Indications that the government expects no quick victory in the Spanish revolt was seen today as Madrid authorities urged women to make ammunition and winter clothing and called for volunteers to form a new battalion.
Unlicensed advisers reaching Gibraltar reported government heads have airplanes in readiness for flight if the capital falls.
Rebels claim they hold more than two-thirds of Spain.
United States Ambassador Claude Bowers established a temporary embassy in Hendaye, France, after completing the evacuation cruise of northern Spain.
Rebel headquarters at Burgos announced that it intended to notify foreign governments and the International Red Cross that government forces had been using poison gas.

At Burgos, the rebel northern stronghold, General Francisco Franco, leader of the insurgents, was said to have decided to tighten the rebel lines around Madrid in hopes of cutting off the capital's water supply and thirsting the defendants into surrender.

Midland Receives Free Publicity As Town's "Day" Held

Midland received much favorable publicity over radio station WBAP yesterday from Jed Rix, assistant manager of the West Texas chamber of commerce. Monday was officially announced as Midland Day at the Frontier Centennial celebration and several persons from here were in Fort Worth for the show.
Mrs. Foy Proctor, local woman, sang over the station.
The text of Rix's speech follows:
The Fort Worth Frontier Centennial today finds real pleasure in dedicating its broadcast to Midland.
Midland people are very proud, and shall we say, a wee bit boastful about their city. Some of the "claims" they make for her sound to anyone who hasn't spent a day or two in Midland, a trifle exaggerated. They will tell you that more cattle are bought and sold in the lobby of the Hotel Scharbauer than any other place in the world, excepting only the big packing centers of Fort Worth, Kansas City and Chicago. But it's true!
Midland calls to be the greatest Hereford cattle country in the world. Some may question that claim, but Midland says, "Show us a bigger one." She's still waiting to be shown!
The city's birth, growth, prosperity and future are wrapped up in the cattle industry. Cattlemen founded Midland. Cattlemen made it a city before the discovery of oil. The money these same cattlemen made out of oil discovered on their ranches, has been spent lavishly on building Midland, a city with more tall buildings for its size than any other city in the United States.
Here is a city that, with a population of 7,500, raised and built with cash a $65,000 Fair Park, Race Course, Rodeo Arena and Cattle Exhibit Building in less than six months!
Nature has been very kind to the country surrounding Midland. She has covered her sweeping plains with nutritious grass for her cattle. She also very generously arranged to fix things under the grass. Today Midland is the capital of an oil province containing 50,000 square miles, an area larger than the state of Pennsylvania. Thirty-five major oil companies have their headquarters in Midland.
In addition to cattle and oil, geologists claim there is enough potash in Midland county to supply the United States for 250 years.
Cattle, oil, potash. Intelligent, progressive, hospitable people. Friends of the air, we give you Midland. She's a honey.

Complaint Alleges He Murdered His First Wife

ABILENE, Aug. 18. (P)—Clarence Duncan, 28-year-old Trent farmer, late yesterday was charged in a complaint sworn out by Sheriff Burl Wheeler of Taylor county, with murder in connection with the death of his first wife, Mary Duncan, whose charred body was found in their home near Trent after it was destroyed by fire April 10, 1935.
Duncan yesterday was denied bail by Justice of the Peace S. H. Shook at Sweetwater when he was arraigned on a charge of murder in the death of G. H. Jones, 52, Trent filling station operator whose body was found in Lake Sweetwater early Saturday morning.
Duncan was married recently to Billie Lorene Allen, who also is charged with Jones death, as is her brother, Wilmer Allen.
The present Mrs. Duncan is named in a complaint charging bigamy filed here recently by the late G. H. Jones.
The murder complaint filed here yesterday accuses Duncan in this language: "Clarence Duncan on or about April 10, 1935, did voluntarily and with malice aforethought kill Mary Duncan by beating her in some way or manner and by some means, instruments or weapons to the affiant unknown."

The complaint was attested to by County Attorney Esoc Walter.
Billie Lorene Duncan, 19, and her brother, Wilmer Allen, 22, were allowed bond of $5,000 each after yesterday's hearing in Sweetwater. They had not furnished bond late last night.
None of the trio has employed counsel.
Mrs. Mary Duncan, who was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Jones of Trent—not related to G. H. Jones—died when her fire-room frame dwelling two miles southwest of Trent burned about 4 a. m. April 10, last year. Reports at that time were that the house probably was ignited by lamp while Duncan was behind the barn milking the cows and that when he noticed a reflection of flames above the barn he rushed to the house but could not enter because of the fire. Mrs. Duncan was burned beyond recognition. She had been married to Duncan four years and they had no children. Friends said she was to have become a mother about two weeks after her death.

Gulf No. 3 Estes Is One of Largest In Field
BY FRANK GARDNER
Flowing 3,048 barrels of oil in 24 hours after shot together with 3,950,000 cubic feet of gas, Gulf Oil Corporation No. 3 Estes became one of the largest producers yet drilled in the southeast Ward county field. It is located 2,325 feet from the southeast and 330 feet from the southwest line of section 38, block 34, H. & T. C. survey, and is the northeast offset to the field's record well, Richardson Oils, Inc. No. 2 Hathaway, which had a natural rating of 4,516 barrels per day. The No. 3 Estes was drilled to 2,572 feet and given a nitro shot of 230 quarts from 2,445 to 2,562.
Skelly Oil company No. 2 Martin, also in the north end of the field, topped sand pay at 2,496 and is reported flowing 23 barrels an hour as it drills ahead.
Over two miles to the west, Allan Hargrave and others No. 1 M. L. Coons (Skelly Oil company), is drilling lime below 2,782 feet. The test is 330 feet from the northeast and 2,310 from the southeast of section 35, block 34.
A 55-barrel well being drilled deeper, Gulf No. 1 Estes, flowed 32 barrels on a six-hour test at 2,638. Drilling continues below 2,653 in lime.
Emperor Extension Shot
Phillips No. 1 McCabe, half-mile north extension to the Emperor pool in southern Winkler, was shot yesterday with 90 quarts from 2,930 to 2,949 and made one small flow after the shot. The well will be shot again today, this time with 150 quarts in the upper pay zone from 2,715 to 2,775. The Phillips well has a 24-hour natural potential of 108 barrels flowing by heads through casing. Location is 330 feet from the south and 990 feet from the east line of section 1, block B-12, public school land.
Farther north, in the Keystone pool, Gulf No. 13 Keystone in section 6, block B-2, public school land, ran 3,344 feet of 2-inch tubing perforated from 3,282 to 3,344 with pecker set at 3,215, and flowed 207 barrels in 18 hours through the tubing. The well was plugged back to 3,379 for a water shut-off and shot with 270 quarts from 3,288 to 3,374.
Logs More Gas
Another gas showing at 4,257, was reported in Grisham & Hunter No. 1 R. B. Cowden, northwest Ector wildcat north of the old Davidson and Atlantic No. 1 Cummins. Previously, the well had encountered gas from 4,235 to 4,250. Verdict on the test is expected sometime this week. On upper markers it is said to be running favorably lower than the Davidson and Atlantic well which had a high gas-oil ratio. Location of the test is in section 10, See (Oil News) Page Three

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18. — Wide circulation of the story that there's a labor shortage and the private employers can't get workers because citizens who otherwise would be available prefer to remain on WPA rolls is giving the New Deal propagandists more concern than any other phase of the Republican attack on administration relief policies.

Vigorous attempts to knock down that story, which has popped up in nearly every section of the country, have been unsuccessful. WPA officials expect it will be resounding in their ears with increasing force as the campaign goes on.

The records available in Washington—though of course the experience of the individual reader may conflict with this—indicate that complaints as to inability to get workers off WPA rolls have come almost entirely from those who sought labor at low wages, long hours, or both.

Fight for Fair Wages
The significant thing about the whole story, which neither side stresses, is that the United States government is standing firmly behind men and women who refuse to leave WPA rolls to accept wages which WPA officials consider less than "fair."

Thus, in a sense, the New Deal is setting minimum wage standards for private industries. WPA surveys have shown that only three out of every hundred relief workers charged with refusing private jobs had refused "unjustifiably," and the chief reason for the "justifiable" refusals was low wages.

Whether the government has any business making such decisions depends on your theories as to what responsibilities government should assume.

Meanwhile, to the cry of some employers that recovery is being hindered by their inability to get workers, WPA officials reply: "You can't get recovery on 15 cents an hour!"

Average Is $52.50 Monthly
The average WPA wage is 47 cents an hour, which means $52.50 a month, the average hours per worker per month being 112.

In Clackamas county, Ore., officials laid off 200 workers to force them to take berry-picking or lumbering jobs.

The Civic Council of the county protested to Senator Charles McNary, Republican leader in the Senate, that the berry-pickers received an average of only 50 cents a day and that wood-cutters being paid $2 a cord could cut but two-thirds of a cord a day.

McNary asked WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins for action. After an investigation, the 200 workers were replaced on the rolls.

Considerable publicity has been given charges by a lumber operator near Malone, N. Y., who asked for permission to bring in 250 Canadians to peel pulpwood for him for three months. This man said he couldn't get WPA workers.

Reports Bad Conditions
WPA insists it investigates all such complaints. The Rev. Father

Francis J. Haas of its labor relations section went to Malone to get the facts.

Father Haas reported that he found 18 non-relief lumbermen had gone to this man's camp. Some had returned the first day and all had quit within five days.

He says he also found: No limitation on hours, but working days of 12 to 14 hours plus an hour going to the job and another hour returning. Piecework rates which gave workers from $1 to $1.50 a day after reductions. Requirements by the employer of at least a year's experience.

"At fair wages and hours, there's no labor shortage there," reports Father Haas.

Pay on Starvation Level
Other complaints have come from people in Utah who wanted to get strawberry pickers from WPA. To work for 40 cents a day; from a real estate man in New York who wanted skilled carpenters, painters, electricians, and other to work for him at $80 a month, as against prevailing wages of up to $12 a day; and from a dress manufacturer in Lynn, Mass., who insisted women should leave a WPA sewing project where they earned $13.25 per 28-hour week and work for him at $9 per 40-hour week.

Officials of the U. S. Employment Service keep registers of WPA and other workers, to meet demands from employers. But WPA general policy is:

"We will supply labor if the work is at fair wages."

Advertising Pays For The Centennial

DALLAS—The half-billion dollar advertising campaign being conducted by the Texas Centennial Commission of Control has proven its international scope, according to a recent survey of inquiries made by the state organization here.

Senator Sheppard To Speak at Centennial

DALLAS.—United States Senator Morris Sheppard of Texarkana will speak to 2000 Texas members of the Woodmen of the World, a fraternal insurance association Aug. 21 at the Texas Centennial Exposition.

"Forty degree teams from all parts of the state, including 12 to 16 men in Woodmen uniforms from each team, will form a parade of 500 men and march through the $25,000,000 world's fair grounds," announced R. E. Miller, state manager of the W. O. W. and program chairman.

Farrar Newberry, from the national headquarters in Omaha, Nebraska, and member of the national board of directors, and Senator Sheppard, who is national treasurer, will be the principal speakers on the program after the parade.

"A team of 40 Juniors of the Forest, from Wichita Falls, will perform a special drill, and exhibition drills will be done by several selected adult drill teams," said Mr. Miller. "There are more than 1500 lodges in the state, and we expect to have at least 2000 members representing our order at the Exposition."

The parade will begin at 1 p. m., and the program which follows will continue until about 4:30 or 5 p. m., he said.

Make Blanche Noyes Air Marking Pilot

Blanche Noyes of Irvington, N. J., one of the first 10 women pilots to receive a transport pilot's license, has been appointed an air marking pilot for the Bureau of Air Commerce, Department of Commerce, Eugene L. Vidal, Director of Air Commerce, announced today.

Mrs. Noyes, who has been flying since 1929, will be assigned to the Washington office of the Airport Section, and will work on air marking assignments with Helen Richey, Louise Thaden and Helen MacCloskey, who have been with the Bureau for some time. For the present her duties will consist of special assignments in connection with the air marking program. This program consists of assisting cities and towns in arranging for the marking of roof tops to guide airmen.

In addition to being among the first women transport pilots, Mrs. Noyes was the first woman in Ohio to fly. She was taught to fly in 1929 by her husband, and since then has participated in many air races. Her first race, in 1929 when she was still somewhat of a novice pilot, nearly ended abruptly when fire broke out in the baggage compartment of her plane, 50 miles west of Pecos, Texas. She was able to land in the mesquite, and succeeded in

September Fourth Deadline to Enter In Livestock Show

FORT WORTH, Aug. 17.—Entries to the Frontier Centennial Livestock Show must be received by September 4 in order to compete for the $75,000 in premiums being offered, says D. G. Talbot, manager of the livestock department. The show will be held in Fort Worth, October 3-11.

A number of entries are now on file in the show office, and Talbot is expecting a large entry list before the closing date, September 4. Owners of choice livestock from all sections of the United States have written for premium lists and entry blanks.

Breed classes entitled to compete for premiums include the following: Breeding classes for Herefords, Shorthorns, and Aberdeen-Angus cattle; carloads of fat steers and carloads of feeder cattle, dairy cattle, sheep and goats, swine, draft horses, mules, jacks, jennets and agricultural exhibits.

The show will be held on the grounds of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show. A modern new show barn for cattle, with every convenience for the livestock, exhibitors and visitors is under construction. Because of the amount of premium money, the largest amount ever offered for a livestock show in the Southwest, it is expected that the best animals from all the different breeds from all sections of the United States will be represented.

Following the feeder cattle show, there will be an auction of feeder cattle on October 6. Coming at a time when northern feeders will be making purchases for their winter feeding, it is expected that many corn belt buyers will be present to bid. There will be an auction of registered Jerseys on October 9.

While she and her husband were visiting at the country home of John D. Rockefeller Sr., in 1930, he expressed a wish to fly. Proceeding to the airport, she took him up for his first and last flight, although Mrs. Noyes disclaims any responsibility for it being his last. On the contrary, he was delighted, according to Mrs. Noyes.

I don't want any credit for it—but the vacant lot just west of this office is absolutely clear of weeds.

It sure would be nice if a lot of other people would do the same thing for their property.

Cutting weeds would be a good way to break some of the chronic "boarders" in the city and county halls of getting drunk each time they get out just so they can go back to jail to sober up.

About a week at cutting down some of those big tumbleweeds in the alleys around here would sober them up and keep them that way.

TAKE THE TRAIN . . .
FOR SPEED WITH SAFETY
You can have speed—with safety—when you travel by train. Western railroads have speeded up many train schedules but in the whole year of 1935 not one passenger life was lost in a train accident, while millions were carried in perfect safety. This is a record which western railroads strive day and night to maintain.
What makes this fine record possible? Constant vigilance, ceaseless inspection of roadbeds, rails, signal systems, automatic safety devices, engines and cars. Cotton Picking Machines Will Get Final Tests in Russia and America

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 18—Ready for the acid test of operation under actual field conditions, eight strange, new mechanical devices have been placed "on their marks" on two sides of the world to determine whether the machine age shall have complete conquest over cotton picking, an industry carried on by hand for more than 3000 years.

Completion of the eight machines, mechanical cotton pickers, has brought John and Mack Rust, one-time cotton field workers, to the threshold of a goal they set out for a decade ago.

It was a practical idea, and now the machines, already proved in preliminary tests, are to undergo final tryouts.

Two of the machines have been sold to Soviet Russia, where John Rust will supervise their operation in the extensive fields of Turkistan and other co-operative cotton centers.

The rest of the machines will go into the heart of unemployment in those workers' minds. But the Rust brothers have seen this possibility, too, and they propose to market their invention only under the condition that it will neither lower wages nor displace workers now employed.

Tryout Places Chosen
For their personal incomes, the brothers propose to accept salaries limited to 10 times that of the lowest paid full time employe.

Places where the machines will be tried out in the United States include the Delta Co-operative Farm, Dr. Sherwood Eddy's project near Hillhouse, Miss.; the Delta Experiment Station at Stoneville, Miss.; and plantations near Dallas, Tex., and Clarksville, Miss.

Confident that the machines have been brought to near-perfection as far as removal of the cotton from the stalks is concerned, the Rust brothers say the coming tests are merely "endurance runs" to determine how the machines stand up in constant, practical operation.

Production plans await the outcome of the tests and the reaction of planters. Should the machines fulfill the hope of the inventors, a Rust Foundation will be formed to control the operating company.

Proceeds would be devoted to educational and social projects to rehabilitate labor adversely affected by the machines.

Judgment Withheld
Critics are withholding comment on the vast field the invention may open until the cotton ripens early in September and the machines have had their chance.

But they do say that if the Rust cotton picker proves itself, a niche for it will have to be cut in America's industrial hall of fame alongside the Whitney cotton gin.

SON BORN TO DANIELS
Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Daniels are the parents of a son born in a Midland hospital Sunday, August 16.

Quick Shave and Haircut Are Quicker By Five Minutes in East Than in West

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 18 (U.P.)—Albany barbers believe they have something to brag about.

Members of the Albany Barbers' Association have taken some speed tests to see how they compared with the times reported by the Wisconsin Journeymen Barbers' Association. Their principal discovery was that it takes almost three minutes longer to get a haircut in Milwaukee than it does in Albany.

The Albany barbers are faster by almost two minutes for a shave, Joseph C. Papa, president of the association, reported. He contrasted Albany's time of 15.4 minutes with Wisconsin's 17.2 minutes. The shave also requires less time in Albany—7.5 minutes as compared with 10.9 in Wisconsin.

But the shampoo is different. Wisconsin barbers report 16.7 minutes, while in Albany it requires 17 minutes, flat.

Comparison of the times led to a discussion of Papa's philosophy on modern barbering. Papa suggests that customers should relax in the barber's chair.

"The barber," Papa said, "should not talk to the customer except when necessary. Nor should he discuss such complicated questions as the political situation at home and abroad, or the pennant race in the big leagues.

France May Give Chapel to Reward Rockefeller Jr., For His Beneficence

PARIS, Aug. 18 (U.P.)—The French government is considering presenting a 15th Century Gothic chapel to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., as a gesture of gratitude for his donations to France for the restoration of the Chateau de Versailles, the Courrouse Arch in the Tuilleries Gardens and other monuments in Paris.

The historic chapel in question is situated in the village of Chauvirey-le-Chatel. It was built in 1481 under Charles the Bold to shelter a hunting horn which is believed to have belonged to Saint Hubert. The horn is now a part of the famous Wallace Collection in London.

Before the Chapel of Saint Hubert can be presented to Rockefeller to be reerected in the Metropolitan Museum in New York, it will be necessary to pass a law permitting the chapel to be removed from France soil. A bill to this effect has been drafted and will be presented to the chamber of deputies and the senate before the summer closing of parliament.

Another difficulty to be surmounted is the resentment of the loyal citizens of Chauvirey-le-Chatel, who want to keep their 15th century chapel in its natural surroundings. The citizens argue that their region of France—the Haute Saone department—is not rich in historical monuments, and that they should not be robbed of their treasure. They are grateful to Rockefeller's generosity, but feel that the French government might offer a chapel from another region to the United States.

The 500-year-old chapel was classed as a public monument in 1926 after it had been bought by a Paris antique dealer, who wanted to ship it to the United States.

One of the directors of the Beaux Arts school explained that the French government repeatedly had made formal promises to transfer the chapel to the United States but is loath to give up such a valuable historic treasure. It is proposed that the bill to be passed by Parliament will authorize the shipment of the chapel to the New York museum, but stipulate that the chapel remains a French possession on American soil.

North Dakota to Save Taxpayers $2,000,000

BISMARCK, N. D. (U.P.)—Taxpayers of North Dakota will be saved approximately $2,000,000 in interest charges, it was announced by state officials, due to the action of the state industrial commission in calling $3,617,000 in outstanding real estate bonds from four to 11 years in advance of maturity.

The bonds are to be paid off July 1, 1937, from a sinking fund, containing $7,855,666. The actual saving in interest through the action, the commission said, will be $1,980,300.

Welcome to a new telephone user

A brand new customer used the telephone today. Betty Sue called the little girl around the corner. "Sally!" she gasped, a bit breathless at the wonder of it, "Sally, come over 'n let's have a tea party." Then she listened in round-eyed delight...

Every day, thousands of Betty Sues everywhere thus slip their first sentences into the telephone.

It is the privilege of the men and women who work for this company to see that the calls of these new users are as fast and as clear, in every way, as those of the most veteran subscriber.

It is likewise the part of certain other people in the Bell System to see that their service grows better year by year.

Experts at work on American Telephone and Telegraph Company's headquarters staff... research scientists at Bell Telephone Laboratories... workmen in the factories and shops of Western Electric, the Bell system supply organization...

Day in and day out these people are busy making tomorrow's telephone service better than today's.

To Betty Sue, telephone calls may soon sink into the commonplace.

Yet she will benefit, now and in years to come, from this never-ending search for ways to make her service faster, clearer and better, at prices that are reasonable to telephone users everywhere.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

CUBA'S BUILDER

CUBA was trying to free itself of Spanish rule, when, in 1875, Jose Miguel Gomez, son of a wealthy planter, took up its cause. For 20 years, he participated in Cuban politics. Then, in 1895, came the final war for freedom, and young Gomez rose quickly to the rank of major general. So active was he that in one day he engaged in 17 minor battles.

When he became president in 1908, he reorganized the army, improved the ports, built new roads and bridges, extended the railroads, and modernized the school system.

Gomez retired from politics for a few years, but when he returned in 1920 to regain the presidency, he was defeated. He retired again to the United States, where he died in 1921, aged 65. Today, his son, Miguel Mariano Gomez, is president of Cuba. In the elder Gomez' honor, Cuba issued a set of two stamps recently.

Louis and Sharkey Ready for Bout; Negro Favored

FANS UNCERTAIN ABOUT ABILITY OF THE BOMBER

Sharkey Determined To Land Knockout Blow Early

BY EDDIE BRETZ
 NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Faced with the biggest test of his meteoric career, Joe Louis hits the comeback trail tonight in a 10-round bout with Jack Sharkey in the Yankee Stadium.

Although generally picked to beat the veteran Boston sailor, also in the midst of a comeback drive, the short odds plainly show the fans are not as sure of the young Detroitier as they were prior to his defeat by Max Schmeling two months ago.

Louis was a 7 to 5 favorite tonight. The odds were hammered down from 8 to 5 with the arrival on Broadway of the advance guard of several hundred Sharkey supporters from Boston.

Expect $200,000 Gate.

With fair weather promised, promoter Mike Jacobs confidently predicted a crowd of 50,000, a gate of $200,000. Off to a slow start ticket sales picked up last week as interest heightened and for the past three days there has been an old-time rush for pastebards.

While most of the experts are picking Louis to do a right-about-face and polish off the squire of Chestnut Hill, Sharkey is not without supporters.

The 33-year-old former champion has worked hard and earnestly, has attained perfect physical condition, Sharkey thinks he is meeting Louis at a most favorable time. With many others he shares the opinion that the Brown Bomber is being sent back to the ring entirely too soon after the walloping Schmeling gave him.

Knockout In Prospect

The fight experts, almost to a man, say a knockout will end the fight. Most of them think the finish will come anywhere from the first to sixth round.

Until last Saturday Louis was woefully unimpressive in his drills at Pompton Lakes. He was slow, dull and minus the zip and dash that marked his preparations for his other fights.

On his last two days of boxing, however, he was his old self. He threw punches with his accustomed gusto, blocked more effectively and gave his handlers reasons to believe he's back on his feet again.

The Sharkey backers believe Jack's best chance to win is to score an early knockout and that's the plan of battle the Squire means to follow.

Sharkey is a more accomplished boxer than the negro but his supporters do not believe he can outlast Joe if the bout goes the distance.

VILLAGE GENEROSITY COSTLY
 NORTH BALTIMORE, O. (AP)—Since firemen's pay was boosted from $1 to $2 a fire, grass fires are causing a heavy drain on the village treasury. After volunteers received the pay raise, they were summoned to put out two small grass fires. It cost the village $60.

CITY ONCE HAD BELL-RINGER
 TOLEDO, O. (AP)—Musty files of city council show that Toledo once had an official bell-ringer. Records for Jan. 4, 1882 show approval of a claim for $56.25, filed by Robert Whiteford "for ringing the city bells."

A full grown gorilla is said to have the strength of four men.

By Harry Grayson

There has been no let up on the vast amount of money which the New England public has been waging on the races. The daily average handled for 53 days at Suffolk Downs was $400,000. Even those connected with the East Boston oval did not look for any such betting. The craze has exceeded all expectations. Narragansett, the gold mine, now expects to break its phenomenal record, and a banner meeting is anticipated at Rockingham, starting in late September. Promised a reward for his tip on Denny Cashion-house when the big boy made good, C. A. Thornberry of Akron, has just received a check for $200 and an annual pass from the Cleveland club.

Even the St. Louis Browns could afford a scout like that. Bill Walker, transferred to Toronto, was the last member of the Cardinals' 1933 trade with the Giants to depart from Sportsman's Park. Eban Allen, Bob O'Farrell, and Jim Mooney were the others. Bill Terry plucked Gus Mancuso and Ray Starr. Connie Mack has not been chased from the dugout by an umpire in all his 36 years as manager of the Athletics. Bob Grove, who is talking of retiring this fall, is reputed to be worth $100,000. Burgess Whitehead, traded to the Giants for Tazman Parnelee last winter, is fooling the Cardinal management by standing up and starring under a full season's play. Florida will be shy three customers during the training season next spring. The Giants go to Havana, the Athletics to Mexico, and the Browns to San Antonio. Jimmy Dykes gives Coach Muddy Rule a deal of credit for the excellent work of the White Sox pitchers last year and this. A semi-professional catcher works with Cardinal chukkers in the bullpen. Joe Dimaggio is well on his way to a home run record for first year men in the majors.

Beware of Three C's
 Eleanor Holm Jarrett drank herself out of the Olympic Games. Joe Church, the boxer, poached himself out. Irving Pease, Toronto middleweight, was sent home because he ate himself out of his class. Jack Torrance beat himself at the table. Future Olympic teams will beware of the three C's—champagne, cameras, and chow.

It looks like Wisconsin and its new coach, Harry Stuhldreher, will be without Eddie Jankowski, star fullback, this fall. Scholastic difficulties. Even the Brooklyn Dodgers picked up when Casey Stengel finally was convinced that games are won in the afternoon and out morning practice. Frank Demaree of the Cubs is likened to Riggs Stephenson. Never spectacular, but consistently dependable both in the outfield and at the plate, especially in clinches. Halfback Frank Bruder has agreed to return to the Green Bay Packers for his sixth straight year with the professionals. The Yankees sent Ted Kleinhaus to Newark for another southpaw, Kemp Wicker, who bagged a dozen games for the Bears. Pat Malone was called to his Altoona, Pa., home, by the critical illness of his father. One by one the Giants are toppling their season's jinxes. Carl Hubbell took a game from Curt Davis of the Cubs, one of the Polo

Grounders' worst right handed pitching hoodoo . . . The ladies' day jinx was quieted . . . The sinister Ebbets Field influence was overcome . . . About the only remaining jinx for Bill Terry's outfit to contend with is Larry French of the Cubs, who has seven consecutive victories this season . . . The best thing about young Horace Stoneham's array over the last five weeks is the briskness with which they bounce back after a reverse.

Americans Best Routers
 National league pitchers generally are supposed to be superior to their American League brethren. Yet figures show that those of the junior circuit have turned in nearly 100 more complete contests. A good share of the Giants' success is attributed to their having adopted the St. Louis Cardinal and Cincinnati system of slight rewards for noble deeds and assessments for flops and skulls, with the pot to be split 24 ways when the last shot has been fired. Head of Cardinals subsidies became president of two of the three A.A. leagues, George Trautman of the American Association and Warren Giles of the International. Branch Rickey now is looking over the Pacific Coast League field. Dizzy Dean hops through the hoop when Pepper Martin, his closest pal, snaps his fingers. Paul Dean is urging Dizzy to let him do the fighting on the ground that it won't hurt the Red Birds if he is given the bum's rush. Bookmakers throughout the country took a bath when Idle Way came down in front in the third at Washington Park the other afternoon. No handicapper as much as mentioned the dead-end Moose Earnshaw asks teammates to pinch him. Wants to know if it's a dream or if it really is true that he is with the Gas House Gang and not on the banks of the Gowanus. The crippled Reds have a great deal to say about the National League pennant. They still have 10 games with the Cubs, nine with the Cardinals, and five with the Giants. Charley Grimm beat a hasty retreat when Ripper Collins told him that the Cubs choked up against the Detroit Tigers in the world series last fall and that it was absolutely necessary for the Cardinals to battle the Yankees this trip. Collins says that Billy Herman of the Bruins is so two-base hit crazy that he stops at second base on a home run.

DATE FOR SANTONE RACE MEET NAMED

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 18—Dates for the 1937 winter meeting at, Alamo Downs have just been allotted by the Texas State Racing Commission, assuring the popular San Antonio mile track a 50-day season, January 1 through February 27. This is a longer meeting by four days than the 1936 meet, which was the most successful in the short but sensational history of the Texas course.

Plans for the third winter racing season are now being mapped out by Raymond R. Russell, president of Alamo Downs. Under his personal direction many improvements are being made to the plant, including a complete resurfacing of the mile running strip and the glassing-in of the grandstand and clubhouse. Suggestions forwarded by Tom Young prominent Kentucky track superintendent, have been carried out by Russell in the resurfacing work, and a vastly improved cushion will be presented this winter—a strip at least two seconds slower to the mile than in the past and correspondingly safer for horses. Before the winter meeting sets sail a group of horsemen will be invited to visit the course as guests of the management, thus being in

Rowing the greatest race it has displayed this year, the University of Washington's Huskie crew, Potemkin Regatta winner, triumphed in the Olympic eight-oar event, winning this shell classic for the United States for the fifth time in a row. The SPORTS HORN

BY JESS RODGERS

Yeah, and we are still for the Cardinals—Plenty others here are for the Yanks—Charlie Mix, Fred Girdley, Wade Heath—And they seem to think the Giants have a better chance of stopping the Yank "Murder Row" than either the Cubs or Cards.

Just about one more wrestling card like Herman Fuhrer offered fans in Big Spring last week and he'll have to enlarge his stands. All present admitted it was the best one he had ever presented—Tonight's card looks good but doesn't have the main event attraction that last week's final had—The Masked Marvel (and the name is absolutely appropriate) was the prime attraction last week—The number one event tonight finds Tommy Gibbs, who wrestled to a draw with Dory Detton in the semi-final match last Tuesday night, tangling with Cyclone Mackey—Detton once more is in the semi-final, tangling with Herb Parks, winner of the preliminary match last week—In the preliminary tonight Gene La Belle, mustachioed Frenchman who made referee Henshaw take the count last week, and who finally fell victim to the Masked Marvel, will take on Jack Hagen for 20 minutes.

We wrote to about a dozen editors in this district trying to find out something about who will write up their football games this fall—So far we have had two answers—Well, that is one week—if the football season doesn't end first maybe we will hear from them all—And we

Wednesday and Saturday will be presented, as well as regular daily features carrying values of $800 to $1000. A minimum purse of $500 was written into the condition books last season, and this schedule will be maintained for the cheaper horses, although the better grade rearers will find ample opportunity to show their wares for richer rewards.

Applications for tabling room are already being received at the home offices of the Alamo Downs Jockey Club, and indications are that the 100 stalls will again be taxed to capacity as in the past. A short lay-over following the closing of Arlington Downs, between Fort Worth and Dallas, and the opening of the San Antonio course on New Year's Day, will give horsemen a chance to freshen their horses for the rigorous 50-day campaign, and insure ornful, interesting racing right from the jump-off.

Seeker of "Dixie Belle" Bride Gets 13,000 Proposals Before Two of The Applicants Compare Notes Together

OAKLAND, Cal. Aug. 18 (U.P.)—Samuel Frank, who gained nationwide notoriety over night, when he telegraphed Gov. James Allred of Texas to help him find a Dixie belle for a bride, has run afoul of the law.

In his appeal to Allred, Frank held out as an inducement that if the Dixie belle who met all his stipulations, could be found in time, he would marry her in a public ceremony at the Texas Centennial.

Allred played the part of Cupid by broadcasting the appeal to newspapers all over the country, and until the moment of arrest, Frank asserted he had received 13,000 letters of proposal. They filled four suitcases and two 40-pound cardboard cartons.

The requirements which Frank set for his Dixie bride were almost as numerous and complicated as the enticements which he held out on his own behalf.

He admitted that he was old-fashioned. He professed to have been a member of the Denver City Council, an athletic director in a Denver high school, a Baptist minister at Fort Worth and Denver, and said he was 6 feet tall and weighed 175 pounds.

Frank was also frank as regards his qualifications that might not be considered as enticements.

Smokes Cornocob Pipe
"My worst habit is smoking a cornocob pipe, but I don't want a wife who smokes or drinks," he stipulated.

To offset the cornocob pipe, however, he announced in his appeal that he was a war veteran and was getting veterans' compensation and a bonus.

He asked a prospect to answer questions like these:

Was she single, divorced, or a widow?

If divorced, was her divorce a Biblical one?

What church did she belong to? Did she "dip" snuff?

Did she believe in baptism by immersion?

Did she drink or participate in wild parties?

Curious About Rouge

He also wanted to know what sort of disposition the prospect had. If she danced, what sort of amusement she liked, and whether she objected to marrying a widower with two children (professing to have two himself). He also asked for details on the amount of rouge and lipstick she used, and finally requested a picture.

During the period that Frank was receiving hundreds upon hundreds of replies from prospects all over the country, he took the public a little into his confidence about some of the details.

Nearly all of the Dixie belles, for whom he had expressed a preference in his appeal to Allred, showed enough of real southern chivalry to enclose postage stamps for a reply, he said.

The California prospects were notably shy, however, in repaying postage.

However, among the 13,000 who replied was Mrs. Louise Kennedy of Berkeley, who had read Allred's plea for Frank. She wrote him—then went to see him personally in this city.

Woman Loses Confidence
She was so much to his liking as a prospect that he borrowed $10 from her, as he said that his two children were ill at Los Angeles. As the weeks passed, his borrow-

FEMININE FANCIES

By KATHLEEN EILAND

A reporter never fully realizes how many people live in his town until they all start leaving on vacations or coming back from them.

We deplore the fact that so many people have colds and hayfever. But it does seem an auspicious time to speak of handkerchiefs. We wonder how many people spend their time in doing nothing except thinking up new quirks for handkerchief makers.

Black handkerchiefs are a new note. Also navy blue ones are found and those in rich wine and rust shades.

As for trimmings, they are legion. Tiny buttons, which were introduced two or three years ago, tiny appliques, and even tucks.

One blocked chiffon handkerchief floured tiny flowers of felt applied on.

These chiffon handkerchiefs may double as soft scarfs for the throat, by the way. They are blocked in designs of cacti, cowboys, and other southwest denizens now much in the limelight.

Blocked linen handkerchiefs carry much the same "Centennial" designs.

A bright note for a dark evening gown: Belt and bag of Paisley metallic mesh. The inside of the bag is as pretty in gold as the outside in its delicate coloring, we think.

Most cunning of the knickknacks we have seen recently are the wooden chickens destined to be used as sewing sets. A pair of tiny scissors thrust downward through the chicken's head serves him as bill, while a pat of velvet for his tail is employed as a needle cushion. Spools of thread and a thimble stand about the base of the figure.

Aside from the smallness of the scissors, we would be inclined to think the chickens were for the delight of grownups. The designer may have thought to appeal to children.

A rabbit in bright colors carries a row of wooden pegs each with its spool of thread riding up his back.

But we still think the chickens are cleverer.

Then Mrs. Kennedy suspected something. She visited his apartment, without formal notice.

He was not there, but another woman—one of the 13,000 who had replied to his appeal—was. They started talking. They compared

School Girl Complexion Is Fall's Smartest

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

This fall, it will be smart to look creamy-skinned, fresh as a school-girl and neat as a pin. You'll be wearing powder one shade lighter than your complexion while rouge and lipstick will match exactly your blood tones. Your hair will be brushed backward from your orow and upward from the nape of your neck. If you possibly can, you'll part it in the middle and leave it sleek and smooth across the top.

Even manufacturers of cosmetics are advocating simple makeup and soft, feminine effects instead of artificial-looking, sophisticated ones. The new fall clothes call for pretty rather than smart grooming.

When you discard your dark sun-tan powder (don't do it until your skin has faded noticeably), don't go back to the party used box of face powder you shelved early in the summer. You ought to look for one that matches the underlying tones of your complexion, but which is just one shade lighter than your face and throat actually appear to be. Get the finest, smoothest, sleekest variety you can find.

You are going to hear a good deal about beige powder this fall. It is supposed to harmonize beautifully with beige woollens and beige accessories which promise to be important.

Your fingernails won't be as blood-red as they were last spring. Certainly they will not be rust or orange as they have been all sum-

Detroit Is Planning For Big Exposition

DETROIT, Mich.—For the first time in the history of the 13 billion dollar petroleum industry, a mammoth exposition designed for the consumer of petroleum products has been arranged and will be held in Convention Hall here from December 5 to 13 inclusive, according to an announcement made today by Glover Watson, President of the recently incorporated Michigan National Petroleum Exhibition Company, Inc. Plans are being made for an attendance of approximately 1,000,000 people at the exhibition, known as the First International Consumers' Petroleum Exposition.

The purpose of the exhibition is to acquaint the public, through colorful pageants and exhibits with the tremendous strides made by the petroleum industry in production, refining, transportation and marketing. Features which affect public interest will be emphasized throughout the exhibits of oil companies and allied interests and different associations from various states which are cooperating with the exposition management. The American Petroleum Institute is arranging a comprehensive display (live) taxes which for the petroleum industry last year amounted to $1,100,000,000.

The petroleum industry this year is spending $1,000,000,000 for equipment and supplies, according to figures compiled by a trade publication, which makes it an outstanding factor in business recovery. At the exposition according to plans already being made effective, the general public will have an opportunity to see what goes on behind the scenes in this giant business to make available to the 26,000,000 automobile owners and every user of petroleum products abundant supplies of the "Life blood of this machine age." The public will be shown how petroleum is used from the cradle to the grave and the operation necessary to bring these hundreds of petroleum product necessities to the doorsteps of the people.

Principal oil and natural gas trade associations throughout the United States and Canada are starting this week to select young women employed by their member companies, each girl to be known as Miss Petroleum of the association selecting her. These young women will be brought to Detroit for the exposition and each will be presented with a new automobile. From the girls so selected, one will be chosen by popular vote as Miss Petroleum of America and will reign as queen during the exposition.

The automotive and allied industries are cooperating with the exposition management in preparations for the exposition. William B. Way, General Manager of the International Petroleum Exposition and Congress, held bi-annually in Tulsa, Okla. in speaking of the forthcoming exposition in Detroit said: "Detroit, undisputed world headquarters of the automobile industry, which is the largest customer of the oil industry, is the logical city to be host to such an exposition."

Mr. Watson President of the exhibition company arranging the exposition, has been in business in Detroit for 21 years. Andrew M. Rowley, for 14 years editor of the Oil and Gas Journal, of Tulsa, is secretary of the company and Bob Byers of Columbus, Ohio, Vice-President of The Lincoln Business Institute, is Managing Director.

CAMP LIFE TOO WARRLIKE

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (U.P.)—Wyoming national guardsmen camped at Pole Mountain camp had a touch of realism added to their war games by the drought. Because of a water shortage they had to go without baths for 10 days. "It's too much like war," said Lieut. Col. R. L. Smanly.

LOCK STAGES COMEBACK

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (U.P.)—The town clock, daily standby for lunch-hour steno-graphers and shoppers, has picked up where it left off when high waters of the St. Patrick's Day deluge crippled its mechanism. Its idle hands had been one of the few public reminders left of the gray days in March.

Recommend Trench Silos In The 'Dust Bowl' Area

LINCOLN, Neb. (U.P.)—With a three-year record of dry weather haunting them, Nebraska farmers have been forced to adopt their own conservation measures.

Burnett of the University of Nebraska, and high ranking officials of the university ceremoniously opened a trench silo dug by the university last year.

Agricultural college officials, estimating that there are 7,500 trench silos in Nebraska now, hope to increase that number to at least 10,000 by the end of the year.

Old Mansion Is Razed And Moved to New Site

LONDON. (U.P.)—A Georgian mansion, recently pulled down at Ipswich, has reappeared at South Cheriton, Somerset.

When Captain Schreiber moved to South Cheriton, he couldn't bear the thought of leaving his old home so he took it with him.

The old mansion was torn down, and the bricks and masonry were moved by rail from Ipswich to South Cheriton, where it has been rebuilt.

SALINAS, Cal. (U.P.)—The American Producers Guayule plant, the only rubber factory in the continental United States, will begin to put out 1,000,000 pounds of production in August.
