

Senate Passes Clint Small Measure

Addition of 26 Houses to Give Impetus to Building

WOULD RESTRICT OLD AGE PENSIONS TO THOSE IN NEED

Form of Amendment To Omnibus Bill Of House

CUTS PAYMENTS

If Enacted, Half Of Grants Would Be Dissolved

AUSTIN, Oct. 17. (U)—The Senate Saturday adopted the proposal of Clint Small of Amarillo which restricted the old age assistance to persons strictly in need, and revises the pension setup. The proposition, in the form of an amendment to the omnibus tax bill passed by the house and authorized assistance on "necessitous circumstances."

The amendment written by Senator Grady Woodruff, Decatur, providing for equal pension payments was rejected. If the Small proposal is enacted into law, it cuts pensions costs in half.

The administration would be placed under a board of control and the present commission abolished. Senators Martin, Hillsboro Stone, Erenham, Collis, and Eastland, were among those who voted against the amendment.

Joe Caldwell, chairman of the House committee investigating committee, said that it was not widespread at Texas University but he believed it existed in spots. The committee is probing rumored advocacy of communism, atheism and other unAmerican "isms" in the state colleges. Thus far it has delved primarily in principles of Texas Progressive Democrats, the relations of leaders of the organization with Dr. R. H. Montgomery, who recently resumed teaching at the University after a year with the new Deal agencies in Washington.

Dr. Montgomery and two leaders of the political organization which was formed at the university testified they were progressives but said they were not communists.

COTTON GINNINGS IN COUNTY REACH 1,564 BALE TOTAL

Warm Weather Gives Impetus to The Gathering

Cotton ginnings at Midland reached a total early Saturday morning of 1,564 bales, with a decided increase in the daily output for the past week. Clear, warm weather which followed the rains early in the month gave impetus to the opening of cotton and was expected to substantially increase the yield for the 1936 crop.

No estimate was available as to the percentage already ginned, because in some sections of the county the opening had been more rapid than in others. The availability of pickers also affected the gathering of the crop differently on various farms. The most conservative estimates, however, placed the probable total at between 5,500 and 6,000 bales.

The three gins, at 9:30 a. m., Saturday, reported total bales ginned as follows:

Farmers' Co-operative	630
Williams & Miller	510
Midland Co-operative Soc.	424
Total	1,564

EXPECT ARREST TO SOLVE 7-YEAR-OLD MURDER MYSTERY

Believe Mexican Is Slayer of Former Patrolman

Arrest during the past week of a Mexican near Shafter, Texas, in connection with the slaying seven years ago of a border patrolman, recalled to Fount Armstrong the details of a mystery which had been regarded as unsolved.

Miles J. Scannell, nephew of Armstrong, by marriage, was slain September 9, 1929. In his duties as assistant chief United States Immigration Patrol inspector, he was found murdered 20 miles east of Presidio, on the Rio Grande. He had been stabbed 15 times and shot twice and his throat had been cut from ear to ear. The name of a Mexican, suspected for the murder meanwhile had been passed from officer to officer until during the past week Bob Sneed, constable at Shafter, made an arrest, placing the suspect in jail at Alpine.

Barry Soebbe, San Angelo Times correspondent, said the Mexican arrested was reported to have been caught smuggling sotol across the river. Reviewing the seven year old crime, he wrote:

When Scannell's body was found by his partner, working the river with him, looking for illegally entered aliens, Scannell's throat was cut from ear to ear. Scannell's gun and handcuffs were found, leading officers to believe that he had captured one of the group of aliens and that the prisoner's friends had rescued him.

Oil Heads By Cochran Well Presage Northernmost Pool

By FRANK GARDNER

Heading of oil late in the week by the Honolulu, Cascade and DeWitt No. 1, E. B. Duggan in southeast Cochran county virtually assured the West Texas province of its northernmost pool. The well started deepening Thursday below its old total depth of 5,038 and stopped at 5 p. m. Friday at 5,097. When tools were pulled, it made a five-minute head estimated at 29 to 30 barrels. Bailor was run immediately afterward, and the well then flowed for 15 minutes for an estimated 30 barrels more. An hour of swabbing put 33 barrels into tanks, and when crew went in with tools, fluid level was found to be 4,000 feet from bottom. The last definite report on the well was that it was drilling ahead at 5,069, but an unconfirmed rumor late last night put its depth at 5,080.

Since the Cochran wildcat logged its first oil showing from 5,025 to 5,038 it has been the focal point of interest among West Texas operators. A two-weeks delay while 7-inch casing was set and cemented 4,046 feet, to lessen the enthusiasm of oil men generally with regard to its possibilities and influence upon future Permian Basin development.

Shiplot of Arms Is Known Enroute To Spain

By Associated Press

Russia disclaimed any knowledge of a mysterious arms shipment Saturday while Madrid troops becked up "strategically" on the main highway from the west. Fascist columns pushed toward the capital from three directions.

Despite denials of knowledge by the government at Moscow concerning the Norwegian steamer Bjoenoey, it was reported to have left the Russian Baltic port with ammunition for Madrid.

Statements in Soviet-controlled press made it plain that an armed Soviet aid may be close at hand if not already a fact.

Madrid high command announced they had repulsed Fascists west of the capital though they admitted the main highway defenders had fallen back.

'MEASURING THE TEMPLE' SUBJECT AT CHURCH TODAY

Special Songs And Music Arranged For Service

Rev. C. A. Johnson, evangelist, who is doing the preaching at the revival of the First Christian church announced from the pulpit that he would preach Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock on the subject: "Measuring the Temple" and at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night on "A Downward Journey." Special songs and music have been prepared for both services Sunday.

The evangelist subject Saturday night was "A Lost Opportunity." Using Zebedee as an illustration, in a powerful and vivid way, he showed that when he missed seeing Jesus he lost the opportunity of a life time. Since he missed seeing Jesus, Zebedee also missed the miracles of Jesus, and the blessed words which fell from the lips of the Christ. Though his sons saw Jesus and followed the Christ closely, Zebedee was too busy with the things of this life to follow Christ. Rev. Johnson showed that when Zebedee failed to see the empty tomb, he lost all hope of an eternal resurrection and thus missed heaven. Because of the empty tomb, the evangelist declared, man has hope and surety of everlasting life.

For many years Rev. Johnson has been one of the leading pulpits men of the Christian Church of Texas. Splendid crowds have been attending the services. The congregation singing is under the direction of Rev. Winston F. Borum. The public is cordially invited to attend each service, beginning at 7:30 o'clock each evening.

Ballots Can Be Used As Blanket After Election

By JESS RODGERS

Printing of ballots for the general election to be held in the county was completed yesterday.

There should be no trouble getting rid of the ballots after they are counted this year. They can easily be sold for blankets. Approximately 200 names are listed on them!

Six parties—democrats, republicans, socialists, unionists, communists and prohibitionists—have a slate of would-be electors, 23 for each party with the exception of the communists. They only have 15. (Maybe that is all the members they have in the state—we don't know.)

Per usual, the democrats have the most names on the ballot. Why shouldn't they, they're in power? But they have a candidate for all offices ranging from president to justice of the peace. (Nothing personal, Judge Knowles.)

Names of the ones seeking the job as president are not listed. Instead of putting the names of a couple of persons up there at the top and letting a poor struggling voter decide on the party he wants to be president and vice-president. (And how do they get that way—connecting the name—ohm Garner and vice—he's just an ordinary politician. On second thought maybe that is the reason.) Now Knox, well he is a newspaper man, and to a lot of people that spells victory.

In addition to these counties, Region 12 has charge of the Resettlement Administration's program in all of New Mexico, the Texas Panhandle region, three counties in Oklahoma, twenty-five counties in Kansas and fourteen counties in Colorado. Ector, Midland and Glasscock counties constitute the southern line of Region 12 in Texas.

Mr. Hauter said the transfer of these counties from Region 8 to Region 12 would not create any material changes in the personnel of Resettlement Administration employees.

PROJECTS VALUED OVER $200,000 NOW UNDER WAY

Permits for Year To Rival Cities Of Southwest

MOSTLY HOMES

Business Houses And Postoffice Also Swell Total

Building construction at Midland, maintaining a steady pace throughout the year, has received an impetus within recent weeks which puts it well forward in the southwest, in comparison with cities under 50,000 population, a survey Saturday showed.

Projects under way at present total more than $200,000 and those completed in the next few weeks will run from $75,000 to $150,000, figures secured from the office of W. F. Prothro, building inspector, and other agencies showed. Permits for the year might approach the half million dollar mark.

Although most of the permits are for residences, the federal building, now well under way, and the north elementary school, for which bonds have been voted, will combine with other business structure projects to pass the $190,000 figure.

Added to the numerous houses just completed and the 23 now under construction here, Midland business men signed up to erect 26 additional houses, it was announced Saturday at the chamber of commerce where conferences with building agencies had been under way for several days. Much of the financing is being arranged through the Midland Federal Savings & Loan Association.

As result of the 26 additional houses, ten of which are for individual homes and 16 for rental purposes, two more oil companies probably will move here within a few weeks, adding approximately 100 new citizens.

Those contemplating homes for their own use include J. C. Smith, W. Clinton Lackey, Lee Cornelius, John P. Butler, George D. Phillips, J. R. Gribbins, W. R. Bowden, V. C. Maley, Roy Stockard, James Fitzgerald, W. R. Bennett, and Thomas Lee Speed. Practically all of those builders will make room for additional citizens by vacating property which they are now renting.

Houses to be built for rental by Addicks-Wadeley, W. R. Upham (now nearing completion), G. W. Brennan, T. R. Wilson, J. B. Ford, B. C. Girdley, W. F. Stonehocker, A. C. Weyman, Midland National Bank, Eddie Blacher, Clarence Schaubert, A. & L. Housden & Lumber Co., Mrs. J. H. Rhoden, Dr. W. G. Whitehouse and Angelo Smyrle.

Permits have been taken out for several non-residential projects within the past few days, including a plant and warehouse by the Standard Oil Co., of Texas, alterations of the J. O. Nobles building at Wall and Loraine streets, alterations of the Llano Hotel coffee shop space, and for a new tile and stucco warehouse to be constructed by J. B. Ford at his property at 1111 West Wall street. The warehouse will be fireproof, part of it electrically refrigerated.

Building permits indicate that the 23 houses now under construction are valued at $145,200. Non-residential structures are valued at approximately $5,500. The postoffice project will cost approximately $55,000.

Friendship of America And Canada Praised By Executive

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 17. (U)—President Roosevelt dedicated the civic stadium here today with the statement "such projects as these mean not only jobs for the needy but are a step toward building for the future."

He expressed happiness over the friendship between America and Canada. He said "you who live on the border, you who live on both sides of the border are responsible for the friendly feeling, the better understanding of the peace between nations."

This speech was the first of a series that is scheduled in northern New York. Later he dedicated the Federal Office Building at Buffalo.

TWO-DAY SAFETY CAMPAIGN ENDS HERE SATURDAY

1,863 Cars Pass In Tests Given By Patrolmen

The two-day safety lane campaign of Texas Highway patrolmen ended here Saturday afternoon after 1,863 cars had been tested and found without defects by the corps of officers.

Captain W. W. Legge, in charge of the campaign, expressed thanks and appreciation for all his men for the "wonderful cooperation" given them by residents and oficers of the city during their stay here.

Pointing out that the efficient manner in which the campaign here was carried out was due to the co-operation of citizens and officers of Midland, Legge said he was especially anxious to thank all for their help.

In comparison with the 1,863 cars found without defects that would

The officers announced they would return later to complete examination of many cars missed in the county and city. Persons given blue slips who have not had their cars fixed during that time will be summarily dealt with, Legge said.

Correcting a previous announcement that it was not mandatory for cars to go through the lane, officers said drivers could be forced to drive through.

Numbers of defects cited were as follows:

Mufflers	41
Lights	209
Horns	87
Steering gears	28
Windshield wipers	141

TREE 290 FEET UNDERGROUND
SYDNEY, Oct. 17 (AP)—A tree at the record depth of 290 feet below ground has been found by drillers in the Goondiwindi district of New South Wales. Drillings were being made for an artesian well when a hardwood log was encountered. From the same depth, the drill also brought up acorns similar to those of the river oak.

ONION CROP SMALLER
KENTON, O. (AP)—This year's crop in the nation's largest onion patch, the Hardin county marshlands, is expected to be reduced to 60 per cent its normal size, due to the drought. Harvest of the crop, which is expected to total 3,000 carloads, has begun.

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything).

The highway safety campaign will do a lot of good. Motorists were advised of mechanical defects of their cars and children were addressed at the schools on safety measures. A local man, who always tries to please, went to his doctor. "What are your symptoms?" asked the doctor.

"What symptoms do you suggest?" was the reply. "A local man despises capital. In fact, when he wrote a letter to this newspaper a while back, he refused to use a capital letter."

S. W. Papert, head of the Texas Daily Press League, national advertising representative for the Reporter-Telegram and other Texas dailies, wrote a column the other day for Old Tack in the Amarillo Globe-News. Among other good things, he made these statements about towns, as he has studied them:

To me towns are like people—with definite personalities. They are colorful—or harsh—or ugly—or dirty—or metallic—or laughing. My impressions of our Texas towns are perhaps well-based, being calculatedly developed through years of research and study. It happens to be my business. In the case of towns in which I do not have such a vivid interest, I sometimes wonder how much of my spot reactions are due to the mental leases I wear at the moment I see them. I don't suppose any junction town where the Pullmans are switched at 4:15 in the morning could look attractive to the irritated traveler, who has learned to dread the rude awakening and has never seen the town other than through sleep-swollen eyes, blinking out beneath the blinds into the half light of early dawn. Were train schedules rearranged, so that this same traveler spent the same few minutes in this same town while he was in the diner, his animal appetite stifled and the smoke from a good cigar forming a mellow screen to subdue the harshness of the vista, it is entirely possible that the town would take on a different personality to him.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—That one who knew the inside story of the LaFollette committee's investigation into labor espionage and anti-labor activities would have material for several fascinating mystery thrillers.

No one however, knows the undercover operations on both sides. Detective agencies made several attempts to place spies on the committee staff, but appear to have failed each time.

The committee's investigators, on the other hand, have encountered some detective agencies and anti-labor manufacturing corporations which have proved adept at quick destruction or concealment of records.

Unannounced aim of the committee is to place upon the witness stand and cross-examine such industrial captains as Myron Taylor of U. S. Steel, Alfred P. Sloan of General Motors, Charles Schwab of Bethlehem Steel, Henry Ford, and Paul Litchfield of Goodyear Tire & Rubber.

If these men and others of similar stature are subpoenaed, they will be questioned closely about the dominant anti-labor policy of America's big corporations. Existence of this policy has been thoroughly demonstrated in the committee's early hearings.

Link Is Missing
The committee doesn't intend to drag in the men at the top unless it can definitely link them with labor espionage and other hidden union-busting activities. And to date one is told, evidence showing that direct link has been scarce.

Nevertheless, committee investigators find some consolation in the boast that, between the investigation and the fear of it, American industry has reconstructed some of its methods of doing business. It requires many records to run an undercover of strikebreaking labor forces in a large plant and if the records of spy work and reports of labor spies are destroyed and labor espionage operations are carried on by telephone only, change to the new technique involves great pains and usually a loss in efficiency.

Most detective agencies, investigators believe, have destroyed their records having to do with labor work, whereas the biggest corporations are thought merely to have hidden their in supposedly safe spots, such as secret offices conducted on a speakeasy basis.

One of the nation's biggest corporations reported it didn't have a single scrap of paper concerning a $100,000 deal with a detective agency. The committee investigators declare they knew better, but couldn't prove it.

Witnesses Bare "Thuggery"
Apparently no company likes to admit that it buys large quantities of machine guns to use against its workers, hires men to join unions as "stool pigeons"—often to give information on the basis of which active union men are fired—or engages professional strikebreakers who deliberately stir up violence or damage property to discredit strikers.

Yet thugs who had been sent by detective agencies to work for corporations openly admitted such things before the committee and even told how hose had been connected with boilers to turn live steam on strikers.

But the industrialists who hire the strikebreakers and labor spies believe themselves justified in using any means to baffle the commit-

"The Pace That Kills" At The Ritz Theatre Oct. 19-20

When Ben B. Lindsey as Juvenile Judge in Denver was trying to awaken the public to the terrible facts of Juvenile Delinquency he was a target for all kinds of attacks. Clergymen thundered at him; politicians threatened him; scandal mongers assailed him; "Liar, charlatan, notoriety seeker," they shouted, "It couldn't happen to MY girl."

Yet Judge Lindsey was telling the truth—always. And he was helping, shielding, saving, the daughters of some of the very people who so bitterly attacked him. It could and it did happen to their daughters, and it can happen to almost any man's child unless the parents can be awakened to the danger that confronts the youth of today. The new production of "Pace That Kills" is a very frank and straightforward presentation of the facts of Juvenile Delinquency, traffic in dope and human souls. It affords serious food for thought for all parents as well as containing a tremendous warning to all the younger people.

Juvenile Delinquency is one of the great tragic developments of present day America that the public must take cognizance of. It is a problem that threatens the future if not the very life of the youth of every family. Changing the living conditions, changing moral standards, unavoidable, unhealthy contacts, coupled with growing parental neglect, have combined to produce a mental attitude in the rising generation that is causing the authorities and thinkers of the Nation grave concern.

Love, Suspense and Drama Make New Film Outstanding Triumph for March

STORIES IN STAMPS By I. S. Klein

DUTCH LEADER for SOCIAL REFORM

THE movement for more democratic government was spreading through Europe late in the 19th century. In Holland, Dr. H. J. A. M. Schaepman, renowned Roman Catholic priest, had been striving for social reforms, not only among his own communicants, but among all the people of the Netherlands.

This great priest, who was born in 1844, was famous as a poet and philosopher. His prose writings were as masterful as his poetry, and his political broadsides struck home forcibly. In 1887, he supported the liberal revision of the country's constitution.

Then he brought about a coalition between Roman Catholics and Protestants, by which a more united front could be made for social reform. As a result, in 1901, the coalition caused adoption of social legislation for compulsory insurance against illness, disability, and old age.

That great popular reform marked the height of Dr. Schaepman's efforts. He died in 1903, at the age of 59. In 1936, the Netherlands issued a stamp portraying the man.

The great love drama of the great war, "The Road to Glory", Twentieth Century-Fox production showing today and tomorrow at the Ritz Theatre reveals itself as one of the outstanding cinema achievements of the year.

Painted against a background of the seething kaleidoscope of battle no-man's-land, and war-torn France the film depicts love in all its phases. Love of heart-starved fighting men; love of a soldier father and hero son; love of a cause they all must serve; love of what our world calls glory.

Vibrantly enacted by an impressive cast including Fredric March, Warner Baxter, Lionel Barrymore, June Lang and Gregory Ratoff, the film tells a robust, dramatic story and maintains an intense suspense from beginning to end.

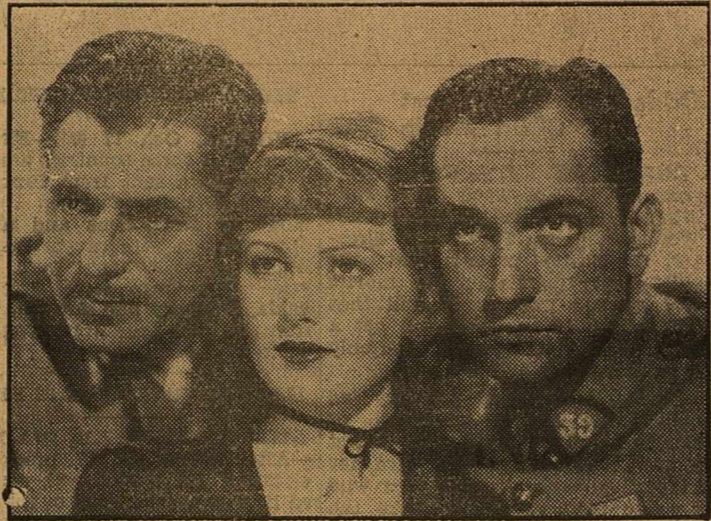

Baxter is seen as the hardbitten commander of a war-torn sector, whose only relief from the din of war is found in the arms of Monique, a petite French nurse. Baxter's chief aid, Fredric March, rescues Monique from an air raid, and debonairly commences to make love to her, unaware of the fact that Baxter loves the girl.

ARGENTINE DRINKS MORE GIN BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 17 (U.P.) - An increase in imports of whisky, gin and champagne and a decrease in wines during the first four months of 1936 as compared to a similar period the previous year is reported by the bureau of statistics. At the same time there was a reduction in the amount of wine exported.

HAWAII EXPORTS COFFEE HONOLULU (U.P.) - Hawaii produces 10,000,000 pounds of green coffee a year but uses only 5 percent of it. The rest is exported for blending. Each Hawaiian coffee tree produces approximately three pounds of berries annually.

Apple Delight Will

By NEA Service With the apple season full upon us and the markets offering so many delicious varieties of apples at this time, try this unusual way of making apples and cake dough blend into a sublime whole.

As a rule the flavor of apples is so delicate that it is lost when combined with cake dough - excepting always the great American apple pie.

Apple delights, too, are an exception, as you will agree, once you have tried the recipe. Visualize halves of apples, neatly fitted on top of crunchy cake dough baked in muffin tins so that they hold their shape, juicy and topped with whipped cream!

Apple Delights for Six Two cups flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup shortening, 1 cup milk, 1 egg, 6 ripe, firm apples.

If the apples used are winesaps (usually the most juicy), bake them, halved, on a greased pan in the oven until they begin to soften. Most other varieties of apples will not need this pre-baking.

Now for directions: Mix and sift the flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in the shortening with a knife.

Add the milk and the beaten egg and mix well. Drop tablespoons of this batter into large, well-greased muffin tins. Fill them about one-half full.

This amount of batter is enough for 12 apple delights, or two per person, serving six. Now peel the apples, cut them in half crosswise, and take out the cores.

Put each half (using six apples) on top of the batter, cut side down, and fill the holes with sugar.

Bake in hot oven 25 minutes until the apples are tender. At the end of that time the batter will be baked, too. Serve warm with a spoonful of whipped cream on top of each delight.

The cake dough has a delicious consistency, neither biscuit nor pastry, and yet crunchy and delicate. You can make half the amount by using three apples and half the batter recipe. If you use the largest-size muffin tin, you may find one delight per person enough.

This dessert will come out of the tins easily and be neat, round-mounds topped by nicely browned fruit.

Doctor Allays Fears About Soap, Water

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

"The only way of keeping the hair clean is by washing it with soap and water," writes Dr. Oscar L. Levin in his new book, "Keep Your Hair On."

"Washing never did and never will harm the hair," Dr. Levin continues. "It does not dry the scalp. It does not destroy the hair growth and it does not cause or increase dandruff. On the contrary, soap and water simply clean and do not lose their historic property when coming in contact with the scalp and hair."

"Normally the hair should be washed twice a week, but, if infection is present, once a day or even more often is not too much. People with dry hair claim that washing is not good for it. The truth is that if they washed their hair more frequently the scalp condition which causes dryness might then have a chance to be cured."

In the same chapter, Dr. Levin says that massage of the scalp—night and morning—should become just as much a ritual as brushing the teeth. He points out that massage stimulates hair growth by causing a freshening rush of blood to the scalp, nourishing all the tissues that have to do with the growth of the hair. He explains that it loosens the scalp generally, assures good circulation and promotes the growth of the fat pad under the scalp, thus preventing the degeneration of the scalp and hair follicles.

In addition to the 10 minute massage twice a day rule, Dr. Yevin lists several others which, from a medical point of view, are important to men, as well as women, who want to keep their hair and keep it healthy and attractive. Here are some of them:

"Each member of a family should have his own comb and brush and use no other. Brushing cannot be overdone, and it must become part of a daily routine.

"The best soaps to use on the scalp and hair are castile and tincture of green soap.

"For hair with a tendency to dryness, the white of an egg may be used in the water. After the shampoo, olive, almond or coconut oil may be rubbed into the scalp to advantage; or a cream, made from lanolin, glycerin and rose water in equal parts.

Smart Comfort Is The Goal Of Feminine Football Fan

NEW YORK—A two-fisted attack by style insurgents has knocked out conservatism, long champion of the men's gloves field. New style features have made their appearance on every hand. Stitching on the backs of gloves gets the wanderlust and rambles all the way up the fingers or down the cuffs.

Some gloves are associated with the different degrees of dressiness in hat models. For instance, a glove with lines stitched from cuff to knuckle and a wide-flaring wrist with a deep flapping vent in the back calls for the casualness of a snap brim felt. A wide flare at the hem of a pull on model is supposed to harmonize with the sweeping brim of a homburg. The hook-up between a bowler hat and the glove intended to go with it—a mocha button and buttonhole affair with four rows of spear-point stitching to the finger tips—is a bit obscure, but there it is.

The deep, curved "V" cut into the heavily corded cuff of another model can scarcely be called anything else but a scallop. Or if that seems to be getting too close to feminine frillery, you might like the other extreme, where heavy black waxed baseball thread or leather thongs, replacing ordinary sewing thread, lace front and back together into a very he-man mitt.

Utility Not Forgotten
Utility goes hand in glove with style. A new "wrist free" model has a cuff over an inch shorter than normal for the sake of men annoyed by long glove cuffs continually catching in coat cuffs. On the other hand, there's the chap who affects turned back cuffs as a "carefully careless" detail. He will like the new pull-on with a self-lining that hides the rough reverse side of the leather when the cuff is turned. Another maker lifts the curse of fumbling coins out of a pocket by stitching non-skid ridges on the thumb and forefinger. The swashbuckling gauntlet with a navy spruce pull-on slings firmly by virtue of a gathered elastic at the wrist. And the ubiquitous zipper, used as a glove fastener, gives the all-thumb fellows who struggle with recalcitrant snaps or buttons a reprieve from the booby-hatch.

There are also some interesting new leathers and novelties in staples. One glove has a strongly-marked criss-cross grain that looks for all the world like elephant hide. It turns out to be English sheepskin, buffed to bring out the original coarse markings.

Light Shades to Fore
The new tanning makes goat-skin soft and easy on the hand, so this long wearing leather comes to the fore, both au naturel and with added grainings that simulate seal, walrus and other rough leathers. The ever popular pigskin and mocha show lively new light shades. The latest in pig is a light chamois tone, with the grayish tan known variously as peccan, butternut or cork continuing the hit it made last year. The newest shade of mocha is a delicate gray called sand.

Originally intended only for sports wear, but persistently forcing their way into town are knit gloves, both wool and cotton. The best bets to add bright accents to spectator sport outfits are the woolen ones knit in vividly colored Scotch and Scandinavian peasant patterns.

PLAYERS! LEARN WITH THE AMERICAN BOY

Boys and young men who want to improve their crawl stroke, their basket shooting, their hurdling, their tennis backhand, or their ball carrying, can enlist the aid of the nation's foremost coaches and players by subscribing to THE AMERICAN BOY magazine and following the sports interviews and fiction stories that appear each month.

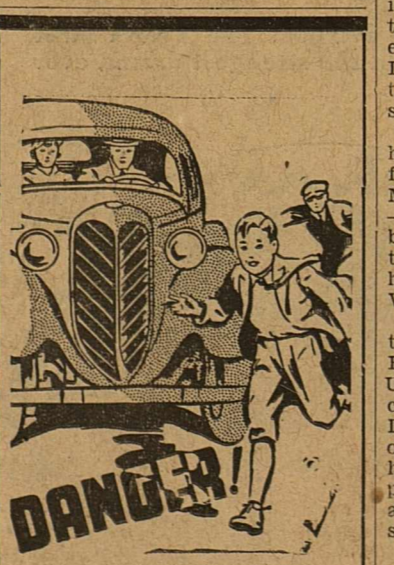

For the coming year staff writers have gone to two of the greatest football teams in the country—Minnesota and Southern Methodist—for the first hand tips on strategy, blocking, ball carrying, passing, and the fine points of line play. They have written the story of Bobbie Wilson, All-American halfback.

They have interviewed famous track coaches like Bernie Moore and Bob Simpson. Have gone to the University of Oklahoma to learn how college champions wrestle, to Notre Dame for the story of the building of a great basketball team. They have sought out famous baseball players, swimmers, tennis champions and All-American backs, to get their story of how to play the game.

AMERICAN BOY fiction is jammed with instructive background details telling how to play a better game. And the rest of the magazine is jammed with adventure, exploration, vocational help and articles vital to boys.

Ohio State University's track head, coach of the famous sprinter and low hurdler, Jesse Owens, and himself a former hurdling star, has learned to hurdle from articles in THE AMERICAN BOY. "I used to cut out hurdling pictures and duplicate them in front of a mirror. Then on the track I'd follow that form."

Today thousands of future champions are just as eagerly following THE AMERICAN BOY. Send your subscription to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. Enclose with your name and address $1 for a year's subscription, $2 for three years, and add 50 cents if you want the subscription to go to a foreign address. On newsstands, 10 cents a copy. Odds Pile Up Against Child Movie Star

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Keep youngsters out of Hollywood unless Hollywood sends for them, advises Wesley Ruggles, Paramount director. He warns parents that the child-player population of movies city exceeds 1,200 today and that only about 10 per cent will get a chance before the camera, then only in "atmospheric parts."

Known in the film industry as one of the leading developers of star material, Ruggles in his latest picture, "Valiant is the Word for Carrie," presents two children who are the most recent to make the camera grade.

One is Charlene Wyatt, 5-year-old daughter of a Los Angeles milkman, and the other is 10-year-old Jackie Moran.

"They're both great," said Ruggles during a visit to New York. "They're going places."

After he had hazarded the guess that 95 per cent of parents would like to see their children in movies, Ruggles said:

"Let me try to do a good deed for such fathers and mothers; a warning, a chain letter—anything that will keep them from taking their youngsters to Hollywood."

CCC in Hawaii Adds Miles To the Park Highways

HONOLULU, (U.P.)—Through tropical tree fern forests and over black lava beds, 84 miles of modern highway have been completed in the Hawaii National Park on the islands of Maui and Hawaii, according to Superintendent Edward G. Wingate.

This is the only national park in America which is literally split in two. Most of it lies on the "big island," Hawaii, encompassing two active volcanoes, Mauna Loa and Kilauea, but the boundary also extends to Maui to include Haleakala, gigantic extinct crater.

As a complement to the roads, 120 miles of trails have been finished in the Hawaii area of the park by CCC youths who at times were forced to work within a mile of lava flowing from Mauna Loa, during its eruption several months ago.

The trails run from sea level to an elevation of approximately 14,000 feet.

The Dead Sea, of Palestine, contains no living creature since it is too salty for life. Its chemical contents have been estimated to be worth more than $1,200,000,000,000.

What's In a Name? Answer is Spelling

SAN FRANCISCO, (U.P.)—Pascal Vangel has discovered what's in a name—and the answer is "spelling." When he first came to the United States from Greece, the immigration inspectors misspelled his name and made it "Vagel." He fought in the World War under that name. But now his wife cannot vote because his real name does not correspond with his first identification papers. He has asked the courts to fix it so Mrs. Vangel can vote.

Reviews Book Of Civil War Times Before New Club

"Gone With the Wind," by Margaret Mitchell, was reviewed by the Rev. Edward P. Harrison, O. M. I., at the first meeting of the newly organized Book Review Club here Saturday evening.

The meeting held at the district court room, was opened by Judge Chas. L. Klapproth who inaugurated the club and outlined its purposes.

In "Gone With the Wind", Margaret Mitchell gives the readers the Civil war through southern eyes. Her heroine, Scarlett O'Hara, introduced as a southern belle in her teens, and her family are seen through the perilous war times, victims of hardships after living in former luxury. The heroine then is revealed in her true character. Details of the reconstruction period are sharply drawn.

Exercises, Messages Required For Hands

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

Assuming she has no distorted bone structure, there is no reason why any woman cannot have beautiful hands at infinitesimal expense and regardless of the kind of work she does. She must realize, however, that hand beauty doesn't just happen. It is something which requires constant, though simple, attention.

Regular manicles (home or professional); use of hand lotion or cream—or a home made substitute for them—two or three times a day; two minutes of exercise and a brief massage once a day; an oil treatment once a week—these are the rules. Follow them and you will no longer be ashamed of the appearance of your hands.

Develop Attractive Contours

Hand exercises are more important than most women seem to realize. Exercises develop musculature and flesh the give hands and fingers attractive lines.
"Once a day, sit in a straight chair and let your arms hang limp at your sides. Then lift your hands and make believe that you are shaking water from your finger tips. Keep fingers relaxed and make wrists do the work."
Now rest your elbows on a table and clench your fists. Open slowly; clench again, repeat ten times. Use your left hand to bend

Reception to Honor Bishop Lucey Here

Invitations have been mailed for a reception to be held next Sunday honoring the Most Reverend Robert Emmet Lucey, D. D., to be given by the Rev. Edward P. Harrison, O. M. I., at the Crystal ballroom of the Hotel Scharbauer, Sunday evening, October 25.

An address by Bishop Lucey is scheduled, many local citizens having been invited to hear him and attend the reception. Bishop Lucey will be here for confirmations at 5 p. m. Sunday.

Your right one forward as far as it will go, then backward. Unless the hand being bent resists the pressure the muscles will not be properly exercised. Reverse and repeat bending left wrist with right hand.

Do Exercises Before Retiring

Imagine that you are pulling taffy which is getting quite cold and stiff. Bring the fingers of both hands together, then force them outward.

It is best to do the exercises just before you go to bed and to finish with a massage. Rest your elbows on a table, apply a good hand cream or your night cream, manipulate the palm of each hand with thumb of the other. Massage downward from extended fingertips to wrists, paying special attention to cuticle and knuckles. Don't stop until some of the cream has been absorbed and your hands are warm and tingling.

In cold weather, at least, it is a good idea to put warm olive oil on hands and wrists one night a week and to wear clean cotton gloves while you sleep. You need a complete manicure once a week of course, and, between these, a few whisks with an emery board and a fresh coat of polish. Don't forget to use cuticle cream several nights a week. These are designed especially to keep cuticle smooth, and even and to prevent nails from becoming dry and brittle.

A picnic supper was served to the following members. Mmes. W. D. Pauson, A. C. Cummings, W. W. Wimberly, Miller, E. Z. Wren, Arnett, M. L. Wyatt, Mary L. Quinn, Prudie Watson, Annie Barron, Martha Hollaway, and the visitor, Mrs. White from Stanton, Texas.

Alternate Good, Bad Football Gives Bulldogs Victory

WAFFORD LEADS WAY TO A HARD EARNED GAME

Second Team Men Outstanding For The Winners

The Midland Bulldogs, playing alternate good and bad football, defeated a desperate, hard fighting Crane team in that city Friday night by a 20-0 score.

The Crane crew took the offensive early in the first quarter and for a while made it appear that not only would they make their first tally of the season but would come up with their first victory. With about half the team leading interference for Williams, speed merchant of the district, they swept around first the right and then the left end positions to make a serious threat before the game was a half-dozen minutes old. A fumble just outside the Midland 20 brought relief to Bulldog supporters just as they were about ready to concede a score for the Cranes. The Crane boys admitted after the game that they had been "pointed" for the game with the Bulldogs and they showed it all through the game. They played inspired football all through and it was not until the closing minutes that any clear superiority was shown by the winners. And that came only after the lighter Crane boys had been worn down through a combination of the heavier Midland boys and lack of suitable replacements.

Wafford was again the bright light for the Midland club but, fortunately, he had a lot of help from other members of the club or his efforts might have gone for naught. The Bulldog second team looked far better in the last few minutes than did the first string. Due credit must be given for the fact that the Crane boys were tired out, but the Midland subs showed more spirit and fight than did the first team while in there.

The work of Van Dyke at end and Roberts in the backfield was the most impressive work of the subs. Van Dyke showed better form than any end has exhibited at any time this season and may gain a starting assignment in the Wink game because of it.

Wafford made the first Midland score early in the second quarter when he plunged through the line for a couple of yards after a series of plunges by him coupled with some passes to Barber had placed the ball at that point. Only a short time later he plowed through from the Crane 11 yard stripe for another ally. The half ended with Midland leading 13-0. The final score came in the last period when Taylor crashed over from the one-foot line after he and Roberts had cooperated in carrying it that far. Adams kicked the goal. The most serious threat made by Crane came in the third quarter

The SPORTS HORN

BY JESS RODGERS

Lord, have mercy on the Midland Bulldogs ends this week. It is a cock-eyed, emphatic cinch that Bud Taylor and Dutch Baumgarten won't.

Had the ends played their positions as did other members of the Bulldogs Friday night the Crane bunch would never have been as troublesome as they were. The boys seem to be unable to realize that when the club is on the defense they are supposed to serve as "cannon fodder." If they don't get the tackles no one cares. What they are supposed to do is bust up the offensive's interference. And Van Dyke is the only one that seemed to have ever heard of the idea in the game.

Rountree is going to have plenty of trouble winning his place back after comparisons are made between his play and that of the heretofore substitute flankman. Van Dyke turned in the best game so far exhibited by any Midland end this season.

And speaking of interference, the Crane boys had it in great quantities. Only superb work by the Midland backs kept Williams, gresser of the Cranes, from getting loose a dozen times. That boy is good, and make no mistake about it. He has speed to burn and has more movements in his hips than a hula-hula dancer.

On the whole, the local coaches have nothing to be proud of. It was the second team that showed most of the ability and life demonstrated by the Bulldogs. Little "Preacher" Roberts showed a lot of ability while in there and should get a lot of service during the rest of the season.

To get back to the ends. The Wink offensive is 90 percent inside or outside the ends. Some deluxe little blockers block them either in or out as the situation demands. That's where they are going to hit Midland. Also through the air. So far, they haven't had to take to the air, but their practices are not secret and several that have watched their workouts reports they have an air attack that is plenty potent. Midland looked tough at times

Syracuse Special

By Harry Grayson

NEW YORK.—Bill Terry performed a herculean task in bringing in the New York Giants down in front with one good knee. Jimmy Dykes is entitled to all the nice things said about him for putting the Chicago White Sox where they finished.

Joe McCarthy was his usual level-headed self at the helm of the Yankees. Chuck Dessen got all there was in the Cincinnati Reds out of them, but baseball men at the world series credit Zucky Harris with the best job of major league managing in 1936.

In the spring, experts rated the Washington club just above the Philadelphia Athletics, who were expected to do everything but fall out of the American League. Washington tied Chicago for third place only a half game behind the dethroned rulers, the Detroit Tigers, and in front of Cleveland and Boston clubs which were considered hot shots at the outset.

The Red Sox let Harris go at the conclusion of the 1934 campaign, after a rather misfit organization had finished fourth. Tom Yawkey and Eddie Collins brought in Joe Cronin, Jimmy Foxx, Roger Cramer, Eric McNair, Johnny Marcum, Heinie Manush, and Oscar Melillo, all costly athletes.

Yet in 22 games played with Boston, during the season just closed, Washington captured 14 and lost 8.

Harris Takes Turn At Outrading Red Sox
Harris took his turn at out-trading the Red Sox, too. Everybody out-trades the Red Sox.

Bucky gave Heinie Manush for Roy Johnson and swapped Johnson for Carl Reynolds. He swapped Johnson and Bump Hadley for Jimmy DeShong and Jesse Hill of the Yankees.

DeShong turned out to be a star. Reynolds and Hill were of considerable use and the excellent trading material. Manush was on the sidelines with injuries a good share of the time, and has been released by the Red Sox.

In June, Harris sent Jack Russell to Boston for Joe Casarella and a sizeable sum. Casarella, who had not won a game for the Hub outfit grabbed nine for the Senators. Russell failed to help the Red Sox, and has been discharged.

Harris contends that he was treated rather shabbily by the wealthy Boston club, and it goes without saying that he derived considerable personal satisfaction out of both the final standing of the Washington and Boston clubs and the outcome of their deals.

Hickory Shafts Check Fischer's Fast Swing
Johnny Fischer was the only man in the Garden City field who carried a full set of hickory shafted irons.

"I have an abnormally fast swing, and hickory shafts help slow it down," explains the new national amateur champion. "They have more resistance. I'm not so apt to rush the blade and hit from the top of my swing with springy wooden shafts. Steel shafts probably are better for most golfers, but hickory just happens to suit my game."

"Without hickory shaft, I would not have been able to keep my straight-faced iron boring low into the terrific storm in which Johnny Goodman and I played our semi-final match."

"Besides, those six-year-old leather grips of mine got soggy rather than the ground this afternoon and left it very beautiful. We surely do appreciate the work he did.

Miss Hazel Self, McClintic school teacher, Saturday expressed appreciation to city school officials for their cooperation whereby three students of her school were able to make the Centennial trip early in the week. Particular thanks were expressed for the aid of Superintendent Lackey, Principal Shifflet and Miss Kirby.

The students of the school are planning for a big Halloween party and the house is being decorated and other plans are being made.

The toy orchestra being arranged by the school is near completion and new records for the school victrola have been purchased to use with the orchestra. Also, several new school song books are being purchased by the students.

Founded in 1885, Midland got its name because it was half-way between Fort Worth and El Paso on the newly completed Texas and Pacific Railroad.

Compare Midland today with the "hitching post" era of the frontier cattle days. The Horses and Buggies have been discarded for the latest model cars; and the frame stores have been supplanted by modern brick and stone buildings.

Along with the development and progress a need arose for the best method of heating and cooking. Inadequate and costly fuel was replaced by sweet Natural Gas which necessitated about 230 miles of pipe line so that the gas user could be assured of instantaneous and continuous service from one of the largest gas fields in the world.

Because of the new low gas rate and due to the versatility of gas—which can be used for heating, cooking and refrigeration—it has become an indispensable necessity and the homes best bargain.

The average consumer in Midland over a yearly period can heat his home, cook, refrigerate the food, and have plenty of hot water to take care of all his needs on a daily basis, for less than the price he pays for a quart of milk.

British Breeds Bought To Aid U. S. Cattlemen

WASHINGTON, (U.P.)—Foreign breeds of livestock are being introduced into this country by the Department of Agriculture so that Americans will have better things to eat.

From England recently came 3 South Devon cattle, four large black hogs, 22 white Wyandotte chickens, and 11 white Austran turkeys. This shipment supplements importations of cattle, horses and dogs from several European countries late last year.

The livestock will be used for experimental purposes, including some cross-breeding with types already established here. Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace is personally interested in programs that will better livestock breeds.

The South Devon cattle will be used by the bureau of dairy industry and the hogs and poultry are for experiments by the bureau of animal industry.

The cattle are from a large breed that is noted for both beef and milk production. Bulls and steers attain a weight of approximately 1,800 pounds and the best cows yield upward of 16,000 pounds of milk annually.

Hammers and Flashlights Are Used In Sobriety Tests For Motorists

DENVER, (U.P.) — Hammers and flashlights have been added to the tool kits of Denver's police surgeons—not for any safecracking or mechanical activities, but to determine the sobriety of motorists driving on Denver's streets.

The surgeons say that determining the sobriety of motorists is just about their most difficult task, but with the aid of their two new instruments the task should be much easier. By use of the hammer and flashlight the surgeons can determine very nearly how much the victim has had to drink and what control he still is able to exercise over his faculties.

A rubber-headed hammer is used to test the reflexes of the arms and legs by tapping. The flashlight is turned into the victim's face and by turning it on and off the surgeon can discover whether the eyes are dilated.

However, the police surgeons will continue to employ their old devices of having the victim walk a straight line, stand on one foot and cross his knees and stand with feet together and eyes closed to determine whether he sways. In these maneuvers the surgeons say the person's gait, rapidity and concentration in walking the line are valuable yardsticks.

The individual's failure and accomplishments are checked on a small score card which the surgeon carries with him. Eventually this little card determines the stage of intoxication. Even the mood is recorded on the card, such as jovial, argumentative or sullen, but the police say this does not affect the score.

With the conclusion of the test the individual receives a rating of one, two, three or four. One denotes that he may be just a trifle under the influence, while two and three indicate advanced degrees of intoxication. Few "fours" have ever been recorded, as they indicate the individual is on the verge of "passing out."

London has been reporting a decrease in motor car thefts for several years. In 1932, 1000 cars were stolen; in 1933, 837; and in 1934, only 726.

May Ask Amendment For NRA Principles

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (P) — The Massachusetts Dispatch Saturday quoted James Roosevelt as saying his father intends to seek a constitutional amendment repealing principles of the National Recovery Administration to make it the law of the land, and drew up a transcript from the president's son that he was speaking only for himself. The transcript quoted James as saying as an individual he saw no alternative but to ask the people for a right to make it constitutional.

Aerial Scouting Used In Insect Pest War

WASHINGTON, (U.P.) — Aerial scouting for diseased trees proved so effective this season that the U. S. Department of Agriculture has added a second autogiro as an aid in stopping the spread of plant diseases and insect pests. Peering down into vegetation, flying observers can readily spot either diseased trees or the host of destroying insect pests.

Oil News—

Well is said to have gone out of the Permian at 5,715 but information as to the present formation is not generally available.

feet in hard, light gray lime without logging any increase in oil or gas. When swabbed to bottom of 6-inch pipe at 3,950, only 3 1/2 barrels of oil was obtained, and the well was shut down over the week end. It missed the regular Tubbs pay usually found from 4,300 to 4,400, and caused some interest when it found a new pay horizon from 4,625 to 4,828. Location is 2,200 feet from the north and 440 feet from the east line of section 9, block B-27, public school land.

Gulf No. 2 Waddell, Crane Ordovician wildcat, is reaming hole, bottomed at 6,437 feet in lime.

Humble No. 4 Tubbs is drilling lime below 3,730.

Although it was feared to be a failure when it drilled into sulphur water at 3,610-14, chances for production in Magnolia No. 7 Edwards appeared better after it filed up 2,700 feet with oil following a 160-quart shot from 3,535 to 3,580. The well was plugged back to 3,598 with lead wool to shut off bottom-hole water. Operators will acidize to further increase the amount of oil now showing. It is located 2,310 feet from the south and 330 feet from the west line of section 2, block B-23, public school land, in the Waddell pool of northern Crane county. It is in between a 4,000 barrel well and a 10,000 barrel well.

Another Big Well

Adding another big well to the line of producers in the Henderson pool of Winkler county, Sinclair-Prairie has completed its No. 2-A Leck for natural rating of 2,413 barrels of oil in 24 hours flowing through 3/4-inch choke on 2-inch tubing. Gas volume tested 915,000 cubic feet. The

No. 2-A Leck was drilled to 3,089 feet in lime and is located 990 feet from the south and 330 feet from the east line of section 33, block 74, public school land.

In the Sayre pool, Magnolia No. 36 Walton, section 1, block 26, public school land, flowed 1,182 barrels on the 24-hour potential gauge. It was shot with 200 quarts from 2,832 to 2,932, the total depth.

Farther south, in the Keyes pool, Sinclair-Prairie No. 2-C Walton, section 24, block 26, public school land, flowed 280 barrels the first 14 hours after shooting with 200 quarts from 2,875 to bottom at 2,975.

Foster Extension

Promising an extension of Ector's Foster pool a mile farther northwest, Stanolind No. 2-B E. F. Cowden is drilling lime below 4,214 feet. Late in the week it was bailed to bottom then swabbed 88 gallons or approximately two barrels of oil in one hour. Location is 690 feet from the north and east lines of section 10, block 43, township 2 south, T. & P. survey.

Drilling of plug from 7-inch casing set at 3,955 was scheduled to start yesterday in York & Harper No. 1 Slater, Ector wildcat five miles west of the Goldsmith pool. It has been several weeks rigging up standard tools. The test is in the northwest corner of section 26, block 45, township 1 south, T. & P. survey.

Sinclair-Prairie No. 1-A Johnson, wildcat in section 42, block 42, township 1 north, T. & P. survey, five miles north of the Foster pool, is drilling with rotary below 4,750 feet in lime.

A semi-wildcat seeking to extend the Harper Pool a half-mile farther west, Shell No. 1 E. F. Cowden, is drilling below 2,815 feet in anhydrite

Gaines Well Cleaning

Cleaning out 85 feet off bottom is in progress in the only producer yet drilled in Gaines county, Landreth No. 1 Kirk. The well was shot over two weeks ago, but caving hole has delayed gauge.

Stanolind No. 1 Dewey Davis, test a mile and a quarter northwest of the No. 1 Kirk and in section 18, block A-21, public school land, had reached 4,640 feet in hard lime.

On the Seminole structure, Ametrada No. 1-A Averitt, section 23, block C, W. T. R. R. survey, is drilling below 4,036 feet.

Farther south, in Andrews county, R. H. Henderson and others No. 1 Parker, extension test three-quarters of a mile southwest of Fuhrman pool production, is believed to have logged some pay when it drilled a 50 ft lime section from 4,315 to 4,365. The well is being drilled in with rotary circulating oil, and the amount of any oil show is difficult to estimate. It is located 212 feet south and 660 feet east of the southeast corner of section 25, block A-43, public school land, in section 111 of the Parker strip.

Humble will drill a semi-wildcat on the northeast side of the Means pool in Andrews, the No. 9 R. M. Means. The location is 3,329 feet from the west and 669 feet from the south line of section 3, block C-45, public school land, a quarter mile north and a half-mile east of the No. 6 R. M. Means.

Surprise Trip Into 'Dry Dock'

Like a fish out of water, this boat is helpless as it rests, high and dry, on the rocks of the Devon coast near Barnstable, Eng. The craft, a fishing ketch, was tossed onto the rocks during a recent storm. Apparently intact, and with sails set, all it needs for navigation is water.

New Name Suggested For Channel Islands

SAN FRANCISCO, (U.P.) — A movement has just been launched in California to change the name of the Channel Islands, lying off the coast of southern California to the Cabrillo Isles, in honor of their discoverer.

The group includes Santa Catalina, San Clemente, Santa Rosa, Santa Cruz and other small islands.

FROM FLOREY

Ballots Can Be--

there's Landon and Knox. After four years of drouth in Kansas who could blame Landon for wanting out of it? The prohibition party also has a candidate for the office but don't ask us who he is. Honestly, we don't know. Besides, we thought that was all settled in 1932.

The union party also has a party in the field but persons differ over who is the candidate. Some say Lemke but others argue that it is either Coughin, Smith or Townsend. Not that it will make any great amount of difference. And don't forget the socialists. Norman Thomas is like the one-hoss-shay. He just keeps on running.

As far as the union and prohibition parties care the others can fight over Texas. They have their choices as presidential electors but the others can have the state offices—and welcome.

And just in case you are not satisfied to vote for any of the six parties named, there is a column held open for the independent party, they didn't even nominate electors in the state. Also a blank in which you can write the name of anyone you darn well please. And that is not such a bad idea, if you ask us.

Please bear with us for just a little bit longer.

If you are still able to see when you have cast a ballot for all the persons seeking office there will be found down at the bottom of the page six proposed amendments to the constitution. But they should be easy. You can vote for or against any of them without having to compare them with something else.

One of the amendments calls for the establishment of a state dispensary system having the exclusive sale of distilled liquors, and providing for local option. If all counties are like most of them in the wet enough liquor dealers to vote down that suggestion.

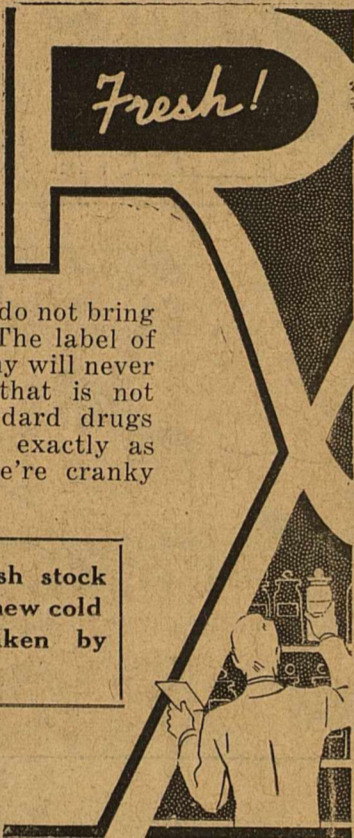

Another proposed amendment calls for pensions for school teachers. When we were in school it would have been more than a bit of allright with us if they had retired all teachers with or without pensions.

We could say something about the rest of the amendments but it wouldn't do any good. The married men will all vote like their wives' tell them to and they won't make any difference to the single ones.

QUALITY

If some member of your family is seriously ill we are sure that you would not wilfully consent to the use of inferior drugs in their treatment. However, if you are shopping for inferior drugs at a lower price do not bring your prescriptions here. The label of the Midland Drug Company will never be placed on a bottle that is not filled with the best standard drugs obtainable and prepared exactly as your doctor ordered. We're cranky about that.

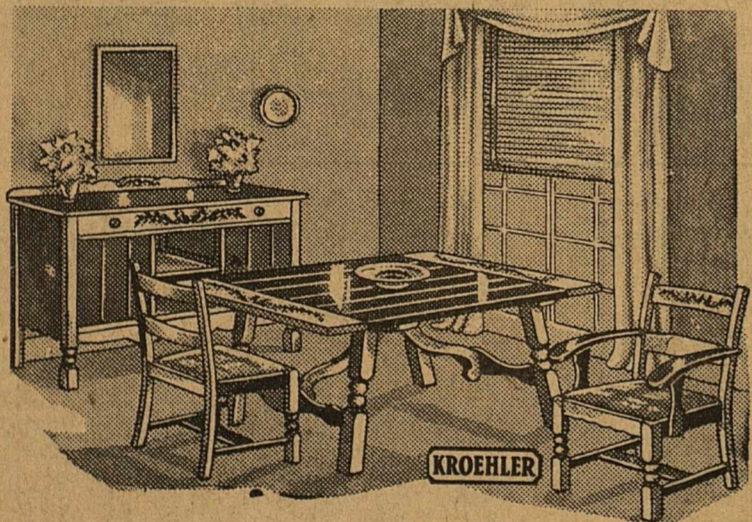

NOTE: we carry a fresh stock of ENTORAL... the new cold vaccine that is taken by mouth.
