Storms Strike With Death; Hail Near 15 Feet Deep

Injunction Restrains Petroleum Building Trustee Sale

24 DEAD IN MANY STATES

Sweetwater Hail Is A Wrecker; Island Storm Fatal

Heavy winds, hail storms, cloudbursts and other weather phenomena caused much destruction of property in Texas and other states over Saturday and late Friday, according to wire dispatches.

The wind which blew a gale in Midland Friday night blew up heavy rainfall and sleet showers in other nearby towns, the falling ice in some places pelting property with such violence as to do considerable damage.

Hail 15 Feet Deep
SWEETWATER, May 3. (AP)—Livestock was reported killed by rain, hail and wind storms in this area last night. Hail was reported drifted from four to 15 feet west of here. More than two inches of rain fell here and in other sections from a half to four inches. At Colorado ice drifts were said to be ten feet deep. Highways were submerged, and a bridge washed out, but was quickly repaired, causing little traffic delay.

Hail Big as Baseballs
ODONNELL, May 3. (UP).—Buildings were damaged, orchards stripped, and considerable damage done to livestock by a tornado and hail storm which struck this section today. Hailstones as large as baseballs preceded a terrific wind. Scores of windows were broken. Two inches of rain fell in a few hours.

Youth Badly Hurt
TEXARKANA, May 3. (AP)—A youth was injured probably fatally, and considerable damage to property was caused by a wind and electrical storm in the vicinity of Fouke, Arkansas, southeast of here late yesterday. Don Jones, 17, was in a hospital here suffering internal injuries received when he was struck by a large limb. Trees were reported uprooted, and much damage was done to crops and small buildings.

Twenty-Four Are Dead
KANSAS CITY, May 3. (AP)—Death toll exacted by a series of tornadoes that swept parts of Kansas and Missouri Thursday night swelled to eight today with the death of Paul Wells, 12, Norborne, Missouri. Injuries received when wind demolished his home proved fatal. The storm, striking ten mid-west states, took 24 lives.

Flood Claims Islanders
TAKYO, May 3. (AP)—Death toll in a typhoon which swept southern portions of Sachalin Island reached nearly 200 today. Ninety-four bodies were reported recovered, and 100 others were missing. The storm descended just after 10,000 fishermen had been attracted out to sea by appearance of great schools of herring. Two thousand fishing boats were out when the typhoon struck. Property damage was estimated at $2,500,000.

One Relative Dead As Other Improved

Losh Estes, who lives near the junior high school, was improved Saturday night from a serious paralytic stroke which affected him while in his yard Friday morning.

He seemed to be reasonably out of danger Saturday, relatives said. He had been affected with paralysis several times before, although he has a strong constitution, relatives said.

Mrs. S. W. Estes, while sitting at the bedside of Losh Estes, received intelligence of the death of her brother, John Draper, 45, of San Antonio, in McCamey. It was understood he was killed in an accident. She left for that place immediately.

UNIVERSITY 2-A WELL IN ECTOR IS LATEST IN FIELD

Cosden University 2-A is the newest well in the Penn pool in Ector county. The well had averaged 43 barrels an hour up to an early hour Saturday morning on a total depth of 3,570. The well is on section 1, block 35, township 3-south. Humble et al No. 7D Kloh, section 7, was shut down Saturday at 3,685 feet to change engines, having had an oil show at 3,680; Independent and Tidal No. 1 Scharbauer, section 6, was drilling Saturday in extra hard lime at 3,475 feet with a small gas flow from 3,367 to 3,372; Gulf No. 1 Kloh "G", section 5, was drilling in hard grey lime at 3,610; Skelly-Amerada was pulling 8-inch casing at 3,450; T. P. Coal and Oil No. 1 McKenzie was running 6 3/8 pipe in white lime at 3,460.

BERRY NEW MANAGER
M. L. Layton has resigned as manager of Burton-Lingo Lumber company and was succeeded Saturday by C. B. Berry. Layton has not completed his plans for the future. He and his family left Saturday for Fort Worth, his former home. He had been manager here about six months when he resigned. Berry was bookkeeper and is considered a competent lumber man.

Tangled Wreckage Is Evidence Of The Big Blast

FORT WORTH, May 3. (AP)—Claude Gremm, 50, engineer, and J. W. Wade, fireman, were killed today when the boiler of a locomotive pulling the south-bound Texas Pacific freight train exploded two miles from Keller, near here. Gremm was of Fort Worth and Wade of Bonham.

Bodies of two men, badly scalded, were picked up on the highway 50 or 75 feet away. Two brakemen, G. G. Weldman, Fort Worth, and H. L. Turner, Bonham, were riding on the second car back from the locomotive, and were knocked to the ground but were unhurt.

The 50-ton boiler, hurled 300 feet away, tore a hole four feet deep in the ground when it struck, and then bounced 100 feet further, a tangled piece of steel. The train was moving slowly down a slight grade when the explosion occurred. Turner said he heard a dull thud and the next he knew he was picking himself up from the ground. There was so much steam he could not see what was happening.

The blast halted the train and apparently lifted the boiler and cab cleanly off the chassis. Bits of engine hurled through the air and severed telegraph and telephone wires, cutting off communication with dispatchers at the office at Fort Worth. Four of 13 cars were derailed.

A. J. Chester, Dallas, general superintendent of the railroad said an investigation would be conducted to determine cause of the blast but made no comment.

Freakish Reptile Or Beast, What?

What kind of a lizard did Frank Cowden find? Indeed, was it a lizard?

Cowden saw a four-footed reptile with a lizard's tail, a snake's skin and a snake's tongue crawling on his house. He captured and bottled the varmint. Embryo biologists, lizardologists, plain cowboys and drug store cowboys have tried to guess what the beast is, but he died Saturday and went to a nameless grave.

BEDFORD ENTERS RACE FOR OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER

Formal announcement of his candidacy for commissioner of Precinct No. 1 was made to The Reporter-Telegram Saturday by H. G. Bedford.

Bedford has lived in the Midland country for 18 years and in the city for the last four years, devoting his time largely to ranching interests in this section.

In making his announcement, Bedford mentioned no definite platform relative to his candidacy, stating that he was making the race at the insistence of his friends.

S. R. Preston is at present commissioner of Precinct No. 1 and he made announcement in January for re-election.

INJUNCTION ALLOWED SATURDAY

Sale Was To Be Made Tuesday, But Is Arrested

A last minute application for an injunction to restrain the sale of the Petroleum building, filed by R. L. Stennis of Dallas and Dunaway & Lee of Midland, was granted in district court by Hon. Chas. L. Klapproth, at 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The application was founded on the fact that plaintiff had an inadequate remedy at law, and that the deed of trust provided for a usurious rate of interest.

The application was granted only after thorough consideration and on the presentation of authorities by both parties. J. M. Caldwell of Midland was seeking to sell the property as agent and attorney for the trustees under authority granted him. Caldwell also represented defendant in opposing application for the injunction.

The court indicated that it would call a special term of court of the parties so desired in order to expediate a final determination of the respective rights of the parties litigant. No request for a special term was made at this time in order to allow non-resident parties time for a decision with reference thereto.

The injunction bond was set by the court at $15,000, and the parties indicated that the bond would be made and filed forthwith, after which a restraining order will be served on J. M. Caldwell to prevent his selling the property.

The property had previously been advertised to be sold between the legal hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. on the first Tuesday of May, the same being May 6, 1930, but in view of the restraining order by the court the sale will not be made as advertised.

MIDLAND TO MAKE 2 GOODWILL TRIPS OVER TWO WEEKS

All plans have been completed for two great good will trips by Midland.

The first comes Tuesday, May 6, to Stanton.

The second comes one week later, Tuesday, May 13, to Hobbs with stops at Odessa, Monahans, Wink, Kermit, Jal and Eunice.

The Stanton trip will be made in automobiles, and will be made late in the afternoon so business houses may send their managers and owners.

Tuesday, a motorcade of at least 100 automobiles will leave Midland at 5:15 and will remain in Stanton one hour, and be home by 7:30. The Midland school band, directed by W. S. Lanham will give a concert on the court house lawn at Stanton; Midland and Stanton men will make two-minute talks, which, together, will last about 15 minutes. Stanton is expecting an enormous crowd of Midland people.

Women and children are invited to go on both trips. The trips are open to everyone. The train trip to Hobbs is offered for the amazingly low rate of $3.50 for the round trip. Many women are planning to go with their husbands on this journey, as it offers good opportunity to see the great oil field country.

Practically every business house in Midland will have one or more representatives on both trips to help create goodwill for Midland.

REPORTS SAY ARMED AMERICANS GO INTO MEXICO AND ADVANCE ON TOWN OF CHIHUAHUA; PURPOSE NOT KNOWN

MEXICO CITY, May 3. (UP)—The newspaper La Prensa said today that the foreign office had received a report from Mexican officials at Juarez, stating that a group of armed men from the United States crossed the border into Mexico and proceeded toward Chihuahua. The report said it was believed the men were Texas rangers.

The newspaper said the men attacked a Mexican in the vicinity of the town of Guadalupe after forcibly entering several houses. La Prensa understood that the foreign office was making inquiry through the Mexican embassy at Washington.

AUSTIN, May 3. (UP)—Moody said today he knew of no instance where Texas rangers crossed the border into Mexico for any purpose. If rangers entered Mexico, they did so without knowledge of his office or the attorney general's department, he said.

ANDREWS OFFSET NEARING LIME; IS NOW IN ANHYDRITE

Deep Rock No. 1 A. R. King, section 11, block A-46, public school land, Andrews county, south offset to their No. 1 Ogden, discovery well, was drilling late Saturday at 4,000 feet in anhydrite. This should not be far from the gray lime since the discovery well topped it at 4050.

Indications are so far that the King well will encounter the lime a little higher than the discovery well.

Their No. 1 Hayden Miles (B. L. King) section 22, block A-46, public school land has a fishing job at a total depth of 3,700 feet in anhydrite and lime.

Their No. 1 Mathis, section 4, block A-46, public school land, farthest east operation, was 3,500 feet in anhydrite.

Furman Petroleum Corp. No. 1 W. T. Ford, section 16, block A-43, public school land, approximately six miles to the south of the Deep Rock Ogden was at a total depth of 1,610 feet in red beds and gypsum and drilling ahead.

Car Rolls Over 3 Times On Highway

Three people miraculously escaped death a mile and a half east of Midland Friday afternoon when an automobile driven by D. C. Brister ran its right front wheel into a bad place on the margin of the rough highway.

The car careened, swept erratically to the left side of the road, into the ditch, catapulted completely over and then rolled. Those who saw the accident said the car brought up to a stop 70 feet away from the highway.

Brister was stunned somewhat and was found holding tight to the (See CAR WRECK page 8)

MIDLAND PEOPLE ASKED TO FETES IN MEX. QUARTER

Americans have been invited to attend El 5 de Mayo celebration Monday in the Mexican quarter of the city. They are promised diversion in the form of a good orchestra, dancing, contests, games and all kinds of Spanish food.

Rulers In Limelight

These two rulers of vast territories in India are in the limelight as new revolts threaten. A MIDLAND-HOBBS BUS LINE STARTS PROBABLY TUES.

Inauguration of bus service from Midland to Hobbs will begin Tuesday if permit is granted in time by the State Railroad commission. The bus service will be operated by Coxwell and Iley.

Midland will be one terminal of the line and Hobbs the other. The busses will operate via Andrews. Application for granting the permit was joined in by the Midland chamber of commerce, and this organization urged immediate granting of the permit, as there are now daily calls for passage to Hobbs.

The tentative schedule as worked out by the chamber of commerce and Iley will give bus and train connections at Midland. The bus will leave Midland at 9:20, or immediately after arrival of the morning train, arrive Andrews 10:35, arrive Hobbs 11:30 mountain time. Leave Hobbs 12 mountain time, arrive Andrews 3 p. m., arrive Midland 4:15 p. m.

NEW GROCERY OPENS

The Hokus-Pokus, through a heavy sales volume Saturday, the first business day of its opening, mirrors business optimism, according to proprietors Speed and Stockard.

The new grocery, formerly the establishment of the Food Palace, was opened Friday evening from 5-11, hundreds attending. Music was furnished by a Midland Hardware company automatic phonograph, and refreshments were served.

LINE OPENS MONDAY; 2 SHIPS COME

Later Report Makes Today Appear To Be The Date

Western Air Express will inaugurate its line through Midland this morning, according to late telephone communication with W. T. Studebaker, representative of the company, who had received the information from Dal'as. The first plane will arrive in Midland at 8 o'clock and take off at 8:15. The afternoon plane will arrive at 4, and take off at 4:15. Field Manager Becherer and Manager W. H. Sloan of the airport received the same information.

In the afternoon a great crowd is asked to be at the port. Mayor Leon Goodman will officially welcome the new airline.

The aeronautics committee of the chamber of commerce and The Reporter-Telegram are sending Jack Frye, member of the line, greetings in the form of flowers on the morning plane. Frye was several times in Midland, making preparations for the line.

Midland Saturday was announced as a regular stop of a new extension of Western Air Express from the Los Angeles-El Paso line to Dallas. First planes will arrive on regular schedule beginning Monday, according to W. T. Studebaker, assistant general passenger agent who maintains offices in Chicago.

A seven-day service will be initiated, with Fokker trimotored, 12-place planes flying the route.

The west-bound plane will leave Midland at 8:15 a. m., reaching Los Angeles at 5:15 p. m. The east-bound plane will take off at Sloan field at 5:10 p. m. and settle for a 7:15 landing in Dallas.

Ablene a Flag Stop

Midland will be the only regular stop at present between El Paso and Dallas. Ablene becoming a flag station and Fort Worth being passed by. It is possible that arrangements can be made for a change in this arrangement whereby Fort Worth can be assured a landing in the future. Studebaker informed The Reporter-Telegram.

Tentative arrangements effective Monday provide for a Los Angeles to Dallas line via El Paso and Midland as regular Texas stops. The Western Air Express has absorbed Standard Airlines, Inc., as predicted by Representative Peck of Western Air Express on a visit to Midland several months ago. The same stops serviced in the Standard routes (See AIR LINE page 8)

DECENCY AND DIVIDENDS

Every once in a while some earnest seeker after truth makes the surprising discovery that it really pays to treat workmen like decent human beings, finding to his amazement that the employer who gives his workers more than they expect is bound to profit by his generosity.

Of course, we all ought to know this, and be sure of it, without being told. But we have a fondness for cynicism, and we don't assimilate truths like this unless they are drummed into us.

An English merchant sailor named Lennox Kerr recently spent a year and a half wandering about the United States. When he got through he wrote a book, "Back Door Guest," just published, telling of his experiences. He found things in this country to surprise and interest him; but nothing hit him quite such a wallop as the contrast between sailors on the Great Lakes' steamers and sailors on the ocean.

Kerr, a veteran salt water sailor, made several trips on a lakes ship and thought he had tumbled into sailors' heaven.

He found the lakes shippers treating sailors as if they were decent, self-respecting human beings. Crews' quarters were clean, comfortable and commodious, as compared with the dark, dirty, smelly forecastles of salt water ships. The food was beyond praise, as compared with the starvation menus of most ocean steamers. Ships' officers treated their men with consideration instead of wrapping themselves in the dignity of the sea's traditional caste system.

In short, he found that whereas the ocean sailor ordinarily is given bad accommodations, bad food, callous treatment and ill-usage in all its forms, the lakes sailor is treated with kindness, consideration and respect.

Then he sums up the results. First of all, it pays dividends. The lakes shippers have an eight-months season and face heavy railroad competition—and profit as heavily as salt water shippers if not more.

In the second place, they get more work out of their men. The lakes sailor works longer hours and does a better job while he is at it than his salty brother. He is infinitely more sober and quiet. He saves his money, is utterly dependable and—in Kerr's words—"is the ideal worker, physically, morally and in intelligence."

In short, the Great Lakes way seems to this sailor to be not only kinder and more humane than the salt water way, but also much more intelligent.

We ought to know all this without being told, of course. But we don't. It actually surprises us to learn that even sailors—traditionally a graceless class—will respond to decent treatment. Which, of course, only indicates that we are still a trifle blind.

FRANCE'S DECLINING BIRTH RATE

Official French government figures show that France's death rate last year exceeded her birth rate. The death rate is slowly rising, while the birth rate continues to go downward at an amazing rate.

Considering the fact, one is led to wonder; just how many decades is France going to be able to maintain her position as the chief continental power in Europe? Across the Rhine lies Germany—disarmed and impotent, for the moment, to be sure, but possessed already of a much larger population than France, and displaying a high birth rate that continues to swell its population each year.

How long can a shrinking population maintain its dominance over a rapidly increasing one? Ask yourself that question, if you think the present international setup in Europe is to last indefinitely.

1930 Census Expected to Show Nation Growing More Slowly Than Ever Before

Later Marriages, More Women Workers, Less Immigration Is Seen

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Uncle Sam is growing more slowly than ever before. The rate of population increase in the last decade was smaller than that in any previous census period.

That is the opinion of veteran Census Bureau experts as preliminary figures on the 1930 census begin to pile up.

The population of the United States will be found to be between 122,000,000 and 122,250,000—that is as close an unofficial guess as they care to make at this time. The count may be near 122,125,000. In 1920 the nation's population was 105,710,620; in 1910, 91,972,266; in 1900, 75,994,375.

Birth control, higher living standards, later marriages, more women at work—these are the main factors which have gone with drastically restricted immigration to cut the rate of increase, according to the government's best authorities.

The population increased 14.9 per cent between 1910 and 1920, as against 21 per cent in the previous decade. For the 1920-30 period it is likely to fall below 14 per cent. Most of the increase has been urban.

Birth Rate Falling The birth rate has dropped, year by year, from 23.7 births per 1000 population in 1920 to 19.7 in 1923, with an indicated further decrease for 1929. Falling birth rates have been noted in nearly all civilized nations.

Communities throughout the country are learning their 1930 population from district supervisors before the returns are sent to Washington, a departure from previous custom.

The Census Bureau expects to issue preliminary figures as to the population of the entire United States on July 1, on the basis of the reports of the district supervisors. This probably will tally closely with the final official count, as the supervisors' totals are usually in paying off the enumeration. The bureau is required to return its official count for Congress when it meets in December.

Newspapers Give Aid The supervisors were recently asked to arrange with newspapers in their territories to publish coupons for the use of persons who had been missed in the census and wanted to make the fact known. There are always a few persons omitted on the first general count, it is explained here.

Right now nearly all the schedules are scattered over the country in the hands of the supervisors. Those for each city or town must be all in before they are sent to Washington. After they are counted for each such community five days are allowed to elapse after the local population announcement for the claims of persons unenumerated before the schedules are dispatched to Washington.

The bulk of schedules will be here by June 1 but the last ones probably will dribble in for another month, as there are always minor hitches. Some cities which have been overestimating their population for publicity purposes are protesting the count.

Tabulation Already Begun Preliminary work in the tabulation of the population has already begun. This is the coding of the schedules, marking numerical symbols in red upon each entry to guide the card-punchers. After that come the three main operations of tabulation—punching, sorting and tabulation. Each schedule is first put in a holder and the operator feeds such line directly into her line or vision by means of a foot pedal. Using the symbols she punches combinations of holes into special cards which, completed, represent a condensation of all the census facts about each individual. Every person in the country has his or her individual card, although at this point in the count the identity is lost and retained only on the schedule.

Your Record Will Look Like This

A grid representing a personal record card with columns for various attributes like name, sex, age, etc., and rows for different categories.

The card above shows how your personal record, as taken in the 1930 census, will go down in history. The holes punched in this sample card show the person enumerated was living in Philadelphia, 10th ward, 2d tract, 5th enumeration district; that she was a female, white, 26 years of age, single, had not attended school during the past year, was literate, born in Pennsylvania, her father was a native-born American, her mother was born in France, she could speak English, was a school teacher, and belonged to the class of salary workers. Her name is not given. Below, a Census Bureau worker is shown at one of the machines that punches such cards.

The cards are then piled into sorting machines, which, in accordance with the arrangement of the symbolic holes, drops them into boxes with regard to such specifications as sex, race, nativity and nationality of parentage. Finally the cards are fed into a tabulating machine which at the rate of seven cards a second tabulates as many as 60 combinations of facts at a time. Probably 7,000 persons will be engaged in this business of counting, which begins with the first card-punchings in May. About 30,000 persons look the junior clerk examinations for these temporary census jobs and 8,300 passed, about 5,000 of whom were women. They are being appointed in accordance with their examination ratings.

Hardly any change in the center of population of the United States is expected to be shown by the 1930 census. Experts believe that it will be found close to the 1920 center, which was 1.9 miles west of Whitehall in Clay Township, Indiana. That represented a jump of 9.8 miles westward from the city of Bloomington, Ind., where the center was found in 1910, and a movement of only two-tenths of a mile to the north.

As such a candidate, I suggest Hon. Joe H. Eagle of Houston, who as a congressman voted against submission of the 18th amendment. He is a man of high character and commanding intellect. I do not know that he would be willing to make the race, but I believe, if this suggestion finds favor over the state, he can be persuaded

The Town Doctor

SEE MIDLAND IN PICTURES

Far be it from me to say that Midland is not a good looking town, but I do believe that if you could see your town in pictures that you would want a lot of retouching done.

We seldom, if ever, can see ourselves as other see us. Did you ever hear the remarks made by a person when first he viewed the proofs of his own photo—hear him exclaim, "My heavens! Do I look like that?"

A mirror is often deceiving, but a camera never lies; therefore if you are not afraid to look at an unretouched picture—see Midland as others see it—do this:

Take an ordinary camera of four by five film or larger, go out on one of your main business streets and take a picture, from the middle of the road, on a forty-five degree angle to the right, then straight ahead; then on a forty-five degree angle to the left. Now walk a quarter of a block and repeat until you have taken pictures of each quarter block through and beyond your business district.

Do this on every business street, starting at least one block away from the first business building, and continue at least one block past the last one.

Now go down to the railroad depot and stand in about the position that a person alighting from a train would stand. Take a picture of everything to be seen from this point. Do not try to picture any one thing, but set your camera in such a position that each picture will just overlap the previous one. When this is done start walking toward the center of the city and, from the middle of the street again, photograph your way up or down town as the case may be.

Next get out on the main highways, about a mile from edge of city, and photograph your way completely through your city.

If you have a public square, stand as near the center of it is possible, facing south, and photograph straight ahead; then southeast, then southwest. Repeat this to the north, east and west.

Have the pictures developed, and when completed sit down prepare yourself for a surprise. Take a good look at Midland as the camera and others see it. Let everybody in town take a good look. To say you will be surprised doesn't express it, and it is ten to one that you will say, as those who look at the proofs of their own photographs, "Ye gods! Does our town look like that?"

Study these pictures in sequence as taken. Pick out those things that "Look like Heck" then start out to eliminate them.

See to it that each year Midland is made to look better. See that each year, each month, it is made a little bit cleaner, a little bit brighter, a whole lot more attractive. And you will soon find that just so it will become a little bit better, quite a bit larger, and much, much more prosperous.

How anything looks is important, so make Midland look good.

Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.

Bob Harper's place used to be at San Angelo. Nevertheless, it was a popular oasis.

According to one of the Little Theatre notes in the issue Friday of this paper, Manager John Bonner of the Yucca theatre came to the rescue of the players by taking the part which was to be played by D. H. Starling. The article praises Bonner to the extent that on the second night of his rehearsing he surprised those present with "his easy interpretation of character, graceful stage mannerisms and memory work."

It'll be great to see Bonner take the place of a chorus girl some night when the Yucca begins to bill the girls from the big towns and one happens to get sick all of a sudden.

Jim Finlayson came into town the other day with his face scratched up terribly. His only explanation is that he had been logging the Fisher-Lowrie wildcat near Hobbs. Sounds rather "catish" to me.

Work is under way by local oil men to organize the Never Sweat Oil Corporation. M. C. Lucky is to be chief geologist, Arthur Yeager plans to head the land department, and Fred Turner, founder of the Nigger-Rich Oil company, will head the litigation department. Ab Hendrickson is expected to be in charge of production.

The corporation is negotiating for pipe line facilities with Jim Finlayson and Malcolm Meek of the Capsule Pipe Line and Storage company.

ERRORGRAMS

IF WE GET ANY CATFISH TO-DAY IT'S YOUR TURN TO SCALE THEM. HOW DO YOU LIKE THAT BAMBOO POLE? O.K. DO YOU REMEMBER THAT BIG BASS I GOT NEAR HERE LAST YEAR? I WAS USING PORK RINE FOR BAIT.

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may be mistakes you find, and 20 for each of the mistakes to grammar, history, etiquette, word if you unscramble it. Today, find word below — and unscramble on back page, we'll explain the mistake, by switching the letters around, takes and tell you the word. Then find them. Then look at the scramble. You can see how near a hundred you drawings or whatnot. See if you can bat.

"YOUNG EAGLES" LIKE ANOTHER WINGS: IN FACT FILM IS FAR MORE STRONG

"Young Eagles" the feature attraction opening at the Yucca theatre for a three-day run, is hailed as a worthy successor to the never-to-be forgotten "Wings". The same producer made both pictures. Although "Young Eagles" is said to be robbed of hatred, robbed of tragic death scenes, it immortalizes a different angle of war-time precedents. The thrilling story is built around the novel theme of affection and friendship which sprang up between two enemy aces. The strange romance woven into the stirring spectacle is said to be one that will sway you alternately with emotions of pathos and humor. Buddy Rogers—that human dynamo of American youth—is the dashing hero of Uncle Sam's ace airman, and is equally as enthusiastic in love as he is in war. Paul Lukas is the enemy ace. Their difficulties in war and in love form one of the strangest chapters ever pictured of army life, according to reviewers. Beautiful Jean Arthur is the girl in the case and her strange setting in the story of mystery and thrills adds the highlight of suspense to the nerve-thrilling romance. Yucca theatre patrons are promised one of the most stirring and thrilling spectacles ever offered the theatre going public since the advent of sound and talking pictures. The entire story is heightened by its bristling dialogue, while the sound effects are said to reflect a degree of perfection that causes the audience to almost forget they are merely viewing a picture. It is estimated that one out of every 34 automobiles in the United States has an accident at some time during the year. The State of Washington cut and shipped out 1,484,000 Christmas trees for Christmas celebrations in 1929.

BIG TRACK MEET COLLEGE STATION, Texas, May 3—With participation by what is probably the most outstanding aggregation of stars gained national prominence by their feats on the track and in the field, the annual Southwest Conference track and field meet at Kyle Field, Friday and Saturday, May 9-10, promises to be fraught with interest not only for fans of the Southwest but for track fans of the country at large. Heading the list of stars who have won national recognition will be Cy Leland, flying Frog from T.C.U., and Claude Bracey, Rice Owl flash, whose sensational records in the 100- and 220-yard dashes this year and last have overshadowed the performances of other stars in the conference and have placed them at the head of the contenders for national sprint honors this season. With both Leland and Bracey in the meet, national and world records as well as conference records will be endangered. Leland a few days ago was clocked at 9.4 seconds in the 100 and Bracey is a consistent performer at around 9.6. Another similarity between a banker and a well equipped gardener is that both are called upon to make loans.

POSTAL EMPLOYEE ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT KONJOLA

Stomach And Bowel Troubles Soon Banished... "Should Have Taken New Medicine Long Ago," He Says.

MR. FRANK B. NORMAN

"I suffered for a long time with stomach trouble," said Mr. Frank B. Norman, 828 Mississippi street, Amarillo. "I had a very poor appetite and after eating I was subject to painful accumulations of gas. I was becoming very nervous and did not sleep well at night. I was troubled with constipation and found it necessary to take cathartics constantly. I was losing strength and energy and no matter what I tried in the way of medicine nothing seemed to help me."

"I seemed to improve in health from the time I began taking Konjola. My appetite picked up and I was able to assimilate my food better. I did not have that tired out feeling in the morning and my work was easier and more pleasant. Constipation soon passed and cathartics were no longer necessary. After continuing the treatment for a time I realized that Konjola was the medicine I should have taken long ago. I am continuing to take Konjola and am recommending it to all my friends."

Given a real trial over a period of from six to eight weeks, Konjola has made a record without parallel in the history of medicines. Ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness readily yield to its power.

Konjola is sold in Midland at Mayes Young drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

ON TOP where it belongs

This shows the Refrigerating Unit of the General Electric Refrigerator. Hermetically sealed within the steel casing are (1) the motor (2) all the machinery and (3) a permanent supply of purest lubricating oil.

Put your hand over a radiator—and you'll know what refrigerator to buy! Feel that current of warm air heading straight for the ceiling? Warm air has a habit of floating up—an unbreakable habit. And that includes the warm air the mechanism draws out of your refrigerator to make it cool inside.

How easy to see that the efficient refrigerator mechanism must always be on top, so that all the warm air released by it will be set free above the cabinet that must be kept cool!

You can always tell a General Electric Refrigerator. The mechanism is on top where it belongs. And that mechanism keeps the temperature of your refrigerator where it belongs. Always below 50 degrees.

And it keeps your electric current bill where it belongs. Unbelievably low. And it keeps the maintenance cost where it belongs. For three years no owner has paid one cent for service!

Why not put a nice, glistening white, all-steel General Electric Refrigerator where it belongs? Phone us, or better yet, drop around.

Join us in the General Electric Hour, broadcast every Saturday at 9 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, over a Nationwide N.B.C. network.

Two Girls Go Shopping

Francis: "Oh, Irene! Just look at these Hosiery, aren't they lovely, and so sheer, too. They give wonderful service, too, because I've tried them. Please put me in a pair of those, light color—sure. They are only $5.95. Make it two pair, please."

"These gloves, aren't they simply adorable. I heard Mother say she wanted a pair of long gloves just the other day, too. I'll take these, please, at $3.50."

Irene: "Francis, look here. We'll want a card to go in the package, and these are so lovely at 10c and 25c."

Francis: "I want one of these Mottoes, because it expresses my sentiments exactly. Only $1.25."

Irene: "I have already picked out a Dress for Mother. She will be crazy about it I know. Its such a dainty little printed chiffon, so cool and airy, at $19.75."

Francis: "I'm going to get some of this Damask for Mother to make new front room Drapes. Isn't it beautiful, Irene, for $3.50 yd."

Irene: "Look here, Francis, at these beautiful Duo Colored Bath Towels for 89c. They are just too pretty. I'll take four, please."

Francis: "Oh! yes. A pair of Arch Rest Shoes, Mother wears them all the time. She thinks there's nothing like them for comfort and looks, too. They are only $7.50."

"Did you see this lovely Orchid Bedspread and Pillow. Wouldn't Mother like it though, for the guest room. Let's get it, Francis, its just $14.50 and it will last a lifetime."

"And just look at the lovely purses. I want this one. It just matches the dress perfectly. Only $2.95, too."

"Oh, yes, one of those pretty little Handkerchiefs. Just let it hang carelessly from the Bag, please. Its $1.00, isn't it? That one is very nice, too, at 50c."

"I want this Necklace, also. It just sets off the costume, and its something Mother wouldn't buy for herself, and only $1.00. Others 50c up."

Guests of Miss Cowden were Misses Mary Caroline Sims, Janelle Edwards, Helen Margaret Ulmer, Dorris Harrison, Ida Beth Cowden, Marie Hill, Ruby Hodges, Martha Louise Nobles, and Messrs. Thomas Lee Speed, Vann Mitchell, Ernest Sparks, Henson Alagood, Hugh West, Johnnie Rattliff, Browning, Ernest Friberg, Bill Cartwell, and Robert Poe.

City League Union Studies Usefulness

Members of the City League Union held the fourth meeting of the year Friday evening at the Christian church, with Miss Velma Winborne as leader.

The meeting was opened with the song, "Where the Gates Swing Outward Never." James Killough led in prayer.

Subject for study was "What Is a Useful Life," and the leader opened the study by reading scripture from second Timothy. After the Lord's Prayer in unison, the group heard the following talks:

Talk on the general subject—Dorothea Meadows.

Being a Good Son or Daughter—Nex Cospier.

The Worth of Untiring Practice—Edythe Sundquist.

The young people gave their comments on what they considered a useful life to be, and an open discussion was held with the leader asking questions on various phases of usefulness.

Lillian Dunaway, accompanied on the piano by Mary Belle Pratt, played the violin.

The meeting was turned over to the president, who announced, after reading of the minutes, that the Union would meet at the Presbyterian church on June 6.

Bible Class Entertained

Mmes. D. E. Holster and C. F. Garrison were hostesses to the Belmont Bible class at a social meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Holster.

Proceeding the social hour, the members reviewed the books of the Bible from first Samuel to second Chronicles.

Miss Annie Lee King, in charge of the games, conducted a series of lively contests, in which Mmes. J. S. Noland and Thomas B. Murphy were winners.

Refreshment plates of ice cream and cake were served to Mmes. C. E. Strawn, J. M. King, E. W. Hough, Thomas D. Murphy, T. J. Walker, J. C. Hudman, J. S. Noland, S. R. Stanage, C. E. Vaughan, and C. E. Nolan.

Entertained With Birthday Party

Mrs. J. O. Vance entertained for her little daughter, Cleo Gertrude, Friday afternoon, in honor of the latter's birthday.

Several interesting games were played, after which party plates of pink and white ice cream and cake were served. Plate favors for girls were handkerchiefs, and for boys were ever-sharp pencils.

The guest list included Carleen Sisk, Anna Beth Bedford, Catherine Carter, Frances George, Wanda George, Virginia Lee Smith, Lexie Jane Cargin, Eddie Blanche Cowden, Nelda Jem Hicks, Dorothy Lou Speed, Mary Howe, Evelyn Phillips, Jessie Lynn Tuttle, Virginia Moore, Lemoyne Sindorf, Juanita Cox, Lina Laura Long, Darleen Vance, John Evans, Frederick Mitchell, T. National Music Week Opens; Radios To Be Given For Best Home Talent Programs

With today marking the beginning of National Music Week, towns and cities in every state are observing this annual affair. The larger cities will have programs each day, while others will climax the week with a feature program, as Midland is doing. Plans and arrangements are in full sway for the local observance of the week, a program to be given at the Baptist church May 11, Mother's Day, under the auspices of the Fine Arts club.

Active participation in National Music Week, has received an effective stimulus in the announcement of $12,000 in prizes to be awarded for the best programs carried out in American homes embodying the idea, "Make music your friend from eight to eighty," the 1930 slogan of the Music Week committee. With the aim of encouraging not only more discrimination by the listening public in its choice of radio programs, but also increased actual playing of music by members of the family, the Grigsby-Grunow Company of Chicago has donated forty-eight complete Majestic electric radio, electric pick-up phonograph combinations, one for each State.

To the student in school (grade, high school or college) in each State who submits a program of musical entertainment which he or she has planned and which has been actually held in a private home and which shall be adjudged the best submitted from that State, the company will award a Majestic radio-phonograph combination, complete with tubes. There is no restriction on the type of program, the selections played or sung or the instruments used. If the family wishes to incorporate in its program, radio numbers broadcast from any national or local station at the time the program is being carried out, such number, will be considered on its merits as part of the program as a whole. The inclusion of a radio broadcast number is, however, entirely optional.

Include Old and Young

Particular attention should be given to enlisting in the program both old and young so that it may be in keeping with the keynote of the 1930 Music Week—active participation in music "from eight to eighty." This feature will have much weight in awarding of the prizes, as will the ingenuity and good taste shown in making up the program. The supervisor of music or teacher in the school may assist the pupil in arranging such a program, thus linking work in musical appreciation in the school with the home.

To present a program to be entered in the contest the entrant must write a concise description of it not exceeding 500 words and should accompany it with a statement as to the time and place of the home music hour, signed by persons present. Interesting and ingenious contributions to the program by members of the family, or friends taking part, will score heavily for an entry. All communications should be addressed to the Contest Editor, Grigsby-Grunow Company, Box 100, Chicago, Ill., and should be mailed so as to arrive not later than May 20.

Second Week of Meeting Begins

Beginning the second week of a three-weeks meeting, Rev. O. W. Roberts pastor of the Pentecostal Holiness church will preach at both morning and evening services Sunday. He will conduct services each night during the week, beginning at 8 o'clock. Attendance is increasing, and the meeting is showing good results. Rev. Roberts reports.

Announce Engagement Of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Whitmire, 818 North Baird street, have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lenora, to Willis C. Blackburn of Corpus Christi. The wedding is to take place in Midland in June.

CHURCHES

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

George F. Brown, pastor "Safe-Guards of the Home" will be the morning theme. Do our homes need safe-guards? If so what are some of them? "Deadly Delays" will be the evening subject.

This is National Music Week. The pastor does not know enough about music to speak with authority, but he is in thorough sympathy with this effort to maintain high standards. We live in a jazz age. The tendency is to jazz everything, even church music. Of course the tide will turn, but in the meantime let us try to think soberly, even as we ought to think.

Sunday school at 9:45. B. Y. P. U. at 7:00 p. m. Forsake not the assembling of yourself together for worship. To do so is to rob the soul of its necessary food.

Thomas D. Murphy, pastor. "Is the world getting better?" this will be discussed in the sermon by the pastor at the morning hour in the second of the series of Pentecost. Special music will be given by the choir. A hearty welcome will be given to the evening service which will be at eight o'clock, and will be devoted to installing the new officers of the Christian Endeavor, and a discussion of the topic: "How We May Find Our Life Work." The program follows:

- Opening Hymn—"He Is So Precious to Me." Invocation by the Pastor. Installation of the New Officers. Prayer led by the Pastor. The Day's Topic: "How May We Find Our Life Work?" with Leland Murphy, the leader in charge. Hymn—"Work for the Night is Coming." Consecration of the Offerings. Offertory by Edythe Sundquist. Leader's Introduction of the topic. Discussion: 1. "Is There a Call to Life Work?" Miss Georgia McMullan. Reading, by Lucille McMullan. 2. "How Chose Among Many Possibilities?"—T. D. Kimbrough. 3. By Way of Illustration—By Members of the Endeavor. 4. "Obeying the Call"—Thomas D. Murphy. Hymn—"I'll Go Where You Want Me to Go." Benediction.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mrs. George F. Brown, who has been ill for the past few days, is expected to be back to teach her Bible class at the Baptist church this morning. Members are asked to be present. Twelve millionaires now have seats in the United States Senate. A New York paper runs a column under the caption of "Rod and Gun." Chicago papers may see copy.

May Morning

By Fanny Darrell

Do you remember the fragrance and glory of that dewy May morning when you first realized the true loveliness and meaning of Spring? Trees softly swaying in the breeze, birds singing their mating songs, and soft glistening flowers made into a posy by loving hands for you. Violets like mysterious stars shining against dark glossy leaves, they were, these flowers that carried with them love's fond message. Somehow you were glad that Love brought you violets, weren't you—for in their purple petals lurks all the shy glory of youthful love and all the sweet romance that has colored the world since the beginning of time. And you who are in the May morning of your lovely life, aren't you reveling in the perfumed perfection of May? Are you accepting May's violets as a token of a love that will always endure? Or, are you just wearing them for a brief hour?

Paramount, in his effort a few years ago in silent pictures with "King of Kings" DeMille is truly as wonderful and far advancing productions, for genuine entertainment with "Dynamite" today, as was his "King of Kings," "The Ten Commandments" and "Godless Girl" of yesterday.

"Dynamite" is certain of praise because of genuine merit, sincere and uniqueness in plot, enhancing in action and emotion it is truly a contribution to better, bigger and more entertaining productions. "Dynamite" has set a mark for others to try for—Marian F. Peters, manager West Texas Gas company and publicity director little theatre.

Band To Arrive Monday Morning

Thirty-five members of the Cowboy Band, under the direction of D. O. Wiley, will arrive in Midland Monday morning for their concert that night under the auspices of Midland high school.

Due to the wide fame of the band and their reputation as a perfectly timed musical group, a large crowd is expected out for their program tomorrow night.

The Cowboys come to this city with one of the most unique records of any organization ever to visit Midland. During the past seven years they have carried the fame of the Lone Star state over fifty thousand miles into twenty states to gain the name of the most widely traveled and best known university band in the world. They have attended every convention and rodeo of importance in the Southwest and have never failed to create a sensation wherever they have appeared.

The high point in the history of the band came last year when they went to Washington for the inauguration of President Hoover. They received a big hand in the inaugural parade, when in the drizzling down-pour they struck up the optimistic tune of "It Ain't Goin' to Rain No More."

The band then played on the White House lawn before President Hoover the day after his inauguration.

An even greater reception was awaiting them in New York when 2000 New Yorkers packed the celebrated Old Ziegfeld theatre to hear the Cowboys from Texas play. Their merit as a concert organization was never more impressively illustrated than at that time. Encore after encore was played before the Cowboys were allowed to leave the stage.

And now an even more outstanding feat is planned for this record-making band. They will sail from New York June 11 to begin the first regular concert tour of the Old World ever made by a Texas musical organization. They will be in Europe eight weeks and give concerts in nine foreign countries.

The band will play in Midland Monday night the same program they are to feature in Europe this summer.

Episcopal Services Tuesday Evening

Rev. Martin of the Episcopal church in Big Spring will conduct services at the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The public is invited.

REPRESENTATIVE MIDLAND PEOPLE SEE PREVIEW "DYNAMITE," WONDERFUL FILM PRODUCED BY DE MILLE; WHAT IS SAID

A special screening of Cecil B. De Mille's "Dynamite," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's all talking film spectacle, given at the Ritz theatre yesterday morning at 9:45, was attended by a number of Midland's representative men and women. Johnny Steadman, Ritz house manager, welcomed the guests in a briefly pleasing manner. At the conclusion of the preview screening John Bonner, attached to the executive staff of the local theatres, addressed the guests briefly, saying: "The varied elements of humanity are the basis of all drama. The two hours and eight minutes you have just spent viewing this picture has brought to you the first talking picture production of Cecil B. DeMille, acknowledged one of America's four greatest motion picture directors and producers. And America is proud of her distinction above all other nations in the production of motion pictures. From a technical standpoint, we of the industry believe Mr. DeMille's contribution has established a new standard in the talking picture field, similar to the precedent set in developing silent pictures in years gone by with D. W. Griffith's never-to-be-forgotten "Birth of a Nation". In an effort to confirm our convictions you have been invited here. Although few in numbers you are representative of Midland's citizenship, and Midland in not unlike other communities the world over. Therefore, whether you care to consider it a compliment or flattery, your opinions of the picture will be accepted by us as the pulse of the world in measuring the advancement of talking motion pictures."

"The emotional acting of the child in the picture 'Dynamite' surpasses anything I have ever seen."—Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, Woman's Wednesday club and the little theatre. "The lesson of holding to the right to win is forcefully taught in the picture. It is one picture with no weak parts, wonderful acting, all the way through."—Mrs. J. M. White, Woman's Wednesday club. "Dynamite" will hold you spell-bound from the beginning until the close of the picture."—Mrs. M. R. Hill, Woman's Wednesday club. "contains just the proper amount of dramatic suspense and comic relief to make it a superb production; one that will remain with you for days—perfect contrasts."—Mrs. George Thomas Abell, director Midland little theatre. "A very splendid production—realistic and a work of art, both in production and acting."—Mrs. Marion Rippey, English teacher in the Midland high school.

Cecil B. DeMille's recent statement that it is "His belief no man can be loyal and faithful to any other man if he is not loyal and faithful to his God" is well brought out and exemplified in a very typical and effective manner as portrayed in his recent picture "Dynamite."

Alive and bubbling over with human interest, action and thrilling climaxes "Dynamite" captivates you from the very opening. Its human likeness and contrasts are sublime almost to reality. From the tipsy-turvy, care free society scenes to the solid and concrete mining atmosphere and sights, your imagination is inspired to the point of wonderment at such wonderful accomplishments in the realm of sound-talking films.

"One of the most wonderful pictures I have ever seen—splendid acting."—Alberta Gant, Fine Arts club.

"A great production."—L. A. Boone, pastor First Methodist church.

"This is the best talking picture I have ever seen. It has a wonderful plot and ranks with the best that De Mille has turned out."—L. K. Barry, head coach Midland high school.

"Cecil B. DeMille's production 'Dynamite' marks the debut of a new era in motion pictures."—Eula Gee Gant, Fine Arts club.

"Dynamite" shows the possibilities of sound pictures. The plot and acting are the best I have seen in any recent show."—Miss Thelma

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY

When eggs are plentiful, there is no more attractive way of serving them than in an omelet. No matter what time of day it is wanted, it appears to good advantage.

There is no mysterious secret or indescribable trick connected with omelet making. Anyone who is willing to measure accurately and take the trouble of cooking carefully can make a perfect omelet.

An omelet must never be allowed to stand at any stage of its preparation. It must be mixed quickly, cooked at once and served on a hot dish as soon as done.

With two types of omelets and their numerous variations the hostess has a wide choice. The French omelet is made by beating the whole eggs while the puffy omelet is made by beating the whites and yolks separately. The French omelet usually is served with a filling of some sort spread over it just before folding. The puffy omelet often is served with jelly or a sauce is poured around it after folding. However, there is no "set" rule and the types are used interchangeably. The puffy omelet seems a bit more impressive and interesting when served, but it is no harder to make than the plain one.

The addition of tapioca to a puffy omelet helps to keep it from falling and is a modern innovation.

As in all egg and milk mixtures, the cooking temperature is important. Too intense heat will cause the omelet to be watery, leathery and tough. The omelet pan must be hot enough to begin to cook the mixture at once and an even heat must be maintained. The pan is hot enough when the butter used to grease it begins to bubble.

hot water, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon white pepper, 4 teaspoons butter.

Beat eggs together until well mixed but not light. Add milk and seasoning and turn at once into omelet pan or iron spider thoroughly covered with butter.

Four omelet mixture gently into the pan, taking care not to scatter the butter. As bubbles form prick them with a fork and stir the top lightly to keep smooth and insure even cooking. As omelet becomes firm on the bottom, lift edges gently with a fork and tip pan slightly to loosen omelet from the bottom. Cook over a low flame until firm. Place in a hot oven or under the flame for one minute to dry the top. When done, hold the pan by the handle and make a cut with spatula through the omelet. Run spatula under section of omelet nearest handle and fold over other half, tipping pan at the same time and sliding to a hot platter.

Puffy Omelet

Four eggs, 2 tablespoons minute tapioca, 3-4 cup milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons butter.

Add salt and tapioca to milk and cook in double boiler for 15 minutes. Remove from heat and add yolks of eggs beaten until thick and lemon colored. Fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Pour into hot buttered omelet pan and cook and fold as in preceding recipe.

MAGAZINE ONCE MORE RUNS FEATURE ON MIDLAND

Publicity that could not have been bought for several hundred dollars appeared in the current issue of Municipal Utilities magazine. The publicity cost Midland nothing. It was used as a part of a Fairbanks-Morse advertisement on the outside back cover, having been sent in by D. B. Jones, district salesman and Abe J. Gates, city manager. Wales at Tea—in African Setting

African jungles are no bar to a good Englishman's tea—and here you see the Prince of Wales taking time out from his big game hunting to quaff a steaming cup at his bush camp near Kiu, in Kenya. The British throne heir is shown at the right in tropical garb. With him is Captain Finch-Hatton, who arranged the safari. This is the first picture to reach the United States from the Prince's hunting expedition in East Africa.

What They Tell Cub Reporter—And How!

By "CY" FOSTER.

Human nature is a funny thing. We all have our ideas about it, but no two seem to be alike. The chamber of commerce receives some queer requests and questions both from the educated and un-educated. From the high and the low.

The chamber is always glad to answer all questions.

One lady from a town about 35 miles distant wrote in and asked the name of the best maternity hospital in Midland.

A poor man died and a lady called up to ask if they would get a shroud in which to bury the man. The chamber of commerce arranged for this.

The most embarrassing question you can ask the chamber is: "Is it going to rain."

Questions range all the way from school children asking how old Midland is up to women asking what the chamber of commerce thinks of investing funds in stocks.

These miniature golf courses seem to be the rage of the day. People seem to enjoy playing on them as well as they do on the big courses.

Mr. Smith is operating a very attractive course on West Wall and Carrizo street. Very large crowds play on the course every afternoon. It is reported that about 150 people play every day, he hours are from 9 a. m. to 11 p. m., but on account of so many playing in the afternoon the course was held open until 1 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mr. Payne is putting in a very nice course on Colorado street. He outs in marching during the past week. The musical group will be entered in the grand parade when it goes to Abilene to compete in the band concert. This parade is important, as the band receiving first place will be awarded a gold drum majors' baton by the C. G. Conn Co. All band members are looking forward to the contest and are working hard to work up a distinctive style.

The band goes to Stanton Tuesday afternoon at 5:15 on the chamber of commerce goodwill tour. Before it leaves Midland, the band will probably play 10 minutes on the square. The band will play seven or eight numbers at Stanton, including the famous pep song "Peruna."

The band has added three new members within the past week. Bob Morley on the snare drum, Herman Walker on the bass and Mary Belle Pratt on an alto horn.

The band is sponsoring the concert of the Cowboy band, Simmons university. Monday night at the high school. It will play the first number on the program, and will be directed by Conductor Wiley, director of the Cowboy group. Lanham will direct the Cowboy band during a number later on in the program.

Frank Wendt reports lots of planting in the south east portion of the county. The farmers seem well pleased with the rains. There has been light rain fall in the north and west part of the county.

The work entailed in paving is progressing rapidly. The city plans to bring in a curb and gutter crew to speed up the work.

Lorraine street and Texas avenue and two-thirds of Colorado street are complete. Three blocks of south main were to be opened Saturday. Approximately seven blocks of pavement have been opened recently. An average of 1200 feet of asphalt and 1000 yards of concrete are being laid a day.

Since the rains most of the other city streets have been worked.

DRESSING ROOM IS TOO SMALL FOR ACCOMMODATION

By C. C. FOSTER

Spring football training has proved so popular at Midland high school that Coach Barry has already been forced to cut two men off the squad due to lack of dressing room space and equipment.

"The dressing room is equipped to accommodate a maximum of 35 boys" he said. "We believe that we have conserved the space as efficiently as possible, yet the dressing room will accommodate only 25 boys. We have 35 out now and there isn't a quitter among the bunch. These 35 do not include three lettermen and a half dozen other very promising boys who cannot come out until next fall."

"For the benefit of the skeptical, I want to emphasize the fact that the squad is not made up of a bunch of hopeless, puny lightweight. The average weight of the 35 men is 144 pounds and there are 20 boys out who weigh 150 pounds or more. Due to our limited facilities, I have had to restrict the squad to those whom I think will stand a chance of making the team next year. There are at least a dozen others who would come out if we could take care of them.

"I am sure that there will be 50 applicants for the squad next fall. We will have to refuse some 12 or 15 boys the privilege of coming out." Beside getting a line on the boys' individual ability, the coach is taking advantage of spring training to experiment with the plays to be used next fall.

Knute Rockne and most of the other good coaches say that after all football is a question of blocking and tackling. "Eleven sure tacklers can't be beat and eleven good blockers can't be stopped." These two fundamentals are the very soul of the game and nobody knows it better than I do but unfortunately our practice ground is so dangerous that we have to neglect blocking and tackling almost entirely.

"Several boys are absent from practice every day. They do not seem to realize these practices we are having now are just as important as any we will have next fall. Not only does the boy miss something important every time he's absent, but it seriously handicaps me in planning the training."

Next week the axe is going to fall on those who continue to miss practice without an iron clad excuse."

If all the coach's plans carry he will start the season off next fall with the following line up:

Dave Allen—left end. James White—left tackle. Donald Parrott—left guard. Cy Foster—center. Meade McCall—right guard. Ham Pinnell—right tackle. George Booth—right end. The backfield will be composed of Burris, Hallman, Fryar, Midkiff and Parker.

GEORGE HAS LAZY BENCH ERECTED ON Catherine Stops Show; Amil's Pants Are—STAGE; HENGLISHMAN IS ALL SOAKED

This blighter Crake who is playing the part of an English lord in "Adam and Eva," to be shown Thursday evening at the Yucca theatre—that is all except the "lord." He is English plenty, if ya' know what I mean. The only thing he lacks is the facility of keeping the rest of the cast from laughing at his bloomin' accent. He's a screech, and that's that.

George Abell, the viking-complexion oil man, has trouble staying awake in rehearsals. He has rigged up a "lazy bench"—insisted on it. Said he couldn't be comfortable any other way. The problem is, at the present, found in the complexities of weaning George away from the idea of introducing the bench to the audience on the night the play is given. He insists he can sleep better in his scene there than anywhere else. The entire cast knows how George watches wells during the night hours—just by watching him. He grew restive the other night while asleep and turned over quickly and yelled "Oil!" For a moment the serenity of the rehearsal was disrupted by his frantic movements. It developed Amil Wasaff had pushed a cheap bottle of perfume under the nostrils of the sleeping beauty—pardon, oil man.

"Mack" McCracken, taking the part of a doctor, is having a terrible time learning medical science nomenclature. His usual grace is lacking also in methods of handling his instruments. For instance, in inserting a thermometer under the tongue of John Bonner, the theatre manager had to inform the aspiring Mack that his tonsils were giving him no trouble.

Amil Wasaff, a fop in the play, is supposed to strut about in his perfectly fitting clothes. But when Amil essayed to climb upon a chicken coop built by a member of the cast for the production, it gave in with him and two tailors worked overtime Saturday upon the young fellow's "extra" trousers. Wasaff, a law student, is now loudly proclaiming the merits of union carpenters.

Katherine Marcus easy on the orbs, stopped the play the other night in a manner not calculated to insure success to the production. Instead of bringing out rounds of applause from an audience (which wasn't there) she stopped the production on the stage as she came in late, wearing the cascading finery of an imported gown. The cast stopped to inquire who the screen star was.

Anyway, Mrs. George Thomas Abell, director, says the "monkey business" is over—that the first one who makes a faux pas will have to do more penance than wear hair cloth in the sizzlin' summer. The play will be the best of the season—the cast admits it. When you see little theatre pastebards put on sale Monday at the Midland Drug Co., buy any number less than a dozen; more than that would brand you as a ticket "scalper," thereby making you amenable to Sherman anti-trust laws.

Air Line—

have been maintained by the absorbing line, and several new extensions made.

Studebaker said the tentative arrangement included a takeoff from Dallas into the west at approximately 5 a. m., arrival in Midland at about 7:30 or 8, El Paso at 9 or 9:30, Mountain time, and a landing in Los Angeles at about 7 p. m. Pacific time.

Two Ships a Day

Flying eastward, the plane will take off in Los Angeles at 4 a. m., Pacific time, arrive in El Paso about 1:30 p. m., Mountain time. Midland about 4 p. m., and to a night landing in Dallas about 7 p. m.

A ship from either direction each day will land at Sloan field, Studebaker said.

A representative of the Western Air Express, Joe Cravins, will arrive here today, and will be permanently located in Midland. He will take care of all business relating to the lines.

A company owned radio station will be established as soon as arrangements can be perfected. Studebaker thought probable. The airline always establishes these when it makes new extensions, he explained.

May Install Radio

Such a set as would be established in Midland would be light enough to fly here in a trimotor, but strong enough to transmit messages and receive over an approximate 200-mile radius.

Studebaker said Midland is physically located and developed to the extent where it may become noted from an aeronautical standpoint. He pointed out the fact that Midland is located on the most "flyable" route known to transcontinental air travel, and that the government survey now in progress will revolutionize this mode of travel in every respect.

A unique angle of the announcement that Western Air Express would initiate its service Monday is found in the fact that no prior news released here, the company having adopted a custom of deciding a problem and then quietly, unassumingly putting over the enterprise on the minute.

Chamber Commerce Realization Midland chamber of commerce authorities working through the aeronautic committee of the organization and through the airport had a series of conferences with the airline company months ago, offering the company every cooperation possible to facilitate the inauguration.

The line now operates from San Francisco through Oakland to Seattle and Portland, from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City, from Los Angeles to Kansas City through Amarillo, from Albuquerque to Cheyenne, Amarillo to Dallas, and now announces an extension to Dallas of its Los Angeles to El Paso line.

Interesting History

Western Air Express is one of the oldest and most successful air transport lines in the country. Company had its inception in April, 1926, with inauguration of air mail service between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City. Transporting mail only, the company depended entirely for revenues on its mail contract of $3 a pound. The line began immediately to show profits and has continued to do so ever since. Company has paid dividends since October, 1927.

In May, 1928, Western Air Express took over operation of the air mail line between Cheyenne, Denver, and Pueblo, and this is now the second heaviest carrier of air mail per 1,000 population served in the country. The line has also built up a moderate passenger business and is being operated at a profit.

Heavy Passenger Traffic

In May, 1928, Western Air installed a model passenger airway between Los Angeles and San Francisco, serviced by 12-passenger Fokker planes. This line has carried a large number of passengers despite heavy competition.

Two more local services were established by the company in 1928. In January the Pacific Marine Airways, which operated seaplanes between Willington, Cal., and Catalina, was acquired, this service has since been operated daily and recently has been augmented by the use of amphibians which leave the ground at Los Angeles and alight on the water at Avalon Bay. In October, 1928, company established service between Los Angeles and San Diego, and only last fall extended the line to Tia Juana and Agua Caliente, Mexico.

Transcontinental Route Important The most recent and one of the most important Western Air Express projects was its carriage by establishment of a line between Los Angeles and Kansas City. This route is flown daily each way, the schedule for the 1,417-mile journey being 13 hours.

Cattle Buyer En Route Here Found Dead in His Berth

E. M. Brass, one of the West's best known cattlemen and a cattle buyer at Midland for a decade, is dead. He was enroute to Midland from his home in Grand Island, Neb., when found dead in his Pullman berth at Denton, Texas.

Brass was a member of the firm of Brass and Meyers, who are partners of Foy Proctor of Midland. Brass and Meyers started buying cattle at Midland 10 years ago and every year bought from 8,000 to 11,000 head. They have bought more cattle than any other buyers who ever came to the Midland country.

Foy Proctor who became a partner in the firm several months ago, declared Saturday that the West had lost one of its greatest cattlemen. The Midland man said that he and Meyers would continue the business as it has been operated with Brass as the senior member.

Brass was a member of the Federal Reserve Board. He was the owner of thousands of acres of land in the United States and Canada, and was estimated to be worth about $4,000,000.

HOWELL SELLS BUS LINE; IMPROVEMENT ANNOUNCED HERE

Ellis Howell sold his Rankin-Midland bus line Saturday to A. L. Mahaffay of San Angelo. Mahaffay took charge Sunday morning.

Mahaffay will use seven passenger Buick automobiles instead of the Ford busses Howell used. The cars from Midland will connect at Rankin with busses to McCamey and San Angelo. Tickets will continue to be sold from Midland direct to McCamey as well as to Rankin, as direct connection will be made to give fast service to and from McCamey as well as Rankin.

Mahaffay owns the San Angelo-McCamey line, and is an experienced and successful bus line operator. He plans to improve the service to Midland.

Howell was the pioneer Midland bus line operator. Howell was the first Midland man to start a bus line and make a success of it. He kept on operating through lean days when others had given up, and was a factor in improving transportation in and out of Midland.

School Children To Aid in Census Drive

School children of Midland will help in the census. D. D. Shiflett, principal of the high school, at the request of the chamber of commerce, will Monday ask all school pupils to check up at their homes to see if their families have been counted. Supt. W. W. Lackey who is due home from Austin will be asked to solicit the aid of all other schools in the city, and Mr. Shiflett will give his aid in this. Names and addresses of families will be turned in to the teachers.

Nearly 300 people have already been added to the census figures of Midland through people who have voluntarily turned in names of those who were missed. These have been enumerated by the Midland Reporter-Telegram and the Midland chamber of commerce.

One man Saturday turned in 11 names to The Reporter-Telegram. An 8-year-old boy got the patriotic Midland spirit and reported his uncounted family to the chamber of commerce.

Russian Cyclist Is Here From 'All Over'

A Russian cyclist visited Midland Saturday. He is on a tour that will take "all over." The tour started November 7th, 1928, from Shanghai, China, and has carried him across most of the countries. He has written three books of official documents. The strangest thing is not the tour which will carry him "all over" but his name, which, believe it or not, is Lieutenant I. S. Kralick-Soboleff.

Lieutenant has visited China, Siam, Malay states, Burma, India, Runjah desert, Persia, Iraq, Arabian desert, Syria, Palestine, France, Italy, Yugo-Slavia, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Germany, England, and the United States.

He has the autographs of the Prince of Siam, Rajah of India, high commissioner of Persia, King of Mesopotamia, Shah of Damascus, high commissioner of Palestine, Patriarch, King, Palace of Yugo-Slavia, President Hoover, Vice President Curtis, and other high officials of Washington.

CMTC Merits Are Extolled by Judge

The CMTC, to which several Midland county boys are to attend this summer, is known for several years, according to the county chairman, County Judge M. R. Hill.

"This will be the tenth year that the government of the United States has conducted citizen's military training camps and each year proves more and more clearly the popularity of this great movement for the development of good citizenship.

"One indeed to be to be congratulated that he is taking advantage of the opportunity offered to become an active member of this nation-wide institution, which each year trains some thirty-five to forty thousand young men.

"At camp one will come into contact with other clean-cut, up-standing young men from his own and neighboring counties and states and will form friendships and associations of an enduring nature.

"Upon graduation from the camp one will find that he will be imbued with a stronger patriotism, a more wholesome respect for constituted authority, and will have a better and clearer understanding duties, responsibilities and obligations as a citizen of this great country.

"I wish that every young man in America might have the opportunity which is his this summer—that of attending a Citizens' Military Training Camp."
