MIDLAND HAS MANY NATURAL ADVANTAGES

LACK OF CIVIC PRIDE MAKES IT GREATLY LACKING IN ATTRACTIVENESS

Though Midland is situated here in the plains country and without the beauties of running streams and high hills, the Great Creator of all nature has been mighty good to our section in giving us the beauty of the wild flowers, the far expanse of the prairies, and the glorious sunsets of the West. There are great possibilities here in our city for the people to develop some of the natural beauty we have or to at least keep the community streets in Midland, which if they had the proper attention and supervision, would be places of beauty rather than ugly spots to greet the eye of the traveler.

Would it not be possible to designate some day in the near future when the entire community could cooperate and in one concerted drive clean our town of the trash and unsightly rubbish now to be seen in so many conspicuous places? Travelers and visitors can only gain a knowledge of a town and its people by the appearance of the vacant lots and streets. As the Bankhead Highway is completed greater numbers will be passing through and is it not time to let them carry on to their homes a memory of a clean and well kept little city rather than one of weeds and trash scattered about?

If this be possible we presume to suggest that a day be set aside by our mayor and commissioners in which churches, schools, clubs and business enterprises all unite and clear our town of anything that does not beautify.

Much as we dislike to admit it, Midland is being distanced by other West Texas communities in progress of all sorts. We need, immeasurably, a chamber of commerce to direct and to inspire activities, but, even in the absence of a directing head, we are not excused in neglecting every opportunity that presents itself.

The Reporter would be very glad to publish communications from our citizens, giving their views as to Midland's needs and how best to secure them.

OIL DEVELOPMENT IN THE PECOS FIELD

From The Pecos Enterprise:

The Bell Well

After waiting for the cement plug over the gas to harden in the Bell well Mr. Gallagher has pulled the casing that was set at 2020 feet and is now straight reaming the hole. It is probable that the hole will be reamed clear down to the cement plug and that the casing will be set in the white lime which is a cap to the gas formation. Because of the very large amount of black lime thrown out by the gas it is believed that the 60 foot strata of black lime which overlaid the oil in the Pinal Dome and in the Toyah-Bell wells has been reached and that it will not be necessary to drill through more than 50 or 60 feet of black lime at the outside before the oil producing sand will be reached. Because of the many places in the wells that furnished oil it is believed that when the Delaware sand is reached an unprecedented flow of oil will be had. It is an old saying of the oil people that the place to hunt for oil is where the oil has been found, and as oil has been found in at least ten different places in the Bell well, the greatest confidence of a big production when the Delaware sand is reached, is had by everyone connected with the Dixieland Syndicate, as well as the many others here interested in development of the field.

River Well

Formations in the River well have kept the oil fraternity on edge for the past two weeks. Similarity of the logs of this well and those of the Pinal Dome and Toyah-Bell have caused the management several times to make preparations for casing for the production which they believed would be found under black lime and shale rocks, but the drill continues to penetrate oil saturated formations, and interest is high.

The drill late this week was drilling at 3800 feet, some 550 feet shallower than the point where the Toyah-Bell found the oil sand, and every indication at the well is that a producing horizon may be found at any time.

President C. A. Owens, of the Arthur Pitts Oil Company, the owning company is spending all of his time at the well directing operations in person.

While the arrangements for the work on this well expire on Saturday night of this week, the showings are such that it is believed that arrangements will be made to continue work during the next or possibly the next two weeks.

Willoughby No. 1

C. H. Willoughby, of the Willoughby Petroleum Company, drilling on the Cowan ranch in the southwestern portion of Reeves County, was in town yesterday and reported that they were shut down now awaiting needed material for shutting off the water which has consumed the past two or three weeks without practically any progress. Tools are on the way and Mr. Willoughby says that they will not attempt to do anything further until the water is shut off completely as he believes they are now on the cap rock. Mr. Hopper, the driller, has been ill for the past week or two but it is hoped he will again be on the job as soon as the needed tools are received.

Pecos-Angeles

The Pecos-Angeles, section 68, block B. H. & G. N. Ry. survey, is still underreaming their hole and carrying down the ten inch casing preparatory to making a deep test, and are, according to Mr. Scherer, making very satisfactory progress. It is hoped they will soon be working again in virgin soil and making hole. This well is located on what is believed to be very fine structure and with the best chances for a real gusher when the proper depth is reached and these men in charge are now running night and day shifts in order to reach the desired "pay."

Los Pecos

The Los Pecos Syndicate has resumed drilling operations with night and day shifts and despite some mechanical trouble during the past week has made good time. A new Rotary table has been ordered to replace the one which was broken. The broken table has been welded and is now in use.

The Laura Well

After drilling through a cement plug which has been installed to shut off a cave-in formation, the drill of the Laura well has penetrated this plug and is drilling in new formations below 2360 feet, but is having some additional difficulty with similar formations.

MEN TO START THEIR L.A. TEST THIS WEEK

Many times in the last few years people of Midland have become interested in the oil game and excitement has run high, only to find that their hopes were dashed to pieces by the bringing in of a "duster" on their acreage; but at last it seems that a syndicate has been formed of Midland people which bids fair to produce the "golden stream." In the Shreveport district a group of Midland business men, including O. P. Jones, Dr. Hall, G. F. Cowden and J. M. Jemison, bought a large acreage a short time ago and have been holding it for further development.

Since one of the larger companies has drilled a well within a few feet of the line of their territory and found oil in paying quantity, these men have formed a drilling syndicate with the following officers: Dr. J. G. Hall, president; O. P. Jones, vice president, and Claude Cowden, treasurer and field manager. They will begin to sink a test this week offsetting the Standard Company's well and expect to complete it within the next few days as the oil is being found at a depth less than 500 feet. We hope this enterprise will be a successful venture in the oil game, as Midland has contributed her share to the failures in the past.

ENCOURAGEMENT TO LOSING CONTESTANTS

THE RACE NOT ALWAYS TO THE SWIFT AND ANOTHER DAY COMES

The district meet has been held and our delegates are at home again with part of the honors, both in the literary and athletic events. We rejoice that in this large district Midland has won as many honors as she has and trust that as our winners go to Austin they may return with the much coveted State honors. But though all our representatives did not receive first honors we feel as proud of them as a community possibly could as we know you did your best and that your efforts were an honor to yourselves, your school and your town. Let not this attempt be a barrier in your way to greater efforts next year and in the years to come, for the race is not always to the swift nor the prize in the great game of life to the brilliant. Great successes have resulted from experiences in our failures and though it is hard to realize at the time, let us redouble our efforts and determine to win in the days ahead.

Read the lives of successful business men and they usually tell of failures, hardships, disappointments at the start of their lives, but because they were bigger than failure they won the honors in the final attempts. Literary men tell us in many instances that they waited from office to office trying to get a manuscript accepted, always with the same results of failure, but finally in the end ability triumphed and they were able to ride the crest of the wave. Artists have lived poverty stricken lives in the tenement sections of our cities until the great day when their paint-

OIL DEVELOPMENT. BIG SPRING FIELD

ACCORDING TO THE HERALD BIG ACTIVITY LOOKED FOR IN FUTURE

The coming of the big rains and the securing of water for drilling purposes is going to cause drilling operations in the oil field in this section to be given a new impetus.

In the Mitchell County field is to be noted the greatest activity just at present and six new tests are assured since Morrison well No. 2 has convinced the oil fraternity that a real oil field is in the making. The derrick for T. & P. No. 2, an offset well of Morrison No. 2, which was demolished by a storm last week has been rebuilt and they are rushing preparations to spud in this test.

A rig is being moved to the Riley lease north of the discovery well. Work on the Zilph Morrison No. 1 west of Morrison No. 2 is progressing steadily.

A lost bit has been delaying progress on Smith well No. 1, six miles west of Colorado. Connaway No. 1, south of Westbrook, is drilling at 3150. Another location for a test well has been made between Westbrook and Iatan.

Poster No. 1, near Iatan, is being cleaned out and drilling on Foster No. 2 will be resumed shortly as a plentiful supply of water has been secured.

A number of the big companies are continuing to pick up most of the leases that are offered at a low price. Two More Tests for Sterling County

H. H. Enders, of Boston, president of the Cushing Ranch Drilling Association, and W. F. Cushing, field manager, were here Thursday from the Cushing ranch, and while they have been having some hard luck with Enders-Cushing well No. 1 they are hopeful of overcoming the temporary trouble, which is a fishing job, and then be in a position to bring in a real oil well. The drill was in black shale when the drill was lost and a strong gas pressure was in evidence so the outlook for the test is especially favorable.

Messrs. Cushing and Enders were here to secure a new line to handle the fishing job and they are going to stay on the job night and day until the hole is cleared.

In the meantime they are going forward with the plans to spud in Sparman well No. 1 and McIntyre well No. 1 and drilling on these tests should be underway within the next three weeks.

Derricks are complete, good water wells have been secured and boilers, engines, tools and casing have been purchased and are expected to be received any day now. Drillers have been employed so all is set for starting work in short order.

The holdings of the Cushing Ranch Drilling Association are given the O. K. by every oil man who has visited this section and these tests will be watched with interest.

Meriwether Starts McCarty Well

J. S. Meriwether, trustee for the Co-operative Lease and Development Company, is backing up his assertion that he was going to have drilling re-started on the old McCarty well on the Douthitt-Parramore ranch, as work on this test is now underway.

On Monday the boiler was steamed up and the machinery tested out. On Tuesday the tools were lowered into the hole in an effort to recover the tools lost just before work on this well was suspended.

It is thought that the fishing job can be completed within a few days and then drilling below 1600 feet will be steadily carried forward.

West Texas folks admire a fighter and Meriwether in his effort to have McCarty well deepened to "pay dirt" has certainly shown that he has real nerve, and faith in this test.

AUTO ACCIDENT AND VICTIM WAS KILLED

A message from Ozona reached our townsman, J. Wiley Taylor, Tuesday that M. L. Daniels had been killed the day before by an over-turning automobile. He was returning to Ozona from a business trip to Del Rio. Deceased and his family lived in Midland, leaving here somewhat more than a year ago, and they had many friends here who will deeply regret to learn of this terrible tragedy. The remains were carried to Anna, Texas, his old home for interment.

Otis, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Locklar, is a victim of pneumonia, and this week his temperature has run as high as 105. We trust the young fellow will soon be improving.

RIDDING COUNTRY OF MANY RABBITS

The rabbit pest throughout all West Texas would perhaps be the greatest menace to crops this year, were it not that people everywhere are taking steps to exterminate them. Two weeks ago it was arranged for a drive southeast of Midland, but as only a few met for the drive it was practically a failure. Less than 50 rabbits were killed. Last Friday the drive was at the same place, more largely attended, though by less than 20, and more than 500 were killed.

Today there is another drive on and it is hoped that the crowd will be large, and that great numbers of the pests will be exterminated. In other sections of West Texas whole communities turn out for these drives, and at one place the other day more than 2000 rabbits were killed.

There ought to be good sport in these drives, and if one hundred or more men and boys, well organized, would engage in them there would be saved to the country thousands of dollars, for the rabbits could be practically exterminated.

WILL ENTERTAIN FEDERATED CLUBS

MIDLAND CHOSEN, OUT OF MANY APPLICANTS, NEXT DISTRICT MEET

Midland has been honored by the ladies of this large district of clubs by their selection of our city for their meeting place in April, 1923. Several cities, some much larger though not more generous than Midland, made strong appeals for the meeting for next year, but when the final vote was taken Midland led Cisco, Sweetwater, and El Paso by a large vote. We congratulate the members of the Wednesday and 99 clubs of Midland that they have the honor of the district meeting with them for next year, and we assure them that the entire community will do their part in entertaining these visitors while they are in Midland.

At Ranger in the meeting there were 105 delegates including the ten State officers. Ranger provided accommodations at the hotels and one meal a day for each delegate and they each provided for their other meals. While there they had the great privilege of hearing addresses by the leading women of the State on questions of vital importance to all citizens. These two years the State president is stressing education as the subject for consideration and next year the addresses will be in keeping with this subject.

This is a large district and extends from El Paso to Ranger, to Gatesville, Llano and into the Sonora section, thus Midland has a great honor, but a decided responsibility in entertaining delegates from this large portion of the West; but the results are already known, for Midland has never failed to do what is expected, and more.

Mrs. E. R. Thomas, representing the Wednesday Club, and Miss Fannie Bess Taylor, the 99 Club, were Midland representatives at the Ranger meeting last week.

D. N. Pinnell spent Easter with his family in Midland. He reports fine grass and weeds in his section.

J. M. King, druggist at the Neblett drug store, has returned from a business trip to Fort Worth.

We are glad to see B. F. Blakeney back in Midland looking so well. He spent the past week in Sweetwater.

OUR JUDGE ELECTED A VICE PRESIDENT

For the purpose of promoting the construction of a complete connecting system of highways in Texas and the co-ordination of all interests and efforts that are directly or indirectly interested in the improvement and maintenance of good roads, the Texas Highway Association was organized in Austin last Monday at a meeting held in the Senate chamber and attended by approximately 200 good roads advocates from every section of the State.

W. V. Crawford, of Waco, was elected president and for the first year headquarters of the association are to be in Waco.

Although our townsman, Judge J. M. DeArmond, did not attend this meeting, he was honored by being elected as one of the vice presidents of the organization, a compliment to him that he richly deserves, for the enthusiasm he has always evidenced in the cause of good roads. "This is an era of good roads building," said Judge DeArmond, and continued:

"It is the biggest business in which our State is engaged in today, and this organization will undoubtedly be far-reaching in its activities. With the help of the several counties and the Federal government there is no reason why Texas should not soon lead in good highways, without which commerce and industry, all lines of progress in fact, is handicapped almost insurmountably. Our greatest prosperity will not precede, but will succeed, the advent of comfortably passable highways. We've got to build them, in the opinion of the greatest minds that have given the subject thought, and the sooner we do it the better."

First National Bank
Midland, Texas

ABOUT TO ENJOY FRUITS OF LABORS

ACTIVITIES OF NEAR NEIGHBOR PROMISE PERIOD OF RARE EXPECTANCY

First steps in the campaign to explore the Odessa field for potash and oil---incidentally one of the most pretentious campaigns ever instituted in any field in Texas---were taken last week when Col. B. M. Hatfield, sole trustee of the Texas-Mexia Drilling Syndicate, and a delegation of company officials were guests of the Odessa Commercial Club at a banquet Sunday night at the Brown Hotel.

Col. Hatfield and his engineers spent the week-end on the W. N. Waddell ranch, completing arrangements attendant to the starting of, and making the location for the first well of the Texas-Mexia Drilling Syndicate in Crane County. Most of Hatfield's equipment is now on the siding at Odessa. The remainder of it will arrive this week and will be trucked to the Crane County location. To assist in this work Hatfield has imported two large four-ton trucks, built especially to combat sand difficulties which will be found near the site for the first well.

The banquet at the Brown Hotel was an occasion of especial satisfaction to the hard-working members of the Commercial Club who are now beginning to see real results from the efforts which they have put forth during the past nine months. No organization of men every worked with more vim and faith than the Odessa organization and the fruits of their labors are a source of great satisfaction to all.

Sam R. McKinney, president of the Commercial Club, was in charge of the affair and when the excellent turkey supper, served by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brown, was disposed of, he introduced Dr. F. E. Gibbons, who acted as toastmaster during the post prandial exercises. Among the speakers were Col. B. M. Hatfield, Col. John M. Gist, Judge C. D. Spann, of Fort Worth, and Edward J. Wall, of the Commercial Club.

Hatfield outlined his program and explained in detail his organization which is the only so-called "grub-stake" organization now operating in Texas. Under the plan no member of the company from Hatfield down, draws anything but expense money during the time they are connected with the company. The drillers received $12.50 a month and board. Office help is compensated, pro rata, under the same plan. All persons connected with the company are given a share in the company production, but the company must get production to enable all members to profit.

The scheme thus far has had remarkable success. Hatfield has to date paid 155 per cent in cash dividends and his stock has doubled in value. Under the plan his operations take less actual cash than any known plan now operating in Texas. According to the sworn statement of the company, there are no salaries, no promotion stock, no gifts, and the company plans to drill at least nine wells this year.

Hatfield deposited in the Citizens Bank sufficient money to meet all expenses during the drilling of the well. His equipment is all new and all steel, including the tower which will be 110 feet high. He is using a highly improved gas engine to obviate the necessity for using fuel and hard water in his boilers. The spudding in ceremony will take place in about 15 days.

In addition to this contract, the activities of the Commercial Club have resulted in several other contracts, the first of which will be started by the Farmers Oil Company Inc., of Pennsylvania about May 15th. This company, according to advices to President McKinney will ship equipment this week, which should arrive here about May 10th. This will be the already famous shot core drill which is to bore on the Andy Newham ranch, two miles northeast of Odessa. This same company has already contracted to drill four additional wells on sites already selected in Ector County, and one in Midland County, on the Roy Parks ranch.

Already the influence of this activity is being felt. Town lots are changing hands rapidly. Hundreds of people are coming in to see the activities. Natives who a few months ago regarded the activities of the Club with scorn and doubt have at last awakened to the possibilities. People all over town are putting extra rooms in condition to receive roomers. On several occasions the Brown Hotel has been filled to overflowing and has turned away dozens of people, who were fortunately enabled to find lodging with many of the town people. A new rooming house is now in process of remodeling. The Brown Hotel is taking on additional space. A new office building is being fitted up on Main street, opposite the Citizens National Bank.

It is freely predicted now that when the Farmers Oil Company rig gets started that the facilities of the town will be totally inadequate to care for the influx of people who will come to see the new drill in operation, unless rapid improvements are made.

The little town which a few months ago was, like all over West Texas towns, undergoing a period of apparently hopeless depression, has taken on a new lease of life. Business is picking up all over the community. People are more optimistic and are developing a fine and commendable faith in the prospects. The number of idle hands has been reduced to almost nothing.

An interesting result of the activity is in the number of delinquent taxes that are being paid by outside owners of land who are beginning to see prospects of big value ahead.

P. J. Lee, formerly of Odessa, and now a successful oil man in Wichita Falls, was in Odessa the early part of the week and was amazed at the strides which the Club had taken. He said that the Odessa Club was one of the few organizations in the State that, despite depression and hard times, had actually accomplished what it set out to do.

Midland people as well as Odessa people will soon begin to receive the benefits of the campaign which may now be safely said to have gotten under way. Midland, only twenty miles east of this scene of prospective activities, is immensely interested in all that is going on there, and The Reporter, for one, is pulling and hoping hard for the ultimate and near-future success of this very deserving bunch of community boosters.

HARRY CAREY AT THE RIALTO NEXT WEEK

A situation that had not been written in the story of "The Fox" by its author and star, Harry Carey, occurred while scenes were being made on the Mojave desert more than a hundred miles from civilization.

With Carey and his company filming "The Fox" was a full troop of cavalry from the Presidio at Monterey. The officers and some of the actors sat about chatting one day when suddenly there appeared on the horizon a queer sight. Peter O'Rork, a desert rat, drove up in a rickety cart made of barrel staves behind a strange and hungry-looking little burro.

Crazed by the desert heat and with only a little food and water, he had made his last stand and asked only that death relieve him from his difficulties. Given extra rations and water, the erratic old man and his queer vehicle disappeared over the rim of the desert and soon were lost to view.

Shortly afterward Harry Carey returned and heard the story. Without hesitating a moment he got into his machine and dashed after the ragged old derelict of the desert.

With his high-powered car bucking hub-high sand, the virile western star finally came upon the old fellow, who sat with head in hands waiting for the end. Tenderly the old prospector was put into the star's machine and taken back to civilization and a hospital.

At the present moment Peter O'Rork is a valued member of the is a valued member of the ranch life of Harry Carey and Harry Carey, Jr., finds much pleasure in pulling his straggly beard. "The Fox" will be shown at the Rialto Theatre next Monday and Tuesday nights. It is a "super-western" picture.

Misses Moran and McCormick wish to announce the recital of their pupils in an interesting program of music and expression at the Methodist church, Friday evening, April 28th, at 8 o'clock. adv 29-2t

THOSE OF HIGHEST STANDING ELIGIBLE

Dean H. Y. Benedict, of the College of Arts and Sciences of the University of Texas, has announced the election of 15 additional members of the senior class to Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity. Only those students of the highest scholastic standing are eligible to membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

In the fall term five members were elected, as follows: Connie Garza, of Rio Grande City; Irwin Stewart, of Fort Worth; J. R. Beverly, Dalhart; Mary Steussy, of Austin, and J. T. Bennett, of Taylor.

Four transfer students will be eligible for election next October, making for the class of 1922 a total of 24 in the organization.

Dean Benedict is a brother of our townsman, C. P. Benedict.

FORD SALES SHOW RAPID INCREASE

RUSH OF ORDERS BOOSTS APRIL OUTPUT TO 101,164

Ford retail sales showed a rapid increase in volume during March, says a report from the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, and have necessitated the building of 101,164 Ford cars and trucks in April in order to meet the requirements.

This is the largest output of Ford cars ever scheduled for April, being 10,000 above the same month of a year ago. It also marks an early opening of the spring and summer buying and seems to indicate that even more Ford cars and trucks will be sold in 1922 than in 1921, which was a banner year.

Orders for Ford cars and trucks have already exceeded the supply in many parts of the country, and purchasers are finding it necessary to accept deferred delivery. The Ford factory at Detroit is getting into capacity production as fast as possible, with the hope of preventing a similar shortage when the spring-summer rush begins.

Ford dealers throughout the United States are urging Ford customers to place their orders early and thus prevent the possibility of having to wait for delivery.

ONE PRICE. THE LOWEST. FOR CASH ONLY

THIS IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY

If you have been waiting and hoping for the day when you could get better tires for less money, now is your time.

Goodyear Tires are at their best. They are bigger, heavier, and more durable than ever. Their quality is at its highest level.

And these better Goodyear Tires today sell for less money than at any previous time in our history.

The prices listed below established a new low level for Goodyears, averaging more than 60 per cent less than the prices of Goodyear Tires in 1910.

These would be low prices for any good tires. They are almost unbelievably low for Goodyears.

You have never had such an opportunity before to buy fine and lasting tire performance at such low cost. Call on your Goodyear Service Station Dealer, and take advantage of this opportunity today.

Call For Bids

Sealed bids addressed to the Commissioners' Court of Midland County, Texas, for the building of fence or fences along the Bankhead Highway through Midland County, will be received at the office of the County Clerk at Midland, Texas, until 1 o'clock p. m. May 8, 1922, and then publicly opened and read.

Description of work to be done: 24.56 miles (approximated) of fence on the north side of Bankhead Highway, except that portion of said highway running through the properties of H. N. Garrett, W. C. Warren, F. C. Flowers and S. R. McKinney, which will be fenced on both sides of right of way. Highway from road intersection at stock pens thence through city of Midland to east line of Garrett property not fenced.

Fence to be constructed of four wire type. The posts to be placed 20 inches deep in rock and 24 inches deep in dirt soil, and to be set fifty feet apart with 3 stays between each post tied with 14 gauge wire.

Gates to be placed as designated by the Court.

All material will be furnished by the county delivered to builder at Midland.

Detailed plans and specifications of the work may be seen for examination, and information may be obtained at the office of J. M. DeArmond, County Judge.

The successful bidder will be required to enter into an acceptable bond in the sum of $500.00 for the faithful performance of the contract. The right is reserved by the county to reject any and all proposals or to waive all technicalities.

By order of the Commissioners' Court of Midland County, this 10th day of April, 1922.

J. M. DeArmond, County Judge.

B. W. BAKER

To the Voters of the 70th Judicial District:

I desire to announce my candidacy for a second term as District Attorney, subject of course, to the action of the Democratic primaries of this year.

I have been a resident of this judicial district for the last eight years, actively engaged in the practice of my profession. I have come to know the sterling worth of the splendid people of my adopted section of the State, and know their love of the right, and as a people ever looking onward towards the best interests of their community and good government, and as a people interested in choosing for their officers those best fitted by temperament and training to render efficient service. I submit my candidacy for your consideration on the sole issue that the man best qualified to render service should be elected, and now express my abiding faith in your ability and in your honesty of purpose in so choosing.

It becomes the duty of that one who serves you in this position to represent the State of Texas in your courts of justice in all criminal cases where the offense is of the grade of felony. Naturally, when a man is charged by bill of indictment with such an offense where the sacrifice of his life or liberty is the penalty in the event of a conviction, he seeks the services of the best criminal lawyer at his command that he may be able represented, for which he cannot be blamed; and unless the district attorney is able and experienced in the presentation of both the law and facts there is a certainty of a miscarriage of justice, for it devolves upon him alone then to uphold the cause of the State. Even though the district judge trying the case should see such a miscarriage eminent, he is powerless to speak for the State, for an undue interference on his part during the trial would result in a reversal of the case in the appellate court.

During the year and a half that I have been district attorney I have met in the trial of cases such attorneys as Jim Cunningham, John Howard, Tom Garrard, Ben Palmer, L. A. Dale, Dan Jackson, John Dyer, Judge Harper, and others of the best talent of this section; and I believe that all who have seen me in action against them will bear me witness that I fought aggressively for the interest of the prosecution, and with some degree of intelligence.

The training of a life time, and the influence of home and school have instilled in me a high sense of fealty to a constituency showing one political preference and a fidelity to the official oath. Since my incumbency I have attempted to let nothing interfere with the discharge of duty. I appreciate a friend as much as any living man and am subject to the ties incident to a warm friendship as much as anyone, but I think that I am able to say that even though I have been confronted with a situation like this it has not swerved me from a course I conceived to be right in the discharge of official duty. I am not insensible to the past political preference you have shown me, and whether or not you continue me in office, I will ever be profoundly grateful for that preference, and now express my readiness and anxiety to publicly render an account of my stewardship, while I ask of you additional favors.

I believe in the enforcement of the law as it is written, and that the government and its institutions will endure on the rock of law enforcement alone; and that the holding of any one law lightly imperils all law to an extent that many Law Enforcement as a whole is completely undermined. If our snap of state is ever to sink, lawlessness will cause the storm which wrecks it.

Many people are demanding, and I think rightly so, expressions from those seeking their surname as to the operations of the organization known as the Ku Klux Klan. Certainly they have the right to such expressions from those seeking positions as prosecuting attorneys. The very foundation of our institutions, of civilization and of the government itself rest solidly upon the law. The main bulwark of our liberties is found in the provisions of the law for a fair and impartial trial by a jury of one's peers with the opportunity to be heard and confronted with the witnesses against one. This organization would try and convict one in his absence and take it into its own hands to administer a prescribed punishment under the cloak of a mask and ghostly sheet, thus violating this fundamental principle which has come down to us through all the years. The conclusion is sure that its existence is inimical to our institutions and tends to destroy those things which make a government.

There is no excuse for an organization of men binding themselves together with a secret oath and meeting in the darkness of night, in disguise, refusing to admit their connection with their order, or to come out into the open. Just now when the world is torn with dissension and when religious tolerance seems to have evaded many of the best of men, its existence is doubly dangerous because of where it might lead; and it is well that we should, at every opportunity, decry its existence. Even the Ku Klux-ism existing in the world 1000 years ago, which terribly tortured the One Perfect Man of all ages in whom Pontius Pilate "found no fault," was superior to that existing today, for it at least used no disguise in its terrible work.

Necessarily, because of the space permitted me, these remarks are merely conspectus; but I affirm my belief in the principals announced. Mistakes in life I have made, to be sure, and for them I am truly sorry, but my face is turned towards the bright light on the far-flung sky line that all of us are striving and struggling to overtake, for we have heard that its glow will heal every heart-ache. That light is ambition which leads us ever on.

Very respectfully,
B. W. BAKER.

The Time to Start

Economists tell us that the proper time to start a new business is following a period of depression, providing there is sufficient capital.

A business thus started grows with improving conditions, rides on the crest of the wave to prosperity.

The same applies to individuals. Plan for the future now. Start making regular deposits in this strong bank, build up your account so that normalcy will find you with money ahead.

LAST SUNDAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

The pre-Easter revival services conducted by the Methodist church were brought to a successful close with the morning service April 16th. The pastor preached at the Sunday School hour to the young people and to his appeal for definite acceptance of the Master 31 responded. These will be trained and taken into the church in the near future. The week of services were a great success in stirring the church membership to greater and more faithful activities for the sake of Christ.

Sunday night the choir under the direction of Mrs. Dell King, and the orchestra had complete charge of the service and rendered a sacred program which would have been a credit to any church. The auditorium was crowded and those present manifested great interest in the worship of God with songs and praise. The solos sung by Mesdames A. N. Brown and Dell King, and the vocal duet by Misses Freddie Bradford and Lotta Williams were especially pleasing and appropriate to the occasion. The instrumental selection, cello and piano, by Mr. Ned and Miss Lydie G. Watson was a masterful presentation of a difficult classic. The following program was rendered:

- Prelude (Selected)—Orchestra.
- "Christ Arose" (Lowry)—Choir and congregation.
- Invocation—Rev. W. A. Smith.
- "Christ Is Risen" (Von Berge)—Misses Lotta Williams and Freddie Bradford.
- "Angels Roll the Rock Away" (Thomas)—Choir.
- Scripture reading—Rev. W. A. Smith.
- "Praise Him" (Crosby)—Choir and congregation.
- "Spring Song" cello and piano (Mendelssohn)—Mr. Ned and Miss Lydie G. Watson.
- "Rejoice, the Lord is King" (Charles Wesley)—Choir.
- "I'm a Pilgrim" (Johnson)—Mrs. Dell King.
- Offertory (Selected)—Orchestra.
- "Welcome Easter Dawn" (Miles)—Choir.
- "Song I Heard One Sunday Morn" (Ellison)—Mrs. A. N. Brown.
- "The Wonderful Story" (Gabriel)—Choir and Congregation.
- "Praise Him" (Gounod)—Choir.
- Doxology.
- Benediction—Rev. W. A. Smith.
- Postlude—Orchestra.

Citation by Publication

The State of Texas. To the Sheriff or any Constable of Midland County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Fred J. Caudie and J. F. Owen, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 70th Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said judicial district, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said 70th Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the County Court of Midland County, to be holden at the court house thereof, in Midland, Texas, on the 2nd Monday in May, A. D., 1922, the same being the 8th day of May, A. D., 1922, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 13th day of April, A. D., 1922, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 761, wherein Robert Currie is plaintiff, and Fred J. Caudie and J. F. Owen are defendants, and said petition alleging this is a suit upon one certain promissory note given by defendants to plaintiff on the first day of March, A. D., 1921, due March 1, 1922, of $225.00 principal, bearing ten per cent per annum from March 1, 1921 until paid interest, and providing the usual ten per cent attorneys' fees if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, or if suit is brought on the same. The note is made payable at Midland, Texas. To secure said above named and described note, defendants executed and delivered to plaintiff their certain chattel mortgage on all of the restaurant fixtures situated in the Robert Currie building at lot No. 2, in block No. 84, in the original town of Midland, Midland Co., Texas. The above said chattel mortgage was executed by defendants to plaintiff on the first day of March, 1921, to secure the above said note of $225.00 with interest and attorneys' fees. The above described note is past due and unpaid and defendants though often requested have failed and refused, and still refuse to pay same or any part or any interest or attorneys' fees. Plaintiff asks for judgment for his debt, interest and attorneys' fees, same being $278.47, and for costs of suit in this behalf expended and for a foreclosure of his chattel mortgage against said above named and described restaurant fixtures situated and located in the Robert Currie building at lot No. 2, block No. 84, in the original town of Midland, Midland County, Texas, and that same be decreed to be sold according to law; that the sheriff or other officer executing said order of sale shall place the purchaser in possession of said property sold under said order of sale and shall give him a bill of sale for same, and for such other relief, general and special, in law and in equity that he may be justly entitled to.

Herein fail not but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Midland, Texas, this 13th day of April, A. D., 1922.

GETTING ALONG NICELY AFTER OPERATION

J. E. McAlister, of Shafter Lake, was operated on in Midland last Sunday, he having been a sufferer of appendicitis. His condition was quite grave, for gangrene had set up, but he is doing very well, and bids to make a speedy recovery. Beside his wife and other relatives attending him, his wife's father, Jack Puckett, of Amarillo, has been with him, and many Midland friends have been deeply concerned over his condition.

Raleigh Martin, of Lubbock, is a guest in the home of Henry Wolcott.

Mrs. Mollie McCormick visited in Big Spring this week and attended a meeting of the Woodman circle.

Mrs. Raleigh Hyatt was called to Cloudcroft, N. M., this week to be at the bedside of her parents, who are both seriously ill. We trust they are both improving by this date.

Frank Wolcott spent Easter with his mother and returned to the ranch Tuesday.

O. B. Holt, Sr., and O. B., Jr., left for the ranch early this week to begin some improvements.

WAITING FOR THE WHITES OF THEIR EYES

It is evident that Woodrow Wilson, by simply denying an interview, can cause a greater furore in Washington than Warren G. Harding can stir up with a regular message to congress, says the Dallas News editorially in Monday's issue. The News continues: The former President's announcement that he has authorized no interviews has set all the correspondents at the capital to guessing, interpreting, surmising and predicting. Some are sure that the S street denial means the repudiation of Tumulty. Mr. Tumulty has put himself in the light of assuming airs of officiousness. Perhaps he has been riding for a fall. But a great many will feel that Mr. Tumulty is too small a target to justify bringing out artillery of the caliber which Woodrow Wilson knows how to use.

The chances are that it never entered the mind of Mr. Wilson to repudiate Tumulty or embarrass Tumulty or do anything else to Tumulty except deny that he had authorized Tumulty to speak for him. His chief aim, no doubt, was to emphasize the fact that he is not being interviewed this spring. And if he were being interviewed, it is not to be supposed that he would endorse anybody's campaign for the Democratic nomination for President at this early stage in the game. What he was said by Mr. Tumulty to have said—and what, no doubt, he did say to Mr. Tumulty in some form or other—did not necessarily apply to Mr. Cox's candidacy, and Mr. Wilson might have said that. But if he had said that, the saying of it would certainly have been considered a direct attack upon Mr. Cox. In order to set things right, Mr. Wilson could only let it be known that he had not authorized the announcement of any position at all on the matter. That may be hard on Mr. Tumulty, but it doesn't necessarily discredit him that he misunderstood the situation.

It seems that Mr. Wilson is still of a mind to stay with the policy of waiting until he can see the whites of their eyes before he lets drive with his ammunition. It is a good policy. It is certainly disconcerting to the enemy. The grim confidence which nerves this old, infirm, private citizen, whose policies have been rejected and whose very name has been anathema amongst Republicans, to sit quietly in his place and say nothing and then keep on saying nothing—it's beginning to irk the Republican leaders most grievously. They can't believe that it is entirely a matter of courtesy which an ex-President feels that he owes to his successor. They are apprehensive that there is a subtle strategy afoot of which they are not fully informed.

But the sublime faith of the broken and defeated leader in the ultimate victory of his cause, though it be lost on the opportunists who defeated him for the sake of the potage of politics, is not lost on the rank and file of his old following. They know the sure tones of his voice in times of stress and uncertainty. They know the trustworthiness of his judgment in the larger sweep of events. They are content to wait until there is need of him again on the firing line. And when there is need they know that they can count upon him. In the meantime they recognize the courage of his silence amidst the importunings of conflicting seekers for a word of his favor.

REASON WHY COWS CHEW BONES AT THIS SEASON

"Cows are continually chewing bones at this time of the year," writes a West Texas correspondent, "and if they cannot find bones, they will take tin cans or anything that comes handy." He wants to know what will satisfy them.

Dr. G. S. Fraps, State chemist and chemist to the Texas experiment station, answers that this indicates that animals are not receiving what they ought to receive in their food, and the deficient substance is probably lime, although it may be both lime and phosphoric acid.

It would be well to make up a mixture of equal parts bone meal and salt and allow the animals to have free access to it whenever they desire. If the animals have not been getting any salt, before feeding this mixture they should receive salt at the rate of one ounce each day, as they may consume large quantities at first if they have not been getting it. That is to say, for 15 cows one pound of salt should be put out daily, for about a week. After that put out a box with the mixture of bone meal and salt and allow them to have all that they want of it. The salt is not especially harmful, even if they do get a quantity of it. It would be well to see that the salt is of good quality.

It is possible that a mixture of air slacked lime and salt would be equally as good as bone meal and certainly less expensive. The air slacked lime may be prepared by exposing stone lime to the air until it falls to powder, or by spreading out a thin layer of hydrated lime, not over one-half inch deep, for 4 or 5 days. A mixture of wood ashes and salt could be used also, but the other mixtures are better.

The Mid-Lou-Tex Oil Syndicate No. 1, of Shreveport, La., with the followings officers at the wheel: Dr. J. G. Hall, president; O. P. Jones, 1st vice president; C. F. (Chunky) Cowden, secretary and treasurer; H. Rickman, general manager.

This Company consists of real business men who are going to do business throughout Louisiana and Texas and at present have 60 Acres of Land Located in Bosier Parish, La.

This Company has selected 60 acres in a good promised oil field close to actual production.

The Standard Oil Company is drilling within 150 feet of our south line. Northeast of this acreage is another standard rig up and making preparations to drill. We are within 1 3-4 miles of the old Faithful well which has produced twenty thousand dollars' worth of pipe line oil in a period of about two months at a depth of 310 feet, and still flowing.

There are several rigs setting up close to this acreage and large companies are now at work which makes this look very inviting, a safe and sane proposition.

Now is the time to invest if you want to make your dollars talk with good reliable men at its head.

I think that every dollar invested will double itself within 60 days and if we are in the heart of this large new oil field, in which I do not think there is any possible doubt, we will teach your dollars to have good sense.

The Standard Oil Company drilled through this shallow oil strata while drilling their deep test, but are after the deeper oil in which they have a new standard rig on this location which makes it look very promising for our adjoining acreage. Now is the right time to get in on this deal on the ground floor. First in first paid, and first in all the holdings of this company. This will give you dividends on all deals made by this Company.

The keystone of this Company's large acreage: Small Capital, everything open and above board; every instrument being on record in Shreveport recorder's office open to the public.

Any reference of standing of officers of this Company can be obtained by writing to the First National Bank of Midland, Texas; First National Bank of Kansas City, Mo.

This Company has 6,000 units on 60 acres well located in the shallow field at $10.00 per unit par value.

This is one of the most sensational unit buys on the market today. Just a small amount of units for sale; do not hesitate; purchase now as these units beyond a doubt will go much higher and we firmly believe it will give wonderful opportunities to purchasers at this time. HOLD YOUR STAMPS UNTIL THEY MATURE

INVESTORS URGED NOT TO SACRIFICE WHAT SHOULD BE THEIRS

"Keep your War Savings Stamps," is what Lew Wallace, Jr., director of Savings, treasury department, says to the people who hold such government securities. "Do not allow these savings to pass into the hands of speculators and suffer a loss," he added. "Hold them until they are due and the government will pay their full face value, and the purchasers will get all that the government intended they should receive when they invested their money. When cashing their stamps the people should invest them in the new Treasury Savings Certificates which have taken the place of the War Savings Stamps as government securities sold in small amounts."

War Savings Stamps issued in 1918 will mature January 1st, 1922, and will be redeemed at par. The War Savings Stamps were issued in unit denominations of $5. When purchased the first month in the year they were sold for $4.12, and the sale price increased one cent each month to the end of the year. These stamps have always been redeemable, the redemption value increasing month by month in the same proportion as the purchase price increased. The $5 stamp issued in 1918 is worth $4.63 at the present time. Next January it will be worth $5, a difference of 37 cents. Director Wallace takes occasion to warn holders of these stamps not to sacrifice the profit between present redemption prices and the par value price which the government will pay, even if the scalpers offer more than the government now pays when cashing the stamps. He believes it is far better for the holder of the stamps to tide over any pressing necessity in order to receive the full value of the stamps as the government intended. One great advantage to the purchaser of the Treasury Savings Certificates, new issue, he says, is that they are not transferable, and the holder cannot sell them to the scalpers as they near maturity.

"It would appear that the person who is trying to save is beset on all sides," said Director Wallace. "Those who bought War Savings Stamps were generally people of small means, with limited savings. For the most part they were patriotically inclined, and bought because they wanted to help the government with money in time of war. Many of them of necessity have sold their stamps or redeemed them at the places of purchase. Now, those issued in 1918 are approaching the period of their greatest value, and the ever ready sharper is trying to shave off a part of the savings of these people by offering them a slight increase over the present redemption prices. The government does not offer pro-rata redemption prices for its savings securities. Its policy is to encourage savings; to induce the investor to hold until maturity and then to re-invest. The new issue of savings certificates provides for redemption at any time, paying 3 1-2 per cent interest during the time of investment. But to encourage these investors to make the best of their savings, interest is paid at the rate of 4 1-2 per cent compound semi-annually if the certificates are held until maturity, which is five years. Another advantage of the new savings certificate is that they are all sold at the same price no matter what time of the year they are purchased. They are sold at all post offices and redeemed at the treasury department by mail."

NOTICE TO MIDLAND COUNTY TAX PAYERS

Time is nearly up to render your taxes for 1922. I can take no rendition after May 1st and I am trying daily to see you and get your rendition, but it is hard to get hold of some. Kindly make it a little easier for me. I am compelled to submit your rendition in the May term—first Monday—of commissioners' court, so you see my time is almost up, and if I do not see you your assessment will go on the unrendered roll, and I am sure you don't want that.

Yours respectfully,
Newnie W. Ellis, Tax Assessor.

RADIOPHONES LIKELY NUMEROUS IN MIDLAND

W. H. Williams, manager of the Midland Light Co., returned this week from Dallas, where he spent three days on business. While in the city he secured the agency for practically all standard Radiophones, the Westinghouse, General Electric, and others, and will soon have a demonstrator in the office here.

We call special attention to the company's advertisement elsewhere in these columns.

Incidentally the Radio already installed in Midland, by the City Drug Store, M. R. Hill and the Llano Hotel, is now giving quite satisfactory service. Nightly concerts, etc., are being enjoyed by a limited number of guests but it is hoped that the big amplifiers will soon be here, that all our people may soon be enjoying the wonderful invention.

Mr. Williams reports prices on Radiophones ranging from $8 to $300, and it is not unlikely that many of them will be installed in Midland homes.

FORMER CITIZENS VISIT FROM ARKANSAS

Friends in Midland were much pleased last week to have a visit from our former townspeople, J. O. Reynolds and wife. They now live in the Ozark mountains of Arkansas, having purchased a farm there, near Clarksville. Mr. Reynolds lives it there, and Mrs. Reynolds would were not all the children back here. Mr. Reynolds called on us and recounted a number of pleasant features that yet exist in our native and much loved State.

NEW MEXICO STOCKMAN BUYS MIDLAND BULLS

There was some evidence this week that Midland is getting on the way again as a bull market. Among trades of the week the principal purchaser was J. W. Phillips, of Deming, N. M. His purchases were all young stuff, and he bought 36 head of Geo. G. Gray, 35 of J. V. Stokes, 65 of Scharbauer Cattle Company, 30 of Ed Wolcott, and 13 of B. W. Floyd. Mr. Phillip will ship May 1st, part going to his ranch near Deming, and part to be sold to his neighbors. We understood he was also in the market for a bunch of cows, but did not learn of any further trades by him.

NEW AUTO TRUCK BY MIDLAND HARDWARE

The Midland Hardware Company this week received a new auto truck that will add much to that institution's efficiency. It is an Inter National Harvester product, and presents a very attractive appearance. The company will use it for delivery purposes, in hauling heavy stuff for their customers, and as a demonstration truck, they having accepted the agency. Already they have had a 3000-pound load on the machine, and hauled it through some of the very heaviest sand southeast, and it behaves beautifully, handling its load "with the greatest of sang froid," as a friend of ours would put it.

TODAY MEMORABLE IN TEXAS HISTORY

DEAR TO THE HEARTS OF TEXANS AND COMMEMORATES OUR HEROIC DEED

Today, the 21st of April, marks the 66th year since the Battle of San Jacinto which gave Texas her freedom and the world a great example of heroism and devotion to a nobler cause. Though not recorded as a decisive battle of the world, and though there were but few men who took part compared to the great armies of the past war, yet the results of that one battle and the memories of other struggles was the turning of the vast stretches of Texas acres from the power of the Spanish and Mexican to the influence of the Godly American. Who knows what battles would have been fought had the fertile lands of Texas remained in the possession of the republic to the south of us? Thus this day should go down as a memorable one not only dear to Texans, but to all the United States and even the world.

No greater bravery, no grander army ever marched under the flag of a nation or fought for dearer prizes than the pioneers who left home and fireside to join the friends of Liberty and justice in Texas. As they gathered from the different parts of the country they came to win or die and only victory could crown their efforts. Too soon have many of us forgotten the glories of their achievements and too seldom do we credit to them for what they did for God and Liberty.

Americans do not believe in living in the past and always should our eyes be to the front of our ambitions in the future, but only as we pay tribute to the noble lives and grand achievements of the men at Goliad, Alamo, and San Jacinto can we who live in Texas be able to appreciate the advantages we now possess. Then let us with sacred memories cast ourselves back 86 years and live with the fallen and too soon forgotten heroes of Texas Independence and with their memory and accomplishments as the inspiration of our lives push forward to a successful completion tasks ahead of our generation as they did so bravely the deeds in their day and time. May the glory of San Jacinto always shed a radiant light around the feet of Texas as she marches in the front rank of the States of the Union.

ALL STATES APPROVE NEW FORD LENS

PASSES ALL ROAD ILLUMINATION AND ANTI-GLARE LAWS

A new headlight lens recently perfected by the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, for use on its cars and trucks, has received formal approval in each for-eight States now having specific regulations and provisions for tests.

Ford engineers state that the two requirements of any headlight are sufficient road-illumination and lack of glare. To achieve this result, it is necessary to develop a lens which throws a strong light over the road, but which so weakens the rays on a level with the eyes of an approaching motorist, that there is an absence of glare.

When testing the new Ford lens, even in those states whose headlight laws are the most exacting, it was found that it produced three times required illumination of the road, and that the glare was reduced to one-half of that allowed.

State officials were impressed with the Ford lens, many stating that it would set a new and higher standard for automobile headlights, and commending the Ford Company for the progress that had been made. Although they are now included as standard equipment on all Ford cars, the new Ford "H" lenses were so designed that they would be adaptable to all headlamps now in use on Ford cars.

A Reminder

An old colored parson was holding a camp meeting in a southeast Missouri town in July. He held forth thus:

"Bruders and sistahs, I wants to warn yo' against de heinous crime ob shootin' craps, an' fuddermo' I wants to warn yo' against de heinous crime ob stealin' watermelons."

At this point a ducky in the rear of the tent rose up, snapped his fingers and sat down.

"Wharfo, brudder, does yo' rise up and snap yo' fingers we'en I speaks ob watermelon stealin'?"

"You jes' reminds me, parson, whar I lef' ma knife," was the reply.

Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. MORE OPTIMISM IN BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Normally at this time of the year industry and trade feel the stimulus that is exerted by the enlarged buying for spring requirements, and 1922, happily, is proving no exception to the normal rule. Indeed, new activity has contributed sharp contrast from the conditions prevailing a few months ago that we are hearing in some quarters, with growing frequency and enthusiasm, the declaration that business troubles are now behind us, and that at least we are through with the penalties of deflation.

Just how much emphasis on the bright side of the business prospect is warranted is still to be determined by the breadth and extent of business activity in the months ahead, and just what those conditions of activity will be is for the present purely a matter of surmise. Too many obscure and confusing elements are at work to read the future with a positive degree of assurance; still there is no mistaking the concrete evidence which is before our eyes that many of the movements for which business has been waiting are under way. Current reports show that practically every great industry, save where affected by labor troubles, is gaining ground. It is something more than simply a shaking off of the winter lethargy; the jobbing trades in numerous instances report an increase in orders not only over the recent past but over the corresponding period last year; the copper trade has expanded, and the steel trade, always the most accurate business barometer, has stirred into new life after an extremely depressing season, some plants working a better than 70 per cent of their capacity as compared with 30 per cent last summer and a 1921 average of less than 50 per cent.

General betterment is shown by the fact that railway car loadings are above one and two years ago, the increase in the middle of March over last year being 17 per cent. Automobile manufacturers are shipping more than twice as many finished cars from their factories as at this time last year. Building construction with the advantage of an early opening of spring, has taken an active start; for the middle week of March alone, building contracts awarded to a published compilation, amounted to more than $70,000,000, this being a better record than any previous week of 1922 and exceeding the highest weekly record of 1921 by 2 per cent.

A great number of reasons can be given for the tangible improvement that is recorded, and for the new note of optimism that is being surrounded in business discussions. Principally, these reasons resolve themselves into the improved buying power of the farmer; the healthy condition in general trade which has come through retrenchment and economy; the reduced surplus of unsold goods which has resulted from the prolonged period of deflation and under-production; and the prospective resumption of normal expenditures in those lines which up to now have been retarded. The re-instatement of the farmer as a buyer of manufactured goods has proved the most powerful influence bearing on the improvement in business; in an important measure, also it has been responsible for disclosing the reduced supply of unsold goods on hand. Having been geared down from an extraordinary war situation to a period of unusual peace time quiet and having suffered from a more severe price collapse than had been known in many years have conducted their activities on a scale below current consumption, so that the carry-over of goods this season has not been nearly so great as it was in the spring of 1921. Hence, with the growing inquiries, industrial producers have in a measure quickened their activities in anticipation of a growing need for goods which, without new production, might be difficult to meet.

It must be recognized that the power to name prices low enough to attract buyers is still largely governed by wage scales, and bringing these wage scales into line with new conditions remains one of the most trying tasks that are faced. Old wage scales which do not conform with retrenchment and economy are not being replaced without a struggle; the strike in the textile industry, the call for a walk-out of coal miners this month, and the difficulties of the labor board in adjusting railroad wages, are a few of the prominent symptoms. It is easy enough to demonstrate the fallacy of the idea that labor can maintain an exalted living scale when the whole industrial scale is severely deflated. But it is not proving so easy to correct the fallacy.

Moreover, it is not proving so easy to determine the exact level at which buying and selling power should now normally meet. We have yet to find out just what "normal" is. Following the downward price adjustments of last year, no buying power of any consequence developed and even after it was said that the low level of the movement has been reached and that further reductions could not possibly be made, successive cuts occurred in the price of standard commodities in an effort to find the normal level of the purchasing power. As a fact in purchasing power instead of a further decline in prices developed the buying demand of the current season. Rising values of farm products, by reinstating in part the purchasing power of the agricultural sections, contributed materially to change the whole aspect of trade, so that what we have seen has been a trend toward an evening up of advantages between agricultural industries and manufacturing industries, instead of a further evening down. But whether this trend has been toward any stable or "normal" level, is something which time will have to determine—Mechanics & Metals National Bank of N. Y.

ARE OLD TIMES COMING BACK?

It looks like old times were coming back again when we see the railroads granting sure enough "reduced rates," for large conventions, state fairs, etc.

One of the first reductions of this nature is that just announced from San Antonio, where the Passenger Agents Association held their meeting.

The association granted a rate of one fare and one-fifth for the South-west Durbar, a big spring festival to be held in Dallas the week beginning May 21st.

The rate will apply going from May 20th and will be good returning up to May 29, a liberal limit of full ten days. If this kind of thing keeps on we may hope to see the regular fares reduced as the next step in the revision downward.

Some of the features of the Durbar at Dallas are said to be a band contest for amateur bands all over Texas with $1,500 in prizes; two grand concerts with over 650 voices trained and a symphony orchestra; a pageant featuring our State flower, the blue bonnet, and entitled "The Durbar of the Flowers"; an electrically illuminated night parade consisting of floats, bands and delegations representing many Texas cities and towns; a world championship rodeo and frontier days celebration under the direction of Tom Burnett, of Fort Worth; polo matches, golf matches and tennis tournaments for Southwestern championship and many more features scattered throughout the entire week.

A Bad Back is Generally Worse in the Morning. Midland People are Finding Relief

A back that aches all day and causes discomfort at night is usually worse in the morning. Makes you feel as if you hadn't slept at all.

You can't get rid of kidney back-ache, until you reach the cause—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for weakened or disordered kidneys—have been gratefully recommended by thousands.

Testimony of Midland people proves the merit of Doan's. Mrs. B. W. Lee, Midland, says: "I was troubled with an attack of lumbago. Mornings I could hardly get up my back was so sore and stiff and I had to brace myself in getting out of bed. I got terrible headaches and the least thing upset me as I was so nervous. Another thing that bothered me was the irregular action of my kidneys. I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and on using two boxes I was rid of the misery of lumbago and all the other symptoms. Occasionally now I take a few Doan's to keep my kidneys normal and always buy the at Taylor's drug store."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Lee had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv 28-2t

REFINEMENTS ADDED FORD ENCLOSED CARS

DEMAND EXCEEDS SUPPLY AS THE RUSH SEASON
APPROACHES

Many added conveniences and refinements are to be seen in the Ford enclosed cars now being displayed by the local authorized Ford dealers.

The interior of both the coupe and the sedan is now finished in an attractive shade of walnut brown broadcloth; and the seats are upholstered with a similar material threaded with chalked ebony stripe. Heavy floor rugs give an added touch of comfort. Lifts, of a special design, minimize the effort of raising or lowering the windows. Door bumpers insure a tighter fitting, and new door grips, both inside and out, add to the rider's convenience.

The demand for Ford enclosed cars has been unusually high during the past two months. Although production has been speeded up in the Ford factory at Detroit, sales continue to exceed the output, making it necessary for purchasers in many parts of the country to wait for their cars. Local dealers say this is the reason they have been urging customers to place their orders as early as possible.

GREAT MANY MEN STILL UNEMPLOYED

The employment situation in Texas has shown but slight improvement during the past week, according to announcement made at department headquarters of the American Legion in Dallas the first of the week. Posts in the larger cities of the State all report from 100 to 300 men still in need of employment and many desperate cases have been developed where the wage earner has been seeking any kind of honest work for many months.

Wayne Davis, State commander, and A. J. Reinhart, State adjutant, left last evening for Oklahoma City where a conference with National Commander Hanford MacNider, is scheduled. Just before leaving, Mr. Reinhart issued an appeal to the industrial and commercial interests of Texas, saying: "We hoped that we could find employment for the specially worthy cases by March 20th, but the people have not responded as they did to the calls made upon them for unselfish service in '17 and '18. Our efforts to 'find jobs' for the boys has not been altogether successful, and we ask now all the citizenship of the State to 'make' jobs for them. Any firm that has a position open can get in touch with a reliable ex-service man capable of filling it, through this department."

His Deduction

The prize had been given out, and the children stood in bored silence as the teacher introduced a famous speaker, who was noted for his patriotic fervor.

Toward the end of his discourse he waxed eloquent. "And now, children," he cried, "if you saw your glorious flag waving triumphantly over the battlefield, what would you think?"

There was a prolonged pause and the speaker smiled genially.

"Come," he said encouragingly, "won't someone answer?"

A voice from the back broke the silence:

"Please, Guv-nor, I'd think the wind was blowin'."

Current Business Conditions

By GEORGE E. ROBERTS

From the Monthly Letter Issued by The National City Bank of New York for April
Courtesy of The First National Bank of Midland

The general feeling in business circles is one of strengthening confidence that the corner has been turned and that 1922 will be a better year than 1921. The improvement in fundamental conditions and in general feeling since the first of the year has been very marked; indeed, from the middle of January to the first of March optimism was perhaps over-pronounced, and a moderate reaction in some lines has naturally resulted.

The stock market, which is prompt to reflect and even anticipate changes in fundamental conditions, has been creeping upward for the last six months in a slow but persistent movement which suggests faith that better days are coming.

Railroad traffic, as indicated by the reports of car-loadings since the first of the year, have been running ahead of last year, although January gross earnings were about 16 per cent below those of the same month of 1921. On the other hand the net earnings of 199 roads were $57,421,605 in January against $28,331,956 in January, 1921, which reflects the reduction in operating expenses.

Trading in all lines is on a short order basis. Foreign buyers wish to avoid the risks of exchange fluctuations so far as possible, and in the domestic trade there is a prospect that in some lines, particularly clothing and textiles, prices may be lower. There is general agreement, however, that both at home and abroad stocks have been worked down to the minimum and that there must be constant buying to meet the demands for current consumption. This is one respect in which the situation is decidedly more favorable than it was in the latter part of 1920 and throughout most of 1921.

The steel industry has made a marked recovery, the United States Steel Corporation now operating at about 70 per cent of capacity and the independent companies in the aggregate at probably 60 per cent. When it is considered that production capacity has increased about 50 per cent since before the war, it will be seen that this is far from a state of stagnation.

OTHER FACTORS INFLUENCING CONDITIONS

Aside from the unsettled and extremely unsatisfactory state of the reparations question, European affairs have been progressing in a manner to give encouragement.

The Genoa Conference, although of vague import, should accomplish something by bringing the high representatives of all Europe together.

The disturbance in the textile industry of New England is unsettled and spreading, with a likelihood of involving the entire textile industry of that section before it is settled.

The public has taken the impending coal strike very quietly, refusing to believe that there will be any serious effects upon business.

The labor organizations may have more power than the employers, but both are subject to economic law. There is more to the industrial problem than a mere trial of strength between employers and wage workers. Industrial peace and progress is dependent upon a general understanding of this fact.

The unfavorable factor which continues to retard industrial recovery is the unbalanced relationship between values in the different industries, resulting from the uneven fall of prices and wages.

The implement industry, although still far from normal, is much better than at this time last year, and that is the case also with the automobile industry. The figures for the latter are quite remarkable, permits in 161 cities aggregating $132,909,000 in February last, against $50,433,167 in February, 1921.

The Situation in Agriculture
The chief factor in the change of sentiment which has occurred since the first of the year has been the rise in prices of farm products. It came so easily and naturally as to demonstrate that the country had been suffering from excessive pessimism, and that in the natural order of things the economic situation, given reasonable time, would recover its equilibrium. Grain prices in March lost a part of their February gains, but the reasons were obvious and there was no serious loss of confidence. The breaking of the drought in the southwest and improvement in the outlook for the winter wheat crop was the principal factor in the decline. For several months the country had been hearing that the condition of the Kansas wheat crop was critical and getting worse every day, and then came snow and rain, and the prospect is now reported good for a large crop. The world situation in wheat is closely balanced and any important news is likely to have more than the usual effect. Australia and Argentina are both exporting freely. New wheat from India will be available within a month, and the harvest is only three months off in this country. As the end of the crop year approaches, opinions about the supplies give way to realities. There have been two positive opinions as to whether or not this country was selling itself short, but the opinion is now general that there will be enough to go around.

Corn and oats always are influenced more or less by wheat, and both are down from the top. The stocks in the central markets are well up to storage capacity, and the speculative market is not inclined to take more. The price of corn will be dominated in the long run by the price of live stock, particularly hogs. Ten dollars per hundred for hogs mean that a large part of the corn crop is being marketed at very profitable prices.

Although the exports of all meat products in 1921 increased 3 per cent in pounds over those of 1920, hog products fared better than beef.

Cotton is about where it was at the beginning of March. As the world has been living on reduced consumption for several years, it very much needs to use more cotton, and the situation is disquieting. If the season should be bad for the growing crop we may have very high prices for cotton. Such an outcome is very undesirable, for it will mean high prices to consumers with little compensation benefit to growers.

Prospects Encouraging

On the whole there seems to be a good basis for believing that agriculture in all branches will have a better market for the next crop than for the last one. The farmer's costs are declining, and we believe that the necessary re-adjustments to bring industry into balance require that they shall continue to decline. It is in the interest of all business that the farmers, the most numerous class in the country, shall have a fair show in the field. With agricultural production increasing in Europe the farmer cannot expect the prices of his products to go back to the high levels due to the war, and if he has made mistakes of judgment by buying property at high prices he has lots of company among people who are not farmers, but he has a right to expect that one way or another, his products shall have a purchasing power in relation to other commodities and services equal to that of before the war. We do not think that much can be done by means of legislation to secure this to him, but are positive in our opinion that economic law will bring it to him, and we counsel all other groups to cheerfully accord it to him as rightfully due.

Preventative Medicine
The tendency of medical science is toward preventative measures. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. Pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, often follows a cold or attack of the grip. The cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the pneumonia germ. The longer the cold hangs on, the greater the danger. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the first indication of a cold appears so as to get rid of it with the least possible delay. It is folly to risk an attack of pneumonia when this remedy may be obtained for a trifle.

Babylon Shall Fall

These shall war against the Lamb, and the Lamb (Christ) shall overcome them, for He is Lord of lords and King of kings. (Rev. 17:14.)

And I saw the heaven opened; and beheld a white horse, and he that sat thereon called, Faithful and True: (Jesus) and in righteousness he doth judge.

And the armies which are in heaven (Christians) followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen white and pure (righteousness,) and out of his mouth proceeded a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations; and he shall rule them with a rod of iron. (Rev. 19:11-15.)

An I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the birds that fly in mid-heaven, come and be gathered together unto the great supper of God that ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses and of them that sit thereon, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, and small and great. * * * and the rest were killed with the sword of his mouth; and all the birds were filled with their flesh. (Rev. 19: 17-18)

Watch and pray.

Sunday School 9:45 a. m. Classes for all ages. Organized classes for men and women.

Since Sunday has been designated as "Family Day" in the Sunday School, let us see how many 100 per cent families we can have present.

325, the goal set for Sunday, will be easy, if the 307 who were there last Sunday will be present and some of the regulars who were out will get back.

Preaching hours, 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Good music at both hours furnished by choir and orchestra that make preparation. The choir will sing an anthem at each service, and Miss Louise Moseley, of Fort Worth, whom many of our people know, will sing a solo at each service.

dered by our young people. Dr. L. B. Pemberton, president.
OWEN J. HULL, Pastor.

Methodist Church

The meeting has closed, but we are expecting the good work to continue on throughout the years. Let all be present in the services Sunday and worship God. There will be a special service Sunday morning at the close of which the pastor will receive into the church a large class of young people from the Sunday School.

The Sunday School classes will return to their regular schedule of work and we are expecting large attendance in every class. Only as you learn the will of God for your life can you expect to meet your obligations in the kingdom, thus all should enlist in a Bible study class and study His Word.

There will be special music by the choir and orchestra at both services. Do not fail to hear them. The following program is for Sunday services:

Sunday School, 9:45 a. m.
Morning worship, 11 a. m.
Junior League, 3 p. m.
Senior League, 7:15 p. m.
Evening worship, 8.

Ward-Malone

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the parsonage of the Christian church last Saturday evening when Miss Lucile Malone, of Marlin, became the bride of Mr. F. D. Ward. Rev. I. H. Teel read the beautiful service in the presence of only a few intimate friends. This wedding will be of interest to many friends here and elsewhere. The bride has not been here a great while, having come from Marlin about three months ago to visit in the home of Mr. Charley Weathered, but she has become a favorite with many friends, who feel that she will be a true helpmeet to the young man whom she has honored with her heart and hand. Dulaney was reared in Midland and served bravely during the world war. He is one of our dependable young men, is of sterling worth and enjoys the confidence and esteem of many friends. The Reporter extends congratulations and wishes for them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

A Lovely Easter Hospitality

A party most charming in appointment was given on last Friday evening by Mrs. J. W. Parks in her lovely home in West Midland. The Easter motif was daintily developed, and games, music and dancing were the diversions for the evening, at the conclusion of which the most delicious sandwiches, coffee, chocolate, cakes, and home-made candy were served buffet style. Those enjoying this hospitality were: Misses Annie Mae Paterson, Jean Keller, Essie Cowden, Anna Merle and Mamie Moran, Leona McCormick, Messrs. Clifford Hill, Roy Parks, Reuben Collins, Tom Paterson, Dee McCormick, Percy Mims, Allen Tolbert and Clyde Cowden.

Formal and Easter Opening

Mr. Harry J. Nebbitt, as per an announcement previously in the columns of The Reporter, last Saturday evening had his combined formal and Easter opening, and it was one of the most beautiful affairs we have ever known a Midland business institution to arrange. The beautifully arranged and accoutered drug store recently bought of Mr. C. A. Taylor, was a lovely bower of Easter flowers, making a fit setting for the splendidly gowned ladies that thronged this popular dispensary all the afternoon. Mrs. Nebbitt passed red and white carnations to the lady guests as favors, while Misses Annie Mae Paterson and Annie Merl Moran served punch in the balcony. An Edison furnished music for the occasion, this being attended to by Miss Mamie Moran. The Reporter congratulates Mr. Nebbitt most heartily upon the success of his combined opening and assures him that there is every evidence that the public was fully appreciative and will not soon forget the courtesies so liberally extended to all.

Miss Louise Mosely, of Fort Worth, and representing Ward-Belmont College, of Nashville, Tenn., is in Midland this week, in the interest of this wonderful school for young women. Miss Mosely is one of the Mosely sisters who enjoyed so much popularity and prominence in Midland, is being greeted most cordially by her numerous friends.

Mrs. L. C. Majors, of El Paso, and who has been employed by the General Presbyterian Board at Richmond, Va., to do Sunday School work in the El Paso Presbytery, was in Midland last week the guest of Mrs. John B. Thomas and other friends.

Mrs. Louie Arrington, of Mexkel, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ingham. Mrs. Arrington motored over from Big Spring Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Means, who were week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Pemberton.

Mrs. J. Tom White and daughter, Miss Thelma, accompanied by Dee Murphy, returned yesterday from their ranch near Lovington, N. M., after an absence of over two months. Mr. Murphy leaves again this morning for the ranch, to bring Mr. White in for a few days.

Ray Hyatt went to Abilene the latter part of last week to visit his sister, returning Monday accompanied by Mrs. Hyatt, who had been in Abilene the past week.

Mr. O. B. Holt, Jr., returned home Friday from Dallas. He has completed a business course in one of the leading commercial colleges of that city.

Misses Willie, Johnnie and Tommie Preston, of Simmons College, Abilene, were attractive Easter guests of Midland relatives and friends.

Miss Clella Denton was home from Big Spring for Easter.
