Legge Warns Against Restricting Mexican Laborers

SOUTHWEST CONDITION NOT GRAVE

Investigation Should Be Worked Out, He Tells House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board asserted today before the house immigration committee that restriction of Mexican immigration would result in a serious labor shortage in the agricultural southwest.

He said he thought the situation so serious as to "justify very careful study and investigation before a program of action is worked out."

Representative Box of Texas, ranking democrat on the committee, asked if use of Mexican seasonal labor in West Texas would not cause over production.

Legge replied that hand labor was not used as extensively as in the vegetable and fruit growing areas.

Region-Wide Blow

The ending, so totally unexpected, of a life filled with useful deeds cast a pall over his home city of Midland. In West Texas banking circles as a whole, and especially in Abilene and Ovallo, where he was best known, his death is a blow. By his work in Midland, where in 1923 he took an institution that had closed its doors and raised it to a place of eminence, he had stamped himself an executive and citizen of the highest order.

Rich Keble, Abilene banker and also closely associated with Mr. Wilkinson, last night gave this estimate of him: "Ben Wilkinson had (See WILKINSON page 6)

FLOWS 800 BARRELS IN TEST TODAY

Other Wells Rigging; Gaines Test Bails Out Free Oil

Cosden 1-A, in the south half of the north half of section 1, block 35, University survey, Ector county, flowed 800 barrels in nine hours in a test made this morning.

This makes a total of seven producing wells in Ector county, Cosden having two, Landreth three and Penn-Humble-Atlantic two.

Three other wells in Ector county are rigging up, noon reports said. Total depth is 3654 feet. The well will be deepened.

Oil men say structure at the new producer is similar to the Cosden 1-B well, which is located about one mile south of the new well and producing from a depth of 3678 feet.

Oil men find significance in the fact that the structure, if anything, is higher in the new well than in the 1-B producer, and they believe that, through deepening, production may be increased to a 4,000 barrel or more a day.

Penn-Humble is drilling an offset well and the Llano Oil company's No. 1 Hogan is down 2300 feet. This well was formerly known as the Midland National Bank. T. S. Hogan bought it in fee.

The Louisiana Oil & Refining Co. No. 1 Ralph, in section 7, block A-28, Public School land, Gaines county, bailed out 3 gallons of free oil late Sunday. Total depth of this well is 4251 feet.

Mid-Continent No. 1 Conway, in Ward county, has been listed as "dry and abandoned." Total depth is 3415.

And the Rabbit Spit In The Bulldog's Face

But it wasn't a bull dog this time. It was a man. Daniel Flores, a mason's helper, working on the new building of the Andrews State bank at Andrews, was the victim of a particularly odd happening Saturday.

He was toting stone blocks from a pile at the rear of the building, and leaned over to pick up another stone. He dislodged it, a scared jackrabbit bolted out directly into his face. A quick shift of footwork, a stinging left jab, and the rabbit was off for the open country, leaving Flores minus an inch of skin from his nose.

THE HUNT FOR ROMANCE

In Denver a man named Louis Kiefer is about to celebrate his 90th birthday.

Ninety is a fairly advanced age; not exactly uncommon, but still rather noteworthy. What makes Mr. Kiefer's birthday interesting, however, is the memories that he has to talk about.

This man came to the United States in 1856 on an old square-rigger. He became a river pilot on the Mississippi; in 1862 his ship got caught in the jam below New Orleans when Farragut brought his fleet up past the forts and seized the Confederacy's greatest seaport, and so Kiefer got an excellent view of that spectacular affair.

Then, in 1868, he crossed the plains to Santa Fe traveling at night through a region where ranch houses lay in smoldering ruins from the attacks of Indians. He became a miner in the mountains of Colorado and New Mexico, and had enough narrow escapes from Indians to fill a book.

All in all, an exciting and colorful past. Yet this is what Kiefer told Denver newspaper reporters.

"Those were thrilling days, but there is more romance and adventure in the world today."

This is an attitude that few of the old-timers take. Generally they tell us that the world has fallen on evil days. They consider this a soft and flabby generation, devoid of thrills and many leagues removed from anything like real adventure.

But not this man. His life is a regular adventure story, yet he believes today a more adventuresome and exciting time than yesterday. And this ought to be rather consoling for those of us who feel that we have been cheated out of our share of romance by being born too late.

Adventure and romance, after all, are things that are found inside of a man's head and heart. They don't depend on externals. A young man who comes to town from a farm, gets a job in a railroad office and works his way up by slow degrees can make of his experience a romance as gaudy as anything out of Marryat or Stevenson; and, conversely, a man who has not got romance in his heart could go by dog sledge from Nome to Hudson's Bay and be as bored as if he were riding downtown on a street car.

This chap in Denver has the right idea. He had an exciting life, but he knows he could do just as well if he were starting in again right now, even if the windjammers and yelling Indians have gone to join the dodo. Romance is strictly up to us. If we have it in us we'll find it. If we haven't it is no use for us to go looking for it.

BYRD WILL BRING THEM BACK

Probably it is a little bit early to be harboring any very extensive fears over the fate of Admiral Byrd's party.

Their situation is not exactly rosy, to be sure; but efforts to relieve them have already been set in motion, and the radio will keep the world posted as to their condition. In addition, Byrd's New York representatives say that reports of a food shortage have been considerably exaggerated.

Most important of all, however, is the fact that the party has Byrd himself. If any man can bring a group through a trying situation in the Antarctic, Byrd is the man. We have a strong hunch that this likable and capable naval officer will bring his men back with colors flying.

Nightmare of Motorist After Strenuous Day at the Wheel!

The Town Quack

Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.)

A lady asked the editor's wife at a party the other day who the Town Quack is. "Why, I don't know. I never read that bunk," she replied. But when she got home, she told her husband about it, and he flew into a rage.

"That column is getting me in a ditch," he said. "Mr. Ruple told me down at the office today that he believed I was the Town Quack. I told him I had been bull dozed and insulted a lot of times since I had been on a newspaper, but that was the worst crack yet."

I guess you noticed our advertisement Sunday about the change in phone numbers here at the office. We are getting "up-town" and now have two numbers with a total of four phones. You call the same old number 7 for the editor, society editor or city editor; and you call number 77 for advertisements, classified or display, job printing department, circulation department, you know the one who fails to get the paper up to your porch, or the bookkeeper.

Phone rings vigorously on No. 7. "Hello," one of the editorial staff says. "Hello," you answer, "I want to talk to the Town Quack." "He isn't on this phone; you might try number 77," the reporter tells you.

Out loud the phone rings on the 77 side. "Hello," comes from Jimmy the bookkeeper, job printing salesman, and what not. "Is this the Town Quack?" you ask. "Why, H-I, No!" he replies and hangs up.

So, folks, no matter how many phones we have, there's no use in trying to engage the Quack in conversation. The best bet is to use the mail. Just address me a letter "Town Quack." No other address is needed, not even the town, as long as you are in this town when you mail it. Let me hear from you. I haven't had a letter from anyone in three or four days.

Fifty C. of C. Committeemen Meet

Most of the 50 committeemen named specially to attend the chamber of commerce meeting Monday night at 7:30 in the Crystal ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer have indicated they plan to attend. Besides these 50 committeemen, 21 directors plan to be present, making a total of 71 men.

The meeting will be strictly informal, will last but one hour and is calculated to result in good for Midland. The meeting, of course, is open to everybody interested in Midland's progress, and non-members as well as members of the chamber of commerce are invited.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Congressional Elections This Year Probably Will Hinge Largely on the Prohibition Issue—The Wets Must Gain Strength Now if They Are Ever Going To.

By RODNEY DUTCHER.

WASHINGTON.—This year may indicate whether the wets are ever going to improve their sorry numerical position in Congress.

The gain of even a few seats would help considerably to bolster up the wet claim that popular sentiment is turning in their direction, especially since organized efforts to elect wets as such will be weak when compared with the customary vigorous campaign of the dry organizations.

There will be, insofar as anyone can see, no lack of wet candidates even in many states and congressional districts where wet candidates haven't been able to get themselves nominated or elected. The surest bet in the world is that not enough of them will be elected next November to make any change in the prohibition laws, for the congressional dry majorities are so enormous that the wet gains within the realm of present possibility could have no more than a moral and psychological effect. On the other hand, if the wets lose any seats the dries will be more strongly entrenched than ever and the cause of prohibition and its enforcement so much strengthened.

The wet-dry issue is likely to be more clean-cut in the 1930 elections than it usually is. This is no presidential year, the religious issue won't figure and there won't be many other big issues to get the voters all mixed up except for some bellowing here and there about the world Court.

Such embarrassment as the issue holds, and goodness knows it has held plenty in its time, seems to be mostly in store for the Republicans. President Hoover is waging an enforcement campaign and the understanding is that he will expect Republican candidates to run as dries in support of his position. At any rate, it will be more than ever difficult for them to run as wets. Unfortunately there are many Republican candidates running in what are known as wet states.

The wets badly need more strength in the Senate. With the appointment of Edge of New Jersey as ambassador to France they lost the last of the vociferous old wet quartet in that body—Edge, Reed of Missouri, Bruce of Maryland and Edwards of New Jersey.

Republican National Committeeman Louis K. Liggett of Massachusetts said, after talking with Hoover, that his party would name a dry to run for the seat now held by the retiring Senator Gillette. The Democrats think they have a real chance to elect a second Democratic senator and if they do he is not likely to be a dry. Massachusetts went for Smith in 1928 and always enjoys electing the wet senator. Dave Welsh, the Republican candidate's dry platform is unlikely to gain him many votes and may lose quite a few.

In Pennsylvania Senator Grundy will run for re-nomination and re-election as a dry and while no wet Democrat seems to have a chance to defeat him in November, if the wet Mr. Vore of Philadelphia opposes him in the primaries, the contest is likely to be extremely close.

Rhode Island now has two Republican senators, but is wet enough so that the issue may result in the displacement of one by a wet Democrat. Mr. Dwight Morrow presumably will run as a dry in New Jersey and New Jersey is wet. New Jersey is often considered more Republican than she is wet, but between the primary and the election, when he will undoubtedly be opposed by a wet Democrat, even Mr. Morrow himself may meet some rough going.

J. D. Young, chief Goodfellow in the organization of that name for the past years, made his final report on expenditures and benefits of that club, Saturday.

The statement shows there is on hand more than $55 which can be used next year.

"The club brought Christmas cheer to more than 100 families, and with more than 250 people represented in these families. But for the Goodfellow club, many people in Midland Christmas week would have been cold and cheerless, and many children would have had no Santa Claus."

San Angelo Civic Opera Company To Present "The Mikado" This Month

"The Mikado," the world's greatest comic opera, by W. S. Gilbert and Sir Arthur Sullivan, famous English composer, to be given on the evening of Friday, February 21, in the Municipal Auditorium of San Angelo.

Inspiration for the opera written in 1885, was due to an awakened interest in Japan. The original idea came to Sir Arthur Sullivan just in time to avert a quarrel and division between the partners who had already produced with success "Trial by Jury," "Pirates of Penzance," and "H. M. S. Pinafore."

A few years before, a Mikado with decidedly modern ideas had mounted the throne of Japan, and had begun a system of vigorous and far-reaching reforms, which included the admission of hundreds of foreign scholars. Japanese scholars began to travel abroad.

Amused by the purely superficial appreciation of the fast moving occidental for the pompous and ceremonious oriental Sullivan conceived the idea of producing with Gilbert's collaboration an opera of Japan as the Englishman saw it.

Don Gallaher—starting "Temple Tower"—another thriller — at the Western Avenue studios—Kenneth MacKenna is the "Buildup Drummond" of this one—and Gallaher has a great cast. One of the minor players—doing the role of "The Nightingale"—takes time off before going on the set—to tear a few telephone books in half—and bend a steel nail—about eight inches long—into a figure 8—and his role is "The Nightingale."

Walter Catlett—pauses a moment at the cashier's desk in "The Munchers"—to tell the pretty girl in charge that she looks charming. And the girl replies, "And you look as if you are going to forget to pay that check you have in your hand."

Marjorie White—seeking information—as to the location of the Palace Theatre—Los Angeles—not New York. Margie is due for a personal appearance — and how she hates to do it.

Which reminds us—that the McCormack picture—now speeding along—reveals that the great tenor—has not alone a billion dollar voice—but a billion dollar personality—also.

BATTLE OF MUSIC TO BE HELD SOON AT SIMMONS U.

ABILENE.—With the appointment of 32 directors, representing three states, Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, plans are under way for the second All-Southwestern Inter-Collegiate piano tournament to be held at Simmons University here April 4 and 5, according to Frank Fieger of this city, chief director.

Students from three states are being invited to compete in the tournament. These are three divisions, college, high school, and grade school. Rules governing the eligibility of contestants are essentially the same as those in all inter-scholastic and inter-collegiate contests.

The events will include Bach, Sonata, Chopin, modern compositions, scales and arpeggios in the college division. The high school division will substitute Mozart for the sonata, and the grade school group will use Schumann. Information concerning the contest is being sent out by Fieger or can be furnished by any of the directors from the three states.

All events will be held in the auditorium at Simmons University. A program will be given by the winners in the Hilton hotel of this city on the afternoon of Sunday, April 6.

harmonies and the charming costumes, the auditor will forget that this is a musical performance.

There are nine leading characters instead of the conventional soprano, contralto, tenor and bass roles, furnishing a splendid variety of solo parts, which are well supported by a large chorus.

The opera is in two acts, with the same colorful and picturesque Japanese setting throughout. Robert Burns Campbell is the director, Mrs. Alexander Milroy, assistant director, Mrs. Elizabeth Scott Edwards, stage director, and Miss Peg Holman and Miss Ida Joe Fuller, in charge of scenery. The solos and choruses will be accompanied by the San Angelo Symphony Orchestra.

Lovers of good music will be able to fully appreciate the fact that opportunities are entirely too few for the privilege of hearing the best in music and opera. The San Angelo Civic Opera Company feels that it is undertaking an activity that will be of the highest cultural value to the city of San Angelo and to the smaller cities within the district of San Angelo.

The Opera Company expects and feels confident that it will have the support of the music loving public, and that many will be able to come to San Angelo for the presentation of "The Mikado" on Friday, February 21, at the San Angelo Municipal Auditorium. The tickets will soon be on sale at one dollar for adults, and fifty cents for school children.

AMERICAN BUSINESS WOMEN QUALIFY AS WORLD TRAVELERS

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (UP)—American business women bid fair to qualify shortly as one of the most widely traveled groups in the world.

Having in the past two summers visited 13 European countries to make the acquaintance of fellow business and professional women-representatives of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will extend their activities this year to Russia, Finland, and Poland.

Coincidentally with announcing plans for the third annual Good-Will Tour of the National Federation, Miss Lena Madess Phillips of New York City, Chairman of the International Relations Committee of the organization, has announced that the first international meeting of business and professional women of Europe and the United States will be held in the latter part of August in Geneva, Switzerland.

But preliminary to the Geneva meeting three groups of business and professional women will tour Europe, visiting the principal cities and being entertained at dinners, teas and other functions by women leaders. Miss Phillips will lead the group which sails July 15th on the S. S. Bergensfjord for Scandinavia.

Her group will visit Sweden, Finland, Poland, Russia, Austria, Germany and France. Another group led by Mrs. J. K. Bowman of Richmond, Virginia, first vice president of the Federation, will sail a few days earlier, going to England, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and France.

Former Good-Will Tours have disclosed the fact that there are business women's clubs in Norway, Sweden, Austria, and Germany. A flourishing Italian Federation sprang up as a result of the visit of the first Good-Will Tour to Italy in the summer of 1923 and Viennese women, in contradiction of their alleged reputation for frivolity, have formed a club since American women visited them in August of 1923.

A doctor, a publisher and a world-renowned journalist head the new organization, Switzerland for a number of years has had an active federation of business and professional women which is reported to be eager to join other groups in an international organization.

mond, Virginia, first vice president of the Federation, will sail a few days earlier, going to England, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and France. Still another group will sail early in August for a brief tour, and all three groups will meet at Geneva.

KEEPING FIT with NANCY CARROLL. by NANCY CARROLL. Paramount Stage.

I WANT to talk today to the women who have gotten the habit of being fat. Once you were nicely proportioned, and then somehow you let yourself go to a settled, middle aged accumulation of excess fat. You used to be alarmed about your growing waist line, and then after a bit you sort of accepted it as your fate, and now you're rather complacent about it, even though it means that no amount of dress-making seems to give you a smart, well-dressed look.

Beautiful Palo Duro Canyon May Become One of Scenic Wonders of This State

AMARILLO, Tex., Feb. 10. (AP)—Palo Duro Canyon, which may become a unit in the proposed State park system, is Texas' closest rival of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado as a scenic attraction.

It is one of nature's masterpieces. Starting in Randall county it lies in a southeasterly direction, extending through Randall, Armstrong, Briscoe, Hall and Donley counties, a distance of more than 100 miles. It varies in width from one to ten miles, and in depth from several hundred feet to approximately one-fifth of a mile.

The plateau on either side of the gorge is about 3,400 feet above sea level. The floor has an altitude of from 3,200 to 2,800 above the sea on the upper reaches and still deeper near the mouth.

Throughout its entire length runs Prairie Dog branch of Red River, a turbulent stream with waterfalls, rapids and quiet pools along its course. It is fed by springs and during the rainy season the drainage of a wide area falls into its beds.

Nature runs riot with the canyon's rock and earth. There are shades of red and brown, purple, blue, yellow and gold and tan. As rays of the sun shift the colors change hue, each succeeding hour of the day bringing a new tint.

Somewhere in the canyon is a cave, not fully explored. The location is kept secret by its discoverers.

Spanish conquistadors, probably in 1540, are believed to have been the first white men to see the canyon.

SMU MUSTANGS BEARING DOWN ON LEADERS; TO TAKE ON ARK.

DOWN LONGHORNS FOR COUNT; RACE MAY BE MUDDLED UP TO LAST HOUR; DECISIVE GAMES CARDED THIS WEEK

Aggies and SMU Tied for Third Position; TCU and Baylor on Bottom Rungs

If the rearing Mustangs from Dallas can do Arkansas university the way they did the Texas Longhorns last week, they will do something to the Southwest conference which might be epochal.

On Friday and Saturday nights the Mustangs meet the four-time champion Porkers at Fayetteville. Should S. M. U. manage to split the series with the conference basket ball leaders, the Longhorns will be back in the running.

The 25-22 verdict by S. M. U. over Texas U. Friday night was the feature of the week's play in the Southwest Conference cage race. Had the Longhorns won that game, they would be above Arkansas this morning, as they moved to Fort Worth and defeated T. C. U. Saturday night, 35-21.

The S. M. U.-Arkansas Series is the feature this week. First game of the week will be Tuesday night, when T. C. U. plays Baylor Bears in Waco, Friday night the Texas Aggies meet the Longhorns in Austin and Saturday night the Rice Owls play Baylor in Waco.

The past week furnished the cage fans quite a few thrills. Improvement in the T. C. U. team, a faster attack by the Frogs, supplied some of the thrills. The Pony performance against the Orange ball tossers from Austin also provided fun, though Texas fans charge the game was slowed up and decimated by stalling tactics of the Methodists.

The Aggies loss to the Rice Owls Saturday night, 26 to 17, enabled S. M. U. to go into a tie with A. & M. for third place. Rice, T. C. U. and Baylor are next in the order named. Arkansas did not engage in conference competition during the week. The Porkers kept their eyes tuned to the target by a two-game series with Oklahoma A. & M. The Sooners lost both games.

Following is the conference standing:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Arkansas	5	1	.833
Texas	5	2	.714
A. & M.	3	3	.500
S. M. U.	3	3	.500
Rice	3	4	.429

FOUR FOLLIES GRADUATES IN SCREEN REVUE

If Ziegfeld glorified all the girls in Hollywood purporting to have been in his famous Follies at one time, he would be a Methuselah—and producer of 10,000 shows.

However, a bona fide Ziegfeld beauty does appear every now and then, and Radio Pictures captured four of them for the sparkling musical comedy, "Tanned Legs," coming to the Yucca theatre tomorrow. And a fifth staged the dances. She is Pearl Eaton, RKO dance director, and member of the famous Eaton family which includes Mary, Charles and Doris.

The four who appear before the camera are Ann Pennington, Helen Kaiser, Kay English and Anna Karina.

Glasscock County Test Strikes Water

BIG SPRING, Feb. 9.—Glasscock Brothers No. 1 Edwards semi-wildcat oil test three miles west of the Coffee-Phillips pool in northern Glasscock county struck sulphur water at 2,471 feet continuing to 2,477 feet, present total depth. The well produced 100 barrels daily for nearly two weeks from pay topped at 2,277 feet and drilled to 2,299 feet when operators decided to deepen. A slight showing of oil was encountered between 2,438-66 feet. If sulphur water continues the well will probably be drilled to 2,500 feet and possibly plugged back to the upper pay at 2,277-99 feet, said the operators here today. No. 1 Edwards is located 1,650 feet from the east line and 330 feet from the south line of section 18, block 33, township 2 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey.

First Picture Eielson Search Party

This is the first photograph of the actual searching activities at Point Barrow, Alaska, for the missing pilot, Carl Ben Eielson, and his mechanic, Earl Borland, whose wrecked plane was recently found on the northern coast of Siberia. Pilot Nieminen and his mechanic, Alonzo-Cope, are shown standing beside their plane prior to a start in search for the ill-fated fliers. The start was made from Point Barrow, Alaska.

Girl Pilot Has License But Can't Get Job; Says Sex Handicap Responsible

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(UP)—It is made many stops and frequently very nice to be one of the few women in the United States with a transport pilot's license but about the only place for it is in a frame on the wall, one Kansas City miss has come to realize.

She is Miss Mildred Kaufman, 21-year-old aviatrix, who literally "marcelled and massaged" her way through flying school. And now that she has the coveted award which shows that she possesses more than 200 hours in the air and is capable of handling a transport airplane she finds that superstition and tradition are keeping her from getting a job.

The license, she is certain, is no sesame to a job as a regular pilot on a transport line.

"The big companies," she remarked, "are not going to hire women as passenger plane pilots, of course. Probably they never will, any more than a railroad would hire them as engineers or bus companies as drivers. But already several women are making successes as demonstrating pilots and saleswomen for planes or accessories."

Miss Kaufman is a reserve pilot for the American Eagle Aircraft corporation. Last summer she took her plane on a goodwill flight from here to the Pacific Coast. Enroute she money. Then she enrolled in a flying course.

DAIRY HERD RECORD

CANYON.—(AP)—J. W. Watson, Randall county dairyman, residing in the Zita community, has established with his dairy herd what is believed to be a record in this section.

His herd of ten cows and young heifers averaged a production of 286.8 pounds of butter fat over a period of eight months. The feed cost was 14.6 cents per pound for the herd. By a detailed record on production of the cows Mr. Watson found that the five highest producers netted him a profit of $962.67 in the eight months.

ENTERTAINMENT TO BE OFFERED IN BIG SPRING MEET; BALLS PRESENTED

BIG SPRING, Feb. 9.—Plans are being made by the chamber of commerce and Big Spring high school officials to entertain all representatives and visitors participating in the District Basket Ball tournament being held here on February 14-15. Seven counties will participate in the meet.

Silver basket balls will be presented by the Chamber of Commerce to the teams winning first and second places, said C. T. Watson, manager. The games will be played in the high school gymnasium.

OFFICIAL SUES HIMSELF

FALLS CITY.—Clarence G. Bliss, secretary of the state department of trade and commerce, has sued himself. At least he is both plaintiff and defendant in a suit to foreclose a mortgage filed in district court here. Bliss made himself defendant in the suit as receiver of the state bank of Humbolt, to protect the judgment lien of the bank against the property in question.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

C. F. Redlich, Minneapolis, Minn., nationally known Rupture Appliance Expert, will demonstrate without charge his unequalled method at the Blue Bonnet hotel, Sweetwater, on Wednesday, February 12, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Mr. C. F. Redlich says: The "Perfect Retention Shields"

held the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief and contract the opening in a remarkably short time. The secret of their success is in their simplicity. An expertly adjusted device seals the opening without discomfort or detention from work. It is practically everlasting, sanitary, comfortable and actually holds ruptures which heretofore were considered uncontrollable. —Adv.

SEVENTY-ONE MEN MEET TONIGHT IN HOTEL FOR CC SESSION

IMPORTANT WORK SCHEDULED, IT IS SAID TODAY

Short and snappy! That's the way the open meeting of the Midland chamber of commerce will be held tonight in the Crystal ball room of Hotel Scharbauer. If everybody will come on time, the general meeting can be concluded in one hour's time.

Fifty men besides the 21 directors have been specially asked to attend, however, not only are all members of the chamber invited, but are urged to be present, as every man who attends will be given opportunity to do some definite service for his community at little time and no cost.

The new board of directors is expected to attend 100 per cent strong. Following the general meeting, those who wish may withdraw, as the board of directors will take up regular business. However, all members will be welcomed at the later meeting, but opportunity will be given all who wish to leave, so that the promise of keeping them only one hour may be kept.

Following are the men expected to attend the meeting tonight, however, all members are cordially invited.

Leon Goodman, M. C. Ulmer, W. I. Pratt, R. M. Barron, C. W. Alcorn, W. A. Yeager, C. A. Daniel,

Would You Thank a Man if He Saved Your Boy's Life?

Pat them on the back! The least we, as fellow townsmen, can do for these boy scout officials, especially the scoutmasters, is to pat them on the back and inspire them with a:

"We're for you, old fellow. You are doing fine work with our boys, and we appreciate the sacrifice of time you are making."

These scoutmasters do not get a thing out of their work except the consciousness that they are helping Midland boys to be clean, courageous and honest. Maybe your boy is not old enough to be a scout. Maybe you don't even have a boy, but you like to live in a city, don't you, where your neighbor's boys are clean, honest, brave, reverent, prepared, industrious?

Pat these scoutmasters on the back this week during the anniversary of Boy Scout week: Thomas D. Murphy, Fred Middleton, B. G. Grafa, and G. W. Brennehan.

Then, besides these men who meet regularly with their troops, we of Midland owe our thanks to Kenneth E. Ambrose, local council chairman and area vice president, who has done most of the work in this week's celebration; to Assistant Scoutmasters J. P. Butler, Alvin Patterson, Charles Nolan, W. E. Sharp, and Hayden Lane; and to committee members, Claude O. Crane, a troop organizer, Dr. David M. Ellis, W. I. Pratt, John O. Nobles, John P. Howe, Dr. W. E. Ryan, B. Frank Haag, Homer W. Rowe, and J. E. Hill. Thanks are also due examiners, and all contributors. Herbert A. Berry, Eagle scout of Chicago, is helping Midland scouts while here temporarily.

Wilkinson made a 90-day note for $75.

He did not, however, spend the money. Haunted by a fear that he could not repay the loan when due he carried the currency in his pocket; then, in 90 days, repaid his note with it. His friendship with Mr. James dated from that first contact.

A Successful Farmer

It was not long before Wilkinson made his impress on the life of southern Taylor county, with his farming operations. He became highly successful in that occupation practicing diversification before the work was coined, and acquired substantial land holdings. They now amount to about 2,500 acres, lying in the Ovalo district, and all debt free.

It was Mr. Wilkinson's dream to return to his farm. Last September he wrote the Reporter-News, in response to a request for his biography, "I have always had farmer blood in my veins. Some day I expect to return to my four section 20 mile south of Abilene, and spend my last days as a dirt farmer." His wife, formerly Miss Estelle Crofton, was reared in Taylor county.

Besides the widow, two sons and a daughter survive. The daughter is Mrs. Roy Foster of Sterling City, and the sons, I. N. Wilkinson of Winters and Jack Wilkinson, student in New Mexico Military institute. The older boy, I. N., head of the first National bank of Winters, is a graduate of Staunton (Va.) Military academy, his father's alma mater. Mr. Wilkinson frequently said, laughingly, "I raised both of my boys to be directors of the West Texas fair," of which he himself was a director. Jack became a director at 14.

Banking Career

Mr. Wilkinson's banking career started when the Abilene & Southern railroad was extended to Ovalo, Tuscola, Bradshaw and Winters, Morgan Jones and Henry James organized the First State bank of Ovalo, and Mr. Wilkinson advised James that he would like to be its cashier. He was immediately put in active charge, and made a great success.

His next venture with Mr. James was in 1923 when they took over control of the Midland National bank. In the reorganization James became president and Wilkinson cashier, but later Wilkinson became president and James vice president. When control of the bank was sold last year to the Exchange National, one of the great financial institutions of Tulsa, Okla., Wilkinson was

MIDLAND MAN WILL LAY WATER PIPES FOR ANDREWS SYSTEM IN SHORT TIME

By BRUCE ALLINGHAM.

ANDREWS, Feb. 10. (Special)—Definite word has been received here that Andrews is to have water in the next few weeks. J. J. Kirby of Midland has contracted to put in a plant here and will start work next week.

At present Mr. Kirby's plans are to lay 5 1-2 blocks of 3-inch pipe, seven blocks of 2-inch, and five blocks of 1-inch.

Kirby owns and operates the plants at Wink, Pyote and Kermit. The lack of adequate water facilities in Andrews has impaired its development greatly, and it is expected that things will open up more here now.

SCOUTS IN DEMONSTRATION

Troops 53 and 51 will give a demonstration at the chapel hour in the auditorium of Midland high school Tuesday morning at 8:30. The work will be in charge of Scouts McCarty and Smith. They asked to remain as its directing head.

Later the two men, with I. N. Wilkinson, acquired the majority stock in the First National bank of Winters, and still later James and Ben Wilkinson acquired control of the Home National bank of Stanton. While relinquishing active direction of the Ovalo bank, Mr. Wilkinson remained its titular head and retained its substantial holdings.

Wilkinson's state of health, although apparently robust, had been involved lately. He had complained of rheumatism, and doctors think it was this trouble suddenly reaching the heart, which took his life.

Work of Haight In Auditing Praised

Harry L. Haight, chief auditor of the chamber of commerce this year, is lauded in a letter from M. E. Melton, of Texarkana, considered the best trained chamber of commerce secretary in Texas. An excerpt from Melton's letter to the Midland chamber follows:

"I want to thank you for the copy of your annual report, which I have read with a great deal of satisfaction and interest."

"I was particularly interested in the auditor's report. It contained a lot of good psychology, logic, philosophy or whatever you want to call it, and, in my opinion, is a very appropriate way to submit the chamber of commerce audit, when the detail is omitted."

The detailed report is on file at the office of the chamber of commerce and may be seen by anyone who pleases.

Tee Hee! Upton Now Has the Laugh

Upton county can laugh at a joke it got off on Midland.

"Missionary" work done in interest of a Rankin to Midland road was started five years ago, with the Midland chamber of commerce and Midland county commissioners taking the heaviest roles.

Midland built a road to the Upton county line, and those who traveled it said it was fast and wide enough to care for heavy traffic.

Now Upton county has built a road which is much faster and better than the Midland road!

The last cattle guard, stamp of the days of the genuine west, was torn away. Only a good rain is needed to put the road in excellent condition.

Distance from Midland to Rankin was shortened almost two miles.

Proposes Two Tax Payments A Year

AUSTIN, Feb. 10. (UP)—Two tax payments a year instead of one was proposed in a bill tendered the legislature this morning. It was held

SEEK MAIL PILOT

BAUDETTE, Minn., Feb. 10. (UP)—Parties were organized today to search a blizzard-swept region near a lake of the woods, for Maurice Miller, air mail pilot, missing for forty hours. He took off from here at 4 p. m. Saturday and has been unheard of since. Fears were felt for Miller's safety unless he was found soon.

more good traits and fewer bad ones than almost any man I know. His gospel was hard work, charity to his fellowman, and strict attention to his obligations." Mr. James, companion of Mr. Wilkinson on the last talk, was severely affected by his friend's passing. Throughout Saturday afternoon the Wilkinson home in Midland was thronged with sorrowing friends, many of whom will accompany his body to Taylor county Monday for the last rites. A funeral service will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon from his residence, by the Rev. George F. Brown, Baptist pastor of Midland; and Monday morning the body will be conveyed to Ovalo, this county, for burial service at 4 p. m. Burial will be at the Maccabee cemetery, between Ovalo and Lawn.

West Texas for 30 Years

Although a native of Blooming Grove, Navarro county, Mr. Wilkinson had spent 30 years in West Texas, most of that time in Taylor county. As a young man still in his twenties, and almost without a dollar, he came here in 1900 and bought a farm near Ovalo.

"Almost his first act was to establish a contact with our bank in Abilene," Mr. Keeble said last night. That was the Farmers & Merchants National, of which Mr. James, now president, was then the cashier.
