MAN CONFESSES CRUEL MURDER

GRAF ZEPPELIN REPORTS THAT ALL IS WELL

(By The Associated Press)

SAYS RUM WILL CONTINUE FLOW ACROSS BORDER

DETROIT, Aug. 16.—(UP)—"Rum running into the United States could be stopped, but I doubt if it ever will be," declares Carey D. Ferguson, who resigned recently as collector of customs at the Port of Detroit, a position which he filled for six years.

As customs collector, it was Ferguson's duty to see to it that contraband, the major portion of it whisky, wine and beer, did not cross from Canada. And he admits that he didn't do it.

"Just as long as the people of the United States demand liquor they will get it," he said. "The game will be over if they ever cease to demand it, but not until then."
"I'll admit that, even considering the possibility that people do not stop drinking, rum smuggling could be stopped; but only at enormous cost. To patrol the Detroit area properly would mean a gigantic flotilla of rum chasers, thousands of men on watch at all hours of the day and night and thousands of automobiles for shore patrols.

Four rooms have been added to the first floor. This was made possible by the re-arranging of some of the rooms and new partitions being built. All the new rooms are large, comfortable rooms and have been papered and are as nice as rooms in many much larger hotels.

Aviatrix Likes It Here; Lands Twice

These pretty maids of the air like Midland so much that they are as likely to fly off the landing field on the way to the coast—and then decide to come back.

This very thing happened this morning.

May Hazlet, daintily settling the trucks of her American Eagle to Sloan Field, taxied up to the hangar, rakishly shifted her helmet and goggles to one side of her shapely head and asked the field-manager to refuel "the old bus."

Taking a strip map of the Midland to El Paso area, the flier who will be through Midland with the Women's Derby, gave the J-6 whirlwind the gun and took off into the wind.

A few minutes later, Becherer, the field-manager, saw the ship circle into the wind and land again.

"I lost your strip map when a few miles away," the girl smiled. "I just couldn't go to the coast without it. It is perfectly drawn."

The flier showed how her chance to win the derby in Class CW planes. She has a J-6 motor which is higher powered than the J-5 used by most of the entrants.

E. Fahrenkamp, R. V. Middle-

WAR PRISONER CODE PROVIDES HUMANE RULES

GENEVA, Aug. 16.—(UP)—War prisoners in the future will be guaranteed a degree of humanitarian treatment never dreamed of in the past.

This is the declaration made to the United Press by Major Allen W. Gullion, one of the American delegates to the recent conference at Geneva for the revision of the international convention on the treatment of prisoners of war.

"Before the conference," declared Major Gullion, "the American delegation insisted that the new convention should have as a basic principle that the war prisoners should be guaranteed the highest degree of humanitarian treatment compatible with the military interests of the powers engaged in war."

"Virtually without exception the American delegation was supported by all the other delegations on all points based on this principle except in rare cases where the existing laws of a given country made acceptance impossible and as a result the new code for the treatment of war prisoners is virtually all that could be demanded from a humanitarian point of view."

Boys, You Wanta Be Sure They're Pajamas

In case the Midland youth gets too sympathetic in his reading and decides to adopt the pajama-wearing fad of the experimenters, he should read the tragic tale of poor Julio Santano, El Paso youth who decided that he would appear at his best with his night garments outshined against the color of his city's show windows. Accordingly, he looked around in search of the pajamas.

Not finding them, the boy decided that the weather warranted him in adherence to the law of the individuals or the naturalists—and he went out for a stroll in a skimpy pair of summer underwear.

Women fled with loud shrieks into stores along the street selected for the casual stroll. Police arriving on the scene, young Santano was taken to jail.

The officers decided the youth presented an appearance somewhat out of their conceptions of what it takes to make Main street grow up.

Mystery Planes To Flash In Big Race

(By the United Press)
LONDON, Aug. 16.—Three real mystery airplanes are to be flashed before the world in the Schneider cup races by Italy, according to the Rome correspondents of the London Daily Mail today.

Italy is sending 12 planes, he reports, three each from the Macchi, Savoia, Fiat and Piaggio firms; in an attempt to wrest possession of the Schneider cup from Great Britain. The three Piaggio machines are real mystery craft, he says, inasmuch as it is not known how they will behave in flight as they have never yet been flown.

Aviation experts express the opinion that they are Italy's chief hope and most likely to surprise the world.

Details of the Italian planes, made known by the Daily Mail correspondent, indicate that the Macchi planes will be fitted with Isotta-Fraschini motors, normally developing 1,000 horsepower and increasing to 1,200 when racing. The Savoia seaplanes each have two such engines. The Fiat planes are each equipped with one Fiat motor normally producing 1,000 horsepower and increasing to more than 1,200 when racing. The Piaggio machines each have two Fiat engines, totalling 2,500 horsepower. The engines of Savoia planes are placed side by side, with the pilot between them. Each engine works a separate propeller.

The motors of the Piaggio planes revolve in opposite directions. They are placed back to back with the pilot between them. One works a tractor in front and the other a "pusher" behind.

LAW DOUBTS STORY TOLD THEM TODAY

Man Declared Insane After Officers' Grilling

BULLETIN
DULUTH, Mich., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Three hours after Oscar Olson had confessed to the slaying of Dorothy Aune in Minneapolis, Detective Chief Donaldson announced the man had no connection with the murder.

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Oscar Olson, 29, confessed today to police that he assaulted and murdered 12-year-old Dorothy Aune in Minneapolis Tuesday, after being questioned thoroughly by police.

Detective Chief Donaldson, however, expressed doubt concerning the man's story.

Olson was arrested as he was attempting to drown himself in a small pool. It was then that he gave the details of the murder.

Donaldson, after questioning the man, said he showed signs of insanity, and that he confessed to another murder, at Duluth, of which the police have no record.

Dorothy was found murdered in a street gutter under conditions almost identical with the brutal murder several years ago of Marion Parker at Los Angeles by Edward William Hickman, who received a verdict of guilty and was sentenced to die on the gallows.

Her body was badly mutilated and had been thrust into gunny sacks and thrown into a gutter, where it was discovered early Wednesday morning.

The little Aune girl had been sent on an errand by her mother and it is thought that she was forced into an automobile. A complete search was begun after her mother notified police that she had not returned from the store.

Other suspects are being held for questioning.

Albert Mollenhauer, proprietor of a shoe store near the Aune home, is being held after strands of hair and a burned suit of underwear were found in the basement of his place of business.

An automobile was found in Mollenhauer's garage at his home, one tire of which bore the same sort of tread as the marks found on the roadway near the spot where the little girl's body was found.

Rewards offered by the three newspapers of Minneapolis and individuals for the arrest and conviction of the stranger of Dorothy Aune amount to almost $5,000.00.

Breck Jail Harder To Break Out

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex., Aug. 16.—(UP)—Inmates of the local bastille will find that their quarters from now on will not have the conveniences they have had in the past. THAT COLORADO SHERIFF
We're ready to lead the cheering for Sheriff L. E. Alderman of Prowers County, Colorado.

Sheriff Alderman, as you probably have read, is that six-foot, rough-hewed, two-gun guardian of the law in that remote Colorado county whose keenness in tracking down a gang of bank robbers puts fiction-story detectives to shame.

The most amazing part about the whole case is how this ex-farmer, untrained in the ways of big cities and in the ways of criminals, succeeded where other officers, with more opportunity to know the devious ways of the underworld, had failed.

Lieutenant Alford Williams, the U. S. navy's crack speed flyer, has a new seaplane of unique design in which he is going to try to break the world speed record of 318 miles per hour at the international speed races in England in September.

It is reported that he will try to reach a speed of 400 miles per hour in his tiny plane, nearly all of which is motor and which looks a lot like an overgrown mosquito.

The little ship is said to be the fastest airplane ever built. It is of 1100 horsepower and weighs only four pounds to the horsepower, a ratio never before achieved.

We fail to see where very much is going to be accomplished for aviation by a stunt like this, but we can't help but admire Lieutenant Williams for his courage and the tremendous risk he will assume in making the attempt.

Gilmore Outlines Truck Regulations
MINERAL WELLS, Tex., Aug. 15.—(UPI)—Chairman Clarence Gilmore of the State Railroad Commission today outlined the provisions of the new motor truck law to members of the Texas Warehousemen and Transformer's Association, in session here.

A suggestion that they warn all drivers to properly share the highway with other drivers was made. He advised them to give the public its share of the road.

Gilmore said that under the motor truck law, which was made effective two months ago, there have been received 444 applications for Class A permits for operation of 1100 trucks, and 877 applications for Class B permits for 2100 trucks.

Gilmore then explained details of the law, specifically exempting those operating trucks within the corporate limits of a city or town. It does not apply to farmers transporting their own property to market, regardless of how many incorporated cities, towns or villages they may pass through.

"The certificate of convenience and necessity may be sold, transferred, etc., having definite property rights, but such sale or transfer must be approved by the Commission. Class B operators are granted a permit, such permit having no property rights and cannot be sold, transferred, etc."

"We invite the co-operation not only of this Association, but of all who operate motor vehicles for the transportation of property in Texas to the end that the law may be given a practical application and serve the good purpose for which it was enacted."

"It is needless to remind you that the Railroad Commission did not enact this law. This was done by the Legislature, independent of the Railroad Commission, and they placed the very serious responsibility on our shoulders to administer and enforce its provisions."

The Commission will in due time, after hearings, adopt such definite rules and regulations with respect to motor truck operation as the necessities seem to require, and we will deal specifically with the matter of rates, both of truck and bus operators, just as soon as it is humanly possible to organize and get to this feature of the regulation. Rate-making is a highly technical matter and cannot be dealt with justly to the public and to the operators with a mere gesture."

GAINED 25 POUNDS BY TAKING SARGON
"Before I started taking Sargon I was down in weight to 140 pounds and was badly run down after years of suffering. Since taking Sargon I have gained 25 pounds and am back to my normal weight, which is 165 pounds. Up to a few years ago I had always been in fine health, then I commenced to be troubled with constipation. It just looked like I couldn't digest anything. I put myself on such a light diet I became badly undernourished and lost weight rapidly. I lost my strength and energy and it was all I could do to stay on my job. Almost as soon as I began taking Sargon I started eating again and took on weight rapidly. I feel you're fine to sit down at the table and eat a man's meal again. I am as full of strength and energy as I ever was and can do more work in one day now than I could in two before. The Sargon Pills toned up my liver and I no longer suffer from biliousness and constipation. After gaining 25 pounds I am feeling like my old self again and I think that is enough to convince everybody the Sargon treatment is wonderful."—Joe N. ## W. C. T. U. Members Hold Monthly Session Wednesday

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Midland held its regular monthly meeting at the Christian Church Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Thomas D. Murphy, who read the scripture lesson taken from Psalm 46.

The president spoke on how appropriate the last verse of the Psalm is as a promise for all W. C. T. U. members to claim. "The Lord of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge."

Plans were made for directing declamation contests and essay contests among the public school children. The purpose of these contests is to instill in the children the highest ideals of citizenship and to train them to preserve the sanctity of the home and the Constitution.

The Youth's Roll Call pledge was explained and a W. C. T. U. member from each of the four churches appointed to present it to the young people of every church here. Mrs. C. W. Plumby, vice-president, will present the work at the Christian church; Mrs. M. R. Hill, treasurer, at the Baptist church; Mrs. Stanley Haver at the Methodist church and Mrs. Florence Richardson at the Presbyterian church.

The study program on Wednesday was based on the subject "Progress of Prohibition, World, National and Local." This discussion brought out that four of the best known men in America are prohibitionists. Among these are President Herbert Hoover, Henry Ford, Thomas Edison and Charles Lindbergh.

The following members were present: Mesdames A. J. Norwood, Florence Richardson, H. J. Osborn, Stanley Haver, C. W. Plumby, J. E. Evans, M. R. Hill, H. A. Erickson and Thomas D. Murphy.

Neighbors recalled they had faintly heard the quavering refrain of "Sweet Adeline" during the night. Not until two days later did Dr. Rine check his legal supply of government medicinal liquors to find that the burglars had consumed 11 pints of California brandy and one pint of antique whiskey.

A disordered house indicated that the burglars had lolled in luxury and ease after their basement discovery. A repast had been prepared from food in the ice box and a soft drink bottle, the contents of which had been used in mixed drinks, was found in the kitchen knife drawer.

Contented as kittens after the reveal, the prowlers had removed the cushions from the porch swing and then slept on the davenport and in the stuffed chairs.

Besides the liquor, the burglars obtained jewelry valued at $250.

Select Program To Be Rendered

Nature's gift of talent in music is frequently found accompanied by a yearning for other arts. The most unusual collection of earrings in the country is the avocation art of Vaughn De Leath, noted contralto who will sing selections, including Silver's "Am I a Passing Fancy," "Du Bist Die Ruh," by Schubert, and "My Dear," by Kahn-Sanders, on the "Voice of Firestone" Dusk Hour Program, Monday evening, broadcasting over a nation-wide hook-up of 47 stations associated with N. B. C.

Vaughn De Leath's penchant for collecting earrings is one which the women, at least, will agree combines the romance of bygone generations, the artistry of design, the search for rare stones and the melting of precious metals. Some of the refinings are the product of the Middle Ages, when wizards and necromancers came forth with the claim that they had found a way to make gold from grosser materials. When the noted Firestone contralto turns for diversion to her earrings, she finds in each a romance.

Franklyn Baur, tenor of "The Voice of Firestone," will sing in response to the many requests "Sweet Genevieve," "Roses of Picardy," and "La Reve from Manon," by Massenet. Both soloists will be accompanied by the famous Firestone Symphony Orchestra, which will also render several request numbers on this program.

The program follows:
Opening theme: Memory Lane—Franklyn Baur & Orchestra.

1. Waltzing Doll, Poldini—Orchestra.
  2. Sweet Genevieve, Tucker—Franklyn Baur.
  3. Les Sylphs, Bachmann—Orchestra.
  4. Am I a Passing Fancy (Key of E Flat, Silver)—Vaughn De Leath.
  5. Roses of Picardy, Wood—Franklyn Baur.
  6. Du Bist Die Ruh, Schubert—Vaughn De Leath.
  7. Aragonaise From Le Cid, Massenet—Orchestra.
  8. La Reve From Manon, Massenet—Franklyn Baur.
  9. My Dear, Kahn-Sanders—Vaughn De Leath with Guitar.
  10. Pierrette, Chaminade—Orchestra.

Trial Spin Nets Plenty of Woe

MODESTO, Cal., Aug. 16.—(UP)—The parents of Max Denny, 16, planned to buy a car, so the youth took the machine out for a trial spin, accomplishing the following results:

Cut off the towns of Escalon and Riverbank from electric power for one hour.

Cut off the towns of Oakdale and Knights Ferry for 30 minutes.

Blew all the fuses of a Pacific Gas & Electric Corp. private telephone service, serving Escalon, Riverbank, Oakdale and Knights Ferry.

Impelled auto traffic on McHenry avenue by knocking a 17,000 volt power line from a pole.

Shattered a high-tension power line pole.

Wrecked the automobile.

Caused himself to receive several minor cuts and bruises.

The youth lost control of the car and struck the power pole, which carried both power and telephone wires.

Historic Significance of the Return

Now in the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, that the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled, the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and put it also in writing, saying,

Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, the Lord God of heaven hath given me all the kingdoms of the earth; and he hath charged me to build him a house at Jerusalem, which is Judah.

Who is there among you of all his people? his God be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and build the house of the Lord God of Israel (he is the God), which is in Jerusalem.

And whosoever remaineth in any place where he sojourneth, let the men of his place help him with silver, and with gold, and with goods, and with beasts, besides the freewill offering for the house of God that is in Jerusalem.

Then rose up the chief of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin, and the priests, and the Levites, with all of them whose spirit God had raised, to go up to build the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem.

And all they that were about them strengthened their hands with vessels of silver, with gold, with goods, and with beasts, and with precious things, besides all that was willingly offered.

The return from the captivity came in fulfillment of what Jeremiah and Ezekiel had foretold. The announcement of Cyrus' purpose came, therefore, to a people fully prepared for it spiritually, and the return to their own land was something more than an opportunity for the re-establishment of their homes.

The event became marked with passionate spiritual enthusiasm. If a new national hope did not surge in the hearts of the exiles there arose at least a new consciousness of their call and their mission—a new sense of unity in their destiny as a people of God.

Our lesson is divided into two parts; the first section from the Book of Ezra presents the facts and circumstances; the second section from the 126th Psalm, which is called the Song of Ascent, glorifies the event in poetry. One has an excellent opportunity here to see the difference between mere historic record on the one hand, and song and poetry on the other.

We should miss the true significance of these events if we had not this psalm of joy. It is a very beautiful song of pilgrimage—a song of the going up of those who went to Jerusalem or to the temple. It is also one that may be very properly adopted by all those who would ascend in their lives toward New Testament Zion and toward some higher experience in the fellowship of the Christian life and in progress toward God.

No analysis or exposition can make this Psalmist's interpretation of the great event more vivid than it is. There is in it a note of ecstasy in which the whole is being exulted. Those who have been in exile and heaviness are suddenly conquered by an emotionalism that fills their mouths with laughter and their tongues with singing. Surrounding nations are called upon to witness all that has happened to them. The end of their captivity is comparable to streams pouring into a desolate and desert region. Though they have sown in tears, they are reaping in joy. It is a triumphant picture which in a few brief lines suggests the glory of re-establishing Zion.

Is it any wonder that the Hebrew Scriptures have had such profound effect upon the world when one realizes out of what inspiration and enthusiasm they have come? Would not any people be capable of greatness in character and in influence where the homeland represented something holy and where religion and citizenship were united in passion for the commonwealth?

A Lesson for America

It is an experience that we might well strive to emulate here in modern America. There is much in our democratic institutions and ideals to quicken such passionate enthusiasm of faith and zeal. Our country may be to us simply our dwelling place or it may be to us the homeland of a spiritual ideal established in justice, mercy, righteousness and truth.

When America is for us merely a homeland which we think of in selfishness as our abode and as the place of our interests to the exclusion of all higher matters—peace, justice and right—we may be sure that the very seeds of destruction are in our establishment, for selfishness always defeats itself. It is in the thought of America as a modern Zion with profound spiritual devotion to all the high things that it represents that we, like these captives returning to Jerusalem, may find the hope of a large and permanent destiny in the Divine Plan.

BALLINGER TAKES MIDLAND SERIES; IN HALF GAME OF THE ROOST

PARMA'S BLOW DECIDES GAME WHICH HAD SUCCESSIVELY BEEN COLTS' AND HUSTLIN' BEARCATS'

Fifteen players could not stop the Ballinger landslide Thursday, and the Bearcats, hitting extra-base blows in the pinches, won a see-saw game from Midland's Colts, 7-5. Ballinger moved up one game, to within half a game of the roost.

It was a game of thrills. Ballinger took the lead in the first inning when E. Mueller hit the ball over the fence after Bean had doubled. Boyd got a three-base knock in the second to score Boken who had drawn a walk.

Scalings hits a homer over the center wall in the sixth, scoring A. Mueller ahead of him. Cheeves, hit by Berndt, scored for Midland in this inning when after getting to third on Boken's single and a muffed ball by Lynch.

Colts Stage Rampage
Midland's big inning came in the seventh; three runs were scored on four hits. Lefty Moore, pinch hitting for Stagner, singled to score Kallina, after Boken had singled to score King and put Kallina in scoring position. Ballinger changed to Borgman but Melton walked to force in Boken.

Dockery's single and Parma's double scored three in the eighth for Ballinger.

Which Will Win?
It still remains to be seen who can keep the pace, Midland or Ballinger. Each team will expect to win almost every one of the remaining games, and the one that wins the most games will win the last half. Ballinger plays Big Spring 3 games at Big Spring, then takes on Coleman at Ballinger, entertains Big Spring at Ballinger and ends the season at San Angelo.

Midland has San Angelo here for three games, goes to Big Spring for three, and then ends in Midland with six days. Abilene the first three and Coleman the last.

Thursday's game play by play:

First Inning
Ballinger: Kittrell fouled to Kallina, Lynch fled to Cheeves. Bean doubled to right. E. Mueller hit the ball over the left field fence, scoring Bean ahead of him. A. Mueller doubled to right. Scalings fouled out to Lewis. Three hits, two runs, no errors.

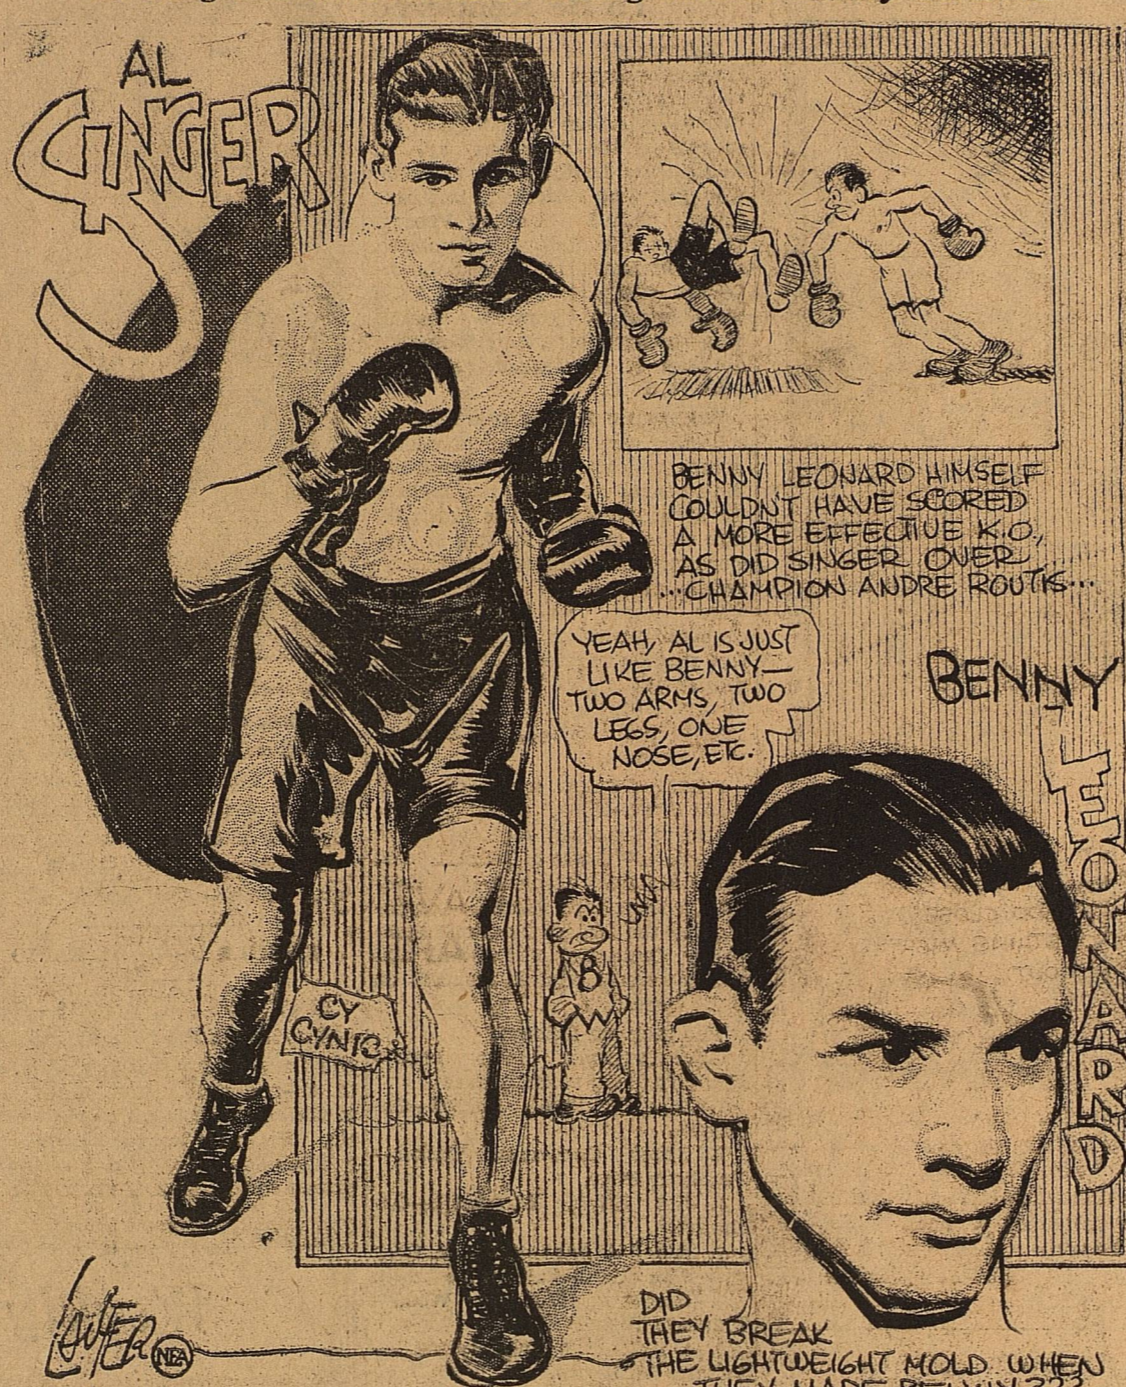

Midland: Lewis struck out, swinging. Flowers doubled down the third base line. King hit a short fly to center. Kallina walked. Cheeves fouled out to E. Mueller back of third. One hit, no runs, no errors.

Second Inning
Ballinger: Dockery fouled out to Lewis. Parma walked. Rose's snap throw to first caught Parma off the bag and he was run down between first and second. Berndt struck out. No hits, no runs, no errors.

Midland: Boken walked. Stagner popped out to Lynch. Boyd got a three base hit to center, scoring Boken. Rose fanned, swinging. Lewis is popped weakly to Bean for the third out. Pop-ups are very much in evidence in the Midland attack. One hit, one run, no errors.

Third Inning
Ballinger: Kittrell fled to Flowers who made a nice catch. Lynch grounded to Boken. Bean singled to right. E. Mueller up; Melton replaced Rose in the box for Midland.

Al Singer Comes Close to Being Second Benny Leonard

Folks, here's Al Singer, little fellow who hopes, after a match with Tod Morgan, to get to Sammy Mandel for a championship. "Just like Beny Leonard," the fans say. The little battler has aggressiveness, speed, technic, and all it takes.

SPORT BRIEFS

The same old impasse. Who will win the last half of the league? It was thought before the last inning of yesterday's encounter that a fairly accurate opinion could be hazarded. But after Parma doubled to score two more runs in the last stages of the deadlock breaker the wisecracker suddenly became as speculative as the rest. It may be that, in order to win, Midland will have to win every game from here on—which is taking a mouthful which should be particularly hard to digest. Abilene may prove to be wiser; rarebit taken at the midnight hour.

There was little that suggested preliminary in Ballinger's taking of yesterday's game. Mueller just naturally cracked out a homer in the first inning and steamed across the scoring man behind Bean, elongated first sacker who had doubled just ahead of him. From then on out, save in the inning when Midland crossed up the pitching staff and forged into a one-run lead, the omens were auspicious for the Bear Kitties.

Ballinger men sitting beside their dugout sang something about like this: "No teddy bears for us—we'll wear men's pants after this game." The occasion was Parma's blow that threw Colt meat on the flame in the eighth, and cinched Ballinger's taking the series.

Cheeves missed a pretty chance to even up the count in the first inning when his fouled fly was caught. Cheeves is a bad man with the stick and he is just as likely to bounce a ball out of the park as he is to keep level-headed.

when the rest of the boys get 'warm' in the razzing slipstream from the stands.

You can't make Ballinger believe that Parma accidentally hit that long double in the eighth. The reason for his hitting is equally well known: it was in the early stages that the powerfully-built little man got caught off first by a snap throw and put out in the hot box. The catcher looked like a monkey for a moment and then got no consolation for it. So he just collected a bit of tasty revenge when he drove in those two runs later on. Another thing: you gotta hand it to Parma; he is behind all that hustle out there in the Ballinger infield. Bean is another fellow who gripes with the best of 'em, but he is a valuable man with the stick and on the first sack. He takes it up, too.

over our heads, but it's the team that takes the breaks that wins, after all.

Flowers must have found it disadvantageous to read about the beautiful catch made by Cheeves Wednesday, so he came back at the sensation column yesterday to ring the bell twice. Once he raced back as far as he could go in the least number of seconds and, finding that the ball was going to beat him to the fence anyway, leaped upward in a sort of contorted spiral, jerked his hands around over his head and snagged a meah one. Later in the game he made a long lateral run to take a liner that looked good for a two base in anybody's park. The Georgia product certainly believes in thievery when it comes to snatching threatening drives.

Bean, first basemen for Ballinger, did the prettiest hitting of the series. Getting away to a three double combination Wednesday, the big long fellow caught another for a two-base ride yesterday, besides knocking down every Colt on the right side of the diamond with well directed drives that were too hard to handle. Lucky drives, some say, but not so. Beyond being a dangerous hitter, Bean drives his gloves so hard that they cannot be handled with the satisfaction marking negotiation of other players' efforts. Bean is like Cy Williams; he takes exception to many decisions of the umpire; but (Continued on Page 6)

Let the extra miles in CONOCO gasoline buy it for you....

If you keep an accurate record of gasoline costs, you know that every extra mile you get from a gallon is so much velvet. In the aggregate these extra miles represent a handsome saving—enough to pay for those greatly desired accessories you've had in mind; perhaps a pair of new inner tubes or an extra set of spark plugs. That's why it will pay you well to fill only at the Conoco sign—the red triangle—the symbol of extra miles. Conoco gasoline is refined to produce maximum mileage without in any way sacrificing those other essentials of a good motor fuel—quick starting and rapid acceleration. It functions efficiently at every step in the driving operation with special emphasis on power and mileage.

Look for the new Conoco Red Triangle. Fill 'er up. Then speed away for extra miles.

you instinctively like him, for a that.

Big Ed Kallina's volatile temperament may be excused for its outbreak in the Tuesday game, when he and Lybrand engaged in a few moments of fistfight, but the big man almost did irreparable harm when, in a moment of disgust at fanning, he hurled his bat without looking and struck Cheeves on the ankle. The fans have always liked Big Ed, but his truculence during the past three days has not helped him any, to say the least. In fact, there was a bit of mild questioning of the player's value when he struck Cheeves. Cheeves is a man too valuable to hurt—even through another good man's carelessness.

John King, Midland manager, has aided the Colts greatly. He has the guiding fire that makes for wins. But John is getting old and his legs are not so fast. He has failed to get to some plays which a younger man would have. And in missing the plays, Midland lost one ball game at least. King's monkey shines yesterday cost one score—possibly more—in that case a tie for the series decision game. He was on third when a long fly to the boards in left was caught. Instead of getting back to the base and then beating it in to the scoring pan, King fooled around and went back to third after the catch. Midland must support this manager, however. King has too much to think about running the club to do everything as faultlessly as he expects his men to do. He is winning games—and no other manager ever did that here.

And Lefty Moore is called to pinch hit—and he did it. It was in the last stages of the game, and the little pitcher delivered as usual.

Coaches Grady Higginbotham and Vic Payne of Texas Technological College have announced that the fall training camp will begin September 10. At this time, intensive training will be begun for the 1929 football squad which is expected to far outclass the previous squads of the college. Some forty-five men will attend the camp, twenty-two of whom will be the last year's squad, eighteen from the last year's freshman squad and five from the squads of previous years.

Not only can Ballinger play baseball but the city is already busy making plans for the entertainment of the Board of Texas Press Association convention on September 9. An elaborate program of entertainment is promised the newspapermen at this time.

The West Texas Press Association will send a large delegation to attend this meeting. This action was taken at the meeting held at Sweetwater recently. The West Texas Fair Association will also send a large number from Abilene to arrange final details for press day at that fair.

The program for the Ballinger meeting will include a luncheon, an automobile ride, golf tournament, a special program of Ballinger talent. The sessions will be in charge of the president of the association, H. F. Schwenker, and a number of prominent men will be present to speak on special subjects. An attendance of about 150 publishers, editors, reporters, supply men and others connected with the profession is expected.

GIFTS FOR U. S. KIDS

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Aug. 15.—(P)—More than 3,000 pesos have been contributed by Mexican school children for the expenses of sending collections of typical Mexican art to the schoolchildren of the United States next November.

Each child contributed one cent. The art collections are being made by the children themselves and one collection will be sent to the department of education of each of the American states, the gift being return for similar presents sent by American school children to Mexico last year.

War Prisoner—

"In addition all forms of corporal punishment are prohibited as well as all cruelty and all imprisonment in cells that are not lighted by daylight.

"Provision is also made that all penalties inflicted by military tribunals shall not exceed those inflicted for the same offenses in the army by which prisoners have been captured.

"In a general way prisoners will be subjected only to disciplinary measures and these are to consist largely of periods of arrest but in no case are these to exceed 30 days.

"Even in the case of attempts to escape nothing but disciplinary measures are to be enforced altho the prisoner of recapture may be subjected to special surveillance.

"The convention provides that prisoners are to be evacuated from the danger zone at the earliest moment possible, but in the case they are obliged to walk to the prison camp or other place of detention they cannot be obliged to walk more than 20 kilometers a day.

ing conditions, enjoy full religious privileges, correspond with his relatives and receive regular pay in the event he is used for special work.

"The fundamental idea that predominated the conference was that the prisoner is in no way guilty of any crime and that he therefore has the full right to enjoy and retain all the privileges to which any honest man is entitled as long as these are not incompatible with the military interests of the country of which he is prisoner.

"Another feature of the convention provides for the immediate creation of information bureaus which will keep relatives and families quickly and accurately informed of the status of the prisoner.

Still another provision, and which might have saved the life of Miss Edith Cavell had it been in force at that time, provides that no prisoner sentenced to death by a military tribunal shall be executed until three months after due notification to his home government.

ALL-STEEL BUILT like a SAFE

BUT two months ago General Electric announced the first ALL-STEEL refrigerator ever built. Now this outstanding scientific development of the times has been made available in six popular models.

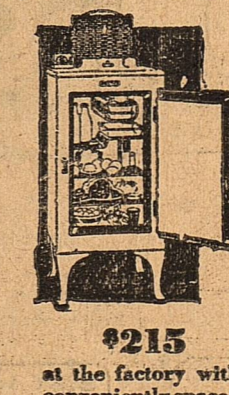

The all-steel refrigerator cannot warp. It is strong—built to last. The doors, fitted by hand at the factory, retain their close fit. The new exterior baked enamel finish, smoothly white, as hard and durable as porcelain, has the added virtue that it does not check or crack.

Coupled with these advantages is the previous perfection of the General Electric mechanism which is permanently self-oiling, hermetically sealed in a steel casing and mounted up on top, safe from dust and difficulties. Quietly, economically, it constantly maintains the temperature in the refrigerator at several safe degrees below the danger line of 50. It freezes ice cubes rapidly.

Yet, notwithstanding these exclusive features these new models are offered at surprisingly low prices and on our plan of conveniently spaced payments. The small family model, at the factory, is priced at $215. New all-steel models in six different sizes at our display rooms invite your inspection.

Listen in on the General Electric Hour every Saturday, 8 to 9 P.M., Eastern Standard Time, over the N. B. C. network of 42 stations.
