A THRILL THAT IS EVER NEW

One of the most striking things in modern life is the intense, wistful interest with which the average citizen follows the news of the flights of the great dirigibles.

When the Akron fought her way through Texas storms recently, it was front page news; not that anyone really feared for the ship's safety, for the country is pretty well sold, nowadays, on the stability of those giant aircraft, but simply because there was an element of drama in the affair that no one could overlook.

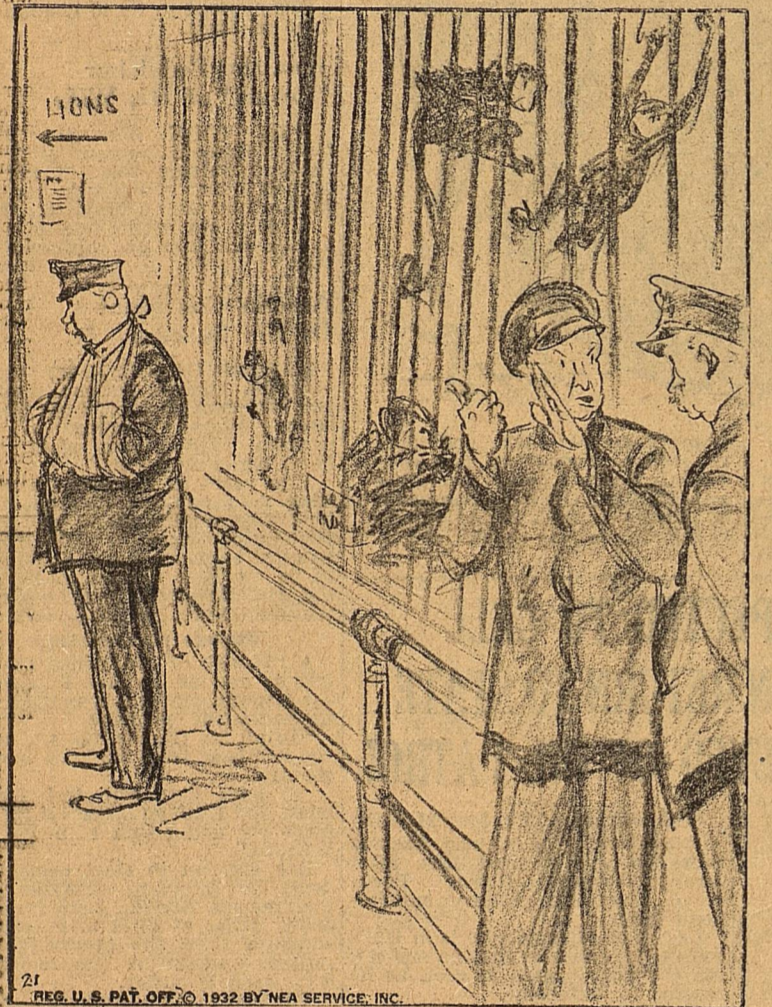

Flying, in itself, is an old story by now. Children at play no longer look up when an airplane soars overhead. Ocean flights are taken for granted, and the men who perform them get only a thin and unending fame. The man who travels via a commercial air line hardly thinks it worth while to tell his friends about it afterward.

But the dirigible, somehow, is something else again. Perhaps it is the sheer size of the thing that gives it its appeal. The airplane, after all, is essentially bird-like. But to see a great dirigible rise and float effortlessly off partakes of the miraculous. It is like watching a hill detach itself from the earth and sail off into space. That men should be able to build something so vast and yet so light—that, somehow, is a marvel to which we cannot get used.

And this, in turn, brings us a kind of a release. We are earthbound, and we know it, most of us, all too well; but a ship like the Akron or the Los Angeles, floating among the clouds, seems to revive all the old illusions, to persuade us that our prison house is not quite as escape-proof as it seems.

The experts can argue as they please about the relative virtues of dirigible and airplane. To most of us that makes little difference. We only know that there is a thrill to be got out of watching a big dirigible in the air that can be got in no other way.

Roosevelt Approaches the Convention Far In the Van

Franklin D. Roosevelt, shown at left above at his second inauguration, has twice taken oath of office as governor of New York on a huge family Bible handed down from Jacobus Roosevelt, a grandson of Claes Martenzon van Roosevelt, the Dutch immigrant who founded the family in America by settling in New Amsterdam in 1644. At the right are Roosevelt and Al Smith shortly before the break that parted their friendship of 20 years, while in the circle is Governor Roosevelt as he appears at Warm Springs, Ga., where he goes frequently to exercise in the tepid water for the improvement of his crippled limbs.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, shown at left above at his second inauguration, has twice taken oath of office as governor of New York on a huge family Bible handed down from Jacobus Roosevelt, a grandson of Claes Martenzon van Roosevelt, the Dutch immigrant who founded the family in America by settling in New Amsterdam in 1644. At the right are Roosevelt and Al Smith shortly before the break that parted their friendship of 20 years, while in the circle is Governor Roosevelt as he appears at Warm Springs, Ga., where he goes frequently to exercise in the tepid water for the improvement of his crippled limbs.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of two stories on Governor Roosevelt of New York as part of a series on the "Big Three" in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination. Articles on Garner and Smith will follow.

By ROBERT TALLEY NEA Service Writer (Copyright 1932, NEA Service) ALBANY, N. Y.—With approximately 400 convention votes already in sight and needing 770 out of the 1154 total to win the nomination, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt approaches the Democratic National Convention at Chicago far in the lead of a scattered field of opponents. Therefore, it is appropriate to check up on the things he stands for as a presidential candidate and on his record as governor of New York.

Summed up, here is how Roosevelt stands on principal issues of the 1932 campaign. PROHIBITION: For repeal of the 18th amendment and substitution of another amendment granting to each state the right to vote on whether it shall be wet or dry. UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF: Opposed to a "dole" in any form, and for the present emergency favors state and local relief measures. For a permanent system, favors unemployment insurance in some form in which both workers and employers contribute.

THE TARIFF: Favors a new conception of the tariff, based not on congressional log rolling or supposedly scientific schedules, but on negotiation of tariff agreements between nations for reciprocal exchange of goods, to end the world-wide tariff war and restore foreign trade. BUSINESS RECOVERY: For "a policy broad enough to include every part of our economic structure," including the improvement of the condition of "the little fellow at the bottom of the economic pyramid," as against the Hoover reconstruction program, which Roosevelt contends has been framed merely for the benefit of the man at the top. (It was on this statement that Al Smith based his attack on Roosevelt as "a demagogue.") WATER POWER: For strict government control of utilities, both as to rates and financing, and for government operation in cases where satisfactory conditions for private operation cannot be obtained. He has been endorsed by 37 senators and congressmen opposed to "the power trust."

FARM RELIEF: Favors "permanent settlement" instead of attempted price stabilization methods like those on which the Federal Farm Board has lost $200,000,000 since 1929. FOREIGN RELATIONS: He is for collection of war debts owed us by Europe. He recently stated that United States entry into the League of Nations is now "unrealizable" though he was a strong pro-League when, with Cox, he ran for the vice presidency in 1920. Roosevelt's foes criticized him frequently on the claim that his campaign statements have been vague generalities—that he has failed to get down to cases on how certain things are to be achieved. This attack has been directed especially against his program for economic recovery, which is based largely on restoration of the purchasing power of the common man by a method that is unexplained. This criticism, however, cannot be said to be against Roosevelt's position with regard to prohibition and certain other issues. As the chief executive of New York, Governor Roosevelt heads a state that has more than 12,000,000 people, has property assessed at $200,000,000 St. Lawrence water power project by winning the appointment of a commission favorable to public development. It is now awaiting treaty arrangements with the Canadian government. He has urged a comprehensive program for water power development to give farmers and people of smaller communities cheap electricity. Farm Relief: The governor has urged and made into law measures relieving the counties of 35 per cent of highways and bridge costs, relieving towns and villages of paying for upkeep of state highways, increasing aid to rural schools, enlarging appropriations for the State College of Agriculture, and appropriation of $400,000 for re-testing of herds, etc.

3.—Unemployment Relief and Old Age Pensions: Roosevelt fostered a move for a 50 per cent increase in the state's income tax designed to provide a $20,000,000 unemployment relief fund to finance supplementary public work and, when no work was available, food and clothing and shelter, but no cash "dole." The state's old age pension system became effective Jan. 1, 1931, with benefits for indigents of 70 or over. The latest figures show about 45,000 pensioners, receiving slightly over $1,000,000 a month, the average monthly grant being $26.35.

4.—Prison and Institution Reform: Following the fatal riots in a community in Auburn designed by Governor Roosevelt succeeded in getting a $355,000 appropriation for prison camps and cantonments, increase of food and clothing allowances for prisoners, increase of salaries and salaries of guards, additional appropriations for new prisons. To improve hospitals for the insane and feeble-minded, he got the voters to approve a bond issue of $300,000,000.

5.—Labor Laws: Labor legislation enacted in the two Roosevelt administrations includes the outlawing of temporary injunctions issued by a hearing in labor disputes, extension of the workmen's compensation law to include additional occupational diseases; mandatory eight-hour laws with prevailing rate of wages on certain types of state work.

The governor has sought reforms in the administration of justice and a commission is now studying the courts "to provide a more simple, more economical and more speedy system of justice." Among his other accomplishments have been stricter public utility regulation, reorganization of the banking department, reforestation, and modernization of the state barge canal.

Roosevelt's relations with Tammany Hall also are of interest in view of his presidential candidacy. As a young member of the state senate from a rural district in 1910, Roosevelt started his political career as an arch foe of Tammany. Later, he apparently came to the conclusion that more was to be gained by being friendly with New York City's vast vote-getting machine than by opposing it.

Recently—though the graft evidence turned up by the Seabury investigating committee in New York has made his position a delicate one—he has succeeded in playing a middle course without being too vigorous either for or against the organization.

Despite Governor Roosevelt's long lead, the Democratic nomination is still far from certain. Roosevelt lacks even a majority of the 1154 convention votes, much less the 770 that are necessary to nominate under the two-thirds rule.

Three hundred and eighty-five votes, or one-third, can block Roosevelt's nomination. And political calculators say there are already 459 anti-Roosevelt votes (Garner, Smith and favorite sons), with many more delegates yet to be chosen.

MONDAY: Jack Garner as a presidential possibility . . . The first of two stories on the colorful speaker of the House by Rodolph Dutcher, Washington correspondent, which tells of the rise of a Texas cowboy to national prominence and how he stands on some of the big political issues of the day.

Fishing Season Is Open Today in N. M. SANTA FE, N. M.—Fisherman's paradise awaited New Mexico's anglers this morning. Thousands of trout have been placed in the streams and lakes of northern New Mexico.

The season this year is opening 10 days earlier than heretofore. The Rio Grande is high, but state game warden Elliot Barker believes it will furnish the best fishing of any of the northern streams when the water goes down.

Barker expressed the belief that it will not be until June 15 or July 1 before fishing reaches its best in the Rio Grande. Better fishing is forecast for the Pecos, as 139,000 trout were planted there last year. Many Loch Leven have been placed below the valley ranch, some as far downstream as San Jose.

Santa Cruz lake received 52,500 rainbow trout. The number of fish taken there last year is said not to have been great. The Cimarron river has received 35,000 Loch Leven and 19,500 rainbow. Being below the Eagle Nest dam, the Cimarron is at a normal stage. Barker warned all fishermen to

The more we read about Krueger, the worse it gets. Next they'll be saying he didn't pay his income tax. Well, you can't say the Democrats aren't for normalcy. Just look at their pre-campaign fights.

HOW CAN YOU JUDGE THE VALUE BEHIND AN UNKNOWN LABEL?

IT IS EASY enough to buy wisely when you can see what you are getting.

But how about those products that you can't see?

Foods, drugs, toilet necessities—all hidden by a bottle or a package.

If you do not recognize the name on the label, how can you judge the value behind it?

You can't!

Shopping experience has proved this to millions of women. But experience uses bitter methods. Costly methods.

When you buy only those products which you see advertised regularly week after week, in newspapers and magazines—when you are guided by the names you know—you are safe.

But when you experiment with untried brands—substitute products which you are told are "just as good"—you may be sorry.

The manufacturer who knows the wisdom of advertising also knows the folly of false claims.

His integrity is the integrity of his product. Your good will is the rock on which he stands. If it crumbles, his success goes with it into dust.

The truthful, consistent advertising of any manufacturer is proof of his pride in the merchandise he offers you.

But it is even more than that. It is his promise of constant quality and definite purity. Of honest weight. Of full value in return for your money and your confidence.

These facts are published by this newspaper in an earnest attempt to help you buy more wisely.

When you shop, accurate information is your best protection against the disappointment which often hides behind an unknown label.

Soviet's "Godless Month" Has Program

MOSCOW. (UP).—The special "Godless Month," which commenced April 5 had for its purpose the intensification of anti-religious propaganda, throughout the Soviet. The attack centered upon the Greek orthodox Easter, May 1, and the Hebrew Passover, April 21. The coincidence of Easter and May Day stimulated the atheists to exceptional activity in connection with their chief purpose of dramatically contrasting religious and labor holidays. The official organ, "The Godless One," in a recent editorial declared "May Day is a holiday for labor. Easter is a holiday for the Old World holiday exploiters."

Neely Puts Over Fast One on Huey

WASHINGTON.—For all his versatility, Sen. Huey P. Long was caught off base last night by Sen. Neely of West Virginia. After repeatedly taking command of the tax bill debate, leading it around to the relative climatic conditions of California and Louisiana, the history of Texas and the frightful state of the paving outside the capitol, Long was tripped by Neely into making a comparison of the gas production of his state and West Virginia. "Mr. President," said Neely, turning a beatific smile to Vice President Curtis, "West Virginia's gas is under control. That is the only difference."

When the guffaws and gavel-banging ceased, Long changed the subject.

NINE LIVES LOST BUT FOUND AGAIN

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—"My trip abroad was most interesting," said Miss Emmelina Feline, of this city, as she stepped from the gangplank to be greeted affectionately by Mrs. Loretta McMullin, with whom she will make her home. "I enjoyed the trip immensely," she continued, "although I met few acquaintances. And the ship's fare was excellent. How I did relish those scraps of meat the ship's butcher threw me."

CHANGED LINEUP TO REPRESENT MIDLAND AT SWEETWATER TODAY

BILLY MORAN THE NO. 1 MAN OF THE LOCALS

Midland goes to Sweetwater this afternoon for matches in the Sand Belt Golf association, with a changed lineup.

C. L. Jackson will be the No. 1 man, with the others in the following order: Billy Moran, Frank Day, Delo Douglas, Arch Thomas, Joe Chambers, Red Knight and E. M. Miller.

Several Midland people will be in the gallery that follows play on the Sweetwater course, and they will spread lunch at the course. Originally scheduled to have been played in Midland, today's match was shifted to Sweetwater because of water on the Midland course.

Sandy Auchterlone, country club pro, said the water would likely be gone in three or four days and that next Sunday should see the course dry.

Big Spring-Lamesa Match Interesting

BIG SPRING, May 21.—First place in the Sand Belt Golf association will be at stake Sunday when the local linksmen play the Lamesa golfers on the Lamesa course in the outstanding duel of the season so far. The two clubs are tied for first place in the league standings, neither having lost a match this year.

Four of the best golfers in the Sand Belt will clash in the No. 1 and No. 2 twosomes in the Lamesa-Big Spring match. Shirley Robbins and G. F. Porter, local players, will play E. C. Nix and Frank Rose, Lamesa stars.

Odessa Entertains Colorado There

ODESSA, May 21.—Colorado will send her team of eight golfers here today to meet the Odessa team in their fourth match of the Sand Belt Golf association season, the second to be played on the Odessa course. Local golfers are making all preparations to give the Coloradoans some stiff competition as well as plenty of entertainment.

The Colorado team at present holds fifth place in the league while Odessa is at the bottom. Odessa golfers scored their first points above the usual eight for being present on time, Sunday, May 8, when two Odessa golfers won their matches from the Snyder visitors.

In other matches of the league Sunday, Big Spring won from Midland at Big Spring by 25 to 19, Lamesa beat Sweetwater 29 to 15, and Colorado beat Texon by the same score.

The standing of the teams of the association to date is: Lamesa 90, Big Spring 82, Midland 80, Snyder 79, Sweetwater 59, Colorado 56, Texon 58, and Odessa 31.

In addition to the match to be

Mexicans Meet Pecos Here Today

Midland's Mexican Colts will play the Pecos Wildcats at the Mexican quarter diamond this afternoon.

Play will be called at 3 o'clock. The Midland Mexicans have played four games this season, and have won three of them. Two of these games were won over the Southern Ice club.

Southern Ice to Penwell Today

The Southern Ice baseball club journeys to Penwell this afternoon for a game.

The Bushers were unable to match a game, according to Dr. David M. Ellis, skipper.

MEXICANS HOP ON ICEMEN FOR ANOTHER UPSET

The Mexican Colts romped on Southern Ice for another hit and run decision Friday afternoon, retiring the Icemen in the 8th on the short end of a 7-3 score.

Morales was slight in the pinches but three Southern Ice moundsmen, Robinson, Nichols and Hedges, could not stop the Mexican bats.

The game was featured by two home runs made by the Mexicans. From the bats of Andres and Inosente. No one was on the paths when either blew came.

The clubs were deadlocked at 1-1 until the fourth, when the Mexicans hammered out hits enough to chase in four runs.

ELECTRICIANS COP

Texas Electric won a 9 inning game Friday from the Phone boys by score of 14 to 9. Texas Electric had the game on ice until the 7th, with a score of 13 to 2, but the Texas Electric pitcher got wild and the phone boys hit several good bingles and took walks enough to result in 8 runs.

The lights have been received and the opening game starts with the Lions and Rotarians meeting May 2.

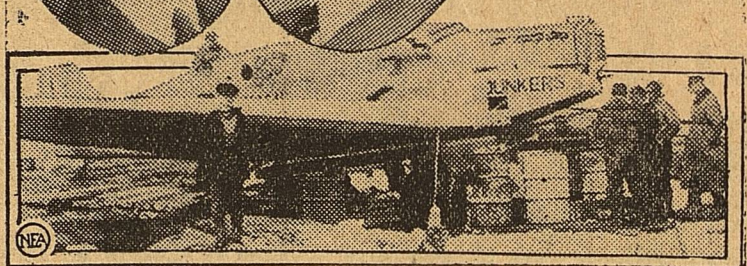

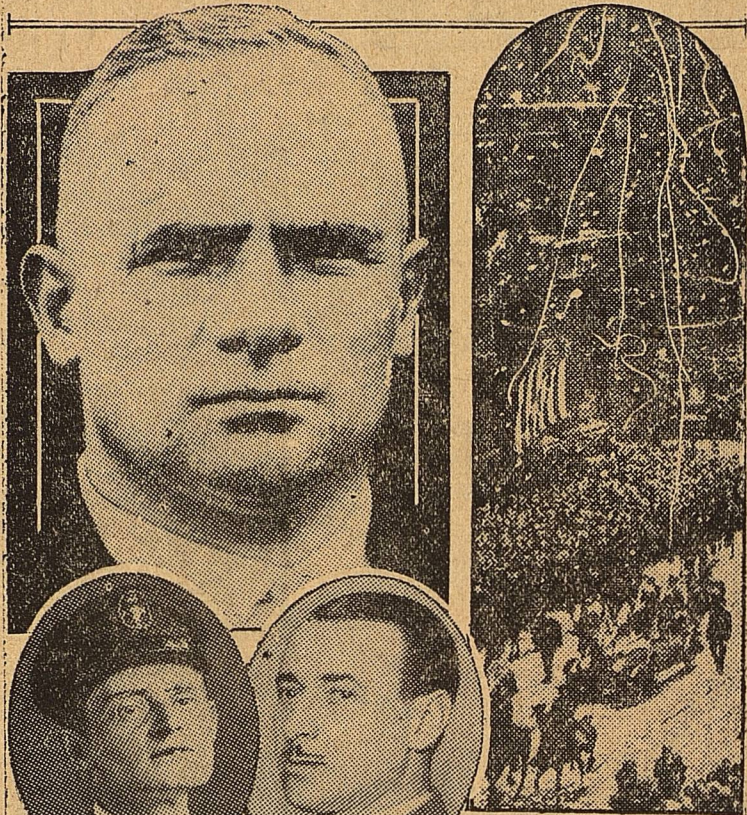

League play starts May 30.

Atlantic Production Company is making seismicographic tests in the Big Lake region. Tests were made this week on the John Scott ranch.

Possibility of a deep test at a point between Mertzon and Big Lake either in Reagan or Irion county is seen by oil men.

Warning Issued Against Bad Money

PECOS.—Watch out for bogus $10 bills. This is the warning given people of Pecos and immediate trade territory following the arrest of two men in Mentone on charges of passing counterfeit money.

The bills were first detected by G. C. Farley, assistant cashier of the First National bank. Then two of them were traced to the passers and two men were arrested. Charges of passing counterfeit money were filed against Aubrey Smith and his son, Dan Smith in federal court.

The older Smith is held under $1,500 bond; the younger under $1,000 bond.

"Undoubtedly a lot of this money has been floated in this part of the state," said Sheriff Roberson. "And therefore the people should examine closely $10 bills that are presented to them. The bogus money is Federal Reserve bank notes and the imitation is good. Usually the counterfeiters present them crumpled up."

The secret service bureau of the government has traced the money to the counterfeiters who were detected in Texas and Oklahoma—to old Mexico, it is said.

The Smiths were arrested by Sheriff Hurdin Ross of Loving county by Sheriff Roberson and Secret Service Agent F. V. Sorrels of El Paso.

Unusual Topic To Be Discussed

A modern American philosopher once said that only two per cent of the people think. How to be numbered among that two per cent will be set forth Sunday morning at 9:45 at Hotel Scharbauer at the Men's class.

Younger men who are ambitious and high school youths, particularly those who were graduated Thursday night, not in Sunday school elsewhere, are invited to attend. Many of the men will come Sunday in their shirt sleeves, now that warm weather has come.

Tells Best Way to See the President

This matter of going around to places where the president is likely to bob up is not so difficult, according to City Judge J. H. Knowles.

All one has to do is succeed in getting himself elected a delegate to a national gathering of some organization in Washington—and all is set.

Judge Knowles sat near the president at the national meeting of Masons recently. Mrs. Hoover was with the president. Mr. Hoover did not make an address for which he had been scheduled, however.

Judge Knowles was the oldest member of the Texas delegation of 101 men and women, and was stationed at the head of the group for pictures taken before the central terminal in Washington.

He returned last week.

"Grass Root" Field In Reeves Is Seen

Possibility of a "grass roots" oil field in the Toyah area of Reeves county is seen by Midland oil men watching operations in that vicinity.

The S. R. Sharp No. 1 Roberts, 14 miles north of Toyah got a show of oil at 160 feet. Rita Oil and Gas Co. No. 10, Wright, section 58, B. E. Cassels survey near the town of Toyah, will try for shallow sands.

Raise a Garden, All Are Advised

Free seeds, free garden spots and freedom from the blight of charity are offered all those in Midland who are in need and wish to raise gardens. Every person in Midland who has received assistance from the Welfare association is expected to raise a garden or show reason for not growing vegetables.

The Red Cross, welfare body and chamber of commerce are cooperating in the Garden week program in an effort to get more food produced and to conserve welfare funds for the winter. Midland people are asked to assist by urging needy people to get free seeds from Mrs. John Hately, Red Cross chairman at 413 West Wall street.

B'Spring Concludes Feeding Experiment

BIG SPRING.—The steer feeding experiment conducted by the agricultural department of the Texas A. & M. college and U. S. department of agriculture at the U. S. dry land field station at Big Spring was concluded last week with interesting results revealed.

Four lots of Hereford steer calves which graded good to choice at the time of entering the feed lots were fed for a period of 180 days. The object of the test was to compare unground threshed milo, ground threshed milo, unground milo heads and ground milo heads when fed with cotton seed meal and chopped sunmac (red top) fodder for fattening calves. Three hogs were placed in the lots at the beginning of the test for the purpose of utilizing undigested grain. Additional hogs were placed in the lots as the grain portions of the steer rations were increased. No additional feed other than one-third of a pound of a mixture of equal parts of tankage and cottonseed meal per head daily was fed to the hogs.

The steers placed in Lot No. 1 were fed threshed milo (unground), cottonseed meal, sunmac (red top) fodder; Lot No. 2, threshed milo (ground), cottonseed meal, sunmac (red top) fodder; Lot No. 3, unground milo heads (unground), cotton seed meal, sunmac (red top) fodder; Lot No. 4, milo heads (ground), cotton seed meal, sunmac (red top) fodder.

The average initial weight, on Nov. 20, when placed on feed were 270.8, 467.6, 468.3, 468.1 pounds respectively for Lots 1, 2, 3 and 4, and the average gains per head were 315.6, 364.1, 314.3, 371.2 pounds, the average daily gain per head being 1.75, 2.02, 1.75, and 2.05 pounds.

Approximately 250 people attended the feeders' day program held at the Big Spring station.

PECOS RODEOS

PECOS.—Bob Lewis is starting up his amateur rodeos at the pasture back of 7th house south of town Sunday afternoon.

Anybody can compete in these affairs. Last year they were all free. This year a nominal charge of 10 cents a head is to be made for the show and every cent taken in will go to charity. Cowboys and colts of the drug store variety will participate.

ON HONEYMOON

The couple were in the railroad president's private car, and were reported to be on an extended honeymoon tour, with Mexico City as their destination.

BREAKS LEG

He was able to be returned to his home late Saturday.
