TIENTSIN, May 30 (AP)—Destruction of a bridge at Chuanlanqchen, between Tangu and Tientsin, and an alleged attempt to wreck a Japanese troop train embittered Sino-Japanese relations Saturday.

Fall Race Meets Dates Announced

Officials Meet Here In Convention; 50 Present

Dates for fall race meets were set Saturday morning, at a session of the Texas Racing association, with representatives here from seven of the eight member towns. Tom Nance, president, was in charge, with Vice Presidents Mason King, Amarillo, and Robert J. Kleberg, Jr., Kingsville, and Secretary D. E. Hill of San Antonio assisting.

Local dates were adjusted by the association to coincide with the fair, cattle show and sale, and will be almost a month earlier than the fair held last fall. Dates set were as follows, all being inclusive:

Pampa August 19-29
Borger September 2-12
Amarillo September 16-26
Midland Sept. 28-Oct. 6
Rusk October 8-17
Kingsville October 19-31
Seguin November 5-21

A "great year" for Texas racing was predicted by the members, declaring that racing on the smaller tracks had become highly popular with the entertainment buying public because of the efficient management and the supervision given by the Texas racing commission.

Ridding the tracks of "outs and undesirables" was one of the principal measures undertaken, that being a part of the association's campaign for cleaning up racing in the state. Members expressed themselves as favoring every effort to build up public confidence in the industry and to raise the standard of track officials and all others connected with the meets. Weeding out of "crooked" horsemen, trainers, jockeys, "professional" mutual clerks and others was fostered.

Approximately 50 track officials and representatives attended here Saturday. The next regular meeting will be at San Antonio next January with election of officers and setting of spring dates.

U. H. Hill, honorary life member of the association, and who with his son, D. E. Hill, organized the project, attended the meeting here.

All members said much good had been accomplished by the organization in its short existence. No dues will conflict, as result of the organization, thereby bringing to each meet a better class of race horses. Member tracks, through group buying of mutual tickets and other supplies, have effected many economies.

BEHIND THE SCENES

WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 30—Senator Borah has decided that he won't campaign for Governor Landon if the latter is nominated for the presidency.

Something may happen to change Borah's mind. But it will have to be something more than the recent overtures from Landon representatives who have invited the Idaho senator to help write the republican platform.

Hoover roped in Borah in 1928 by giving him virtually a free hand with the platform. Planks covering dry law enforcement, corruption, and publicity for campaign expenditures were inserted as the senator desired them.

The farm plank finally adopted

Morgenthau May Lose Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau is opposing the proposed appointment of Max Truitt of St. Louis, solicitor for the RFC, as general counsel for the bureau of internal revenue.

He may have to cave in, however, as Truitt is a son-in-law of Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, keynote of this year's democratic convention.

Truitt's present boss, Chairman Jesse Jones of RFC, probably would offer no objections, as Truitt hasn't always shared Jesse's friendly feelings toward certain Wall Street bankers and railroad executives. He has failed to join the ranks of the "yes-men."

Morgenthau generally takes his guidance from Dr. Hermon Oliphant, the treasury's general counsel.

The Morgenthau-Oliphant administration has successively fathered Professor Warren's gold scheme; the silver program; the Roosevelt inheritance tax proposal of last year, which became so balled up that it had to be abandoned; and

The commission proper will consist of W. J. Coleman who will, by order of El Paso Presbytery, preach the installation sermon and propound the constitutional questions. Elder Frank Stubbeman will charge the congregation. Rev. S. J. Murry of Barstow will charge the minister. In the absence of Rev. McMurry, Rev. Coleman is authorized to take his place.

Rev. Long will divide his time between Odessa and Coahoma Presbyterian churches. He and his family will live in Coahoma.

GOES TO BIG SPRING

Robert Beyer of the Western Union office is spending the weekend with relatives in Big Spring.

HAS TONSILLECTOMY

Mary Lou Ferrell underwent a tonsillectomy and adenoid operation at a Midland hospital Saturday.

Fees in some such cases are reported to have gone as high as $1,000,000—perhaps higher. So this move was rather radical and also optimistic, considering the fact that congress is made up largely of lawyers, many of whom will be lobbying or practicing law here sooner or later.

But the government is at a constant disadvantage because its opponents in legal cases often include the best talent money can buy.

Oliphant knocked that proposal out of the tax bill on the ground that it would overload the measure and make it harder to pass.

Some progressive senators are expected to offer the proposal as an amendment. But its chances of eventual passage seem slight. (Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

Garden Party and Shower Compliments Bride-Elect Friday

Attractive Appointments Feature Affair on Lawn of Ulmer Home for Which Four Are Named Hostesses

Social attention for the week centered on the garden party and shower honoring Miss Martha Louise Nobles, bride-elect of Mr. Ben Black, which was held at the M. C. Ulmer home, 111 North C street, Friday evening at 6:45 o'clock. Mrs. Ulmer, Mrs. Barron Kidd, Mrs. Elliott Cowden, and Miss Ida Beth Cowden were hostesses at the affair which continued the series of pre-nuptial

More than a dozen tall garden baskets, placed at vantage points about the lawn, held great clusters of roses, enhancing the fragrance of the garden setting.

Dude Vance's orchestra furnished music during the evening.

Complimenting the honoree, Miss Lydia G. Watson made the following brief talk, before presentation of the gifts:

"Today I strike a bewitching chord on the harp of memory, and looking back through the vista of the past twenty-two years I see a blue-eyed babe, lying in its cradle, cooing, laughing, crooning to itself in the sweetest baby fashion, without a care in the world to disturb its composure.

"Then with a wee baby laugh, she smiles into her young Mother's face and they two, lose themselves, in those dear delicious hours so sweet in their mystic joy and which only Mother and babe can know.

"And now a minor chord of ineffable sweetness and I see the youthful days the bright girlish days. How golden fair, they gleam over the hills of memory and how the echo of the tender loving words she uttered even now thrills like chords of fairy music.

"The minor music now changes into the jubilant major mode and I now behold the triumphant school days—and at length the crinkly diploma.

"Then she fares forth into the world, a twinkling-toed debutante. With these greater glories, why should her cheeks not glow, her eyes gleam, and her smiles shed star shine? As she realizes she has kept pure and sweet her costly dower of womanhood, throughout the days of her youth.

"And now for Martha Louise who has led a charmed and charming life, the matrimonial glide—While behind the palms a white-robed ing ahead of Pad's Flight and Peter Blues to pay his backers $11.30 straight.

The eighth race saw Lady Mayo, almost entirely overlooked in the wagering, come in ahead of Sam Pass and Birdie Wreck to pay off her backers $42.00 for a $2 ticket.

The ninth race was an interesting duel between Miss Hutcheson and Carvel Hall, the former winning by a nose. Carnival showed.

Those familiar with the construction and arrangement of the well planned, steel fenced arena at the Midland Fair plant need no "build up" on the fact that it compares favorably with those of Cheyenne, Pendleton, Calgary, easily being one of the small group rating "best in the world" classification.

The fence is a unit of welded sucker rods and iron pipes, solidly rooted in the ground and painted aluminum to assure maximum visibility. Gates, where stock is turned out from the working pens, are of the most solid wooden construction, all opening in the right direction and swinging in a manner to provide speed of events. Judges' stand, contestants' bleacher and other equipment are located at choice positions efficiently commanding the grounds where competition is under way.

The entire rodeo site is directly in front of the Fair's steel grandstand which seats 5,500 spectators.

Of equal rating with the rodeo plant is the type of western entertainment staged and the manner in which it is presented. One event is not out of the way before another has been started. One contestant is not out of the arena before another has been started. Those competing for the purses must be ready when names are called, or else another contestant gets the nod.

Events to be shown this year, according to the program which has been distributed to world champion contestants throughout the nation, include calf roping, with purses totaling $1,000; wild horse roping, purse of $400; steer riding, $225; bronc riding, $400 purse; bull dogging, $400 purse; bare back bronc riding, $225 purse, and wild horse race for money each day of $30.

Cowgirl sponsors from towns of West Texas and New Mexico will compete for a $100 saddle and several other valuable prizes.

This year, rodeo contestants will have the use of box stalls for their mounts, over 300 of them having been built for benefit of race horses. The fact that races and rodeo are staged separately provides much better accommodations for rodeo mounts, as well as contestants. Opening Friday morning, June 28, with a two mile or longer street parade, the rodeo gates will swing open early that afternoon, with full programs afternoon and night on Friday and Saturday closing with a big afternoon show Sunday, June 29.

The arena is equipped with flood lights, said to be the best in this portion of the state, all football fields included. Visibility for spectators in the grandstands is equally as good as at day time shows. The crowds last fall were heavy at both day and night performances.

Much of the stock for roping, riding and bull dogging has been secured by committees and is on feed.

CUSTOMERS LACK VERVE AND NEWSPAPERS HESITATE TO CONDUCT POLLS AS RESULT OF BIG LEAGUE CLUBS BREAKING FAITH

Baseball's blundering bosses have given the all-star game back to the fans but with reservations. The major leagues broke faith with the public and press in previous inter-league all-star games, and they won't be given an opportunity to do it again in a hurry.

Baseball Told Patrons To Mind Own Business

The baseball moguls made the concession only because they realize that perhaps it isn't such a bad idea to have 125 newspapers and other agencies gather 80,000 votes as was the case when the contest was played at the Polo Grounds in 1934.

vertising and an incomputable amount of good will.

Solid Ivory is Not Confined to Players

Just how much of this professional baseball can regain by its current half-hearted gesture is problematical.

Certainly the same newspapers which tried to be helpful before scarcely can be expected to steam up another of the polls when the results of previous ones have been meaningless. Surely, the fans hardly can be expected to rush to ballot boxes with votes for favorites, when experience has taught them that election is no assurance that they will have places in the line-up.

The all-star game was suggested by the publisher of a baseball magazine and the first one in 1933 was sponsored by a Chicago newspaper as an added attraction for the Century of Progress Exposition.

National Loop Wanted To Walk out on Own Charity

Following the game at the Polo Grounds in 1934, the National League wanted to cancel the entire business, and probably would have done so but for the fact that it would have been guilty of walking out on its own charity.
