Italian Delegates to Rome

SENSATION MADE BY DEPARTURE OF ALOISI FOR HOME
Believed Would Stay For Discussion of Sanctions

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Baron Pompeo Aloisi, head of the Italian league delegation, left Geneva today (Saturday) for Rome. The remaining Italian delegates plan to leave today or tomorrow.
The news created a sensation because it was believed that the delegation would stay until the League begins to discuss sanctions as a result of the Italo-Ethiopian quarrel.
The Suez canal company indicated their intention of keeping the canal open regardless of sanctions.
Facing an Italo-German combine, France sought to strengthen its Franco-British bonds.
The Italian cabinet today declared that Italy would not break with the League of Nations until the League assumes the responsibility for measures against Italy and made a gesture of peace toward England.
They announced "Italy's policy has no immediate or remote aims that could injure Great Britain's interests." They criticized the League's procedure in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute, and repeated their accusation that Ethiopia lacked faith.
The league adjourned despite warnings that grave events were impending. They are ready to meet again instantly in event of any emergency.
The league council decided to submit to Italy and Ethiopia's request that they dispatch neutral observers to Ethiopia, so that responsibility could be reliably fixed in case war starts.

I read this, but it's a good-Sunday morning sermon: "A man with a faithful spouse may be partly responsible for that plight. He should not have gone down town alone every night. Married women are entitled to nice little attentions from their husbands and respond to them."

Midland people who have been to Peocos during the last week say that the whole town has adopted this slogan: "Get Midland." If you don't know what the mean, they are after his Bulldog team of ours, and the game will be played at Peocos. They are the hardest team we will have to beat in the district, and we think as much our Bulldogs as they do their Eagles (or whatever they are). We will go along and back up our squad. Understand, I think we have by far the best team in the district, but that's no reason for our laying down on backing up the boys.

Scout executives of Midland district, Buffalo Trail Scout council will hold the first of a series of bi-monthly meetings here Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Midland district also includes Escobedo and Andrews counties and a number of scouters are expected to be here from those places.

The meeting will be in the form of a dinner. A. C. Williamson, executive of council, was in Midland Friday and Saturday making preparations for the meeting Thursday. Plans for carrying on the program of scouting through the fall and winter months will be made and the possibilities of adding a field scout executive to serve in the western part of the council is also slated for consideration. The council is so large there is great need for the field executive in order to carry on the program purpose, scout leaders said.

Williamson recently returned from a tour of the West with 20 Boy Scouts, disappointed delegates to the First National Jamboree, which was postponed. Five thousand, five hundred miles were covered on the tour which included San Diego Exposition, Catalina Island, Los Angeles, Yosemite Park, Sacramento, Salt Lake City, Grand Canyon, Yellowstone Park, and Colorado Springs.

HENDERSON TELLS PURPOSE OF 18-YR. OLD RULE FOR BOYS

By ROY B. HENDERSON

The main purpose of the 18-year age rule is to make certain that inter-school contests of all kinds under the sponsorship of the Inter-scholastic League shall increasingly emphasize and support the schools' educational program. Under the present high age limit we have seen that program embarrassed and weakened by some school authorities unwilling or unable to lead their respective communities to a sane view with reference to the proper place of inter-school contests, especially athletic contests. The present regulation which permits many men, fully grown, 20 years of age, to compete against high school boys has reacted to the disadvantage of both educational procedure, and it has favored those schools willing to sacrifice good school procedure on the altar of commercialism.

It is obvious that all pupils who may wish to have the honor of representing the school cannot possibly do so. This means that a selection must be made; one pupil may have that honor; another may not. On what basis should this selection be made? We believe those pupils capable of keeping step with the program set down by the school should have this honor. This is the essence of the 18-year age rule. A higher standard necessarily withdraws the emphasis from the school's program; it encourages pupils to delay their school careers; it works to the disadvantage of the school and puts first things first and it plays into the hands of those who desire to exploit high school athletics for commercial considerations.

Participation in inter-school contests is not a right that any pupil may claim. It is a privilege and an honor which should be extended only to those who are qualified properly to represent the whole school, its scholastic program, its standards, its honor, its traditions, etc. Surely no one less than a normal pupil should be permitted to carry this responsibility. A pupil over 18 years of age is not a normal pupil.

Those in favor of the new rule believe that if a boy is 18 years of age on the first day of September and has not graduated from high school he should devote himself more thoroughly to his school work and not spend his time in long practical training for and participating in football, basketball or other contests. It is interesting to note that had this rule been in effect in 1933-34 (the latest year the figures are available) only 84 per cent of the high school population would have been rendered ineligible.

It will be admitted even by opponents of the 18-year age rule, I believe, that the oldest group in our high schools today is the group in Conference A football. Eligibility data on 3,434 of these boys are on file in the State Office and the average age on September 1, 1934, was 16.4 years. Only 19 per cent were 18 and over, and still one school had 48.6 per cent of its squad made up of boys who would have been ineligible if this rule had been operative. This percentage of over-age boys on the squad scales downward from 48.6 to 3.4. Thirteen of the 16 Class A district champions were above the 19 per cent average. Many Class B schools had no over-age boys. It is interesting to know that the average age of the players participating in the Coaches Association All-Star game in Dallas, August 3, was 17.3 as of September 1, 1934, the beginning of their last year of eligibility.

Co. Superintendents Told Give Hi School Aid Jobs Immediately

AUSTIN, — Lyndon B. Johnson, State Director of the National Youth Administration in Texas, Sunday evening issued a warning to county superintendents of schools to allocate high school aid jobs to high school principals at once in order to prevent the possibility of their allotments being lost to them and transferred to other counties.

The National Youth Administration on September 14 mailed to 248 county superintendents of the 254 counties in Texas, allotments of the students eligible in each county to participate in the $6 per month high school aid program.

The National Youth Administration has made preparations to give this assistance to 8,547 high school students in Texas. County superintendents of schools and principals of individual schools, working in cooperation with case-workers of the Texas Relief Commission, make the final selection and assignments. However, if a county does not avail itself of the opportunity and place the full number of students in part-time jobs the allotment will be transferred to another county where the demand exceeds the supply.

"It is unfortunate that there are more applications than jobs available under the federal allotment of funds for Texas," Johnson said. "But we are eager to see that the allotment is used one hundred per cent. Inasmuch as it is incumbent upon the school officials to initiate the movement and to see that it is put through the need for immediate action is urgent. School has started already in many places and will start in others in the very near future. In order that there may be no waste whenever a county fails to avail of its funds, they will be transferred and given to other counties."

"It is doubtful that a county which fails to act this week and distribute its quota of funds to high school principals will have the opportunity to do so next week."

The NYA student aid program will provide jobs for 10 high school students in Midland county, at an expense of $6 per month, or a total of $60.00.

The enrollment is now 67 and the teachers are expecting others to enter soon.

Miss Jewell Midkiff, the primary teacher, has four pupils enrolled who are under six years of age.

Mrs. Edith Wilson is instructor in the intermediate room.

Prin. A. M. Bryant teaches grades seven to ten, inclusive.

MIDKIFF AND WOFFORD LEAD BULLDOGS TO SECOND VICTORY 32-7

TEAM SCORES IN EVERY QUARTER TO DEFEAT BADGERS

With Midkiff and Wofford leading the way, the Midland Bulldogs ran up their second victory in a row when they defeated the McCamey Badgers here Friday night by a score of 32-7.

With Midkiff and Wofford doing practically all the ball-carrying the Bulldogs scored in every quarter and had command at all times during the game.

Midkiff led in the scoring with three touchdowns of three, six and 28 yard runs. He made the first one the first time that Midland got hands on the ball. The two leaders of the Bulldog backfield advanced it on line plunges from the McCamey 36 to the three and Midkiff swept around his own right end for the initial counter.

The second score came early in the second quarter when Wofford went through the line for four yards to pay dirt after he and Midkiff had advanced the ball from the McCamey 31, where Midland had received it on a punt.

The third touchdown came just two plays later. After Midland had kicked off once more to McCamey Cates attempted to kick while standing on his own five yard line. Adams giant tackle, broke through and blocked the punt and Wright, Midland end, outflung all members of both teams in a mad scramble and fell on the ball behind the McCamey goal for another six points.

The fourth touchdown for Midland came in the third quarter when Midkiff cut through the middle of the line, eluded the McCamey secondary and raced 63 yards for another score. The last touchdown came in the fourth period when Midkiff once more got loose and raced 28 yards for six points.

The lone McCamey score came in the third period when Hoffman, McCamey half and a threat to the

FLUBDUBS

By JESS RODGERS

"Get Midland!" That is the air-announced war cry of the Pecos Eagles as they prepare for an invasion of the Bulldogs next Friday night.

Little Joe Bob Kelly, bare-foot phantom on a football field, is once more rounding into the form he displayed last season and accordingly reports reaching us he ran the Ysion team dizzy Friday night while making three touchdowns.

The McCamey team had had the words "stop Kelly" pounded into their ears all during their training season and they managed to do it but while doing so Crum, red-haired Pecos fullback, escorted the team to victory.

Right now we will go on record as saying that the Bulldogs will take the Eagles in their go this week unless something unavoidable prevents them putting their full strength on the field. We have talked to several of the boys and do not believe that coach will be bothered with overcoming any tendency of overconfidence this week.

Comparative scores would indicate that the Bulldogs are 12 points better than the Wolves but figures can be practically all of the boys realize that they have their work cut out for them this week and are ready to really "put out" in an effort to avenge last year's defeat.

At times Friday night the team looked like a wolf in sheep's clothing but they were rather ragged. Particularly on passes did they look bad. Unless memory fails us the Bulldogs have not completed a pass yet in the two games that they have played. Midkiff just won't let his men get open before he throws the ball and oft times the ball is varied over the would-be receiver's head. When he finally does get the range the ends become butter-fingered. Wright and Bryant have missed passes in the two games that would have led to touchdowns as both were in the clear when they dropped the ball.

The guards are pulling out of the line better and giving the men better interference but they are terribly slow.

Wink was another of the district teams to win this week. They chalked up a 20-0 win over the Hobbs club Friday night. They are still the team to beat for the championship.

Regardless of what team wins the words "half of the district they will be favored to beat the winner of the south. All the teams in that half of the district, unless possibly Iraab, appear to be the weakest in years. Fort Stockton, pre-season favorite to repeat this year as champions lost their first game to Odessa team 8-0.

Stanton and Crane clashed in the first conference game of the season Friday night but the results are unknown to this department. Neither have we heard how Odessa came out in their game with Yan Horn.

Jim Kelly in his column of Sports in the Stanton Reporter says "After 'El Alfonso," as far as any championship hopes for Midland are concerned, we would like to give him a few points and wager a dinner that Bulldogs hamstringing the Buffaloes.

Kelly says that he feels sorry for the Dogs and the aspirations of coach Baumgarten that he has a district championship team. Save it, Kelly. The Bulldogs will be out to show Henderson that he should have stayed over here where he would have been in the same town with a football team anyway.

Comedy, Love Songs Feature Ritz Film

Bright-spirited comedy, hitting love songs, and gay romance make Bing Crosby's "Two for Tonight," now at Ritz Theatre, one grand hour of fun and entertainment, topped by a supporting cast of skillful, but none the less hilarious, comedians. Headed by the buoyant varieties of Mary Boland and the droll humor of Lynne Overman.

Prepare yourself for gales of tickling laughter in Bing's newest laugh riot which provides the crooner with plenty of opportunity to indulge his flair as an ace singer and master of farce. Presenting Crosby in one mirth-provoking dilemma after another, "Two for Tonight" is a perfect vehicle for Bing's light-hearted, insouciant, personable style of acting.

A sparkling, breezy sentimental finale forms an exciting climax to the fun fest. A fine assortment of catchy melodies have been provided by Gordon and Revel, including "From the Top of Your Head to the Tip of Your Toes," "Without a Word of Warning," "Two for Tonight," "Takes Two to Make a Bargain" and "I Wish I Were Aladdin." Frank Tuttle's direction is swiftly paced, attains distinction by its excellence.

The Eternal Star
 Will Rogers' talents were so diversified and his contacts so numerous and widespread that no group or industry can lay claim to his principal thought or action during his busy and fruitful life. Lecturer, world traveler, actor, film star, philosopher and philanthropist, he was admired, loved and respected by millions.

Of recent years he devoted a considerable portion of his time to the production of photoplays and had reached the very top in this profession. It was through his appearance in a long list of successful photoplays, based on the most part on his homely philosophy of life, that he was best known to many.

It is probably one of his best pictures, quaintly amusing with no hilarious scenes which would in any manner cast a reflection in his beloved memory. His starring partner is Irvin S. Cobb, one of his closest friends. Cobb essays the role of captain of "The Pride of Paducah" rival of "The Claremore Queen" for business and racing honors on the old Mississippi.

In after years these talking pictures of Will Rogers will be priceless heirlooms. These latest two, "Steamboat Round The Bend" and "An Old Kentucky," and his previous pictures are all we have left to bring back the living image of this great character. Known and loved in every country and clime. It is altogether fitting and proper that
