THE CHEAPNESS OF LIFE

A bandit walked into a little confectionery store in a middle western city the other evening.

At the counter stood a business man, buying a box of candy. The bandit leveled a gun at him and demanded his pocketbook. The customer, emptying his pockets, protested that he had no money with him except a little small change.

Thereupon the bandit, enraged, pulled the trigger and shot the man dead.

This little story, not considered unusual enough to get more than a few inches of newspaper space, is as revealing as anything you could find in your paper.

It tells more about the attitude which makes our 'crime wave' possible than a whole volume of learned sociological dissertation. For it proves, graphically, that human life has become cheap in America. Killing a man is no longer a dreadful deed for which a man must nerve himself beforehand; it is a triviality, something that can be done casually to gratify a moment's disappointment or vexation. Murder has ceased to be a terrible word.

The easiest thing to do is to blame it all on the war, and surely, the violent deaths of 2,000,000 soldiers are hardly calculated to teach the sacredness of human life. But the explanation is altogether too easy. We would have this same willingness to kill even if we had not been through a war. It is an outgrowth of our national character.

The whole trend of the times is to minimize the importance of the individual.

In every factory in the country, the machine is more important than the worker, and is steadily forcing him out. It is taken for granted that no big building can be erected without at least one laborer being killed on the job.

The automobiles that our machine-manned factories turn out, kill more than 20,000 people every year, and nobody dreams of getting excited about it.

Law enforcement officers, when they suspect a person of smuggling, shoot him first and investigate afterwards.

The coal that heats our houses and furnishes steam for our industries is taken from the ground at the cost of scores of lives annually; yet no one suggests that that price is scandalously high.

You could go on multiplying instances of that kind indefinitely. And, in the end, what you would prove would be just this: that the individual is coming to count less and less in our civilization each year. He is being lost track of in the whirring of machinery and the confusion of modern haste.

So the rise of our murder rates is only a reflection of the cheapening of human life that has taken place all over the country. It won't be remedied much until we get a new attitude.

DON'T LEAVE CHARM OUT OF YOUR BEAUTY MAKE-UP

By MABEL DUKE For NEA Service

Charm is the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. It is the elusive will-o'-the-wisp which women, in their search for beauty are trying to obtain, believes Corinne Griffith.

And, when once the physical attributes of beauty—including fair complexion, sparkling eyes, glossy hair and the rest—are acquired, it is well to give a thought to the other things which contribute to charm.

"Many beautiful women lack that elusive quality, while many women of great personal magnetism could not be rated as great beauties," explains Miss Griffith. "But even though her features are irregular, the woman of charm is pleasant to look upon for she has mastered the qualities of perfect grooming and has made the most of her good features.

Ingredients of Charm
The next thought for charm is the development of the 'soul,' we might say, for lack of a better word. The charming woman is interested in everything and everybody. She has vitality and a pleasant disposition. Reading the newspapers, the latest books and keeping up with current events makes her a good conversationalist and her interest in and understanding of people give her a magnetism that draws every one to her. She is willing to listen to the other person talk as well as express her own ideas.

"Kindness and cheerfulness, sweetness, graciousness. These are the qualities by which a charming woman endears herself to others. And the motivating factor of those is thoughtfulness."

RICH AND BEAUTIFUL IS CABARET SCENE IN "MOTHER'S BOY" FILM

A fashionable cabaret scene, unsurpassed for beauty and the high quality of its appointments, makes the Pathe all-talking picture "Mother's Boy", starring Morton Downey, well known Broadway tenor, which will be the feature attraction at the Ritz theatre today, one of the most notable dialogue film productions ever shown in this city. Helen Chandler, Barbara Bennett, Beryl Mercer, Osgood Perkins and John T. Doyle, all stage players of popularity and reputation, are featured.

In keeping with the richness of their surroundings, the men and the women who are seen in this delightful sequence, are top-notchers in their individual fields. Among the 30 couples seated at the tables were many professional models, well known to patrons of Fifth Avenue modiste shops, rich fur emporiums and night clubs of New York. Of the men, the faces of many are known to those who scan the advertisements for the dressiest collars, suits and overcoats.

It is in this cafe that Tommy O'Day, who is his "Mother's Boy" formerly a delicatessen delivery boy who has become a famous night club singer, meets Beatrix Townley, a wealthy society woman who, charmed by his vocal artistry, interests herself in his future and obtains for him the leading part in a famous stage revue. The cafe scene is typical of New York club life and the gold buttoned waiters are those who nightly officiate in Morton Downey's famous Club Casanova in New York.

The story of "Mother's Boy", written by Gene Markey, is a deeply moving, dramatic, thrilling comedy of the lowest East Side in New York. The cast is composed almost wholly of noted stage players. The picture was directed by Bradley Barker under the supervision of Robert T. Kane.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Neal have returned to their home here after their vacation. Mr. Neal is connected with the Skelly Oil Company.

T. W. Sowell and J. E. Murphy of Dallas are business visitors in Midland. They are connected with the Midland Refinery Company.

MIDLAND SHOWERS BALLINGER WITH HOME RUNS; WINS 14-4

VISITORS BESET BY COMBINATION OF GOOD PITCHING AND BASE BLOWS

Lagunas Back Lineup; Moore Has Perfect Day; Kallina Increases Homer Total

The fans left Cowden Park yesterday after having seen one of the most merciful home run parties ever given a visiting club here. The Colts hit eight of these four-ply blows off three Ballinger pitchers, and took the decision, 14-4. Lefty Moore, little pitcher, played in right field, and hit two home runs, a double and a single in four times at bat. Big Ed Kallina hit a couple of home runs and collected another hit out of five times up. Kallina thus raised his total of homers to 22.

Lagunas Gets Ovation
First Inning
Ballinger: Jackson hit to Lagunas who threw him out at first. Scolding struck out. Bean popped to Lewis.
Midland: The crowd gave Lagunas quite an ovation as the little shortstop came to the plate for the first time on the home grounds. After looking at two he let loose a long drive to left that just missed getting over the boards. Mueller making a great catch of the long fly. Lewis went out pitcher to first. Flowers singled. Kallina flew out to right.

Second Inning
Ballinger: E. Mueller doubled. A Mueller hit one just inside third base which Lewis handled nicely retiring him at first and holding E. Mueller on second. Lynch singled to left, scoring Mueller but was out trying to stretch it to a double. Kittrell flew out to Flowers.
Midland: King singled sharply over second base. Cheeves hit into a double play short to second to first. Moore doubled to left. Stagner also doubled scoring Moore. Melton singled through second scoring Stagner. Lagunas beat out one to short, when the ball popped into Mueller's chest. Melton stopping at second. Lewis doubled to left. Lagunas barely making third as Melton scored. Flowers grounded to Bean who threw to Robertson covering first.

Third Inning
Ballinger: Fant struck out. Robertson lined to Kallina. Cheeves took Jackson's grounder and threw him out.
Midland: Kallina made his twenty first home run over the right field barrier. King not to be outdone let one loose over the left field fence. Cheeves struck out. Lefty Moore, wishing to continue the party, followed John King's example letting one ride over the left field wall. Mr. Robertson didn't appreciate the party and retired in favor of Jimmie Parker. Stagner grounded to third. Melton was out Parker to Bean.

Fourth Inning
Ballinger: Scolding doubled. Bean walked. E. Mueller flew out to Flowers. A Mueller forced Bean at second. Lewis to Cheeves. Scolding going to third. Lynch flew out to Lefty Moore.
Midland: Lagunas was safe on Mueller's error at short. Lewis sacrificed him to second. Flowers scored him with a clear single to center. Kallina missed a third strike and flattered Parker by asking to examine the ball. The umpire failed to agree with Big Ed and threw the same ball back in the game. King popped to Lynch for the third out.

Fifth Inning
Ballinger: Kittrell was out to Cheeves to Kallina. Fant popped out to Cheeves. Parker also popped to second.
Midland: Parker curved one to Cheeves who took it for a ride over the fence to the dump grounds. Lefty Moore seemed to enjoy batting getting his third hit a single to left. Stagner sent number five over the left field boards. Melton struck out. Lagunas lined to Bean. Lewis took his place in the home run circle lifting a high one over left. That was enough for Parker who retired in favor of Manager Hill. Flowers flew out to Jackson.

Sixth Inning
Ballinger: Jackson flew out to Moore. Scolding singled. Bean hit a long one to right which Lefty Moore took off the boards. E. Mueller flew out to Flowers.
Midland: Lynch knocked down Kallina's roller but failed to get him out. King lined to Lynch who doubled Big Ed off first. Cheeves' liner was right in Kittrell's hands for the third out.

Seventh Inning
Ballinger: Mueller flew out to Flowers. Lynch struck out. Kittrell was out Lagunas to Kallina.
Midland: Lefty Moore put one over the deep right center wall for his fourth hit in as many times up. Stagner flew out to center. Melton was out. Hill to Bean. Lagunas flew out to center.

Eighth Inning
Ballinger: Fant singled. Hill struck out. Jackson struck out. Scolding got his third hit of the afternoon, a double to left scoring Fant. Bean lived up to his reputation as a home run king by letting one out over the right field wall. E. Mueller flew out to King.
Midland: Lewis was out Hill to Bean. Flowers doubled Kallina up. The Little Lame Prince was too tired to run so he cranked his second home run over the right field fence and trotted around the bases.

ROMANCE UNDERLIES THRILLING MYSTERY

In "Berlin After Dark," there is not only a thrilling mystery drama with plenty of action, but an exceptionally interesting romance of a young girl who enters a desperate fight to save her sweetheart from the charge of killing her own father. The picture, which is now playing at the Grand Theatre, is from the famous UFA studios in Berlin and was imported by World Wide pictures, which selects for showing in this country the best films made abroad.

It takes less than a minute to dissolve the marriage bonds of a Kurd in the eastern part of Turkey. The man simply says, "I divorce you" three times and the parties are free.

In Berlin a noisy machine is confiscated by the police and fitted with a silencer at the owner's expense.

which attracted state-wide attention. Beginning with handling publicity for the Diversification campaign of Col. R. Q. Lee, he directed publicity for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce fight to prevent an increase in fire insurance rates; the campaign on water rights precipitated by the Colorado River water question; the anti cotton zone fight made by the West Texas organization as a result of the Pink Boll Worm scare in West Texas last year, and numerous other activities of the regional chamber of commerce. He also took part in many activities of local chambers of commerce, aiding in publicity work. Outstanding of these events was the Throckmorton Railroad celebration commemorating the completion of the Cisco & Northeastern Railroad from Breckenridge to Throckmorton. This event was said to have attracted the greatest assemblage of people in West Texas during 1928. Whitehead also did much of the organization work of the West Texas C. of C.

not subject to sea-sickness. Old sailors or ex-aviators, in his opinion, would be ideal subjects for the experiment. One of the difficulties is that after leaving the earth behind, the passenger will lose all sense of direction, hence, will probably be unable to say what land he sees, or touches. This would remain a mystery unless the ingenuity of astronomers devises a method of tracing the rocket's course in the sky.

A solution of this problem has to a certain extent been supplied by the Germans who now frequently send up uninhabited rockets to an altitude of sixty and a hundred miles equipped in each case with registering apparatus. Prof. Oberth has further suggested the creation of veritable laboratories in space by means of rockets with facilities for remaining aloft for some time.

The plan of the rocket, which has been found feasible and been signalled by the award of the Hirsch, Rep. prize for the year by the Societe Astronomique of France, is such as to enable it to escape not only the pull of gravitation from the earth, but from other planets and the sun as well. It will therefore be able to cruise the heavens free of danger of being forced down unless it goes square into a reef projecting from the moon.

So far as the plans are now known the man in the rocket will have no means at his disposal for controlling the course of the projectile. His job will be to hold on with both hands and pray that no deity jealous of this invasion of his domain throws thunderbolt in his path.

Ardele Thomas and Bill Holland of San Angelo were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vann B. Mitchell yesterday.

TESTIMONY ON SUGAR TARIFF IS COMPLETED

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The Senate Finance Committee has completed taking testimony on the sugar schedule. Soon the committee will be engaged in framing the rate of duty and the language of the paragraph in the tariff bill. A tax of three cents a pound on sugar has been written into the House bill. Such a tax the consumer can see and feel directly, for he has to pay it every day when he buys his daily rations at the corner grocery.

A contention well supported by facts and figures has been made that conditions in the beet sugar industry do not warrant any raise in the tariff. That this industry is highly prosperous is shown by the earnings of the larger companies, which manufacture 75 percent of the beet sugar.

The chief concern of the American user of sugar in the tariff is this: "What is my sugar going to cost me?"

There is an answer to that. Every person in America last year used a little over 100 pounds of refined sugar. On this basis, three of the most distinguished economists in this country, members of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin, have estimated that the three cent sugar tax will cost all of us $150,000,000 a year more than we are now paying for our sugar.

If only the 64 cents increase in the tariff is passed along to the consumer in the price he must pay for his sugar Texas' share of the annual toll will be $3,511,680 more than she is now paying. But this increase actually will be 2.08 cents a pound, so that Texas will really be mulcted $11,402,960 as her share of the $249,600,000 which the whole duty will cost us.

...in a swimmer it's STROKE!

...in a cigarette it's TASTE!

"RIGHT," YOU SAY, "but what is taste?" Light a Chesterfield, and notice three things: the distinct and pleasing flavor, the fragrance of the smoke, and that certain "something different" which we can only call "character."

Good taste means all three, and all three are blended—and cross-blended, the standard Chesterfield method—into every shred of tobacco. Just one rule governs Chesterfield's making:

"TASTE above everything"
