STERILIZING TO BE COMPLETED BY MAY 1

FARMERS URGED TO BRING SEED IN AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

O. L. Walton, state department of agriculture representative who is in charge of seed sterilization here, advises farmers of Midland county that May 1 has been set as the last day for bringing in the seed and for completing the work in Midland county.

The sterilization plant has not been running to capacity lately, due to the fact that farmers are not bringing in the seed rapidly enough. As much as 50,000 pounds can be handled easily in a day's run, and there has been as much as 64,000 pounds handled in one day.

The necessity of having all seed sterilized has been explained in detail from time to time, and farmers are requested to use all speed in completing the work for this county.

Sonora Ranchman in Midland Yesterday

S. E. McKnight, well known ranchman of Sonora, was in Midland yesterday. He and Mrs. McKnight and Miss Lucille White were accompanied to Midland by Mrs. M. B. McKnight and Tom McKnight whom they have been visiting on the ranch near Odessa.

The Sonora ranchman raises both cattle and sheep, and reports his country in fair condition. There is a prevailing shortage of aged steers in his section. "Might just as well look about for a good well improved piece of school land to file on as to look for aged steers," he humorously stated.

FIRE LIMITS EXTENDED BY ACTION OF THE CITY COUNCIL

BUILDING CODE READ FOR FIRST TIME AT MEETING OF ALDERMEN WEDNESDAY NIGHT. WILL REGULATE TYPE OF CONSTRUCTION IN THE BUSINESS SECTION

Closer regulation of the type of construction used in the buildings which may be erected in the business section of Midland will be enforced soon, the first reading of the new building code having been heard Wednesday night at the meeting of the City Council. Edw. A. Nolan, Midland architect, was chairman of the committee of technical men who worked out the details of the code.

For the purpose of better enforcing the new building restrictions, the fire limits, comprising the business section of Midland, and that portion which bids fair to become the business section, were extended to take in several additional blocks.

Beginning at the intersection of Ohio and Fort Worth streets, the line runs west to Big Spring street, south to Kentucky (and railroad), east to Baird street, north to the southside of the railroad right of way, northeast to Fort Worth street, then north to Ohio, or the point of beginning.

Good Results From New Street Machine

Excellent results are being obtained by A. B. Cole, head of the city's street work, with the new Austin-Western street maintainer. The new machine runs by its own power, has a 30 horse power motor, and makes better speed than the average tractor drawn grader.

Since the recent snows, streets are in better condition for being worked, and many of them have been leveled up which had been badly blown out during the dry period.

C. OF C. PRESIDENT COINS NEW SLOGAN

A phrase hastily thought up by Leon Goodman, president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, as he opened the mass meeting last Sunday night when the Motorcade of the Broadway of America visited Midland may prove to be the new slogan of the city.

Searching his mind for an impromptu phrase to adequately describe Midland, he decided against the "best city" and the "fastest growing city," and suddenly thought of this expression, "The most ambitious city between the oceans."

The phrase cannot be disputed, or if disputed cannot be disproved. The ambition of Midland as a city has been demonstrated in any number of ways, its building program being one of the most striking.

UNOFFICIAL REPORT SAYS WOULD WIDEN HIGHWAY THROUGH COUNTY

That Gib Gilchrist, chief highway engineer, and Judge W. R. Ely, member of the State Highway Commission, spent Tuesday night at the Hotel Scharbauer, returning from an inspection trip over the highway to the north, was reported here yesterday.

He is reported to have termed the highway "the most important one in the United States."

WORLD TRAVELED GEOLOGIST TO SPEAK AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH SUNDAY

WAS ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF MEGIDDO EXPEDITION IN PALESTINE HAS DONE MINING AND GEOLOGICAL WORK IN MANY LANDS. NOW CONNECTED WITH TEXAS COMPANY

All Midland people, and especially oil men and those who are interested in geology or mining, will enjoy hearing D. F. Higgins, world traveled geologist, who will speak at the Presbyterian church Sunday.

The speaker has done work along the lines of geological and mining research in many lands, including Korea, China, England, France, Egypt, Sinai, Norway, Alaska, and the Holy Land.

The work in Palestine was under the auspices of the Megiddo Expedition of the University of Chicago, financed by John D. Rockefeller Jr. Mr. Higgins was assistant director of the expedition.

His present work is in geology for the Texas Production Company, a subsidiary of the Texas Company.

He has membership in a number of geological societies, one in England, of geological, mining and chemical purposes. He is a graduate of Northwestern university, spent four years in Korea, and saw fourteen months service in the World War.

He is now located at Carlsbad, N. M., and Rev. Thos. D. Murphy, pastor of the Presbyterian church here, met him while attending the meeting of the El Paso Presbytery there last week, inviting him to come to Midland and fill the pulpit.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and hear him, and oil men will find the address especially interesting.

Demonstrates Value of Library Service

A practical example of the value of a library in dollars and cents is found in the experience of a prominent contractor. This man, after years of experimenting, had perfected a formula for mixing concrete with cinders, a plan which has been in use for years in Europe, but which is new in this country.

After he started his machinery, to erect a big building in a nearby state, he was enjoined from further work by a man who claimed that he formula he was using was patented.

Rather than lose all the money he had put into the scheme, he appealed to his public library for information, with the result that he found, in a technical magazine, a description of how this method had been used for many years on the continent of Europe.

"Any scheme so described in print is common knowledge for the use of all," rules the patent office.

Is it any wonder that this contractor, who prefers not to have his name used, is enthusiastically in favor of county libraries?

Big Producer in Eastern Pecos Co.

BOY SCOUT WORK PROGRESSING HERE

MEETING OF COUNCIL TO BE HELD MONDAY AT COLORADO HOTEL

Boy Scout work in Midland is progressing in great shape, according to the report made by Scout Executive F. L. Craft after he had checked up on activities here this week.

The troops have been receiving real training, he said, and he is better pleased with the showing made than in any place he has ever conducted scout activities.

A scout master's training school was held at the Baptist church Thursday night.

All Boy Scouts of Midland will participate this afternoon in a hike to a place 12 miles south of Midland, and will undergo some outdoor examinations. They will then cook their supper, play games, and return to their homes.

This is to be the first of many outdoor activities of the Midland scouts this summer.

The Buffalo Trails council has grown in four months from two troops to fifteen, and the towns represented are giving 100 per cent cooperation, Craft says.

The annual meeting for the election of officers will be held at the Colorado hotel at 7 o'clock Monday evening, and about 25 men from 10 towns will be present. It is planned to have from two to five men from Midland.

A banquet will be served at the Colorado hotel at which Hon. J. P. Fitch, of Dallas, scout executive for Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, will be one of the speakers. Rev. W. M. Elliott, president of the Buffalo Trails council, will preside at the banquet. He has just returned from San Francisco where he attended the National Boy Scout convention and will give a report of this meeting.

Mayor Haag Proclaims

To The Citizens of the City of Midland:

By virtue of authority vested in me, as Mayor of the City of Midland, and in keeping with the appropriateness of the season, and no less consistently with the habits of men with changing seasons, I hereby proclaim Saturday, April 21st, in the Year of Our Lord, 1928, as Official Straw Hat Day. It is springtime. The Beauties of Nature are beginning to emerge from their hiding places. Feathered songsters burst forth in the joyous melodies inspired in their breasts by the vernal bloom of an approaching May Day; and the hearts of men can do no less than to respond to the lifting joys of the birds in these pristine beauties.

It is Straw Hat time. I proclaim it. Come forth tomorrow with your new Straw Katy. If you have none, note the advertisements in this paper, and how cheaply and how easily you can get one. Come forth on the day and the date aforesaid and bloom with the blooming springtime. Shed your radiance round about and let the world gaze on.

I proclaim it Springtime. By force of sunshine and flowers it is Straw Hat time, and by the powers vested as stated above, the day approaches in which to force its recognition. It is so ordered. The penalty for disobedience to this mandate will rest heavily upon your head, in the scorn of your fellows, lack of graciousness, toward you from the gentle sex, and in which event I further and fully proclaim you a fit subject for the scorn of your lady-fair.

Under my hand it is so given, proclaimed and dated as above declared.

B. FRANK HAAG,
Mayor, City of Midland, Texas.

FARM FACTS

By H. L. ATKINS JR., Agent

Most farmers report a very fair season from the snows last week. A few are planting feed crops the past two or three days.

Midland county pig club members will sell their pigs one week from today. Wade Bros. of Sweetwater are paying a substantial premium on these porkers.

M. O. Sadler reports good luck with his baby White Leghorns. He has lost only 25 out of 500 and they are now more than a month old.

Dick Cowden and Elliott F. Cowden each have a bunch of capons and are pleased with them. The capon attains unusual size with the meat remaining tender and juicy. The county agent will be pleased to instruct those interested in the art of caponizing.

The State Ton Litter contest is again in full swing with plenty of prize money offered. Litters farrowed between the dates of February 1 and 31 inclusive are eligible to entry.

Better get that garden planted soon. The family needs vegetables and you probably won't have them unless you raise them.

Hundreds of ravens have been poisoned in the county but more should be destroyed. The trade of poisoned corn for shelled corn still holds good at the county agent's office.

Maize club members will plant five acres of pure-line dwarf yellow maize. The boy who produces the greatest yield on his five acres will get a free trip to the boys' club encampment at the Dallas Fair this fall. Entries on all clubs will close May 1.

L. C. Proctor states that from now on he is going to have everything on his farm pedigreed. This applies to stock, chickens, turkeys, hogs, planting seed and all else about the farm. His is a good resolution and should be the ultimate ambition of every Midland farmer.

S. M. Francis finds feterita a mighty valuable feed for poultry. He plants feterita each year for his chickens.

Don't be stingy with seed when you plant your crop. It is much easier to thin the crop than it is to re-plant, and a poor stand usually means a short crop.

A. B. Stickney reports a hundred per cent kill on prairie dogs, and says dozens of ravens are dying from feasting on the dogs.

Federal men state that most Midland farmers are co-operating completely on seed sterilization. About 80 tons of seed have been sterilized to date, but many tons yet remain. If your neighbor is slow about bringing his seed in, tell him to be fair to you and himself by sterilizing his seed.

S. O. Golladay is planning to plant 100 acres in Sudan. He counts on using the Sudan to give beef cattle a start toward fattening them for market this fall.

Among those calling at the county agent's office this week are: S. O. Golladay, B. T. Hale, I. C. Heald, Wm. Long, J. C. Miles, M. O. Sadler, G. S. Jones, S. M. Francis, Elliott F. Cowden, P. P. Montgomery, W. D. Rayburn, Geo. Moore and L. C. Proctor.

FUTURE STOCK JUDGER

Bobby's father praises purebred Hereford cattle. One day a woman from the city came to visit his mother. Bobby watched her closely. When his mother went to the kitchen for refreshments Bobby followed her.

"Mother," he exclaimed excitedly, "is Mrs. Blank a full blood?"

"What makes you ask such a question?" his mother demanded.

"Well, you look when you go back out there and you will see she has tags in her ears."—Hereford Journal.

Tech Will Ask Printing Plant

Austin, April 17.—Dr. P. W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college, in Austin Tuesday, complained of the slow printing service under state contract. He said the institution is embarrassed by the present system and he will ask the next legislature to give the college an appropriation for a printing plant. The University of Texas and A. & M. college have their own plants, he said, and Tech needs one.

He said Dr. H. H. Harrington, control member in charge of budgets and estimates, would visit the college next week with W. T. Gaston, chief clerk of the budget division, to obtain data to be incorporated into the biennial appropriation recommendations.

One of the first requests to be made is that Tech salaries be placed on a parity with those paid the faculty of the University of Texas, as the same kind of work is done by instructors.

A total of $1,280,000 is needed for permanent improvements, he said, because of inadequate facilities and the increasing attendance.

Dr. Horn said three wings are needed to complete the administration building, the cost of which would be $654,000. The equipment would total $56,000. A library building is needed, to cost $200,000, with $50,000 added for books and equipment. Engineering equipment estimated at $100,000 is another item to be inserted as urgent, $30,000 is wanted for barns, sheds and fences in the agricultural department, $60,000 for a dairy manufacturing building unit and equipment, $50,000 for addition equipment for the science building, $25,000 for additional heating plant, $15,000 for an additional well, $25,000 for roads and paving, $10,000 for sidewalks and $10,000 for trees and shrubbery. The campus of 2,000 acres did not have a tree on it when the college was built four years ago.

Gist Sells Bulls to Del Rio Rancher

Another Plea For Railroads

Austin, April 17.—The Chamber of Commerce of Monahans has submitted a written argument in support of the petition of the Texas-New Mexico railroad to build 35 miles of line from Monahans on the Texas & Pacific by way of Kermit to the Winkler county oil fields. Monahans claims the world's largest oil tank of 1,000,000 barrels and it opposes the contesting route from Pyote by way of Wink. The reasons set forth by Monahans are as follows:

1. The haul will be shorter over the designated route than by any other. The evidence shows that 97 per cent of all the traffic that will be handled, both inbound and outbound, will be to and from the east. Pyote, being 15 miles further west on the Texas & Pacific than Monahans, the haul would be considerably further on all traffic to and from the east if the road was built out of Pyote, which would probably necessitate higher freight rates.

2. The Texas & Pacific already has at Monahans interchange track facilities, which could be used by that road and the applicant. Pyote does not have such facilities.

Good Water Supply

3. The water supply at Monahans is adequate, it having an inexhaustible supply of pure water, and no other town along the Texas & Pacific in that locality has good water, and such a supply can not be provided at Pyote without the expenditure of large sums and then only by piping it a considerable distance.

4. The Texas & Pacific has at Monahans adequate facilities for supplying fuel to locomotives which will be used on the applicant's road. No such facilities are at Pyote, and could not be provided there except by the expenditure of large sums.

5. The topography of the country is such that the road as located and designated by applicant can be constructed for less money and operated more economically than over any other route.

"Pyote Doesn't Want Road"

6. The road should not be built out of Pyote because that town, its Chamber of Commerce and many property owners there do not want it. They claim their transportation facilities are adequate, and there is no need for a railroad into the Winkler county fields. If the road should be thrust on them, it is probable that their attitude toward it would be unfriendly. On the other hand, the Chamber of Commerce at Monahans, and the citizens there ask for the road and promise the applicant their support.

7. Monahans is on a direct line between the oil fields in Crant county to the southeast and those in Winkler county.

The facts that the large oil tank is built at Monahans, and that five oil companies have pipe lines into Monahans and one oil company a large tank farm near by and other industries locating there, is good evidence that Monahans is well located for the purpose of serving the oil industry in that section, it is claimed.

As I look back over the years that are past I can think of nothing that has brought more real happiness into my life than good books. As a source of inspiration, cheer and practical helpfulness, they have had no equal. Books, magazines, and periodicals have been the greatest single factor in shaping my life and making me what I am today.—Prize letter in the Progressive Farmer.

A people can be a democracy if it can learn to read, if it can learn to get the wealth that there is in store in the literature of the race, if it can learn to weld itself together into a single intellectual society by the interchange of reading, if it can find present expression for its own meaning and find the record of past meaning. I don't believe that any society can be a democracy in any considerable measure at all except as it develops reading.—Alexander Meiklejohn, University of Wisconsin.

MIDLAND'S RESOURCES

Midland at one time had one source of revenue, the cattle business. It was a good source of revenue, as it still is, and built here a solid town with the best class of citizens to be found anywhere.

A few years ago, citizens began to seek other resources for the town. Good roads enthusiasts succeeded in routing through Midland a transcontinental highway, now the Broadway of America, which brings through the city each day hundreds or even thousands of tourists who spend money here. Authentic figures show that tourists who are speeding across the continent spend an average of $3.00 in each town, and average three people to the car, making $9.00 in each town for each car.

Tourists who are traveling leisurely spend $10 each, or an average of $30 per car.

Another source of much revenue is agriculture. Farmers in great numbers have moved to the Midland country, have paid for farms and made the land more valuable, adding to the money spent in the city.

Then oil, the liquid gold, was discovered in the Midland area, and has been the cause of the greatest building program the city has ever known.

Recently, through the enterprise of Sam Sloan and Midland business men, a fifth source of revenue has been added to Midland's list—air travel. The Midland airport has been responsible for the expenditure of thousands of dollars in the last few months, and air traffic here has hardly started.

Thus Midland is drawing money from five important sources, cattle, tourists, agriculture, oil and air travel; and along with the growth of the city there have been created numerous industries which provide weekly, semi-monthly and monthly pay rolls which run into hundreds of thousands of dollars annually.

Commander of 90th Coming to Convention

San Antonio, April 19.—Major General Henry T. Allen of Washington, war-time commander of the 90th division, has accepted the official invitation of Mayor C. M. Chambers to be the guest of San Antonio during the American Legion national convention to be held here October 8 to 12.

General Allen will be the head-liner of the 90th division's reunion during the Legion convention, for which elaborate plans are being worked out by officers of the division association.

Writing Mayor Chambers, General Allen expressed his pleasure at the invitation to come and continued:

"The superb conduct of the 90th division with its unsurpassed record endeared its members to me in an imperishable way. The 36th division, which fell under my command for a while, also made a most enviable record."

"Some of the very best soldiers, if not the best I have ever known" is the way the general referred to the members of his old command in the stirring days in France.

Col. Ike Ashburn, now manager of the Houston Chamber of Commerce, plans to house the members of his old brigade, the 179th, in barracks on their old training ground at Camp Travis during the convention, according to reports to the Legion national convention bureau.

Ashburn's outfit has informed the bureau that they "would much prefer staying out at the barracks during the convention rather than at a hotel."

The chief attraction at the division reunion will be a banquet at the Gunter hotel on Monday night, October 8, the opening day of the convention. General Allen will be the chief speaker, with former officers of the division also on the program.

IS A LIBRARY WORTH ITS COST?
"YES" — BEN F. WHITEFIELD

"I have heard some people say, a county library is good, but is it worth the cost?" said Ben F. Whitefield, a leading merchant in Midland for over twenty-five years. "Most assuredly it is. We think our street paying worth the cost, our electric light and water systems. But these things add only to our physical well being, while a library would be a tremendous factor in our mental development. Certainly, if we pride ourselves on being intelligent, well-educated, and mentally alert, a county library is worth a hundred times its cost."

"And," he added, "its cost is so little."

Government Reports on Eddy County Core

Third Government Test Strikes Substantial Bodies of Potash

The thickest bodies of potash salts yet revealed by Government tests have been found in the third Government well drilled in Eddy county, New Mexico, according to a statement made public by the Interior Department. The Geological Survey has recently completed analyses of samples selected from the core of this well which show that within 1,500 feet of the surface nine beds or groups of beds of possible commercial interest were encountered. One of these, at a depth of about 1,466 feet, is 8 feet 10 inches thick and contains 11.08 per cent of potash

(K<sub>2</sub>O) in the sample as received, equivalent to 18.25 per cent K<sub>2</sub>O in the soluble salts. Other noteworthy beds range in thickness down to 2 feet 3 inches and in potash content from 8.50 to 13.68 per cent in the samples as received. Only one potash mineral, polyhalite (K<sub>2</sub>SO<sub>4</sub>.MgSO<sub>4</sub>.2CaSO<sub>4</sub>.2H<sub>2</sub>O), was recognized in the samples recovered in drilling, but connection some of the more soluble to difficulties experienced in this salts originally present may have been lost. The polyhalite occurred in a number of colors and textures, including a coarsely crystalline variety which is apparently new in this country.

Well No. 3 is in the SW. 1-4 sec. 34,

S., R. 30 E., about 28 miles from Carlsbad. It is one of the group being drilled by the Bureau of Mines under the potash act, which provides for joint exploration by the Geological Survey, representing the Department of the Interior, and the Bureau of Mines, representing the Department of Commerce. The Geological Survey selects the drilling sites and receives and analyses the cores obtained by the Bureau of Mines. The site potash core in New Mexico was taken a few years ago.

The samples analyzed came from depths ranging from 365 feet 10 inches to 1,475 feet 4 inches. The beds believed to have commercial interest are tabulated below.

Column 1—Bed or group; 2—Approximate depth, feet; 3—Thickness, ft., in.; 4—K<sub>2</sub>O in sample, per cent; 5—K<sub>2</sub>O in soluble salts, per cent.

1	2	3	4	5
A	868	3 2	13.50	20.20
B	951	2 3	13.13	19.75
C	1,012	3 7	12.86	21.29
D	1,200	2 4	12.88	17.21
E	1,333	3 3	12.06	18.02
F	1,364	2 4	8.73	16.12
G	1,382	2 4	8.54	16.05
H	1,460	3 6	8.73	10.70
I	1,466	8 10	11.08	18.25

A and G in the above table are beds represented by only one analysis each.

Group B includes two beds, 3 inches and 1 foot 2 inches thick, separated by a 4-inch bed of lower potash content. The analyses in the table represent a weighted average of all three beds.

Group C comprises a 3 foot 7 inch bed of white polyhalite, the upper 2 feet of which contains 14.82 per cent K<sub>2</sub>O. The lower 1 foot 7 inches includes some anhydrite and contains 10.38 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O. Just above this bed but not counted in Group C is a 1 foot 8 inch bed of halite and anhydrite with some polyhalite that contains 3.18 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O.

Group D was divided for analysis into two sections, the upper 1 foot 1 inch and the lower 1 foot 3 inches thick. The upper section contained 12.05 per cent and the lower section 13.60 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O.

Group E includes a 2 foot 4 inch bed of polyhalite containing 13.68 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O, equivalent to 20.35 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O in the soluble salts. This is separated by a 5 inch bed consisting chiefly of halite from a higher 6 inch bed of polyhalite containing 14.95 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O, equivalent to 22.30 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O in the soluble salts. The figures given in the table represent a weighted average for the three beds.

Group F comprises a 1 foot 8 inch bed, chiefly polyhalite, containing 10.97 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O, equivalent to 19 per cent in the soluble salts, and a higher 8 inch bed of anhydrite, halite, and polyhalite containing 3.14 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O, equivalent to 8.92 per cent in the soluble salts.

Group H is composed of four beds, of which the second from the top, 7 inches thick, is not represented by a sample. The top bed is 1 foot 3 inches thick and contains 11.25 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O, equivalent to 14.2 per cent in the soluble salts. The third bed contains 9.9 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O, equivalent to 11.83 per cent in the soluble salts. The fourth or lowest bed is 1 foot 9 inches thick and contains 4.96 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O, equivalent to 5.08 per cent in the soluble salts. If all four beds are taken together the group is 5 feet 3 inches thick and contains 7.47 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O, equivalent to 8.83 per cent in the soluble salts. The figures in the table disregard the lowest bed and provide a weighted average for the other three, including the bed not sampled.

Bed I, which is a remarkable uniform bed 8 feet 10 inches thick, was divided for analysis into four sections—a 2 foot 3 inch section at the top, containing 10.90 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O, equivalent to 17.30 per cent in the soluble salts; a 2 foot 6 inch section, containing 10.20 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O, equivalent to 19.12 per cent in the soluble salts; a 2 foot 2 inch section, containing 12.63 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O, equivalent to 19.70 per cent in the soluble salts; and a 1 foot 11 inch section at the bottom, containing 10.68 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O, equivalent to 16.58 per cent in the soluble salts. An interval of 1 foot 5 inches, from which no sample was received, separates bed I from group H above. If both sets of beds with the included intervals noted are taken together they form a single group 15 feet 6 inches thick containing 8.84 per cent of K<sub>2</sub>O, equivalent to 13.39 per cent in the soluble salts.

Tests were made for boron, bromine, and iodine on most of the samples received. None of the samples contained more than 0.07 per cent of B<sub>2</sub>O<sub>3</sub> or as much as 0.05 per cent of bromine or iodine.

Polyhalite, because of its relatively low potash content (15.6 per cent when pure), is not so desirable a mineral for commercial purposes as carnallite or sylvite, which contain relatively larger amounts of potassium. It is hoped, therefore, that as the exploration progresses commercial amounts of these two minerals may be found. Their presence in Government tests Nos. 1 and 2 has been announced in earlier press statements.

Polyhalite, however, is not to be disregarded as a source of commercial potash. It is believed to be suitable in its raw state as mined for direct application to the soil as a low-grade fertilizer, though this opinion remains to be verified by adequate tests. By the simple expedient of extracting the soluble salts, however, the potash content of the polyhalite rock may be raised, as indicated in the above table, to 20 per cent or more, which places it in the group of intermediate fertilizer materials classed as manure salts. In this form it will be better able to bear the cost of transportation to distant points. How far polyhalite will lend itself to refining processes to produce high-grade potash salts is a chemical engineering problem that is now engaging the attention of the Bureau of Mines.

Motorcade Greeted By Dallas Citizens

Dallas, Texas, April 17.—Gathering momentum as it goes, the Broadway of America Motorcade, which left San Diego, Cal., April 11 with forty-nine participants, El Paso April 15 with 230 and Fort Worth April 17 with 434, spent three hours in Dallas Tuesday and departed with more than 500 enthusiastic boosters, headed for Sulphur Springs, where they will put up for the night.

The Motorcade is en route to Memphis, Tenn., where it will be met by a similar caravan from New York. In Memphis the two contingents of "All the Year Route" Highway Association will hold a convention to promote the proposed paved highway to link San Diego, Cal., and New York City—the Broadway to Broadway span across the continent.

H. L. Birney of El Paso, president of the Broadway of America Association, headed the delegation which pulled into Dallas at 11 a. m. from Fort Worth. He is vice president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and president of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce. He is interested in several West Texas banks and other business institutions of that section.

John Boswell, manager of the Southwest development service for the Dallas Chamber of Commerce and secretary of the highways committee, headed the reception committee here. His committee arranged for the Jefferson hotel luncheon, at which 450 guests were seated.

John J. Simmons, chairman of the highways committee for the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the luncheon. Mayor R. E. Burt and Judge F. H. Alexander welcomed the guests in entertaining addresses.

Plan Annual Tour

Members of the visiting delegation were introduced by S. H. Whitehead, publicity manager for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. These included Col. Ed Fletcher, director of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce; Mayor R. E. Thompson of El Paso; Mayor Frank A. Jefferson of Phoenix, Ariz.; Rear Admiral J. S. McKean, commandant of the Eleventh Naval District at San Diego; Dr. L. I. Hughes of San Francisco; Capt. Otto Langer of the motor police of California; and representatives from Mineral Wells, Strawn, Eastland (Ranger, Cisco, Breckenridge, Albany, Clyde, Baird Abilene, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Colorado City, Toyah, Odessa and Midland, cities on the proposed Broadway of America, each of which has an official car in the motorcade.

President Birney explained to the Dallas contingent the aims of the Broadway of America Association and said the present tour is but the first of an annual tour of similar character.

Cities in Rivalry

One of the features of the Dallas luncheon was the undercurrent of friendly rivalry existing between California cities and West Texas cities represented in the motorcade. The Mineral Wells delegation, in this quiet but determined fight for publicity, stole a march on the coast crowd by placing a banner over the speakers' table proclaiming the advantages of Mineral Wells over any other place in the world. This achievement was credited to John Chamberlain and his associates on the Mineral Wells delegation.

An interesting delegation is that from Lordsburg, N. M., the place made famous by Col. Charles Lindbergh because it is the smallest community in which he ever landed his Spirit of St. Louis. Willard F. Holt, the man who welcomed Lindbergh to Lordsburg, is in the delegation.

"The Flying Colonel recognized the true worth of our citizens," Holt says, "when he shook hands with eight of us and only shook Francisco."

Las Cruces, N. M., was represented by a delegation of five, headed by Mayor A. I. Kelso and C. F. Knight, a former president of the Chamber of Commerce of that city. Henry Stowers represented the county while the party also included Jake Arigon and Rhea Graham. Las Cruces claims credit for assisting in organizing the project.

Poultry Opportunities in Texas

A good deal is being said at the present time on "How the Eyes of the Nation Are Turning Texasward," and there is certainly justification for the poultrymen of the country looking over what Texas has to offer them. The fact that Texas ranks sixth among the states in poultry production in spite of a yearly average of only six dozen eggs per hen indicates that conditions are favorable for economical egg production, for an indus-

"I Save Money on Ice — and on food! By using ICE COUPON BOOKS"

LOW COST ice saves high cost food. Just get these comparisons: Meat costs 50 times as much as ice; butter 90 times as much; eggs 20 to 40 times as much; milk 15 times as much; fruits and vegetables many, many times as much per pound, in most instances! Ice is the cheapest commodity that comes into your home. It pays to take enough ice . . . plenty to do the job of maintaining perfect refrigeration. Keep your refrigerator full of ice at all times . . . and watch your food bills go down!

Ice coupon books enable you to resist that costly temptation to "let that little piece of ice in there" do until tomorrow. Because you always have the coupons handy. This is the most convenient, the cheapest, the safest way to buy ice. Ask your Southern Ice Service Man for information on Southern Ice Coupon Books.

Treasury Official Promises Hudspeth Consideration on Midland Federal Bldg.

LETTER FROM CARL T. SCHUNEMAN POINTS OUT NECESSITY OF SECURING FULL SURVEY DATA BEFORE PROMISING AWARDS

Promise of due consideration on the proposed Federal Building for Midland has been secured by Congressman Claude B. Hudspeth from Carl T. Schuneman, assistant secretary of the treasury. Mr. Schuneman points out the necessary delay caused by securing data and making a survey.

Congressman Hudspeth is keeping the matter constantly before the Building Committee. The following letter was received this week by the Chamber of Commerce, enclosing copy of the letter from Mr. Schuneman to Mr. Hudspeth:

office building and showing the growth in postal receipts of Midland. In order to allocate the additional $100,000,000 authorization recently established by Congress under the provisions of the Public Buildings Act and to formulate a second $100,000,000 building program, the Joint Treasury and Post Office Department Public Building Committee is making a further examination of the comparative needs and merits of places throughout the country for public building construction. It will require several months to assemble and to carefully study the necessary survey data and the prospects of a place for a building will depend upon the conditions developed by the survey and the extent to which construction can be undertaken within the established authorization. A definite statement cannot be made at this time, but in examining the needs and merits of places, the Midland case will receive due consideration along with places in Texas, of similar size and where similar conditions exist. The interest shown by you in the matter of having a Federal building provided at Midland is greatly appreciated.

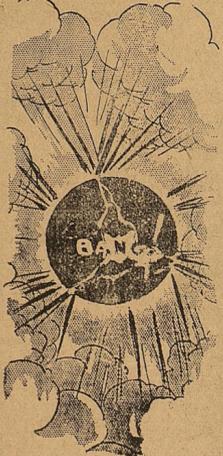

Yours very truly,
 (Signed) CARL T. SCHUNEMAN,
 Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.
