State Rested After Father Of Girl Testified

AUSTIN, Jan. 28.—(AP)—The prosecution rested the case suddenly today in the murder trial of John Brady, after A. G. B. Highsmith, fifth and last witness, briefly described Lehlia, 28 year old daughter, for whose knife slaying, Brady is on trial.

The defense did not cross examine Highsmith, who said he met Brady through his daughter who described him as a "nice man" who helped her get a job as stenographer in the capitol court room.

Recess Granted
After district attorney Brooks announced "the state rests", the defense lawyers obtained a recess until 2 o'clock.

Dr. H. R. Scott, of the emergency hospital, testified of the girl's wounds, saying that she was semi-conscious and weak from loss of blood, dying just after one o'clock on the morning of November 10.

Mrs. R. B. Crider, operator of a rooming house, who said she saw Brady "strike" Lehlia, was cross examined at length.

RAIN PRECEDES COLDER WEATHER IN THIS SECTION

Rain at Lamesa was reported this morning while precipitation was being recorded here, with sleet and 30 degree temperature at Lubbock, according to information received over the wires of the West Texas Gas company. At Deal, north of Amarillo, the temperature was 20 degrees. The temperature here at that time was 38 degrees.

With temperature here at a minimum of 35 degrees early this morning, colder weather is predicted over West Texas tonight, with fair weather for tonight and Wednesday.

Moisture fell slowly, at intervals, through the first half of the day. Reports from the surrounding country were meagre, and ranchmen had been unable to hear from the outlying sections as to the extent of the rainfall.

Cattlemen To Texas Town For Big Sale

A group of Odessa and Midland cattlemen will be in Hereford Thursday for the McDonald & Ivy sale of 80 head of Anxiety IV strain Hereford cattle.

Henry Barr, Charlie Fristow, "Doc" Cobble and John M. Gist left in Gist's car this morning for the cattle town, and it is expected that O. B. Holt Jr., Spence Jewell and two other Midland cattlemen will leave here Wednesday for the sale.

Gist shipped from Odessa this morning 40 yearling bulls to Lee Clayton at Clarkesdale, Ariz. These, with 100 other bulls sold during the past month, were from the Gist-raised herd.

Gist said he would load his famous show herd March 1 for Albany, thence to Sweetwater and then to Fort Worth for showings. He will sell part of his herd at each place.

Limitations on Youth Prohibition in U. S. A Wife's Face Ector's Program

By R. C. Hankins

El Paso music stores are becoming hard hearted, or at least signs on them attest to this. "No Smoking," "No Necking," "You Must Pay for Broken Records." Other signs. It's back to the sofa or parked car for the love-lorn of that city.

Those who like the waltz are to see it come back under new conditions. It is possibly an axiom that the waltz comes when women's clothing requires it. Long, trailing evening gowns with attendant grace and demureness are responsible this time. And music will change. Some of the blare and circus ballyhoo will have to be stifled.

Joe Zell had had such a champagne business in America for the past few years that he is planning to come to America to see what he can do about pleasing his customers even more. He has his own ideas about "dry America." So do Americans.

A. U. P. writer says manufacture of liquor in the United States, except for medical purposes, is illegal but making of cocktail shakers and hip flasks is not.

People who visit the Savoy bar are showing a great deal of interest in the half-gallon shaker made in America now used to mix drinks for London patrons. They wonder at the workmanship on an article supposedly not used in America.

In the large cocktail shaker there is a lemon squeezer in the lid, an ice breaker, a graduated dial to show how full it is, a little window through which you can see the color of the cocktail, a thermometer to register its exact temperature and numerous other gadgets.

And here's something else to show what Americans create in the way of an impression to the foreigner:

Sir Charles Igglesden, one of the party of 100 British journalists who visited the United States in 1923, has just published a book about the "land of bad tea and wild parties"—the United States.

He says about drinking as he observed it in the United States, "Pandemonium reigns supreme. At early hours of the morning the yelling in the hotels is fearful. Jugs, bottles, glasses and earthenware of all sorts is hurled out of the windows, especially before collegiate football contests. Hotel corridors are filled with intoxicated young men and women, the latter mostly pretty girls in evening dress, but in such a state that they dance and sing in the manner of a village."

"Love of the freest kind is said to prevail among the younger people of the better classes, and the same is said of undergraduates, where the two sexes mix freely in the universities. Mad scenes in Chicago and Los Angeles are the result of too much drinking."

The Vicar of Benfleet estimates that during the average marriage a man sees his wife's face at breakfast 10,000 times, "a pretty severe test of human nature."

The vicar might have said something more about the test this imposes, without merely using statistics.

Ector county, through the Odessa chamber of commerce, has adopted a most extensive agricultural, diversified stock raising program for this year, and has appointed J. P. Donnell, M. V. Skinner, Marcus Gist, S. R. McKinney, W. L. Terry and Turner E. Campe to carry (See BAS-RELIEF, on page 6)

Were young Danny Cupid a football player, one might say that he stopped "Father" Lumpkin in his tracks. They were married recently at midnight. Sure, they eloped.

FIVE KILLED AS FLAMING PLANE FALLS IN SNOW

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 28.—(UP)—A black mark on the snow of an open field marked the place today where five persons were crushed and burned to death in a flaming airplane last night. Trouble while aloft caused the plane to crash at 150 feet. The wreckage was twisted and charred.

The dead were the pilot, Dyke Landeman, Kansas City, Margaret Dice, St. Joseph, C. R. McKinnon, Chicago, James Eggert, Chicago and William Flynn, Kansas City. An investigation today caused investigators to believe that the plane controls broke.

Appointments Of Moody Up To Senate

AUSTIN, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Governor Moody today sent to the senate for confirmation of the names of fifty persons given appointments. Included were John Valls, Laredo, district attorney for the 49th district; Clara Calhoun, Borger, district attorney for the 34th district; and Moore Lynn, Dallas, acting state auditor, confirmation of whom will be contested.

The senate committee on the governor's nominations will not consider the appointments until next week after the return of Senator W. A. Williamson, chairman of the group, from Chicago.

Confirmation of Valls is opposed for alleged discourteous treatment of Mexican citizens resulting in the closing of the Mexican consulate at Laredo.

Borger and Hutchinson county residents commissioned Senator Small to oppose Calhoun's nomination. Lynn's confirmation is opposed on the grounds that he employed outside help in conflict with terms of the law creating the office.

Evans To Write For This Paper

The hot stove league is playing now in mid-season form. With the big league teams about to start for the south for spring training, baseball fans have renewed their interest in the national game.

Billy Evans, newspaperman and former American League umpire, has written a series of articles on baseball for the Reporter-Telegram. The first of these is printed on today's sports page.

Conspirators To Have Blown Up Public Buildings

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Mexico City police claimed today to have frustrated a plot to assassinate President Emilio Portes Gil and President-elect Pascual Ortiz Rubio, to blow up several public buildings and to seize administration of the government.

Of 119 persons arrested, 17 are said to have confessed connection with the plot. The two released were women who proved their innocence.

COLORFUL MAN

The Mexican president-to-be is one of the most colorful men ever to be known in politics of that country.

His career after school days makes a quick moving biography, colorful and full of the man's ability. His revolutionary ideas, dating from 1909 in the anti-re-electionist party, have always been based on his personal sense of right. He was an active participant in the revolution begun by Madero in 1909, fighting in the ranks with troops from Michoacan.

After the establishment of the government with Madero as president in 1911, Rubio was elected to the state assembly of Michoacan and later to the national congress as representative of his state.

During General Victoriano Huerta's presidential term, Rubio was chairman and chief instigator of the anti-government block in congress, and as a result was cast into (See MEXICAN PLOT, on page 6)

Held As Suspects In Hijacking Here

Two men have been bound over awaiting action of the February term of district court on charges in connection with the alleged hijacking of the Cozy Corner hamburger stand here Sunday evening.

One of these gave his name as Munn, the other Wikerson.

Two women, Alma Dansby and Ida Hales, were "stuck" up by one of the men, they told police. Immediate search resulted in locating Munn, and $5.36 in cash was taken from him. The woman said this amount practically covered what was taken from their stand when they were forced at the point of a gun to open a cash register by one of the men who wore a towel across his face.

Seven Lives Lost As Shack Is Burned

FREDERICK, Colo., Jan. 28.—(AP)—Seven persons burned to death in a fire in a two room shack today. Mrs. Paul Martinez, her five children, thirteen months to fifteen years of age, and a minor named Newton lost their lives.

Newton discovered the fire and broke into the shack through a window. He was burned fatally trying to rescue the family.

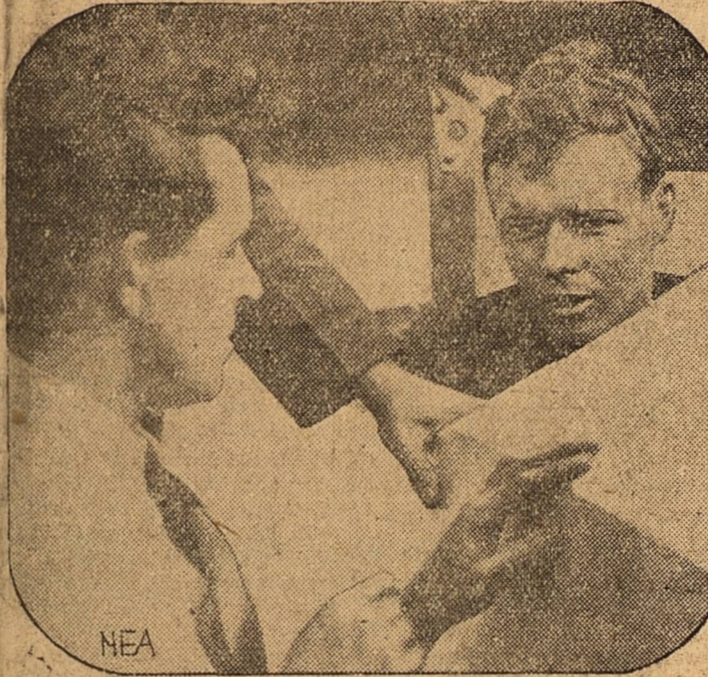

BULLETIN

Goal for the drive is 200 new members. Fifty-seven are already on the membership list. Eighteen men are making the drive. A directors meeting tonight will result in committee-n for the year being named.

PRISON BILL TO BE CONSIDERED BY WHOLE HOUSE

AUSTIN, Jan. 28.—(AP)—The house today voted to withdraw the penitentiary reorganization bills from the committee and to begin consideration of them as a committee of the whole.

The senate, sitting as a committee of the whole, neared a choice from the three bills. Speakers Barron, named chairman of the house committee, termed the penitentiary problem the "paramount question before the people of Texas."

Representative Beck said the problem had resolved itself into whether the prison system be centralized near Austin or concentrated on the present lands owned by it.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(AP)—Demands for speedy action on pending bills to regulate commercial aviation, to require the department of commerce to make public its findings about causes of civil aviation crashes, was made in the senate today as attention was called to the recent crash in California and the one yesterday near Kansas City, killing five.

Taxpayers Slow In Spite Of Deadline

Including today, there remain only four days in which taxpayers may pay their county, state and independent school taxes, and only a steady crowd has been in evidence the two days of this week at the sheriff's office.

Sheriff A. C. Francis warned the public Sunday that there would have to be about $43,000 a day paid if taxpayers got through the week without having anyone left over. Approximately one-fourth of this amount was paid Monday.

Knowles Takes Place Of J. M. Gilmore

Judge J. M. Knowles, former county judge of Midland county, was named by Mayor Leon Goodman to take over duties attached to the office of police judge.

The office was vacated through death of J. M. Gilmore a few days ago.

The mayor had held the office the few days between Judge Gilmore's death and the appointment of Judge Knowles.

HOLDER AND BENNETT TO HOLD MATCH

Purse Of $1,500 At Stake In Contest February 7

Allen Holder's loss by a slight margin in the calf roping contest against Bob Crosby at Abilene last Saturday served merely to get him ready for a big match of the same character to be held here February 7.

Hugh Bennett, well known roper, steer bull dogger and college athlete, who hails from a ranch near Plains, Texas, north of here, challenged Holder to meet him in a match wherein each will rope 20 calves for a $1,500 purse, and Holder has accepted.

Bennett was here today making preliminary arrangements for the match, and although all details were not completed, he said it was probable that Cowden Park would be the roping arena.

Calves Plenty Tough
Big tough calves will be furnished by Clarence Scharbauer, selected by John Dublin who knows calves at their toughest, and two ropers who have won money in the world's biggest rodeos will provide a real show for Midland people and those from the surrounding country.

Holder, who lives at Rankin and spends much time here, needs no introduction. He and his famous horse, Coon Dog, are what people here think about when calf roping is mentioned.

Hugh Bennett, living about 100 miles to the north, is likewise as well known as Holder, Bob Crosby and Jake McClure. These boys have made all of the big rodeos for years, and it would be hard to tell which one has beaten the others out the greatest number of times.

Has Many Records
Bennett won first in calf roping at Great Falls, Montana, last July 4; first at Kiowa, Kansas; day money at Cheyenne; day money in calf roping and third place in steer roping at Pendleton, Oregon; day money three days at New York in October, also money in bull dogging; a first, two seconds in bull dogging and day money in calf roping at Chicago.

Closer home, Bennett won highest average in calf roping at the last rodeos at Pecos and Fort Stockton, averaging 20 1-5 seconds on three calves at Pecos and 22 2-5 on the same number at Fort Stockton.

Hugh Bennett is 23 years old, lives on the ranch at Plains, and for the past three years has attended Abilene Christian college at Abilene. He played end on the football squad of (See FAMOUS ROPERS, on page 6)

OIL MEN GATHER FOR TARIFF MEET TULSA WEDNESDAY

Telegrams received from oil men over the country insure the largest attendance ever held by oil men at the oil tariff meeting Wednesday at Tulsa, according to a message to the Reporter-Telegram from Wirt Franklin, president of the Independent Petroleum association.

The meeting will be held at the Mayo hotel there.

A number of special pullmans will be run from concentration points, Franklin said.

He points out that the general public has concluded that the benefits of cheap crude oil are not necessarily followed by low prices on refined products, and that this conclusion is of material assistance to the industry in a fight for protection against foreign importations.

Penalty follows failure to pay taxes on time.

IT IS YOUR ORGANIZATION?

Midland's chamber of commerce has become so well known for its efficiency over the country, as well as at home, that people have taken its work throughout the year as a matter of course.

There is a satisfaction in having an organization so well managed that it goes right on working, but it isn't the best policy to stand back and take it as a matter of course, leaving the routine and activities to its officers, directors and salaried executive and employees.

The annual banquet of the chamber will be held Thursday night, this being the time for delivery of the annual report, election of directors and officers for the next year; and opportunity will be given for suggesting plans and activities for the year.

If you haven't secured your ticket to the banquet, do so at once and register yourself as one citizen who takes a keen interest in the work of your chamber of commerce.

OUR GREATEST PROBLEM

The toll of motor vehicle fatalities continues to go up. In 1929 our automobiles killed 31,000 people—a rise of 13 per cent over the figures of the year before.

And yet we are all excited because the new "parrot disease" has killed a couple of dozen people!

We aren't doing a thing to reduce this casualty list. Year by year it continues to mount; and year by year we read the figures, say "Yes, it's awful" and go on as we were before. If something is not done, our automobiles soon will be killing as many people each year as heart disease.

Here is a problem that is as urgent as any other problem we have. It demands action of the most drastic sort, and it demands it at once. But it is a safe bet that it will be another five years, at the very least, before we are sufficiently aroused to do anything about it.

KEEP MEDICINES LOCKED UP

Three Indiana children played "hospital" the other day. One youngster, aged 6, took the part of the doctor. He prescribed for the other two some pills he found in a medicine cabinet at home. The pills were not poisonous; simply physic pills. But one of his two playmates died from their effects—which, since she ate six of them, is not surprising.

This pathetic little story serves to emphasize again the responsibility that rests on all parents. No medicines of any kind, poisonous or otherwise, should ever be left in places where small children can get at them. If they cannot be put out of reach they should be kept under lock and key. No other way is safe.

A few months ago, I would have favored drastic measures toward disarming all drivers of automobiles who use horns that sounded like the bellows of a four year old steer. However, these horns seem to have lost their popularity and are fading out.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Dr. Glen Frank's Suggestion of a Third House of Congress to Replace the Existing Unofficial Lobby Is Theoretically Sound, but There is a Host of Obstacles in the Way

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Dr. Glen Frank, the president of the University of Wisconsin, has made one of those drastic proposals for governmental reform which might be good, bad, awful or terrible in its effect, but which Congress will not approve for an indefinite number of decades.

His suggestion is for a third house of Congress which would provide the country with "expert, unbiased advice" upon all legislative proposals. This suggestion was made long before Dr. Frank made it and there are several ideas about the possible functions of a third house. These ideas always are advanced whenever there is wide public discussion of revelations about the lobbyists, known as the "third house" since way back into the last century.

Would Replace Lobbies
The new third house would be designed to represent officially the groups which are now represented by lobbies. That is what Dr. Frank appears to have in mind, though he speaks of a "House of Technology" and "unbiased advice" and election of members because of wide and accurate knowledge.

Some students of politics have proposed a purely advisory third house with no more than the power to propose legislation, while others believe it should have voting power similar to those of the Senate and House whose members are elected on the theory of popular representation.

Whatever prerogatives might be given to this new chamber there would seem to be frightful difficulties in determining who was to be represented in it and how much. The problem, for instance, of deciding the relative proportions of representation to be granted industry, agriculture and labor would be one which no disinterested man in his right mind would care to tackle. A thousand and more organizations of every description would clamor for seats and some might well demand scores of seats.

Off-hand one can't think of any yardstick by which their claims could be satisfactorily adjudicated. The country wouldn't stand for it if invested wealth were made the basis of representation and invested wealth would wreck the project if representation were awarded to organizations on the size of their memberships. The American Railway Association, the Farm Bureau Federation, the A. F. of L., the American Legion, the Anti-Saloon League and the American Bankers' Association could each easily decide how much representation it should have, but who could possibly decide between them? And what about the existing national organizations of hoboes, pedestrians and circus fans—and the Anticigarette League?

It does not seem as if many of us would live to see this proposed third house; and yet the theory of it is plausible enough.

Representation in Congress is actually chaotic. The senator or the congressman theoretically represents all the people in his district. Actually he may be elected by and responsible to industrial interests, farmers, the Ku Klux Klan, a strong labor constituency, the W. C. T. U. or any other organized group. He votes for the cause of those who can force him to listen.

Voters do not organize as such to give collective expression to their individual ideas and aspirations. If a voter has a strong economic or moral interest to further or protect he joins a society or national association favoring that interest. To the extent that they represent groups of citizens with interest in politics and legislation they become a representative agency toward the government. One of them may represent more citizens than can be found in a dozen congressional districts.

An Out-of-Date Division
Men live their lives not as citizens of a given state or congressional district, but as members of business, social, fraternal and economic units. Their interests lie not in wards or precincts, but in those units. This means, Dr. Frank points out, that we have an old-fashioned political order along with a new technical civilization, the two of them maladjusted. The voter cannot possibly keep well-informed on many national issues, but he can be informed on those matters of interest to his own class or group.

The All-Russian Congress in the Soviet Union is made up of representatives of the various types of workers, farmers and professional men with more regard for the class than for territorial division. Germany has a National Economic Council containing spokesmen for nine groups of industries, businesses, professions and occupations which has power to initiate bills and give official opinions on bills relating to social and economic problems. Elsewhere in Europe organized groups are being given more part in government. Over here we have the lobbies and lately we have been learning how they work.

Plans For Future Activity Made At Meeting of Auxiliary

Exceptionally good attendance and interest was reported from the two circles of the Presbyterian Auxiliary with Circle One having nineteen members present and Circle Two, eighteen.

Circle One, which met with Mrs. S. E. Cragin, opened its meeting with singing, "Have Thine Own Way, Lord."

Mrs. Florence Richardson, leader, offered a prayer, after which business of the circle was taken up. It was decided to give a style show, in connection with Everybody's store, to raise money for the treasury. The show will probably be given the last week in February. Enthusiastic plans were made to attend the all-day meeting to be held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Andrew Faskin. The group also decided to give a missionary play some time in February. The play was written by Mrs. Richardson.

Mrs. Margaret Murray led the devotional, which was the 103rd psalm, after which she led in prayer.

The group sang "More Love To Thee."

"Chinese Witnesses" was the subject of the program and those giving interesting papers were Mmes. T. C. Heard, Arthur Stout, Andrew Faskin, and Florence Richardson.

Mrs. Cragin, assisted by Mrs. W. P. Knight and J. M. DeArmond, served coffee, and plum pudding topped with whipped cream.

Visitors to the Circle were Mmes. Virginia Adams, W. S. Blackman and Margaret Murray.

Circle Two, which met with Mrs. C. W. Alcorn, studied the same lesson and opened their meeting with the song "Tell Somebody Today."

Mrs. R. C. Crabb led in prayer, after which the leader, Mrs. T. R. Wilson, led a business discussion in which plans were made for a unique entertainment to be given soon. A committee, composed of Mmes. C. W. Alcorn, J. M. Caldwell, L. O. Smith, and T. D. Kimbrough, was appointed to make arrangements for this entertainment.

The program opened with the devotional by Mrs. T. R. Wilson, after which interesting stories of the faith of Chinese Christians were told by Mmes. J. M. Caldwell, L. O. Smith, R. C. Crabb and Joan Gossett.

After the song, "Go As Witnesses," Mrs. Thomas D. Murphy led the closing prayer.

The hostess served salad, wafers and coffee.

Guests of the circle were Mmes. Jusselmann, and R. L. McCormick.

The Defenders

By Truda Dahl

TRUE, it's only a Showman they're defending now and they're making the best sport in the world of the game. But let me tell you, should the time ever come when they have to act as defenders for the man of their dreams, they'll be just as serious and whole-hearted about—more so, I'm sure—than they are now in their playtime.

Thought or fear for the future. Each hour is play hour for them, but don't hold that against them. For when the time comes when Love claims them for his own, when the playtime is gone, then they will settle down to defend all that life holds dear. And they'll be far more in earnest about the real job than they are about the play one. So don't criticize and don't fear for them. PERT SUE CAROL LETS DOWN SKIRTS, HIDES BOB UNDER RED WIG

Sue Carol is no longer a "flapper." She is an unsophisticated girl of the mountains and plains in "The Lone Star Ranger," Fox Movietone all talking romantic drama of the South West, adapted from Zane Grey's widely read book, and the current feature at the Ritz Theatre.

Miss Carol plays opposite George O'Brien who enacts the leading role of Buck Duane, a man of might in a background of powerful passions. She appears as Mary Aldridge, about whom most of the romance of this out of doors epic revolves.

Miss Carol was not only compelled to change her style of acting, but the mode of her costume and the color of her hair. She has red hair in this production and it becomes her so well that before the picture was finished she had about decided on auburn as a permanent shade for her bobbed tresses.

A cast made up of actors experienced in this type of picture supports O'Brien and Miss Carol.

Talk on Study—Mrs. Bob Osborne.

Discussion of W. M. U. Plans for Study—Mrs. Ben Thomas.

The leader gave a few remarks on the lesson, in closing, and Mrs. Clarence Ligon closed the meeting with a prayer.

Big kernels in small shells IN ADDITION to the advertisements of the big department stores, of the grocery and hardware stores, of the millinery, clothing and shoe stores, there is another kind of advertising that is being read more and more by readers of this newspaper. That kind of advertising is the Classified Columns. A man or woman wants a job. They read the "Help Wanted" columns and probably insert an advertisement of their own under "Positions Wanted." Employer and job seeker soon get together to the benefit of both. A man may want an automobile—possibly he cannot afford a new car, so he looks in the "Used Car" columns and finds just the car at the price he can afford to pay. Some one has lost a pocket-book, valuable papers or even a pet dog. The "Lost and Found" columns soon bring loser and finder together. The Classified Columns are so arranged that any one can readily find what he seeks quickly—business news, machinery and tools, household goods, horses, dogs, cats, canaries, etc. They enable you to locate what you are looking for in short order. So in reading advertising do not overlook the classified columns—the individual advertisements do not take up much room, but like the meaty nut they may contain a big kernel in a small shell—just for you. Parents of Memphis' Most Beautiful Girl Have Never Seen Her Face—They Are Blind

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Everyone else in Memphis may admire the beauty of Ruth Furr, 18, chosen as Memphis' most beautiful high school girl, but her parents cannot see their daughter's face—they never have and never will.

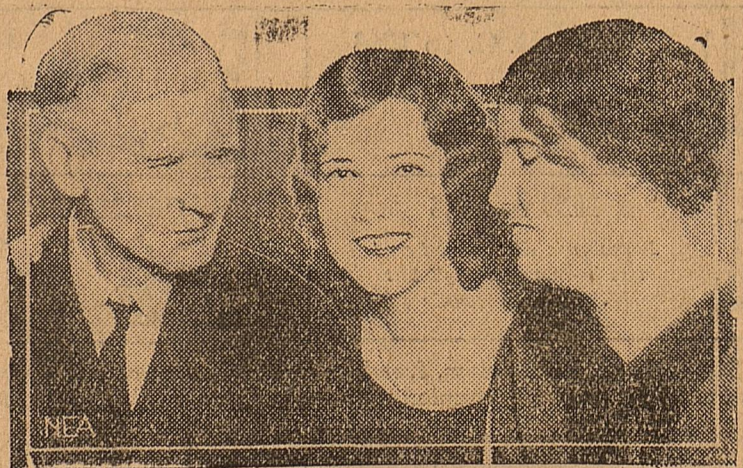

For both Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Furr are blind, and have been for their lifetimes.

When Ruth returned home from Humes high school the other day and told her mother she had just been elected the most beautiful high school girl, Mrs. Furr smiled and patted her sensitive fingers over her daughter's face.

"I know you are beautiful, honey, even though I can't see you," the mother said.

Every Sunday since she was three years old Ruth had led her mother by the hand to the Third Christian church, where Mrs. Furr, despite her blindness, is an organist.

"I don't judge beauty by physical appearances alone," Mrs. Furr said. "Real beauty is in the soul and in the personality. Ruth is a happy girl and she helps me around the house—makes me comfortable and happy all the time. So I know she is beautiful."

Blindness has not cast a shadow over the family. The home is happy and cheerful. Mr. Furr, Ruth's father, is not entirely blind—that is, he can see very slightly with powerful glasses. Until a year ago he was in charge of a broom factory for the blind. Now he spends his days at home, living in his world of shadows and worshipping the beautiful daughter whose face he cannot see.

BASEBALL FANS HERE FIND INTEREST IN NEW POSSIBILITIES

TIAA Race Narrows Down to Complexity With Three Teams Tied Fast

MUST DECIDE HOW TEAM IS TO BE RUN DURING SEASON; REPORT SAYS FARM POSSIBILITIES ARE EMINENT

St. Louis Cardinals and Texas League May Figure in Future of League

Would Midland baseball fans like to have some major league team create a farm in Midland? Would they favor some Texas league entry doing so? Or would they prefer Midland attempting to run its own club another year?

These are the things Midland baseball officials would like to know. A meeting is to be called, probably in Coleman, sometime about the first of the month. The matter is certain to arise relative to the preferences of each proposed entry's method of financing itself throughout the season.

The matter has come to a head through reports circulated unofficially to the effect that the Texas league prefers farming out the West Texas league rather than a new league, such as was suggested in a meeting of East Texas teams in Dallas Saturday.

Gardner Favorable
J. Alvin Gardner, proxy of the Texas league, and in the past principal stockholder of the Wichita Falls Spudders, team which farmed out Abilene for two years, is certain to favor farms in this rather than any other league. His influence as head of the Texas loop is far greater than it was when he was merely principal owner of the Wichita Falls team.

A report which came to President Arch Thomas of the Midland team through President Snodgrass, West Texas league president, said the St. Louis Cardinals had discussed with Snodgrass the possibilities of farming out the entire West Texas league.

This is not generally believed probable by baseball officials here, because of the prodigious expense entailed in such action. It does serve, however, to show the interest taken in the West Texas league.

Airey Quoted
Relative to the interest of Texas league clubs in the West Texas loop entries, the Abilene Morning News had the following to say this morning (a story written by Prexy Anderson):

Guy Airey, secretary of the Wichita Falls baseball club, who had a big hand in getting the West Texas league organized in 1929, is on the job again with intentions of repeating his act this year.

He stopped here Saturday en route to Coleman, and at that time announced plans of returning Monday for a meeting with fans of Abilene who are interested in promoting the circuit for another season. The Spudder secretary was back again yesterday, but finding himself pressed for time, called off the session and stated that he will return at an early date, possibly this week.

A Pleasant Surprise
Airey did bring a favorable report from Coleman. That and the whole scheme of organization will

"Dusty" Waller, Well Known Here Made Assistant Manager Big Hotel

W. H. "Dusty" Waller, popular hotel man known successively to El Paso, dude ranches, Midland and throughout the Baker hotel chain, has been made assistant manager of the Hilton Hotel in Dallas, according to a letter received this morning from J. B. Herndon, Jr., secretary-treasurer of the Hilton Hotels, Inc.

Herndon said: "Waller is a native of El Paso, Texas, where he began his hotel experience in the Paso Del Norte hotel, at which place, he began as the information clerk."

He was also manager of the Hussman Hotel of El Paso, and left there to become manager of Tex be a pleasant surprise for most diamond devotees of West Texas, for the publicity given the proposed East Texas loop had led to the belief that "jig was up" in these parts. There was no definite step taken by Texas league managers in the meeting at Dallas Saturday to discuss aid for the new league, and just as many of the Class A entries seem disposed to lend their support to West Texas teams as there are to help the East Texans.

According to reports appearing in the Fort Worth papers, the Panther outfit will back an entry in West Texas if enough help from other sources develops to put the Snodgrass league on its feet again.

If help comes to Abilene from Wichita Falls in 1930, it will not be without obligations on the part of the local citizenship, as has been the case for two years. Airey indicated to Abilene parties that the Spudders are willing to furnish the park, the players, and assume all financial responsibilities provided a stipulated sum is guaranteed by fans at the outset.

FIVE TILTS WILL BE CARDED FOR THIS WEEK

Championship prospects for nearly half the field of T. I. A. A. teams had been shattered on the rocky road of conference competition at the close of last week's play, while a triple tie existed for the leadership of the organization.

With two victories for each and with no defeats against either, the East Texas Teachers, Daniel Baker, the defending champion, and the San Marcos Teachers were out in front Monday.

Close behind the high perched trio tag the West Texas Buffaloes of Canyon with ambitions fired anew by two topheavy victories over the Abilene Christian college Wildcats Friday and Saturday. The Buffs have won five and lost only one, and since they have only four easy games left on the card, it is foreseen that the team which beats them out must finish with a percentage higher than .900. The score by which Canyon beat the A. C. C. club, 58 to 18 and 53 to 17, represent the most crushing defeats in the basketball history of the Abilene school.

Eight championship contests this week will break the triple tie for the lead and possibly remove every squad in the circuit from the undefeated class. The Daniel Baker Billies face a strenuous test in a six-day trip through the eastern section of the State, stopping with the Sam Houston, Stephen F. Austin and East Texas Teachers in the order named. The San Marcos hoopers will entertain the A. & M. Javelinas, Friday and Saturday in the only other conference series slated. The conference standings, together with points scored by and against each team:

Billy Evans Tells of Big Part Psychology Played in Robertson's Perfect Victory

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles by Billy Evans, recalling great deeds he has witnessed on the diamond.

BY BILLY EVANS
I have umpired in, perhaps, a dozen no-hit games covering my career. While a no-hit game is a secret ambition of every major league pitcher, it is my observation that such contests are not necessarily master feats. I have worked no-hit games in which the pitcher recording the feat showed just ordinary stuff, but was favored by the breaks. I have often seen the opposing pitcher in such a game demonstrate far more ability, only to be beaten. Fate plays a certain part of every no-hit game. Fate can frown as well as smile, for I have seen many a pitcher robbed of a no-hit record with two men down in the ninth, only to have a "fluky" hit go safe. Yet, there is one no-hit game that is indelibly written on my memory. It was a superb bit of pitching against one of the hardest hitting teams in the annals of baseball. Detroit was the victim, and Charley Robertson, then just a recruit pitcher of the White Sox turned the trick.

It was in the spring of 1922. Robertson was comparatively unknown; the Detroit club was regarded as a pennant possibility. There came to the majors with Robertson a rumor that he "doctored" the ball.

In the first four innings Detroit sluggers hit a half dozen balls hard but always directly at some fielder. The Tigers were peeved. Unable to get the ball safe, they began to look for an alibi. The contention was raised that Robertson was "doing something funny" to the ball.

From the fourth inning on the Tigers paid far more attention to taking issue with the legality of Robertson's pitching than trying to hit the ball. The White Sox recruit merely smiled, tossing the ball to the umpire for inspection every time the Detroit batters complained.

Realizing the value of psychology and knowing the Detroit club was paying close attention to his every action, Robertson decided to play on their emotions.

Often, before delivering the ball, he would carefully scan the cover. Occasionally he would hold the ball in one hand and pass the other hand over the cover as if testing its weight. He did any number of other fool things further to excite the curiosity of the Tigers. How well he succeeded in his efforts is shown by the box score of that game. Detroit was blanked without a hit or run, not a man reaching first base. The Tigers didn't hit a ball hard after the fifth inning.

That was a great exhibition of pitching, principally because it was a no-hit, no-run game in which not a batter reached first. However, the remarkable part of that game was the fact that Robertson's pitching improved the more the Detroit club sought to harass him.

Plans Made For Big Lamesa Tournament

LAMESA.—Arrangements have been completed for Lamesa's fourth annual Class B basketball tournament to be held here February 7 and 8, according to F. T. McCollum, who is in charge.

Invitations were sent out this week to twenty-six schools on the Lower South Plains and in parts of New Mexico. Thirteen schools have accepted the invitations by letters. McCollum states. Included on the list of teams invited are Seminole, Tatum, Lovington, Big Spring, Stanton, Lubbock, Fluvans, Coahoma, McCary, Klondyke, Wilson, O'Donnell, Lou, Patricia, Ackerly, Sparenburg, Key, Hancock, Ira, Liberty and Woody.

Cups are to be awarded to first, second and third place winners while special awards will be made to individual players of the outstanding cage teams, McCollum states. One cup will be awarded for conservation, it is said.

The tournament is being held for Class B teams in this district as well as for second teams of Class A schools. The gathering will see plenty of championship material on the floor of the local high school gym. It is expected.

THE NEW GAUGE OF MOTOR OIL VALUE:

"Penetrative Lubricity"

What it Is . . . What it Does

PENETRATIVE lubricity is the new gauge of motor oil value that is agitating the oil world. And this unique term can be applied to only one motor oil in North America: Conoco Germ-Processed!

Under test, this oil reduces motor friction to a greater degree than does any competitive oil . . . that's lubricity!

The microscope proves that this oil penetrates the very "pores" of the metal . . . and there deposits millions of tiny oil reservoirs . . . that's penetration!

This "carry-over" feature of Germ-Processed oils, the result of Penetrative Lubricity, protects your motor from wear when driving at high speed . . . on long pulls . . . under all climatic conditions . . . and even if the supply of oil should become very low.

Moreover, the extra "oiliness," or lubricity of this new Conoco product by tests on friction testing machines shows a reduction of 15% in friction, hence you can realize what that means in increasing your gasoline mileage and reducing motor operating temperatures.

What Penetrative Lubricity Means in Every-Day Driving

It is Penetrative Lubricity that gives Conoco Germ-Processed oils that motor-saving "carry-over" film that prevents your driving an oilless motor, no matter what the operating conditions. The most frequent abuse of automobile motors, all unintentional by their owners, comes during the first 5 to 15 minutes after starting. Engineers agree that 40% to 60% of all motor wear occurs then, due to this fact.

You will be glad to know that in those crucial moments, this "carry-over" of Germ-Processed oils . . . the reserve lubrication in those millions of tiny reservoirs . . . protects your motor adequately.

Only Conoco Oils are Germ-Processed

Conoco Germ-Processed Oils bring you the first fundamentally new lubricant of the century. The isolation of the Germ-Essence by Wells and Southcombe, was the long-needed step to make a mineral oil capable of withstanding the stress of modern motor design. As automobiles have changed since 1901, so have the demands for better oil. Germ-Processed oils supplied that demand, with the amazing characteristic:

Penetrative Lubricity.

Go now to the Sign of the Red Triangle, and give your motor the lubricant it deserves.

BARBS

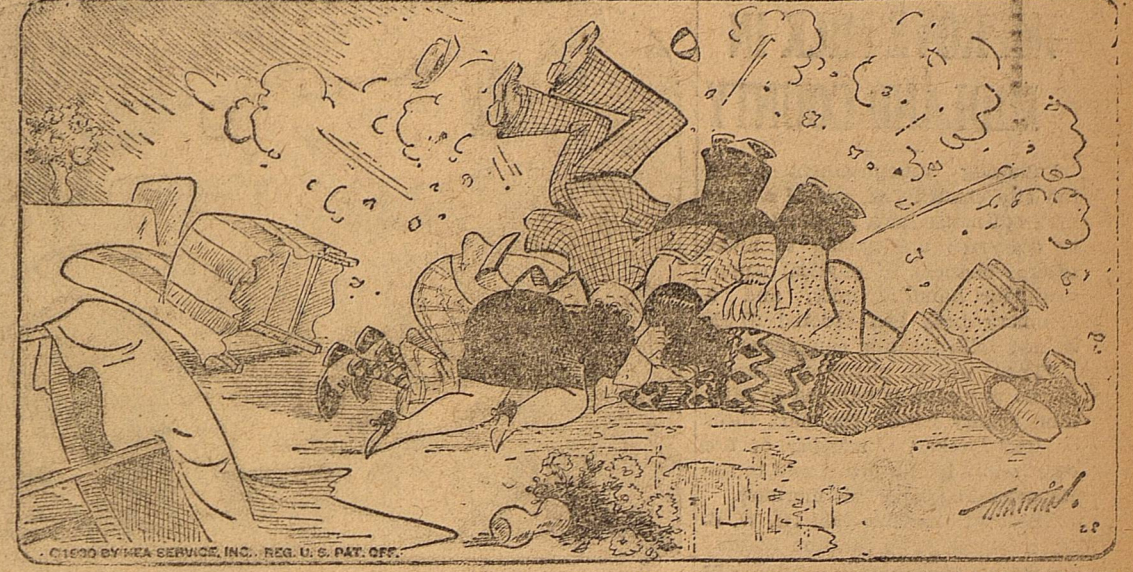

The average man doesn't know enough about women's clothes, says a magazine writer. Well, all he needs to know is the price. According to last reports published in the Huron County (Mich.) Tribune, Mrs. Dan MacDonald was doing as well as could be expected under the care of Dr. Holdship. We hope Mrs. Dan overcame the handicap.

The new mayor of an Indiana town had a new lock put on each door in the city hall. Rather decent of his predecessor to leave the doors. STEPS TAKEN TO IMPROVE MILK IN MIDLAND COUNTY

Following announcement that the city council had passed a pure milk ordinance here, Midland county dairymen are having to make several changes in physical equipment for handling milk, and a creamery here has ordered $7,000 in new milk treating equipment.

There will be plenty of changes in the way milk is handled in Midland county within the next three or four weeks, a member of the county-city health board said to the Reporter-Telegram this morning.

The board member said Dr. W. E. Ryan would go to Stanton Sunday for testing milk-handling conditions and methods in Martin county. It is thought that milk from that county will be used extensively in Midland until dairymen of this county can supply plenty of grade A milk.

Reports from Martin county show that Midland can get about 300 gallons of milk from that area each day. It is proposed to pasteurize the milk here and sell it.

Much has been done since the passing of the ordinance to acquaint local dairymen with provisions which must be met. Literature has been mailed from the state sanitary department to them and it is believed that within a comparatively short time the situation will have been much improved in this county.

Has Wonderful Horse

When Coon Dog, Holder's famous horse, steps proudly into the roping arena here February 7, the admiration of the stands will be divided between him and Bennett's horse, Hazel Eyes. The animal is a three-quarter Thoroughbred, raised by Wayne Dolan on the Mashed O ranch near Benjamin.

Whereas Holder's Coon Dog is clipped and trimmed up so that he would look good in any horse show, Bennett prefers to keep Hazel Eyes in his natural range condition, with full growth of mane and tail. A dun-paint, slightly more golden than Coon Dog, Hazel Eyes is the sort of a horse that will draw the admiration of any horse lover.

Tom Nance, friend of the two contestants, will probably be one of the officials, Bennett said today. Tom acted as time keeper in a 5-calf match between Bennett and E. Pardee at Calgary, Canada, last summer. Bennett won the match by 13 seconds, with an average of 23 1-5 seconds.

There will be three time keepers, one tie judge and a foul man or starter in the match here February 7.

It Isn't A Mosquito—It's a Plane!

Elmer Dye, former engineer of the Mahoney Aircraft Company, who helped build Colonel Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis," is pictured above with a new and tiny "flivver" plane of his own construction. Mahoney says the plane cost $1800 to build, operates for a cent a mile, has a landing speed of 30 miles, an air speed of 100 miles per hour and weighs only 350 pounds.

Big Spring To Let Second Viaduct

BIG SPRING.—Contract for the Benton street viaduct over the Texas & Pacific Railroad Co. tracks will be awarded Monday, Feb. 24, according to H. R. Debenport, county judge.

Bids for a reinforced concrete and steel highway viaduct with piers and retaining walls of steel and reinforced concrete will be received by the county judge and the bids will be opened and read publicly in the county court room here, said Judge Debenport.

Plans and specifications for the structure, the second of its kind to be built in Big Spring within a year, can be obtained from the Texas & Pacific Railroad Co. at Dallas. Those entering bids will be required to enclose the usual five per cent of the figure submitted as "good faith." Three agencies are cooperating in the building of the viaduct, the Texas & Pacific paying 50 per cent, the county 35 per cent and the city 15 per cent of construction cost.

Will Use Courts To Get On Ballot

AUSTIN, Jan. 28.—(UP)—"The courts will force the state democratic executive committee to put my name on the ballot as candidate for governor," Senator Tom Love said this morning in referring to the announcement that a poll shows that the committee will bar his name. He said the exact procedure of the court contest is not determined. The committee meets here Saturday to pass on placing Love's name on the ballot.

It has been proven that the land in and around Odessa is as fertile and productive as any to be found in Texas, and part of the committee plan of work is getting some of the larger ranch owners of North Ector county to cut their ranches into small farms and put on a colonization and diversified program, both as to agriculture and livestock.

prison in 1913. He obtained his freedom in 1914 and joined the Villa division of the anti-Fuertan forces in Chihuahua.

By August—Carranza was occupying Mexico City—Rubio was financial agent of Mexico in New York, and later was director of military engineer's headquarters in Mexico City and chief of the military engineer's section of the war department.

Elected to General Congress Already well known throughout Mexico and in New York for his sincere activities in the interests of his country, Ortiz Rubio was elected a member of the general congress of Queretaro in 1917, which met to modify the constitution of the Mexican republic. At the termination of his duty he returned to his home state and was elected governor of Michoacan, holding office until the outbreak of the revolution. Obregon initiated to overthrow Carranza's government.

Rubio was one of the first to join the Obregon forces. When Carranza was killed, he was appointed secretary of communications and public works by the provisional president, later being reappointed by the new president, Alvaro Obregon.

He resigned this position in 1921, going to Barcelona, Spain, where he experienced some severe financial reverses. In 1922, however, the secretary of agriculture commissioned him to make an extensive study of the irrigation systems in Europe, Spain.

If successful, this will bring approximately $25,000 back to the farmers of Martin county.

WHR Winnings Good For Local Cow Men

Tom Nance, Elliott F. Cowden and B. N. Aycock, and other West Texas ranchmen who have bought registered cattle from the Wyoming Hereford Ranch at Cheyenne, have reason to feel proud of their purchases.

For the fifth consecutive year, the grand champion load of bulls at the Denver livestock show was won by the WHR registered herd. They also place regularly in the winnings on heifers.

Elliott F. Cowden has 20 head of bulls from the WHR herd. Tom Nance has 100 head of registered 2-year old heifers, and two of the six bulls bought by B. N. Aycock while at the Denver show last week were from the WHR stock. All of these cattle are strongly of Prince Domino breeding.

Adults, too, prefer "NO DOSING" for COLDS

When Vicks introduced the better method of treating colds externally it was especially appreciated by mothers because it avoids "dosing," which so often disturbs children's delicate digestions.

Each year more and more adults, too, have found Vicks equally good for their own colds. Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Just rubbed on, Vicks gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled, and, at the same time, acts through the skin like a plaster.

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Avoid the snags along the common-sense path to fitness and fashion. Don't let over-indulgence deprive you of the tantalizing contour of the modern figure. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately—when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence, if you would maintain the graceful, modern figure with its captivating curves.
