CONTEMPT ACTION ON 2 RED PROBERS TO BE MADE FRIDAY

AUSTIN, Oct. 29. (AP)—Justice of the peace Paul Holt Wednesday postponed until Friday decision on a request to hold in contempt two members of a legislative committee which investigated reported Communist and atheistic teachings in state colleges.

Chairman Joe Caldwell of Asherton and Member Tom Cooper of the committee declined to testify at a court of inquiry to determine how certain letters which figured in the investigation came into their possession. They claimed constitutional immunity from questioning about their actions on the floor of the Legislature.

Everett Looney, counsel for complaining witnesses and appointed by Holt to interrogate witnesses in the absence of the county attorney, asked that the Representatives be cited for contempt.

Herman Wright, former secretary of the Progressive Democrats of Texas and University of Texas student organization was radical beyond tifying as a witness at the committee's investigation, that letters introduced in evidence had been "stolen" from his private files.

William Flatt of Cleburne, university student, testified before the court of inquiry that he, as an official of the Progressive Democrats, had taken "four or five" letters from the office of the organization and showed them to Harold F. Robinson because he had "suspicions the organization was radical beyond my belief," although he wanted to give it "the benefit of the doubt."

He said the letters were replaced before he quit the organization and that he did not know whether they were among those introduced at the investigation.

'BANK NIGHTS' ARE UPHELD BY COURT

Decision Not Final As Other Cases Yet Await Ruling

AUSTIN, Oct. 29. (AP)—The Austin court of civil appeals, passing on the case of A. M. Morgan against Griffith Amusement company from Brady, McCulloch county, Wednesday, held that bank nights under the conditions set forth did not constitute lotteries and therefore were not illegal on those grounds.

A district court had granted Morgan an injunction against the company which operated two theaters. The opinion by Chief Justice James W. McClelland said there was no violation of the Texas anti-lottery laws because a patron merely bought a ticket to the show, registered for a chance at a $25 prize put up weekly by the theater and had not paid anything to become eligible for the prize.

This decision was not final as far as legality of bank nights in Texas is concerned, however, for other cases are pending in the court of criminal appeals and the supreme court, the tribunals of last resort.

Italy Details Times Russia Aided Loyals

GERMANY QUIET Reich To Make Full Answer to The Soviet

By Associated Press The Spanish government hinted today that it had obtained war materials to put it on even footing with insurgents assaulting Madrid, followed by a day of detailed Italian charges that Russia had sent arms and men to Spain on 20 occasions.

The charges coincided with an announcement from the Spanish embassy in Paris of "confidential information" that a fleet of Italian submarines were waiting sailing orders to blockade Catalonia, where President Manuel Azana laid the groundwork for government headquarters should Madrid fall.

The European non-intervention committee acquitted Italy and Portugal of Russian charges that they had given aid to Spanish insurgents. Soviet charges against Germany are in abeyance until the Reich has made a full reply.

Here's How Money For Pensions Will Be Raised in Texas

Ninety-six cents a gallon on whiskey, an increase of 16 cents, and 19 and 20 cents a gallon on wine, depending on whether its alcoholic content is below or above 14 per cent.

Portugal is adamant against a suggestion that the non-intervention nations control Portuguese ports to prevent agreement violations.

The Open Season For Pranks

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—In the face of a growing belief among politicians and students of politics that Roosevelt has an edge in the presidential contest, Gov. Alf M. Landon and the Republicans have set out to prove that an election can be won in the last month of a campaign.

Landon himself, according to those who have been with him daily since his nomination, is more confident of victory than at any previous time. At one period, they say, he felt there wasn't much hope.

Although most of the political writers who are darting around the country with the candidates or on tours of their own are betting on Roosevelt at the moment, Republican leaders, though varying widely in the degree of their expectations, continue hopeful.

Lopping off the extremes of optimism and despondency, the most common remark the boys make when they take their hair down is: "We've got a good chance!"

Enough of the political map has jelled to enable the Republican high command to boil the situation down to one nutshell formula. Here it is: Landon must carry New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, and New Jersey if he is to be elected. If he loses a single state among the first five—the "Big Five"—he is sunk. He might win them all and still lose the election, but no such thing has ever happened.

If you care to take your pencil and play the game which everyone, down to the youngest office boy, at major party headquarters is now playing, you can have herewith the latest confidential figurings among the Republican big shots whose offices are spread through three large downtown buildings.

New England Held Sure
New England, they are sure, will throw the 41 electoral votes of her six states to Landon.

Add that to a possible 47 from New York, 36 from Pennsylvania, 29 from Illinois, 26 from Ohio, 19 from Michigan, 16 from New Jersey, and 14 from Indiana. The total is 228. A majority in the electoral college, requisite for victory, is 266.

Republicans say they are sure of Kansas and Wyoming—nine and three votes respectively—which make 240.

Then there are some "good chance" states—Minnesota, 11, Iowa, 11, Nebraska, 7, Colorado, 6, South Dakota, 4, and Delaware, 3, which would bring the Landon total to 282.

The only other states which the most realistic Republicans say they consider as possibilities are West Virginia, 6, North Dakota, 4, and Idaho, 4. But in current computations, these states are being left out of the theoretical G. O. P. column.

Need New Jersey
It would be possible to lose Indiana and still win the election for Landon, since Indiana has but 14 electoral votes. The figurers can see how, mathematically, they might lose New Jersey and still nose out ahead—but it takes no sixth sense to tell them that loss of New Jersey could be little else than indicative of a strong national trend to Roosevelt.

The obvious deduction is that it becomes important to know how things political are going in New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, and Michigan—and this writer is taking a trip through these parts and one or two contiguous states with the idea of finding out just that.

It will be observed that Republican leaders privately concede to Roosevelt the "Solid South," everything on the Pacific coast, the states of Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Wisconsin, Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Utah, Nevada, and Montana.

That's a theoretical Roosevelt Lincoln Expected Defeat
Abraham Lincoln believed at one point in the 1864 campaign that he would be defeated by General McClellan. Many historians believe that it was only a succession of Union victories under General Sherman and others which turned the tide in his favor.

It also is likely that William Jennings Bryan could have been elected over McKinley in September, 1896. But millions of Republican dollars and a vast propaganda campaign won that fight—two factors whose importance should not be forgotten in the present campaign.

The first months of the 1916 campaign found Hughes a heavy favorite over Wilson, but Wilson's campaigning, the "kept us out of war" slogan, and Hughes' snub of Hiram Johnson in California elected the Democratic ticket by a narrow majority.

Incidents may be as important as late trends. This campaign might yet produce something equivalent to the "Rum, Romanism, and Rebellion" incident which elected Cleveland over Blaine.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

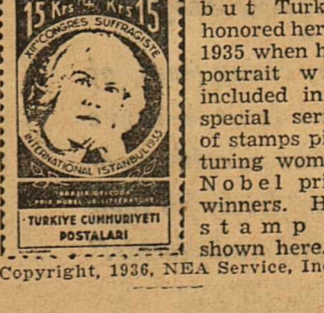

WOMAN WRITER SHOCKED PEOPLE

THE elder peasants of the rustic village of Nuoro, on the island of Sardinia, were shocked. Women shook their heads in mournful silence, and went to the parents of Grazia Deledda to offer their condolences. That a woman should be discovered writing! It was unbelievable, almost sacrilegious.

But the townsfolk of this unusual young woman were soon to learn of her genius and be proud of her, instead. For Grazia Deledda became one of the foremost women novelists in the world. Educated and confined through early years to her own little island home, Deledda became a self-made woman.

Then, when she began writing, she soon was recognized by the literary world. Recently she died, at the age of 64, author of 28 novels, many short stories and a play. In 1926 she was awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature.

HUNTER TOO EAGER ALTURAS, Cal. (U.P.)—Harold Carroll bought a mule to carry his equipment on a deer hunting trip. Tying the mule to a tree, he made a wide detour in search of game, but coming again unexpectedly upon the animal, he mistook it for a deer and shot it.

COYOTE BITES SLEEPER WINNEMUCCA, Nev. (U.P.)—The saying that "barking dogs never bite" applies equally to coyotes according to Earl Bankoffler. At least the one that bit him while he was asleep failed to give any howling warning in advance. Pasture treatment was employed.

Pineapple Muffins Always Hit Spot

Hot pineapple muffins understand the amenities of early morning breakfast. To make 12 of these specialties, sift flour, then measure 2 cups. To it, add 2 teaspoons combination baking powder or 2 1/2 teaspoons tritate baking powder, 3/4 cup sugar and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Sift all together into mixing bowl. Beat together until fluffy 1 egg, 1 cup milk and 4 tablespoons melted butter. If you want to keep the high cost of butter worry out of your budget, use a good quality of oleomargarine instead. Or better, use 1 tablespoon of butter for flavor, and 3 tablespoons of the substitute for fat and economy. Add the egg mixture to the flour mixture, beating only enough to dampen all the flour. Now fold in 1/2 cup canned crushed pineapple. Grease 12 muffin pans, fill three-quarters full with the dough and bake in quite a hot oven for about 25 minutes.

These and the morning papers will make that the man of the house forget that he must slave for his daily bread during the rest of the day.

Coffee Cake
Coffee cake never lets a man down either. Try this novelty. Sift cake flour, then measure 1 cup. Add 1 1/4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, and sift again. Cream 3 tablespoons butter or other shortening, then cream again with 2 tablespoons sugar added. Beat 1 egg and add to butter mixture. To this butter and sugar, begin to add, first one, then the other, 1/2 cup milk and the sifted flour mixture. Beat again each time you add to it. Use a 9-inch pie pan. Grease

Army Stews On November Appetites

Irish stew is recommended when the November appetite demands action.

BY NEA Service
 The more soldiers in a land, the more Irish stews cooked up in the evening. The boys like their lamb shoulder and vegetables assembled in this comforting manner. Not from any army canteen however but from a world-famous hotel dining room comes this recipe, enough for four persons:

Irish Stew for Four
 Three pounds lamb from shoulder and breast, cut into squares; 8 medium potatoes, minced; 4 large onions, minced; 1/2 bunch celery, minced; 12 small potatoes; a bouquet composed of a bay leaf, thyme and a parsley stem, and 2 tablespoons of fresh green parsley, chopped very fine.

In a large saucepan, place lamb, minced potatoes, onions, celery and the bouquet, then add 1 quart cold water. Season with salt and pepper and bring slowly to simmer; just a simmer. Cook 40 minutes. By that time the minced potatoes, onions and celery will have cooked down to nothing, become invisible in the stock. Now add the 12 small potatoes, which have been parboiled 3 minutes, and cook until they are done. Place in an attractive and suitable serving dish and add the chopped parsley just before serving.

If your family seems like an army, try Hodge Podge for the sake of peace. It is served in the new Guard Room of a distinguished New York hotel. Put these surprisingly in ingredients in a large pot; 3 pounds ox tails, 2 pig's feet cut in small pieces, 1 pig's ear, and enough water to cover. Salt to taste. Simmer for 2 hours, skimming when necessary. Then add 1 small firm cabbage, cut in quarters, 10 small onions, 2 large scraped carrots and 2 large scraped turnips, both cut as small as olives. Simmer another 2 hours. Sound the mess call then serve up this military stew. The war is over.

Japan Arrests Woman Formerly Maid in Palace

TOKYO, (U.P.)—A former maid of honor in the Imperial household has been arrested, together with three other women of the upper class, on a charge of fostering an heretical religion and engaging in discussion of banned political subjects.

The former maid of honor is Mrs. Haru Shinnazu, a handsome woman of 59. The others are Tsune Tsunoda, 40; Mutsu Takahashi, wife of a former member of the Imperial Diet, and Miss Shizumi Tomita, 19.

It was charged that they organized a religious sect and during services occasionally made disrespectful allusions to the Imperial family.

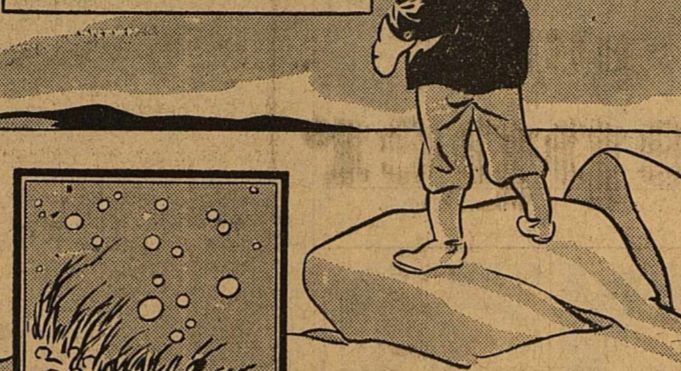

Homes of the women were searched and they were subjected to strict police examination.

Animals of the deer family, such as elk, moose, and reindeer, have antlers, and shed them regularly. Cattle, buffalo, and antelope have horns.

GOOD? You bet—you can't beat those good Mexican dishes at Camp Broadway Gardens. (Adv.)

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

ADMIRAL PEARY NAMED AND PLACED CROCKER LAND ON THE MAP. YEARS LATER, THIS "EXTENSIVE NORTHERN LAND" WAS FOUND TO BE A MIRAGE.

THE SUPERSTITION THAT A FOUR-LEAFED CLOVER BRINGS LUCK IS SO OLD THAT NO ONE KNOWS ITS ORIGIN

HAILSTONES ARE A COMBINATION OF SNOW AND ICE.

FOR centuries, there had been little doubt that land existed in the area which Peary later named Crocker Land. So realistic was the mirage, which existed under certain atmospheric conditions, that anyone who saw it was convinced. Later, MacMillan attempted to explore the land, and it vanished before his eyes.

95 PERCENT OF MIDLAND SCHOOL PUPILS GAIN PASSING GRADES IN EXAMINATIONS

Distinction lists for the first six weeks, released by the Midland school recently, show that 95 percent of the pupils who received reports for the period passed in their work, and that 379 were placed on the distinction list. The distinction lists are in three groups: Those with a straight A record, (Summa Cum Laude Et Honore); those with a minimum of half A's and half B's, (Summa Cum Laude); and those with better than a B average, but less than half A's, (Magna Cum Laude). The first group should correspond to a grade of from 95 to 100; the second group, to a grade of 90, and the third group, to a grade of 85 or better. Those in the highest bracket which also have grades of 95 or better in department or behavior, are placed on the Honor Roll, same being indicated by "H. R." after their respective names. The lists follow by schools:

BIFF JONES SAYS PRESENT DAY QUARTERBACK MUST BE A GOOD BLOCKER AND BALL CARRIER

Mites of Yore Lose Out in Modern Type Game

BY MAJ. LAWRENCE (BIFF) JONES

Head Coach, University of Oklahoma.

(Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 29.— In the old days, the ideal quarterback was a little Napoleon. He didn't have to block or carry the ball. All a coach demanded of him was leadership, generalship, a good voice, and ability to handle punts. Since none of these requirements called for weight or size, he usually was a little man.

One of the best of these old-time quarterbacks was Vernon Prichard, Army's All-American of 1914. Scaling 160 pounds, he never blocked or carried, but did develop into a neat passer in his last year. There were many other little Napoleons. Outstanding ones were Gerhardt, who succeeded Prichard with the Cadets and came in at 140 pounds; Gus Dorais, the Detroit mentor, who was a teammate of Knute Rockne at Notre Dame, and Anse Cornell of Oregon.

It's different nowadays. A quarterback must be just as good a blocker or ball carrier as anybody else, and possess the qualities of the old-time signal caller to boot. It is a real break for his team and coach if in addition the quarterback happens to be a passer or a receiver.

Some of our bigger and more versatile quarterbacks of modern times were Morton Kaer of Southern California; Segoe and Lawrie of Louisiana State; Sprague of Southern Methodist of 1925, who didn't fall very short of 200 pounds and who was a good plunger and blocker with plenty of speed, and Riley Smith, the 190-pounder of Alabama who could block like blazes.

Bud Wilkinson, a 190-pounder switched from guard, is doing a splendid job in quarterbacking this year's Minnesota varsity.

Huddle Eliminates Learning Complex Signal System

Smaller athletes have demonstrated they could lead plays as well as carry. One of these was Harry Stuhldreher, the Wisconsin coach, who did plenty of blocking for Notre Dame. Another was Cliff Montgomery, an elusive and expert triple threat who handled the ball on every play. Columbia ran Montgomery had a sturdy pair of legs. Lineman seldom called plays in the old days, but occasionally do now. Large Russ Stein called plays while performing in the line for the unbeaten Washington and Jefferson array of 1921. George Barclay, excellent North Carolina guard of two years ago, and Wetzel, Southern Methodist forward of last season, called plays.

In my opinion, the old-time quarterback who handled the ball from center on every play and could stand there and calmly look things over had a better chance to spot weaknesses and openings than the modern quarter, who either carries the pigskin or blocks on every play, or the modern lineman calling signals, who is handicapped to an even greater extent.

But of course that was before the huddle. I wouldn't attempt to name the earliest user of the huddle. Maj. Charley Daly, who coached when I played at West Point in 1915-16, had us huddle at times when we played Navy in a large stadium and couldn't hear the signals for the cheering.

The huddle is pretty popular now, because it saves the boys the necessity of learning a signal system. Learning a signal system which could not be deciphered was just one more requirement that took lots of time.

Plays Easier to Call From Sidelines or After Game

The old style had an advantage in that a team driven by a quarterback with a strong, compelling voice had lots of pickup and drive. Rockne always seemed to be able to discover or develop one of this type. Incidentally, many teams using the Notre Dame style of offense still call signals.

In the comparative calmness of the bench or stands, or on Sunday, after the game, it is much easier to call plays than in the heat of battle. I remember one play when I was coaching at Louisiana State in 1933 that caused more discussion than all the others put together.

We were playing Centenary. The statistics were all our way, yet Centenary had a senior team and we found their defense very rugged inside their 15-yard line. The score was 0 to 0 when, in the last two minutes of play, we were on their two-yard line on fourth down, with the ball squarely in the middle of the field.

We had a good field goal kicker and, mechanically, the field goal is the simplest play there is. We tried it and missed.

What should Bill Lobdell, our quarterback, have called? Some said sweep, but Centenary had an All-American end on one wing and another almost as good on the other. Punch the line? We had found that hard to do with the secondary massed.

Forward pass? It was only 12 yards to the end line, which made it difficult to deploy and scatter the defensive backs.

I still say our quarterback called the right play. It simply failed in operation, in spite of previous history of success with our personnel. To further convince skeptics of Lobdell's good judgment, he later married one of our Oklahoma coeds.

AGGIE-ARKANSAS BATTLE LOOMS AS DUEL OF AIRWAYS

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 29.—The Texas Aggie-University of Arkansas Razorback grid tilt, billed for Saturday, Oct. 31, on Kyle Field, looms as one of the year's greatest aerial battles, even for the hurly burly Southwest Conference, but the final decision may rest in the way the two stalwart lines stop running plays.

Jack Robbins and Dwight Sloan, of the Razorbacks, and Jim Shockey and Dick Todd, of the Aggies, rate as fine passers, but the Cadets and Porkers combined offer as brilliant a coterie of running backs as this section can muster for the season. Robbins and Sloan do much ball toting for the Porkers and are aided in this respect by Allen Kee and Ray Rawlings, the latter of whom is the current conference scoring leader. The Aggie ball carriers include "Chink" Manning, "Doc" Piner, "Duh" Boyd, Bob Nesrsta and Owens Rogers in addition to Todd and Shockey.

Bracing the forward walls will be a quartet of line backers as capable as may be found in the southwest. Charlie DeWare, of the Aggies, and Ken Lunday, of the Razorbacks, are outstanding candidates for All-Southwest Conference honors this year. Vann Brown, of Arkansas, and Les Cummings, of the Cadets, are comparatively light for the usual conception of a fullback but both are hard and sure tacklers.

All-conference timber also may be found at the wing posts in Jim Benton of the Razorbacks and Johnny Morrow of the Aggies. Bill Stages and Bill Hunter also give the Aggies and Porkers capable end play, respectively.

Four bulwarks at tackle well offer experience as well as weight. Capt. Cliff Van Sickle and Ray Spillers of Arkansas being seniors, John Whitefield, one Aggie starting tackle, is a senior, and Roy Young, the other, is a junior. Young and Whitefield pack about 212 pounds each and Van Sickle and Spillers weigh only slightly less.

Heading the guards will be Joe Rout, the Aggies' outstanding All-American candidate. With him go Walt Phythian and Virgil Jones, two first class fighting men on their own hook. The Razorbacks will have George Gilmore and Odus Roberts as their chief guards.

The Aggie running attack, colored with sparkling laterals, has been successful in every game to date except the past week's slipper mud battle with Baylor. The Razorbacks infantry movements appeared comparatively weak against Texas Christian but since have shown consistent power.

Hawaii Seeks Unit Of Fleet Air Reserve

HONOLULU, (U.P.) - Plans for the formation here of a unit of the fleet aviation reserve corps have been completed by naval officials. The project is to be laid before the commandant of the 14th naval district for final approval. If the reserve base is approved it will be the first of its kind to be located outside of continental United States. Tentative plans call for the assignment of at least six and possibly twelve planes which have been replaced by more modern equipment in the regular service. It is believed that Lieut. Commander F. V. Connell, employed by the Inter-Island Airways, Ltd., and until recently in command of the fleet aviation reserve base at Oakland, Cal., will be assigned to the proposed post. A number of former naval pilots, now in civilian life, are expected to join the unit.

STATE FARM PRODUCTION INCOME FOR 1935 DOUBLES AMOUNT MADE IN 1932

COLLEGE STATION.—Cash income from farm production in 1935 in Texas was $461,030,000, an increase of 57 per cent over the 1932 figure of $294,358,000. Cash receipts for sales of principal Texas farm products constitute about 94 per cent of that. During the first seven months of 1936 these cash receipts were 19 per cent greater than during the same period in 1935, thus indicating a continued rise in Texas farm income for 1936, according to figures just released from Washington.

The extent to which the economic situation of Texas farmers has improved since 1932 is indicated in part by comparing the 1932 and 1935 production volume of certain commodities, together with the cash income from those commodities.

Texas farmers produced approximately 4,500,000 bales of cotton and 2,000,000 tons of seed in 1935, for which they received a cash return of $152,463,000. For their 1935 cotton crop, smaller than that of 1932 by about 1,544,000 bales and 690,000 tons of seed, they realized a cash income of $238,492,000, including about $9,617,000 in price adjustment payments and $47,411,000 in rental and benefit payments. The 1935 income was, therefore, larger than the 1932 income by $86,029,000 or 56 per cent.

Beef producers in this state likewise saw a substantial rise in their cash income from 1932 to 1935, in spite of a marked decrease in production. In 1932, their net production of cattle and calves amounted to about 1,235,930,000 pounds, their income therefrom totaling $34,363,000. Their net production in 1935 approximated 901,625,000 pounds, or about 334,305,000 less than their 1932 production; yet their 1935 cash returns totaled $51,627,000, or $17,264,000 more than their 1932 returns. Government cattle purchases from Texas ranchmen amount for $2,785,000 of this 1935 income.

Dairymen in Texas profited by market income increase along with stockmen and cotton farmers among others. Net milk production in this state was only 1 per cent greater in 1935 than in 1932 but cash income was 52 per cent, or $13,620,000 greater.

The position of Texas corn-hog farmers in 1935, as measured by the increased cash returns from production, is much improved over what it was three years earlier. Their '32 cash income was $3,939,000 for a corn crop of about 102,726,000 bushels and a net hog production of approximately 434,290,000 pounds. Their 1935 income was $20,749,000 including $2,731,000 in benefit payments, for a corn crop of about 89,368,000 bushels and a net hog production of 324,260,000 pounds. The 1935 income of corn-hog producers in Texas was $11,810,000 or 132 per cent more than in 1932.

The 1932 wheat crop in this state amounted to approximately 28,293,000 bushels, for which producers received a cash return of $6,928,000. The 1935 crop of 11,473,000 bushels, about 60 per cent smaller than the 1932 crop, brought them $2,265,000 at the market and $12,503,000 with rental and benefit payments included. All told, wheat producers in 1935 received 80 per cent more cash than they did in 1932 when the crop was more than double the 1935 crop.

Cash income from many other important farm products of Texas also showed encouraging upturns from 1932 to 1935. Income of rice producers more than doubled rising from $3,847,000 to $7,905,000, including $1,903,000 in benefits on '35 production. Income from oats rose 137 per cent, or from $1,763,000 to $4,179,000. Income from chickens and eggs jumped $5,320,000, or from $12-

255,000 to $17,575,000; and that from wool more than doubled, increasing from $5,311,000 to $13,028,000.

Amendment Five Is Approved by Woodul

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 29. (Spl.)—Acting Governor Walter F. Woodul today released the following endorsement of Constitutional Amendment No. 5, the Salary Amendment, by former Governor Dan Moody: "I earnestly hope that the Amendment No. 5 will be adopted by the people at the election on November Third.

"A salary of $4,000 a year to the Governor, and a like salary to the Attorney General, and a salary of $2,500 a year for each of the other four officers mentioned was perhaps adequate when they were fixed in 1876 and were likely as high salaries as the times justified. But that was sixty years ago and times, living conditions and the ability of the state to pay have materially changed in the intervening years. The demands that are made upon the officers and the expense that they are put to is tenfold greater now than I imagine it was then. From experience I am prepared to say, that no matter how careful one may be to live within his means, it is utterly impossible for either the Attorney General or the Governor to live within the salary now provided, and if this is true of these two officers, it must be even more so of the others who receive even a smaller salary. Under present conditions, unless the Governor and these other officers have private means, they must necessarily expect to go in debt for the necessities of life, while holding office because the salaries are not sufficient to pay for these necessities. I think it utterly impossible for the Governor, Attorney General, Land Commissioner, Comptroller, Treasurer, or Secretary of State to make tongue and buckle meet on the salaries which are allotted them under existing laws. I believe that these officers, if they were made to feel economically secure by an adequate salary, would thereby be relieved of worries, which I have thought in instances impaired the efficiency of their services.

"I hope very much that the proposal will be adopted and I think that the dignity of the state requires an increase in these salaries."

He is in love with Marsha Hunt, his secretary, but cannot marry her because his wife, Miss Hayes, refuses to give him a divorce.

The wife is found murdered after Kelly has been overheard threatening her, and so perfect a case do the witnesses against him make out that he is sentenced to die. The only one who do believe him innocent are Miss Hunt and Taylor, an investigator in his office, who is also in love with the girl.
