MIDLAND, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MARCH 10, 1922

NUMBER 23

INTRODUCING OUR LATEST CANDIDATES

USUAL COMMENTS ACCOMPANYING ANNOUNCEMENTS MUCH DELAYED

There are eleven names appearing in our announcement columns that have not received the usual comment that accompanies the action of aspirants who throw their hats in the political ring. The principal excuse for this delay was that the editor suffered a prolonged attack of "flu." Other reasons, however, might be given, but there is not necessity therefor, and we are now taking up each name as it appears in our regular column, and are presenting the owner thereof with such introduction as we deem sufficient.

E. F. Higgins, El Paso

Judge E. F. Higgins, of El Paso, is a candidate to succeed himself as Associate Justice, Court of Civil Appeals, Eighth Supreme Judicial District. So far as we have been informed, Judge Higgins has as yet no opponent, and so efficient has he ever been, officially and otherwise, that it would cause no regret should his candidacy remain uncontested. Judge Higgins' opinions have been much esteemed by the bar of West Texas. He is said to be a profound thinker, and is a lawyer of wide practical experience. He is a life-long Democrat, and, naturally, subjects his candidacy to the action of the Democratic primaries in July. Judge Higgins will appreciate whatever you may do in support of his candidacy, and in the event of his re-election promises a service to West Texas, such as has so splendidly characterized his efforts of the past.

W. A. Hudson, Pecos

Judge W. A. Hudson, of Pecos, aspires to the office of Judge of the 70th Judicial District. He was in Midland a short time ago, and met quite a number of our people, all of whom, we presume, were favorably impressed by him. He is of pleasing personality, and is said to be a lawyer of far more than average ability. His politics are unquestionable, he having been ever faithful to the teachings of Democracy, and to the July primaries thereof he gladly submits his candidacy, willing, as always a good Democrat is, to abide by the will of the majority. Judge Hudson enjoys the esteem of the people among whom he is best known, and is worthy of the confidence that has ever been reposed in him by his fellows. In the event of his election he promises the utmost of his ability to serve efficiently and acceptably, and will profoundly appreciate such support and such influence as may be brought to bear in the promotion of his candidacy.

Tom Garrard, Midland

Attorney Tom T. Garrard has a right enviable reputation most all over West Texas. Though yet a young man, his experience as a lawyer has had a wide range and his clientele, evily drawn from his home people, extends also to remote distances in all directions. He perhaps established himself most securely in the years that he served as attorney for the 70th Judicial District. He is a fearless fighter and an uncompromising one in the cause of justice, and without exception has ever enjoyed the full confidence of all persons with whom he has been associated, professionally or otherwise. Now he wishes to be Judge of the 70th Judicial District, and his announcement was so authorized two weeks ago. He is a life-long Democrat and is ever a champion of its principles, and that he subjects his candidacy to the Democratic primaries in July goes without saying. No one will gainsay his qualifications for the office he seeks, and in the event of his election, the people of this district could be assured of a safe and judicious administration of the affairs of this honorable position. Mr. Garrard will wholeheartedly appreciate your support and The Reporter cordially commends him to the consideration of all voters.

Judge Chas. Gibbs, Midland

We reckon there are not very many district judges, anyway in Texas, who have a better record than Judge Chas. Gibbs, of Midland. He doesn't greatly fancy newspaper publicity, sort of designates it, "bull," and so we are going to handle his announcement brief-like an "modest." Quiet and unostentatious as he is, and of much dignity, it is remarkable that he accomplishes so much. During the war he was the life of all patriotic campaigns, and Midland's fine war record is greatly due to his ability as an executive and organizer. His tenure of office as Judge of the 70th Judicial District has likewise been characterized, and he would hold down the job for another four years, thus succeeding himself. He has always been a champion of Democracy, and in the July primaries, to which he submits his candidacy, he will appreciate your support. The Reporter gladly commends him to your consideration.

Oliver W. Fannin, Midland

Attorney Oliver W. Fannin is a candidate for District Attorney for the 70th Judicial District. It gives The Reporter real pleasure to commend him to the consideration of all persons interested, for you would have to go far to find a more deserving young man. He is talented, conscientious, upright, fearless. While nearing a completion of his law course in the Texas University, war was declared between the United States and Germany. He immediately volunteered and went to an officers' train camp. Briefly, he made good, everywhere. He was a hero on the Mexican border, and was more than once publicly honored, besides having been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal. He rose to a first lieutenant, and when the war ended, resumed and completed his course in the Texas University, graduating with highest honors. Since then he has successfully practiced his profession, and has become remarkably well known throughout the district he now wishes to serve in this larger capacity. Mr. Fannin will profoundly appreciate your support, and The Reporter unhesitatingly states that, in the event of his election, the district may confidently look forward to an active, careful, conscientious, and fearless discharge of every duty that may arise. He submits his candidacy to the action of the Democratic primaries in July, to which party he and his have always strictly adhered.

B. Frank Haag, Midland

Attorney B. Frank Haag, Midland, is also a candidate for the office of District Attorney for the 70th Judicial District, and he, too, is a young man of sterling character, meriting every confidence, and standing four-square on the side of righteousness, morality, and justice to his fellow man. He is an indefatigable student, and that, unassisted, he has made his way to enviable recognition in his profession and to the highest esteem of his fellows, is splendidly to his credit. For some years he has served Midland County as its attorney and also as attorney for the City of Midland, but his activities have in no wise been circumscribed. He has served as prosecutor in a number of prominent cases in many courts of the district, and always with distinction to himself. His war record is that of a patriotic citizen, one of those who did his best that the "World

PROGRAM FOR FT. WORTH STOCK SHOW

GOV. PAT M. NEFF WILL ATTEND AND DELIVER ADDRESS ON FIRST DAY

Announcement of the complete program for the 46th annual convention of the old Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas and the first annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association, meeting in Fort Worth March 14th, 15th and 16th, was made last Saturday afternoon by E. B. Spiller, secretary.

This will be the only cattle raisers' convention held in Texas this year, due to the consolidation of the Panhandle and Southwestern Association, with the Texas association, and the fact that the sessions of the Buyers and Sellers Livestock Association was not held. A record breaking attendance, therefore, is expected, Spiller said.

Many prospective buyers from Kansas, the Northwest and corn belt states will be drawn to the convention, Spiller reported, due to the great demand for Texas stocker and feeder cattle for the ranges and feeding pens of those States.

Coming From Omaha

A large delegation is expected from Omaha, this being the first time in 20 years that Omaha cattle raisers and other men of that city interested in the industry have visited the Texas convention. The demand for stockers and feeders raised on Texas ranges has stimulated the Omaha men in making that market a clearing house for this class of cattle, Spiller pointed out.

The coming session here will be the first the association has held in this city since 1917.

An exceptionally strong program has been arranged, including speeches from Eugene Meyer, Jr., War Finance Corporation chairman, whose remarks will be of particular interest to delegates; Chester Morrill, chief of packers and stockyards administration at Washington; Thomas E. Wilson, president of the Institute of American Meat Packers, Chicago, and others.

Only afternoon sessions will be held, the afternoons being left open for visits to the Fat Stock Show or other entertainment.

Following is the program in detail, the session each day beginning at 10 a. m.:

First Day, Tuesday, March 14
Convention called to order by President W. W. Turney, of El Paso.

Prayer, Rev. E. H. Eckel, rector St. Andrew's Episcopal church.

Address of welcome, E. R. Cockrell, mayor of Ft. Worth.

Address of welcome, W. D. Davis, Ft. Worth.

Response to address of welcome, Ike T. Pryor, San Antonio.

Report of executive committee, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association.

Address of president, W. W. Turney.

Address, Dayton Moses, attorney, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Rais-

TOYAH-BELL WELL WILL BE GIVEN SHOT

OTHER NEWS OF PECOS FIELD AS GIVEN BY THE PECOS ENTERPRISE

The Pecos Enterprise reports on oil activities in that field in its last issue as follows:

It was September of last year that Pecos and all those interested in the oil test being made here, were thrilled to the nth degree by the spectacular demonstration of the Toyah-Bell well, being operated then by the Ramsey Oil Co., when a volume of gas was uncovered which had enough pressure to raise the tools weighing a ton and a half to an elevation of 350 feet, where they were jammed and served as a cork to the passage for some time before they could be dislodged.

Oil precipitately rose in the hole to an elevation of more than a thousand feet. The depth on this occurrence was below the 4000 foot level.

But the well did not "blow in" a commercial producer. Instead the constant pounding of the drill appreciably increased the oil in the hole, until it stood at 3,000 feet, then it came over the top of the derrick with such frequency that it ceased to be a spectacle to Pecos people who visited the location.

The hole is now approximately 4540 feet. And she still flows at intervals of several hours daily, sometimes making in one single head as much as 50 barrels. Only this week in swabbing the hole after shutdown of a coup de days on account of the cold weather, the hole belched out columns of oil which leaves no doubt as to the vicinity of a great oil basin which has all but been tapped for a mammoth producer.

But naturally this kind of a situation cannot be tolerated forever and a day. It is wearing to the patience and the finances of any but a John D. Consequently the heads of the company have come together in a determination that now is the opportune time to resort to a shot of nitroglycerine which should open a crevice to the impervious formations now holding the oil reservoir in leash. With a log showing something like 200 feet of oil-bearing sand it looks like a safe bet to place a few thousand dollars more in this expedient.

To this end, those abroad having large interests and investments in the field at large, having been appraised by telegraph during the week of the desire of the operators to make a test shot. Today there were responses from these telegrams from many quarters, placing various amounts of money at the disposal of the owners for this purpose. At noon Friday more than a thousand dollars had been received from this source.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock the citizens of Pecos have been called together in a mass meeting to further the financial program for the bringing in of this well. It is estimated that approximately $3,000 will be required to determine the results of a shot of nitroglycerine.

The results of the mass meeting cannot be forecasted, perhaps, but it is safe to predict that Pecos citizens will show their faith in the field by subscribing to the limit of their ability, in spite of the fact that the development work of the past two years has been a drain upon the financial resources of the community. But this is the history of all heroic efforts to develop the resources of a commonwealth, and Pecos has never faltered in its purpose to do its dead level best in any matter affecting the general wealth of this great domain.

The financial feature provided for, it will require several days perhaps to prepare the hole for the shot, as the casing will be pulled above the producing sands, no small task within itself.

River Well No. 2 in Ward County, being drilled by the Haskell-Owens interests, is drilling below 3,000 feet in a dark brown lime formation. Mr. Owens is here to personally direct operations, and the test is being watched with the greatest interest, as it is expected that oil bearing sands should be picked up in the neighborhood of 3500 feet.

C. H. Wolloughby, president of the Willoughby Petroleum Company, has established his headquarters at the well until the lime formation struck last Saturday has been drilled thru. He says there is nothing to create excitement; the well is not making any gas or oil, but the formation is encouraging and warrants the closest attention. The lime is very hard and cuts the drill bit rapidly.

The report from the Bell No. 1 shows drilling in alternating blue and black limes and limes of considerable sand, all of which are said to be saturated with oil. The production, however, from these formations are of negligible quantity. The plain still continues to operate from gas power produced by the drilling hole.

Copers don't amount to much unless properly supported in a denomination of figures, but the failure to annex one in the drilling report of this well in last weeks Enterprise made its report ridiculous. The well is steadily drilling at below 1,000 feet, instead of 100 feet as reported last week. O. S. Sheros is here on the ground to direct this work and there is no loss of time around this location.

AFTER PROLONGED STAY IN NEW YORK

Ira J. Bell returned to Pecos Friday after spending three months in New York City where he has been engaged in associating capital for some extensive development work in the Pecos oil field and the potash possibilities of West Texas.

Mr. Bell has participated in the formation of the Surety Petroleum Company, whose personnel is comprised largely of eastern capital, who propose to engage in the development projects noted above.

Mr. Bell is directing head of the Bell interests in the Pecos field, being the pioneer operator of the well which bears his name.—Pecos Enterprise.

OIL ACTIVITIES IN BIG SPRING FIELD

INTEREST ESPECIALLY CENTERED IN THE MORRISON WELL NO. 2

A number of Midland men have been much interested in Morrison Well No. 2, in Mitchell County, and some have visited there, returning with favorable reports. Of this project the Big Spring Enterprise in its last issue has this to say:

The blizzard weather which has been in force the past week has not been very favorable for out door work and consequently not much progress was made in the oil field.

At present the Morrison well No. 2 in Mitchell county is the center of attraction and the result of the test today—when the well will be given a shot—will decide whether or not a big development campaign will be launched in that field. That well which has been flowing by heads—estimated at from 125 to 200 barrels per day—ever since the bit penetrated an oil sand at 2946 feet has the oil men guessing. The drill has been sent thirty or forty feet deeper into the sand and while the flow of oil as well as the gas pressure has increased, it has not increased as much as the owners of the well believe it should. Hence the decision to give it a shot in the hope that it will be brought in a real gusher.

It was planned to place this shot Thursday and more than 300 automobiles loaded to the guards made the trip to the well. It was later decided to shoot the well at 10:30 o'clock this morning so many have again journeyed to the well. The outcome of the shot will be awaited with keenest interest.

Even though the well should not come in a gusher it has shown that there is an oil pool in this territory and the search to locate the big pool will continue. If the well comes in a gusher an intensive development will start immediately. If it develops into a good pumper the development will continue on a lesser scale.

The T. & P. No. 1, also owned by the Underwriters Company, is the discovery well in that field, it being one-half mile or so west of Morrison No. 2. It was spudded in Feb. 1920 and struck oil in July. It has been producing from 15 to 20 barrels daily at 2525 feet.

One mile and one-half west of the T. & P. No. 1 is the Zelpa Morrison No. 1 drilling at about 900 feet. The Conway well, 3000 feet deep is located six miles south of T. & P. Operations on this test being temporarily suspended due to shortage of water. Ten miles west of T. & P. No. 1 is the Foster No. 1 of the Colorado-Texas Oil Company which is pumping oil daily. Shipment of oil to the Rio Grande refinery at El Paso has been made from this well. The Foster No. 2 located 2000 feet southeast of No. 1 is 600 feet deep awaiting a supply of water to continue operations.

The Underwriters Company is planning to drill 15 more wells and to build a refinery and additional contracts for drilling tests in that territory are being signed up. A number of the big oil companies are purchasing leases as near the Morrison No. 2 as they can get.

RICH POTASH DEPOSITS IN LOVING COUNTY WELL

Potash ranging in percentage from 3.3 to 16.1 of the salt formation found in the Pinal Dome Oil Corporation's Loving County well is shown in the report of the U. S. Geological Survey just issued. This report also speaks of a rich deposit of this mineral in the McDowell well north of Big Spring, but states that a more complete analysis is now being made of the formations there.

The formations found in the Pinal Dome are understood to be the thickest potash formations ever found, and as they were obtained after the samples had been allowed to soak in the drilling water of the well, and after the cut up formation had been churned by the bit, there are prospects that a core drill test will prove the percentage to be much higher. Formations in the German mines show from ten to 16 per cent on core drill tests.—Pecos Enterprise.

Claude ("Chunky") Cowden came in from the Jno. M. Cowden & Sons' ranch west, the first of the week. Reports no loss last week, though cattle were badly drawn.

Who is Your Grocer?

Fellow remarked the other day: "You can't get away from the Mercantile. It's a big outfit and buys in greater quantities than all the rest put together, and they have been in Midland so long they know the demands of the trade, and they sell the better qualities as low and often lower than inferior stuff. The Mercantile sells you nothing but the best."

So it is in Our Dry Goods

We want to be your grocer, and we serve you equally as well in our Dry Goods Department. Let us be your Grocer; let us be your Dry Goods men, and we'll all prosper, and there'll be satisfaction all around.

THE BASIS OF GOODYEAR POPULARITY

The largest single group of tire buyers in the world—Goodyear Tire buyers—is growing larger every day.

And growing larger in the most healthy way—without stimulation by fictitious inducement, without the lure of delusive discounts, "guarantees" or "free" service.

You'll come to Goodyear Tires sometime, if not already; and we want you to come on this same ground.

We want you to come because of the goodness of the tires themselves—because you want a better tire, and not what at first may appear to be a better deal.

We want you to buy Goodyear Tires because they will serve you better—and longer—and truer.

Goodyear Tires are now being manufactured and sold on that basis in the West.

We're putting all goodness possible into them, because on their goodness, and it alone, rests the whole structure of their popularity.

The money ordinarily spent for manufacturers' insurance, for sales discounts, for so-called "free" service, goes into the tires.

We believe you want it there. We know it pays you better returns there.

When you come to Goodyear Tires, buy them of the Midland Goodyear Service Station Dealers. Their purpose is in your behalf—to help you get out of Goodyear Tires all the mileage we have built into them.

Current Business Conditions

By GEORGE E. ROBERTS

From the Monthly Letter issued by The National City Bank of New York for March
Courtesy of The First National Bank of Midland

The rise in farm products during February is of greater significance than any other development that has occurred since these prices broke in the fall of 1920. The dead-lock, which has existed as a result of farm products falling faster and farther than other products, has been broken and the change has brightened the business situation. As is usually the case when a great fall of prices occurs under conditions which unsettle confidence, farm products fell below the normal level and in some instances below the pre-war level.

Survey of Agricultural Staples

Wheat has had a rise of 40 cents a bushel from the low point, and should bring a good price as long as Russia is not an exporter. Hogs at $10 per hundred weight in Chicago are on a profitable basis, and helped corn. Stock cattle are doing much better. During the boom period, while prices were rising, many cattlemen became over-extended, and in many instances banks became over-extended in granting them accommodations. A great amount of cattle paper was put afloat through cattle loan companies, and bought by investors who were under no obligations to renew it, and who counted upon having their money when the paper fell due. The turn of the times came, prices fell, bank deposits declined, the cattle loans fell due, banks needed their money to meet the calls of depositors, and cattle had to be sold. It was a mistake to create so much indebtedness. The cattle business would have had more real prosperity without borrowing so much. The borrowing resulted in a competition for stock cattle that drove prices up to a level that was dangerous for those who did the finishing and ultimately brought disaster all around.

The excessive supplies of cotton are being steadily reduced, and the price has advanced two cents from the low point of January.

The Business Outlook

It will be seen from the foregoing survey of the agricultural staples that a pronounced improvement has taken place in the position of the farming population, which is precisely where the business situation has been weak. It probably is safe to say that the worst has been passed, and that on the whole the farmer will not lose the ground that has been gained.

For one thing, a rise such as has occurred does much to restore confidence in values. It has shown how easily the situation may right itself with a slight change in conditions, and that there never was ground for the extreme pessimism that prevailed. Pessimism, like optimism, is infectious, and when everybody is thinking the same way either state of mind will run to the extreme. When times were blooming, common opinion was ready to insist they would go on that way for a long time, and when they turned bad it was just as positive that they were going to stay bad for a very long time unless something was done forthwith.

It would be a mistake to think that prices are going back to war figures. In Europe, outside of Russia, agriculture will be back in 1922 almost to normal productivity, and will buy no more outside of Europe than it is obliged to. A return to completely normal conditions is not to be expected until the finances of Europe are in better shape. In the long run the farmer has one permanent influence on his side. The population is constantly increasing and the area of land in farms increases now only by a considerable expenditure of capital, for irrigation, drainage or the improvement of cut-over lands.

The Wage Question

This rally of farm products by no means restores the balance between farm products and the goods and services which the farmer must buy. It helps, but the latter must come down before employment can be full for the wage earners or business normal for anybody. Inexorable Economic Law is exerting steady pressure upon this side of the equation as well as upon the other. The textile strike against lower wages continues in New England, the operators having declined to arbitrate the question, for a reason which there is every reason to believe is well-founded, and if so is unanswerable. They say that if they entered into arbitration they would feel bound to operate the mills at the wage fixed by the arbitrators, but that any wage scale above the one they have offered would place their costs above present selling values, and make it impossible for them to give regular employment. They urge that a reduction of manufacturing costs is necessary to enable the goods to be marketed.

The situation is the same as to bituminous coal. The non-union mines have reduced wage-rates and are underselling the union mines, with the result that the former are running practically full time and the miners in them are making higher wages per week than the union miners. Many union miners who have nothing to do have gone over to the non-union districts and accepted work there, thus expanding the output. The union leaders are urging the state of stagnation in the industry as the chief argument for maintaining the high wage rates, but high wage rates and high prices for coal are among the chief causes of business stagnation.

Railroad employees have taken a reduction of about 12 per cent, but their pay is still out of reasonable proportion to that of services in other occupations. Mr. William Butterworth, president of Deere & Company, Moline, Illinois, manufacturers of agricultural implements, writes to "Nation's Business" as follows:

"In my factory at Moline a machine operator gets from 35 cents to 58 cents an hour, according to his efficiency and his length of service. His next door neighbor, maybe, is classed as a machine operator in the railroad shops at Moline, and he receives for work of the same grade or lower, whatever his term of service and without regard to special efficiency, 77 cents an hour.

"The poorest workman of that class receives from the railroads 42 cents an hour more than my inexperienced workman, and 19 cents an hour more than my best. You may imagine the consequence of this disparity on labor generally.

"A common day laborer in the railroad shop gets 43 cents an hour whereas my best unskilled workmen get but 30 cents. The common day laborer for the railroad gets more than my best paid machinist's helper, a semi-skilled and ambitious operator."

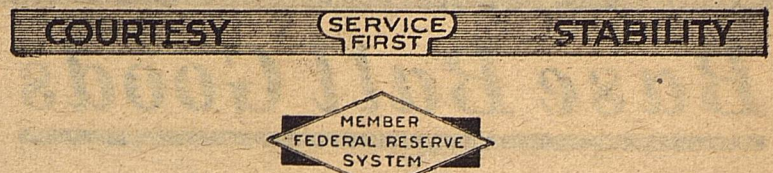

It may be answered that Deere & Company should raise wages to conform to the pay of railroad employees, but Deere & Company lost about $9,409,733 in their business last year, of which $6,317,059 represented a writing down of inventories to correspond to the decline in price of materials and stock on hand, and $2,752,901 represented loss on goods sold. This was due to the general decline of prices and to the inability of farmers to buy implements. Other manufacturers of implements fared likewise. This shows anything but a healthy state of industry. The wage earning class will not prosper when the farmers cannot buy implements, for that means that they will buy very little of any manufactured goods.

The Deere report to stockholders states that sales in 1921 were only 37 per cent of what they were in 1920, and that it was necessary to make radical reductions throughout the organization. The factories with one exception were closed in the late winter and spring of 1921 and remained closed throughout the remainder of the year. That tells how present conditions affect the employees of Deere & Company.

The continuation of this situation is largely due to railroad charges that are excessively high in their relation to the value of the freight carried, particularly in the case of farm products and other bulky materials. In the iron and steel industry five tons of incoming materials are required to make a ton of product, and the increase in freight charges more than accounts for the difference between the prices of the principal products now and before the war. Railroad charges cannot be reduced unless operating costs are reduced, and the wages of railroad employees and cost of coal are the principal items in railroad expenditures.

Found a Cure for Indigestion
"I use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for indigestion and find they suit my case better than any dyspepsia remedy I have ever tried and I have used many different medicines. If you agree with Edward Bok

For thirty years Edward Bok was editor of the Ladies' Home Journal. Then he retired at the height of his career, because he felt there were things other than business to which a man should devote part of his life.

You may agree with his ideals, but can you afford to retire? Will you be more able to do so ten years from now?

Make the present serve your future. Build up an independent income that will make possible leaving the harness when the desire comes.

Let us suggest plans.

REDEMPTIONS TO BE

SECRETARY MELLON MAKES
CALL FOR VICTORIES—PAR AND INTEREST

Desiring to be of service to its readers, many of whom own Victory Notes, the following information is presented by The Reporter with reference to the June 15th, 1922, call by the Treasury for 3-4 Victory Notes, and the temporary redemption privilege relative to Victory 4-3-4s. Inquiries indicate there has been some misunderstanding on the part of the public.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has called Victory 3-4 Notes for redemption at par and accrued interest June 15th, 1922. After June 15th these bonds, because they have been called, will bear interest. It is to the owner's advantage to surrender them at that time, or any time before at par plus accrued interest, and re-invest the proceeds. For re-investment, the U. S. Government Savings Organization at Dallas has suggested the new issue of Treasury Savings Certificates which are to be had at postoffices or through banks in $1000, $100, and $25 maturity value, denominations, costing, respectively $800, $80 and $20.

These are registered in the owner's name when purchased and are loss proof as well as depreciation or market fluctuation proof. They mature 5 years from date of purchase; bear 4-1-2 per cent, compound semi-annually, if held to maturity. Over a period of five years they yield 25 per cent on the investment. They are cashable at purchaser's option before maturity. Ownership limit is $5,000, maturity value.

Until March 15th the Treasury has authorized the Federal Reserve Bank to receive 4-3-4 Victories from owners who desire to sell them to the government at par plus accrued interest. If held after that time, unless the purchase period is extended, the 4-3-4 Victories will run on till maturity, which is May 23rd, 1923. Those who desire may take advantage of this temporary period and convert their bonds into cash. Re-investment in Treasury Savings Certificates of the New Issue has been recommended. Owners are advised to consult local bankers for specific advice.

PUBLIC DEMAND GREATER FOR ADVERTISED GOODS

Report of an investigation recently conducted by S. M. U. students to determine the response by the public to advertising occupied the attention of the Dallas Advertising League at their weekly luncheon at the Oriental Tuesday. Twenty-five students of the advertising and statesmanship classes of the school of commerce at the university and Prof. W. C. Wales, who made the investigation, were guests at the luncheon. E. W. Bateman, who had charge of the program, reported on the canvass made by the students last Saturday, in which they visited various local stores. The investigation in every instance showed an overwhelming demand for advertised merchandise, although in many cases the advertised goods were on sale beside non-advertised goods which sold at lower prices. The survey also showed that retail salesmen are taking advantage of advertising. —Dallas News.

MEETING OF GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION

GATHERINGS AT PHOENIX IN APRIL EXPECTED TO BE ALL IMPORTANT

Wonderful progress has been made arranging the details and promoting the tenth annual convention of the United States Good Roads Association, United States Good Roads Show and the sixth annual convention of the Bankhead National Highway Association at the headquarters of these associations in Phoenix, Ariz. Thousands of copies of letters, newspapers and circulars have gone forth telling of the program and the work of these conventions.

Director General J. A. Rountree, who has charge of the activity in Phoenix, reports that the most encouraging and enthusiastic letters have been received from some of the most distinguished men in the country, accepting invitations and assuring their hearty co-operation. A number of good roads machinery and material manufacturers, trucks and automobile dealers have written inquiring and arranging for exhibits in the United States Good Roads Show which will be held at the Arizona State Fair Grounds.

Governor Charles H. Brough, president, and J. A. Rountree, director general, have written letters to 48 governors inviting them to attend the convention and asking them to appoint 100 delegates each from their respective states. Governor Thomas E. Campbell, in behalf of the State of Arizona, the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce, the Arizona State Good Roads Association and the Automobile Club of Arizona have each written similar letters joining with the officers of the United States Good Roads Association in inviting these governors to come to Phoenix.

Congressman Carl Hayden has wired Director General Rountree that the bill authorizing the post office cancellation stamp bearing the slogan, "Visit Phoenix, Arizona, April 24-29—United States Good Road Week," has passed the house and senate and become a law, and this stamp was put in use on March 1st. This is the first time that the United States Congress has authorized a cancellation stamp for any good roads association in America. It is a distinct compliment to the association and will be a great advertisement for both the convention and the State of Arizona.

THE GREATEST OF LAYMEN PREACHERS

William Jennings Bryan is delivering as many sermons nowadays as the average minister of the Gospel, and many of them are given in Washington churches. In addition he is writing Sunday School lessons to a syndicate that is doing a land office business selling the feature to newspapers throughout the country. Friends of Mr. Bryan say that he is now performing his greatest service for humanity. Incidentally, the Congressman never enjoyed greater popularity than at present. He has taken up his residence in Florida, and the political straws appear to indicate that the Senatorial winds are blowing strong in his direction.

NEW PROLIFIC PEANUT

Several years of exhaustive tests with 64 families of Spanish peanuts by the Texas agricultural experiment station at sub-station No. 11, Nacogdoches, have resulted in the development of a superior high yielding variety adapted to East Texas conditions. This prolific strain has been increased and there is now a limited supply of seed available for distribution. In order that this supply may be distributed among as many farms as possible, only one peck will be awarded to each applicant, at a nominal charge of $1 per peck f.o.b. Nacogdoches. Requests for this seed should be mailed to George T. McNess, Superintendent, Nacogdoches, Texas.

NATION SHOWS LARGE DECLINE IN BUILDING

The Industrial Service Department, First National Bank of St. Louis, in its financial review of the week, submitted to The Reporter for publication, writes that the statistics of the volume of building in 27 States planned during 1920 and 1921 (eleven months) reveals a falling off in the field of industrial building of 47 per cent in 1921 and a decrease in the residential field of 12 per cent, while all other classes of building not included in residential or industrial groups showed 86 per cent increased activity in 1921 as compared with the preceding year. These comparisons are based upon the number of projects planned and not dollars involved.

The decline in demand for industrial buildings was accompanied by an indicated decline in costs equal to about 16 per cent, figured by a comparison of values of an assumed unit. In contrast to this, the cost of residential building, similarly calculated, showed an increase of about 104 per cent in 1921 over 1920. In the general class of building not included in the residential or industrial group, a decrease in cost equal to about 29 per cent is indicated. Since no classification of building projects by groups is available prior to 1920, comparisons cannot be made with pre-war years.

Comparison of total money involved in each group can be made for last four years. In the industrial class there was a 39 per cent advance in 1919, 7 per cent advance in 1920, and 55 per cent decline in 1921, as compared each to the preceding year. Dollars of planned residential construction increased 229 per cent in 1919, then dropped 24 per cent in 1920, and again rose 27 per cent in 1921 by the same method of comparison.

might be made safe for Democracy." He is a Democrat, of course, and he frankly submits his candidacy to the action of the July primaries. In the event of his election, he promises all that is in him to serve acceptably and efficiently; and his word may be likened unto a gold bond.

Birge Holt, Barstow

Another candidate for the office of Attorney for the 70th Judicial District. Mr. Holt was in Midland a few days ago, and we found him a very acceptable young man indeed. He is a college mate and particular friend of our young townsman, Attorney Oliver W. Fannin, he, too, quitting his law course in the Texas University and going to an officers' training camp at the outbreak of the war. He has a distinguished war record, and rose to a first lieutenantcy. He completed his law course after the close of the war. He then practiced law in Ft. Worth. There the prestige and influence of his father, who is a very distinguished lawyer of Sherman, surrounded him. It is highly commendable that he had ambitions to make his way unaided, and he moved to Barstow, where he has successfully practiced his profession for the past two years. He is a Democrat, and that action taken with him by the July primaries he will accept with the grace that all good Democrats should. He will deeply appreciate your support, and The Reporter quite frankly commends him to those who may be interested in his success.

W. E. Bradford

Sheriff W. E. Bradford, after much solicitation on the part of friends, has decided that he would like to succeed himself as sheriff and tax collector for Midland County, and his announcement appears formally in our announcement column. He is a capable officer, perhaps none more so in all the west. His reputation as a criminal catcher is very great, and the outlaw dreads him everywhere. He has many sensational captures to his credit, and if Midland's reputation as a peaceable, law-abiding community is not largely due to his efficiency, we are at a loss to place it. Not that he is blameless—who is? He has served Midland long and well. Aside from his record, so feared by outlaws, his clerical record has ever been above reproach, his handling of county funds having been systematized, efficient, and acceptable. He is a Democrat, and submits his candidacy to the disposition of the July primary. In the event of his re-election, he promises a strict adherence to duty, and to serve impartially and as acceptably as may be within his power. The Reporter quite cordially commends him to the consideration of all persons whose interests may be involved.

Chas. L. Klapproth

The announcement of Attorney Chas. L. Klapproth, as a candidate for the office of County Judge for Midland County, has been running in our announcement column now for some weeks, this comment having been unavoidably delayed. The young man has lived in Midland all his life, and our people know him quite well. His habits are above reproach, and he is a young lawyer of much promise. He was an honor graduate of the Midland high school, won distinction in inter-scholastic debates at Austin, and graduated with honors in the law department of the Texas University. For physical disability, he failed at the officers' training camp at Leon Springs, but showed his patriotism as a prompt volunteer at the beginning of the war. Young Mr. Klapproth has so lived that he is high in the esteem of his fellow citizens, and is in all ways worthy of such confidence as may be reposed in him. He is a Democrat, and his candidacy is offered subject to such action as may result from the Democratic primary July 22nd. In the event of his election he promises all of which he is capable to serve acceptably and well, and it is The Reporter's disposition to speed him on and wish for him the success that may be commensurate to the measure of his talents, and how worthily he has and shall have used them.

Dunn Reiger

Here is another young aspirant for office who has lived in Midland practically all his life, and is quite well known. Dunn wants to be tax assessor for Midland County, that is if he can secure the nomination in the Democratic primary on the 22nd of next July, and he says he is going to do his level best to make the voters understand that wants the job badly, and that he will fully appreciate the efforts of all who are disposed to help him on the way. He is one of our most obliging young citizens, clean, good humored, and much esteemed for the upright life he has always exemplified. Dunn feels that he is amply qualified to discharge the duties of the office he seeks, and, should his candidacy be successful, he promises his best efforts to render a service that will leave no cause for regret of his election. He is worthy of the confidence he enjoys among those who know him best, and The Reporter is pleased to commend him to the consideration of its readers.

Brooks Lee

An old-timer, and one who is very much esteemed, indeed. He would succeed himself as treasurer for Midland County, subject, of course, to the disposition of the Democratic primary in July. "Uncle Brooks"—his good friends call him that—is now serving his first term as treasurer, and it may be that he will go through without an opponent. Whether he does or not, he campaigns all the time, by being always on the job and doing his best to oblige and be a friend to everybody. Of course everybody loves "Uncle Brooks," and—oh well, we'll just give him the job again. We don't imagine anybody is going to object. Just naturally couldn't.

HEALTH SUGGESTIONS FOR EVERY WEEK DAY

(By Dr. H. E. Downs, State Director of Child Hygiene.)

1. Ventilate well the room you occupy, as pure oxygen is necessary to carry on processes of nutrition.
2. Wear loose porous clothing suited to season, insuring free movement, free ventilation and absorption of body exhalations.
3. If you are an indoor worker get outside several hours of the 24, for fresh air, sunlight and exercise are enemies to disease.
4. Sneeze or cough into your handkerchief and insist on others doing likewise; thus preventing the germs to which you may be host being conveyed to others, or theirs to you.
5. Do not over-eat, especially of meat and eggs, for an overloaded stomach retards digestion and an excess throws unnecessary work on emunctories.
6. Wash your hands before eating; unclean hands may convey disease germs to the food and mouth.
7. Eat some bulky foods and some fruits; residue of the bulky foods stimulates the bowels reflexly and fruits are laxative.
8. Eat slowly, chew thoroughly, as your teeth were not given you for ornament and unless they thoroughly grind food, the stomach juices can not convert it readily.
9. Drink at least six large glasses of water daily, as it is a necessary solvent and serves to flush the body sewer.
10. Stand, sit and walk erect; it is the natural posture and gives most space to vital organs.
11. Keep the teeth, tongue and gums clean; decomposing particles of food in mouth, soften the mucous membrane and gives a point of entrance for germs.
12. Balance your day by working 8 hours, playing eight hours and sleeping 8 hours.
13. Avoid mental worry, as it disturbs bodily equilibrium necessary to health.
14. Be sociable; contact with your fellows prevents one from becoming morbid.
15. Take no drugs unless prescribed by a reputable physician, as wrongly administered, they are poisons.
16. Have your doctor and dentist give you a thorough examination annually, and act on their advice.

A LARGE ATTENDANCE UPON SUMMER NORMAL

Elaborate plans are being made for the work of the University of Texas summer session, under the supervision of Dean Frederick Eby. Last year there were 2600 students in attendance, and it is thought that as many will be enrolled for the 1922 session. There will be 175 members of the faculty, including the summer normal and the regular college course given by the University.

Professor Norman Crozier, assistant superintendent of the Dallas schools, will direct the summer normal, which will open June 13th and will close with the State examinations August 7-10, after eight weeks of instruction. The work of the normal is given principally for teachers who desire the opportunity for summer study in order to prepare for State exami-

The laboratories and buildings of the University are open for their use, and they come in contact with the University life, and meet the leading school men of the State. "END OF RAINBOW" MAKES BIG HIT

COLLEGE COMEDY IN THREE ACTS PLEASURES A LARGE CROWD

"At the End of the Rainbow," a college comedy in three acts, given Feb. 17th in the band hall by the members of Miss Leona McCormick's school of expression and under her own personal supervision and stage direction, was a decided success, each act and each scene being well worked up and artistically, if not dramatically, rendered, each participant reflecting credit upon his instructor and coach, and the interest in the play running high at the different climaxes. The large band hall was crowded to capacity and all expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the performance. Miss McCormick is to be congratulated upon this splendid performance, as she is upon the splendid work which she is doing with her oratory classes. It was not difficult to tell which of the performers in this college comedy had had special training in public speaking, and too much stress can hardly be placed upon the importance of learning to speak well and effectively in public and in private. We understand that a handsome sum was realized from the door receipts, which was shared on a 50-50 basis with the senior class of the high school. So great was the success of the performance that demands have been made for it to be given in some of the neighboring towns, and we understand that the play will be carried to Odessa this Friday, just two weeks after the performance here. The special numbers between curtains and the selections by the orchestra were very much enjoyed.

Following is the cast of characters of the play and the program as it was rendered:

The Pneumonia Month

March is a typical pneumonia month and usually gives a high rate of mortality for the disease. After a long and hard winter, the system much of its resistance and people grow careless. When every cold, no matter how slight, is given prompt and intelligent attention, there is much less danger of pneumonia. It is a germ disease and breeds in the throat. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an expectorant and cleans out the germ laden mucus and not only cures a cold but prevents its resulting in pneumonia. It is pleasant to take. Children take it willingly. adv March 1m

PIPE BLEW UP WHILE CITIZEN WAS SMOKING

Our townsman, R. M. Driver, happened to what might have been a serious accident the other night. Right after supper he filled his pipe with tobacco that he found loose in his coat pocket, and while he sat and smoked, and meditated, and dozed by the fire, suddenly there was a terrific boom! bang! and his pipe flew out of his mouth bursting into a thousand pieces leaving Mr. Driver only the stem of his favorite old briar as a remembrance of the days of yore. Mr. Driver had forgotten and left two 22 cartridges in his pocket where he kept his tobacco, with the aforementioned Fourth of July display of fireworks. Luckily he was not injured, but from now on he will make a thorough analysis of the tobacco he carries loose in his pocket before filling his pipe.

TIME AGAIN TO MAKE WAR ON THE HOUSE FLY

The common house fly is the chief cause of typhoid fever and it also transmits such diseases as tuberculosis, dysentery, anthrax, cholera and diarrhoea, states D. E. Breed, executive secretary, Texas Public Health Association.

Flies thrive in such places as cess pools, manure, decomposing vegetable matter, etc. It takes the eggs a week to hatch so their breeding places should be removed or disinfected at least every five or six days.

To secure comfort as well as protection against infection by flies and other insects every one should see that his house is properly screened so that they cannot gain admittance to the home. It is much better to screen the house and prevent their entrance than it is to try to kill them with swatters after they have gained an entrance. If the breeding places of flies are destroyed and houses properly screened the spread of many diseases will be materially lessened.

Now is the time to start the campaign against the fly as his army at this time is very small. However the fly increases so rapidly that unless we wage an unremitting campaign against him from this time until every house, town and county is free from this pest, our earlier efforts will have been in vain.

WELL REPRESENTED IN EUROPE THIS YEAR

Whether it is the magic of the Passion Play or a general wanderlust, or perhaps the reasonableness of the cost, something is stirring an unusual number of Americans to go to Europe this summer.

Although Dr. A. J. Armstrong, professor of English at Baylor University, Waco, who takes parties abroad each year, made preparations for a record business this year, he was hardly prepared for the quick materialization of his plans. He began receiving registrations in early November, and has announced that this year's business already surpasses that of any other year, even the year immediately following the war, when there was a general exodus to Europe to see the battlefields.

Plans are already completed by which these groups of Dr. and Mrs. Armstrong will have the best which Europe offers. They will occupy the best, reserved seats at the Passion Play and will have first class accommodations in Oberammergau.

Among the very pleasant features of the itinerary this year are several motor excursions which Dr. Armstrong plans to give his parties. They will motor over two of the most famous of all the Alpine passes, the Furka and Grimsel passes, where the party will be allowed to stop and enter a grotto which has been out into the great Rhone Glacier on the top of the world. There will be charming motor trips in England and France and others in Switzerland and in Belgium. These constitute one of the most attractive features of the trip.

The Armstrong parties have the distinction of being planned with the view of giving cultured people a clear view of the best art and culture of the old world at the least expenditure of strength and time and expense.

Texas has been generous in her support and patronage of these tours. Since Dr. Armstrong began taking these groups from Waco by far the large majority of his patrons have been Texans, with many from Waco itself. They are not limited to students, and the appeal is varied enough to insure a delightful and profitable summer to those who are interested in art, literature, culture or business and economical conditions. The party this year starts from New York June 19th.

COLLEGE EDITION ERROR CORRECTED

INADVERTENT STATEMENT IN A WRITE-UP OF OUR POLO INDUSTRY

Our issue of February 10th was turned over to students of Midland College, and a right good edition of The Reporter it was, too. The boys had plenty of "pep," and but little news, if any, escaped our columns that week. Inevitably some errors were bound to show up, though none that were particularly harmful. There was one especially clever write-up, under the caption, "Cow Pony Initiated into Mysteries of Polo," but toward the close it seriously misrepresented the young son of our townspeople, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Half. Naturally the young man resented the error, and his letter, received yesterday and dated at Roswell, N. M. M. I., March 7th, we gladly reproduce, to the end that matters may be set right. He writes:

"Dear Mr. Watson:
 "I was startled to find in your issue of The Reporter Feb. 10th, which has only just reached me, a most glaring error. In the article entitled 'Cow Pony Initiated into Mysteries of Polo,' the last paragraph states that I am devoting my entire time to a study of the game of polo, under the tutelage of an Englishman named Mason, who now lives in Boston. From whom this erroneous information was obtained, or why it was placed before your unsuspecting readers, I do not know. I do know that I would appreciate it immensely, and feel that I was not misrepresented, if this mistake is rectified and the true facts stated. Besides this study of the game of polo I am studying intensively the following subjects: Advanced Chemistry, including qualitative and quantitative analysis; College Algebra and Analytical Geometry; College English, including technique, exposition, narration, and argumentation; Higher French, embracing a detailed discussion of the subjunctive, a history of Modern Europe, concentrating on the French Revolution and the Napoleonic era; American Government and Politics; Military Sketching and Map Reading; a dissection of the Machine Rifle; and lastly, a course in wireless and radio telephony.

"Mr. Mason may be an Englishman; at any rate he calls me Mr. Half. I am not taking a course from him in polo, much less a correspondence course, as is evident from that statement that he lives at Boston, for he is living there now.

"My merit as a polo player may also have been misrepresented to you. Many innocent bystanders have been led to believe that I am the best player on the field, because everybody is yelling at me to do something. Please do not draw a like conclusion.

"You may correctly state that I am going to take a post-graduate course in playing polo, to include successful strokes, fancy fouls, and guarding goals, to start next September.

"I am always vitally interested in regard to Midland and the surrounding country. I am always glad to hear of anything advantageous to the people of Midland are uppermost in my thoughts. I am sure the happiest part of my life has been spent around Midland.

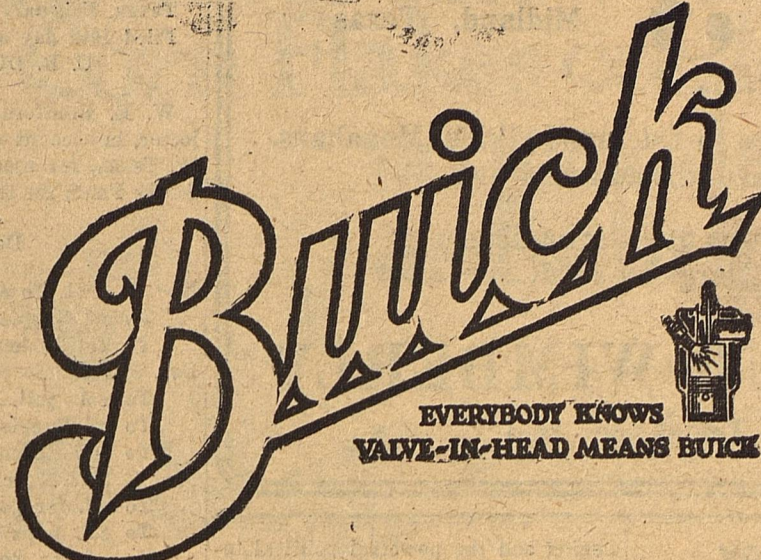

"Hoping to see this error rectified at your earliest convenience, wishing Midland prosperity and the best of times, I am,

"Respectfully yours,
 "Mayer H. Half."

The error referred to above was not more than an inadvertent statement, and in no wise intended to depreciate the young man's attendance upon the New Mexico Military Institute. Incidentally, we are inclined to remark, young Mr. Half is certainly carrying along a full collegiate course, and that he succeeds with them all is quite enough to justify the pride of parents and friends, no less than satisfaction to himself.

GARAGE FINISHED AND READY FOR BUSINESS

We neglected to mention last week that our friend and townsman, Charley Allen, had completed his garage at his home and is now ready for business. He has his place well equipped and makes a specialty of jitneys. He is a real jitney doctor, and what he don't know about 'em, others need not to find out. Previously he had been working on cars practically out in the open. Now he is not only enabled to work comfortably in a well heated and well lighted building, but can house such cars as may be held over from time to time. We congratulate him upon his improvements and wish him all good luck.

More Facts You Should Know

- 1 For the calendar year, January 1, 1921, to January 1, 1922, Buick built and actually sold over 80,000 automobiles.
- 2 These sales for the calendar year 1921 exceeded by over 12,000 cars the sales of any automobile manufacturer having a six-cylinder automobile in its line.
- 3 These sales for this period likewise represent a volume of business greater by over $9,000,000 than the sales of any other automobile manufacturer excluding Ford.
- 4 These figures are taken from official reports and are absolutely reliable.

CUBA IS DESCRIBED AS AMERICAN OASIS

MISSIONARIES ARE PLANNING TO DRIVE BOOZE AND GAMBLING OUT

Rev. S. A. Neblett, Southern Methodist missionary to Cuba, recently visited the United States to attend a church-wide conference on world program and missionary advance called by Methodist leaders.

According to Dr. Neblett, the American saloon and the gambling places frequented by Americans are the greatest handicaps to the missionary workers in Cuba.

"Hundreds of so-called American saloons have been established in Havana, which are degrading the natives as well as American tourists," said Dr. Neblett. "Since prohibition became nation-wide in the United States, Cuba has become the great saloon for Americans. Hundreds of American tourists are to be found in Havana at all times. Just before Thanksgiving every year the big races start and continue until Easter. During that period gambling and drinking are the main sports. The sporting class of the United States are there to drink their fill and gamble away a few thousands.

"There are sixteen saloons within two blocks of the mission church in Havana, and the natives are easily influenced by the example set by American tourists who visit Cuba," according to Dr. Neblett, who also gave it as his opinion that within a few years his church would be able to carry prohibition to Cuba. He stated that a movement had already been started among the missionaries to make Cuba dry.

Dr. Neblett reported that the missionary work of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in the island of Cuba, had made wonderful strides since the inauguration of the centenary movement three years ago. Prior to the centenary he said, it was impossible to make any advance, discouragement was in the air, and the work was hampered by lack of funds, but as the centenary objectives become known in Cuba the situation brightened all along the line and Cuba led all the foreign fields in its immediate

MARKET NEWS BY NEW RADIO SERVICE

AGRICULTURAL NEWS SERVICE BY RADIOPHONE ESTABLISHED AT AUSTIN

Plans to install agricultural market news for Texas daily by Radiophone, were completed Monday after a three day conference between officials of the State department of Agriculture, State department of markets and warehouse, the University of Texas and the federal bureau of markets and crop estimates, Washington, D. C.

The necessity for a general diffusion of reliable information fresh from the loom is evidenced by a growing public desire from all trades and professions, manifested in the great number of constant inquiries and requests received daily by State officials for information.

Since radio news broadcasting has been demonstrated as efficient economic and instantaneous, it has been decided to put on the service in a moderate practical way and to expedite matters and facilitate the handling of the news reports, the service will be known as the "Texas Radio Market News Service."

The plan being to obtain daily market reports from the central markets of the country through the Kansas City office of the United States Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates and from other section of the country through other agencies. The data will be collected, by the State Department of Agriculture, compiled by the State markets and warehouse department and disseminated by the University of Texas. The news will be broadcasted through the University high power radio station each day to the various radio receiving stations throughout the State promptly at a given time, which time will be announced later.

It is thought that this service will be of greatest value to farmers, farmers' organizations, distributors of farm products and commercial organizations, but any individual, association or organizations may also receive it free of cost by installing a simple radio receiving apparatus which can be had at a very small cost.

Texas has many radio clubs, and literally hundreds of radio receiving stations fully equipped to receive Radiophone messages.

It is probable that the chambers of commerce in each town or city will wish to make their organization the radio news center for the community by posting bulletins and relaying the news by telephone to interested parties. It is contemplated, if possible to release the news from Austin at a time which would seem most convenient for the press.

J. C. Gilbert, specialist in market extension, bureau of markets and crop estimates, United States Department of Agriculture, after assisting in arranging plans for the co-operative work between the above named agencies left for Washington, D. C., this morning.

Geo. Endress, who represented the University of Texas in the conference will have charge of the University Radio station and J. Austen Hunter, has been designated as a joint representative of the markets and warehouse department and the department of agriculture, who in addition to his other duties, will for the present have charge of the office details of the "Texas Radio Market News Service" and those wishing further information will please address J. Austen Hunter, Assistant Marketing Agent, Texas Radio Market News Service, Austin, Texas.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE SOLDIER BONUS

President Harding took the responsibility last year of postponing the soldiers' bonus bill. Leaders in congress have joined with the American Legion and the powerful political interests of the country in urging the President to come out in support of the bonus at this time. To all these entreaties, Mr. Harding has answered congress: "Raise the money, if you vote this bonus." The leaders thereupon have made repeated trips to the White House to ask the President "how can we raise it?" "That's for you to say," has been the essence of the answer, on each and every occasion.

The soldiers' bonus bill will be reported to congress, and it is likely to pass. It is not expected that President Harding will veto it; but he will insist that no responsibility for its enactment shall rest upon his administration.

Congress has given up the idea of linking the bill with the allied debt. Bond issues have been considered, but this method of financing the measure seems to be unpopular. Chairman Fordney, in a statement following a recent meeting of the ways and means committee, admitted that all forms of taxation in connection with the bonus were discussed, "with the exception of taxing China and Japan," he added.

A formidable form of opposition to the bonus bill is found in some of the farmers' organizations, and some of the leaders have protested to congress "against any more taxes."

PACKERS AND THEIR UNRELATED LINES

The resolution of Senator LaFollette, Wisconsin, designed to prevent modification of the Federal court decree requiring the "big five" meat packers to relinquish their unrelated lines of business has been adopted by the Senate.

RIALTO THEATRE GIVES FREE WEDNESDAY MATINEE

Commencing next Wednesday, March 15th, the Rialto Theatre will give to out of town people and also our entire community a free matinee. This is being promoted by the business institutions of our city and will be carried on for four weeks or more.

We would call special attention to the Rialto ad in another column of this issue announcing a most unique program for next week, also the statement of our business men in regard to the free matinee.

The La Vettes, a musical comedy company, played a two nights' engagement at the Rialto last Saturday and Monday nights. This company was strictly a family affair and was clean, to say the least. Their programs were good, but a little out of date, however, they pulled big laughs.

BACKACHE IS A WARNING

Midland People Should Not Neglect Their Kidneys

Backache is often nature's most frequent signal of weakened kidneys. To cure the pains and aches, to remove the lameness when it arises from weakened kidneys, you must reach the cause—the kidneys. If you have pain through the small of your back, urinary disorders, headaches, dizzy spells, or are nervous and depressed, start treating the kidneys with a tested kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills have been proved good and are especially for weak kidneys. Doan's have been used in kidney trouble for over 50 years. Read Midland testimony. Mrs. J. H. Shepherd, Baird St., says: "Quite a few years ago I had occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills. I had a great deal of trouble with my kidneys and back and at times my back felt so sore and lame, the least work was drudgery. I had headaches and on stooping, I got so dizzy everything in front of me turned black. My kidneys were irregular and I was all played out, with no ambition to do anything. I started taking Doan's and they cured me entirely so I haven't been troubled since."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Shepherd had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv 22-2c

Indigestion
Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. For a long time I tried pills, which gripped and didn't give the good results. Black-Draught liver medicine is easy to take, easy to keep, inexpensive."

You never knew that Corn Flakes could be so wonderful as Kellogg's

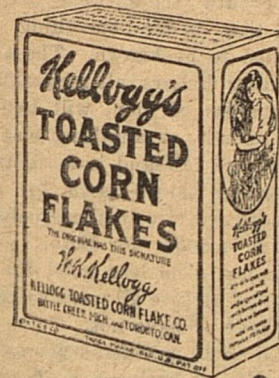

"Say, Captain, let the enemy come on! We can hold out a long, long time with this big box of Kellogg's Corn Flakes! Wish it was time to eat now!"

Kellogg's are a revelation, not only in Corn Flakes, but in cereals! Such delicious flavor, such crispy crunchiness never before was believed possible in corn flakes! You have a great treat awaiting you the very first time you sit down before a generous bowlful of Kellogg's Corn Flakes and a pitcher of milk or cream—and fresh fruit, if it's handy!

It isn't fair to yourself and your family not to share in the pleasures that Kellogg's Corn Flakes so generously spread over the nation—and the world. You are missing a taste-thrill! So, tomorrow morning, serve Kellogg's Corn Flakes for breakfast, or for lunch—or for between-meals nibbles! They're wonderful—and never tough or leathery or hard to eat!

Insist upon your grocer supplying KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes—the delicious kind in the RED and GREEN package that bears the signature of W. K. Kellogg, originator of Corn Flakes. NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT IT!

Don't forget, KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes are made by the folks who gave you the JUNGLELAND Moving Pictures. Coupon inside every package of KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes explains how you can obtain another copy of JUNGLELAND.

Texas-Exes of Midland Organize

The fondest hope of every Texas ex-student of Midland was realized on Thursday, March 2nd, when we met at a banquet at the Llano Hotel and organized our Ex-Students' Association of the University of Texas. The banquet table, arranged in the shape of a T, was beautifully and artistically decorated with the Texas colors, orange and white, and the Texas flower, the blue bonnet. As soon as we had assembled our toast-master, Mr. Oliver W. Fannin, led us in one of the old favorites, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's all Here." We were then seated and while the first course was being served we perused the booklet, presented to us by the Ex-Students' Association, and each page brought back recollections that can never be blotted from our memory. Between courses we were favored with the following program:

- "What March 2nd Means to Us"—Chas. L. Klapproth.
- "Mrs. Helen Marr Kirby"—Mrs. Harry Tolbert.
- "The Greatness of the University"—B. W. Baker.
- "Texas Ex-Students' Association for Midland"—L. C. Harling.

Each speaker was introduced by our toast-master in a way that displayed a wit and humor peculiar only to him. Not at any time during the evening was there a dull moment. First one and then another of those familiar songs and yells were started and each one present entered into the spirit of the occasion with the same "pep" and enthusiasm that we used to have when we were pulling for the team on Clark's Field. After the last course had been served we held a business session, organized our Ex-Students' Association and elected Mr. Oliver Fannin president and Mrs. Harry Tolbert secretary and treasurer. A motion was carried to draft resolutions, one copy to be sent to the office of the general association and one kept on file in our local association, endorsing and promising to support the movement launched at the University to erect a suitable building on the campus to be used as a real University headquarters. The president appointed Mr. W. W. Lackey, Miss Wilma Elliott, and Mrs. Byron Gist to draft these resolutions. The ex-students who were present at the banquet were: Mesdames O. W. Fannin, Byron Gist, and Harry Tolbert; Misses Wilma Elliott, Elma Graves, Guadalupe Wilkerson, and Annie Mae Paterson; Messrs. O. W. Fannin, W. W. Lackey, Chas. L. Klapproth, Maurice Wheeler, B. W. Baker, Ruebin C. Collins, J. M. DeArmond, Homer W. Rowe, and L. C. Harling; and their guests were: Mesdames O. J. Hull, B. W. Baker, J. M. DeArmond, Homer W. Rowe, Misses Hollie Belle Pickrell, Maurine Littlejohn, Juliette Wolcott, Lela Smith, and Leona McCormick; Messrs. O. J. Hull, Clyde Cowden, Byron Gist, and Harry Tolbert.—Contributed.

Christian Endeavor Social

Last Saturday night at the home of Miss Charlie Ethridge, the Christian Endeavor had their monthly interesting and enjoyable social. After the guests had assembled, cards were drawn to find our partners. We were then ushered into a room that closely resembled a spider web, for there was twine everywhere. Mr. Asa Anderson and Miss Ruth Inman won the prize for reaching the end of the string first. Next was a game called the "bride's cook-book" in which all the young men present wrote a recipe. Mr. Dock Midkiff won first prize for writing the best recipe and Mr. Shirley Collins second. Several interesting games were played and then Mrs. A. N. Brown and Mrs. Sims honored the guests by playing and singing a number of beautiful old songs which was enjoyed very much. Delicious refreshments consisting of punch, angel food and devil food cake were daintily served.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society met in regular monthly business session Monday afternoon at the Methodist church. There were 44 members present and a report from the secretary stated that since January 1st there have been added 38 new members. After the regular business session the members entered into the program with enthusiasm as it was led by Mrs. E. R. Thomas. The subject was "Chihuahua, Mexico—Social Service." The following discussed topics of interest to all: Mrs. Addison Wadley, Mrs. Luther Tidwell, Mrs. W. A. Smith and Mrs. Edgar Lawrence. The Bible study class will meet in the home of Mrs. Van Huss next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. On Tuesday the ladies will spend the day in the home of Mrs. H. Klapproth, sewing for the orphanage at Waco.—Reported.

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid Society enjoyed a most delightful meeting last Monday afternoon at the pretty home of Mrs. Rube Clayton. The subject for the afternoon's discussion was Presbyterian mission work in Africa and helpful impromptu talks were made by the various members. During the social hour the hostess served the most delicious refreshments consisting of cream chicken, hot biscuits, salad, celery, olives and coffee.

The ladies of the Methodist missionary society will have an all day sewing and "dinner on the ground," Tuesday at the residence of Mrs. H. Klapproth. The purpose of the meeting is to sew for the orphan whom they are clothing.

Mrs. Margaret E. Simms left Wednesday afternoon for Fort Worth to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Means, and from there she will go to Bryan for a six weeks' visit to relatives and friends.

Mrs. George Gray is expected to return tomorrow from a two months' visit in Los Angeles, Cal., where she has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Robert O'Connor and family.

Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer and Miss Essie Cowden left Wednesday afternoon for Fort Worth to attend the Fat Stock Show.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Collins, of Toyah, were last week end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Collins.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Nicodemus will leave tomorrow for Fort Worth to attend the Fat Stock Show.

Mrs. Herbert Carlock and little daughter were in from their ranch home last week.

Mrs. O. B. Holt will leave tomorrow for Fort Worth to attend the Fat Stock Show.

Miss Daisy Dees left Thursday of last week for a visit to relatives in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fasken are ill this week with influenza.

ODESSA BOOSTERS GET MIDLAND AID

CROWD HERE TUESDAY AND WILL PUT ON ANOTHER CAMPAIGN

Midland cordially welcomed a crowd of Odessa boosters on Tuesday of this week. They were S. R. McKinney, Dr. Francis Gibbons, L. E. Johnson, Will N. Waddell, Jno. Edwards, and W. H. Rhodes, and they were here to secure financial assistance from Midland in putting on another six months' publicity campaign. Publicity Manager E. J. Wall will continue to direct the campaign, and we believe there is not a better one in all Texas.

These Odessa enthusiasts are getting up a budget of $1000 per month, and it is a pleasure to The Reporter that Midland has subscribed to it to the extent of about $200 per month. Land owners of Fort Worth have also subscribed, and the budget is now about made up.

During the past year Ector and Crane counties have had more newspaper and magazine publicity than perhaps any other section of West Texas, due to the energy and ingenuity of Mr. Wall; and it has resulted in wide-spread interest in the possibilities of potash in this section. The Commercial Club there has secured 6 drilling contracts, and part of them are to be core tests, which will determine, all the way down, just what is beneath the surface of the earth, and this is the one thing so badly needed to be known. These six contracting drillers, all reputable men or companies of men, will test out for oil, potash, or anything else whatsoever, and Midland is actually no less interested than Odessa, for, as stated somewhere else in these columns, that which is good for Ector and Crane counties is no less good for Midland County, and we all want to know what we have or have not.

"All credit to Odessa people for their magnificent enthusiasm. It merits for them a magnificent reward, and we have faith that it will come to them in some form."

A FORMER TOWNSMAN HERE LAST SUNDAY

Dr. J. V. Guyton, who practiced medicine in Midland some twelve or fourteen years ago, was in the city last Sunday for the first time since he left here. When he left Midland he stopped briefly at Seminole and went from there to Plainview. Afterward he spent three years in the surgical department of Mayo Bros.' institution. He was overseas with the A. E. F. for 18 months, and since, for a like period of time, has been in government service in Panama. Dr. Guyton was accompanied by another physician, and they are on their way to a point near Wichita Falls, where they contemplate the establishment of a hospital.

Card of Thanks

Upon the death of our loved one, Mrs. E. G. Tatom, last week, at Monahans, many friends at Midland and elsewhere were comforting sympathetic and kindly ministered in many ways. Beautiful floral offerings were sent, among other acts of friendship, and we are deeply grateful. This, therefore, is to express our profound appreciation.

Will N. Waddell has been with us this week from Fort Worth. He owns land in Ector County, and he was with the booster crowd here from Odessa Tuesday, helping to raise funds for another 6 months' publicity campaign. The Reporter is much pleased that this crowd had such success here, for that which is good for Ector County is equally good for Midland.

D. M. Pinnell, ranching in Andrews County, about seven miles north of Florey, was in the latter part of last week, to visit his family. He reports practically no loss during the cold spell of the first of last week, but that cattle suffered severely.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church will have a market April 15th. Everything in the line of good eats to sell. Place will be announced later. 23-5t

Dear Milady: We wish you to know that we carry a very pretty line of hats, priced at $4.95, which are cheap in price only. Ask to see them. Of course, you know that style is our first consideration, and that hats can be made of cheap materials and still be stylish, but they quickly lose shape and color and prove a disappointment. We give as much thought to quality and painstaking workmanship as we do to style. From our standpoint, the result is your good will; from yours, it is delighted satisfaction. We want you to be so pleased with your purchases that you will remain our customer. You liked our early hats and the pretty suits and dresses so well, that we shall have a new lot very soon. Your own, Whitmeyer's Shop. adv
