President Calls For Public Support of Peace Movement

PLEDGES ACTION TO PREVENT U. S. WAR AGITATION

Message Sent From Caribbean Waters To Nation

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—President Roosevelt called last night for public support of a resolute national policy of peace. The president declared the function of modern government to be the prevention of war rather than the function of "gathering up the wreckage after the devastation."

Rushing First Aid to Wounded

Leaving for the northern front, these trucks carry hastily trained first aid detachments and field hospital equipment to care for those wounded in the battles with invading Italian forces.

Reserved Seats For Rodeo Only In Center Section

Reserved seat charges for rodeo events at the Midland Fair apply only to the center section, officials said today. The general admission charge of 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for children of school age will admit patrons to any seat during the races, each afternoon from October 21 to 26; but at rodeo performances there will be an additional charge of 50 cents for reserved seats in the center section.

MANY VARIETIES OF PRODUCTS IN COUNTY EXHIBIT

The preliminary display of agricultural products from Midland county being staged at the Fair Grounds today showed wide variety, although the number of entries was greatly decreased by the rainy weather and muddy roads.

Following entries were reported at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon: Pat Bogin, mulo kafir, hegar, Bennie Bizzell, corn, June corn, hegar, T. E. Bizzell, Sure-Cropper corn, sweet potatoes, hegar, pumpkins; John Woody, cotton; W. T. Smith, June corn, cotton, mulo; S. F. Castellaw, watermelons; Gerhard Synatsch milb, hegar, corn; Dismukes, broom-corn; Mrs. A. D. Wilson, squash pumpkins; kershaw, peanuts, okra, cotton.

Rain Insurance Protects Fair Expense Outlay

Rain insurance, purchased by Midland Fair, Inc., officials some time ago, will protect the expenses each day if rain falls between specified hours, it was announced today. The policy calls for payment of a stipulated amount, sufficient to take care of the expenses of the day, if as much as two-tenths of an inch falls at the Fair park between the hours of 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. on that day.

CRITICAL DEPTHS REGISTERED FOR WEEK'S DRILLING

By PAUL OSBORNE
Weekly reports of drilling activity in West Texas indicated critical depths for many closely watched wells this week, principal interest being in Davidson and Honolulu No. 1 Mrs. Bennett, southeastern Yoakum county test, which has run casing and is in the process of cleaning out to cement before testing.

Further north, in Cochran county, Humble No. 1 Slaughter is reported drilling red shale at 3,220 feet, while to the south in Gaines county, Walsh and Harry Adams Corporation No. 1 Albert is drilling red rock at 484 feet.

In northern Andrews county, Stogner et al No. 1 Mrs. Cora George is reported down to 4,861 feet in brown lime, the last show of oil being from 4,812-23 feet. Wahl-Ennasser No. 1 Cox is drilling grey lime at 4,690 feet.

North of the Cowden pool in northern Ector county, Sun and Atlantic No. 1 Holt is drilling any-dite and lime at 3,835 feet, while two miles northwest of the Goldsmith discovery wildcat of several months ago, Dunning et al No. 1, in northern Winkler county, is 1,245 feet in red rock straightening a bad hole. East of the Connell pool, Sun No. 1 Edwards has reached total depth of 1,565 feet in red shale and is underdraining 10-inch casing.

Westbrook No. 1 Yarborough, in the far southwestern part of the county, is still shut down for orders. In northeastern Winkler county, Richardson No. 1 Jenkins reports total depth of 3,350 feet, where operators are preparing to core. Several shows of oil have been encountered.

Richardson No. 1 Jenkins is cleaning out at 3,302 feet. North of the Brown-Alman pool, Westbrook No. 1 Brown-Alman is drilling at 2,711 feet in grey lime, having had several gas shows, while to the southeast Cree and Hoover No. 1 Crow has reached total depth of 2,710 feet in white lime, where casing is being cemented.

ONLY COMPLETE "WASHOUT" CAN SLOW UP PARADE

Ernest O. Thompson To Give Opening Address

Final plans were being perfected today for opening of the Midland Fair Saturday, and heads of all divisions of the organization declared they were ready.

J. E. Hill, general chairman of the parade, which starts at 2 o'clock school at 10:30 a. m., said nothing but a downpour of "washout" proportions would delay the procession, and that the parade will be staged rain or shine.

The parade, expected to be from a mile and a half to two miles in length, has entries varying from 1890 horse-drawn vehicles to the 1936 model motor cars, with much of it devoted to mounted horsemen and cowgirl riders.

All entries should be in place by 10 a. m., at the high school grounds, Chairman Hill said, and the march will begin at exactly 10:30.

The route will be east on Texas avenue to the Lorraine street intersection, south on Lorraine street to Missouri avenue, east to Main, north to Texas avenue, and east to the Catholic church where the parade will break up.

Spectators were asked to park their cars at any point on the route and were advised that better vision of the parade will be on the streets out of the business section. Traffic will be cleared on the route throughout the procession.

From four to six bands will be in the line-up, it was announced this morning.

Thompson To Open
Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson will officially open the Midland Fair at 1:30 p. m., speaking through the public address system at the grandstand, with the opening rodeo program, an additional 50-cent charge is made for reserved seats in the center section, although there are 3,000 seats in the grandstand for which no extra charge is made. No reserved seat charges are made at race programs, the general admission being the only charge.

In addition to the western sports, three novelty races are scheduled, including a stockholders' quarter-mile race, a shetland pony race and a kid pony race for ponies 12 hands to 14 hands two inches.

At 8 o'clock Saturday evening, the second rodeo program will be staged in the well lighted arena, the same events being carried as are held in the afternoon except for the three races.

A third rodeo program will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. On Monday, with stores and schools of the city closed for the afternoon, the first of the six day race meet programs will be run on the new three quarter mile track. The final rodeo show will be held that evening at 8 o'clock under the lights.

General admission to all grandstand performances is 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. At rodeo programs, an additional 50-cent charge is made for reserved seats in the center section, although there are 3,000 seats in the grandstand for which no extra charge is made. No reserved seat charges are made at race programs, the general admission being the only charge.

Centennial Group Draws Sharp Attack
AUSTIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—Wallace Perry, member of the Centennial Control Commission, today sharply attacked a report of the Centennial historical advisory board as providing "a year of rejoicing for the monument makers."

The board majority had recommended numerous statues, markers to Texas heroes and events. Perry said that the money should go for celebrations.

Mrs. Roosevelt Reads Message

The message was read to the Women's Conference by Mrs. Roosevelt and broadcast over an NBC network. It had been planned that the president would deliver his message personally by radio, but adequate facilities could not be arranged from his ship, which is in Central American waters.

Mr. Roosevelt placed foremost among "challenging factors" concerning women particularly "that failure of reason which permits and wages modern war" and held its prevention a prime function of government.

"When our economic system fails to sustain an adequate standard of life," he continued, "it is the women who face the most poignant privation."

Lists Grave Problems
"A fall standard in the incomes of average Americans, the dragging of innocent children from homes into factories, the problem of delinquency that arises from social conditions, the destruction of workers by unemployment, the effects of poverty and dependency in old age, widespread preventable diseases, unwholesome industrial warfare, and, in addition, the failure of reason which permits and wages modern war—all of these challenging factors in modern society throw upon the women of the nation a material and spiritual burden of the greatest significance."

"Constant vigilance is necessary in a nation like ours, to the forces that make for discord are discovered and discouraged."

VIENNA, Oct. 18. (AP)—Observers said today that they expect closer Italian-Austrian cooperation after cabinet reorganization has given Mussolini's close friend, Prince von Starhemberg, military ascendancy over his foes.

Hal Peck's Race Horses Show Well

Hal Peck's race horses, now at Tanforan, opened well when the first bay mare, Santa Rosa, galloped four lengths in front in a mile race early in the week, the track heavy with mud.

C. R. Parker, trainer and joint owner of the string, has Brighton, Dorothy Spann, Carbon, Burning Feet, Cloth Top and Winning Mary now in the running. Carbon has successfully made the money in $5,000 and $10,000 races.

Parker will go from Tanforan to Bay Meadows, then to Santa Anita and will come back to Texas for the spring meets.

City Directory To Be Published

A city directory of Midland will be compiled and printed by The Reporter-Telegram, work to begin soon after the close of the Fair and after several more oil families have become settled.

The proposed directory will be of the house-to-house type with an imitation leather cover. A supplementary section will be printed at least three times a year and offered if necessary. This feature will keep the directory up to date and will be much more satisfactory than the bound book type.

The printing of the directory by The Reporter-Telegram will give employment to Midland people and will keep the money in this city.

The directory will cover the whole of Midland county as well as for the city and will be the best directory ever used here.

MEAT PRICE IS BACK AT LEVEL OF 1930 MART

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—Commodity prices, influenced strongly by expanding demand, are now in the aggregate around the best levels since late in 1930.

Although restricted supply in many cases has forced higher prices, trade authorities believe a revival of demand is becoming an increasingly important factor in the current rise. In a few lines, such as copper and steel scrap, war preparations have been a factor.

The Associated Press daily index of 20 basic raw commodities stood today at 75.95, well above the year's low of 69.14 touched June 25 and nearly at the peak of 76.54 attained Oct. 9.

The influence of restricted supplies also has exerted heavy pressure on metal prices. Cattle on June 25 were quoted at $10, and today they sell for $13 a hundredweight.

Coincident with the rise in meat prices, hides currently are at the best levels of the year which represent a rise of 50 to 65 per cent over the low points of 1935.

As an indicator of the condition of the United States department of agriculture reported that as of Oct. 1 the stocks of meat in cold storage declined to the smallest total on record.

COYOTE TRAPPING FUND IS RENEWED

Restoration of the appropriation for predatory animal control work in Texas by the legislature was announced today in a letter to county officials from Eddie Ligon, district chief.

The action of the legislative body makes possible the continuation of coyote trapping in the Midland section, County Judge E. H. Barron said. City West is still working at the project along the Midland-Upton line south of here, serving a large territory of cattle and sheep ranges.

Ranchmen had been active for some time, seeking a continuation of the appropriation for protecting livestock against losses from coyotes.

AMARILLO SHOWS GROWTH

AMARILLO, (AP)—Amarillo's population is estimated at 47,000 by the new city directors. The 1930 census showed 43,132 residents in the city.

Fair Visitors To Watch Famed Strawberry Roan

Twelve or 14 of the 22 head of broncs in the Johnny Mullens string here for the Midland Fair rodeo are from the original bucking horse remuda which Mullens took to Philadelphia for the Sesqui-centennial in 1927. They also were used at Madison Square Garden and at other eastern rodeos that year. They have been used at principal shows throughout the Southwest.

Old White Rock, a flea-bitten gray horse from the original string, is 22 years old, yet at the Roswell rodeo last week he was "drawn" twice and bucked off his rider both times, according to Jess Fulcher, handling the horse here.

SOLONS FAIL TO SHOW UP AGAIN

AUSTIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—The legislature, inattentive to Governor Allred's plea to get to work, today made no attempt to transact business and adjourned until Monday.

The senate met at 10 o'clock and adjourned two minutes later. Representatives in the house discussed pension legislation informally, for 45 minutes and quit.

Neither house developed a quorum and no effort was made to compel attendance of absentees after yesterday's failure to get a quorum.

Committee approved pension bills waived action from both chambers. House sponsors said they hoped to start consideration of the bills Monday.

Representative Walter Jones of Jourdanton, chairman of the revenue and taxation committee, appointed a sub-committee to consider tax bills pending revenues.

Jones criticized the failure of the committee to master a quorum at an important meeting last night, saying that he would seek to amend the rules to permit eight members to act. Nine of 21 members attended the meeting last night.

MIDLAND STORES CLOSE MONDAY

Practically all Midland stores will close up Monday afternoon at one o'clock in honor of the opening day of the races.

Almost without opposition, the business taxation committee, in willingness to halt business action that day, officially dedicated to Big Spring.

It was at the request of fair officials that the stores were asked to close and the officials today expressed their appreciation of the response by merchants and other business men of the city.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—W. C. Teagle, president of the New Jersey Standard Oil company, today declared that he saw no reason to interfere with the regular commercial oil business between Standard and its Italian subsidiary.

100 Years Old Scales Loaned To Museum

F. F. Herrington, Midland saddler, added to the museum collection at the county courthouse when he took over a pair of steel-yard scales more than 100 years old.

He acquired the scales when he bought a saddle shop from H. Roderman at San Angelo six years ago. Roderman brought them over from Germany more than sixty years ago and the scales had been in his family for at least 100 years. Herrington has a heavy oak-wood vice which he also acquired in the purchase of the shop.

Austrian Coup Spikes Otto's Imperial Dream

VIENNA, Oct. 18. (AP)—Austria suddenly revamped its government in an atmosphere of brilliant bayonets. The new government, headed by Engelbert Dollfuss, is an end to its system of competing private armies.

Schuschnigg remains as Chancellor and the militant Prince Ernst Starhemberg, leader of the Heimwehr and Fatherland front, remains the post of vice-chancellor.

But Major Emil Fey, staunch aid of the slain Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, was ushered out of the cabinet with the minister of agriculture, Josef Reither, a Catholic monarchist leader revered by thousands of peasants.

The powerful Starhemberg was given vastly increased authority. He was made head of a new Austrian ministry to be formed of the private armies which heretofore have been Great Britain replied that it does not intend to wage war alone. She said that the League of Nations, between Italy and the League, and the British Mediterranean fleet would not be withdrawn.

AUSTIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—An irate citizen of the West Texas plains has a grievance that he set forth in a public language to Governor Allred recently.

His car had been rifled while visiting the capitol and to him this represented the maximum insult to that hang around the capitol and foot cars that come in from other parts of the state.

EUROPEAN TENSION APPROACHES CLIMAX

An Italian column, isolated in the Ethiopian desert north of French Somaliland, regained Eritrea today after hard fighting.

The first real opposition to the Italian advance was believed to be developing around Makale, with the major objective 60 miles south of Aduwa.

The Ethiopians reported many Italians quitting Eritrea for Sudan, fearing that Great Britain may cut off their exit from Africa, thus leaving them helpless against an Ethiopian attack.

County Museum IS OPENED TO VISITORS TODAY

The county museum will be opened to the public for the first time this afternoon.

More frames are needed to get the 400 pictures of the collection under glass, sponsors stated.

Rugs have been loaned by Mrs. Hayden Miles and Mrs. Allan Hargrave but at least four more are needed in order that the waxed floor may not cause discomfort to those of advanced age. Anyone who knows of a rug that may be secured for use during the Fair is asked to call 230.

Items of Interest Added
Items of interest added to the museum today are: Book bound in parchment published in 1729; hand-some Wedgwood tea pot and plate; and four pieces of Mexican jewelry loaned by Mrs. Allan Hargrave.

GET TO WORK

The legislature, in failing to fill a quorum in either house on the first working day of the second special session, deliberately ignored the appeal of Governor Allred that it "settle down to work immediately and stay at work."

Whatever one's political preferences, there can be no doubt but that such action is to be desired by the mass of tax payers, and the governor's appeal was directly in line with the tax payers' best interests.

It evolves upon the counties to see that their legislators get to work and stay at work. The state pays each member $10 a day whether he works or not.

The only way to get legislative action out of a recalcitrant legislator is for the chambers of commerce, civic clubs and public spirited citizens of his county to make his day's work their business, and keep in touch with him to see that their wishes are carried out. Good legislators would welcome this interest.

More discussion of state affairs and employes in local meetings might air many legislative faults.

A telegram to your representative or senator to "get to work and stay at work," would produce him at tomorrow's session.

Fair Minded Our Modern Homes Last week the story of the house needing repairs was in the act of getting started on the badly needed repairs and was promised by Mr. Owner that work would begin at once. Then he left for a week's work out of town. We find him back home again now and is he surprised? Now go on with the story. (Mr. Owner): Well, home sweet home, I passed by my own home and after driving two blocks on down the street discovered I had gone too far down and after turning around and coming back, I still couldn't believe my own eyes. Hello, House, here you are with a brand new dress and all the new trimmings, and boy, did that Nell fix your bathroom? I'll say he did, and who would have ever believed there could have been so much difference in one room? Tell me, House, why did you want to look your best? (House): Well, haven't you heard about Midland's first big Annual Fair and Anniversary Celebration? Well, of all things! Always an hour late and a dollar short. Why everybody is Fair-minded and you should be. Now run along down town and get yourself some new duds and be ready to attend the Fair. So Mr. Owner leaves the house headed for town. As he goes along he sings the good old song, "Home, Sweet Home." Folks that is what we are all interested in—our own little Home, Sweet Home, and that goes for our Home Fair. Cooperative Cotton Gins on an Increase More than 200 separate local groups of farmers in Oklahoma and Texas are ginning their cotton on cooperatively owned ginning plants this year, according to a study by the cooperative division of the farm credit administration. In several counties, it is estimated, fully half of the cotton will be ginned cooperatively. Favorable cotton crop prospects during the past spring and summer, as compared to the previous year, gave a decided impetus to cooperative cotton ginning in these states with the result that quite a number of new cooperative ginning plants with the result that quite a number of new cooperative ginning associations were organized. In fact, a few new associations were started in 1934 despite the almost total failure of the cotton crop that year in many sections of these two states. At the end of the 1933-34 season some 31,000 cotton farmers of Oklahoma and Texas, organized into 170 separate local cooperative cotton ginning associations, had combined total assets, after allowing for accumulated depreciation on buildings and equipment of more than $5,000,000. Of this amount approximately $3,500,000 was furnished by farmers either by payments for capital stock or by undistributed savings. The remaining $1,500,000 consisted of loans and mortgages from individuals, machinery companies, local banks, and the banks for cooperatives of Wichita and Houston. These 170 associations ginned more than 525,000 bales of cotton during the 1933-34 season, with a gross income from this source alone of $2,500,000. Approximately 170,000 tons of cotton seed and a quarter of a million bales of cotton was bought.

Lucky Thirteen Club Ushers in Halloween Season

One of the first Halloween parties of the season was given when Mrs. B. M. Hays entertained the Lucky Thirteen club members and their husbands at her home, 1301 W. Kentucky, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Playing rooms were decorated with Halloween festoons and large vases of American Beauty roses and dahlias were arranged at vantage points.

Five tables of 42 furnished amusement for the evening. Two riving prizes for 34 bids were introduced at the beginning of play and passed from one guest to another as 84 bids were made. Winners, who held the prizes at the close of the games, were Mrs. J. C. Hudman and Mr. O. H. Jones.

High score for the evening went to Mr. Geo. Halton and low score to Mr. John Howe.

Mrs. W. E. Collier was club guest. Following the games a salad plate was served with Halloween whistles as plate favors.

Present were: Mmes. Collier, J. A. McClurg, Hudman; Mmes. and Messrs. Halton, S. P. Hall, W. N. Cole, O. H. Jones, Collins, J. T. Walker, J. O. Vance, Howe, and the host and hostess.

Mrs. F. F. Winger Hostess Thursday To Bien Amigos

The Bien Amigos club met with Mrs. F. F. Winger, 911 W. Louisiana Thursday afternoon for bridge.

Rooms were decorated with roses and chrysanthemums and two tables were appointed for the games.

High score for the afternoon's play went to Mrs. Carl Mitchell and high cut to Mrs. Joe Chambers.

Mrs. Preston Bridgewater called briefly during the afternoon.

At tea time, a party plate was served to: Mmes. Chambers, R. E. Kinsey, C. A. Mix, Joe Pyron, E. H. Shaw, E. B. Soper, H. W. Matthews, Mitchell, and the hostess.

Velveteen, which is steadily gaining favor for blouses and skirts has progressed to the point of being presented in three-quarter length, swagger coats of bright colors.

Three cheers for the red man. In this era of dieting and "eat less" campaigns, it is refreshing to hear of some one who likes to eat and has the courage to advise others to do so.

Now wouldn't it be just too bad if it should rain during the Fair so that Midland women couldn't wear their rodeo costumes—we don't mean cowboy costumes but the new dresses and hats bought because the Fair and rodeo and races are a great event?

Verily, verily, the lot of women is often hard. Consider the suspense of watching the rain pour down outside when one's outfit was purchased especially for wear in sunny weather.

Bridge Dinner Is Compliment to Thursday Club

Mrs. Myrtle Patten was hostess to the Thursday club with a bridge dinner at her home, 904 W. Missouri, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Halloween motif was carried out in appointments and decorations for the party.

A two-course dinner was served. In bridge games for the evening, Mrs. Harris E. Eastham, Jr., won high score and Mrs. R. W. Hamilton second high.

Club guests were Mrs. R. L. Allen of Fort Sam Houston and Miss Iva Williams.

Club members present were: Mmes. John Cram, John Cornwall, R. W. Patten, Thelma Jackson, Geo. Klingman, Bert Hemphill, O. C. Harper, Eastham, Hamilton, Geo. Abell, and the hostess.

Mrs. Pemberton Is Honored on Her Birthday

Mrs. Fred Middleton honored her mother, Mrs. Brooks Pemberton on the latter's birthday with a party at her home, 900 W. Tennessee, Thursday afternoon.

Gifts were presented to the honoree. The afternoon was spent in games of 42 and in making decorations for a float for the Fair.

A two-course party plate, carrying out an orange and green color scheme, was served by the hostess to the following guests: The honoree, Mmes. Anna Klapproth, Annie Kiebold, Henry Butler, D. W. Brunson, Sr., J. H. Barron, West, I. E. Daniel, Ed Cole, L. B. Pemberton, Miss Theresa Klapproth.

Rev. J. E. Pickering is attending a convention at San Antonio.

Mrs. Loreta Hutt of Hollywood, Calif., will be the house guest of Mrs. Dick Cowden during the Fair and races here. A number of parties are planned for her.

Mrs. H. E. Skipper returned Wednesday from a visit of a few days in Austin.

Announcements

Thursday
Because of the joint luncheon meeting of Rotarians and Rotary Anns scheduled for Monday, Oct. 21, members of the Rotary Ann club will not hold their regular luncheon Thursday noon.

A called meeting will be held on the mezzanine floor of the Hotel Scharbauer, Monday, Oct. 21, at 11 o'clock in the morning, just preceding the joint luncheon. Important business will be discussed, officers said.

The Lois class of the Baptist church will meet with Mrs. W. C. Chandler at her home at the intersection of Wall and East Front street, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Bien Amigos club will meet with Mrs. F. F. Winger, 911 W. Louisiana, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Members of Lucky Thirteen club and their husbands will meet with Mrs. B. M. Hays, 1301 W. Kentucky, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Friday
The Belmont Bible class will meet with Mrs. T. O. Midkiff, 102 S. Marionfeld, Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, for a "birthday" party in celebration of the sixth anniversary of the organization of the class. All members and former members of the class are urged to attend.

North Ward P.-T. A. will meet at the school building Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

AWAITING A VICTOR'S RETURN

AGES ago, a proud king of India went out to battle and had the gate of the city of Purana Qila closed, never to be reopened until he returned victorious. Since then that gate and one other, of this ancient city of Old Delhi, have remained shut and only the third gate, shown on the stamp of India, is being used today.

Legend says, also, that Yudisthira, king of the Pandus, who inhabited the city, one day found a fly in his food. That was enough for the ruler. The fly's temerity in venturing into the king's food proved to the ruler that the Pandus no longer were a dominating race, so he and all his court packed up their belongings and left the city to whatever people would be great enough to take their place!

INTRODUCED TOMORROW

THE NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1936

Why do we say The New Ford V-8 for 1936?
What is new about it?
Of course, the newest engine in the low-price car field is still the V-8 engine. Since Ford made it available to all car users (keeping it as economical as cars with fewer cylinders) the Ford V-8 has been the newest engine on the market, and remains the newest for 1936.

You may buy a car on minor "talking points"—some specially advertised feature "with the car thrown in"—but, after all, it is the engine you buy when you buy a car. Hence we put the engine first.

Other new points about the car make a long list.

Its lines are much more beautiful. The hood is longer and sweeps forward over the distinctive new radiator grille, giving the car a length and grace that are instantly impressive. The fenders are larger, with a wide flare. Horns are concealed behind circular grilles beneath the headlamps. New steel wheels.

Ford upholstery—always of sterling quality and excellent taste—is rich and enduring. The appointments of the car have a new touch of refinement. There is no question about the increased beauty of the Ford V-8 for 1936.

In more practical matters, many improvements have been made—Steering is made easier by a new steering gear ratio. The cooling system circulates 5½ gallons of water through a new, larger radiator. Natural thermo-siphon action is assisted by two centrifugal water pumps. New louvers permit a rapid air-flow around the engine.

Easier, quieter shifting of Ford gears—The gear shift lever now travels a shorter distance.

The two qualities you want in brakes—Brakes that stop the car with ease and certainty. Ford Super-Safety Brakes of the long-tested, fool-proof, mechanical design.

Safety—as always—in the electrically welded genuine steel body. Safety Glass all around at no extra cost. Hundreds have written grateful letters because this glass has protected the safety of their families.

A car you can drive without strain all day, if you like, in city or country. Steady, holds the road, responds to the driver's touch like a well-trained horse. You don't have to "push" or "fight" the Ford V-8—driver and car easily get on terms of good understanding with each other.

An engine has much to do with the roominess of a car. Very much indeed. A long engine uses up car space. The compact V-8 engine permits much of the ordinary engine space to be used by passengers.

It really is a great car in every way, this 1936 Ford V-8—the finest, safest, most dependable Ford car ever built. On display tomorrow by Ford dealers.

BULLDOGS TO MEET CRANES AT 8 RAIN OR SHINE

COACH IS FORCED TO CHANGE PLANS BY THE WEATHER

The rain may have caused some of the plays the coaches had figured on using tonight to be changed but will not alter the fact that the game will be started at 8 o'clock rain or shine.

Baumgarten has been working hard all this week on a new passing combination, Cowden to Rettig, and had made up his mind to spring them on the Cranes tonight but in view of the fact that the field will be muddy only straight football is in prospect.

Since the rain the Midland team will be a favorite of the large majority as the Bulldog line will outweigh that of the invaders somewhere near 10 pounds per man.

The Cranes admittedly have no hard driving back and their ground gaining is done mostly through the air and their attack will be severely hurt tonight through their having to handle a wet ball.

Coach Baumgarten is determined to have his men break into the conference win column tonight and nothing would please him better than have them do so at the expense of Crane, where he once coached.

Practically the same team that has entered the games for Midland all season will be on the starting line-up tonight.

FLUBDUBS

It will be first choice against second choice tonight when the Midland Bulldogs tackle the Crane Cranes at eight o'clock.

Crane was the place where Dutch Baumgarten, Midland coach, was coaching before coming to Midland and he would rather have a victory over his old team than to defeat any other team that can be named. But the desire for victory is not all on one side as the Cranes are determined to repeat their victory of last season over the Bulldogs and show Dutch that he should have never left that town for this one.

So highly did the Crane boys regard Dutch that they went on a strike last season and refused to report to practice but when finally convinced that was the wrong attitude to take they reportedly took a solemn oath never to let a Baumgarten coached team beat them and so far have not done so.

They made no change in their plans last season and only some superhuman defense playing by the Bulldogs let them finally finish on the short end of a 13-0 score. This year the Cranes are out to repeat the victory.

The Midland team will be favored to win tonight as they will outweigh the invading 11 and have a more impressive record for the season. But they will have their hands full and do not doubt that. There will be no 39-0 score as there was last week.

We did not do so badly picking them last week, 21 winners out of 28 games, so here goes for another stab.

Chicago vs. Purdue — Our money is on the Purdue Boiler-makers.

Indiana vs. Cincinnati — Indiana should have it easy in this one.

Minnesota vs. Tulane — The Green Wave will get busted up.

Ohio State vs. Northwestern — The Buckeyes won't make 85 points this week but will make quite a few.

Wisconsin vs. Michigan — It is a question of which team is the worse — we think Michigan is.

Noire Dame vs. Pittsburgh — This is a tough one but the dice say pick the Ramblers.

Army vs. Harvard — The Soldiers will "Forward March."

Yale vs. Navy — The Bulldogs will follow disarmament policies by sinking the fleet.

Kansas State vs. Nebraska — The Cornhuskers will be plenty mad and ready after their loss to Pitt last week.

Oklahoma vs. Iowa State — Cap-stone boys will buff the corn state boys.

Auburn vs. Kentucky — Auburn has won every other game so far and this is their time to win again.

No. Car. State vs. Georgia — The Georgia Bulldogs is just a lap-dog this season.

Cal. Tech vs. Duke — The Blue Devils of Duke take the Georgia team like Sherman did the whole state.

L. S. U. vs. Arkansas — Stay with the Louisiana boys all season and let that town for this one.

Miss. vs. Florida — A guess in the dark—Florida.

Tennessee vs. Alabama — A couple of in and out teams—Tennessee.

Fordham vs. Vanderbilt — Unless it is raining rain Vandy will rain passes all over the Rams for a not too tough win.

S. M. U. vs. Rice — Anyone who knows the answer to this one can borrow money at the bank to bet on it, however, we dreamed a scoreless tie so let it go at that.

Texas vs. Centenary — This looks like the year for Texas.

T. C. U. vs. A. & M. — This makes 11 times in a row the Frogs have won.

Cal. vs. Santa Clara — The Golden Bear will scratch the Santa lads.

Oregon vs. Idaho — A little out of our district, we'll guess Oregon.

Washington St. vs. Washington — We'll take the future farmers.

Penn. vs. Columbia — Dr. Little has too little material to win this one.

by GRAYSON

COLUMBUS. — Because the Ohio State Employees lambasted the comparative setup, Drake, 85-7, some of the boys are calling their coach "Merciless" Schmidt.

"They are the same ones who a year ago considered it unsportsmanlike for 'Merciless' Schmidt to run up 76 points on Western Reserve, tutored by the late Sam Williamson, whom he succeeded at Columbus.

The criticism is unwarranted. Certainly, "Merciless" Schmidt didn't get as much out of smothering poor Drake and Western Reserve as he would out of edging out any one of the clubs remaining on the Ohio State Employees' schedule, namely Northwestern, Indiana, Notre Dame, Chicago, Illinois, and Michigan.

I can't see that "Merciless" Schmidt could have done any more than he did toward keeping down the totals amassed against helpless Drake and Western Reserve.

The formula of coaches endeavoring to pull their teams' punches is to insert their second and third lineups, but this frequently works with reverse English. The first string substitute is out to look as good as he can, and to win, if possible, a starting position the following Saturday. The third string man is determined to scorch the turf and hurdle the two athletes who have crowded him out of a berth in one fell swoop. Meanwhile, the lowly pushover gets both barrels.

Everybody and Everything Works

"Merciless" Schmidt would have deployed his scrubs against Drake without much success in curbing the rout of hapless Drake. The director of the Ohio State Employees went those coaches who use three teams when a massacre is under way one better. He trotted out four complete outfits—nine ends, six tackles, four guards, four centers, four quarterbacks, eight halfbacks, and three fullbacks, only to see the landslide gain momentum.

"Merciless" Schmidt took full advantage of opportunities the "games" with Western Reserve and Drake afforded to polish up the Ohio State Employees' running attack and defense. They gave him excellent chances to see that his warriors—all 44 of them—were blocking perfectly and functioning in all other departments. It is to the credit of "Merciless" Schmidt that everybody and everything worked so smoothly.

Those objecting to "Merciless" Schmidt's so-called let 'em have it plan, which the coach of the Ohio State Employees has no way of checking, point to the psychological disadvantage of rolling up a count that can be computed only with the aid of a comptometer.

They argue that it convinces future adversaries that you're awfully tough, with the result that they work overtime in preparing for their appointment with you. Critics of the coach, whose array is a steamroller whether he likes it or no, further contend that the natural reaction is for a team computing large scores to let down, with the false impression that it is unbeatable.

Opponents Require No Pep Talks

In reply to this, I suspect that no rival will require pep talks to awaken it to the realization that its party with the Ohio State Employees is not to be of the pink tea variety. Western Conference and outside teams are fairly well sold on the idea that the Ohio State Employees have something on the ball.

The coach is not to blame for lopsided scores unless he has the final say in arranging the schedule, which I do not believe "Merciless" Schmidt has at Columbus. Western Reserve did not belong on the Ohio State Employees' list in 1934 any more than Drake had any right to be on the program this season, particularly in view of the pace that the Buckeyes were setting at the close of last year's campaign.

"Merciless" Schmidt had another problem at Columbus, which he seems to have solved highly satisfactorily in his own way. The downtown coaches at Columbus, who like to see their expansive stadium filled, are not content with Ohio State Employees who plunge and punt in order to minimize the count. The show's the thing at Columbus where they demand all the tricks and fills, no matter what the score. It is something of a tribute to "Merciless" Schmidt that he has satisfied the downtown coaches and clientele without really having shown them anything yet.

estranged from Germany and determined not to participate in League of Nations sanctions against Italy.

But possibilities of internal complications were seen in many quarters.

Starhemberg's influence in internal affairs of the nation was increased tremendously. In a radio address Thursday night, he declared:

"I am the sole leader of the new militia. Whosoever does not maintain discipline will be dismissed. I know my goal. I require unqualified loyalty. I am the only leader of the auxiliary armed forces."

In informal quarters it was stated there had been increasing tension between Starhemberg and Fey of late. Thursday night's Cabinet decision settled that issue, but there was still the question of whether the Vienna Heimwehr would admit it settled.

Archduke Loses Ground

Many interpreted the shift as an unfavorable turn of events for the Monarchist, who would put the Hapsburg Archduke Otto back on the throne.

Vienna was aquiver with rumors. Emergency squadrons of police and detachments of the regular army patrolled the streets.

Despite Fey's removal, the Heimwehr apparently gained strength in the new government. Fey's successor, Eduard Barr Barenfeld, was a Provincial Governor and Heimwehr leader in Lower Austria.

The Jewish Telegraph Agency said the reorganization of the cabinet was interpreted as a favorable development for Austrian Jewry, because Wintetstein, a baptized Jew, was given the ministry of justice.

relics of early days. This is the property of Mrs. George Ratliff, who was Annie Bedford before her marriage. This symbol of a bygone day is handed down to the one named "Annie" in each generation.

A ladle for melting lead from which bullets were made, which was H. G. Bedford Sr.'s and two bells found on the 3- (Three Bar) ranch in the sands were also brought by Mrs. Ratliff.

Odessa Bronchos to Play Tahoka Team

ODESSA, Oct. 18. The Odessa Bronchos will meet Tahoka on the Fly Field Friday night in the last night game to be played on the home territory.

Tahoka is considered a "dark horse" as Odessa has never played them before. They come to Odessa with a 45-0 victory over Littlefield and 8-6 decision over Post.

It is expected that the Bronchos will win this tilt, as they have been undefeated this season, having won from Fort Stockton 8-0, Van Horn, 26-0, Stanton 45-6, and Crane 9-0.

Stanton Cotton Gins Are Active

STANTON, Oct. 12. — According to report from T. W. Angel, manager of the Farmers Cooperative gin, there have been approximately 775 bales ginned by the three gins in Stanton. All gins have been running well into the night. Mr. Angel predicts that the greatest crop since 1932 will be harvested in this trade community.
