of a tontorial artist attached to the shop in the Hotel Scharbauer.

Sparky turned two of his collection loose on the cigar counter and without waiting for the word to go they just broke into each other and put up a fight that would make the greatest fighters on earth blush with shame.

Peck's Horses Are Winners at Omaha

Hal Peck, oil operator of Midland and Amarillo, has had a successful season with three thoroughbreds which have been racing for the past month at Omaha, Nebraska.

The three ponies have won five starts, nine seconds and three or four thirds since the meet opened at Omaha May 30, each horse being out of the money only once.

Peck and Parker a short time ago owned thirteen race horses but let several go in claiming races.

Llano Flood Loss Estimated $20,000

LLANO, Tex., July 2, (AP)—A check up on the damage by the recent Llano river flood shows the loss to Llano county from washed out county bridges and slabs amounted to around $20,000.

Loss of state highway bridges in the county included the 800-foot steel span across the Llano river in town, which served highways No. 29 and 81.

Repairs are being made on the local power plant of the Texas Public Utilities Corporation, the damage being estimated at $20,000.

Damage to the equipment of the Texas Power and Light Company here was placed at $10,000.

About a dozen row and motor boats continue to carry passengers, mail and supplies between North and South Llano.

Some merchants have bought boats to save carrying charges. The stores and business houses are about equally divided between the two parts of town.

Many people live on one side of the river and have their business on the other. Night boat riding has become a popular pastime.
