TWELVE KILLED AS WEST COAST MINE STRIKES GAS POCKET

SECOND RECENT TROUBLE

Every Man in Shaft is Killed; Site is a Water Supply

CAMP MITCHELL, Calif., July 17. (AP)—A gas explosion killed the entire shift of 12 men in the east drift, Hetch Hetchy project tunnel, San Francisco's municipal water district, here today. Engineers believe a natural gas pocket was struck and the gas ignited. Thirteen others in the west drift were rescued. Two bodies were recovered when a gas flow drove rescuers to use gas masks.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17. (UP)—Twelve miners were reported killed today in Mitchell tunnel, forty miles from here, as the second subterranean blast within 30 days rocked the property of the Municipal water system. The explosion occurred at a depth of 300 feet as men were working near the center of the mile-long tunnel. It is believed that the explosion was caused by chance ignition of accumulated gas. The tunnel is a part of a water development project near Alameda tunnel where seven miners lost their lives a few weeks ago.

Young Airman Seen In Midland Dies

BENNINGTON, Vt., July 17. (UP)—Frank Goldsborough, 19, aviator, died at Putnam Memorial hospital here last night. The young flier had been unconscious since the time his plane crashed into a tree in the dense forests east of here Monday. He was brought to the hospital by a posse which had searched for the plane for 12 hours.

Young Goldsborough is remembered by hundreds of Midland people who saw him during the spring when he stopped at the municipal airport on his junior transcontinental flight from his New Jersey home to Los Angeles.

The youth narrowly escaped tragedy on the barren plains between El Paso and Pecos, when after spending the night with oil field workers, his plane scraped a telegraph wire as he was taking off. A tip of the wing was damaged but the youth managed to make it into El Paso. He repaired the plane there. Young Goldsborough now makes the second of his line to meet tragedy in the air. His father lost his life in the ill-fated transcontinental plane, "Dawn."

Naval Pact Row Reviews Bill Shakespeare; Heat Grows Classic for Time

To the Throne?

WASHINGTON, July 17. (UP)—Majority Leader Watson today charged the London naval treaty opposition with filibustering and demanded on the senate floor that they agree to time for voting or suffer forcible silencing by the cloister rule. Senator Johnson, republican from California, dramatically rejected Watson's offer. "I ask no quarter. Lay on MacDuff and damned be he who first cries hold, enough," Johnson shouted.

Wade, assistant attorney general, left today for El Paso planning to argue that Texas political parties have as much right to prescribe membership qualifications as churches, in a federal court suit brought by Luther H. Wiley, San Antonio negro, who complained that he was qualified to vote in the democratic primary.

He explained that 327 stores were not affected by bankruptcy.

SWIM LESSONS POSTPONED

He asks that all candidates for Red Cross emblems and all swimmers to practice their holds and strokes this afternoon and Friday.

VAIL AWARD MADE IN BANQUET HERE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Presentation of the first Vail medal award to a Northwest Texan was made to A. R. Johnson, Big Spring man who formerly lived in Midland, at a banquet attended in the private dining room Wednesday night by district telephone men and two Midland speakers. Johnson distinguished himself by rendering first aid to eight automobile accident victims early last December, when he climbed a telephone pole and tapped the line with his testing set and administered aid to the eight after getting in touch with ambulances and doctors. In presenting the award, Mr. Jose of Fort Worth cited those present to the fact that the Vail medal, a memorial to the late vice-president and general manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company, is given in infrequent cases, that while many nominations have been made for it few were acted upon. Johnson was praised for his work, which was of such quality that it deserved the medal. Paul T. Vickers, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and District Judge Charles L. Klapproth were on the short program as speakers. Vickers explained that the "unsung hero" is often as responsible for the reputation and achievements of a corporation as the one who is decorated for doing the things which are "seen." He praised the splendid achievement of Johnson is possibly saving the lives of some of the accident victims by employing the training in artificial respiration taught by the Bell system.

Judge Klapproth spoke of the good relations existing between the public and of the corporation, saying public opinion has been changed from its former conception of corporations, chiefly through the corporations "humanizing" themselves and acting as "individuals." He praised the man employed by the corporation, saying it seems to hire the finest type of young men found among the public. Johnson answered to these speeches, a much surprised young man. He had been told the meeting was one set apart for business. He did not know the award was to be made that night. Telephone men present: F. W. Chapman, Midland; A. R. Johnson, Big Spring; J. L. Price, Midland; R. E. Whalen, Pecos; A. B. Coleman, Midland; H. L. Burnell, Midland; C. A. Moore, Midland; H. F. Hughey, Big Spring; C. M. Kella Jr, Dave Fairley, Fort Worth; W. H. Houck Jr, F. J. Jecker, Midland; P. M. Kippen; J. D. Farkens, Odessa; R. H. Carter, Big Spring; R. R. Farmer, Dallas; R. C. Echols, Fort Worth; C. S. Willis, Big Spring.

NEGRO ASSAULTS WOMAN AFTER HER HUSBAND LEAVES

HOUSTON, July 17. (UP)—A negro choked, criminally attacked and robbed a 35-year-old mother in her home here today. An eight-year-old son slept quietly until just before the negro fled. The woman's husband left for work about six a. m. and a few minutes later the negro appeared in the apartment. He choked her so brutally that marks of his fingers were on her throat an hour later. Placing a knife in her ribs, he attacked her, then forced her to hand over $5.50. He then fled through the front door.

New Panhandler Is Found in Midland

A new type of panhandling was ended today when W. T. Blakeway and Andrew Norwood took into custody a Mexican woman who was going from house to house begging. The woman being ignorant and needed in her home, was given a severe warning and turned loose with a jail threat to restrain future solicitations. She was making her begging a regular business, having visited several houses twice in the space of two days. She carried with her a forged paper purporting to have been signed by the Midland chamber of commerce. It was pointed out to people victimized by the woman that the chamber of commerce never endorses any kind of street solicitation. She was found by Blakeway and Norwood within 15 minutes of the time their assistance was sought, and at that time was vigorously working at her new easy vocation.

Gates, city manager, will have the street roped off, and boy scouts under command of Scout Executive Williamson will assist with the traffic.

J. E. Hutt of Kansas City was here this week to close the deal.

Female Challenge Spurs "Tree Sitter"

SWEETWATER, July 17. (UP)—Feminine challenge today fired Buck Sawyer 14 year old news boy, with new determination to stay up in the mesquite tree until the tree sitting business is settled by his unapproachable record. Buck had been aloft for 48 hours at 8 this morning. Meanwhile Dorothy Bell Shinn, 10, made arrangements to shimmey up a tree and stay until "long after I have made a record." "No girl is going to beat me if I have to stay up the rest of my life," Buck retorted. Buck is receiving numerous rewards for leading Texas in the national fad.

SEVEN PERSONS LIE IN ODESSA HOSPITAL; THREE ARE IN HOSPITAL HERE

None Dead, but Three of Odessa Tragedy May Die; Midland Patients Hurt In Wreck Wednesday Night

Seven persons are lying in the Odessa hospital, at least four of them dangerously hurt, from a head-on collision of two light automobiles three miles east of Odessa this morning.

Almost identical with the circumstances of a wreck east of Midland early last December, for which A. R. Johnson, Big Spring installer formerly of Midland, received the Vail medal award last night, an employee of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company happened along shortly after the wreck and climbed a telephone pole and tapped the line with his set and called for ambulances and doctors. Some said the man works with the Atlantic Oil company.

Those hurt are of four families, Hemphills, Barrons, Burnettes and Duttons, according to information supplied by the Odessa hospital. The initials of these families could not be obtained, the only man to get out of the wreck unscathed being unable to talk, so torn with grief was he. The families live in Kerens, Oil City and Wink, however, it was said.

Editor on a Vacation Doesn't Know Where to!

Several days ago, the Reporter-Telegram editor wrote an editorial on the mad rush with which Americans take their vacations. He went so far as to say that when they get back home, they are so tired from making a set distance each day, and from trying to cover too much country in a short time, that they are less fitted for work than when they left home.

And now the editor seeks to back up his theory. Leaving shortly after noon today with his family, he said he had no definite destination to reach by night fall. Questioned as to where he would spend his vacation, he said, "I will head west and drive until we get ready to stop. When we get tired of that place we will move on. We will let you hear from us."

"BACK-SLIDERS" HIT IN SERMON AT TABERNACLE

Dr. Hofmeister, spoke at the tabernacle on Colorado street last night on "David's Prayer and Vow." His text was "Resort Unto Me the Joy Thy Salvation; Uphold Me with Thy Free Spirit; Then Will I Teach Transgressors Thy Ways; and Sinners Shall Be Converted Unto Thee." The evangelist said in part: "David, was elevated by the hand of Providence from the sheep-fold to the position of God's chosen monarch over Israel. He was a man of power and character beauty, but, in the eventide, while walking on the house top he fell into temptation and sin. As a result he lost the joy of salvation. There are many church members who have lost the joy out of their souls but will not confess it. They continue powerless and without Divine fellowship in their souls. Sin is like a disease. Sin is like the opium habit. Sin makes man his slave and man is helpless within its grip and power. Sin stupefies the soul. David, did not realize his awful condition until he was aroused by Nathan, the prophet. He was not angered at the prophet for this rebuke, but repeated. This was evidence that he knew the blessing of being a child of God. "David mourns for something he once possessed and lost; this he calls the joy of salvation. David was in a luke warm condition. What are the joys of salvation? The joy of forgiveness. Though thou wast angry with me, Thine anger is passed away."

Wreck In Midland

In Midland, a wreck that happened last night resulted in three persons being brought to the Midland hospital. Six persons were in the car, which had been stopped alongside the highway because the lights of the machine were not burning properly. A Midland automobile struck the parked machine and overturned it, it was said here this morning. (See WRECKS page 8)

LOOKING AT THE TARIFF

Now that the new tariff law, designed to bring protection to the American workingman and farmer, has finally gone into effect, it might pay to look about and see if the times afford any signs concerning the way it is going to work.

Here and there one can find little incident that seem significant. One of them took place in Akron the other day.

The B. F. Goodrich Co., one of the nation's largest tire manufacturers, is preparing to transfer bodily the bulk of its tire and footwear export business to Kitchener, Ont.

This is being done in order to serve trade in the British dominions better. The dominions are retaliating to our new tariff law by putting up tariff walls of their own. Exports from Canada will be able to get in where exports from the United States cannot.

Goodrich, accordingly, is simply looking ahead and taking the obvious, common sense step to meet this new situation. The city of Kitchener gains a nice new industry, Akron loses, and sundry American wage earners in Akron are going to find their jobs moved out from under them.

A man of a nasty, critical turn of mind might, conceivably, inquire just how far the new law has protected these Akron-rubber workers.

At the same time, the cables bring significant news from overseas.

Stanley Baldwin, leader of England's conservative party, has agreed to Lord Beaverbrook's campaign for a British empire tariff wall, and it is probable that the next British election will be fought on this issue. The conservatives plan to tear down the trade barriers between England and the dominions and build up barriers against the rest of the world—after which the barriers would be lowered for such nations as would lower their own tariff walls.

Great Britain now buys more than $800,000,000 worth of American goods a year—chiefly foodstuffs. This trade, if the Beaverbrook plan goes over, will be largely transferred to the dominions. Cables state flatly that the new American tariff law is giving the Beaverbrook campaign a great impetus.

Our hypothetical critic, once more, might ask just how this is going to help the American farmer, for whom—theoretically—the tariff was passed.

At the same time, representatives of 14 European nations have met in Paris to consider ways and means of combatting the American tariff. They are looking forward to an economic coalition that would do for all of Europe what the Beaverbrook plan would do for the British empire—distribute to other producers the huge orders that are now being placed with America.

These signs of the times are just a shade disturbing. Can it be possible that our new tariff law is going to backfire on us?

BOOSTING THE HIGHWAY

The scheme for a great Pan-American highway, which would give motorists of Canada and the United States access by road to the countries of South America, will probably receive material aid from the International Road Conference which will be held in Washington next fall.

Already, it is announced, the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads is preparing to open an office in Panama to advise Central American countries on the location of the road from the Mexican border to the isthmus. The Mexican section will be completed before long, and South American nations are displaying keen interest in the project.

One can only hope that the whole proposition goes forward rapidly. The highway will be of immense importance to every country in the new world. Its construction will be of the most notable events since the voyage of Columbus.

Daily Washington Letter By Rodney Dutcher

Government Experts Now Are Trying to Help Agriculture by Getting Wheat Growers to Cut Their Production—They May Succeed, but It's a Pretty Tough Job

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Like so many revivalists, the big shots of the Department of Agriculture and the Federal Farm Board have gone out into the grain belt to exhort the farmers to plant less wheat. This business of acreage reduction has always been considered something virtually impossible to achieve except by compulsion or through uncontrollable economic forces, but the farmers are learning that they can't expect any aid from the government until they begin to keep down their production.

The logical but unconfessed eventual aim of the curtailment campaign is to get the production of wheat and similar export surplus crops down to a basis of domestic consumption. Our wheat farmers raise about a billion bushels a year and have to export around 200,000,000 bushels of it. Eliminating that 200,000,000 bushels is a tremendous and perhaps impossible job but it would give the farmer the benefit of the 42-cents-a-bushel duty on wheat which he doesn't get now and would no longer keep him at the mercy of prices and crops abroad. Our entire crop is about a third of the world crop.

Legge Leads the Way The gentlemen who went out to campaign for acreage reduction included Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, Chairman Legge of the Farm Board, Chief Nils Olsen of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Director C. W. Warburton of the department's extension service, Statistical Expert O. C. Stone and Reuben Brigham of the department's press service. Members of the Farm Board have been chiming in on the chorus.

Although any real reduction achievement may be nullified by a rush to increase acreage again as soon as prices advance and there is a belief that many farmers will plant more when they think other farmers will plant less, this invasion of the west is likely to be followed by a real curtailment of planting this fall. Not because the big campaign will have any effect—although it may have some—but because wheat prices have been down as low as 65 cents a bushel. Low wheat prices automatically cut the acreage of the next crop. World conditions, however, will set the price on this crop for which acreage presumably will be curtailed.

Some agricultural experts contend that the official reduction drive should be directed at the high production cost areas east of the Mississippi instead of beginning in Kansas, Nebraska and other wheat states where the grain can be raised on a basis more nearly approaching economic soundness. The lower production cost area will be penalized to the extent that it curtails, they say, while the high cost areas will benefit.

Those authorities who discuss the situation most frankly insist that this country simply can't compete in wheat with the rest of the world, that the effects of the competition are becoming more serious on our farmers and that the first time Russia comes across with a big export surplus heaven only knows what will happen to the wheat market.

The Farm Board's Fix The unreliability of estimates of the world supply and demand for wheat was demonstrated by the bad guess made by the Farm Board when it tried to peg the price and found itself loaded up with 60,000,000 bushels of wheat which it could only sell now at a tremendous loss and a simultaneous terrific blow to the market. Chairman Legge doggedly insists that the world situation doesn't justify current low prices but he must remind the farmers of the lawyer who told his imprisoned client that "they can't put you in jail for that."

Although the campaign for spring wheat reduction flopped, the last cotton report that cotton planting had dropped from about 16,000,000 to 14,000,000 acres, a really substantial decline. But the fact that a real good cotton crop might offset that acreage reduction indicates just how hard it is to figure what a given agricultural situation will be a few months ahead.

UNDER THE STERLING PLAN TAXES WILL BE REDUCED IN MIDLAND COUNTY

The taxpayers of Midland County, including the farmers, home-owners and business men are now assessed an average tax of approximately 10c on the $100.00 valuation to pay for the construction of State Highways, a tax that should be borne by the State.

UNDER THE STERLING TAX REDUCTION PLAN

the State will assume this obligation and pay for it out of the gasoline tax.

The Sterling Tax Reduction Plan will place the burden of paying for the state roads your county has built on the traffic; where it belongs.

The Sterling Plan will provide the state with adequate funds to build a connected system of hard surfaced, all-weather highways and for paving without county aid and without increasing the gasoline tax one penny.

The Sterling Tax Reduction Plan provides that no property tax shall ever be levied to carry out its purposes.

Reviewer Finds 'Vagabond King' Perfection of Film Art; Picture to Be Here Three Days

Quite the most clearly defined output of motion picture art of the season was seen in Midland Wednesday, the first day of a three-day run of "The Vagabond King," Denys King's first starring vehicle on the silver screen.

Riotous with color, snapping with correct historical interpretations of the life of the much-sung Francois Villon, lovable poet-soldier-thief-songster-gutter snipe and other names to indicate a harum-scarum existence, the picture was a breathing entity of the drama that surrounded the French court during that muddled period preceding and simultaneous to the laying siege of the walls of Paris by the Duke of Burgundy.

Intricate camera shots that have the Germanic intuition of the director behind their purpose, the resonance of the Metropolitan baritone thrown behind the whole as a background that is dappled with brilliant singing by Jeanette MacDonald and tavern singers, architectural perfection, correct costuming, tempestuous mob scenes—all is color, subdued or all-embracing, but color throughout.

The film is likely to take the award for the best picture of the year. This statement is not made speculatively; it is a parroted remark of numerous reviewers. And it would not take much insight to see why it has been branded by their initials as the finest product of the film laboratories. —R.C.H.

What People of Midland County Think of M. R. HILL

His Record

Judge M. R. Hill has given Midland County a progressive, economical and honest Administration.

No matter requiring legal knowledge has ever suffered adversely in the Midland County Commission Court of which Judge Hill is the head.

During Judge Hill's administration he was influential in the building and maintenance of two-thirds of the 350 miles of new county and lateral roads which serve practically every farm and ranch home in the county as well as leading to neighboring towns. This was done without a bond issue and without an increase in taxes.

The court over which Judge Hill presides has maintained a County Farm agent and Home Demonstration agent in the interest of progress in agriculture and better rural home life.

Judge Hill has cooperated with the Trustees of rural schools with the result that four new rural schools, two of brick, have been built. A third brick structure at Warfield is now contemplated.

Not only does Judge Hill's experience in the office of county judge and his experience as a business man qualify him for legal work in the office, but the county commissioners court has available at all times the services of the county attorney for legal advice, which is part of the work he is elected to do.

This page has been donated by friends of Judge M. R. Hill who have tested his ability, honesty and efficiency in public office and they urge his re-election.

HE HAS NEGLECTED NO OPPORTUNITY TO IMPROVE THE CONDITION OF THIS COMMUNITY.

PROGRESS WITH

COUNTY

His Record

Judge Hill, as ex-officio county school superintendent has been instrumental in having every rural school classified. This has won state aid for many of them.

Economical handling of the county's funds by the present commissioners court under Judge Hill's administration prevented any increase in taxes to pay either principal, or interest on the courthouse bonds in 1930. It is now evident that unless conditions materially change in Midland County, no raise in taxes will be necessary in the future to pay off the courthouse bonds under the present business-like administration of M. R. Hill.

Let us all lay aside politics in Midland County and re-elect a man who has made a success of his own life and who is experienced in the business of the county. That is the safest course to pursue.

Judge Hill will give us all a safe business administration and that's what we are in need of. His record proves that.

While it is generally predicted that he will be elected in the first primary let us all see to it that his majority will be such that it will indicate to him that he has our confidence.

Under Judge Hill's administration one of the best county libraries in Texas was established for the use of all the people of the County.

Judge Hill should be continued in office to the end that there be no interruption of important work now in progress.

POLITICS

- An Analysis From Austin
- 1. Small Gains
- 2. Sterling Losing
- 3. Neff Sure Winner
- 4. Love Out of Race
- 5. Mayfield Wanes

Indicative of a turn from professional politics to a man who will "adjourn politics and develop Texas" Clint Small's entry last week and this week into Central and South Texas territory was the outstanding development in the Texas gubernatorial race. Mentioned first as a sectional candidate who would receive a fairly large complimentary vote from his section of the state, Small has surprised the political state, Smith has surprised the political "wiseacres" and now is one of the men most feared by the professionals.

Large crowds have been hearing Small at all his appearances and renewed interest is being shown in Texas politics as voters see a man rising on the horizon who gives assurance of a business administration of state affairs.

Sincerity and lack of extravagant campaign promises apparently are the elements that are commending the Small candidacy to the electorate. Past years and the present year have seen such a host of false and alluring promises that voters are beginning to grasp the idea that something is wrong and that the lures are only attempts to get votes.

Now they are turning to a new man who makes no false promises and only assures them that he will exert his every effort to develop Texas and to give it a business-like administration.

Attempts to force the Sterling candidacy have been disappointing. At the beginning many flocked to his standard and the leaders thought that a high pressure campaign would stampede the voters. This has not happened even though political advertisements have appeared in practically every paper, both dailies and weeklies, in the state. The propaganda method is proving to have a backfire and the voters are going in the opposite direction from that which it was hoped they would flock.

Unsoundness of the proposed state bond issuance of other kind of bonds is another element that is a drawback to the Houston man. Voters are sensing the fact that other departments of the state are in dire need than is the highway department and it is even mentioned that a bond issue to revitalize the Texas educational system would be preferable to the road bond issue. This attitude, doubtless, is being taken because of the well known fact that the highway department has available each year a sum of money approximately $40,000,000, while all of the state supported institutions are forced to get along on less than half that amount.

That a man who has served his state four years as governor may be of further service is indicated by the fact that Pat M. Neff is rendering valuable service on the railroad commission at the present time, and by the further fact that his candidacy for election to that body is meeting with favor. Newspapers in all sections of the state have given him complimentary advertisements and it now appears that his retention on the commission is certain.

Cries of Tammany tiger and Ras-kob are failing to produce any strength for Tom Love. Voters are of the opinion that he is fighting imaginary foes and are not heeding his cries of alarm. He entered the race with the hopes of being the leader of the group of democrats who forsook the party two years ago, but he is fast becoming a disappointed and disillusioned man. In every section of the state where there are large groups of his former friends in the fight against Al Smith he is finding that his strength is not comparable to that polled for Hoover two years ago. His campaign, dead from the start, has failed to develop any life.

Dwindling of strength in the Mayfield support has been apparent for the past three weeks. Alluring campaign promises have failed to get him votes and now he is turning to personal attacks upon his opponents. He is finding something wrong with each of the men in the race, excepting himself, but he is too well known in Texas politics to accuse others of professionalism and his attacks are falling flat.

Minor candidates, that is those persons who are seeking election to state offices other than that of governor, are making last minute efforts to catch the votes. Bobbitt seemingly is fearing that he no longer has the cinch for the attorney generalship that he once thought was his and is touring the state. He is being met by Cecil Storey and Jimmie Allred, who also are courting the voters. Walter C. Clark and Charley Lockhart are mixing it for the treasurers' position, and it looks like a toss up between them.

Less than two weeks to go and all the votes have not yet been made

Friends of Judge M. R. Hill who are paying for his political advertisement in today's issue believe he should be continued in office by the voters at the July 26 primaries because he has given Midland county a progressive, economical and honest administration.

No matter requiring legal knowledge has ever suffered in the Midland county commissioners court, Judge Hill himself being a constant student of the common legal procedure in a county judge's court, and having at all time available the advice of the county attorney, one of whose jobs is legal advisor to the commissioners court.

Work done during the administration of Judge M. R. Hill includes the building and maintenance of a large part of the 350 miles of county and lateral roads. About two-thirds of these have been constructed since Judge Hill was elected. These roads now serve practically every farm and ranch home in the county, as well as leading to neighboring towns. This work has been done without a bond issue and without an increase in taxes.

Under Judge Hill's administration one of the best county libraries in Texas was established for the use of all the people of the county.

The court has maintained a county farm agent and home demonstration agent to work for the progress of agriculture and better rural home life.

During Judge Hill's term of office as ex-officio county school superintendent along with his duties as county judge, every rural school has been classified, and this classification won state aid for many of them.

Four new rural schools, two of which were brick were built during Judge Hill's term of office, and a third brick is expected to be built at Warfield. With the cooperation of the trustees of rural schools, Judge Hill has made excellent progress in advancing the schools, and has put forth every effort for them.

Judge Hill was one of the chief exponents of the new courthouse, which was badly needed, and which is a credit to Midland and West Texas. If present conditions continue, the courthouse can be paid for without raising taxes. Judge Hill and other leaders believed this building should be constructed now while it could receive benefits of new properties and new valuations incident to the growth brought to Midland by the oil industry.

By Judge Hill's economical and business-like handling of the county's funds it is certain no additional taxes will be paid to handle interest and sinking fund of the courthouse bonds in 1930, and it is safe to assume that his re-election will mean no new tax burden for the courthouse next year. Return Melvin R. Hill to office and probably prevent any increase in courthouse bond taxes.

Let's lay aside politics in Midland county and re-elect a man who has made a success of his own business and who is experienced in the county's business. Let's elect M. R. Hill county judge of Midland county.

It is now generally predicted he will win in the first primary.

What the Sterling Plan Really Means

More than two hundred counties in Texas have issued bonds to build state highways, according to a statement issued by the state highway department. These bonds constitute a burden on the property of the citizens of the counties—on the farms, ranches, homes, and other property. But the chief traffic over the roads is state traffic, including motor buses and heavy freight trucks.

In 140 counties the tax rate to take care of these bonds alone is more than 15 cents on the $100 valuation. In 84 counties the rate is more than 30 cents, or more than the state ad valorem tax for the general fund. In 16 counties it is 70 cents or more, which is a higher rate than the State rate for all purposes this year. In seven counties it is more than $1.00.

Aside from the fact that these rates are glaringly inequitable among the counties, property should not have to bear this burden at all. The traffic over the highways should bear it. And the Sterling plan proposes to transfer this burden from the farms, ranches, homes and other property of the people to the traffic. By bonding the gasoline taxes adequate funds can be provided to carry forward an adequate construction program without further county aid, and to take over the obligation of retiring the county bonds and paying the interest on them, instead of permitting this obligation to continue to rest on the property owners.

The Sterling plan contemplates that the people shall be given the opportunity to vote on this question. It does not involve any increase of the gasoline tax but it will reduce road taxes in practically every county in the state.

In 1928 there were 180,000 full-blooded Indians in the United States.

positive. If Small tendency continues he may become the lead man for the second primary. It is practically certain at this time that he will be in for the run-off.

The Chance of a Lifetime to get plus value in Tires

The majority of people who read this advertisement are going to need tires this season; the time to buy them is right now.

Crude rubber is cheap; as a result tire prices are the lowest in history.

You can actually buy at this time the world's best tires for no more money than you used to pay for inferior or unknown tires.

You can buy Goodyear Tires on an extreme low-cost-mileage basis, and that is exactly what smart buyers are doing.

The special advantages to be enjoyed from Goodyear Tires are due to definite Goodyear superiorities in both tread and carcass, the two main parts of a tire.

The Goodyear All-Weather Tread is superior in traction, and everybody wants sure-footedness underwheel.

The Goodyear Supertwist Carcass is superior in vitality and long life, and this means economy and freedom from trouble.

These superiorities are not imaginary; they are real.

Any Goodyear

Dealer will be glad to demonstrate the facts.

And the facts unmistakably are: Goodyear Tires do give greater value.

That's why Goodyear sales are going ahead at a rate surpassing any previous record.

That's why impartial investigation shows a nation-wide preference two-and-a-half to thirty times as great for Goodyear as for any other tire.

That's why Goodyear builds annually millions more tires than any other manufacturer in the world.

That's why more people ride on

Now is the time to get YOURS

Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!

The dominance enjoyed by Goodyear Tires is not temporary or new—it has flourished for fifteen years strictly on a basis of superior quality.

If you want Goodyear value at bed-rock prices: now is the time to get yours!

LENORAH OR BUSH TRIBE FAVORED TO OVERTURN DOPE CAN

Local dopesters say Stanton will not be on top of the pack when the eight teams of the Tri-County league round out the first half of the current season.

They say the club has played with the breaks all season, but that, after Sunday, the club will have three games away from home, games that may decide the running in a hurry.

In Midland, two second place teams will play Sunday. Lenorah takes on the Bushers, and both teams are scrappers. Either of these might get the first half bumping.

The Lenorah club is snappy, fields almost perfectly and watches from the breaks. The Bushers hold tight to the heavy hitting record.

Seeks Office For Two Main Reasons

Since Mrs. Susie Graves Noble announced for the office of district and county clerk, one or two who are opposed to her candidacy have started the rumor that she is already employed her deputy should she be elected, according to her friends. "They felt this subtle remark would defeat her. It has only strengthened her, as this report is false. Her only thoughts are to win the office and to honestly and efficiently serve the public that elects her."

"When she announced for this office she did so for two reasons: First she knew that she was thoroughly capable to run the affairs of the office in a most creditable manner, her past experiences in serving the people of the county having helped to qualify her for this position; "Her second reason was the monetary consideration attached to this office. Having been left a widow two years ago, with two small children to support, it behooves her to think of her and their interest. Winning this race will solve the problem for a time. Her husband was a World War veteran but since his death was accidental and not due to the war, she and her children do not receive a monthly compensation from the government.

"She does not hesitate to say that she wants and needs the office. Vote for her. She will appreciate it and you won't regret it."

Goodyear Branches Out to Argentina

Decision of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company to erect a modern tire factory in Buenos Aires, Argentina, upon the site to which it has held title for some time, was announced recently by P. W. Litchfield, president of Goodyear," states Ted Goodyear dealer at 114 E. Wall St.

Construction of the plant, a one story building 250 by 450 feet, will start July first. There will be in addition a boiler room 40x39 feet; engineering building 60x66 feet and switch board room 15 by 66.

The factory, to be known as the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company of Argentina, is located in Hurlingham a suburb of Buenos Aires, situated 16 miles northwest of the city, up the La Plata river.

Capacity of the new South American plant, which will be turning out tires by February 1, will be a thousand tires and thousand tubes per day. Payroll of the factory is expected to include 400 employees, Mr. Litchfield said.

Fred W. Climer, for many years manager of the factory personnel department of Goodyear in Akron, will leave shortly for Buenos Aires where he will be superintendent of the new plant. C. R. Bolinger of Akron has been appointed comptroller and H. Sivaslian will be in charge of the construction work.

"The South American factory" said Ted, "will be the fifth foreign Goodyear plant—the others being located as follows: Canada two, England and Australia each one. It will also be the ninth Goodyear tire factory, four other being located in the United States. The company also operates its own tire fabric mills at seven points in North America; cotton plantations in Arizona and rubber plantations in Sumatra and the Philippines."

A new laundry machine recently shown in London dried and pressed 450 shirts in one hour.

Arnett Experienced In Records, He Says

Experience in dealing with the records of the clerk's office should make J. W. (Bill) Arnett capable of performing the duties of this office, he says.

"I am taking this opportunity of asking for your vote," Arnett said in his prepared copy for this edition.

"I expect to see personally every voter if possible but am asking those I should happen to miss to consider the fact that the time before election is short and that I have tried to see him."

"I am experienced and capable of handling the records of the clerk's office. I am a native of West Texas, coming to Midland in January of 1924, from Howard county. I was graduated from the Midland high school and had a business course by correspondence.

"I had about six months' experience dealing with the records of the county in abstract and other business.

"I lived on a farm all except two years of my life, the two years being spent in connection with business firms of Midland.

"My only promise is to give my best to the people of Midland county, and to extend honesty and a square deal to all."

Bedford Running on Merits, Announces

H. G. Bedford has a different "approach shot" at the "pin" during his candidacy for the office of commissioner of Precinct 1.

"I am a democrat and have been one all my life," he says. "If I have a platform, it is honesty and economy, and this is said without any reflection whatever on the present administration."

"In fact, I am seeking the office on merits; not on the demerits of others."

Bedford says that he is speaking for himself and not against his opponents for this office. He says he believes in progress, that anything must go forward or backward, and that he believes in going forward.

Bedford has been in Midland long enough to know every cow trail in the county and area. He was in Midland when the airplane was unheard of in Texas, and freighted by pack mule where long lines of freight cars are now daily pulled.

He believes he has watched the gradual evolution of the district long enough to know its needs and to understand its problems.

His advertisement appears elsewhere in this issue.

Miller Would Make Prison Lands Pay

"The people of Galveston have always been my friends and I have always kept faith with them I am sure they will continue to be my friends," Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller, candidate for governor, said in an address at Galveston, Galveston County, Wednesday night. "Even newspapers which are against me say that I have the largest personal following of any candidate in the race. Those loyal friends are going to elect me, just as they have done every time I have run in the past."

The candidate discussed the various planks of his platform, stressing his opposition to the $350,000,000 bond issue.

In discussing the prison problem, Lieut. Gov. Miller said—

"You South Texans have all heard that there is oil under one of the prison farms and that private interests are trying to get hold of it," he said. "Why on earth the tax payers shouldn't have the benefit of this oil is more than I can see. If elected governor I'll drill for oil on that prison farm and if oil is found the prison problem will be settled for all time to come, without any further burden on the taxpayers."

"If we don't find oil those rich farms are still there," the lieutenant governor continued. "I'm in favor of putting real dirt farmers in charge of them and making them pay."

LIGHTWEIGHTS ON CARD TONIGHT IN YANKEE STADIUM

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, July 17.—For the second time in two years cagey Sam Mandell, debonair king of the light-weight clan, will see his crown tonight for another eager youngster to shoot at in the ring at the Yankee Stadium.

Two years ago the challenger was Jimmy McManis, the belting Irish kid, who struggled for 15 desperate and despairing rounds to corner the fleet, skillful champion. This time the youngster is Al Singer, sleek Jewish boy the Bronx believes will develop into another Benny Leonard. But once more the craft and experience of Mandell, the Italian, is favored over the sheer physical powers of youth.

This time, however, the margin of superiority conceded Mandell in advance is decreasing. Sammy is having considerable trouble getting down to the weight limit of the class, 135 pounds. He is a 6 to 5 favorite but may enter the ring the underdog.

Singer, though he has flashed brilliantly against certain types of fighters, is not considered a particularly dangerous challenger unless Mandell has slipped far back from the pinnacle he once reached.

Wrecks-- (Continued from page 1) Mrs. H. A. Kennedy and two small children of O. C. Kennedy, Junior, 3, and Dorothy, 5, are in the hospital. Junior has both bones in one arm broken. The woman and little girl were semi-conscious when brought to Midland, but neither is thought to be seriously hurt.

It was not known where this car was from. The accident was said to have been unavoidable, happening when the Midland machine was driving into the glare from approaching motor cars and when the driver, E. Vattse, could not distinguish the unlighted car ahead of him.

Neff Praised for His Labor Support

Pat Neff is proud of one document of appreciation he has received from the public he serves; he says in a press release.

"In view of the fact that a few days ago, practically all the larger dailies of the state published, over the signatures of the Joint Labor Legislative association, their report as to their findings on the records of the several candidates for state officers, in which statement these leaders of organized labor stated that my legislative record was not available, but as Governor of Texas, my record was unfriendly to organized labor, I kindly ask the papers of Texas, in order that the truth may be revealed and not concealed, to publish the following:

"At the end of my activities as a member of the legislature, the labor organizations that had in charge all legislative matters passed the following resolution:

"Whereas organized labor had friends, tried and true, in the twenty-seventh legislature, prominent among whom was Pat M. Neff in his support of the labor measures of aforesaid body, especially the 8-hour bill; Therefore, be it resolved by the Austin Trades Council that we hereby tender our thanks to Representative Neff for his support in behalf of the wage workers of the state of Texas.

"Resolved further, that a copy of these resolutions be mailed to Representative Neff under seal of this council.

Clint Small Grows Stronger, It Seems

COLEDGE, Texas, July 17.—Increasing evidence of a heavy East and Central Texas support of Senator Clint C. Small, candidate for Governor, are to be found in the comments of prominent newspaper editors in these portions of the state, heard and read after the candidate visited there.

Apparently using the candidate's West Texas popularity and support as a basis for their arguments many of these editors concede him to be in the runoff, and other point out that in their opinion Senator Small will defeat whoever goes into the runoff with him.

One particularly significant editorial which appeared in the Coledge Herald after the candidate spoke to a crowd of voters there, said that if all political signs reflect the attitude of voters correctly, Clint Small is destined to be the next Governor Texas. The editorial reads, in part:

"A careful checkup of newspapers of the state who reflect the serious opinion of political and business leaders of Texas indicates that the one man in the race who has gained and held more solid support during the last few weeks is Senator Clint C. Small of Wellington. This man from the plains country started in the race a comparatively unknown quantity but his platform, his personality and his absolute sincerity has won for him a place at the head of the long list of gubernatorial aspirants."

"His hands are clean of the ancient feuds which handicap those in the contest who have had their names imprinted upon every ballot for the past two decades and he is not allied with the big money interests which are trying to buy the governor's office with high powered press agents and influential connections.

"The voters have decided, if all political signs reflect their attitude correctly, that a new man with new energies and new outlooks will be elected to the next governor of Texas."

"This man, it appears, is Clint C. Small."

whom he has sinned. The joy of deliverance. When a shipwrecked crew is rescued from its fate, both the rescued and the rescuer rejoice together, hence the happiness in a revival where souls are being saved. The joy of adoption. "When the homeless child is taken into the arms of its new found love and adopted into the family, there is great joy. The child did nothing to merit this relationship. It was the love and the grace of the new found friends, lavished upon the child. When God adopted his redeemed children who are rejoicing in the rapture of the new birth, we cry, "Behold what manner of love the father hath bestowed upon us!" The joy of expectation. The joy of the hope to the new born in the second coming of the Lord Jesus Christ. A new hope to the new born in Christ Jesus.

"Many within the church of today have lost their joy and don't realize it. How can we lose this joy? By neglecting the services of the church. The preached word, public worship and the devotional meetings of the church. By failing to practice self-denial and sacrifice. By failing to testify and witness for Christ. By cherishing an unforgiving spirit. If ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your father forgive you." By following the manners and customs of the world.

"We need to draw a line of demarcation between the habits of the church and the world, and this is drawn in the story of the gospel. David knew God's ways were ways of safety, peace, pleasure and happiness and life. Note David's vow: 'Then will I teach transgressors Thy ways and sinner shall be converted unto thee.' Only God could restore David. Then, after David has reached victory in his own soul, he was in position to win others to righteousness. We cannot lead souls deeper that we are in our own soul's experience. Let us walk in the light of God. After we get victory in our own soul, we can then lead others to Christ Jesus."

The evangelist will speak each night this week and on Sunday morning. The campaign will close Sunday night.

Attorney's Training Cited by Edward Lee

W. Edward Lee, candidate for the office of county judge, told The Reporter-Telegram in a prepared statement that his legal training particularly equips him for the office of county judge. His statement reads:

"In asking the people for the County Judgeship, I do so with a full consciousness of the demands of the office. Anyone asking the people for an office is asking to be employed for a particular job. In applying for a job in private life the first question invoked is: Are you prepared and qualified for the place you seek? A judgeship carries with it the idea of a learning in the law. I am a lawyer by profession and feel capable of administering the duties of the office intelligently, impartially, economically and with the courtesy due the people, and in a dignified, judicious way."

"I favor leaving local school control with the people and pledge a cooperative assistance to the end that the rural school may have all advantages, as nearly as possible, accorded children of the city."

"An economical administration is imperative, and I pledge myself to see that the people's money is spent so that a dollar in taxes paid will yield a dollar in value to the taxpayers."

"Local public work should be given home labor in preference to non-residents; thereby permitting the tax money to circulate at home and at the same time make it easier for some of the taxpayers to meet their tax obligations."

"The judicial duties of the county judge involve the probate of estates, without regard to amount involved, presiding over litigation involving personal liberties and property rights to as high as $1,000. All these rights, given us by the constitution of our forefathers, are too valuable to risk being trampled by a judge unlearned in the law when a man trained in the law may be employed for the same salary one untrained in the law would receive."

"Your support will be greatly appreciated, and if elected I shall endeavor to make you a county judge with whom you will be well pleased."

SUFFERING FIVE YEARS KONJOLA BRINGS RELIEF

Catarrr And Kidney Trouble Find Deadly Foe In This New And Different Medicine.

MR. J. I. HALE Many of the accomplishments of Konjola might challenge belief were the actual facts not known and verified. Konjola does triumph even when all else tried has proved of no value, as is illustrated in the case of Mr. J. I. Hale, R. P. D. 1, Hensley, Ark., who says: "I had trouble with my kidneys for five years, and also suffered from a catarrhal condition. I took many kinds of medicine, but got only temporary relief. A neighbor advised me to take Konjola, and after using four bottles I saw that I had found the right medicine. My kidneys became stronger and the backache decreased and then disappeared. Even the catarrh is better, and Konjola has built me up in every way. I feel more like doing my farm work than I have in five years. Konjola will always be in my home."

Thousands have said this: "Konjola will always be in my home." No wonder, for Konjola triumphs even, in many cases, wherein hope has been abandoned. Konjola is sold in Midland at Mayes-Young drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

RETURN FROM HIKE

Boy scouts of Troop 54, under the direction on Scoutmaster Fred Middleton, returned this morning from an overnight hike and camping expedition nine miles from the city. They marched, as Scribe Franklin Manning put it, "across sand hills, cotton patches, through burrs, over draws and what have you." Eventually the boys tried to sleep, but midnight found them in need of more cover and the one's most inclined to be drowsy were those who kept their own covering the shortest period of time.

A swim before "bitting the hay" was cool and refreshing. The boys returned to Midland in time for the swimming and life-saving tests being conducted at Pagoda pool by Assistant Scout Executive Marcos Williamson.

FLOYD VS. CRIER

"Timberline" Floyd risked the consequences Monday night and appeared on the streets with his trousers rolled up to his knees, the sleeves of his shirt slashed and cut off above the elbows, and a bag of golf clubs hanging over his shoulder.

The two-year-old match between Floyd and W. T. Crier was finally to be played.

Floyd turned his back to the publicity and notoriety he was getting, and waited at a miniature course for almost two hours. Crier never put in an appearance.

"Timberline" came into the newspaper office this morning with an explanation of the whole affair.

"I demand a forfeiture of the match," he said. "For months, ever since the country club was founded, Crier's challenge has stood. Finally I decided that the country club course was too far around and required too much walking, so I suggested we use pack mules for carrying us—either that or getting the mules to carry our clubs."

"The sports-green committee would allow neither, so I suggested that we play the match on a miniature course. Crier said he would, but I find this morning that he took out last night for Abilene in his car. And the only reason was that he put on golf pants and couldn't tell whether he was comin' or goin'." He didn't know whether he had 'em on hind part before or front part behind. So he decided he would experiment by trying to drive to Abilene. He knew if he got to Pecos he would have the breeches on the wrong way.

"At any rate, he did not have to wear the things and carry a rope and milk bottle. He might have been bound for a wild cow milking instead of playing an old timer standard game of golf!"

SCOUTS AID IN PARKING

NEW WAY TO PLAY

FORT WORTH, (AP)—Prof. Claude Sammis, head of the department of violin at Texas Christian University, says he can teach anyone with the mind of a 12-year-old boy to play "My Country 'Tis of Thee" on the violin in 15 minutes.

"I have found a novel way of teaching pieces to amateurs quickly," Professor Sammis said. "I have devised a strange method of music notation which is easily understood by beginners."

The professor's method discards ordinary music notation and a series of dots and dashes and numerals are substituted. A composition transposed into his original notation looks like a message in the Morse telegraph code, and each symbol stands for a certain action on the part of the player.

"The object of this quick-teaching method is not to develop artists," he says. "That would be impossible. I worked my code out as an experiment and it proved successful. It makes an interesting pastime, and novices find it amusing."

WINS DISPLAY PRIZE
