

CUBS VISION A NATIONAL LEAGUE PENNANT IF PITCHERS CARRY ON

Brannon, Dietzel Are TCU Captains

FORT WORTH.—Buster Brannon, Texas Christian's all-conference guard and former Athens Hornet star, was elected captain of the 1932 basketball team at a meeting of the lettermen Tuesday. Ad Dietzel was elected sub-captain.

Seven major league ball clubs are training in Florida and the Reds are at Tampa.

National league pitchers may be pleased to learn that Pepper Martin officially opened the Grapefruit league season by striking out three times.

In the Chain Gang The businesslike baseball methods of Branch Rickey, establishing a chain store of ball teams throughout the minor leagues, where fresh ivory is polished up for major league delivery, may be a swell idea and all that.

Two "chain store" pitchers are in the Cardinals' training camp this spring. They are big league pitchers, without a doubt. Yet, between them they have spent more than a dozen years trying to win pennants for minor league baseball "stores."

Seven Years for Carlton Take the case of Tex Carleton. Emerging from Texas Christian university in 1925, he signed with the Texarkana club. Then he went to Austin and won 11 and lost 1 there. He worked as a relief pitcher for Houston in 1927. In the following year, at Houston, he won 10 and lost 9. Four years ago he won 18 and lost

LOS ANGELES.—Those Chicago Cubs, who have been galloping all over the Wrigley Catalina playground, are getting visionary. In some manner, Manager Rogers Hornsby has stamped a picture of a "sav" hunting inscribed "National League Champions" in the mind of every player.

The great Hornsby, however, appears well satisfied with the way his proteges are getting ready. Having faced the Giants in some stiff practice tilts, and with a long list of training games still to be played, they should be in top form when the season opens, April 12.

Harry Taylor, obtained from Seattle, will back up Charley Grimm, at first. In any event, there is more for the veteran. And Elwood English will be the regular shortstop, with Bill Jurgens ready to step in at any time he may be needed.

On the face of things it appears that the outfield has been strengthened quite a bit by the loss of Hack Wilson. In any event, there is more peace in the club now that he has gone to Brooklyn. Kiki Cuyler has replaced Wilson in center field, with Lance Ricker and Ben Chapman.

7 for Houston, a record that should have earned him a big league appearance, at least. But he was transferred to Rochester because pitching strength was needed there in 1930. He pitched a no-hit game that year against Toronto and won 13 games for the Red Sox.

Long Road for Starr The other "chain store pitcher" in camp this spring is Ray Starr. The Cardinal system gobbled up Starr in 1925 after he had been discovered pitching semi-pro ball at his home near Centralia, Ill.

One of these five young Cleveland hurlers may win the pitting problem that looms before Manager Peck's pennant in the Indians. All have made sensational minor league records. Lee is the only lefthander of the group.

VICE SWELLS GANG WAR CHESTS AS CRIME OCTOPUS GRIPS THE NATION

By ALEXANDER JAMIE Director of the "Secret Six" of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, and the Reporter-Telegram

Organized crime is rapidly becoming more powerful and more nationalized in the United States. It is no longer recognized as state law. It is a national menace.

These growing gang elements are powerful, both as the result of their own organizations of criminals and their favorable connections with machine politicians in various cities. They have established a far-reaching intelligence system that is a positive marvel of efficiency.

There is no use closing our eyes to the facts. I believe that organized criminals in the United States have an intelligence system that is second to none. That its operation is widespread over the country.

The 1932 infield may be entirely different from last year's starting lineup. Kamm, acquired during 1931 in a trade with the White Sox, will play third. Montague is to start at short. Hodapp has a fight on his hands with Johnny Burnett at second base, and there is a chance that Bruce Comstear will play first.

Father of Midland County Woman Carries On Printing Tradition Which Began With His Family in the Revolutionary Times

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—A family heritage which was established in 1783 by his great, great grandfather, a colonel in the Revolutionary war, is being carried on by James R. Lyon of 128 Cedar street, South Jacksonville, Fla., the dean of a family active in the printing and publishing profession through seven consecutive generations.

Jefferson president. "After having served two terms in congress from Vermont he moved to Kentucky in 1801, selecting a site and settling on the Cumberland river in what is now Lyon county. He founded the town of Eddyville, established the first printing office in Kentucky (transporting the type across the mountains on horseback), built gunboats for the government at Eddyville during the War of 1812; served Lyon county in the legislature and was in the national congress from Kentucky three consecutive terms.

Scouter Describes Summer Camp Site

By CLAUDE O. CRANE Scout Publicity Staff "Last one in is a rotten egg," was the challenge issued by Wallace (Cookie) Wimberly when the 12 scouters from Midland, Big Spring and Sweetwater arrived at the proposed camp site on the Nueces river for the boy scouts summer camp. The challenge was accepted by Claude O. Crane, Jerry Sitinski, Charlie Paxton, Oke Williamson, Walter Davis and Dr. Quast. The running stream is so clear the gravel on the bottom can be seen through 15 feet of water. The one dip was sufficient for all except Cookie. He tried several of the streams before returning. The camp site consists of about 200 acres of pecan trees, the river winding along one side. The site for the tents is a mile from the swimming hole and half a mile from the mess hall.

pantry and mess hall is a well-built structure of concrete and wood with open sides. The pantry is built of solid concrete and in the large roomy kitchen are two stoves and a refrigerator that will hold the entire carcass of a calf, goat or sheep, the ice for which is donated by the electric company. The sanitary equipment is of the highest type, thus affording the boys a splendid place to go without fear of getting sick or unduly exposed in damp weather. A trip to the camp will probably take the scouts by a place called Seven Hundred Springs and from the number of streams of water issuing forth from the side of a small mountain, it is evidently named correctly.

Report Father Seriously Ill

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Mims motored to Dallas Monday after receiving a report that Mr. Littlejohn, father of Mrs. Mims, was in Dallas for a serious operation. Due to the illness of one of the Mims' children, Margaret, 5, the Mims' could not at first leave, but Mrs. Mollie McCormick took Margaret to her home for care. The other child, James, is staying with Mrs. Ray Hyatt. Littlejohn, who lives in Tyler, is to go on the operating table today, it was learned.

Forefathers Were Fighters

Excerpts from the family biography follow: "First, My great, great grandfather, Matthew Lyon, a colonel in the Revolutionary war, served conspicuously throughout that war. It was his masterly guidance that saved the army from capture by the victorious Burgoyne when St. Clair's army was driven from the fortress of Ticonderoga, then defeated and put to flight at Hubbardton. It was he who guided the army to Saratoga, making possible victory at the deciding battle of the war.

Deals With Cherokees

"In 1820 he was appointed representative of the federal government by President Monroe in the Cherokee nation, then located at Spadra Bluff in Western Arkansas. When Arkansas became a territory he was elected the first delegate to congress. He died at Spadra Bluff on August 1, 1822. In 1833 his body was returned to Kentucky where it was re-interred with Masonic honors in the cemetery at Eddyville, in the county which bears his name. At one time he published a paper entitled 'The Scourge of Aristocracy and Depository of Political Truths.'
