CIVIL RIGHTS CRUSHED IN COAL KINGDOM AS DICTATORS BAR THE OUTSIDE WORLD FROM GREAT WALL

By ROBERT TALLEY NEA Service Writer

PINEVILLE, Ky., April 4.—If any of the two hordes of eastern college students, bent upon investigating conditions in the coal regions of southeastern Kentucky—Harlan and Bell counties—had avoided being turned back by Kentucky citizens at the state border and had entered the area, here's what they would have found:

- 1. Suspension of all rights and all liberties in a community wherein there are ten thousand persons—jobless miners, their wives and children—living in rickety shacks, and kept alive only by such meager relief as can be afforded by local organizations.
2. The mines in which these men were employed operating only on part time, with such coal as is mined selling at a price which the operators expect to be below the cost of mining.
3. Miners who are working three or four days a week drawing from $2 to $3 per day in company scrip, not in cash, and compelled to purchase all supplies from company stores at a price which operators admit represents sufficient profit to the operators to help absorb the deficit represented in the sale of the coal.
4. Headed by a dictator in the person of County Attorney Walter B. Smith, of Bell county, there is the picture of the business interests, the churches, local community clubs, the American Legion and residents generally banded together as a unit to prevent any outside interference whatsoever in the community affairs.

VOTING IN CITY ELECTION WILL BE SLOW, IT IS BELIEVED; ONLY 2 ON THE TICKET; POLLS OPEN AT EIGHT

Voting in the city election of Tuesday is expected to show a new low in interest, due to most having concentrated on the school trustee election of last week.

Only two names are on the ballot, P. J. Mims and T. R. Wilson. They seek the office of alderman. Mims seeks re-election. The race is to determine the successor to John M. Speed, who does not seek re-election. The winner will serve a two-year term.

person of County Attorney Walter B. Smith, of Bell county, there is the picture of the business interests, the churches, local community clubs, the American Legion and residents generally banded together as a unit to prevent any outside interference whatsoever in the community affairs.
5. In Harlan or Bell counties, your sympathies must be entirely with these local community groups mentioned above as opposed to the miners, or "outré" Red.
6. Strikes or other radical movements have been put down during the past year. About a dozen were killed in labor wars in this area during the past year.
7. As a result of labor troubles the various citizens' organizations regard the situation as now under control, and their process for maintaining quiet includes arresting anyone not known to them; holding suspected Communists under charges of criminal syndicalism; demanding that all visitors give a satisfactory explanation of their reason for being there. If the explanation is not satisfactory the visitor is handed a card inviting him to leave the county. If he doesn't leave he's driven out. Two newspaper men have been shot and wounded, one of them while being escorted beyond the county line. (See CIVIL RIGHTS page 4)

CANDIDATE NOT TO RUN HE INFORMS

May Announce for a Place on Rail Commission

Lee Satterwhite will not be a candidate for re-election to the state legislature.

He made this statement to friends in Midland Monday.

Even more startling was his statement that he would likely be a candidate for a position as state railroad commissioner. Satterwhite will make a definite statement this week as to his candidacy for the state railroad commission.

The Odessa man is one of the best known legislators in Texas. He served two terms as speaker of the house, and was a legislator from the Panhandle prior to being elected to serve this district when he moved to Odessa. He has been solicited by hundreds to run for governor.

Satterwhite has thousands of friends in all parts of Texas, and is recognized as a man of judgment and integrity, his supporters say.

CAR FOUND IN RECORD TIME

When "Frenchie" French, grocery employe, went to the sheriff's office to report his car had been stolen, he was nonplussed at the assurance given him by officers.

"You say the car looks something like that one parked across the street," Fisher Pollard asked.

"Yes." "Well, run on back to your work and your car will be found in five minutes, or it will be parked at your place of business by that time."

French did as he was instructed and his car was returned.

The officers explained that a friend had taken the car as a joke and had called the sheriff's office before French's entry, saying he had driven the car around the block and that French would likely report the machine stolen.

"Ugly Girls Go to College?" You Can't Mean It, Mr. Flagg!

ton, Ill., is fairest. But he admitted the attractiveness of Pauline Chase, lower left, of Duke University's Women College, Durham, N. C., Virginia Carlyle, shown in the next picture, of the University of California, and Margaret McAlister, right, of the University of Kentucky.

statement as a flippant remark in a letter to an old friend and that if such a statement must be published, it should be amplified. "Most girls find they are beautiful early in life," he points out. Then he suggests that since they find they are beautiful they are quite likely to seek careers and not go to college.

The average of college girls are attractive, not beautiful, he says, and frequently I find groups of so-called college beauties that really haven't a beautiful girl in them."

In his studio, surrounded by oil paintings and sketches of America's most beautiful women, and thus impelled to set a very high standard for beauty, he feels he must be honest in judging girls. It isn't a matter of sentiment with him; it is simply justice to art.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH AS TRUCKS COLLIDE

TYLER, April 4. (UP)—Royce Brazzel, 29, driver for a North Texas Oil company, his father, W. H. Brazzel, 50, and Royce Brazzel, Jr., 3, all of McKinney, were burned to death today when their gasoline truck crashed into another on the Neches river detour bridge seven miles from here.

Brazzel was driving his regular run between Overton and McKinney. The collision broke a drain pipe in the rear end of the leading truck, gasoline exploded and the bridge and three occupants of the rear truck were burned. The driver of the head truck escaped by leaping into the river.

Dumas Sets Some Kind of a Record

DUMAS, April 4.—While most school districts of the state looked to record numbers of votes cast Saturday, this community is believed to have established some sort of record by holding an "election" without ballots, without opponents to two candidates for re-election, and without a single voter.

Election judges for this school district specially created by an act of legislature, reported that morning at their appointed places. They found no printed ballots. No voters showed up. So after a few hours the election officials closed up the polls and went home. It is believed that the two candidates were unanimously re-elected.

The children were Susan, 15, and Raymond Blaine, Jr., 9. Mrs. Fosdick had been treated recently for nervous disorder. Contents of a note left by her were unrevealed.

MARTIN IS SECRETARY OF GROUP

Meeting Today Set To Canvass the Sat. Returns

Dr. John B. Thomas today was elected president of the board of trustees of Midland Independent school district No. 1 when the re-organized body met for its first session. J. R. Martin, who became a trustee at the election Saturday, was named secretary of the board.

The three new members, J. R. Martin, J. Frank Cowden and Alvin Hicks were sworn in, succeeding J. E. Hill, John P. Howe and B. Frank Haag. Hill had been president and Howe secretary of the board.

Besides Thomas and the three new trustees, the board consists of R. V. Lawrence, James S. Noland and W. A. Yeager.

The old board met this morning to canvass the returns of Saturday's election and to declare the results. The new members then being sworn. Appreciation was expressed for the work and service of Hill, Howe and Haag while they were board members.

J. R. Martin was named chairman of the tax committee, assisted by Dr. Thomas and W. A. Yeager. J. Frank Cowden was placed on the buildings and grounds committee with R. V. Lawrence, succeeding John P. Howe.

It is planned to elect teachers some time this month.

Talk Commended by High Churchman

The Rev. Edwin C. Calhoun was relaxing from his sermon, and was greeting friends at the door of his church.

A quiet, assured and dignified man of perhaps 58 years came to the minister and reminded him of his enjoyment of the sermon.

"And what do you do?" the minister asked, perhaps not in these exact words, but approaching him directly.

"I'm a bishop with the Methodist Episcopal church in California," the quiet man said.

The Midland minister was taken completely aback and admits that it was good to learn afterward rather than before the sermon that a high churchman was in the congregation.

The Rev. S. L. Batchelor, presiding elder of the San Angelo district, preached at one of the services, and held quarterly conference at 2 o'clock. The church was crowded at the two regular services.

COURT RULES INDIAN RITUALS ARE LEGAL

HIAWATHA, Kan. (UP)—The rituals of the Indian are just as powerful as the white man's laws, according to the Brown county district court.

The opinion was delivered in a soldier's compensation case. Bessie Rhoad, an Indian of the Iowa tribe, claimed compensation for her nephew, Isadore Rhoad, who served in the World War. She said she had adopted Isadore after his parents, members of the Potawatomi tribe, died.

Among the witnesses was Chief Jim White Cloud, 90-year-old patriarch of the Iowas. He testified that the adoption was according to tribal custom, and largely on that testimony Judge C. W. Ryan gave his decision.

The decision allows Bessie Rhoad to collect compensation under the Kansas law. She already had received federal compensation.

It's easy for a bookish person to turn over a new leaf.

MORE FOR OUR TAX MONEY

Washington correspondents seem to be agreed that something like a "tax rebellion" is sweeping the nation today.

Fundamentally, this movement is one of bitter protest against heavy municipal and state taxes. It got into the federal picture when the sales tax was proposed; and it did it because the ordinary citizen felt that here was just one more direct assault on his pocketbook.

To begin with, it might convince all governmental agencies, from county trustees on up to the federal Congress, that they should spend less money.

Expensive as our governments are, they can hardly cut down materially on the number of things they do. Cities cannot stop spending money lavishly on schools, police and fire departments, playgrounds and the like.

The whole point is that practically every one of these activities costs a great deal more than it should—because of the waste, extravagance and graft caused by politics.

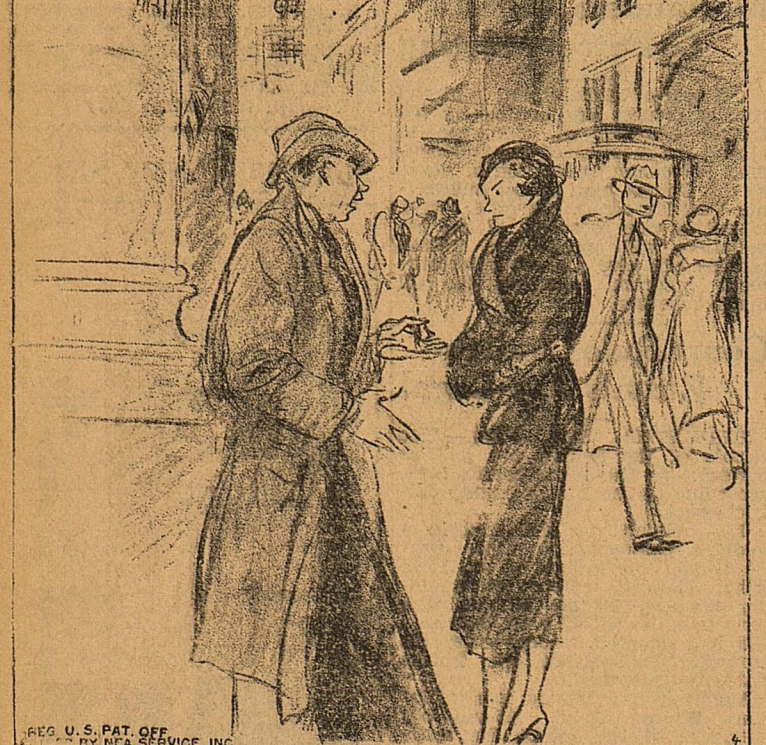

But his case is interesting for the simple reason that it sheds a revealing light on the mental attitude that those wonder-workers often have.

Although every loaf of bread sold in Havana—and a number of other cities—is required to weigh a full pound, some young husbands may wish for some tactful way of advising their wives that the law does not apply to biscuits.

Even a crank has its uses, provided, of course, that it can be turned. It is the sort of crank that nothing can turn that causes the most trouble.

Will the run-off election between President von Hindenburg and Herr Hitler settle, among other things, the question as to which of them has the handsomer mustache?

The co-eds have a race for secretary with Zula Williams, San Antonio, and Lucy E. Field, Calvert, the contenders.

McCrovy, Oak Park, Ill.; Dewitt Kinnard, Port Arthur; Chris Maiwald, Rock Island, Ill.; Simon Frank and Ken Rider, San Antonio; and Marquis Williams, Austin.

Editors of student publications are to be elected also. The Daily Texan will have a woman editor if the friends of Mary Lee Weston, Hearne, succeed. LIQUOR TIED TO BABY'S BODY

JACKSON, Miss.—Federal dry agents uncovered an unusual scheme for transporting liquor when they stopped the car of a local man. The officers found no liquor at first. The man, his wife and baby were in the machine at the time. One of the agents noticed that the baby, only four months old, was wrapped very heavy for warm a day as it was. He took the child from the protesting mother and examined the coverings. Underneath the blankets, and strapped to the child's body, he found a quart and a pint of liquor. A search of the couple's home revealed 100 pints of bonded whiskey and three gallons of moonshine.

MEANEST MAN

ALEBUQUERQUE.—Here's a new candidate for the title of the world's meanest man. Welfare workers were unloading a supply of food for poor people in front of the home of Mrs. R. M. Cox. As they took the food into her house, a man in an automobile drove up, whisked a 50-pound sack of flour into his car, and sped away before he could be caught.

AN OLD WINE CELLAR

LONDON.—One of the world's most remarkable and oldest wine cellars is the huge Crescent vault in the London Docks. Built more than 125 years ago, it is still in use. It covers more than three acres and contains more than 750,000 gallons of wine. The wine is aged under constant temperature. Key members make daily trips through the cellar to look for leaks in the barrels.
