Midland Selected For South Plains Bankers Convention

ULMER MADE MOTION FOR THE CITY

Big Spring Man Was The One to Make Second

Midland will be host to the fall meeting of the South Plains Bankers Association September 2, it was learned here when four Midland bankers, M. C. Ulmer, R. M. Barron, John P. Butler, and Bert Ross, returned from the convention of the organization at Lubbock.

The invitation was extended to the 250 bankers assembled there by Mr. Ulmer, cashier of the First National Bank of Midland, and a motion was made by B. Reagan, Big Spring banker, that the Midland invitation be accepted. The body voted unanimously to hold the fourth meeting here on Labor Day.

In extending the invitation to come to Midland, Mr. Ulmer called attention to hotel facilities, the cordial welcome which Midland extends to such gatherings, and to the many attractions which this south plains city affords. Mr. Reagan also bore out these facts in his speech of nomination.

LUBBOCK, Texas, April 23.—Two hundred and fifty bankers from all over the Plains of Texas gathered here Monday for the third annual convention of the South Plains Bankers Association, listened in almost breathless attention at a luncheon while Josh Lee, director of Public Speaking, of the University of Oklahoma, delivered the principal address of the day on the subject, "The Patriotism of Peace."

O. P. "Pete" Thrane, vice-president of the Snyder National Bank of Snyder was elected president of the association, succeeding C. F. Drexel, vice president of the Citizens National Bank of Lubbock. Midland was selected as the next meeting place. O. B. Norman, vice president of the Lamesa National Bank of Lamesa was elected vice-president of the association, and Morgan L. Copeland, cashier of the Brownfield State Bank of Brownfield was re-elected secretary treasurer of the organization.

With bankers from many points outside of the district, and with by far the largest attendance of any previous convention, the meeting is declared the best, since the bankers formed the South Plains organization three years ago. The Lubbock Clearing House association played host to the bankers, giving the banquet and many other favors to the guests. Bankers were here from points from Galveston to Kansas City, from Dallas to Hereford and

Jackson Makes His Second Hole in One Inside Of 3 Weeks

C. L. Jackson, of the Tidal Oil Company, made his second "hole-in-one" at the Midland Country Club golf course Sunday afternoon, shooting the 170 yard number seven hole with a number three iron.

Twenty days earlier, Jackson drove from the tee and landed his ball in the number five cup, using a masher. This hole is for 150 yards.

Playing with him Sunday afternoon were O. C. Harper, Fred T. Hogan, Tom Massingale and Dan Lillis.

CHAMBER SENDS CLEAN UP LETTER TO ALL MEMBERS

With Clean-up week in full course here, the Chamber of Commerce is sending out today the following letter to every member of that organization in order to abet the drive:

April 19, 1929.

To Every C. of C. Member, Midland, Texas.

DEAR SIR OR MADAM:

If you throw this down before you read it, you will probably contribute to just what you yourself would like to help prevent.

Of course, you will put this letter in a waste basket or trash can, but many others in Midland actually would throw it on the street, thereby making visitors think Midland a dirty city.

We know you want Midland to be a clean city. The big Clean-up campaign starts next Monday, April 22. Let's all help our new city council, help our own city, and help our own yards, streets, alleys and premises to keep clean by co-operating in the way we are asked to.

We are enclosing a little printed leaflet telling you—and I—exactly what we can do to help.

The Clean-up is endorsed by the women of the city, the Lions, Rotarians, Chamber of Commerce, and, since it is being conducted by the city government—everybody in Midland is included.

Cleaning up Midland means two main things—a beautiful city, and more important than that—a healthful city.

Yours respectfully,

CIVIC COMMITTEE,
Chamber of Commerce.

1—We can clean up our yards.
2—We can get a receptacle with a tight top for wet garbage, city ordinance requirement.
3—We can place all refuse and waste in regulation containers in the alley.
4—If we own vacant lots we can clear them of unsightly bushes.
5—We can remove broken down cars, and all "junk" to the junk pile, or at least to the rear of our premises.
6—Notify city officials, phone 67, of and vacant lots not being cleaned up that should be.
7—Burn combustible rubbish in incinerators. Don't place in wet garbage can.

COMMITTEE WILL SOUND ANDREWS ROAD THURSDAY

Armed with post spades, the road committee of the Chamber of Commerce will leave the city Thursday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock for the purpose of making a series of soundings on the Andrews road.

This is to be done in an effort to determine the foundations of the road to a nicety which would allow of definite recommendation as to what kind of topping should be on the road, and how much.

The party will go to Andrews in the car of Kenneth E. Ambrose.

Information was received this morning that a non-resident rancher had refused to allow the road to be put through his property.

The committee will investigate the feasibility of laying the road where it is slow with sand.

W. A. Dean is being carried as an advisor, through the courtesy of the Midland county commissioners.

The road committee is composed of J. O. Noble and E. H. Barron, Paul T. Vickers, Midland Chamber of Commerce secretary, will go with the party.

"CAJUN" TO BE CAST TONIGHT BY COMMITTEE

The casting of "The Cajun," one-act drama of the Louisiana Arcadians, will be done tonight at the home of Mrs. George Abell, director of the Midland Players. All who are interested and interested in dramatics are invited to attend the tryout for parts.

The reading will begin at 8 o'clock.

One Cent Sale Runs for Three Days This Week

For three days this week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, T. A. Fannin & Son will offer some of the most unusual bargains ever seen in Midland, in a "One Cent Sale."

Fannin has bought a great quantity of merchandise especially for the sale, his advertisement is being run elsewhere in this paper today.

The City Drug Store is headquarters for the Rexall drug line, the store being otherwise known as Rexall Store No. 1.

In the advertisement in today's paper only half of the items on sale are shown.

NEWS BRIEFS

TO ATTEND DALLAS DANCE
Management of Hotel Scharbauer has invited members of the Lion, Rotary and Petroleum clubs to be guests at the dance Friday evening given for the Dallas good-will delegation. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Dallas Orchestra, starting at 9 o'clock.

DISTRICT DEMONSTRATION AGENT HERE FOR FEW DAYS
Mrs. Helen H. Swift, district home demonstration agent, has been in Midland the past few days. While here she has been visiting country clubs with Miss Genevieve Derryberry, county demonstration agent.

MIDLAND PLAYERS PLAN FOR ONE-ACT PLAY
Midland Players made plans at a business meeting held last night for a play "Cajun," to be presented May 7 and 9. Committees for the arrangements for the presentation were named and definite plans will be under way immediately. Musical numbers will be offered before the one-act drama and other features will be presented.

West Texas Aggies Club Organized at Session in the Scharbauer Last Night

At a dinner meeting last night in the private dining room of Hotel Scharbauer, seventeen ex-students of Texas A & M College formed the West Texas A & M Club to care for a territory embracing both sides of the T & P railroad and from Big Spring east to Pecos.

"Tanlac" Strange was made president of the body, Marcus Gist, vice president and Aubrey S. Legg, secretary-treasurer.

Decision to hold regular meetings was made, the first being set for May 19, at 3 o'clock at the Gist ranch in Odessa. The third meeting of the body is scheduled for Big Spring at a date to be decided later.

The meeting got under way early with the abetting influence of the famous Dallas spirit of Asa E. Hunt,

Other Cities Show Lesser Figures For Month

Comparative figures of building permits in Midland and other West Texas cities of similar size show that activity here is greater, it was learned today when a report from the city building inspector showed a total for the year of $365,785.

A report sent from Big Spring, as of April 20, showed a total in building permits for the year of $333,735, and a report last week from Sweetwater showed a total there for the year of approximately $300,000.

$92,639 To Date
The total for the month of April in Midland, up to today, was $92,639, and in Big Spring April 20 was $70,005. The Sweetwater figures for the month were not obtained. Midland has shown an average monthly total this year of $91,698.

Hotel Permit Expected
It is expected that the permit for the 100 room addition to Hotel Scharbauer will be issued any day, and as it will be approximately $200,000 the totals for this year will run well over the half million mark.

NO CLASH YET ALONG SONORA BATTLE FRONT

MEXICO CITY, April 23.—(AP)—News is expected hourly today of the initial clashes near Masasiaca, Sonora, between the principal Rebel army entrenched there and the Federals.

Last reports from General Talamantes, commanding 2,000 Federal cavalry several miles from the front of the main army, said he had advanced as far as Luis 12 miles south of Masasiaca, but had found no enemy.

BOND GRANTED LAREDO OFFICERS IN MURDER CASE

LAREDO, April 23.—(UP)—Deputy Constable R. J. West, and city traffic officer Tom Hernandez, indicted by the Webb County grand jury for murder of Harry Williams, Indiana newspaperman, were granted bond of $3,000 each today during habeas corpus proceedings.

LEGISLATURE RECESSED FOR COMMITTEE WORK

AUSTIN, April 23.—(AP)—Both houses of the legislature recessed after brief sessions today to allow committees to work on bills offered.

In the senate, only two measures were introduced by the administration, the penitentiary concentration bill and the proposal to give Texas an adequate parole law.

The senate voted to hold memorial services for the late Joseph Bailey next Monday morning.

The house received 19 bills, 12 of which were written by Representative Harman of Waco affecting education.

FRANK GORE SAYS OUTLOOK GOOD FOR FIELD

Frank D. Gore, geologist, returned Monday from Chicago, Washington, and New York where he has been for several weeks on business.

While in the East Mr. Gore received reports that Midland's chances for obtaining an army airway station appeared bright. He has been working in Midland's interest on that point for several months, and thru his personal friendships formed while he was a captain in Government air service has been able to get unusual recognition for Midland's airport.

Mrs. Gore and son, Norman are now in Los Angeles, but Mr. Gore will be in Midland for several weeks and will continue his untiring work in behalf of the Midland flying field. He expects Government maps made from the drawing by O. C. Harper, which were forwarded to the army offices at Washington by Mr. Gore himself, to be off the press shortly.

GUN BATTLE WAGED WITH ROBBER GANG

CHICAGO, April 23.—(UP)—A woman and four men, members of a post office robbery gang, engaged in a revolver and shotgun battle with two post office inspectors and an assistant who trapped them in a small room at the Hawthorne Arms hotel today.

Evan I. Jackson, assistant chief of Chicago postal inspectors, and one member of the gang were critically wounded.

A woman, injured, was captured after she leaped 30 feet from the window of the hotel room in an attempt to escape.

Three of her companions, one wounded, escaped.

The gang was identified as leaders in the $18,000 money order robbery at a suburban postal station April 4.

SUSPECT WOMAN IN MURDER OF HER HUSBAND

BIRMINGHAM, April 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Margaret Wharton, who attributed her husband's murder several days ago to an attack by a Negro, was under arrest today while officers delved into mysterious circumstances in connection with the slaying.

In custody with the widow was A. R. Hall, roomer in her home.

TO CARRY TWO DISPUTES TO SENATE FLOOR

WASHINGTON, April 23.—(UP)—Strong disputes between Hoover and the new Senate were officially inaugurated today over Farm Relief and Immigration, the first two problems to come up at the special session.

Chairman McNary of the Senate agriculture committee introduced today an 8 to 6 majority report from his committee recommending adoption of the debenture plan of farm relief which Hoover opposed.

Administration leaders are confident they can kill the debenture plan by vote of the Senate, and hope to repudiate the Senate immigration committee, bringing demand for a full vote on the immigration issue on the floor of the senate.

SENATE HAS NOT PASSED ON MATTER

Smith's Appointment Not Confirmed by Senate, Says

Sam K. Wasaaf, county attorney, will be in charge of prosecution for the state during the present term of the district court, he stated to a reporter this afternoon, explaining that the appointment by the governor of W. R. Smith, present district attorney, has not been confirmed by the senate.

Wasaaf said that it would be an irregularity for an appointment to go through for an "acting district attorney" when there is a county attorney.

Has Relative in Senate
It is thought that the reason for Smith's appointment never having been confirmed is because of a relative of his being in the senate, which would automatically prevent the confirmation. Rumors have been heard to the effect that a resignation of the relative is expected.

Smith Not Interviewed
The district attorney could not be found by reporters, therefore, no statement in answer to the county attorney's information.

THREE TANKS ON NEW MAGNOLIA SECTION START

Completion of three 80,000 barrel oil storage tanks on the old section, construction on four others being well under way on the same section, and the starting of erection of three more on the new section is a summary of tank construction at the Magnolia Pipe Line tank farm just east of Midland this week.

The bottom is being laid for the first tank on the new section, while the first two are well along in the course of construction. The new section is just south of the section on which almost 100 tanks of 80,000 barrel and 53,000 barrel capacity have been built by the Magnolia within the past few months.

Wife Tells Court That Husband Hit Her With a Stick

A case involving division of community property and revenue during their relationship of husband and wife was stated in district court this afternoon in the suit of Mrs. Lela Eason vs. W. A. Eason.

Mrs. Eason told of continual trouble between her husband and herself, of having been struck by a stick across the nose and eyes and having stoutly defended herself with a poker, which she wielded with good effect upon the shoulders of her husband.

When asked why she married her husband, she said that she had "loved him."

"Do you still love him?" Attorney J. M. Caldwell asked.

"Yes, I still love him," the woman answered without hesitation.

JUDD NAMED GOVERNOR OF HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

WASHINGTON, April 23.—(AP)—President Hoover today announced the appointment of Lawrence Judd of Hawaii as governor of the Hawaiian Islands, succeeding Governor Wallace Farrington, who said he wishes to retire.

BEWARE OF TIPSTER SHEETS

In a recent issue of Harper's Magazine, Paul Tomlinson warns prospective investors against tipster sheets. These sheets are circulated as an advisory service under a camouflage of unbiased opinion.

The National Better Business Bureau estimates that tipster sheet circulation is nearly 15 million. They do not deal with the type of stocks listed on the big exchanges but promote issues which are not known in high class investment circles.

The cure for this evil is knowledge on the part of the investing public. Get-rich-quick schemes defraud thousands of people of millions of dollars a year.

Legitimate brokers and bankers will give anyone scientific market advice. The large exchanges, by investigating stock issues before listing them, and auditing their member brokerage houses, do everything in their power to protect the investor.

FIRE AS A COMPETITOR

Harry C. Shearer, Secretary of the Fire Prevention Committee, Detroit Board of Commerce, makes a strong argument against fire waste.

Detroit, Michigan, has just been announced as the winner of the grand award of the Fire Waste Contest held each year under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

"Fire is competition to merchants and manufacturers. For instance, every time a dry goods or grocery store burns there is not only a loss to the community but some manufacturers and wholesalers in the large cities suffer because this store has been their customer.

Eventually stock fire insurance and every civic organization will work to prevent fire. A fire will be considered as a community catastrophe. When losses have been reduced, it will be possible for companies to expend their entire efforts in preventing fire under some such plan as elevator liability insurance is now operated.

SOME FIGURES

In 1920, the city of Lincoln, capital of the state of Nebraska, and former home of the Great Commoner, had a population of 61,151, divided as follows: Native whites, 43,818; negroes, 896; foreign born, 7,198. The others evidently were not classified.

The city of Chicago, county seat of Cook county, state of Illinois, had a population of 2,701,705 in 1920, divided as follows: Native white, 68 per cent; negroes, 3 per cent; foreign born, 23 per cent. English reading, 75 per cent. Estimated figures for 1928 show that Chicago out of a total of 3,157,400 and only 730,000 persons counted as Americans. The other 75 per cent took in practically every nationality on earth.

Figures are proverbially dry and uninteresting, but we would like to dally with this set of figures for a moment. In the years 1927 and 1928, the city of Lincoln, capital of Nebraska, had not a single murder within its environs.

In 1927, the city of Chicago had 466 murders, and in 1928 the number climbed to 506.

Of course, Lincoln's foreign born population is large, measured by our West Texas standard; but her approximately ten per cent foreign born are mostly of the Anglo-Saxon strain, or rather the Nordic strain.

Chicago's foreign born population is made up of all races, and colors, from all parts of the earth—mostly, if we except Nordic Germans, of the South-of-Europe variety. Most of Chicago's crime is attributed to her large foreign born population. If you doubt it, read the crime news from Chicago and see how many Nordic names you find. Not many—mostly unpronounceable names.

New York City with its overwhelming foreign population, had only 137 homicides in 1927 and 156 in 1928. But New York holds a very high place in the list of law-enforcement cities. Not only are juries up there hard-boiled, but laws are stiff and enforcement officers are highly trained and organized.

Now the case of Chicago versus Lincoln brings up this question: Is the pure Anglo-Saxon or Nordic type more law-abiding than the mixture? Is it safe to throw large numbers of various radical groups together and expect the melting pot to melt them into a congenial whole?

Yes, undoubtedly—if you have a large standing army and are not awed by statistics.—Abilene News.

Cosden Building Five Big Tanks At Refinery

BIG SPRING, Texas, April 23.—In addition to the two 50,000 barrel tanks and two 10,000 barrel tanks erected by Cosden & Company, Inc., work will begin immediately on the construction of five 80,000 barrel tanks at their refinery, five three miles east of the city. The work will be in charge of the Chicago Bridge Company. Cosden and company is now running 11,000 barrels of crude per day in addition to 5,000 barrels daily being handled through the Richardson Plant.

The work of the Foster-Wheeler Corporation who installed the stills at the Cosden and Richardson plants, is nearing completion, this work being done under the supervision of C. F. Parker.

held on the first Monday after the first Monday in February, A. D. 1929, the same being the 27th day of May A. D. 1929, then and there to answer an amended original petition filed in said Court on the 22nd day of April, A. D. 1928, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 400, wherein J. McAllister Stevenson is plaintiff, and the persons above named and described are defendants, and the nature of plaintiff's demand as alleged in said petition being as follows:

"Suit in trespass to try title to recover title and possession of premises situated in Andrews County, Texas, being all of the South Half of the East Half of Section Number (12) Twelve and the East Half of Section Number (13) Thirteen in Block Number A-36 Public School Land, containing 480 acres of land, plaintiff further alleges that he has had open and adverse possession under the ten year statute of limitations of said premises for more than ten years, prior to July first, 1928, and thereafter said petition further alleges as follows:

That each of the defendants is claiming title to a portion of said premises by reason of a Deed purporting to convey to him one or more lots according to the map or plat of the town of Shafter Lake in Andrews County, Texas. That by reason of such description there is appurtenant to each of said lots a private right of access to the lot so conveyed from the actual settlement on the townsite of Shafter Lake on the North part of the Northwest Quarter of said Section 12, which actual town is not fenced in and is not wholly owned by plaintiff. That none of said lots is entirely surrounded by a tract or tracts owned, claimed or fenced by plaintiff.

That any settlement that may ever have existed on said townsite was in the North part of the Northwest quarter of Section 12 about Block 25 designated as the Court House Square on said plat and is remote from the premises herein sued for. That no use of said premises has ever been made as town property and neither defendants nor their predecessors in title nor any other persons have ever occupied said premises or any part thereof for habitation or as town property of any character. That there has been no necessity or occasion to use the Streets and alleys shown on said map to be on said premises as streets and alleys and same have never been used by defendants or the public or any persons whatever as streets and alleys and plaintiff's possession has not been interrupted by the claim of any persons for the use of such streets and alleys. That if there had ever been any intention of any person of using any part of the premises herein sued for for townsite purposes of any kind, such intention had long since been abandoned by each and all such persons at the time of the beginning of plaintiff's adverse possession herein alleged.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that the defendants be cited to answer this petition, and that plaintiff have judgment for the title and possession of the above described premises, for his damages, for costs of suit and for such other and further relief as he may be entitled to either at law or in equity.

Herein Fall not but have before said Court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Andrews, Texas, on this 22nd day of April, A. D. 1929.

Commissioner Not To Open Drawer Closed 10 Years

HOUSTON, Texas, April 23. (AP)—Contents of a drawer in the fire commissioner's desk here, which has not been opened for at least ten years, will remain a secret during the administration of H. Andy DeJery.

The new fire commissioner says he doesn't know and doesn't care what's in the drawer and therefore won't try to unlock it.

Allie L. Anderson, former fire commissioner, found the drawer locked when he took office ten years ago. He was tossed a bunch of keys but none of the fit. Rather than show his curiosity to his predecessor, whom he defeated, Anderson let the drawer remain untouched. The present commissioner's attitude is the same.

Play Written By The C. I. A. Senior Class

DENTON, Texas, April 23.—(AP)—A play written and produced by members of the senior play-writing class at the College of Industrial Arts, will be on the entertainment features of a women who attend the third annual state course to be given at the college on May 2.

The play, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," is a satire which ridicules the small-town with Broadway aspirations and ordinary talent, and was written by Miss Dorothy Jordan of Big Spring.

Miss Jeanette Pickle, also of Big Spring, is director of the play, and the cast is composed of the following students: Misses Dorothy Jordan, Evelyn Hardegan of Parsons, Kansas; Mable Ruth Strong of Ardmore, Okla.; Elizabeth Putman of Fort Worth, Elmore Reach of Olney and Marie Orr of Dallas.

SOCIETY

Methodist Women Study African Conditions

The third chapter of the mission book, "Friends of Africa" was studied at the Methodist Women's Missionary society yesterday afternoon with Mrs. G. E. Green as leader.

Conditions in Africa were discussed with Mrs. Green giving the introductory part and followed by Mrs. Tidwell telling of the unsanitary conditions in Africa; Mrs. M. J. Allen on the response given by the Africans to mission education and by Mrs. J. M. Prothro telling of the example that the white woman must set for the African women.

Don't Leave Your Diet Behind When You Go Traveling

By SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer
When spring in the air "wanderlust" attacks many of us. The urge to go a-gypsying gets into the blood and we begin to plan to "get away."

If we would take these trips, be they week-end or longer or shorter, and some home feeling at our best, we must watch our diet.

While the method of transportation plays a large part in determining just what we shall eat, the tendency is usually to over-eat. Perhaps hiking is an exception to this, for when we go on our own power, so to speak, we use an extra amount of energy and need plenty of fuel.

On trains meal time breaks into the day and provides something to do, with the result that each meal is welcomed and heartily enjoyed. But there is usually lack of fresh air and always lack of exercise.

Light, easily digested foods should be chosen with plenty of vegetables, salads and fresh or stewed fruits. Rich desserts and heavy roasts should be eaten sparingly. Candy is a temptation to which the wise person will not yield. Drink plenty of water, and eat fruit if anything is wanted between meals.

Motoring naturally makes one hungry. The fresh air stimulates the appetite. However, lack of exercise makes it essential to include bulky foods. Coarse cereals, leafy vegetables and plenty of fruits will be beneficial. Three well balanced meals a day should be carefully selected. Eat regularly. Don't go an hour or so past the lunch hour with the hope of finding "something better."

Meals at irregular hours give many a headache which could have been avoided. When children are among the party, extreme care of their diet should be observed. Ice cream, comes between meals, pop crackerjacks or any other confection should be forbidden. Apples, oranges, or bananas are always available and are not harmful. Continuous driving and change of scene tends to excite and tire children. They must eat plain nourishing easily digested foods as regularly as they would at home.

Mr. Gragg—I know a number of competent and worthy men, heads of families, who are walking the streets because they have been crowded out of employment by married women, who in turn have sought employment because their husbands were not paid adequate salaries.

Mrs. McCallum—Many young people would be unable to marry if the state department has the intelligence of married women employees: the state department backs the belief by dialogue thus: Each debater backs the belief by dialogue thus: The state department has the intelligence of married women employees: the state

Presbyterians Hear Report of Convention Held Here Last Week

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church met yesterday afternoon at the church. The auditorium was made attractive by the use of pink and white carnations, vari-colored sweet peas, red roses and ferns. After the opening hymn, Mrs. Florence Richardson led in prayer.

Mrs. E. G. Bedford and W. G. Whitehouse, with enthusiasm and skill, reviewed the sessions of the Presbyterian for the benefit of the auxiliary members who were unable to attend all the sessions.

Miss Katherine Majors of El Paso, who is director of religious education in El Paso Presbyterian, spoke on her work. She outlined the plan for a Daily Vacation Bible school, which the Midland Presbyterian church hopes to conduct in July with Miss Majors as director.

Miss Majors also told of the conference for colored women, which will be held in Prairie View, Texas, April 27 to May 3. This conference is conducted by the Synodical of Texas and Mrs. J. W. Culver of San Antonio, who is president of the Synodical, is the leader of this conference.

Miss Majors was born and reared in Midland. She is a graduate of the Assembly's Training school for lay workers, which the Presbyterian church U. S. maintains at Richmond, Virginia. Miss Majors spoke at the recent meeting of El Paso Presbyterian and has gone to Pecos to present her work before El Paso Presbytery.

Mrs. John G. Gossett gave a very interesting report of the work the Christian Social Service committee is doing. This committee tries to answer the call of need wherever found in Midland.

The auxiliary voted to change the name of the four small groups from Circle to Unit.

Death Valley His Home for Third Of a Century

"The desert is a strange, alluring waste."

This statement, equally strange to dwellers within comfortable city walls, nevertheless must have its element of truth, for none uttered it while in a semi-poetic mood.

Harper, a well-known character of the great American desert, Death Valley, recently forsook his tireless prospecting for gold and led a movie producing unit over the Sierra Nevada ridge above the 36th latitude. They moved east, to within a hundred miles of the Nevada state border—into the very heart of that sun ravaged basin.

The old prospector has lived in Death Valley—at least he has been prospecting in its vicinity for more than a third of a century. Occasionally he has struck gold, but never a great quantity at a time. Now, in his late sixties, he feels that his life has not been wasted: the fascinating qualities of the desert have given him more delights than all the furbelows and amusements that civilization might have granted to him.

Alos Knew Civilization
And "Alkali Joel" does know what civilization is. Only a year ago he visited New York. Of course he only stayed three days. The city seemed to imprison him. And whenever he visits the great, broad city of Los Angeles to his southwest, he stops for a mere period of hours.

Of late his chief source of income has been obtained by "scouting" for motion picture producers for out of the way desert locales. His judgment has been accepted as final on desert matters by more than one successful director.

But up to the time he worked for Paul Powell, who led a production unit into this desert to make a feature which is titled "Death Valley," his work had been for only a number of sequences out of the multitude which go to make up a "full emth" picture.

Increase In Production Of Fords Is Plan

DETROIT, Mich., April 23.—Announcement of plans for an increase in production during the remaining spring months due to the heavy volume of orders being received from all parts of the country was made today by the Ford Motor Company in a statement discussing the current building program.

The manufacturing schedule has been balanced to provide for an output of the entire line of passenger cars and commercial vehicles, which now includes eighteen different automobile types, the recent additions being the chauffeur driven town car, town sedan, sport cabriolet, taxicab, station wagon and the deluxe delivery wagon.

W. O. RANDALL LEAVES WITH FAMILY FOR DALLAS

W. O. Randall, who has recently been promoted from district manager of the Bell system here to a more responsible position with the company at Dallas, left this afternoon with his family.

On leaving here, Mr. Randall expressed his pleasure at having had an opportunity to live in Midland and to get acquainted with the people here.

He is succeeded here by E. V. Edmunsden of Dallas.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton
© 1929 by NEA Service Inc.

What do I think of whipping? Oh, dear! I do wish people would not ask me that. It's like the man who asked the old astronomer just what he thought would happen if the earth started to roll the other way.

The astronomer answered that it didn't matter much what he thought the earth wasn't likely to pay any attention to him.

And I don't think that mothers are likely to pay much attention to me. For after all, the mother of today has worked this out pretty well for herself, with the result that if we were able to take a census I am certain we should find not only the old-fashioned cat-o-nine tails gone from the directory, but all its sisters and its cousins and its aunts, as well.

Perhaps I am too old-fashioned to have entire faith in moral suasion or perhaps I know too much of human nature, and the pure cussedness of some children, to be absolutely unbiased. When a mother otherwise intelligent, patient, and resourceful finds herself at an impasse and her child still openly defiant, or disobedient, I am perfectly willing to turn my back and let her do her worst.

WHEN IT LOSES EFFECT
However, children get used to whippings. Nothing loses its effect quicker than corporal punishment. That's why a substitute is often "just as good."

I knew a man who had a system. When his two small sons should have been asleep at night they were still giggling and trotting around upstairs and having pillow fights. After weeks of haranguing their father got tired.

He went upstairs one night when they had company—we were the company—and the most outrageous smacking ensued. I began to grow indignant.

Later he explained his method. "I lay one hand down like this," he put his hand palm up on the table, "and then I clap the other one down on it like this." Only he did it quietly so the small fry upstairs couldn't hear. "Each boy thinks the other is getting spanked. They get terribly ashamed—usually it does the business." "Only," he added, "they are catching on. I suppose I'll have to think up something else pretty soon."

REPARATIONS CONFERENCE IS STILL HOPEFUL

PARIS, April 23.—(UP)—The conference of reparations experts in plenary session today failed to find a solution to the reparations problem, but left the way open for possible agreement before it admits failure and adjourns.

The conference decided to start drafting a final report, at the same time arranging for private discussions among the various delegations, in the hope that before the final report is finished, compromises may be attained which will prevent the utter failure of the conference.

Three Governors Sign Invitation To Pres. Hoover

STAMFORD, April 23.—The invitation to President Hoover to attend the eleventh annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in El Paso now has the signatures of three governors since Governor Phillips of Arizona signed today, according to a wire from H. B. Watkins, general manager of the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce to Homer B. Wade, manager of the regional organization.

The signatures of Governor Moody of Texas, and Governor Dillon of New Mexico, had already been placed on the invitation, and the gold seals of their respective states annexed.

The senators of the three states will be asked to formally present the invitation.

TOKYO, April 23.—(AP)—More than 100 persons are believed to have been drowned when the Japanese steamship Toyo Kuni Maru sank a few minutes after striking rocks off Cape Eriou.

The vessel sank so quickly there was only time to send a single S. O. S.

Steamers which reached the scene several hours after the sinking picked up 97 persons. It is known that there were 209 aboard.

Aggies Last Night

Witwer and Don Marquis into his graphic description.

Frank "Toughie" Wendt, A & M's best football player by the name of Wendt, as Strange facetiously put in the introduction, spoke on the necessity of organizing a permanent club at once. Joe Caldwell Junior backed him in his assertions.

Barcus moved that the club for Aggies be organized and, upon the seconding of the motion and the resulting vote, the body voted unanimously in favor of it.

A minor disturbance arose when Aubrey Legg's name was offered for treasurer. It was finally settled, however, that the gentleman could be seated in his new position with one provision; that an auditor be appointed to keep regular check of the books.

Aubrey S. Legg, temporary chairman, was naturally made the butt of most of the jesting. One speaker said that Legg in his meter reading in Midland reminded him of the Charge of the Light Brigade—"oh, what a charge he made!"

One speaker reminded the chairman that the Aggie owe a lot to A & M, especially to the "fiscal department". Strange, in the chair at that time, stated that, in sympathy with the views of a corporal who made the remark first, "It's hard enough on us as officers as it is—without this."

At this juncture, Tanlac got off another of his jokes. He got two s's in Douglas, and upon being reminded of his error, suavely reminded his informant that the second character was "silent".

Those present at the meeting, with their qualifications, employment, address, and former school activities (as written by the Aggies themselves) follows:

- A. S. Legg, Class of '21, called "Pretty", Midland, Texas, employed by Texas Electric Service Co., married, former R. V.
- W. T. Strange, Class of '21, architecture course, called throughout the country "Tanlac" because of his humorous medicinal qualities though an observation is always in order to change it to "Daniel Webster". Big Spring, Peters, Strange and
- Bradshaw, married, R. V. and a T-bone athlete.
- C. F. Boudon, class of '20, civil engineering course, "Red", Big Spring, with Albert Randall, "sure I'm married", R. V.
- Joe M. Caldwell, Class of '21, A. H. course, "Joe", Midland, West Texas Gas company, "Very much married."
- Asa E. Hunt, Class of '22, E. E. course, "Acey", Big Spring and Dallas, with Allis Chambers, not married, an R. V.
- E. O. Buck, Class of '26, geologist course, "Beaumont", Wink, Gulf Production company, not married, and R. V.
- J. B. Roberts, class of '21, C. E. course, "Bobby", Big Spring, Peters, Strange & Bradshaw, married, an R. V.
- Bill Barcus, class of '26, lawyer, "Bill", Big Spring, employed by myself to marry in June.
- Joe Petty, Class of '30, engineering course, "Althems", Tulsa, Oklahoma, Gulf Corporation, not married.
- C. W. Wall, class of '28, structural architecture, "Wall", Midland, Hickey-Harrington, married.
- R. L. Beale, Class of '23, E. E. course, "Jimmie", Big Spring, Texas Electric Service Co. Married.
- Marcus Gist, Class of '22, agricultural course, "Tamaale", Odessa, half married.

Bankers Meet

from practically every town on the Plains of Texas and adjacent territory.

Seventeen counties are in the organization and several others have indicated a desire to join at the meeting Monday. Hale and Lamb counties were added to the association and additional counties will likely be admitted in the near future.

A spirit of optimism over financial conditions was prevalent at the meeting and bankers in exchanging greetings pointed the the splendid moisture for planting and the good prospect for bumper yields of wheat in this section.

C. F. Drexel, president of the association, who was chairman of the meeting, paraphrased Lubbock's motto by saying that success "doesn't happen—it is built," and stated that the South Plains Bankers association has produced wonderful results during its short life and urged bankers to improve efficiency methods. He reviewed some of the bankers' problems, and urged co-operation of bankers in meeting them.

In making the welcome address, C. L. Slaton, president of the First National Bank of Lubbock, stated that of all the many visitors that Lubbock has entertained, this group is the biggest bunch of "hold-up men" that have ever gathered here and explained that bankers hold up the hands of the farmer, the merchant, the churches, teachers and others, and that agriculture, commerce and religion are upheld and maintained by bankers. He called attention to the fact that Lubbock, the "Hub of the Plains", is growing and growing rapidly, due largely to the wealth and prosperity of the South Plains section that radiates out in each direction. He reminded those present that Lubbock is fifth in Texas building, as an evidence of this prosperity and that the Texas Technological college, the wholesale houses, the railroad and highway facilities of this city that are contributing to the rapid growth of Lubbock are always at the service of the other South Plains citizens.

O. B. Norman, vice president of the Lamesa National Bank, stated that the visitors have caught the spirit of welcome that is so evident in Lubbock, Lubbock is looked upon as a big brother by other South Plains towns, Norman stated, in calling attention to the spirit of co-operation that has builded the South Plains section so rapidly. The banks here are as sound and safe as those of any section of the nation, he declared, and the farmer with his diversified program and the industrial and commercial concerns have grown wiser and sounder.

Banks have only "service" to sell, and employees are helping sell this commodity, O. L. Weakley, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Post declared, saying that "the tellers in the cages render the best service we have."

Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, head of the Agricultural Economics Department of the Texas Technological College, in an address on the subject, "The Agricultural Outlook of 1929," declared that the banker must understand farming and must help the farmer. He displayed a number of charts showing the trend of prices of farm commodities, which show cattle, hogs and other commodities to be at a peak at this particular time, and likely for a decline in the next several months.

The Tech teaches boys how to grow and sell agricultural products, and the banker should do the same, he said.

"There is an economic unit for every farmer," Ellsworth said, "this theory of fewer acres for farmers is bunk to me," he stated, in explaining that it is unwise in many cases to put a farmer on a place of too small acreage.

M. C. Ulmer, cashier of the First National Bank of Midland, speaking on the subject of "What Makes a Bank Grow," stated that the potential prosperity of the South Plains is astounding and that the fast development taxes the bankers. With this fast progress, let's not forget the safe and sane principles in guiding business and agriculture.

Uimer warned.

W. O. Stevens, Lubbock banker served as toastmaster at the luncheon at noon, when the banker packed the banquet hall of Hotel Lubbock to hear Josh Lee.

The group listened attentively while Lee urged in eloquent terms the citizens of this nation to live for the United States with just the same type of patriotism that the soldiers of the World War, died for this nation. Lee declared that nations perish during days of peace rather than in war time, and urged citizens to uphold the institution of the church, the school, and the home, which he declared are the foundations of the national government and which are being attacked by numerous influences during this fast age.

Cat Mothering Three Squirrels With Own Family

SABINAL, Texas, April 23.—(AP)—A cat at Con Can, a pleasure resort 24 miles from here, reported mothering three young squirrels along with her kittens.

The cat was said to have moved the squirrels to a more desirable nest in the same fashion she employed in moving her own family, that of carrying them in her mouth.

Mayor Writes to Thank Press for Its Contribution

Appreciation of various inhabitants and officials of the city to the press is often conveyed through the medium of letters. Especially in committees engaged in various movements resort to this method.

A typical letter is that received from Mayor Leon Goodman this week, which read:

"I am quite satisfied that you know how deeply I appreciate the co-operation you have always given to everything that is advanced for the betterment of Midland, but the many articles contained in your edition of April 14th, so emphasize this that I wish to again thank you."

"If the city council receive much help from the citizens, as the do from you, there is no doubt that many vital improvements will be the result."

"Again thanking you most sincerely for the help you are giving us and hoping that we may in some way reciprocate, I am,

Very sincerely yours,
LEON GOODMAN,
Mayor

To Commemorate Overland Route Of Texas Mail

STAMFORD, April 23.—The overland mail route which was being efficiently operated in West Texas before the civil war may be commemorated in connection with the celebration of the eleventh annual conference as a suggestion of R. C. Crane of Sweetwater, president of the West Texas Historical Association is acted upon.

Crane, in bringing the suggestion to the attention of the regional organization heads brought to mind that this route which was called the Butterfield Overland Mail came into Texas at Preston Bend on Red River near Denison, passed by Fort Belknap, Camp Cooper, Fort Phantom Hill, Fort Chadbourne, thence coaches, 1000 horses and 500 mules. In the employ of the company were included 150 stage drivers.

The division points in Texas were Preston, Fort Chadbourne and El Paso. An article on the Butterfield Overland Mail written by Dr. Crane dealing extensively with the history of West Texas has been printed by Prof. E. C. Barkers source book on the history of Texas, just off the press.

ment blazed the trail from near El Paso through this immediate section of Texas, to and across Red River near where Denison now is.

His report brought to the attention of the Government the possibility of eventually building a railroad through this section. He demonstrated for the first time that it was practicable for man to travel over the region in question, and he out and logged the Marcy or Cr-

As a result of this exploration, when in 1856-7 the question came up of the establishment of a mail stage line to the Pacific coast, in Congress, there was a question as to routes—whether to run over the mountains through Colorado or by the southern route.

It was as familiar with all of the routes but that this was the best.

toward proving the desirability of making the Gadsden Purchase so that a railroad could be built on the Southern route to the Pacific which would be free from the mountains, Crane said, and added that if anything of a historical nature is to be celebrated or commemorated at El Paso then certainly the blazing of the Marcy trail through West Texas and the establishment of the Butterfield, Southern Overland Route should be included.

The Butterfield road is crossed by the T. & P. Railroad about six miles west of Abilene, and the ladies of the D. A. B. at Abilene will

SYNOPSIS SHOWS PROTECTION OF CATTLEMEN NOW

Laws for the protection of cattle which were adopted at the last legislature are embodied in the following synopsis. Especially does this deal with protection against infection, infection and communication as regards health of stock.

Sec. 1—Authorizes and directs the livestock sanitary commission to eradicate contagious and infectious diseases listed therein.

Sec. 2—Exempts tick eradication and scabies eradication from the provisions of this act as those matters are covered by other laws.

Sec. 3—Provides the manner of giving notice of the establishment of quarantines.

Sec. 4—The penal clause for violating quarantines.

Sec. 5—Authorizes the establishment of quarantines on carriers of diseases, and provides a penalty for violation thereof.

Sec. 6—Authorizes the entry by veterinarians of the livestock sanitary commission upon property in the eradication of diseases, and authorizes the issuance of search warrants when necessary.

Sec. 7—Defines who are caretakers of livestock.

Sec. 8—Makes it the duty of county commissioners to co-operate with the sanitary commission in the eradication of diseases.

Sec. 9—Requires livestock entering the state of Texas to be accompanied by a health certificate unless they are intended for stocker or slaughter purposes.

Sec. 10—Provides for the livestock sanitary commission to regulate the manner of shipping the immediate slaughter livestock.

Sec. 11—Requires all cattle except stock or range cattle to be accompanied by tuberculin test chart showing them to be free of tuberculosis when entering the state of Texas, subject to certain exceptions contained in said section.

Sec. 12—Requires hogs entering the state of Texas to have been vaccinated against cholera.

Sec. 13—Under this section cattle are subject to be retested for tuberculosis within 90 days after entering the state of Texas except range or stocker cattle.

Sec. 14—Requires the branding of tubercular cattle and provides a penalty for disposing of or moving said tubercular livestock from the premises upon which they are located, except under the direction of the livestock sanitary commission.

Sec. 15—Requires veterinarians who engage in private practice to make reports to the livestock sanitary commission with reference to tuberculin tests they have made, and requiring them to place an ear tag on tubercular cattle.

Sec. 16—Authorizes the livestock sanitary commission to regulate the entry of livestock into shows and fairs.

Sec. 17—Defines the word "accompanied" when used in reference to livestock being accompanied by certificates.

Sec. 18—Forbids owners or caretakers to permit other persons to move any quarantined livestock in violation thereof.

Sec. 19—Authorizes county attorneys to file civil suits against corporations who violate provisions of this bill.

Sec. 20—Authorizes the appraisal and compensation to owners of livestock affected with glanders.

Sec. 21—Requires permits from the livestock sanitary commission for the purchase or use of his cholera virus.

Sec. 22—Requires owners to bury animals which die of contagious diseases on their property.

Sec. 23—Authorizes the livestock sanitary commission and county commissioners courts to co-operate with the United States bureau of animal industry in eradicating tuberculosis among cattle.

Sec. 24—Authorizes the employment by said livestock sanitary commission of veterinarians.

Sec. 25—Provides the manner of issuance of written instruments by said commission, and makes them admissible as evidence in court.

Sec. 26—Provides for civil suits against non-resident defendants who violate provisions of this bill.

Sec. 27—Authorizes the livestock sanitary commission to establish quarantines upon livestock which have been moved into the state of Texas in violation of any livestock sanitary law or from quarantined premises in the state of Texas wherever said livestock may be found.

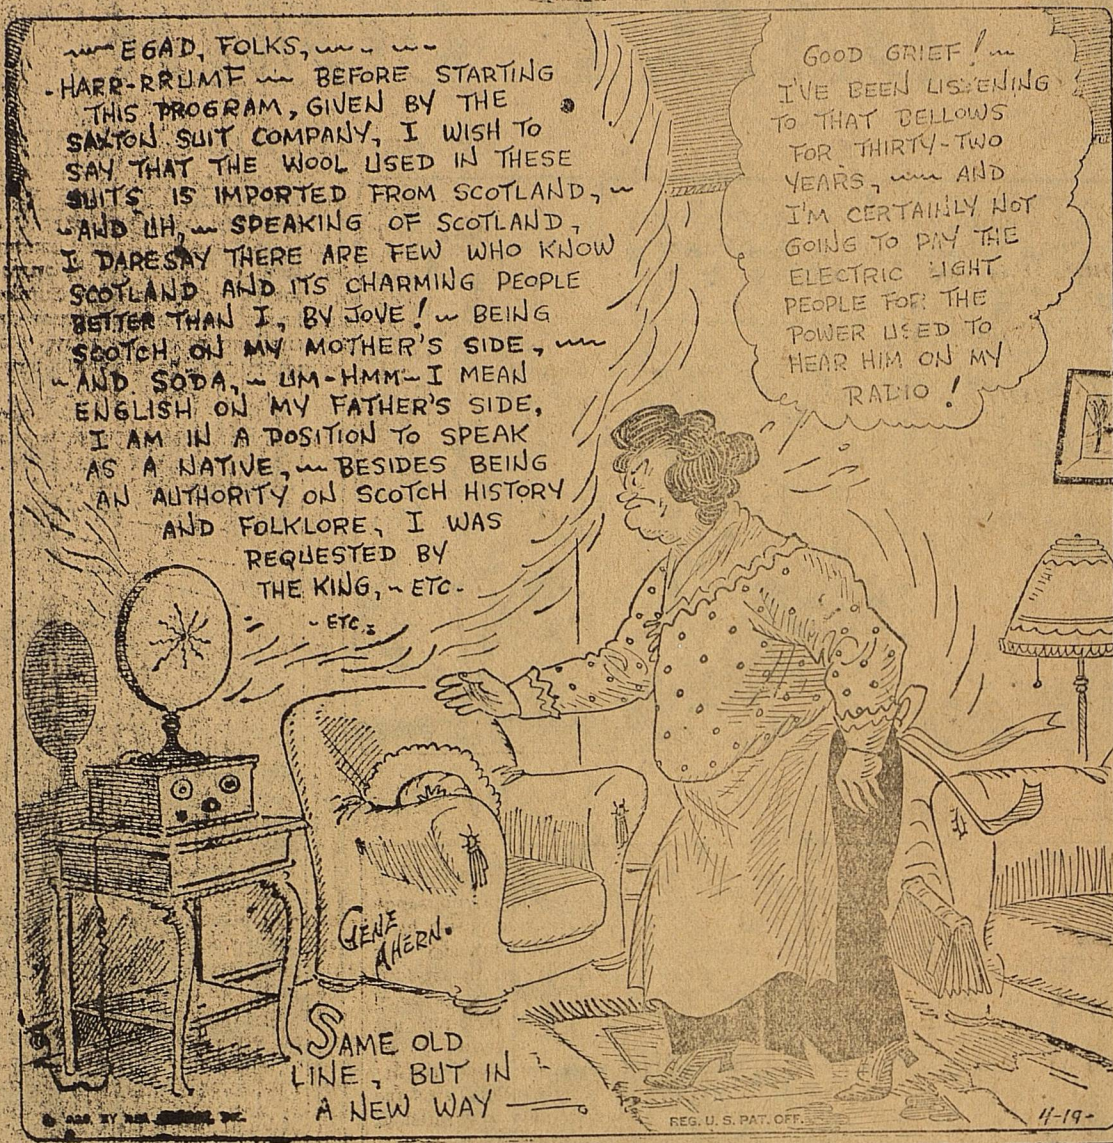

Sec. 28—Authorizes injunction suits to enforce any provisions of this bill.

Sec. 29—Prohibits the movement into each separate county in the state of Texas of any livestock which have been unlawfully moved in violation of any quarantine.

Sec. 30—Repeals other laws mentioned in said section which are in conflict with this bill.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By Raymond Clapper

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Speculation as to whether Calvin Coolidge would like to return to Washington as a United States senator has been sharpened by the failure of the former president to enter private employment or to indicate he has any intention of re-entering the political arena.

Senator Gillett, a Democrat if he ran for re-election next year, are talking up Coolidge as one who would be almost certain to carry the state. Senator Gillett has indicated he would step aside if the former president wishes to run but he doubts if this is the case.

Having been in politics practically all of his adult life, Coolidge doubtless would enjoy being a senator. From a personal point of view he would find it a congenial, restful existence which would mean residence in Washington where he and Mrs. Coolidge have many friends.

However he might have to face a deflation of his prestige. A United States senator is a pretty important person but a president of the United States is so much more important that to move from the White House to the senate would constitute an anti-climax, particularly for one who has the forensic limitations of Mr. Coolidge. He would not be likely to make an impressive figure in the senate which is a talking body. During the time he presided over the senate as vice president, Mr. Coolidge failed to impress himself on that body as his successor, Dewey, did. He left the White House at the top of his popularity and prestige and he could add nothing to it by serving in the senate. For this reason many here doubt if he would consider accepting a senatorial nomination.

In the Gann matter this administration had its first trouble from a totally unexpected quarter considering that many people voted for the Hoover-Curtis ticket thinking perhaps it was somewhat more polished socially than the Smith-Robinson ticket. There has been nothing as upsetting to Washington society since the former bar-maid, Peggy Eaton, was snubbed by the elegant ladies of Jackson's cabinet.

Those whose motto in the last campaign was "Imagine the Smiths in Washington," will no doubt soon begin grooming possibilities for 1932. Prospective candidates might do well to begin tutoring under Emily Post.

And speaking of Washington society, Mr. Harry Ford Shufeldt, who was active socially here during the Harding administration, is soon to return to the capital for a 90-day summer visit. It was just seven years ago that Sinclair came to Washington in his private car and signed the Teapot Dome oil lease with Albert B. Fall, then secretary of the interior. Sinclair probably has spent millions in his defense. He contributed heavily to the Republican national committee campaign deficit soon after closing the Teapot Dome lease. He entertained Albert B. Fall, advanced him fees, "bought" a third interest in the Fall ranch for some $230,000 which was paid for secretly in Liberty bonds obtained through the Continental Trading company deal, and has been supporting lawyers for several years fighting through one case after another.

He has been acquitted on the charge of conspiring with Fall to defraud the government in the Teapot Dome deal. What he is to go to jail for is contempt of the sen-

Cotton Supply April 1 Lower Than Last Year

AUSTIN, Texas, April 23.—Indicated supply of cotton in the United States on April 1 totaled 5,847,000 bales, compared to 6,557,000 bales on April 1, 1928, and a seven-year average on that date of 5,916,000 bales, according to Berward Nichols, assistant in charge of index numbers in the bureau of business research at the University of Texas.

"Supplies and disappearance are unusually large in relation to the amount of cotton on hand," Mr. Nichols said. "During the month of March, 556,000 bales were exported and 633,000 were consumed, so that the total supply was reduced by 1,189,000 bales. It appears, therefore, that carryover on August 1 will be materially reduced. In the four remaining months of the cotton year of 1928, 2,053,000 bales were used and 1,831,000 bales were exported, or a total disappearance of 3,884,000 bales. If the same amount is exported and consumed this year, the carryover next August will be reduced to 1,950,000 bales. Furthermore, this estimate is conservative, since both exports and consumption are running ahead of those of last year and declines are apt to be slow."

"On April 1, the indicated supply in the United States was 710,000 bales below that of April 1, 1928. In the past seven years, changes in the supply have amounted to 12,177,000 bales and price changes have totaled 4.401 deflated points, or a change of 26 points for each change of 100,000 bales in the supply. A decline of 710,000 bales in the supply should be accompanied by an increase of 250 deflated points in last year's price at the same ratio. Based on supplies in the United States alone, New Orleans spots should be about 21.75 cents, or more than two cents above quotations on April 19. Last month, actual prices were practically in line with the calculated price, but the market has not advanced as it should have done because of favorable weather and the possibility of increased acreage. When European stocks are considered, the calculated price is slightly lower. Stocks in and cotton afloat to Europe on April 1 totaled 1,979,000 bales, compared to 1,947,000 bales on April 1 a year ago. Applying the ratio of 36 points to the difference of 32,000 bales, there should be a decrease of 12 points in the price. Based on world supplies, New Orleans spots should be about 21.60 cents. However, present yarn prices are too low in comparison to cotton quotations. The spinners' ratio averaged 148 during March, whereas 160 is normal. On a replacement basis, therefore, New Orleans spots should be about 20 cents in relation to yarn prices. Even after allowance is made for the unfavorably yarn and cloth situation, cotton prices are still too low. It should be remembered in this connection that the next crop is becoming the most important market influence and the trade is possibly over-discounting a large yield.

"The market report of the cotton textile merchants of New York City was exceptionally favorable. Sales for the month totaled 358,000,000 yards of cloth, or 120.2 per cent of output, and shipments were 9.3 per cent above production. Stocks on hand on April 1 were 345,000,000 yards, or a reduction of 7.4 per cent from the month previous. Unfilled orders gained 6.9 per cent, or from 472,000,000 yards on March 1 to 505,000,000 yards on April 1. At the present rate of output, bookings are equal to about seven weeks' run."

Chamber Is Organized At Hobbs, N. M.

STAMFORD, April 23.—The business men of Hobbs, N. M., organized a Chamber of Commerce two weeks ago, and have written to Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for a constitution and by-laws. The communication came from Alex Reeves, a citizen who is in business in Hobbs, who is one of the 40 men who became charter members of the organization.

With the requested constitution and by-laws, the members of the young organization were extended a cordial invitation to attend and send a large delegation to the South Plains district convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held Thursday at Tahoka. The eastern section of New Mexico is in that district, and is served by the regional organization.

Oil Fields of Panhandle Are In Wheat Fields

AMARILLO, April 23.—(AP)—Writers who picture the Panhandle oil fields this year as a vast stretch of rugged, arid country devoid of vegetation will not know their local color. A recent airplane trip over the oil field regions of Gray, Carson, and Hutchinson counties by an Amarillo newspaper photographer revealed that more than 60 per cent of the oil wells are in wheat fields.

FOOD CONCERNS MERGE

Two concerns, whose names have been household bywords for more than half a century, have joined forces. Chase & Sanborn, one of the country's largest and oldest coffee and tea distributors, has become affiliated with the Royal Baking Powder Company. According to an official announcement, Chase & Sanborn will be incorporated as a new company in which the Royal Baking Powder company will have a substantial interest.

Helen Morgan Dry Agent's Target

"She told us brandy was her drink. She was intoxicated. She threw fistfuls of dollar bills at the colored entertainers." So, Helen Morgan, above, Broadway show star, was described in court by a federal prohibition agent who visited the New York night club at which she was hostess. She was charged with violation of the dry laws as a part of the concerted drive against Gotham night life launched by Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Assistant U S Attorney General.

Reports from C. C. Pyle's cross-country marathon are encouraging. It was expected 100 runners would start for New York; only 61 did. Two dropped out on the first lap and 77 arrived at Elizabeth, J. N.

Noted World's Surgeon Tells of The Value of Preventative Rays

By HENRY T. RUSSELL
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1929, In All Countries by U. P. All Rights Reserved.)

LONDON, April 23.—(UP)—Preventative medicine will be the supreme human science of this century, one of the world's greatest surgeons, Sir William Arbuthnot Lane, predicted to the United Press correspondent during an exclusive interview at his Mayfair residence.

The conversation ran mainly on two subjects: (1) The value of natural sunlight and, in many cases, of ultra-violet rays in connection with the prevention and cure of disease. (2) The importance of dieting in relation to life longevity.

The great surgeon was particularly emphatic in his reply to recent criticism of the rays:

"Positively amazing!" he exclaimed and added:

"To say that the ultra-violet rays are no use is incomprehensible. To say that the rays which benefited the health of King George to such an extent can just as well be replaced by mustard plaster is ridiculous in the extreme. It is a mistake to be funny about scientific things."

"And, incidentally, where is it placed that this mustard plaster be placed in order to benefit our ills?"

"Man needs a certain amount of sunlight. And where he cannot afford the expense of traveling to places where the sun shines, then in many cases the so-called 'artificial sunlight,' or ultra-violet rays, offer an excellent substitute."

Then he added: "But people hate new things."

Emphasizing the importance of preventative medicine, Sir Arbuthnot read aloud an extract from an article of his in "The Golden Health Library," a health encyclopaedia in magazine form which the surgeon has just founded:

"The underlying conception of this work," he said, "is that good health can be attained and preserved by ascertained principles of living. It is not a close secret of the medical profession, nor is it to be found in specifics and prescriptions. Modern civilization is obsessed by the disease complex, and medicine which is dominated at least as much as other professions by the state of public opinion, is still unable to think away from that false and injurious attitude toward its function."

"The physician as 'healer' still carries the strongest popular appeal. Yet it cannot be denied that it is the physician as 'preventer of ills' who will be the doctor of the future."

Asked how long he believed men should be able to live if he took proper care of himself, Sir Arbuthnot replied:

"The duration of a man's life is comparable to the length of life of an automobile. It depends largely upon the use which is made of it and the care that is bestowed upon it."

ALPINE TO BE HOST
ALPINE, Texas, April 23.—(AP)—Plans are nearing completion for Alpine's first state convention—the thirty-sixth annual meeting of the Texas Woman's Press association.

A number of prominent Texas writers are scheduled to address the gathering, which will be held May 9-11.

A western chuck wagon barbecue at Rancho Valle la Cienega will be an entertainment feature.
