

VISIT TO STANTON IS POSTPONED

Pat M. Neff Is to Deliver Commencement Sermon Here

Expect Northern Extensions of Ector Pool Momentarily

COMPLETE 2 PRODUCERS PENN AREA

Gas Reported Today, Independent & Tidal Well

With two wells north of the T. & P. railroad expected to come in momentarily, and two completions, eyes of the oil fraternity were focused steadily on the Penn pool in Ector county today.

The Tidal and Independent well is located in section 6, three quarters of a mile northwest of the Shell No. 1 Jones producer.

Gibson and Johnson No. 1 Scharbauer, section 4, block B-15, nine miles northwest of the Penn pool was reported today drilling at 3-882 in gray sand.

COWBOY BAND IS DECLARED BEST TO VISIT CITY

Playing to practically a full house, the Simmons University Cowboy Band gave Midland a concert Monday night which is declared by many to have been the best ever heard at the high school auditorium.

Directed by D. O. Wiley, outstanding band conductor of the southwest, the band this season had a wealth of material to draw from on account of the European trip being made by picked men from the band this summer.

Two Midland boys, Walter Elkin and Madison Sandidge, were in the band here, and a special number, a saxophone solo, was given by Elkin, bringing much applause.

Outstanding features included a bass trombone solo by Wm. Covington; entertainment by the Chuck Wagon Trio composed of Byron, Means and Simmons; a duet by DeLaney and Shaw; imitations of barn yard and domestic animals in the Arkansas Traveler number; cowboy songs by Broughton Moran; lariat stunts by Hoss Fly Kelly.

As a closing number, the band substituted the "Old Gray Mare" for the "Star Spangled Banner" giving the audience one of the most powerful band numbers ever rendered here.

In The Wake Of Disastrous Storms

Above: Tekamah, Nebraska, was struck by a tornado Thursday night that left death and destruction in its path. This view shows wreckage of portion of town where two men were killed.

AUSTIN FLOODED AUSTIN, May 6. (P)—Two inches of rain, driven by a 48-mile gale, flooded Austin today.

EASTERN CAPITALIST HERE W. M. Storey, of Winston Salem, N. C., capitalist and oil man, is a business visitor to Midland today.

TULSA BANKER HERE Ned Holman, vice president of the Exchange National bank of Tulsa, is a business visitor in Midland today.

The Honorable Pat M. Neff, railroad commissioner and former Governor of Texas, will preach the commencement sermon May 18 for the graduating class of Midland high school.

Subject for the sermon will be announced at a later date, it has been announced. The sermon will be a part of exercises at the high school auditorium on the morning of May 18.

Outstanding Orator

The speaker is regarded by many as the most eloquent orator and one of the most able and genteel statesmen of Texas.

HUMBLE TO START CARRYING HOBBS OIL WEDNESDAY

Oil from the Hobbs field is expected to be carried by the Humble Oil and Refining company's new line Wednesday, it was reported here today.

Construction of the Atlantic Pipe Line company's line from Midland, through Andrews, to the Hobbs field is expected to be started within the next week or ten days.

BAPTISTS CALLED TO VOTE SUNDAY ON BLDG. PLANS

Members of the Baptist church will vote Sunday morning on a proposal concerning the beginning of construction of the new church, and all members are asked to be present.

The proposal to be voted on is whether or not to go ahead with construction before all of the $50,000, estimated cost of the project, is paid in.

Plans To Circle Globe in 20 Days

Around the world in 20 days is the goal of John Henry Mears, former holder of the globe-circling record, shown here in his new monoplane, "City of New York."

SECOND TORNADO OF FOUR DAYS TAKES TOLL TWO LIVES; BIG PROPERTY LOSS

KANSAS CITY, May 6. (P)—Invaded by a tornado for the second time in four days, the southwest today counted a further toll of two lives, with thousands of dollars damage in Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska.

Striking western Oklahoma, small twisters during the night swept over farm lands into Central Kansas, and north into South Central Nebraska.

Street Paving Is Gaining Headway

Street paving work is reaching an advanced stage this week, the laying of asphalt topping being almost completed on south Main.

Work of leveling and breaking dirt on east Front street was started this morning at the intersection with Main, at the depot.

LATE FLASHES

Winkler county oil field production was cut from 150,000 to 80,000 barrels in a proration order of the Texas railroad commission.

TULSA, Okla., May 6. (UP)—A sudden rise in production in West Texas, the panhandle of Texas, and California, contributed to a daily average increase of 9,310 barrels, according to today's report from the Oil and Gas Journal.

DALLAS, May 6. (UP)—Whether B. E. Montrief can drill an oil well on the Rock Island railroad right-of-way near the 25,000 barrel Nash well in Young county, will be fought before the oil and gas division of the state railroad commission tomorrow.

WEDNESDAY IS GOODWILL TRIP DATE

Windstorm Threatens Reduction Crowd; Go Tomorrow

Visit of Midland business people to Stanton was postponed until Wednesday afternoon after a sandstorm appearing shortly before noon showed evidence of continuing late enough to cause a reduction in the number of good will trippers.

Announcement was made by chamber of commerce officials at press time that the trip will be held tomorrow, cars leaving at 5:15 just as had been planned for today.

Although Stanton people were making provision to have an indoor meeting for the Midland visitors, in the event the windstorm continued late, it was decided that to postpone the trip one day would make for larger representation and would give opportunity for accomplishment of greater inter-city relationship.

Approximately 200 business and professional people are expected to make the trip to Stanton Wednesday afternoon.

"Some of the business houses of Midland will close at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon so their whole force can go to Stanton for the big Midland goodwill visit," chamber of commerce officials say.

"Cars will start lining up at 5 o'clock and will move from Midland at 5:15. People who are not ready to leave at 5:15 will get left, and those who fail to leave with the bunch will lose out on an opportunity to help advertise Midland."

Marshal John Bonner will be in the second car, the pathfinder car being driven by Chairman R. D. Scruggs of the chamber of commerce auto and retail committee being in front.

"Business leaders say the trip presents Midland's great opportunity to make a hit with Stanton by visiting that sister city of Midland in great numbers."

To Honor Mothers At Rotary Luncheon

Mothers and wives of local Rotarians will be guests of the local club at the luncheon Thursday, it has been announced.

MIDLAND IN THE LIMELIGHT

Texas points are going after the business that is being developed in Lea county. Texas is going to have a paved road from Midland to the state line, only a few miles from Hobbs, the new oil town.

The business there is New Mexico business and should remain in New Mexico, coming to the Pecos valley. But it is not going to do that through mere sentiment. To hold that business adequate transportation facilities must be provided and that means the state of New Mexico must build and maintain a good road from Roswell right into the center of this newly developed region.

Investment of $2,500,000 in Midland county will be the first major attempt to commercialize the millions of tons of potash existing in the state in the form of polyhalite. The problem, now apparently overcome, was to develop a process that would satisfactorily extract the potash from the mineral and the University of Texas conducted the experiments that finally succeeded, leading to announcement of the birth of a new industry for Texas.

THE OLD SOLDIERS PASS ON

In 1920, the U. S. census takers found 1551 war veterans occupying the Illinois Soldiers' Home at Quincy, Ill. A few days ago the 1930 enumerators finished their count. They found just 631 of the veterans left, and they are dying at the rate of 10 a month.

The survivors of the war between the states are growing fewer and fewer, as that dreadful conflict recedes farther and farther into history. By 1940, it is probable that few Soldiers Homes will house any of them. It is hard to see them go. Their valor, their unquestioning patriotism, have been a leaven in the life of the nation for decades, north and south alike.

LOOKING FACTS IN THE FACE

The long-looked-for business revival may not begin properly until fall, according to the Business Conditions Weekly issued by the Alexander Hamilton Institute. Conditions are gradually improving, and, as the Weekly remarks, "a foundation is being laid for a sound business recovery"; but the whole thing may take longer than we have supposed.

All of this, of course, does not mean that we should give way to pessimism and grow dour and hopeless as we look to the future. It does, however, suggest that we may have been a little too optimistic for our own good. The problems that oppress American business can be solved, but they can only be solved if they are fully recognized and carefully studied.

OHIO PRISON RIOT

Although reports from the Ohio penitentiary continue to be somewhat vague and contradictory, one thing seems rather obvious; there has been, somewhere, a dreadful amount of bungling and inefficiency there at Columbus.

The prison itself was fearfully over-crowded and out of date, of course. And the fire in itself was enough to upset the routine of the most carefully-run institution. Those things, to be sure, go without saying.

Yet the amazing fact remains that a solid week after the last dead body had been carried out of the prison, discipline was still broken down. More than 1200 convicts were still utterly defiant. The state's most dangerous and desperate wards were still telling the state where to get off—and were getting away with it.

ERRORGRAMS

After years here in Yosemite I still like to watch the Geysers. "Old Faithful", it erupts every three or four hours without fail.

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may be mistakes you find, and 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for each of the mistakes you find. Today, bleed word below—and unscramble on back page, we'll explain the mistake, by switching the letters around, takes and tell you the word. Then find them. Then look at the scramble you can see how near a hundred you drawing or whatnot. See if you can beat.

Daily Washington Letter By Rodney Dutcher
Slump in Foreign Trade Helps to Account for Present U. S. Business Depression, but Exporters Are Fighting Hard to Regain Lost Sales Overseas

WASHINGTON, May 6.—American business men are fighting hard to regain the foreign trade which has been lost in the last few months. Exports, which slumped along with the general business depression in this country, are vital to American prosperity. If they were eliminated completely between two and three million employees would be forced out of work, according to business students. The slump in exports was itself responsible for the idleness of a large number of the unemployed in recent months.

When the Pee Wee golf course is opened and tried out, I am thinking of throwing open to the county a tournament in which I will pit my skill against the entire field of opponents. Do you fellows feel lucky? I gave the calf ropers a chance to pay my entrance fee and have me compete with them for the purse, but they didn't show any interest. Let's hear from some of you fellows who want to loop around the Pee Wee golf course.

Rev. Peter Ainslee writes, "There is no more justification for being a chaplain in the army or navy than there is for being a chaplain in a speakeasy." Or he might have added "in the Fle lodge."

In New York

NEW YORK, May 6.—Manhattan's particular Lilliput is a theatrical boarding house in the west Forties.

Here, during those months when the carnivals and circuses are gathering together their performers, come swarms of midgets. Because this particular place caters to the Tom Thumbs of the amusement world, the colonies of ant-like humans invariably take quarters there, being almost certain of finding their fellows there—if they look hard enough.

Unlike the transient actors and freak show folk, whose appetites and bill dodgings drive landlords in pursuit of the sheriff, the midgets take up but little room and, so goes the wheeze, if they get really hard up, they can go out and steal bread crumbs from the Library Square pigeons. If worst comes to worst and they begin to take up too much room, the landlady can park half a dozen of them in a top drawer. Naturally, any number of gags and whimsical nonsense have been spread concerning the goings on in this midget boarding house.

There's the tale of the performer who sneaks a couple of them out in a suit case and thus dodges their board bill. There's the tale of the janitor who couldn't figure out why his vacuum cleaner wasn't working and, upon investigation, found he'd picked up a Lilliputian.

Noted Public Utility Expert Says...
'95% of Nation's Homes Should Have Five-Cent Rate on Electricity'

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of four articles by Morris Llewellyn Cooke, noted Philadelphia public utilities expert, on electric rates for the home. Cooke directed Governor Pinchot's giant power survey in 1921, the biggest thing of the kind every attempted.

HOW RATES VARY OVER NATION

Table showing electric rates in various cities: Birmingham 8.5, Mobile 8.5, Auburn, Ala. 12.5, Phoenix, Ariz. 8.3, Tucson, Ariz. 10, Little Rock 10, Fort Smith, Ark. 9, San Francisco 8, Miami 11.4, Fresno 8, San Diego 8, Denver 7, Pueblo 10, Glenwood Springs, Col. 15, Bridgeport, Conn. 5.5, Stamford, Conn. 8, Wilmington, Del. 9, Tampa 10, Los Angeles 5.

By MORRIS LLEWELLYN COOKE, Noted Expert on Electric Rates (Written for NEA Service)
A maximum rate of 5 cents a kilowatt hour for domestic electric service should apply to about 95 per cent of American homes. Four cents would be a fair rate in most communities and in many instances even that would provide more than a fair margin of profit.

of a special 1-cent rate for night current used between 10 p. m. and 7 a. m. The electricity is used to heat houses or water. The electric company, during these hours when the load is lowest, is glad to sell for 1 cent that which it produces for a half cent.

More and more homes are being heated by electricity and when we can get properly low rates such use will be general. That is only one phase of the future of electricity. In time virtually every household operation will be performed by aid of electric power and nearly everything we eat, wear or use will have been manufactured or transported by it.

Universal and abundant use of cheap electricity will have a tremendous effect on American women. Farm women of Ontario have acquired the leisure which provides them with opportunities of which American farm women can hardly dream.

That happy day will begin to dawn when electricity rates begin to be generally based on the costs of efficient operation.

NEXT: How electric rates in various cities are often fixed on the basis of "what the traffic will bear."

Despite further weakness in the foreign market and rains over cotton belt, the market opened slightly higher and under scattered covering and trade buying in nears sold 14 to 17 net higher during morning. SAN ANGELO CONTRACTOR IS GLAD IT CAME

Orgatone (Argotane) Beats Any Medicine He Ever Saw For Trouble Like His He Says

"I'm certainly glad Orgatone (Argotane) came my way," said W. M. Dickson, a well known building contractor residing at 709 Spaulding St., San Angelo, Texas in an interview.

"My health has been broken for the past several months was all upset, my food would sour and I would bloat up after eating and would have awful pains in my stomach. I would get so nervous it was almost impossible for me to get a full night's rest. I was in miserable shape and got to where I had to quit work for a day or two at a time.

"I began to pick up in just a day or so after I began taking Orgatone (Argotane) and I have been gradually improving ever since. My stomach feels stronger and I can eat and digest many things now I couldn't eat before without suffering afterwards. I'm not constipated like I was, my appetite is enormous and my nervousness has disappeared.

IRON STOMACH FAILS SPANISH TRICK EATER

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain.—A bet that he could eat 10 eggs, shells and all and then drink half a litre of wine cost a street-sweeper known as "Allogorro" in the frontier village of Pasajes his life. Allogorro had done this stunt several times, but when he tried it on April 8, it was fatal. Tradition has it that besides eating eggs with their shells, Allogorro used to eat rocks, pieces of wood, and that, once upon a time he made a meal off a watch and chain without any detriment to his health.

VIADUCT CONTRACT LET

the erection of a steel and concrete viaduct over the Texas and Pacific railroad tracks on Benton street. The completed structure is to cost $111,481.40. The Benton street viaduct is a joint project with the Texas and Pacific railroad sharing 50 per cent of construction cost, Howard county 35 per cent and the city of Big Spring 15 per cent. Robert E.

ed, my general health has greatly improved and I'm getting better right along. I have suffered a long time and have tried many different kinds of medicine but Orgatone beats them all. I could never get the right relief until I began taking it, therefore I have the best of reasons for thinking it the best there is."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Midland at the Mayes-Young drug store.

on America's Greatest Motor Proving Ground

PIKE'S PEAK!

Now it can be told... the true story of motor oil merit! For this was a test of America's representative motor oils in competition! A daring thing for CONOCO to do, done in confidence. Confidence based on the now-proven advantages of Germ-Processed oils... These tests brought out facts about motor oils which should affect the pocket-book of every motorist... Facts which we believe should force a swinging to Germ-Processed Motor Oils by every reader of our message.

Three Other Popular Oils Were Tried... Side By Side With CONOCO Germ-Processed

Pike's Peak Tests Conducted Under AAA Supervision...

Other oils often have been "tested" on speedways, in cross-country dashes, and over the ocean. But they were "tested" only against operating conditions! CONOCO'S Germ-Processed oil was proven against operating conditions, and in comparison with other oils as well!

American Automobile Association observers purchased all oils used in the open market, placed them in separate containers, marked them with a code letter, and locked them up. All crankcase fillings were made by AAA observers who then sealed the inlets and outlets of each motor. All gasoline allotments, every temperature reading, every micrometer measurement, every test was checked by an AAA observer. During every moment of the test, an AAA observer was riding in each car. The records of this test were initiated by an AAA observer as each entry of fact was made, and will be shown to any person on request to the company.

The CONOCO Germ-Processed oil proved its superiority in the Pike's Peak Tests and with such finality, that now all motorists will know the facts... know how the wearing grinds up to the top of Pike's Peak and down again, up and down again, and again, showed each oil in its true colors... and how the Germ-Processed film so defied the clawing talons of friction that test thermometers showed lessened water and oil temperatures, to the amazement of disinterested engineers!

CONOCO'S Superiority Was Proven Under AAA Supervision

Lubricity means slipperiness, smoothness, and lower co-efficient of friction, as compared to another oil. The Extra Lubricity of CONOCO'S Germ-Processed oils is due to its amazing ability to penetrate metal surfaces! Thus, we believe Germ-Processed oil brings a lubricity, a minimum of friction to your motor because it becomes a part of the motor metal.

Motor Parts Were Measured After Each Oil Was Tried

Cylinders were measured with a micrometer, at top and bottom, pistons likewise, and the cylinder taper accurately recorded, after each oil was tested. These measurements were accurate to one ten-thousandths of an inch! This is what the reports of the test developed. Comparing the wear with the use of CONOCO Germ-Processed oils against average wear with the other oils, showed a decrease in wear in favor of CONOCO Germ-Processed oils of 76.4%.

CONOCO gives you facts... The Pike's Peak Tests reveal that your automobile motor can last longer... that your operating expenses can be lowered! Will you drive in today, at the Sign of the Red Triangle?

Official Delegate To Presbyterian Makes Report

Twenty-five women were present at the regular monthly business meeting of the Presbyterian Auxiliary at the church Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Andrew Fasken presided, and read the 103rd psalm as the scripture quotation. Mrs. Thomas D. Murphy led in prayer.

Encouraging reports of the circle treasurers and the auxiliary treasurer were heard.

It was voted that each circle would look after flowers and gifts for its own members, except in case of severe illness or death, in which case the whole auxiliary would contribute.

Mrs. Florence Richardson, as the official delegate to the El Paso Presbyterian held recently at Clovis, New Mexico, gave an account of her trip. A brief resume of several interesting points follows:

The Presbyterian voted approval of moving of the Presbyterian orphanage from Itasca to Milford, Texas. The Minister's Annuity Fund was also approved and the Presbyterian voted for each auxiliary to vote 1 per cent of the benevolence fund of its budget to support the work among the Alabama Indians of Polk County, Texas.

In memorial services at the Presbyterian, which was conducted by Mrs. John W. Byrd of Peos, two members of the Midland Auxiliary who have died were remembered. They were Mmes. Charles G. Hitchcock, and T. B. Sudderth.

After Mrs. Richardson's report, it was announced that May 4 to May 11 is known as Presbyterian Survey week, and all auxiliary members were urged to turn in their subscriptions to Mrs. Fred Turner or to the pastor's wife. The Standard of Excellence requires that the Survey be in the homes of 50 per cent of the membership of an auxiliary.

Booklets outlining duties of newly elected officers and secretaries of causes were given out. The officers for this year are: president, Mrs. Andrew Fasken; first vice-president, Mrs. A. Harry Anderson; second vice-president, Mrs. Fred Turner; secretary treasurer, Mrs. J. M. DeArmond; secretary of spiritual life, Mrs. J. M. Caldwell; secretary foreign missions, Mrs. Thomas D. Murphy; secretary of Assembly's home missions, Mrs. Hayden Miles; secretary of Synodical and Presbyterian missions, Mrs. C. A. McClintic; secretary of Christian education and Ministerial relief, Mrs. Florence Richardson; secretary of religious education, Mrs. W. G. Whitehouse; secretary of literature, Mrs. Fred Turner; secretary of social activities, Mrs. C. W. Alcorn; pastor's aid secretary, Mrs. F. E. Cragin; secretary of Christian social service, Mrs.

Heirlooms

By Fanny Darrell

NECKLACES of carved coral, of amber, of topaz. Brooches and earrings of delicately carved cameos. Fingers of the past reaching out to grasp the hand of today. Many a modern miss who disdains anything that is not of the moment is feverishly hunting through the dust of a littered old attic to find the simple jewels that once graced grandmother's loveliness. A little brilliant-encrusted pendant suspended from a black velvet ribbon, or a locket with a tiny tendril of hair enclosed in its heavy gold sides, a belt buckle that added, oh, such a fine touch to the velvet ribbon that girdled her slim waist. These are the memory-laden treasures that grandmama's lovely young granddaughter is seeking to accent her exquisite, happy beauty. Cameo earrings hide between permanent waves, and fingers wearing old rings of amethysts and pearl set turquoise hold a rose red lipstick to draw a Cupid's bow over a fresh young mouth. Lucky Beauty! You have inherited not only Grandmother's jewels and trinkets, but her beauty as well. True, you insist that modern life demands that you accentuate your charms, but just the same, you are not a whit different from the Beauties of other days, who despite duennas and watchful parents contrived to take lessons from Master Cupid, and even beat him at his own game. Modern you are but back of your eyes gleam just the same lights of tenderness, of love, that have gleamed in Woman's eyes since the world began.

John G. Gossett; historian, Mrs. A. Harry Anderson.

Next Monday is the day for the annual birthday party of the auxiliary. At that time, a play, "Life's Eventide," written by Mrs. Richardson, will be given. The play portrays the need of ministerial relief and the offering on next Monday is to go for that cause.

At tea time, the hostess served refreshments, and the members enjoyed a social hour.

M. E. Society Divided Into Three Circles

Members of the Methodist Missionary society met Monday afternoon at the church for the regular monthly business hour.

The meeting was opened with song, and Mrs. O. B. Holt read the devotional, concerning the subject "Sacrifice." The scripture was taken from Matthew and John.

After reading of the minutes by Mrs. M. M. Seymour, reports of the officers were heard.

The society voted to send a check to Valley Institute at Pharr, Texas.

At the last meeting, the members decided to organize into three circles, two circles having been maintained before. At yesterday's meeting, names of the members were written on slips of paper, shuffled and drawn. Each circle had 28 members after they were divided.

It was voted to have circle meetings only once each month during the summer, and was agreed to meet the second Tuesday in each month. SANDE TRIES FOR THIRD VICTORY IN "DARBY"; RIDES GALLANT FOX

Gallant Fox's Dash Reduced His Derby Price to 4 to 1

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER, NEA Service Sports Editor

The notes of the bugle sound at old Churchill Downs. In the paddock the jocks swing the leg on their hosses.

Down the lane from the paddock to the track moves the prancing cavalcade. All eyes turn to watch as the parade comes bobbing onto the track.

A black colt, pawing and prancing, bearing on his back a little square-headed, tight-lipped old man, bounces through the gate. Somebody shouts, "Oh you Sande!" And a mighty chorus of 100,000 voices takes up the cry of tribute to one of the handiest little riders that ever lived.

Cheering Ends Only at Barrier
The cheering will not stop. The parade winds down the track and returns and still the roar goes up from the stands. The little man holds the reins in one hand and touches his cap. Now they have come to the barrier and the cheer dies down.

Gallant Fox, the horse the little man is riding, is nervous, anxious to be away. He paws in the dirt eagerly, throwing his head against the bit—finally breaking through the webbing.

At last the barrier is sprung and they go charging down the track—and Earl Sande is out there on Gallant Fox, trying to score his third victory in the Kentucky Derby.

Doesn't Like the Whip
In the Wood Memorial recently at Jamaica, Sande rode the Belair star in his comeback effort—and won after being in a pocket on the backstretch from which it seemed the horse could not possibly escape.

Of Gallant Fox, the mount he has in the Derby, Sande says: "A nice colt, a big striding fellow, but I don't think he would stand for much crowding. He's temperamental, but I have been pretty good friends with him so far."

Sande rarely uses the whip in a race, preferring to "hand side" the hosses he is given to ride. He did have to shake up Gallant Fox, however, to fight his way out of that deadly pocket at Jamaica. It was at the far turn.

Gallant Fox Responds
Betting Commissioner Tom Shaw was in the club house, eagerly watching every move of the colt Sande was riding.

Someone near Shaw shouted, as Sande began using the bat: "He's all through—there goes the whip!"

But Sande uses the whip only when they need it. The little old man was not wrong this time, either. Gallant Fox responded with a great bound that took him out of the pocket and with a clear path ahead down the home stretch in which to try to overtake Crack Brigade.

"He can't win slashing him like that," said an excited spectator. Then Shaw spoke up.

"I'm going to do a little slashing myself," he said, and then turning to his cashier, shouted, "Cut Gallant Fox's price for the Derby from 8 to 1 to 4 to 1. Here comes old man Sande on the winner of the winner of the Kentucky Derby."

Maybe Tom knows whereof he speaks, at that.

La Grande Chartreuse, at St. Pierre, de Chartreuse, France, are the most famous monasteries in Europe. In one main building more than 10,000 people may be accommodated.

Back in 1923, Earl Sande won the Kentucky Derby with Zev. A couple of years later he came back to win again on Flying Ebony. This year, after being retired as a jockey for two years, he is scheduled to ride again, on Gallant Fox, the Belair stable star, which recently won the Wood Memorial at Jamaica. To the left, above, is Sande, and to the right is Gallant Fox, the horse he will ride. Below is pictured Sande, leading the pack on Zev in the Kentucky classic in 1923.

MOODY'S COUP TO PREVENT INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE IS SEEN

GOVERNOR ASKS PARTY HARMONY DURING YEAR

By R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 6. (AP)—Political observers at the capitol see in Gov. Moody's statement pleading for harmony within the Democratic party in Texas and relegating to the "forgotten past" animosities of the 1928 Presidential campaign when enough democrats left the party and put in with the Republicans to give Herbert Hoover electors a majority in the state, an appeal to the faction that refused to support the Democratic nominees to forego their announced play to place an independent ticket in the field this fall.

Those who have been barred by the State Democratic executive committee from participating as candidates for state offices in the 1930 primaries because of their leaving the party in the Smith-Hoover controversy, were expected to hold a convention and organize an independent group of candidates in the event the State Supreme Court upheld the right of the executive committee to prescribe the errant ones.

A gesture towards forming an independent organization was made recently by Alvin Moody of Houston, and other leaders in the Smith revolt of 1928, but definite action was deferred at the request of Senator Thomas E. Love of Dallas until the Supreme Court could act on his application for a mandamus to compel the State executive committee to put his name on the primary ballots.

The theory is that Gov. Moody hoped to avert by his statement a stampede of the bolters to an independent candidates' banner.

He pointed out, without referring to the threatened break that there were many perplexing state governmental problems awaiting solution, and to keep alive the differences engendered during the presidential campaign would be ruinous to their proper disposition.

"Any dissension or disintegration in the Democratic party in Texas is felt throughout the nation, because our state heretofore has been the banner Democratic state of the union," was regarded as a significant passage in Gov. Moody's statement, designed to attract the faction that would be likely to support an independent movement in event the Supreme court upheld the committee's right to bar as candidates those who bolted. This declaration was followed by the suggestion: "We should settle our differences within the party and present a united front against the enemies of good government."

Going further, he laid emphasis in this manner, designed, they say, to make the wavering ones take a second thought before going off behind another party flag:

"The Democratic party is one of Children under 5 years can ride the Midland good will special train to Hobbs for nothing if accompanied by parents or guardian.

Children from 5 to 12 can ride the train to Hobbs and return for $1.75, half fare. Grown-ups get the round trip for $3.50. Children riding on half fare or riding free must be accompanied by parents or a guardian.

Chairman B. H. Blakeney of the "On To Hobbs" committee and his helpers will begin work tomorrow selling tickets, which may be procured at the office of the chamber of commerce.

Tickets must be bought by Friday night, as the chamber of commerce has to let the railroad company know Saturday morning how many people will be on the train, so that the railway company will know how many coaches to send to Midland.

Stanton Lions will be guests of the Midland Lions club Wednesday and will furnish the program for the day. Reports from the neighboring city are that they are "coming over strong."

The Midland Lions will go to Stanton at an early date to give a program there, in return.

Had Constant Headaches, Pains In Back and Side, Restless, Couldn't Sleep.

Jacksonville, Fla.—In telling recently how she was benefited by taking Cardui, Mrs. W. M. Jackson, of 2245 Main Street, this city, wrote:

"Six years ago, my health was not a bit good. I had constant headaches, pains in my back and side. I was restless and could not sleep at night.

"At times, I suffered from weakness. It seemed like my body hurt all over.

"My mother had used Cardui and thought it would be good for me to take. She had taken it and it had helped her, so she told me to get a bottle and start taking it.

"I found Cardui a great help. I improved so much after I began taking it. I took five bottles. I soon got all right, and I didn't have any more aches or pains.

"I gladly recommend Cardui to women who are run-down and weak, for it is a very good medicine. I found myself in much better health after I had taken it."

Try Cardui in your case.

"ADAM AND EVA" CAST RECOMMENDED Little Theatre Has Something "Up Sleeve" FOR PROSPECTIVE COM. BYRD MEMBERS

By MARION F. PETERS

Members of the cast for the next little theatre production, Adam and Eva, should make good prospective members for the next polar expedition of Rear Admiral Byrd—they are accustomed to long day and short nights. Rehearsals on the play call for late at night and early morning attendance. Had you gone to the Yucca this morning at 3 o'clock you would have found the director, Mrs. Abell, Mr. Bonner, Mr. Abell and some of us happily (?) at work getting the scenery and properties in shape for Thursday night's show.

A little later on, one by one members of the cast arrived and about the time you feel the sleepiest of a morning the opening scenes were begun.

Coffee! To be sure—doughnuts—plenty. "The coffee cups?" inquired Miss Williams. "In the car," replied Mrs. Abell—George and Hank, gallant-like, volunteered their service to get the cups—Did they get them? Well, not all of them. Driving to the theatre somebody hit a big rock and all but three nice new cups were broken—But it did not keep the coffee from getting there.

The committee on play selections is to be commended for choosing "Adam and Eva" for the final play this season. It is the type of vehicle that leaves the audience in a good humor and the present cast will present it in the same manner previous productions of Midland's little theatre have gone over. As a final star in this season's production its memory should be the horseshoe for a greater success next season in little theatre work for Mrs. Abell and her splendid corps of assistants.

You didn't, by any chance, forget the characters in the play, I suppose. Well, here they are, at any rate, and you'll have to look around "right considerable" to find a better cast, one more suited to its integral parts.

There's John Bonner, playing James King, a rich man—

But possibly you'd like to know something about each member and his role. Here goes: Bonner is distinctly hard-boiled, something never associated with him, even in speculation. But to show critics his versatility, he has developed a dyspeptic disposition that makes his family obey in startled amazement. He's a regular heathen.

Corinthia is Lotta Williams, and she is a model of what the well-stressed maid should bear. She is more than a maid, she is a member of the family—and as such the plot of the play hinges upon her clever characterization and quick thought.

Clinton De Witte, played by Amil Wasaff, can't be found in the dictionary—but will occasionally be found. One always speaks to "it," but reserves a bit of liberty for afterthought chiefly devoted to wonderment at how such a specimen gets along in a world once well de-

Explanation Reached In Death of Woman

CLEVELAND, May 6. (UP)—Charles Schoville, 57, inmate of the state insane hospital, confessed today to the murder of Mrs. Nellie Kerr, 65, whose nude body was found yesterday in an abandoned theater. The destitute widow and nurse was believed dead since April 13, but her body lay undiscovered at the foot of a flight of stairs in the vacant building.

Mrs. Kerr met Schoville through an advertisement for housekeeper. She was strangled and beaten to death. A stocking was tied around her neck when the body was found.

Schoville said the woman scolded him about the untidiness of his rooms and was killed in a resulting quarrel.

Quasi-Wink, Semi-Midland; On Train

A Wink man bought a Midland hat to wear on the good will trip to Hobbs.

That is he is a quasi-Wink man and a semi-Midland man. He is John T. Gay. He is manager in Texas for Murchison's land department. He lives in Wink and his family lives in Midland. But he has that indefinable Midland spirit—so he bought a Midland good will hat and will join the Midland train when it arrives in Wink.

At The Airport

Flights of all passenger ships through Midland today were cancelled because of the high wind and sand.

R. S. Lee in a Stinson-Detroiter, en route from Fort Worth to Midland, and an O. C. S. company ship coming here from Tulsa, stayed the night here, waiting to take off this afternoon when the weather was fit for flying.

Major T. E. Milling in an O-1-80, en route from Los Angeles to Washington, D. C., landed at the Midland port late Monday afternoon for refueling, taking off again immediately. He carried one passenger.

H. M. Becherer, field-manager of the airport, landed at Sloan field Monday after flying a passenger to El Paso and Hobbs Sunday. He said flying weather was rather rough.

The lines "burned" when they were brought into contact by the force of the wind storm which blew the greater part of the morning and afternoon.

Workmen were at work repairing the damage, early in the afternoon.
