HUSBAND SLAYS FAMILY; ROOMER; TAKES OWN LIFE

Wife, Six Children Are Victims In Tragedy

INDIANA HARBOR, Ind., July 10 (AP)—Celestino P. Gonzalez, 36, apparently maddened by jealousy and ill health, police said Thursday slew his wife and six children with an axe and then shot and killed Jose Aro, a roomer in their home, and himself.

Gonzalez killed Aro in the locker room of the Inland Steel company, where both were employed, as work shifts were changing and in the presence of several other employes. No words were exchanged as Gonzalez walked up to Aro, and fired four shots into his body, and then turned the gun on himself. Both died instantly.

Police went to the Gonzalez home but found the doors locked and left. Late this afternoon they returned to the home and battered in a door.

On the floor and in the beds of the small house were the bodies of Mrs. Gonzalez and their six children, all hacked and mutilated with a bloody axe which lay nearby. The children, ranging in age from 2 to 17 years, were four boys and two girls. Police surmised that Mrs. Gonzalez and the older children had been hacked to death as they slept.

While working at the Centennial grounds Walker said that he "took in" the show and would like to correct an erroneous report that he had heard several times since his return home—that prices in Dallas are outrageously high.

According to Walker, prices in Dallas are very reasonable and a person can stay there as cheaply as at home. All the shows are moderately priced and those staying away because of the report of high prices are advised to forget them. There is plenty of room to be had at all times and the price of food compares favorably with that in all other towns.

EX-HUSBAND GIVEN $35,000 DAMAGES FOR STOLEN LOVE

Lewis Mallory Told To Pay Amount To Edgar

MIAMI, Fla., July 10 (AP)—A jury Thursday night found 22-year-old Lewis E. Mallory, third, stole the love of Kathryn Crawford from her former husband, James Edgar, Jr., and assessed damages of $35,000. Edgar sued for $300,000 heart balm.

The verdict was received in virtual silence. Circuit Judge Worth W. Trammell had warned against demonstration.

The shirt-sleeved jurors, all married men, received the young Detroit sugar heir's claim against Mallory for seduction and alienation of Miss Crawford's affections at 4.15 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time) and reported their verdict at 10:48 p. m.

Coming down from the bench and seating himself in the witness chair to be nearer the jury, Circuit Judge Worth W. Trammell talked for 45 minutes in charging the jury.

The woman in the case, blue-eyed Kathryn Crawford, the former Mrs. Edgar listened intently from a seat among the spectators, as attorneys for the two young men strove to convince the shirt-sleeved jurors that his client was right and his opponent's was wrong.

Attorney Fred Eads for the dark 27-year-old Edgar shook his finger accusingly at Mallory and shouted: "He has ruined this home and disgraced this young woman. At least, Mr. Mallory, I give you credit for being enough of a gentleman to get on the stand and deny it."

Location is 2,310 feet from the north and 330 feet from the west line of section 2, block B-23, public school land.

Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 10—President Roosevelt has a chance to start making good on his acceptance speech when he appoints the five members of the new maritime authority, which will plan, build up, regulate, and subsidize the American merchant marine.

But it will be practically a miracle if this commission is kept out of the hands of the shipping promoters who have been draining huge profits from federal subsidies ever since the war and have left the taxpayers with a pitifully inadequate merchant fleet.

The new ship subsidy act, latest of many efforts to expand the merchant marine, was a victory for those who sought safeguards against the predatory promoters who have dominated the secretary of commerce Robert's shipping board bureau and continued the scandals of previous administrations.

The shipping lobbyists shrieked

Australia Bidding For Royal Visitors

SYDNEY, N. S. W. (U.P.)—The Celebrations Program Committee which is organizing the commemoration of the 150th anniversary early in 1938 of the foundation of Australia has asked the Government of New South Wales to arrange, if possible, to have present a member of the British royal family during the celebrations period.

At first it was hoped that King Edward would make the journey, but it is now believed that an invitation will be extended to the Duke and Duchess of Kent, while it has been privately suggested that the Duke and Duchess of York would be asked to accompany her uncle and aunt.

"While it would have been unheard of for an English monarch to have left the center of the empire 50 years ago, for an extended tour of what were then known as the colonies, the increased importance of these imperial units, and the speed with which such a visit might be accomplished practicable," said the Sydney Sun, commenting on the proposal to invite the King to Sydney.

"Nobody recognizes better than the King that while tradition has its value, a modern empire must be ruled by a modern emperor; that precedents enforced of old by the difficulties and dangers of travel rather than by an urgent logic, are hardly to be considered sacrosanct today, when facilities have increased and larger horizons have been opened."

Regarding the invitation to the Duke and Duchess of Kent, it is rein anguish after frantic efforts to defeat it. The victory will be empty unless an authority is appointed which will make those safeguards operative. The subsidy lobby seeks to pack the commission and its staff with as many friends, "plants," stooges, and pipe-lines as it can get in.

Lobby Boosts McIntyre

Operators are said to be making a strong drive for appointment of White House Secretary Marvin McIntyre as one of the five commissioners. Big hearted "Mac" has always been their pal. Some who know Roosevelt's mind believe that McIntyre has been a sufficient embarrassment in his present job to cause the president to consider him seriously for one of the merchant marine posts.

If Shipping Board Director J. C. Peacock and Assistant Secretary of Commerce J. M. Johnson were also appointed, the set-up would be perfect for the promoters. Johnson once boasted of his merchant marine knowledge to a senate committee by saying "I can handle a small boat as well as any man in this room."

Senators and representatives responsible for the safeguarding features of the act are backing such men as Thomas M. Woodward, consumers' counsel for the coal commission and formerly with the shipping board; Solicitor Karl Crowley of the Postoffice Department; Congressman Edward C. Moran of Maine prominent in the subsidy battle in congress; Otto Praeger of the shipping board; and O. P. M. Brown, formerly of the Emergency Fleet corporation.

All these men have demonstrated a lack of subservience to shipping interests.

Handles Huge Sums

The authority will handle hundreds of millions of dollars in loans and direct subsidies after outlining a policy as to just what's needed for a merchant marine.

The biggest innovation in the new act is its attempt to guarantee building of new ships through an authorization for the commission to construct and charter vessels, with wide discretion, if it finds that necessary.

Salary limitation of $25,000 and strict accounting systems are provided, plus recapture on profits over 10 per cent limitation of shipyards' profits on subsidized ships to 10 per cent, and strict regulation of holding companies and subsidiaries which heretofore have siphoned off profits from subsidies.

Operating subsidies will be granted to cover difference between foreign and American costs. Construction costs are to be subsidized similarly, the authority paying full cost to the shipbuilder, charging the foreign differential to the treasury, and selling the ship to the operator for at least 25 per cent of the cost in cash and the remaining 75 per cent in 20-year notes.

Victory For Liberals

The act, essentially similar to the bill Senator Guffey of Pennsylvania offered as a substitute for the Bland-Copeland bill favored by the lobby, was passed after Senators Black of Alabama and Clark of Missouri had filibustered against the billion-dollar treasury postoffice appropriation bill which carried $26,500,000 in ocean mail subsidies.

Lobbyists, who had thought they had the senate bill stopped in the house, were thrown into confusion. White House pressure resulted in house passage under a special rule, whereupon Black and Clark smilingly stopped filibustering.

It was one of the outstanding victories of the session for congressional liberals, who now hope it won't turn out to be an empty triumph.

LONG GRIND THAT LEADS TO OLYMPICS TO END SATURDAY

70 Members Will Be Named After Trials In New York

Keen Competition Places 122 Men In Final Tests

By GEORGE KIRKKEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
 NEW YORK, July 9 (U.P.)—The long grind that leads to the Olympic Games at Berlin will end for America's track and field athletes at Randall's Island Stadium here Saturday and Sunday.

By nightfall Sunday the 70 athletes who will attempt to retain America's Olympic track and field supremacy against the world's greatest athletes at Berlin in August will be known. In each event the first, second and third men will qualify automatically for a berth on the U. S. team which sails on the S.S. Manhattan July 15.

The competition to make the Olympic team this year has been perhaps the fiercest in athletic history. Many outstanding performers have been training and planning for the four years since the last Olympics at Los Angeles. During the preliminary tryouts, many athletes who were considered certain to make the team have dropped by the wayside and unheralded stars stepped up to take their places.

The first three men to earn places on the team were Glenn Morris, an automobile salesman from Denver; Robert Clark, San Francisco; and Jack Parker, Sacramento. Junior college newcomer, in the decathlon, Morris, who won his first decathlon last April, broke the world's record for the event with 7,880 points in the Milwaukee tryouts.

Field to Total 122

Approximately 122 athletes will participate in the final tryouts, survivors of sectional and semi-final tryouts. These tryouts were held at Cambridge, Mass., Milwaukee, and Los Angeles, and also including the National Collegiate A. A. meet at Chicago.

Most of the interest in the finals will be centered in the 100-, 200- and 400-meter races, in which perhaps the fastest array of sprinters ever gathered will stage a battle of speed that is likely to send the winners on to Olympic glory.

Jesse Owens, Ohio State's superstar, an Ralph Metcalfe, former Marquette flyer, top the field for the 100 and 200 meters. Owens has registered the fastest time in the 100 meters, with a mark of 10.2. Mel Robinson, Pasadena Negro, has the fastest 200 meters, 21.1 effort, exceeding the Olympic record.

Among the other outstanding sprinters are Frank Wykoff, former Southern California speedster, trying for his third Olympic team; Ben Johnson, former Columbia Negro flash; Foy Draper, Southern California; Mory Gilckman, New York; Edgar Mason, Pittsburgh, and Harvey Wallender, Texas.

O'Brien Beaten Twice

The 400-meters is likely to be the most thrilling race of the tryouts, with Archie Williams, California negro; Eddie O'Brien, Syracuse; Jimmy LuValle, U. C. L. A. negro; Al Fitch, Southern California, and John Hofstetter, Dartmouth, in the field. LuValle has the fastest time to his credit, 46.3, but Williams has done 46.7. O'Brien, beaten in his last two starts, has been resting in an effort to gain back eight pounds he lost during the early summer and reach top condition for the tryouts.

The 800-meters promises a keen duel between Ben Eastman, who has turned in 1:50.1; Charlie Beetham, Ohio State; John Woodruff, Pittsburgh Negro freshman, who did 1:51.3 at Cambridge; and Charlie Hornbostel, Indiana.

The old feud between Bill Bonthron, Glenn Cunningham and Gene Venzke seems likely to be renewed in the 1,500 meters. Bonthron beat Venzke by a margin of 3:55.2 in the Cambridge semi-final, but Cunningham won his race at Milwaukee in 5:32.2.

The 110-meter hurdles has a fancy field including Spec Towns, Georgia, who has been clocked in 14.1; Al Moreau, Louisiana; Fritz Pollard, Jr., son of the Brown University All-American Negro half-back of 20 years ago, and Sam Allen, Oklahoma Baptist.

Vaulters Are Grouped

In the field events two of the keenest battles will take place in the pole vault and high jump. Dave Weichert, Rice; Earle Meadows, and Bill Sefton, Southern California; Bill Graber, Los Angeles, and George Varoff all have cleared 14 feet, 3 inches in the pole vault.

Cornelius Johnson, Compton, Cal., junior college, tops perhaps the greatest field of high jumpers in track and field annals. There are at least six men in the finals who are capable of clearing 6 feet, 8 inches.

Among the other outstanding men who are certain to make the team are Ken Carpenter, Southern California, discus; Dudley Wilkins, Southwestern Louisiana A. C., hop, step and jump; Jack Torrance, 330-pound Louisiana giant, shot put; Henry Dreyer, New York A. C., hammer throw; Alton Terry, Hardin-Simmons (Texas), javelin; Glen Hardin, Louisiana, 400-meter hurdles; Joe McCluskey, New York A. C., steeplechase; Eino Pentti, Milwaukee A. C., 100,000 meters; and Norman Bright, Olympic Club, San Francisco, 5,000 meters.

The mule deer is the largest found in the United States.

Daughters of professional golfers take to their father's game more successfully than sons.

Beatrice Barrett, who again attracted attention by eliminating her chum Patty Jane Berg, and going to the final of the Trans-Mississippi women's, was taught her complete game by her dad, Bill Barrett, formerly of England and Chicago, who has been professional at the exclusive Lafayette Country Club outside of Minneapolis, for a number of years.

Ellamae Williams, the Chicago star is the daughter of a professional.

Eliot Callender, professional at the famous Monterey Peninsula Club, placed clubs in the hands of his daughter Clara, as soon as she could walk. The result was that the freckled and bobbed-haired California miss acquired the Del Monte championship at 14. Miss Callender, now 17, has turned in 70's a number of times, and prevailed in numerous tournaments.

Marjorie Harrison, 17, drove the green of the 260-yard 13th and Au Sable Forks, near Plattsburg, in the upper Adirondacks, two years ago, when the veteran campaigner, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, barely escaped defeat at the hand of the powerful youngster. Miss Harrison's father is the professional at Au Sable Forks.

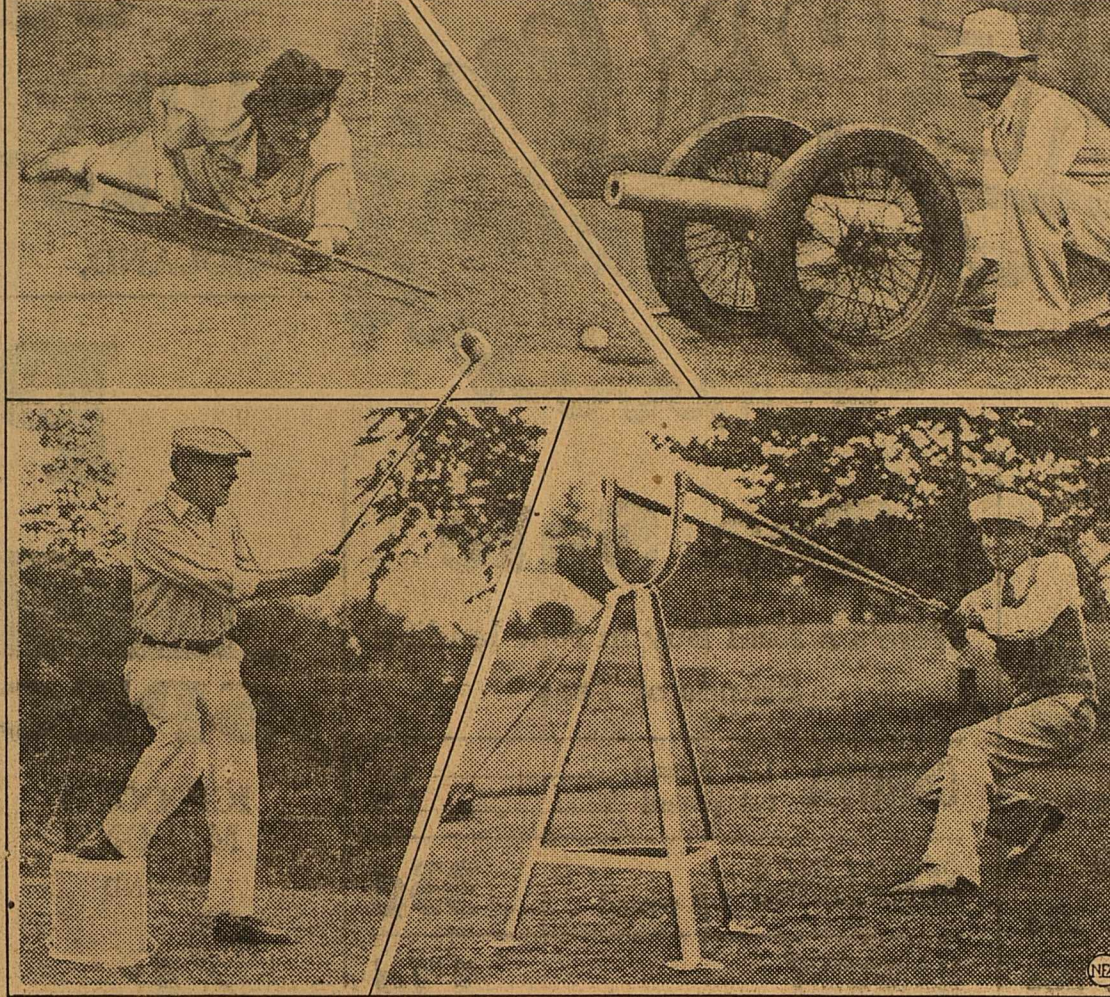

Father taught Joan Mahon, 17, of Tacoma. Now she beats him. The high school junior recently shot a 72, five under women's par, on the 6050-yard Brookdale course there. On that round she required nine putts on the outgoing nine and 11 coming home.

There are many other cases of daughters being like father on the fairways and greens. Perhaps it is because they apply themselves that they follow in their daddy's footsteps more readily than sons.

Lower right, Ed DeNinno tees off with a giant slingshot.

All fathers and mothers want their children to succeed and as long as they can, mothers and fathers the country over sacrifice and plan to give their boys and girls every advantage, every opportunity, for they want them to have a start which they too often were denied.

"We want to send Jim to college if we can afford it," they say. "We plan to give Mary special training in music if we have the money when she has finished high school."

But why should an IF threaten these dreams? A PRAETORIAN EDUCATIONAL POLICY can erase that IF and permit mothers and fathers to say positively: "MY CHILDREN ARE GOING TO COLLEGE." The Praetorians' plans offer a systematic way of saving. A little put away each month makes the education SURE. Investigate the Praetorians' Educational policies for children.

TOKYO. (U.P.)—Japanese bankers are urging their government to be aware of radical measures and to refrain from moves which might disturb general conditions.

In language similar to that employed by American industrialists in commenting on the New Deal, Kozo Mori, chairman of the Tokyo Clearing House, told a group of financiers and government officials that Japan's leaders should chart a cautious course.

"The country, every section of it, is now throbbing with the spirit of a new drive, with the demand for a change, with progressivist sentiments swaying the entire people," he said.

Practical Course Urged
"This is certainly a natural and healthy sign in a progressive community like ours which is always marching forward, and its statesmanship to follow and utilize such a trend, but in doing that the government must cautiously watch its steps, be practical and realistic, beware of radical and excessive meaasures, but advance step by step, treading the sure ground of gradual transition by gradual stages.

"We hope that the government will use utmost care in avoiding whatever is likely to unsettle the general conditions."

Discusses New Cabinet
Discussing the Hirota cabinet, organized March 9, Mori said:

"We are not yet quite clearly informed about what it is going to do specifically by way of reform and re-organization. It is regrettable that a section of the financial circles should have interpreted that declaration issued soon after the organization of the cabinet as an implied announcement of an extraordinary increase of tax burdens or a radical control of industries soon to follow.

"If the popular mind is unsettled, everything will wither. We cannot help being keenly desirous that the government declare at the earliest possible date the specific financial and economic programs it has in mind and so let the people know for certain what they can definitely count on."

Toledo Refunds Bonds
TOLEDO. (U.P.)—Toledo is embarking on a refunding program to call in $4,476,000 of high-interest rate bonds and refloat the debt at a 3½ to 4 per cent rate.

CONSTIPATION* MAY SLOW YOU DOWN

Correct It by Eating the Right Meals

The most common type of constipation is due to insufficient "bulk" in the diet. When you continue to eat poorly balanced meals, over a period of weeks and months, faulty elimination often develops. You feel uncomfortable, lack your accustomed vigor.

Eat a balanced diet. Include milk, fruits and vegetables as protective foods. Also sufficient "bulk." Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a convenient source of "bulk." Within the body, it absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the intestinal tract.

Fruits and vegetables contain some "bulk," of course. But scientific tests show that, with certain people, this "bulk" is largely broken down within the body. This does not happen to the same extent with bran. When you eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, you can be sure of obtaining effective "bulk."

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal, with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, etc. Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN often. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company as a natural laxative food for constipation.* Eat it regularly for regularity. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk"

TOWER YIELDS SOUVENIR

BERKELEY, Cal. (UP)—The University of California is having difficulty keeping the top of its 240-foot campanile intact. Authorities have explained that the 15-minute visit rule is not because of a psychological tendency for visitors to jump off, but to keep too much of the top from being cut off and carried away as souvenirs.

A wind tunnel, similar to those used in testing airplanes, has been installed in Pittsburgh to test the streamlined locomotives and street cars.

Old Love Notes Vex Playwright

Gushing love letters of his more callow days came back to embarrass Playwright Charles MacArthur, left, as he sat in Chicago court with his second wife, Helen Hayes, stage star, right, and heard the tender missives read by counsel for his first wife, Carol Frink, newspaper movie critic. Especially vexing to MacArthur was the signature, "Charliecums," on several letters. Miss Frink sued Miss Hayes for $100,000, charging theft of the affections of the playwright.

ific islands on diplomatic, scientific, rescue, or other missions.

"The marines helped to man these frigates, and prior to the advent of steam vessels saw action in the Marquesas in 1813, went to the rescue of Americans in the Falkland Islands in 1831, and fought savages in the Fiji Islands in 1840 and on several other occasions. They made their first important landing in Samoa in 1841.

"An important event in our national history occurred in 1854, when the U. S. Marines visited Japan with Commodore Perry, and the treaty was signed which opened that country to the commerce of the world. They were landed in an expedition against savages in Formosa in 1867, and they have crossed and recrossed the ocean trails of the Pacific over and over again.

"Hawaii has been the scene of so many visits by Marines that the modern history of that country has become closely identified with that of the naval service. Marine detachments have been there continuously since 1904, and they have been stationed in Guam and the Philippines since the days of the Spanish American War.

"These islands of the Pacific have been visited by thousands of marines who have been ordered to duty in China in recent years, and they often include their itinerary a voyage to Japan before their return home.

"For years a solitary marine sergeant has commanded the native troops who guard the naval station at Tutuila, Samoa, far from his comrades at other Pacific points. Every two years a new man gets the assignment—one of the most novel ever given to any enlisted man anywhere.

"On errands of diplomacy, commerce, science, peace or war, there are few important islands in that greatest of all oceans where at some time or another the marines have not landed and had the situation well in hand."

Islands of Pacific Visited by Marines

There is scarcely a spot in the whole Pacific Ocean that is not familiar to the U. S. Marines, and today many of them are on duty in Hawaii, Guam, the Philippines or elsewhere amid that vast expanse of water that borders our West Coast.

These voyages by the sea soldiers have been made for almost as many reasons as there are islands, according to Lt. Col. Thomas E. Thrasher, Jr., who answers many queries about the Marine Corps at his recruiting office, 309 Douglas Building, 257 South Spring street, Los Angeles, California.

Midway Island was the objective of the latest expedition made by the marines. Last May the sea soldiers, 800 strong, landed there in connection with the big fleet maneuvers in the Pacific.

"On this isolated ocean dot, they held target practice, held reconnaissance surveys, swam, fished and carried out some of the details of an important fleet problem. After twelve days they broke camp and went back aboard ship.

"The pioneering spirit of the old American Navy fully equalled that of the hardy Norsemen who visited our shores years before Columbus," says Colonel Thrasher. "Our sailing frigates were called upon to protect our merchantmen, and they often made cruises to far away Pacific islands."

MEANS POOL EXTENSION

RUNNING TUBING

Tubing is being run today in the mile-south extension to the Means pool in northern Andrews county, Humble No. 8 J. S. Means and an acid treatment will be given. The N. 8 Means has been showing for a fairly large well for that area as it cored to total depth of 4,525 feet in lime. Natural production of 13 barrels an hour is expected to be increased several-fold by the acid treatment. Gas volume is larger than ordinarily found in the pay horizon of Means wells, being in the neighborhood of 500,000 cubic feet daily. Location of the extension well is 1,982 feet from the north and 666 feet from the east line of section 19, block A-35, public school land. Although drilling progress is being slowed up by hardening formation, when the No. 8 Means is completed rig will be moved to the No. 9 J. S. Means, an extension test one mile to the south in section 22, block A-35.

Humble No. 1 C. H. Eubanks, the only wildcat now drilling in Gaines county, had reached a depth of 3,540 feet in anhydrite this morning. Although drilling progress is being slowed up by hardening formation, such fast time is being made in the test that it is expected to pick up the first lime stringers the early part of next week. It is 660 feet out of the southwest corner of section 6, block AX, public school land, eight miles northwest of the only producer in Gaines county, Landreth No. 1 Kirk, which remains shut in after testing 107 barrels on swab last week.
