Chicago Is Dead Broke Does Social Deb Pet? Woman Poor Investor

There was quite a howl of surprise that went up from newspaper readers a few months ago when the daily press of the state revealed that a Texas town was about to go into receivership.

It couldn't be understood why this should happen, what with the right kind of city officials at the helm. Yet, look what was announced last week; the city of Chicago is flat broke, in debt, and the mayor and aldermen are unable to agree on remedies.

For exactly 16 years, Chicago has been living beyond her means, credit is exhausted and the health of the inhabitants of the second largest city in the country is imperilled, as wealth as the safety.

For 20 months indecision has been apparent in those who are nearest position to remedy the situation. Now as Mayor William Hale Thompson and his quarrelling aldermen went into what threatens to be a four-month deadlock over proposed remedies, the city's millions were given a close-up view of conditions by the advent of another record snow storm.

Street cleaning machinery broke down under the strain of clearing arterial highways. Women and children in residential districts waded knee deep in snow drifts to reach groceries and public schools. The few trucks and men left in the streets department concentrated on keeping loop streets open.

Behind apartment buildings and tenements garbage continued to pile up because the disposal department was virtually paralyzed by lack of funds and by snow drifts. Merchandise deliveries were delayed in many parts of the city by the closing of streets from which the snow could not be removed. Automobiles and taxis were forced to follow street car tracks which had been kept clear by the surface lines.

Robberies during the four days that nearly 500 policemen were dropped from the payroll to reduce expenses, increased 66 per cent.

The real leaders of the younger set of the real New York society do not indulge in petting. No less an authority than Mrs. Emily Post, acknowledged guide to the right and wrong of manners, makes this assertion in McCall's for February—and proves it thus:

"If one were to give the recipe for the certainty of social failure, it would be the attempt to hold the interest of any man worth holding, by any behavior unbecoming to the true ideal of womanhood; behavior, in other words, that includes promiscuously being kissed and hugged and mauled about and spoiled and soiled like all the other 'slightly handled' articles thrown, for that reason, on a bargain counter.

"I feel quite certain that as I write 'petting parties' are not included in the behavior of any girls of outstanding social success' some of my readers are declaring. 'Poor mid-Victorian Mrs. Post, she is as out of date as her grandmother on the behavior permitted to the younger generation.' So I can only repeat with still greater emphasis that the leaders and belles of today's smartest and youngest New Yorkers do not indulge in petting parties.

"Neither of the two debutantes of this season, that everyone seems to agree are the greatest success known in New York for many years, has ever tasted anything to drink, neither of them uses powder or lipstick, neither of them uses profanity nor revels in conversations about sex.

"Neither of them 'pet' nor do any. (See BAS-RELIEF, on page 6)

Texas Men Listed As Incorporators Of Firm

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The third national commodity marketing association set up under guidance of the federal farm board came into existence in Wilmington, Delaware, today with filing of articles of incorporation for the American Cotton Cooperative association, a $30,000,000 farmer owned and controlled central sales agency for marketing of cotton handled by southern cotton cooperatives.

Gowan Jones, El Paso, and Harry Williams, Dallas, were among the incorporators.

MIDLAND MEN IN ANDREWS COUNTY ACTION TODAY

Although the name was carefully withheld in the rumors, it was understood here this morning that a former Midland attorney in Andrews county would be named county attorney of Andrews county today.

Other activities in that county include letting of the gas franchise. Jack Godsey and J. A. Finlayson, associates, submitted a bid for this franchise in the latter part of November, 1929. The Midland man also placed a bid on the water franchise, which also is to be let soon.

Rainfall This Year Exceeded Only Once

Only in one year since 1923 has there been a greater rainfall than the 19.52-in. total registered in 1929. S. H. Basham, local weather man, showed from his reports this morning.

During the period elapsing from 1923 to the present there has been a total of 108.26 inches, or an average of a little more than 15.46 inches a year.

Compiled, the figures for each year, follow:

Table with 2 columns: Year, Rainfall (inches). Rows: 1923 (18.45), 1924 (13.65), 1925 (16.27), 1926 (18.78), 1927 (9.48), 1928 (22.02), 1929 (19.52)

$100,000 Fire Loss At Wichita Hangars

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 13.—(UP)—Fire today gutted the administration building and a hangar at the Bradley Flying school and destroyed 11 planes.

The loss is estimated to be $100,000. Lack of water handicapped firemen in fighting the flames.

Stanton Holds Its C. C. Banquet Tues.

Tuesday night's annual banquet of the Stanton chamber of commerce will be held in the basement of the Methodist church, according to a letter from Claude Holley, secretary-manager of the Stanton chamber.

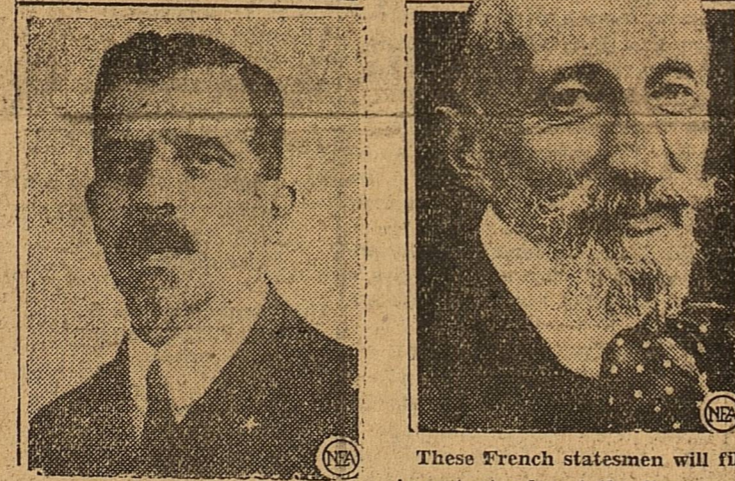

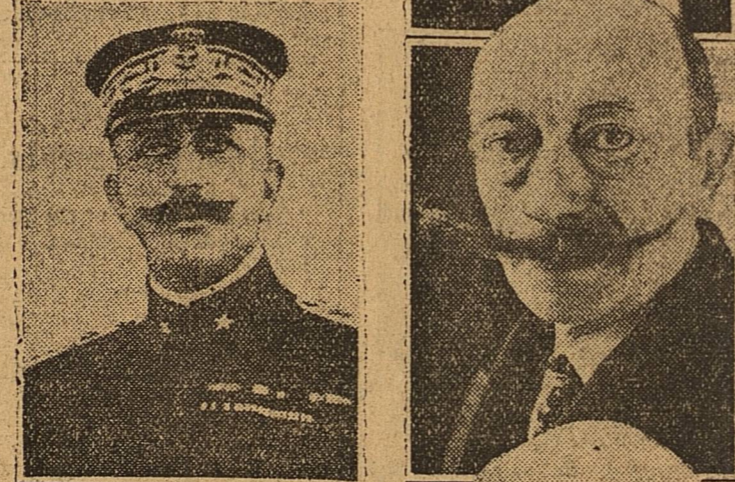

The basement of the big new church is regularly utilized as the meeting place of the Stanton Lions club.

Several Midland men will be in attendance to hear the reports for 1929 read. Paul T. Vickers will make a brief talk.

TO BIG SPRING TOMORROW

At the request of Malcolm M. Meek, president, the Midland Rotarians will leave the local chamber of commerce tomorrow morning at 10:30 for Big Spring, where they will have charge of the program at the meeting of the Rotary club.

To Settle Naval Equality

Italy's firm stand for equal naval strength with France in the Mediterranean will be emphasized at the forthcoming London armament conference by these members of the Italian delegation. POLITICAL EYES NOW TURNING TO GOVERNOR RACE

BY GORDON K. SHEARER United Press Staff Correspondent AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 13.—(UP)—With five months yet to go before the closing date on formal notices of candidacy, entries already are being made in the race for next governor of Texas.

All who send in the specified information and $100 to State Democratic Chairman D. W. Wilcox of Georgetown by June 2 are entitled to go on the ballot—if they meet the requirements.

What those requirements will be remains in doubt. Tom Love particularly wants to know. He has sent his $100 and application early so it can be determined. If voting for Hoover last time is a bar Love wants to know as soon as possible.

Earle Mayfield, former U. S. senator, already is in actively with a campaign organization, though up until recently he had not made the formal notification. He is not worrying about who else gets into the race. The man who decides his political course on what someone else does, will not get anywhere, Mayfield confided.

At last reports, former Governor James Ferguson was still withholding a decision about whether he or "Ma" will be a candidate. And the feeling is generally spreading that should either "Ma" or "Pa" announce, Governor Dan Moody will brave the third term bugaboo and announce too. Precedents do not greatly bother Governor Moody. He (See POLITICS, on page 6)

M'KENZIE IS DECLARED SANE BY STATE DOCTOR

AUSTIN, Jan. 13.—(UP)—Claude Teer, chairman of the state board of control, today received an affidavit signed by Dr. George Powell, superintendent of the state hospital at Terrell, declaring Pete McKenzie sane.

Teer is forwarding the affidavit to Judge W. W. McCrory of San Antonio, where McKenzie was convicted of killing Detective Chief Sam Street.

The filing of the affidavit calls for a rehearing on sanity. If found sane, the death penalty becomes (See M'KENZIE, on page 6)

REVIVAL BEGINS AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH SUNDAY

The one who said that a Presbyterian is "one who is freezing on the outside and burning up on the inside," evidently was not acquainted with Midland Presbyterians. The two weeks' revival meeting started off with a fine attendance Sunday. The Sunday school broke all previous records for attendance, there being 108 present. This was notable because there was still much snow and sleet on the ground Sunday morning, according to the Rev. Thomas D. Murphy, who said:

"At the morning hour of worship, Rev. Guy Davis, of San Angelo, evangelist of Brownwood Presbytery, gave the initial sermon of his two weeks' ministry here, using as his text, 'Wilt Thou not revive us again; that they people may rejoice in Thee,' from Psalm 85:6. The minister's theme was, 'The Characteristics of a Real Revival.' This theme was thoroughly and impressively discussed from the viewpoint of the manifestation of real revival. He showed how a real and genuine revival is often confused with a 'big meetin'."

His purpose was to show that a real revival is an experience of a new baptism of the power and grace of God, and that there will be visible and outward manifestations of it among God's people.

"Rev. Davis mentioned four manifestations, which he discussed as follows: "A genuine revival is one which begins in the heart, and is a new experience of the grace and power of God.

"The present movement of evangelism is the Synod of Texas was shown to be the result of a covenant of prayer which began some four years ago at a meeting of the Synod at Kerrville, when a number of men made a covenant of prayer to pray for a revival. This has resulted in the present plan to have every church in the Synod hold a revival meeting some time between January and Easter.

"A thoughtful, honest, prayerful reading and study of God's Word. "One of the outstanding weaknesses of Christian Character and work," said the divine, "is the neglect of the word of God. The Bible lies too much a closed book on our desk (See REVIVAL, on page 6)

Midland Boy Ranks High In Architecture

J. L. Thomas of Midland was one of six University of Texas agricultural students to receive second mention in a competition of the Beaux Arts Institute in New York for plans of a Roman temple, according to information received by the Reporter-Telegram from W. T. Rolfe, professor of architecture in the university.

Thomas is a son of Mrs. Alma Thomas, who also is enrolled in the university. Another son attends Texas with them, making a regular "varsity" family.

Warning Issued To Pay Poll Tax Now

Only 18 more calendar days remain for paying poll taxes. If the voter fails to pay his tax by Jan. 31, he is disfranchised throughout all of 1930, according to the tax collectors office.

Only 450 have paid their poll tax for the new year, leaving about 1650 to pay their tax.

It was pointed out that this is a big year politically. One congressman, one senator and all state officers from governor down, and all county and precinct officials, and district officers must be elected.

Those who fail to pay poll taxes will have no voice in any of these elections.

There will be no sub stations established in the county for paying of poll taxes. The taxes should be paid at the county tax collector's office in the same section of the ground floor of the Petroleum building as the sheriff's office.

Breaks Air Speed Record From Paso

Captain Frank Hawks, holder of every known transcontinental airplane record, flew into Midland from Los Angeles last night, shattering records as he came.

The famous speedster's time from El Paso was 1:30, ten minutes lower than the recent record made by William Gibbs McAdoo, who landed behind Lt. Harry Ashe in a Lockheed-Vega carrying two passengers and the pilot.

Hawks was alone, and flying the famous Lockheed Express which he used to successively batter down all records for speed across the continent. He spent the night in Midland and took off this morning at 5:30, two hours before dawn, for Miami, Fla., where the air races are to be held.

He expects to land in Florida this afternoon.

CAR ACCIDENTS CLAIM 3 LIVES IN DALLAS CO.

DALLAS, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Three children are dead today and eight persons are suffering from automobile accidents over the week-end.

Jessie Fletcher, 12, and his sister, Mary Lou, 12, were killed when the car driven by their father was struck by a train near here.

A 9-year-old negro boy was killed in a similar accident.

Eminent Writer To Talk To Farmers

J. E. Stanford, Texas editor of the Southern Agriculturist, farm magazine, will arrive in Midland early Wednesday morning for his address before farmers and Lions at the regular weekly luncheon of the Lions Wednesday.

"I am looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to the Lions meeting of that date and hope I may be able to make at least a small contribution to the fine program of work being carried out in your trade territory," he said in a letter received by the chamber of commerce.

"Farmers Day" will be celebrated by the Lions Wednesday. Each member of the service club will have a farmer as guest.

McKain To Dallas For Forensics

Bill McKain, assistant storekeeper of the Texas Electric Service company, goes to Dallas tonight to represent this district of the service company in a state wide declaration contest. He won over J. E. Clark in an elimination contest conducted here Saturday evening.

"Electric Utilities Contribution to My State and Nation" was the subject taken. Judges were M. C. Ulmer, Paul T. Vickers and J. M. Caldwell.

In case McKain wins at Dallas, he will go to San Francisco for further competition. Eventually the winner of the national meet goes to Europe with expenses paid.

COMMISSION REPORTS IN FULL TODAY

Respect For Laws Of Nation Hoped To Follow

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Reserving judgment on ultimate prohibition conclusions, the law enforcement commission in a preliminary report sent congress today recommended that the national prohibition law be strengthened immediately in the interest of promoting observance of and respect for all laws.

"If on no other grounds than giving the law a fair trial, there are obvious uncontroverted difficulties which may and as we think should be met to make enforcement more effective," the commission said.

Difficulties listed were division of enforcement between the treasury and justice departments; disordered condition on federal legislation involved in enforcement; possibilities of defeated roadblock injunction by concealing ownership of property used for the manufacture and sale of illicit liquor; congestion of petty prosecutions in federal courts leading to wholesale disposition of accumulated cases under circumstances impairing the dignity of and injuring respect for those tribunals.

"It is wholly impossible to set off observance of the prohibition act from the large question of views and habits of American people with respect to probate judgment as to statutes and regulations affecting their conduct," the report said.

Statutes Unwieldy Pointing out that there are 25 statutes to which there is recourse in prohibition enforcement, the commission asserted they were in a disconnected form, unwieldy and in much need of cooperation and adjustment to each other. The commission recommended that they be "revised and digested."

President Hoover today submitted to congress the opinions and recommendations prepared by the law enforcement commission. Attorney General Mitchell and Secretary Mellon for the strengthening of enforcement.

The suggestions submitted were: Reorganization of the federal court structure to give relief to congestion; concentration responsibility in the detection and prosecution of prohibition violations; provision of an adequate court of the prosecuting various agencies engaged in the prevention of smuggling liquor, narcotics, other merchandise and aliens over the American borders.

UTILITY BEATS BEAUTY

In the town of Shrewsbury, N. J., there stood until recently a fine row of 13 sycamore trees, planted seven years before the Revolutionary War by patriots as symbols of the colonies.

A few days ago the head of the town council decided that two of these trees were menaces to traffic, and forthwith had them chopped down and removed.

Shrewsbury promptly got indignant and passed around a petition of protest. But the trees, being down, could not be restored, and the petitions served no purpose except to express the citizens' anger.

The whole thing, of course, is a small matter. But it is rather typical of the way we do things. It illuminates the scale of values by which the whole nation, as well as this one New Jersey burgher, generally acts.

A row of fine, historic trees went into the balance against the needs of a modern automobile highway, and the highway won.

That could happen in any town in the country. Neither beauty nor sentiment is ever allowed to stand in the way of any definite, material improvement.

To be sure, we have based our whole social organization on the automobile, and we are compelled to put the needs of the automobile ahead of nearly everything else. But we're paying a pretty high price for it, now and then, just as Shrewsbury has paid a high price for its improved street.

A road, after all, is nothing but a pathway for getting from one place to another. It's important to be able to make the trip speedily and easily, of course; but it isn't quite as important as we sometimes think.

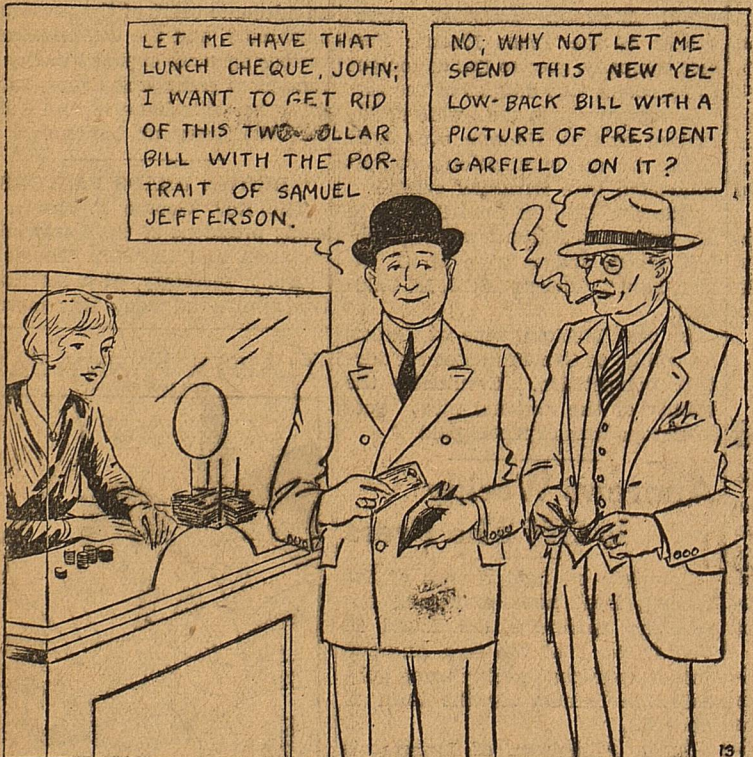

There are times when it's better to idle along the way. The man who gets the most good out of his trips isn't the man who is always in a break-neck hurry. It's more apt to be the man who dawdles along, taking his time and letting himself enjoy things by the roadside.

The automobile and the paved highway, in other words, are only means to an end. They are useful; they set us free from the old ties of distance, they break down provincialism and isolation; but there is no sense in valuing them too highly.

Perhaps it's foolish to say so much simply because somebody cut down a couple of shade trees. But the thing is so indicative—indicative of the national traits that make Europeans say that we in America do not know how to get true happiness and contentment out of life.

Beauty and sentiment are more important than we think. If we only realized this, we'd let our auto traffic move more slowly—and enjoy the shade trees by the way.

WASHINGTON LETTER

U. S. Employment Service Sees Generally Improved Conditions For 1930, Though It Warns That Changes for the Better Won't be Uniform Throughout the Nation.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—There is a wide variation of industrial-employment conditions over the country, but only in few fields is there no more hopeful prospect during the coming year, according to a general forecast of the U. S. Employment Service.

Predictions include a good outlook for skilled labor in California and Georgia but not so good for unskilled labor. Lower employment level in Illinois than in 1929 without much improvement before summer. Improved labor demand in Kansas, better employment prospects than in 1929 in Massachusetts, great improvement expected in Michigan, which entered this year with considerable unemployment, some increase in Missouri, an early return to satisfactory employment conditions in New York, possible increase in North Carolina, slight increase probable in Oklahoma, better conditions by spring in Pennsylvania comparing favorably with a year ago, normal conditions in Wisconsin, great increase in Kentucky when construction programs start, as good or better in Louisiana and adequate employment in Minnesota with better weather.

Building Conditions Uneven The building trades situation is a little spotty. Predictions include some expected decline in California, no decrease and possibly increase in Illinois, enough jobs for resident building workers in Kansas, good prospects in Massachusetts, more work in Michigan, possibility that demand for workers in Missouri won't equal 1929, greater volume expected in New York, fair sized building programs in North Carolina, good volume in Oklahoma, large volume in Texas, satisfactory in Wisconsin by spring and favorable prospects in Kentucky.

In agriculture increased acreage is expected in California and a big expansion in the Wisconsin dairy business. Demand for farm labor may be slightly less in some agricultural states owing to increased use of machinery, Kansas, North Dakota and Nebraska being specifically mentioned. Indiana farmers anticipate a good year.

Manufacturing in many states, had a brief recession late in 1929, but the outlook is considered "fairly satisfactory" in Illinois, generally good in Massachusetts and satisfactory in New York. Pennsylvania expects the recession to continue briefly into 1930, with a gradual upward trend likely to regain the 1929 levels. Fairly satisfactory schedules and some expansions are predicted for Indiana. Metal manufacturing is better off than a year ago in Wisconsin and an equally good year is forecast for New Jersey.

Furniture factories here and there may show a decline in production. In the steel industry fairly high levels are expected in Indiana through the year, the outlook is very optimistic in Ohio and prospects are favorable in New York despite reduced working forces at present. Things also look brighter for steel workers in both Pennsylvania and Michigan.

The textile outlook is not considered rosy in Massachusetts, but increased production and employment are anticipated. Mills in several north Carolina centers have curtailed considerably, but expect to increase. Greater production is also hoped for in Rhode Island.

Automobile and allied industries in Michigan, New York and Ohio are working with considerably reduced forces, but normal levels should be reached in the spring months with great improvements as early as February. Detroit makers plan to regulate production in order to avoid abrupt curtailments such as those of last year.

Mining Is Picking Up Coal mines still continue in poor shape, though a brighter trend is predicted for Ohio and Indiana. In metal mining California looks for a boost in copper and gold production, marked increases are expected in Colorado, copper mines will work fairly satisfactorily in Michigan and metal mining in New Mexico, Wyoming, Utah and Idaho is considered steady.

Lumbering is offering less employment, with the possibility of less in the Oregon mills than in the last three years, curtailment in Washington and Oklahoma, only fair conditions in Texas and "at least equal" in California.

All this is condensed and incomplete, but it may serve to give a cross-section of the way things are.

FORT WORTH.—Five cents invested in an airmail stamp for a letter to fly in Texas alone will buy the services of two pilots, from eight to a dozen post-office clerks and government field men, a commercial operating organization, and equipment valued into the hundreds of thousands, according to Victor F. Grima, general traffic manager of the Southern Air Transport division of the Aviation corporation.

Two pilots fly every letter mailed in Texas, even if it does not leave the state. The average letter is flown 1400 miles and carried by at least three different pilots, Grima said.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, (adv.)

Tacky Party Climaxes Week of Social Activity

The ridiculous was emphasized in both dress and manner of conduct at a tacky party given by the young married men's class of the First Baptist church when the men entertained the women of the Martha Fidelis class. The party was given, beginning at 8 o'clock, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hudman, 502 South Main street.

Dr. D. M. Ellis had charge of the entertainment and proved himself exceptionally capable in this line. As the guests arrived he served them all day suckers and through the course of the evening kept the smallest ones from crying by his original games, contests and jokes.

Mrs. Clarence Ligon and Mrs. F. W. Chapman were selected to choose sides for the contests and games, at the close of which Mrs. Chapman's side was pronounced winner. Mrs. Chapman was given a five pound sack of roasted peanuts, with which she taunted the unfortunate loser.

Mrs. Ligon, however, was repaid when she was selected as the tackiest person present and herself received an appropriate prize. Her face alone, which was spotted with freckles, was enough to win her the prize. Glasses perched on the end of her red nose, and her hair was parted down the back and flaunted a gay bow of ribbon. Her mouth was busily chewing gum. Besides all this, Mrs. Ligon wore bright colored socks over flesh colored hose, a little white hat on the back of her head, and the tackiest dress and shoes imaginable.

Mrs. H. M. Hiett ran a close second to Mrs. Ligon and Mrs. F. W. Chapman was third. Others wore costumes made up of old hats, shoes, and dresses, which, judging by their looks, must have been cast off many years ago.

Refreshments of buttermilk and cakes were served to George F. Brown, pastor, and wife; R. O. Walker, teacher of the men's class. Mrs. W. A. Hyatt, superintendent of the department; and to Messrs. and Mrs. C. B. Ligon, D. M. Ellis, C. C. Hiett, F. W. Chapman, G. D. Fuller, H. M. Hiett, C. V. Dale, W. E. Collier, R. C. Osborne, James Hiett, J. B. Stewart, Jim Walker, George H. Haltom, J. C. Hudman, and Mr. Claude White.

As a climax, the class teacher had the aid of Mrs. W. A. Hyatt and a few members of the men's class gave a very impressive play-let on Sunday school attendance. As they left, the guests declared the party to have been a real old-time tacky party and expressed their eagerness for another social soon.

Kenneth Keith, and Burton Franklin, of Crane; Bob Donald, Odessa; Mrs. Ollie Lipps and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Porter of Colorado City, and Mrs. Lige Vickers of Odessa were visitors in the home of Mrs. Paul Lipps of Midland Sunday.

Pretty Lois Moran Tries Her Hand At Writing Her Own Stories

Lois Moran

BY DAN THOMAS NEA Service Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Lois Moran in "Blonds Preferred" from an original story by Lois Moran.

That's what the young blond actress hopes to see on the screen one of these days. And if she keeps on the way she has started, her dreams will be realized. A couple of months ago Lois went up to Yosemite National Park for a rest. Intending to spend one week there, she took only enough books along to last her that length of time. But after the first week she decided to stay longer and having no more books to read, she started to write her own stories. When she returned four short stories had been completed.

But that's only half of the story. The other half is that she already has sold one of them to a leading national magazine and she now is waiting to hear the fate of two others which she submitted to another magazine. With a start like that, it won't be long before she will be turning out screen stories of the regulation movie calibre—which, of course, doesn't necessarily say a lot for her ability.

Lois also has another ambition which she hopes will be realized some day. She wants to see not only herself but all actors and actresses on the screen minus their make-up.

"Make-up is a handicap in acting," she declares. "It hides one's facial expressions far more than the average person realizes. Besides that, it gives all of us an artificial appearance. The only drawback is that so many of us haven't the complexions that would allow us to work without make-up."

That's one score Miss Moran doesn't have to worry about despite her statement that she does. At present she uses a very light make-up, just enough to cover up her freckles. But I for one think that those freckles add to her charm, rather than detract from it. She always has seemed to me far more charming and real around home than at the studio and the only apparent reason is that she never puts on even ordinary street make-up when she is at home.

Ever since she made her debut in the motion picture world in "Stella Dallas" at the age of 15, Lois has wanted to do something big. Since completing that film, which gave her a start few girls in the industry have enjoyed, she has sort of drifted along doing good work but never creating a sensation.

Now it looks as though her big moment had arrived. She has been borrowed from Fox, where she is under contract, to play the lead in "Bride 66," the gigantic musical production Arthur Hammerstein is to produce for United Artists. If that film is anywhere nearly as successful as studio executives expect it to be, Lois will find herself sitting right on top of the heap.

"In the last year I have been taking singing lessons every other day so that I would be prepared for any opportunity which might arise," Lois told me. "And getting this part repays me for all of that study. It certainly makes me feel good to have a man like Mr. Hammerstein say my voice is good, especially since everyone else has more or less disregarded it. Even mother hasn't been very enthusiastic about my singing but perhaps that is because she has had to listen to me practice at home so much.

"I really am all enthused over this picture and that isn't at all like

"LEATHERNECKS" IN FIGHT FOR DAMITA

Lily Damita, former idolized beauty of the European stage and screen, in general and particularly her native France, is gorgeous enough for any man to fight over, and two leathernecks are fighting over her a-plenty in her latest picture which is playing at the Ritz Theatre to immense business these days.

The two gentlemen in question are happily married, but it makes no difference, for they are actors—and they play their roles with an unfeigned ardor.

All of which means that Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe, who battled with each other through "What Price Glory," are at it again, but more merry than ever, in "The Cook Eyed World," the all talker written by Laurence Stallings and Maxwell Anderson and directed by Raoul Walsh. The dialog was written by Billy K. Wells.

There is no uncertainty as to just what Lowe and McLaglen are saying to each other in this picture, for their sentiments in "The Cook Eyed World," a Fox Movietone production, are expressed distinctly and vigorously.

As a rule I just take my pictures as they come, do my best work and let it go at that. But for some reason I feel so sure that this film is going to be a knock-out that I can't help being elated."

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

One of the canned vegetables that lends itself especially well to made dishes for winter use is corn.

Scalloped corn, corn croquettes, corn fritters, corn soufflé and chowder all are excellent hearty dishes for "snug" winter weather.

Corn croquettes and corn fritters are both deep fat concoctions and are particularly suitable for winter use. Fritters are an ideal "stretcher" when the man of the house brings a guest at the last minute. And croquettes make a delicious and novel addition to the planned company dinner. They can be made early in the morning and shaped ready for frying when wanted.

Corn Fritters

One to 2 cups solid canned corn, 1 egg, 2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 3-4 cup milk (about).

The amount of milk depends largely on the solidity of the corn. A fritter batter is a "drop" batter but not a stiff batter. Beat egg until light and heat in about 1-2 cup milk. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder and add to first mixture with corn. Mix thoroughly and add more milk if necessary. Drop from spoon into deep hot fat heated to 370 degrees F. Fry with temperature at 350 until a golden brown on all sides. Drain on brown paper and serve with or without syrup as wanted. If a bread test is used, the fat should be hot enough to brown an inch cube of bread in 40 seconds.

Corn Croquettes

One can corn, 2 1-2 tablespoons butter, 1-3 cup flour, 1-2 teaspoon sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1 egg, 1-3 cup cream.

Put corn into a smooth sauce pan, add butter and cream. Mix and sift into corn mixture, flour, sugar, salt and pepper. Stir until blended and add egg slightly beaten. Cook, stirring constantly until thick. Turn out onto a buttered plate and let stand until cool. Mold into cone-shaped croquettes. Roll in fine crumbs, dip in egg slightly beaten with 1 tablespoon milk and roll again in crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat until a golden brown. The fat should be 380 degrees F. when croquettes are put in and temperature maintained at 370 during cooking period. The bread crumbs should brown in 60 seconds if this test is used.

CENSUS BUREAU PREPARES FOR 1930 CENSUS

The presses in the public printing office in Washington are now running off permanent forms for recording the name, address, and 26 interesting facts about every man, woman and child in the United States. The first of the new record sheets for the Fifteenth Decennial census to be taken during April were made available at the census bureau here today.

A total of 2,750,000 large blanks or "schedules", each of which will accommodate names and facts concerning 100 people, will be printed during the next few weeks. Paper of extra good quality has been selected to stand the wear and tear of use in tabulation and to preserve for an indefinite number of years to come the census records for the benefit of future genealogists and historians who may be interested in tracing ancestors or in studying the social strata of the United States in 1930.

The new schedules resemble in general those which have been used in the past several censuses, but certain differences are to be noted in the questions to be asked. More changes are to be found in the information to be collected this time than have been made for several censuses, officials of the census bureau said today, although it was pointed out that most of the information collected by census-takers must be the same from decade to decade if the various censuses are to have value for purposes of comparisons.

Four questions which were asked in 1920 have not been included on the new schedules, while five which were not asked last time have been included. No questions will be asked as to whether the home is mortgaged; naturalized citizens will not be called on to give the year in which they obtained their citizenship; nor will foreign-born persons be asked the native tongue of their father or their mother.

The new questions to be asked are as follows:

What is the value of the home, if owned; or how much is the rent if the house is rented?

Is there a radio in the home?

Is the person enumerated employed on the day he is canvassed?

Is he a veteran of the U. S. military or naval forces?

If the person is married, how old was he at the time of his first marriage?

The question about the value of the home will make it possible to group the families of the country according to their purchasing power and economic standing. The potential buying-public is to be classified for the first time. The information obtained is expected to be particularly valuable to manufacturers and merchants planning to expand into new territory.

The third new question, regarding unemployment, has been included for the purpose of finding out who should fill out one of the separate unemployment schedules which have been prepared. Detailed information regarding unemployment is now to be gained for the first time, although a question on this general subject was asked in 1910.

The question regarding veterans was included at the request of the veteran's bureau in Washington. The number of veterans of each war or campaign in which United States forces have taken part will be tabulated. In 1910 a question was included concerning veterans of the Civil War, but in 1920 no mention was made of veterans of any kind.

Married persons will be asked to give their age at the time of their first marriage so that statistics may be compiled concerning the marital age of different groups and of different sections of the country. This will make possible a study of the effect of economic status, race, and education upon age at marriage.

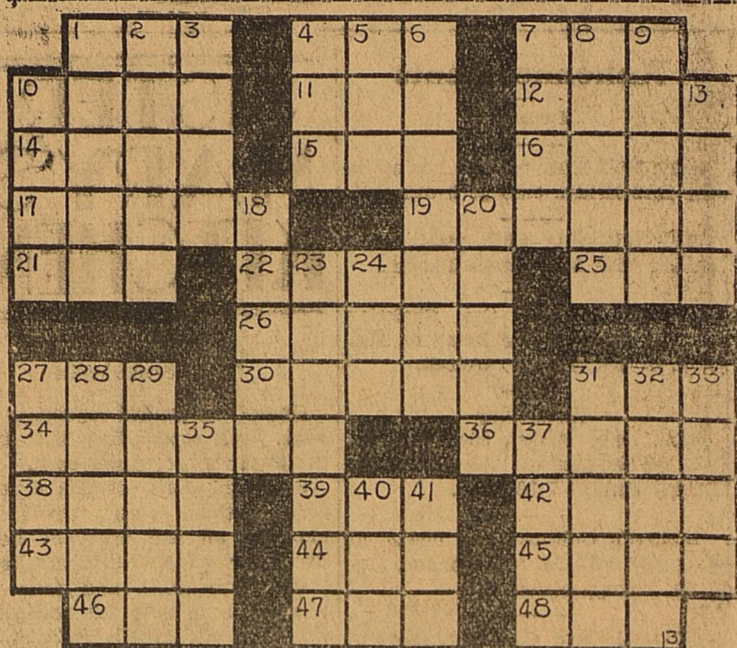

The other 20 questions on the 1930 schedule deal with the usual census information, involving facts about age, sex, occupation, personal description, citizenship, and relationship to the head of the family.

Although no new question has been included on the subject of home-makers, women who fill this position will be distinguished as such in the family relationship column and will be given special classification. Heretofore the father has been put down as the head of the family and all other persons classified in whatever relationship they held to him, whether that of wife, daughter, uncle, brother, or cousin twice removed. This year women who are home-makers will be placed in a position of dignity comparable to that of the head of the family.

All information collected by the census bureau regarding individuals is kept secret for 50 years; so there is no danger of tax collectors or army draft officers, prying into the records for purposes of their own. The census records for 1870 have just been thrown open to historians, research students, and genealogists.

SATURDAY'S ANSWER

VAN DINE MYSTERY STORY MAKES THRILLING TALKIE

S. S. Van Dine's best seller, "The Bishop Murder Case," made into a talking picture by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, has maintained all the suspense and mystery of the story and added many a thrill by its animated action and rapid-fire dialogue.

The character personnel represents an all star cast, among whom is found one of the stage and screen's most lovable personalities, Alec B. Francis, with his matured years both in age and experience, brings to the screen that lovable voice once renowned on the speaking stage. And although not listed as one of the stellar characters of the cast, easily makes himself such through his remarkable acting and the strange part entrusted to him in Van Dine's strange mystery story.

One of Hal Roache's first all talking comedies with the famous "Our Gang" funsters, appears on the program. A Movietone News Reel is also an interesting part of the show. The engagement closes at the Yucca tonight.

IT'S DIFFERENT HERE

MIAMI, Fla.—Customs of the "old country" are strange and one brought to light in the divorce suit filed by Anna Drahose here against John Drahose of Prague, Czechoslovakia, is one of the strangest yet heard of. It seems that he sent her over here to "obtain employment" and send him money on which to live in idleness. She did, for awhile, but finding customs different in the United States, stopped her "foolishness" and sued for divorce.

BROTHERS NAMED CO-CAPTAINS ON ODESSA TEAM

George and Will Fore Whittenberg, well-known star brothers or brother stars of the Odessa Bronchos, settled a dilemma and at the same time held up a family tradition by being elected co-captains for the 1930 Bronch squad at the annual football banquet last Thursday evening, says the Odessa News-Times. It seems that there has been at least one Whittenberg star on the Odessa football teams since the first pigskin was booted and the last Whittenberg to play, "Speck," was captain of the team. Since both George and Will Fore had starred on this year's team, Gerge at quarter and Bill at half, and since both were coming back for the next season, something had to be done.

The problem was solved by having co-captains for next year, both of equal standing. George was selected on the first ballot as one of the captains and Bill won out on the second balloting.

The election was held as the final feature of the annual football banquet, sponsored by the business men of the town, and given in honor of the football team. The banquet was served at 8:00 Thursday evening in the banquet room of the Home Economics department at the high school. The dinner was served by the girls of the Home Economics club.

Guests for the occasion included members of the team as guests of honor, and their ladies, members of the faculty, and a few others. Decorations and the entire program carried out the football idea.

OPENS HATCHERY

One of the largest hatcheries in the Southwest and largest in West Texas was recently installed in Odessa by the Imperial Poultry Farm, and is one of the finest and most modern poultry farms in the South, an expenditure of approximately $100,000, says the Odessa News-Times.

The hatchery began operation Jan. 6th, and will continue through June and although just started over a hundred orders for baby chicks have been received. The hatchery is of 65,000 egg capacity and is completely electrically equipped and has been installed in an especially designed building of brick and concrete which has three separate ventilating systems that assure a maintenance of an even room temperature at all times. It has an elevator, or conveyor, for delivering the baby chicks from the incubator room to the shipping room, thus eliminating the possibility of any chilling. They are to hatch single-comb, white Leghorn chicks from their own high grade stock exclusively, also expect to do considerable custom hatching this spring.

This farm, when complete, will be one of the most modern, beautiful, and largest poultry farms in the country.

SIMMONS, LAST YEAR'S WINNERS, TAKES OFF FOR A JAUNT

PLAYS THREE OF CONTENDERS IN ONE WEEK

ABILENE, Jan. 13.—The Simmons University Cowboys will start on their second road trip of the season today and play Wayland College, the Canyon Teachers and Texas Tech before they return Friday. Coach Leslie Cranfill will take ten men on the tour.

The Simmons starting line-up in the three games will probably be made up of the four letter men and one recruit which started against S. M. U. and Denton Teachers. They are: Gregg, McCollum, forwards; Matthews, center; Smith and Harrison, guards. Harrison is the new man. Houghton, another letter man, will take over part time duty at one forward. Other men to make the trip are: L. Gregg, forward; Serogins, center; Powell and Hamilton, guards.

Although the Cowboys are far from their form which carried them to a Texas conference championship last year, they are showing some improvement and should be able to hold their own with the opponents on the Plains. Coach Cranfill hopes to have the rough spots ironed out by the time his team returns and be ready for the conference schedule which opens January 25 when the Cowboys meet the Trinity Tigers at Waxahachie.

and table. This reading and study of God's word in the homes would rebuild broken down and unused family altars, and re-kindle the flame of family worship.

"It makes us profoundly solicitous about the welfare of our neighbors. It creates a holy restlessness, a divine desire, to see men and women brought into the kingdom of God. The visiting preacher emphasized the fact that about 60 per cent of church members are reasonably regular in attendance upon the morning services of worship each Sunday, a much smaller percentage at the evening worship, and far less at the mid-week service of prayer." The psalmist wrote: "I went glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord."

"A genuine revival is accompanied by conversions. The minister earnestly asserted that the greatest need of America today, and of the world is a revival of religion. To support this assertion he quoted Roger Babson, eminent statistician as follows: 'The greatest need of business in America is an old time revival of religion.'

"The sermon was well received. After the service, many in the congregation came forward and greeted the visiting minister. "Sunday night the auditorium was fairly well filled again, and Rev. Davis spoke from the text, 'Restore unto me the joy of Thy salvation.' This was also an excellent sermon and showed the large place of joy in the normal Christian life. "Services are announced for each night at 7:30 o'clock, and a cordial invitation is extended people of all other churches to attend the services and participate freely. Wednesday night, however, will vary the program, since the Presbyterian congregation, along with the visiting minister, will attend a special meeting at the Baptist church."

broke one when, as attorney general, he announced for governor against Mrs. Ferguson, who was completing her first term. It would be a daring stroke, but it would, if successful, place where national political honors might find him. He overcame the bugaboo of youth when first elected governor—perhaps he could do the same with the no-third-term tradition.

At least Governor Moody is going to be in the limelight during the coming 30 or 60 days that the state legislature is in session. His proposal for state roads built with convict labor ties into one of the two main issues before the public. It connects the prison reform movement and the road issue. Incidentally it might do away with the demand for a $300,000,000 state road bond issue, which a large majority of the gubernatorial candidates have declared against. As the cigaret ad says, so many people can't be wrong.

thing else that they need ever in future be ashamed of. Both are pretty and clever and full of charm. Prettiness that includes chic; cleverness that is up to date; charm that bubbles irresistibly whether among boys or girls, or among the supposedly dampening older friends of their families. Between them and the rest of their group, which is composed of other girls much like themselves, they have divided the attentions of about every eligible man in New York—one test of a debutante's popularity."

The woman who has just learned that there are such things as stocks and that they "go up," is the easiest victim of the clever swindler because she is greedy, declares Helen Christine Bennett. From the experience of district attorneys, bankers and Better Business Bureaus, she discloses some of the fiendish tricks by which the new woman investor is separated from her money.

Why is it, asks the chief of the Investment Bureau of New York City, that a woman will take the greatest pains to get value in a new gown and then hand over her money to the first fellow that suggests an investment? You know how women shop, they go out and examine textiles, they study up on style, they compare twenty ads in the papers for prices. They visit a half dozen shops to make sure they are right. And then they buy. The same women will nine times out of ten hand a much larger sum than the dresses cost to any Tom, Dick or Harry, with no investigation, no knowledge of what they are offering or of its

MURPHY IN RACE FOR CONGRESSMAN OF DISTRICT 16

E. E. (Pat) Murphy, San Angelo attorney, and former county attorney of Tom Green county has formally announced his candidacy for Congress from the 16th District of Texas to succeed Hon. C. B. Hudspeth. He will make the opening address of his campaign at San Angelo, and between now and the July Primary intends to make an intensive campaign of the entire district.

Murphy is a native of West Texas, a graduate of the San Angelo high school and a graduate of Cumberland University in Tennessee, and Georgetown University and National University (L.L.B.) in Washington, D. C. He was twice elected county attorney of Tom Green county and made an enviable record as a fearless prosecutor. During the war Mr. Murphy enlisted as a buck-private in the San Angelo company of the Texas National Guard and served throughout the war with the 38th division, serving eleven months in France. He rose from the ranks to a Lieutenant during the war. After the war he resumed his practice of law at San Angelo, and was the First Commander of the James J. Goodfellow Post of the American Legion. He is married and has one son, Mr. Murphy is an active member of the First Christian church, and a 32-degree Mason.

In a letter this morning to the Reporter-Telegram Murphy said he would later send out literature setting forth his stand on all issues bearing on his candidacy. He outlined several planks of his platform in the letter.

The lights were installed on Christmas eve.

Gasoline Shipped To Texas Free Of Tax

AUSTIN, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Imported gasoline in Texas from other states of the nation is not liable for occupation tax imposed on its use, the attorney general's department held today.

The opinion was given Comptroller S. H. Terrell, who asked if Fort Worth is subject to payment of the 4-cent state tax on gasoline shipped from Oklahoma.

relative value. If a woman is too lazy to study the investment market, let her use a bank, trust company or some reputable agency to do it for her. But far better, let her inform herself.

Twenty per cent of pensioners of the Civil War died last year, leaving but 59,945 on the pension rolls.

Boy Scouts To Aid With Program

Special arrangements have been made for a patriotic program at the Baptist church Wednesday night when all the churches of Midland meet there in celebration of the tenth anniversary of national prohibition.

All four troops of Boy Scouts are to be present, and will give "The American's Creed." The Scouts will give a salute to a large flag to be placed in the church and will recite the oath of allegiance.

Patriotic songs will be sung by the audience. Special music has also been arranged. Several prize essays in the contest sponsored by the W. C. T. U. are to be read and the prizes awarded.

Rev. Guy Davis, who is conducting a revival at the local Presbyterian church, has been asked to give the principal address. Rev. Davis is a capable speaker and will afford an interesting fifteen minutes.

Homer Rader States Views On Publicity

"Suppression of news relative to airplane crashes is not generally believed as being for the best of aviation," Homer Rader, one of three pilots on the regular run of S. A. T. passenger schedule through Midland, said when held over in Midland last week by bad weather which virtually paralyzed air traffic throughout the nation.

Rader, who has a record of more than 4,000 hours in the air since finishing army training at Fort Kelly, San Antonio, believes in playing newspaper accounts of air crashes, but in a legitimate way.

"For instance," he said, "it looks bad for aviation when the newspaper stretches a banner line 'heavy type across the top of a front page when there has been a death from a plane crash, when below, in much smaller type, there is a bare account of four deaths from an automobile or train collision."

"Another thing, the newspapers too often have deceptive headlines, I recall one from a Chicago paper: 'Plane Falls; Two Are Killed.' I looked down in the story to see if the aviators were known to me, and found that no one in the plane had been hurt, after all; that a plane had fallen, and that two persons in an automobile rushing to the wreck were killed when their speeding car overturned."

Rader has his own views on the advancement of aviation. For instance, he pointed out the value of passenger airlines in maintaining close touch with the public through record flights, safety principals, and the like. He watches for the time when he will merely have to plug in on his instrument panel to listen to radio reports on meteorological conditions. Then he feels his passengers will have all the protection necessary to air travel of the future.

GIRL'S LIFE AS ARAB

PARIS.—The recent erection of a monument here to Isabelle Eberhardt, brings to mind the girl's romantic career. She was the daughter of a French soldier in Africa. She liked the desert life and decided to adopt it. She dressed in Arab clothing and lived for years among the desert tribesmen without her nationality or sex being suspected.

FROG STADIUM TO BE ENLARGED TO SEAT BIG CROWD

FORT WORTH, Jan. 13.—Definite plans for a new football stadium for Texas Christian University have been formulated. The stadium will seat 30,000 people (so constructed that it can be enlarged to seat 50,000) and will be ready for the 1930 football season.

Parking space will be provided for some 10,000 automobiles, a feature not found in connection with any other stadium in the Southwest. The location will be immediately west of the university buildings, 30 acres of land, now owned by the University Land corporation, having been given for that purpose.

The stadium will be erected by the Texas Christian University Stadium association and its cost will be $300,000. Arrangements have been made for the handling of $150,000 first mortgage 6 per cent bonds; and another issue of $150,000 second mortgage 6 per cent bonds will be sold throughout the state to the public. With the purchase of each $100 bond will go an option for life on one reserved seat for all T. C. U. games played in the stadium.

Amon C. Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, heads the committee that is handling the stadium project. Other prominent civic leaders are members of the committee. Another committee, in company with two architects, will leave next week for a visit to other athletic plants throughout the country.

Dallas Cotton Market

The cotton market was comparatively narrow during the morning session after a slight gain on opening prices had sagged due to uncertainty and nervousness over the next move by the farm board. Trade was awaiting announcement from Washington. During the morning, some buying was reported on official figures of Texas December rainfall, showing 1.68 inches for the month, practically half inch under normal. Opening values were irregular 2 higher to 4 lower, with July in New York selling 17.31, March 17.50, May 17.76, or 1 to 2 point over Saturday's close which was followed by a sagging tendency. Although there was no evidence of pressure, January held relatively firm, while March eased off to 17.40, May 17.65, July 17.82, or 7 to 9 net lower during midmorning. Selling was not active, while sufficient demand from trade sources was evident to absorb offerings on noon calls the list was unchanged to 5 points net lower.

Program

(1) The portrait of Thomas Jefferson, not Samuel, is on two-dollar bills. (2) "Cheque" should be check, when it has reference to a lunch check. (3) The man at the right could not spend a new yellow-back, as all of the new bills are green-backs. (4) President Garfield's picture is not on any of the new bills. (5) The scrambled word is LIGHTNING.

Louis Winer, of Chicago, former Crane College star, will get a tryout with the New York Giants this Spring.

HORNED TOADS TO START BASEBALL BEFORE SPRING

FOR WORTH, Jan. 13.—Retaining hopes that the Horned Frogs will begin this season where they left off last, Coach Dutch Meyer, varsity baseball mentor of Texas Christian University, is getting things in readiness for the coming training campaign, which he hopes to inaugurate about February 3 with the call for pitchers and catchers. All other candidates will report a week later.

The Frogs finished the season last year in fourth place in conference standing, though at the close the team had made a marked improvement over its early season showing. Meyer believes that the team's chances will be greatly enhanced by the fact only two squad men were lost through graduation, and the squad will have profited by another season of play. A number of excellent prospects will be up from freshmen team.

Payrolls mean permanency!

Institutions with payrolls, either large or small, operating in Midland, are contributing much more to the permanent development of the city than the largest of investments which do not require numbers of employees to carry on the daily work.

Midland people will do themselves a favor to patronize institutions with payrolls which are spent in Midland. They are adding to the wealth of the community, helping to increase the population and to increase property values.

Any institution with a payroll will increase its payroll as its business increases. More employees are needed to handle a greater volume of business. These employees spend their money with other business institutions of the city, and all business is expanded either directly or indirectly.

Patronize institutions whose payrolls are spent in Midland.
