Underworld Says Purple Gang Took Lindy's Baby

By NEA Service DETROIT, April 12.—Baby Lindbergh, born to the purple of American aristocracy, may be the kidnapped prize of Detroit's dread terrorist mob, the Purple Gang.

Harry Fleisher was one of the "big shots" of a band that has grown from a rowdy coterie of kids. They started with stealing groceries. They have grown into an organization of killers, kidnapers, hijackers, liquor-runners, alcohol thieves, extortionists, bombers, thieves, swindlers and so-called muscle men.

Mysterious Identity of 'Jajsie' Is Explained

STUDENTS AND THE MINE WAR

It is a little bit hard to see why anyone has a right to jeer at those eastern college students who tried to get a first-hand look at conditions in the Harlan county coal fields of Kentucky.

To be sure, the sight of all of that eager youth in a chartered bus, rushing into an area where outside investigators are about as welcome as royalists in Russia, has its faintly ludicrous angles. But there is nothing especially funny about the way in which the students were turned back, or about the motives that led them to go to Kentucky in the first place.

After all, young people go to colleges and universities to be educated. That, at any rate, is the theory; and it can be assumed that these youngsters weren't of the type that goes to college solely to get a little social polish.

Getting an education involves a good many things. Among them, it involves getting a comprehensive and accurate view of the civilization in which the scholar lives. Harlan county, much as we might be tempted to regret it at times, is a part of American civilization.

What could be more fitting, then, than that college students should go there to find out for themselves what all the shooting is about?

When Harlan county's prosecutor told the students that they "have no interest whatever" in the things that are happening in the coal field, he simply did not know what he was talking about. All Americans have an interest in them. A college student who didn't care to find out about them, when the opportunity offered, would do well to leave college and go home to live off his father a bit longer.

This nation is in no danger from students who charter busses and go to scenes of industrial warfare to find out what is happening. The really dangerous students are the ones who don't care; the ones in whose eyes the junior prom and the ins and outs of campus politics are the only truly important things. The boys and girls who tried to go to Harlan county, whatever else they may have done, at least proved that they know what they are in college for.

EDITORIAL NOTES

To preserve the beauty of its ancient university, Cambridge, Eng., is adding to its park holdings—knowing well that an architectural prize, like a precious jewel, is enhanced by its setting.

The shovel scrapes the coal-bin boards, the jelly shelf is drear; Dad's looking at a Wimple Eight—No doubt that spring is here.

With all the bridges bearing his name, George Washington's river-crossing fame seems still on the increase.

From preaching confiscation of all private property, the Communist Party Central Committee in Russia now turns to vigorous defense of the right of a peasant on a collective farm to keep his own cow, chickens and small animals. Will the Soviets yet fall in line with the agricultural diversification exponents of the American middle West in their advocacy of the "sow, cow and hen" as a recipe for farm independence?

Despite the wets' 3-to-1 lead in the Literary Digest poll, the beer bill in the House has less than 2.75 per cent of a chance to pass.

What Muscle Shoals Dam Means As Power Source

By NEA Service
MUSCLE SHOALS, Ala.—The vast Muscle Shoals project, Uncle Sam's $150,000,000 tomb of industry, which has stood silent and abandoned since it was erected 14 years ago, is again before the public eye as the result of renewed proposals in Congress and this section once more sees hopes of becoming the hub of a great industrial empire made possible by cheap power.

For years, Congress has battled over the question of whether Wilson dam and the nitrate plants here shall be government operated or run under private control. Foremost in the fight against leasing the properties to "the power trust" has been Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, who has succeeded several times in the passage of government-operation legislation through Congress, only to have it fail victim to presidential veto.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)
Holt Jowell looms as a threat to owners of two year olds. He landed Saturday night from Kent with "Figure" in his trailer, and in spite of what some faculty members may think about a raw colt, Pasajeno, and these other fat twos had better be tip-toeing.

A football and track athlete in his younger days, when he held the Wisconsin state record for the quarter mile run, Dr. Darling is still a straight, powerfully built and vigorous man who looks 35 but admits he's 50 years old and the father of two university students.

With the approval of the great majority of parents, we have immunized almost all of our children against small pox and diphtheria in each class it runs to almost 90 per cent. I don't know of another town which has so high a percentage of immunization.

The great Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals, which has never produced more than a fraction of its potential power since its creation, is pictured in the sketch above. The map shows the location of the $75,000,000 to private dam builders on the premise that their dams will aid flood control and navigation.

LEVINSON BOYS ELIMINATE OPPOSITION TO WIN TENNIS PLACES

TO REPRESENT HI SCHOOL AT THE DISTRICT

The Levinson brothers, Charles and Louis, will represent Midland in tennis at the district meet which meets this week end at San Angelo.

The brothers combination defeated any and all comers in an elimination tournament held Saturday at the Thomas court on West Wall.

Charles won the singles and, in straight sets, swept with his brother to the qualification in doubles.

It was a battle between brothers and by brothers, Louis and Charles fought it out in the singles, finals, Louis winning, 6-3, 6-1. Louis and Charles won in doubles from Barney Grafa, and Fred Stout, 5-0, 6-0.

The singles, net play and volleying of the Levinson brothers reflected skill of their tutor, Theo Ferguson, Midland's No. 1 man in the Sand Belt Tennis association. The boys are head and shoulders above any of the other high school players.

The singles matches resulted as follows:

F. H. Lanham eliminated Merwin Haag, 6-3, 7-5, and Charles Levinson eliminated A. B. Cooksey, 6-4, 6-4. Barney Grafa won from Bill Pratt, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, and Louis Levinson took his match from A. W. Stanley, 6-0, 6-4.

In the semi-finals, Charles Levinson defeated F. H. Lanham, 6-4, 6-2, and Louis Levinson beat Barney Grafa, 6-1, 6-0.

In the doubles:

The Levinson brothers eliminated Bill Pratt and F. H. Lanham, 6-1, 6-2, James Watson and A. B. Cooksey stowed away, Dub Stanley and Merwin Haag, 6-2, 6-2, and Barney Grafa and Fred Stout drew a bye.

Levinson brothers had no trouble in getting rid of Wallon and Cooksey, 6-0, 6-1, and even less trouble with Grafa and Stout, winning the last match without dropping a game in the two sets.

AMATEUR BOXERS AND WRESTLERS ARE TO COMPETE

AUSTIN, April 12. (UP)—Nearly 150 amateur wrestlers and boxers in Texas will compete for state titles and awards here May 6 and 7 in contests sponsored by the Texas Amateur Athletic federation.

The entry list already totals over 90 titles to be contested, predominate, according to I. E. (Bill) Nitschke, T. A. A. F. vice president in charge of boxing and wrestling.

The tournament for fists and holds will be for more than honor and the silver awards awaiting the winners. Nitschke, young policeman and berrillon expert, plans to make the meet a stinging argument for repeal of the state anti-boxing law.

The rules Nitschke has laid down for the two sports are perhaps the most exacting for fair play ever to govern an athletic contest.

No striking, kicking, gouging, hair-pulling, butting, elbowing, strangling, or anything that endangers life or limb shall be allowed." This wrestling rule is a notable exception.

Entries from Texas A. & M. University of Texas, S. M. U., T. C. U., Rise, and Schreiner institute, as well as from cities and towns throughout the state, have been received. Each contestant is required to sign an affidavit that he is not a professional.

Plans to affiliate the T. A. A. F., with the amateur athletic union of the United States increase significance of the tournament. Action on the proposed alignment within 20 days was promised early in April.

T. A. A. F. president Koger Stokes of San Antonio, who makes education and sports his hobbies, is now contacting executive board members.

Should the alignment be completed this month, winners in the boxing and wrestling tournament in May would enter the national semi-finals at Chicago.

Grandmothers Are Dying by Thousands This Afternoon!

These men will play important parts in the 1932 major league baseball campaigns. Gibson and Carey are new managers, of the Pirates and Brooklyn, respectively.

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER, NEA Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The slaying of more than 100,000 grandmothers was well under way this morning, and it was expected that toward mid-afternoon there wouldn't be an old lady left in eight of this country's larger cities.

The movement, launched by office boys of Washington, D. C., yesterday, incidentally, a ball game was scheduled between the Boston Red Sox and the Senators, is part of an annual program.

Thousands of tired business men also were reported out for the day, many having been called away suddenly on urgent transactions. This sudden rush of out-of-town conferees, important deals and other happenings that unexpectedly summoned executives from their desks was somewhat surprising.

For, prior to today, business affairs in the cities of Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit, New York, Cincinnati, Brooklyn and St. Louis had been so slow that the office help had been more or less making time, and indulging in occasional arguments on this and that, including baseball, which officially opens today.

Of course, today's absence had nothing to do with the fact that the boss had picked the Yankees to win, declaring Al Simmons' ankles wouldn't hold up another year, and that without Simmons, the "A's" couldn't win the American League flag.

The hegras also probably had nothing to do with the fact that scores of the Chicago office boys whose grandmothers quietly expired last night, and been heard to declare that the White Sox, under their new manager, Lew Fonseca, were going to go places and do things.

This unprecedented demise of grandmothers could have no bearing, of course, on the fact that several thousand office boys in St. Louis had openly voiced the opinion that the Cardinals would have a tough time winning without Grimes, and a tougher time than that beating him in a Cub uniform.

The unlooked for rush of business-outside-the-office which called thousands of "big shots" in Brooklyn away from their desks could have had nothing to do with the argument that has been raging over the merits of Brooklyn's new manager, Max Carey, as compared to Wilbert Robinson.

Police in the eight cities, most of whom were found on duty in the vicinity of the ball parks, were asked for some solution of the mysterious volume of business and funerals. The bluecoats were reported to have given virtually the same reply, "Well, what are you going to do about it?"

In replying to a United Press questionnaire, Grant left blank the space provided for his answer to the query: "Are you wet or are you dry?"

A staunch supporter of his party chief, President Hoover, Grant feels Texas should remember with a feeling of pride that they helped elect him in 1928.

"Every one of President Hoover's friends in Texas should now take pride in the man they helped put in the White House," said Grant in a recent public statement. "The president has been true to his promise to safeguard American industry, to his promise to bend every effort toward federal aid for agriculture, to his promise to the welfare of the American home and the American family.

Mr. Hoover is the great champion of human rights and human welfare at the present time. His Texas friends should be true to him, be ready to give him the heartfelt

Colonel Schwarzkopf told of the visit of Colonel Breckenridge in a night police bulletin, saying "nothing of importance has developed." From other source came word the police superintendent also went to a New York apartment and met Dr. Condon, reputed author of a series of cryptic newspaper advertisements signed "Jafsis."

"Nothing further has been heard of Colonel Lindbergh or the authorities from the kidnapers," said Schwarzkopf. "If any contact is made that can be revealed immediate notice of same will be issued through Trenton."

Jones Pointed Out

The witness pointed out Albert O. Jones, one of the two accused enlisted men, as the person who handed Kahahawai a spurious warrant.

Jones arose and gazed unflinchingly at J.H. The latter previously named Mrs. Fortescue, Massie and Edward J. Lord, the fourth defendant, as the abductors. He said Massie was a false mustache.

As J.H. pointed to Mrs. Fortescue as the woman in the abduction car she did not look up.

The futile race of the death car toward Koko head, whence Kahahawai's body could have been thrown to the strong tides and the sharks, was described by Von Arnsaw, who told how he had spotted the machine and found the body.

ments to play important roles in the political life of their countries. Reforms of importance in the governments of these nations are brought about frequently through the efforts of student movements. Student expression is seldom muzzled, and when the right of free speech is interfered with, a mighty protest arises. Political figures never fail to keep their eyes on the students of the countries, for their fates are often decided in student meeting halls.

The people of the United States neglect to consider the fact that students, being on the first lap of life, have more at stake in the social order than the older citizens, for it is these students who must live on through middle age and old age in this country of ours. The ordinary attitude of an established business man of the country that all student criticism is somehow merely the silly mouthing of babes is as tragic as it is ridiculous.

America cannot go on with its old mechanism. Changes must come, and vital changes. And, by the very nature of things, these changes will begin in the ranks of the young men and women, students and non-students. Their ideas are valuable, par-

Barksdale Choice

For Summer Camp

At an executive board meeting Monday night in Big Spring, it was agreed to have this year's summer camp of the Buffalo Trails council of Boy Scouts at Barksdale.

This decision was made after considerable opposing argument in favor of Balmorhea, the camp used last year. The Midland council was recognized and given considerable commendation for being the only town in the council that has an active organization of Cub scouts. This is an organized group of boys under 12 years old who are interested in becoming scouts when they reach the age of 12. The Rev. Edwin C. Calhoun, pastor of the Methodist church here has sponsored this organization and it is through his effort that the executive board last night voted to make application for a Cub charter.

Barksdale is approximately 25 miles south of Midland on the Nueces river and was recently visited by several Midland scouters and praised highly as being an ideal camp location.

Midland representatives attending last night at the Settles hotel were: John Howe, W. F. Borum, W. W. Wimberly, James S. Noland, Claude O. Crane, Arthur A. Yeager, J. E. Jill, and B. Frank Haag.

CAR BURNS HERE

The car belonging to J. B. Ford burned Monday afternoon, a few minutes after it had overturned at Lorraine and Missouri. Ford cut the corner too sharply in an attempt to dodge a truck. With Ford were Jack Hawkins and Jack Mayfield. Neither of the trio was injured. It is believed that the jar of the accident caused shortage of electric wires, which later caused the car to burn.
