CHINESE AGREE TO JAP CLAIMS FOR FIVE STATES

Fear of the Japanese Causes Grant of Autonomy

GIVE ULTIMATUM 'Action by Tomorrow' Is Demanded by Officers

Chinese officials at Peiping said today that they had agreed to north China's autonomy because of fear of the Japanese army.

Five provinces, Hopeh, Shantung, Shansi, Chahar and Suiyuan, were to receive financial and economic independence although still acknowledging the nominal sovereignty of the national Chinese government.

Chinese sources said that Japanese army officers had presented an ultimatum to China demanding action on the autonomy plan by noon tomorrow.

Tokyo reports said that the new state would operate under Japanese control, with Japanese commissions, civil and military, "advising" it.

Delegates to the Koumintang (Nationalist party) congress at Nanking have decided to instruct the government to enforce a program of nation-wide conscription for military service.

HARRY HOPKINS ACCUSES CRITICS OF MALICIOUSNESS

Boston Mayor Claims Funds Are Diverted For Projects

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—After hearing Harry Hopkins accuse some work relief critics of "willful maliciousness," Mayor Frederick Mansfield, of Boston, told the United States conference of mayors today that part of the work funds had been diverted from the intended purpose.

He said that the money had been taken from the fund for the purpose of project materials, instead of providing jobs.

Hopkins said that critics had tried to "discredit" projects, and made a blanket defense of the types of projects.

Secretary of Labor Perkins urged the cooperation of state and federal officials so that the social security program could begin on a wide front as soon as possible.

Plumes Herself

It was a distinct feather in her hat, and one which many women would envy, when charming Mary Taylor, above, was accompanied by Clark Gable to a Manhattan hockey game. A Park avenue society girl and fashion model with dramatic ambitions, she was seen with the famed film lover shortly after Gable's second wife announced her plans to divorce him.

"Ghost Towns" Dot The Hutchinson County Hills

Empty Buildings and Houses Are Left as Reminders of Oil Boom

BORGER. (AP)—"Ghost towns," reminders of a sensational oil boom of nearly a decade ago, dot the rolling hills of Hutchinson county, center of early development in the prolific Texas Panhandle field.

Against a background of carbon black smoke and among towering oil derricks that rise from prairies where wild buffalo roamed little more than half a century ago, can be found the few remaining vestiges of short-lived boom towns.

Lured by quick and easy money from the new-found "black gold," thousands of people—promoters, oil workers and undesirables—thronged to the new field in 1926 and 1927.

Towns that blossomed overnight from nothing into teeming communities died out as quickly in the inevitable post-boom deflation. Borger alone of all of the mushroom towns survived and thrived. Crime ran rampant, reaching a climax in 1929 when martial law was declared and troops were sent to rule the town after District Attorney John A. Holmes had been assassinated.

County Must Spend $30,000 Drought Money

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. (AP)—The highway commission Monday called for bids Dec. 3 on $340,000 road construction to be opened as a session which bids on $1,600,000 of work will be opened and requests of numerous delegations for new projects considered.

Designation of a route between Midland and Sterling City as far as Garden City was promised Midland county if $30,000 of drought relief funds were used by the county.

Erath county applied for reinstatement of highway 67 from Dublin southeast for state maintenance, and Knox county requested the commission obtain eight miles of right-of-way between Benjamin and the Ford county line on highway 16.

The commission announced a $2,500,000 two-year program had been laid out for completion of highway 5 from Gainesville in Cooke county to Amarillo. It would complete a cardinal east-west route along the northern edge of Texas.

An extensive program in Bell county, involving relocation of highway 2, the main north-south route to by-pass Belton and Temple was adopted formally upon acceptance by Bell county commissioners of the plan.

Projects on which bids were asked Dec. 3 included: Scurry, two-tenths mile P. & N. T. Ry. underpass on highway 7 northwest of Snyder.

Grading, drainage structures, caliche base and bituminous surfacing on highway 5 from Amarillo north; 11.2 miles from Williams street in Amarillo to Carson county.

El Paso, three-tenths mile of grading, extending small structures, stone macadam base and cut-back asphaltic concrete pavement on highway 1 from El Paso north.

San Saba, 6.5 miles of grading and drainage structures on highway 81 from Llano county to 13.7 miles south of San Saba.

ROGERS FREED IN DEATH OF SINGER

Grand Jury Returns Verdict Of Suicide in the Hoey Case

WEST CHESTER Pa., Nov. 19. (AP)—The Chester county grand jury said in a presentment Monday that Evelyn Hoey, stage and screen singer, "came to her death by committing death by a revolver."

The grand jury, called into special session to investigate the conduct of the coroner's jury, thus cleared Rogers, and William Kelley, a cameraman friend who was his guest at the farm home near Downingtown.

The coroner's jury had returned an open verdict, declaring the blonde entertainer had come to her death at the hands of persons unknown.

Rogers, at the inquest, had testified he believed Miss Hoey had ended her life because of jealousy.

The grand jury report also cited "evidence of too intimate association between certain members of the (coroner's) jury and news reporters."

One of the coroner's jurors caused a postponement of one session of the inquest last September.

Kimes and Terrell once escaped unrecognized while Signal Hill was surrounded by Texas Rangers. It was the Rangers, under orders to clean up Borger in 1927, who started Signal Hill's downfall. After they had waded out undesirable few persons remained and Buffalo grass began to sprout from once-graded streets.

Seven pupils now attend school in one room of a 14-room, $18,000 brick school building, at what once was the town of Oil City.

SELASSIE LEAVES ADDIS ABABA ON SECRET MISSION

Destination Unknown As He Departs By Plane

ITALY RAPS U. S. Neutrality Policy of This Country Cited

By Associated Press Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia today left Addis Ababa by airplane for an unannounced destination.

Italian spokesmen said that the United States cannot expect special consideration if it adopts further restrictive measures in pursuit of a neutrality policy.

Italian bombing planes commanded by Count Galeazzo Ciano today killed 2,000 Ethiopians and dispersed a force of 15,000 in a land-air battle on the northern front.

Just south of Makale, Ethiopians trained anti-aircraft fire on a machine gun and bomb attack from overhead and succeeded in bringing down Ciano's plane. Ciano was damaged to escape unhurt. Before landing his plane he directed the attack, in which Mussolini's sons, Bruno and Vittorio, participated.

Missionary Cause Is Being Revamped Says Speaker Here Today

"The missionary cause is being revamped," Dr. Virgil E. Havens, missionary from Africa now in Midland, said today. New goals are being set up, he explained, which change the old missionary educational program. This change in the missionary program is in line with the changing ideas of education in America which strives now to put workable knowledge into the minds and hands of students rather than abstract conglomerations of facts.

The chief aims of the new program, he said, are to keep up the Christian home which missionaries have taught them to set up.

Dr. Havens is now on a year's furlough from Bolenge, Congo Belge, Africa, where he has been in charge of the mission work for the Christian church in Africa.

Subsidiary to this main station are a school, hospital, engineering shop, printing, cabinet and carpentry shops as well as a very large home for the aged. The organization, are six stations which maintain resident white workers and nearly 2000 "back country" churches.

At Bolenge are nine white people, three men and six women, including three single women.

Dr. Havens is anxious to take a certain amount of evangelistic work, but Dr. Havens is primarily a vocational missionary.

Work along the lines of agriculture is being brought to the natives such modern methods of efficiency as may be adapted to his environment, and equipment. It would, he said, be foolish to attempt to teach the natives to run a tractor when he would probably never have one, but modern knowledge is taught which centers around the use of the African tools, chiefly the hoe.

They are enthusiastic, eager, expectant, skepticism is the attitude of the natives toward those who bring them the message of Christianity, the fall, dark-haired, brown-eyed missionary said. Contrary to the usual belief that African natives are ill-wits, they are living under their own power, they are logical and bring this logic to bear upon the beliefs presented to them by the white teachers.

They are statisticians, keepers and know that something is wrong but they don't know what.

The people are what might be termed "ghosts." They believe in spirits and the classification of these spirits as good or bad is based upon their work. The dominant spirit of spirit is Nzakombo who is a conception of what Christians consider low ideals.

"What is the biggest hardship the missionary has?" he was asked. "Coming home and being stuck up before a conference and told to tell all about it in 15 minutes," was the startling reply.

The question as to what was the dominant quality a missionary should have elicited another laugh from the man who apparently has not found life at all in what most people would call the "benighted tropics."

"Well, I think he needs to know that about a dime's worth of inspiration and 90 cents' worth of work is needed," he replied.

The agreement places trade relations between the two countries on a basis of mutual agreement for the first time since 1866.

JACK ELLINGSON APPOINTED STATE PRISON MANAGER

Formerly Served as Assistant of the System

HOUSTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—O. J. S. (Jack) Ellingson, formerly assistant manager of the Texas prison system, was appointed manager of the system at a meeting of members of the Texas prison board here Monday.

Ellingson will occupy the vacancy created by the death of Dave Nelson, whose enterprising reform program for the Texas prison system was cut short Saturday by a sudden pneumonia attack which ended his life scarcely two weeks after taking over the prison management.

Ellingson also of Michigan will carry on the policies of the Texas prison board, one of which is social rehabilitation of the thousands of inmates through segregation within the various branches of Texas' vast prison system.

"I do not have any ideas other than the carrying out of the Texas prison board's policies," Ellingson said. "Of course, I will have to look at the system and its functioning from an entirely new angle. It will be several days before I can familiarize myself with this new perspective."

Ellingson's appointment was announced by W. A. Paddock, chairman of the Texas prison board, after he had conferred with members of the board all morning.

Prior to being appointed assistant manager of the Texas prison system on August 1, 1932 by Lee Shumons, who was then serving as manager of the system, Ellingson served as city manager of Sherman for 16 years.

Ellingson, who is 51 years of age, was born in Kansas and when he was only six years of age his family moved to Austin. He attended the public schools there and graduated from the University of Texas in 1906 with a degree of civil engineer.

After graduating from college Ellingson became connected with a contracting firm in Leavenworth, Kan., and held that position until about a year later when he resigned and returned to the university in the engineering department. He held that position for two years and eventually resigned to take a position with another contracting company and made his headquarters at Sherman.

Ellingson held the latter position until April 1, 1916, when he was appointed city manager of Sherman and served continuously in that position until he was appointed assistant manager of the Texas prison system.

Ellingson is married and has two sons, Jack and Eugene A. Ellingson, both of whom are students attending the University of Texas.

LICENSES FOR FIREARMS

Attorney General Cummings' demand for stricter laws governing the use of firearms is amply justified by the facts. As he says, the underworld is "armed to the teeth," and under existing legislation the authorities are sadly handicapped in their efforts to disarm it.

Mr. Cummings plans to ask Congress for action on a bill which would put pistols and other weapons under national control. He points out that there is now no way of checking on firearms which gangsters own; as an illustration, he reveals that more than 2000 government-owned guns have been stolen from armories in the last few years.

That firearms should be licensed at least as strictly as autos is too obvious to need comment. Such a system would disturb the law-abiding citizen very little, yet it would make it easier to get at the lawless gun-toter—and, in that way, would put a crimp in the underworld's activities.

Society and Clubs

FEMININE FANCIES

Equipment for coffeemaking seems to be determined to keep in step with 1935 or maybe even with 1936. We notice that the array of electrical coffeemakers shown in a downtown shop is strictly modernistic in design featuring very plain cylindrical containers, perhaps relieved with simple lines, and using wooden handles in a natural brown color.

The general effect is harmonious and pleasing—and ultra-modern. Speaking of coffee makers it is easy to drift to coffee servers. A pottery coffee jug, which may incidentally double for tea or chocolate, is provided to keep the beverage hot for hours. With this jug, which comes in soft green-blue with the fashionable handle, are provided pottery cups and saucers ranging in color from white to bright yellow, deep blue, rust, and other shades.

For those of us who are inclined to be a harum-scarum this set holds no terrors of mis-matching our cups and saucers and being shamed in the eyes of the meticulous thereby. One is supposed to "mix his own" as desired. If rust and blue are well-matched in your theory of color, set a blue cup in a rust-toned saucer or vice-versa. If you like Frenchy tones, then combine two shades of blue—and so on indefinitely.

The modern craze for compact service seems to be expressed in a whole series of "hostess trays" or in bolder words, table stoves, which provide on a single large tray, facilities for cooking almost an entire meal—especially breakfast.

We saw one yesterday which even had a sandwich knife included. And provisions for cooking waffles—our beloved old-fashioned circular ones but quite up-to-the-minute rectangular ones.

Presbyterians Hold "Get Acquainted" Party Monday

Getting acquainted was the aim of the party given by Presbyterian women at the church Monday afternoon. Informality was stressed throughout the afternoon.

By request, Mrs. W. J. Coleman presented selections on the recently-installed pipe organ during the tea hour.

A salad plate was served to at least 75 guests.

Mrs. Wright Honoree At Shower Given by Methodist Women

Mrs. Alfred P. Wright Jr., the former Miss Mary Frances Minter, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. K. C. Minter, was honor guest at a shower given by women of the First Methodist church in their meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Wemple, 504 N. Loraine, Monday afternoon.

School Gets Mascot Back, But Not Alive

CANYON. (P)—Charles, Buffalo mascot of the West Texas State Teachers College, appeared on the campus again Nov. 2 when the old grads returned for the annual homecoming.

Charles was a huge buffalo named for the man from whose herd it came—Charles Goodnight. Last summer the buffalo grazed, easily smashing the fence corraling him, and ran himself to death rather than be captured. He has since been mounted and may be seen in the museum of the Panhandle - Plains Historical Society.

The teasel plant, when dried, is used to raise a nap on woolen cloth. No satisfactory mechanical device has ever been invented to take its place.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything).

But when a big argument starts, like the one which has grown out of the recent Angelo-Big Spring tie, I doubt the commercial value. These two towns are at diggers points, judging from the publicity I see about it. Trips are being made to Austin, district league courts are being held and the officials are on the spot. Whatever the outcome, the losing side will be sore for months to come. I doubt the value of that sort of a tussle.

The attorney general has ruled that prescription liquor sales are now illegal. If the drug store hasn't been granted a license under the new bill, it can't peddle whiskey. That's going to be mighty embarrassing on some folks, to have to go buy liquor just for liquor instead of for medicine.

The way the sports writers write, there are two big cinches in southwestern football this week, TCU and SMU. However, I'm making you a little prediction right now. Either TCU will get beaten by Baylor before this week is over. It's time for the dope to be upset, and this will be the week. Either TCU or SMU will have a "1" in the loss column Sunday morning.

Our society editor objects to the following comment in the Kerrville Times: "It's better to have loved and lost—much better!"

In these days and times, a congressman is the man who is supposed to get each community in his district some sort of appropriation. It isn't entitled to.

Some people have grudges against newspapers. They must enjoy the trouble the papers are having now with these names from the Ethiopian battlefields.

A north Texas paper points out that automobiles may have ruined lots of nice young people, but that young people also have ruined lots of nice automobiles.

Football games are great institutions.

SHE'S THE GIRL WHO HANDLES YOUR TELEPHONE CALLS
This is the girl who handles your telephone calls.
Every part of the far-flung Bell System organization exists largely to help her do the best possible job of connecting you with the people to whom you want to talk.
Linemen cling to icy poles to keep the voice-paths open to her touch. Staff experts of American Telephone and Telegraph Company, parent company of the System, hunt better methods for her to use. Scientists of Bell Telephone Laboratories seek new inventions to place at her finger-tips.
And the factories and shops of Western Electric, supply unit of the Bell System, are busy making the insulators, the wires and the equipment she needs to flash your voice around the block, across the state, or across the nation.
It is largely because this group of specialized organizations stands behind her... and has done its job so well for her... that she is able to give you the good, economical telephone service you receive today.

FLUBDUBS
By JESS RODGERS

The most important question in any sport writer's mind—and in many thousands of others—is, who will win, Rice or T. C. U.

Without any great amount of hesitation we take T. C. U. Led by a better line and a more evenly balanced line, we don't see how the Frogs can lose.

Sam Baugh is probably the greatest passer in the game today, and one of the greatest of any time and it has become a weekly occurrence to toss from one to three touchdown passes. In Walls, Roach, Lawrence and others, he has some catchers that can handle his offerings.

True, the Owls managed to break up the so-called "aerial-circus" of S. M. U., but like the old grey mare, that ain't what it used to be.

The Frogs have been forced to "put on steam" only two times this year, the Baylor and Texas games, and the way they did it is liable to be remembered for a long time to come.

Baugh alone is not the only backfield threat that the Christians can boast. Manton, Kline and Lawrence are backs of the pile-driving type, and should Lawrence turn in the same kind of game this year against the Houston club as he did last year, the game will not be as close as it was last season.

Withal, it should be "The Battle of the Clouds" and those who were far-sighted enough to purchase tickets far ahead of time are to be congratulated. Try and get one now!

Wolves Howling
According to Harry Grayson, NEA sports editor, several big time coaches will walk the plank after this season. Among those mentioned are Howard Jones at USC, Howard Harpster at Carnegie Tech, Harvey Hartman at Penn. Dr. Spears at Wisconsin and Bill Britton at Tennessee. The one and only Red Grange is slated to succeed Harpster after one of the most disastrous seasons that Tech has suffered in many years.

The way the coaches of losing teams are kicked around might have had something to do with the origin of the name football.

Lying Justified
In Chattanooga, Tennessee, last Saturday was perpetrated a deliberate fakery that should receive praise from all who hear of it.

Bubber Byrne, 18-year-old half-back of the Notre Dame high school, was in a hospital suffering from a blood stream that was each hour drawing him near death while his teammates were out on the field playing a team that was expected to beat them by several points.

Byrne's team lost by a 7-6 score but the Chattanooga Times ran off a special edition, only one copy of which came off the press. It was carried to his bedside and an eight-column streamer across the sports page read: "Inspired Notre Dame Upsets Central, 6 to 0."

Thousands of lesser gestures have received all kinds of editorial. The gesture made by the paper should conclusively prove that the old axiom, "A lie is a lie," is a lie.

"Dr. Socrates" Muni's Greatest Role So Far

"Dr. Socrates," starring Paul Muni, and now showing for the last day at the Ritz Theatre, is no doubt the most powerful drama this star has appeared in to date. The picture is based upon the popular novel by the author of "Little Caesar," and carries not only the dramatic punch of the latter play, but an engrossing romance in which a great surgeon succumbs to the charms of a little hitch-hiking girl, Ann Dvorak plays opposite Muni, and others in the cast include Baron McLane and Robert Barrat.

'Music Is Magic' Now Showing at the Yucca

Some of the foibles and idiosyncrasies of the film colony are humorously revealed in the grand new musical romance, "Music Is Magic." It all starts when Walker tries to get his sweetheart, Miss Faye, a break in the movies. Directors so mad, film stars get temperamental and all assistants fall over themselves in an effort to please their superiors.

To add to the confusion, Mitchell and Duront, the screen's "maddest" comedians, indulge in the wildest capers of their theatrical career. They reach a peak of "insanity" when they discover their imitation of two Tarzans growing where one Tarzan grew before.

Bebe Daniels gives a scintillating performance in the motion picture when the popularity of the wane. Other members of the cast include Rosina Lawrence as Miss Daniels' daughter, Thomas Beck as the young millionaire loved by Bebe Daniels and her daughter and Andrew Tombes as a Hollywood producer.

TARRANT LAWYER IS CANDIDATE FOR TEXAS GOVERNOR

Harding Announces A "Dollars for All" Plank

The following article is a reprint from the Riverside Journal of Fort Worth in which A. E. Harding, Fort Worth attorney, announces his candidacy for governor of Texas, subject to the 1936 elections.

Out of the days of Darkness comes a Revelation in Texas, when the poor and Distressed shall thrive again. What a Record as a Law Maker that will stand the Test of Time. "Sound as the Rock of Gibraltar," "Justice and equality to All," "A Job for Everybody," "Dollars in Every Pocket," will make Texas thrive again with Harding as governor of Texas.

A. E. Harding was a former resident of Wichita Falls, and removed to Fort Worth the latter part of 1921, where he studied Law three and one-half years at night. During the early years of the Burdett oil boom he was Chief Chemist and Lubricating Engineer for the Noble Oil and Gas Company for Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana, and later organized the Harding Oil Company at Wichita Falls, Texas.

He was elected to the House of Representatives from Tarrant County and served four years from 1928 to 1930; Harding is also a lawyer and Publisher of the Fort Worth Democrat, and he has a 20-year-old daughter and one son eighteen years of age.

During Harding's years as a Representative he supported measures that would give women employees $125.00 per month; also supported measures validating the West Texas as river bed bottom land titles, giving the right of title to the land holder and opposed a measure that would have taxed the people of Texas for a period of ten years with a Ten Cent Tax on each and every gallon of gasoline sold in Texas for the above length of time, and during the political battle in Hidalgo county Harding was the man who went to the valley and cleaned Hidalgo up thoroughly, and the Representative from that District who was seeking Speakership of the House of Representatives was defeated by the House in 1929.

Harding for Governor Clubs

A. E. Harding stated if the people of Texas want an administration for red blooded people, and believe their interest is at stake for the down trodden, poor and Distressed they will at once organize Harding for Governor Clubs in every community in Texas.

He will give the men and women a Living Wage at a standard rate of hours per week. Harding also stated that he highly endorses the old age pension plan with a living income, and the abolition of county poor houses. He is running for Governor of Texas on a Working Man's Ticket.

For further information write A. E. Harding, Fort Worth, Texas.

Chevrolets Praised After Lengthy Test

"Two Chevrolet cars used by us as part of a fleet for a protracted road test at Toms River, New Jersey, have paid honor to your engineering," said W. M. Irish, president of the Atlantic Refining Company, in a telegram to M. E. Coyle, president of the Chevrolet Motor Company, at the close of a 100,000-mile grind completed in five months.

The test, ended October 30, at Philadelphia, where the cars were received with special ceremonies by the Atlantic Refining Company, which conducted the long run to demonstrate the value of its lubricating oils.

The purpose of the report wired to Chevrolet by the president of the oil company, each of the Chevrolets completed its 100,000 mile run "with-out one cent of repairs to any lubricated motor part, without carbon removal, or a bearing tightened or a piston ring changed."

The course of the test run was over an 80-mile measured route of varied road surfaces between Toms River and Medford, New Jersey. Cars averaged 40 miles an hour, making more than 900 miles each day, operating day and night except on Sundays.

From the west, two fighter land planes from El Paso landed enroute to Dallas, also under command of a Lieut. Clark.
