SCHEDULES OF 2 CANDIDATES ARE ALMOST COMPLETE

Brooklyn Will Hear President Talk Tonight

ALF GOES HOME To Halt In St. Louis For an Address Saturday

By Associated Press
The presidential campaign entered a final phase today. President Roosevelt speaking at Brooklyn tonight, at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night, and Governor Landon homeward bound, stopping off for a speech at Saint Louis tomorrow night.

Bidding for the votes of the populous east, both spoke to large crowds last night. Roosevelt appealing to the sayings of Abraham Lincoln to show the new deal right, and Landon challenging the president to "tell us where he stands" on such questions as NRA, AAA and executive powers.

The debate centering about the social security act continued, republicans denouncing it as "unfair" and Secretary of Labor Perkins saying it was "so much for the good of the people."

Senator LaFollette announced the Senate committee would investigate the "grossly misleading" statements about the act, inserted in workers' envelopes.

Speaking in Camden, N. J., late yesterday the president took credit "to the new deal for heading business into the clear, providing more jobs and safer jobs, and helping to remove a threat to savings, investments, insurance policies and homes."

HINES IS HONOR GUEST AT ODESSA C. OF C. BANQUET

Approximately 200 Hear Official In Address

Hon. Harry Hines, chairman of the State Highway Commission, was the honor guest and principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Odessa Chamber of Commerce in the high school building in Odessa Thursday night at which time over 200 persons, including many visiting oil men from over West Texas, were in attendance.

Taylor Rushing, principal of the Odessa high school, acted as toastmaster at the annual affair, with Ralph Shuffler, Odessa publisher, introducing the principal speaker of the evening, Hon. Harry Hines.

Pioneers of the oil industry in West Texas were lauded by F. M. Gwin, secretary of the Odessa chamber of commerce, in the opening address of the evening. Mr. Gwin also relating what the oil industry has meant to Odessa and to the entire Permian Basin. Oil men from over this section were honored at the banquet.

W. T. (Tanlar) Strange, Jr., manager of the Big Spring chamber of commerce, delivered a humorous address which was a high spot of the entire program.

Featuring the musical part of the program, Mrs. F. E. Hatfield rendered two vocal solos, with Mrs. Will Martin being presented in two violin solos.

West Texans Lauded by Hines

In his interesting and inspirational address, which was interspersed with considerable humor, Mr. Hines lauded the people of West Texas for their progressive spirit and said that West Texans are a fortunate people who are going continually forward. He declared his friendship for West Texans and for the residents thereof.

"No town is any greater than its chamber of commerce," said the speaker in urging the fullest cooperation between citizens in building a town. The highway chairman stated that the unity of the inhabitants, goodwill and fellowship binds towns and cities. The honored speaker did not refer to the state highway program at any time during his talk.

Following the banquet, Mr. Hines returned to Midland to spend the night, remaining here over Friday.

TO SAN ANGELO

Miss Read Thomas, Mrs. W. L. Holmesley and Henry Meadows went to San Angelo today to spend the week end.

Government Forces Battle To Protect Capital City

New War Materials Halt Retreat Of Loyalists

By Associated Press
Government forces, reinforced with new war materials, battled today to drive the Fascist line back from Madrid.

In the second day of one of the war's bloodiest battles, the Madrid army was shelling Torrejondevelasco preparatory to a renewed charge.

Fascists claimed they captured many prisoners "including 300 Russian soldiers."

Paris reports said the Madrid government had mobilized a secret army in southern Spain to strike the Fascist army's unguarded rear.

Sir Samuel Hoare, First Lord of the British Admiralty told the communist international organization dominated by Moscow not to interfere with England's affairs.

Government reports of victories were not confirmed by advances from the Fascist side of the lines where Gen. Jose Varela was declared to be organizing for a final push against Madrid. A weak socialist attack near Chapineria, 25 miles west of the capital, was repulsed, the insurgent high command said. Government officials had claimed the capture of three strategic cities by a counter-attack.

The sudden offensive of the government was launched simultaneously with a proclamation in Madrid by Premier Largo Caballero that the government now had a powerful force of tanks and airplanes with which to take the initiative away from the rebels.

Brooks later at Houston announced he would seek police protection for a meeting set tonight at Port Arthur.

Laboring Men Supporting Roosevelt to Prevent "Bread Lines" Again—McCraw

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 30. (Sp.)—Laboring men are supporting the candidacy of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and John N. Garner because they remember the "bread-line days" of four short years ago.

Attorney General William McCraw of Texas said in a campaign speech here last night.

"When enemies of Roosevelt tell you the New Deal stands for regimentation, remind them of the days when workers were regimented into breadlines and starving mothers were regimented into battalions of fear for the crust of charity," he said.

The Texan, who has been campaigning for the national ticket in Kansas and Oklahoma, spoke here with U. S. Attorney General Homer S. Cummings.

All other purported issues in the national campaign, McCraw asserted, are but Republican smokescreens to hide the real issue: "The worthiness of the Roosevelt administration for a continuance in power."

McCraw particularly took issue with the oppositions charge that the president is suggesting and recommending, and a Democratic Congress is passing, unconstitutional laws. "The record, McCraw declared, shows that of 69 acts of Congress declared unconstitutional in 146 years of national life, 22 were written by Democratic congresses, 42 by Republicans.

"It is not unnatural," he added, "that if we move into new fields of endeavor, even the most meticulous care will not always produce the exactness required by our Constitution. This has been the experience of all presidents, including Lincoln, whose administration fathered laws that later were declared unconstitutional; Theodore Roosevelt, with six, and Grant, with 12."

The President's concern for labor, McCraw said, is best reflected in the payroll record.

"Between 1929 and 1933, payrolls declined 62 per cent, every business was stagnant.

"Scan the months from March, 1933, to the spring of 1936, an record reads that payrolls have advanced 113 per cent.

"Three years of Democracy have given home owners an abundant opportunity to build anew; a banking system that protects the life-savings of wage earners which had been threatened by the shaky financial structure of the nation when Roosevelt took the reins."

McCraw termed "ancient campaign chatter" the cry of "some selfish employers that a Democratic victory will mean wage reductions."

"Four more years of Roosevelt," he said, "will put labor completely on a new and firmer foundation, for it will be built from the bottom up, not from the top down. The answer to these campaign charges, this Republican bugaboo, will be increased pay envelopes and more of them; the return of thousands of workers to constructive toil."

He declared those who would link the substantial laboring man with the "fanatical and weird political parties springing up from European forbears."

"Our labor class," he said, "is a hardy grip of skilled mechanics and artisans, carrying on the spirit of Samuel Gompers. During the great war, they constituted the sinews of manpower for our national defense. Today they are the God-fearing and law-abiding builders of our nation—yesterday and today the hope of America and her future."

The Republican candidate, he charged, is traddling the labor issue. An instance, he said, was his position on the company unions.

"The company union," McCraw declared, "is sorry savior for the ills of the worker. A labor leader asked Mr. Landon for his views on this subject. 'Are you for them or against them?'"

"Landon answered, 'Yes.' That was a typical Landon reply."

CENTENNIAL WILL OPEN AGAIN IN '37

June 12 Named Opening Date for World's Fair Encore

DALLAS, Oct. 30. (P)—Fred Florence, President of the Texas Centennial Exposition, announced that the $25,000,000 show would be re-opened in 1937.

Demand for Dallas business men for a new exposition caused the board of directors to announce June 12 as the opening date. The present exposition closes Nov. 29.

Mrs. A. E. Collins, mother of Bill Collins, has gone to Crane to spend two days with her daughter, Mrs. W. Phillips, before returning to her home in San Angelo.

400 Party Members In State, Brooks Alleges

PORT ARTHUR, Oct. 30. (P)—Homer Brooks, communist candidate for Governor of Texas, arrested yesterday when found with circulars advertising a communistic speech, estimated today the party has about 400 Texas members, "about 20 in the student body of Texas University."

A few days ago a legislative investigation was abandoned after trying to bring out evidence that communism existed at the university.

Brooks and two companions were held in jail for a few hours, finally taken to the city limits, told to "get out and stay out."

Brooks was placed in the city jail and booked for "investigation" after which police chief H. F. Baker announced he would not allow any communist candidate to speak here.

Governor Allred, in Tucumcari, N. M., when informed of Brooks' arrest said that if Brooks was arrested "because of his political views I hope they will release him at once and give him a soap box to speak on."

COCHRAN WELL IS CLEANING AFTER NITRO EXPLOSION

Northern Discovery Bridged When Shot

BY FRANK GARDNER
The Cochran discovery, Honolulu, Cascade and Devonian No. 1 E. B. Duggan, was shot at 1:45 yesterday afternoon with 160 quarts of nitro from 5,019 to 5,060. Immediately after the shot it made a flow lasting two minutes, subsided for two minutes, then made another two-minute flow before bridging completely. Cleaning out is now in progress.

Before running shot, the well was swabbed to bottom and filled up 700 feet in two hours, or at the rate of 14 barrels per hour. It has been heading an average of 60 barrels per day for the past two weeks. It was plugged back to 5,068 when a bailer and a half of salt water per hour developed in drilling to 5,098. First pay discovery at 5,095, with increases logged further down. The northern strike is located in the center of labour 13, league 55, Oldham county school land.

Eleven miles to the southeast, Texas Co. No. 1 Slaughter, Hookley wildcat is cleaning out at 2,850, bottomed at 3,015.

Extension Well Shooting

R. H. Henderson and others No. 1 Parker, new three-quarter mile southwest extension to the Fuhrman pool in Andrews county is shooting today with approximately 650 quarts of nitro from 4,200 to bottom at 4,556. Natural, it swabbed from 5 to 10 barrels an hour through 2-inch up-set tubing at 4,545 perforated in the bottom six feet.

Humble No. 8 R. M. Means, south offset to the Humble No. 1 Spinks extension to the Means pool of Andrews, pumped 156 barrels of oil on the 24-hour automatic gauge. It drilled to a total depth of 4,555 feet and was treated with a total of 4,000 gallons of acid.

The No. 9 R. M. Means, northeast extension test, is drilling at 2,104 feet in salt. It reportedly topped anhydrite at 1,970.

New Glasscock Tests

Fleethorn Oil Corp. has made location for two tests in the area of Glasscock county recently proved by the Dodson & Duffey No. 1 Carter discovery. Fleethorn No. 1 Block Arrow is in the northeast corner of section 13, block 34, township 3 south, T. & P. survey, one mile west of the discovery and nearly a mile north of the Fleethorn No. 1 Dodson dry hole drilled early this year.

The other new Fleethorn location in the area is the No. 1 Coulson, 330 feet out of the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 19, block 33, township 3 south, T. & P. survey. It is a mile southeast of the dry hole and two miles south of the discovery. Barney A. Duffey of Abilene is the contractor and is rigging up machines to carry the tests to contract depths of 3,000 feet unless production or sulphur water is encountered at shallower depths.

Mollison became the first man to fly a plane across the Atlantic three times when he completed the hop.

Mollison took off from Harbor Grace yesterday after spending Wednesday night there following a flight from New York. Weather conditions forced him to delay his take-off from Harbor Grace for several hours.

POSSIBILITY OF A NATION-WIDE HALT IN WORK FORESEEN

Eastern, Gulf Ports May Join With Workers

GULF AREA QUIET

Texas Shipping Not Yet Affected By Decision

By Associated Press
All Pacific coast shipping was paralyzed today by a strike of 37,000 maritime workers, members of seven federated unions.

The possibility arose of a spread of the strike to eastern and gulf ports, tying up virtually all American shipping.

Randolph Meriwether, western secretary of the Marine Engineers beneficial association, predicted a national strike.

The port-wide "sit-down" strike expected at New York at noon did not materialize. Union ship labor tonight is to vote on a general seaborard strike.

Disagreement over points of the new labor contracts caused the trouble to start. Little effect has as yet been made on Texas gulf ports.

It was indicated offshore operators refused to negotiate "fundamental issues" of the sailors involving demands for preferential union hiring and cash instead of time off for overtime.

The strike was originally scheduled for Wednesday midnight but negotiations, which appeared at first as if they would avert the strike, held up issuing the strike orders for about 30 hours.

From Buffalo, New York Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins announced she was making efforts by telephone to bring shipping workers and employers together for negotiations, saying she had hopes of arranging the parley.

On the Pacific coast squads of police are on duty to prevent a repetition of the bloody 1934 clashes.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. Oct. 30. — Just one of those speeches which Senator Borah refuses to make for the Republican ticket might easily clinch Illinois and her 29 precious electoral votes for Governor Landon.

Mention the "Lion of Idaho" to any regular G. O. P. politician in Illinois and you produce an instantaneous explosion.

For Illinois—one of the states which Landon must carry to beat Roosevelt—is dangerously doubtful. And Borah, whose power in the state was demonstrated when he jolted Col. Frank Knox by carrying everything in the presidential primaries outside of Cook County, has left the party singing the mournful melody and bitter refrain of "Here Am I, but Where Are You?" So many cross-currents, concealed dangers, new unguessable, possible phenagings and magoozings are to be found that few gamblers dare offer odds worth mentioning on the outcome.

Democrats Stare Late
Democrats have begun their campaign late, not really starting until the president's Chicago speech. In April's primaries they piled up a half million more votes than Republicans and Illinois then seemed a sure New Deal bet.

Vigorous Republican efforts since Landon's nomination have produced some backswing. Whether the Republicans can successfully meet the impact of the Chicago, state, and federal Democratic patronage machines Nov. 3 may depend on the amount of money they can toss into the pot.

Mayor Kelly of Chicago says privately Roosevelt will get 1,100,000 votes in Cook County and Landon between 800,000 and 850,000. If Kelly and Boss Paddy Nash and their city machine can make good on that estimate, it may be too bad for the Republicans, who aren't hoping for much better than a 200,000 plurality in the rest of the state.

Roosevelt carried Illinois by 450,000 in 1932 and Hoover by 650,000 in 1928. Roosevelt's 1932 lead came half from Chicago and half from downstate.

In Chicago one hears Horner will run behind Roosevelt; downstate, that he will run ahead. On the other hand, you can hear many voters say they'll vote for Roosevelt and Brooks, which doesn't help clear the picture.

The extent to which the feud between Horner and the Kelly-Nash machine has been patched up is uncertain. Some believe Kelly and Nash are sharpening the knife for Horner in Cook County. But preponderant opinion is that they'll go down the line for Roosevelt, if only to preserve a stand-in at Washington in case he is re-elected.

Effect of state contests on the national elections in Illinois is variously interpreted. Gov. Henry Horner, who trounced the Kelly-Nash machine in April after it tried to deny him a renomination, is battling for re-election against Republican "Curly" Wayland Brooks, former assistant state's attorney in Chicago.

'Liberty' Essay Adjudged Best

Law to Curb Vote Frauds
Regardless of how honest the count is, the Chicago election probably will be more honest than usual, because a new permanent registration law which Horner put thru is expected to keep many thousand "dead men" from voting.

Cook County registration has topped 2,000,000 more than half the population for the first time. Republicans describe this as a rush to protest against the New Deal and Democrats say it's part of an uprising of the "underprivileged."

The old-time Chicago newspapers are loaded with anti-New Deal propaganda. Only the tabloid Chicago Times, which has shown tremendous circulation increase, champions the New Deal.

The downstate Republican plurality in the last Republican presidential year was 253,000. Old-timers are sure it won't be that big in 1936. One reason is that the poll taken by the Illinois State Journal of Springfield in Sangamon and surrounding counties gave Landon only 16,042 votes as compared with 14,860 for Roosevelt.

The State Journal is 100 per cent pro-Landon.

Of 16,698 ballots in Sangamon county, representing about a third of the vote, Landon had a plurality of 177, which would indicate a November margin of around 500 as compared with the county's normal G. O. P. plurality of 5000.

Lemke Shows Strength
Lemke ran strong in the State Journal poll. Of 1475 ballots for him in Sangamon County, 699 came from the 1932 Roosevelt voters and 669 from 1932 Hoover voters.

Downstate farmers are likely to decide the Illinois result. Except in a small area, they have escaped the drought. Their emotions seem mixed between anger over agricultural imports and pleasure over greatly improved farm prices. Republicans need much better than a 50-50 break on the farms to give them the state.

Labor appears to be strongly for Roosevelt. Labor's Non-Partisan League is distributing from 400,000 to 600,000 propaganda tabloids each week, as well as sending three caravans through the state.

An important exception is the strong Progressive Miners' Association downstate, most of whose members will vote for Lemke or Landon, because they believe a vote for Roosevelt is a vote for their enemy, John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers.

The Progressive League is active for Roosevelt, managed by Borah's pre-convention manager, but speeches by such old line anti-New Deal Democrats as Al Smith, Jim Reed, and Joseph Ely are also having some effect.

G. O. P. Courts Negro Vote
Republicans are fighting hard to regain the Negro vote, concentrated largely in Chicago.

Two nationally famous colorful characters help to make the Illinois race a good show. Senator Jim Ham Lewis is bowing up and down the state with his inimitable courtliness and costuming, making daily pro-New Deal speeches. His Republican opponent, Ex-Senator Otis Glenn, is being touted as the man chiefly responsible for Republican victory in the Senate fight over confirmation of Chief Justice Hughes.

Ex-Mayor Big Bill Thompson of Chicago, famous foe of King George III, tears around Illinois as the Lemke candidate for governor. Big Bill still has a following, especially among Negroes, and he may poll 100,000 votes.

At least that's a different one from the "too wet to plow" excuse.

With all this wet fall and the good late feed, Bill Bryant and Tom Nance have cut their feed but have not picked a boll of cotton. This is one of those times when just anybody would like to have a cotton crop.

I am glad I don't set myself up as a weather fore-caster. Today is one I would have missed. If anybody had asked me late yesterday what today would be like, I would have guessed a dry, cold norther.

Harry Hines told about an eminent psychologist who visited a college class and got into an argument with the professor. The psychologist declared that the students of today can't concentrate and just don't compare in intellect with the young men of his time.

The professor took up for the class, saying they were the last word in intelligence. He invited the psychologist to test them and determine if they had good sense.

The psychologist put this question: "If a train leaves New York for Los Angeles traveling at 80 miles per hour, and another leaves Los Angeles for New York at the same rate of speed, how old would that make me?"

"Forty-four," was the prompt answer from a student in the back of the room.

"My good man, I was forty-four last week, but how did you figure it out?" asked the psychologist.

"Well," explained the student, "I have a brother who is twenty-two and he's half crazy."

Popular Win Vote For Alf Predicted By Literary Digest

Landon receives 1,293,669 votes to Roosevelt's 972,897 and Lemke's 83,610 votes out of a grand total of 2,376,523 ballots tallied in the final returns of The Literary Digest's Presidential Poll of the forty-eight states.

The balance of the votes are divided 11,822 for Thomas, 9,485 for Browder, 3,771 for Colvin, 683 for Aiken and 586 for others.

The magazine observes in its columns that the tabulated figures represent the voted ballots just as they were received, neither weighted, adjusted nor interpreted. It is also noted that ballots were sent out to better than one out of every five voters in the entire nation.

"Never before in an experience covering more than a quarter of a century in taking polls have we received so many different varieties of criticism." The Literary Digest states in its columns, "praise from many; condemnation from many others—and yet it has been just of the same type that has come to us every time a poll has been taken in all these years.

"Are the figures in this poll correct? We make no claims at this time for their absolute accuracy. On a similar occasion we felt it important to say:

"In a wild year like this, however, many sagacious observers will refuse to bank upon appearances, however convincing. As for The Literary Digest, it draws no conclusions from the results of its vast distribution of twenty million ballots. True to its historic non-partisan policy—or 'omni-partisan' as some editor describe it in 1928—we supply our readers with the facts to the best of our ability, and leave them to draw their own conclusions.

A lunch will be served by the ladies at the church at noon, with the Belle Bennett circle in charge of the afternoon session beginning at 1:30 in a foreign special for the Hiroshima College for Women in Japan.

Interesting Program And Needle Work At Home Art Meeting

The Home Art Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. J. B. Neill Thursday afternoon at 3 p. m. and an interesting program presented before the afternoon's work began.

Mrs. B. W. Reecer opened the program with her paper on "Work of the Flapper's Great Grandmother," followed by Mrs. Ray Parker, "Embroidery Primrose of the Past"; and Mrs. Iris Bounds, "An Indian Embroidery of the Nughal Period."

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in needlework with an attractive salad plate, continuing the Hallowe'en theme in the room decorations, served to Meses, Carl Balfuff, Joe Norman, M. D. Cox and Mrs. Ernest Neill, club guest, and Meses, Ray Parker, Guy Brennan, Julia Fliscn, G. L. Wright, B. W. Reecer, and the hostess.

Methodist Juveniles Celebrate Hallowe'en

Sixty-one hilarious members of the Intermediate department of the First Methodist church were entertained at a Hallowe'en party in the Methodist annex Thursday evening, which was cleverly transformed into a witch's paradise by Miss Bessie Flournoy, who was in charge of the decorations.

One of the central features of the evening was the costume contest, at which Rev. Cliff M. Epps and Wesley Hull were named the most appropriately dressed.

Another high light of the gay evening was three booths the first of which was a "Kissing Booth" under the sponsorship of Cleo Tidwell where the hopeful were duped by chocolate kisses. Frank Nixon was in charge of the fortune booth, and Daphne Schaffer subdued her feminine charms under the disguise of a horrible witch in the third booth.

Mrs. Luther Tidwell, Mrs. E. V. Guffey, and Mrs. Noel Oats were in charge of the refreshments at the hot dog stand, where the festive makers enjoyed iced punch and piping hot dogs as the last part of a good party.

Joshua Reynolds, Thomas Edson, Ludwig von Beethoven, and Harriet Martineau were among deaf persons whose lives were notably successful.

WHY PUT UP WITH PIMPLES, WRINKLES AND A SALLOW SKIN?

So many women throw their charm and beauty away—look years older than they are—because they neglect common constipation. They forget that badly balanced meals, over a period of years, can change how they look and feel.

Often their menus lack the "bulk" needed for regular habits. Then constipation, the beauty-killer, sets in. Other effects may be headaches, listlessness, sleeplessness.

Get "bulk" back into your meals with a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It absorbs moisture within the body, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal or in cooked dishes. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Jesse James Dead? "He" Says He'll Be In Midland Nov. 3

"I am still alive. I was not shot, as history records, on April 3, 1882. Charles Bigelow was Bob Ford's victim."

Thus says Jesse James, who claims to be the original Missouri outlaw and who will be seen in person on the stage of the Ritz theatre on Tuesday, November 3rd.

James maintains that the shooting by Ford was a frame-up and that he exchanged marks of identification with the slain man and escaped. His hiding lasted fifty-one years, during which time he went under the name of "Jim Williams."

Hale and hearty at the age of 89, James has a remarkable clear memory, and in his appearance at the Ritz theatre he will tell the inside facts about his notorious career.

In addition to Jesse James in person the Ritz theatre will offer Hank Farris and Ann Alexander, cowboy entertainers, in a thrilling fancy roping and Australian whip-cracking presentation.

Also, on the screen will be "15 Maiden Lane" with Claire Trevor, and Cesar Romero.

GRIDIRON HEROES
By BLOSSER
DIXIE has turned out some great grid-diggers in modern football, but it is doubtful if any of them did as much toward putting southern football on the map as did Alvin "Bo" McMillin, present Indiana University coach.
It was in 1921 that Bo led a doughty, praying band of southerners from little Centre College, Danville, Ky., into stake Harvard's vast stadium. When the smoke of the battle had cleared, Centre had scored probably the greatest upset in the annals of the game, having prevailed 6-0.
It was Bo's generalship that won. Figuring that Harvard would watch him because of his running against the Crimson the year before, McMillin fed the ball to his mates until the Harvard line began to weaken in the third quarter. Then, with Red Roberts crashing a hole in the Crimson line, Bo carried the oval himself, sliced through the opening and sprinted down the field with the winning counter.
