STERLING FORCES LAY PLANS FOR VOTE GRABBING IN CITY

TAYLOR TO SPEAK HERE WEDNESDAY

Meeting Today; 'Pat' Murphy May Talk This Week

With a combined men's and women's Sterling rally at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the city hall, an address for the Houston candidate by R. E. Taylor of Wichita Falls in the street near the jail at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, and the possibility of E. E. (Pat) Murphy speaking here an afternoon or evening this week optimism among Sterling supporters relative to a good Sterling vote Saturday is mounting. J. M. Caldwell, chairman of the Sterling for governor club, said this morning that Midland women had organized a Sterling club. No information as to the strength of this could not be learned. Mrs. A. M. Gantt was said to have been elected chairman.

The speaking Wednesday night will be from a truck, at the same place as speaking here on Political Bargain day.

Murphy had not been reached today, so that his coming to Midland is still problematical. Attempts to reach him by telephone had failed yesterday afternoon and this morning.

Small Speaks for Ross

FORT WORTH, Aug. 19. (UP).—Clint Small will speak for the Sterling election Wednesday night in Waco. Sterling headquarters announced here today. It will be the first speech of Small in Sterling's favor and will be broadcast on a state-wide hook-up.

Heckler Kayoed

FORT WORTH, Aug. 19. (UP).—Heckling at a rally for Sterling here last night came to a sudden halt when the heckler was knocked out by a fist blow. The heckling started during Senator Walter Woodward's talk when Woodward was asked, "How much did you pay for your pardon?" At no reply Woodward asked, "Why doesn't he answer?" The crowd, shouting in reply, "He can't; he out."

Miller for Ferguson

DALLAS, Aug. 19. (AP).—Barry Miller, Dallas, defeated gubernatorial candidate in the first primary, announced here today that he would make three speeches supporting Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson's candidacy in the run-off. He stated that he would give his reasons in the speech.

Young Makes Denial

KAUFMAN, Aug. 19. (UP).—James Young denies the authorized statement that he would support Sterling, as made at a Lufkin rally Monday. Young says the announcement was probably due to a letter to a friend in which he wrote "I cannot support the Fergusons in the runoff and if I support Sterling it will be by one vote and no further." Young will not support Sterling publicly.

Two Planes Off on Cross Country Race

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 19. (UP).—Two planes rose skyward this morning at 9 o'clock on the first lap of the Brownsville to Chicago air derby.

The first dash on the 1,800 mile route is to Corpus Christi, thence to Houston, thence to San Antonio for an overnight stop.

Entries were W. G. More in a green monoplane and Jack Lington in an orange cabin monoplane.

"Got $50,000? Gracious, No!"

"Fifty thousand dollars? My goodness, no! Why, I knew Mr. Posner only vaguely, and don't have $50,000 of my own or of Mr. Posner's, and furthermore—" but that's enough to let you know that Helen Kane, above, musical comedy and radio star, flatly denied to Chicago reporters that Murry J. Posner, New York dress manufacturer, gave her $50,000, as alleged in a suit filed by creditors of his company. And Helen's expression here seems to bear out her surprise.

BOY SCOUTS READY FOR CARNIVAL TO BE HELD HERE THURSDAY; MORE THAN 225 YOUTHS ARE EXPECTED

Naked to the waist and making enough noise to cover the retreat of an army of chimpanzees, 13 boy scouts of Troop 51 cleaned Pagoda pool Monday night and 360,000 gallons of clean water pouring into the depths of the model swimming place today reminds the city that more than 250 boy scouts will be guests here Thursday for the big scout swimming carnival.

The scouts prevailed upon the city dads to fill the pool with fresh water, and A. A. Pope, manager of the pool, is charging only a nominal price for use of the place.

No one but boy scouts will be entitled to swim in the pool Thursday, at which time a complete program of swimming and diving events and water sports will be staged.

There will be room for 500 to sit in the bleachers of the pool, and room for an equal number to view the events from standing positions in the fenced off area and in automobiles.

Colorado, Wink, Rotten, Roscoe, Big Spring, (one troop) and Sweetwater have written they will send scouts. With those expected from Ira Snyder, Lorraine, Coahoma, Pecos, Midland and four other Big Spring troops there should be 234 scouts at least here Thursday, Marcos Williamson, assistant scout executive said.

There will be a barbecue for the boys at noon and speaking at the Big Spring theatre soon afterward. Paul Vickers and Mayor Leon Goodman will make these addresses. Malcolm Meek is in general charge of the preparations.

LET GOVERNMENT JOB

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (UP).—The war department today awarded construction of a mess building and bakery at Randolph field, Texas, to a Dallas company.

APPEAL HAS ONLY ONE STATEMENT

Given a Three Year Verdict in Trial At Dallas

AUSTIN, Aug. 19. (AP).—Appeal for John W. Brady, former appeals court judge, convicted of slaying here Miss Lehia Highsmith, capitol stenographer, was filed today in the criminal appeals court.

Brady was sentenced to three years for stabbing the girl when the case was tried at Dallas, the second trial, after a hung jury had resulted in the first trial at Austin.

The appeal today contained only one statement of facts, including records of the two trials. Brady's defense was insanity induced by overindulgence of bootleg liquor.

The state contended that the girl, his admitted intimate, was killed in a fit of rage when he found that he was losing her affections to a younger man.

To Close or not Is the Question

All retail merchants of Midland in all lines are invited to attend a 30-minute meeting Wednesday morning in the office of the chamber of commerce to discuss whether they wish to close all day, a half-day or not close at all on Labor Day, Sept. 1.

Chamber of commerce officials will not enter into the discussion at all, an official stated today, adding that store closing is purely the business of the owners, as they are the ones who pay the rent and the salaries. The chamber is merely acting as an agent to get the business men together so they may act in harmony and as a unit. The chamber was requested to call the meeting.

A brief canvass made Monday by the organization showed that some business men wanted to close all day, and some wanted to close a half day. Some objected to closing because the holiday falls on Monday. Dry goods men, grocers, druggists, lumber dealers, furniture dealers, garages, hardware dealers, in fact, all lines are asked to have representatives at the meeting so that all may have a part in the discussion and decision.

The meeting is called for 10 o'clock. A representation from every street in town is expected. The matter is of extraordinary interest and chamber of commerce officials believe it would result in much greater crowds for the event.

Set Trial, Woman Under Bomb Charge

FORT WORTH, August 19. (UP).—Examining trial for Mrs. Gladys Milam, charged with complicity in bombing the Stockyards National bank, was set for next Monday morning. It was announced here today. The trial was demanded by an attorney for the Milam woman, who says the district attorney has no facts on which to hold his client.

Two Chambers of Deputies To Meet

MEXICO CITY, August 19. (AP).—The newspaper Excelsior says that two chambers of deputies, one legal and the other illegal, will convene here September 1. One group meets at the regular chamber and the other in a theatre where 150 claim election. Their credentials were excluded from the preliminary sessions of congress last week because of faults in the credentials.

Lamesa Brothers Are Real Enemies

LAMESA, Aug. 19. — R. Y. Lindsey and M. C. Lindsey, brothers who live in Lamesa, are leaders of two different political organizations in this county. R. Y. Lindsey is chairman of the "Ferguson for Governor" club and his brother M. C. Lindsey, is chairman of the "Sterling for Governor" club.

AGENTS TO CHECK DROUTH FREIGHT RATES ON FEED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (UP).—Secretary of Agriculture Hyde issued orders today to county agents, they must certify all half freight rate feed shipments to farmers. A project is under way to move livestock out of affected areas.

LIEUTENANT RETURNS

Lieutenant C. A. McClintic returned last night from the encampment of the national guard at Palacios, having attended with the Sweetwater company to which he is attached. He was accompanied here by Fred Slack of Sweetwater, member of the company.

Did You Notice This on Planes?

Something you might not have thought of when you saw those trim navy fighters that sailed down to landing at Sloan field this morning—

The group has been based on three airplane carrier ships, Langley, Lexington and Saratoga and has made more than 8,000 landings on these ships without a fatality.

The official navy designation of the squadron is VF-5B. The "V" stands for heavier-than-air craft, the "F" for fighter type, the "5" for the number of the squadron and the "B" indicates it is a squadron of the battle fleet.

On each side of the fuselage of the planes is painted the squadron coat-of-arms. It consists of a shield of royal blue crossed by a bolt of red lightning and containing two red circular shapes in the quarters.

The crest is the head of a wild boar. The esoteric significance of the insignia renders impolite its publication; suffice it to say that the crest was inspired by the label on the bottles of Mr. Gordon's best product. The shapes destroy any suspicion of effeminacy. The bolt of sinister lightning has given the squadron the name of the "Red Rippers."

Minister's Auto Catches Fire on Bankhead Highway

The Rev. O. W. Roberts cannot explain his automobile catching on fire on the highway today, but motorcycle patrolmen say it must have been the minister's perfervid testing out of his sermon for next Sunday.

The rear of the machine suddenly flamed up and officers had to use extinguishers to prevent the fire from consuming the automobile.

Croft looked at the machine then at the minister, they say, and then asked Mr. Roberts if he had been trying out his Sunday sermon.

"Can't see anything else that might have set your car on fire," he said.

ODESSA BANKER BURIED BESIDE BODY OF WIFE

Funeral services for W. F. Bates, Odessa banker who died Monday afternoon, were held in Odessa at 10 o'clock this morning, with the Rev. J. T. McKissick of Cisco, Christian minister, officiating. Members of the Masonic lodge assisted in the last rites as the body was lowered to a place beside the banker's wife, who died in April, 1929.

ODESSA, Aug. 19.—W. F. Bates, 63, pioneer banker and cattleman of this section, president of the Citizens National bank here since 1911, and one of Ector county's leading citizens for more than a quarter of a century, died unexpectedly as he entered the home of a friend here at 2:15 Monday afternoon. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Bates had walked from his home to the Alan Connell home a block away. He fell to the floor as the maid answered his knock at the door. Death was immediate.

Old Time Rancher

Bates was an outstanding figure in the ranks of the old time cowman, having been in that business since his youth. Born in Bell county in 1862, he moved to Palo Pinto county when he was 19 years old. He served through every task of the cow business, and made three trips over the trails to Kansas, driving cattle. He was married to Miss Annie Williams of Palo Pinto county. (See ODESSA BANKER page 6)

TEXANS CHARGED WITH EXTORTION FROM RAIL HEAD

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 19. (UP).—Indictments charging that T. D. Edmondson and J. D. Connors, by threat, obtained $75,000 in currency from R. W. Morrison, former president of the South Texas chamber of commerce, were returned by a special grand jury today.

Morrison is president of the Gulf and West Texas railway to be built between San Antonio and San Angelo.

Edmondson and Connors also were charged with kidnaping Isaac Bledsoe, music dealer, and forcing him to promise to pay them $3,000.

MOB HANGS NEGRO WHO ASSAULTED 2 WHITE GIRLS

TARBORO, N. C., August 19. (AP).—Oliver Moore, 29, negro, under charges of criminally assaulting two small white girls, was taken from the Edgecombe county jail today by a mob of 200 masked men and was hanged to a tree 15 miles from here near his home. His body was riddled with bullets. The mob entered the jail through a ruse.

For Birth Control

Startling modern conclusions were contained in the report of the Archbishop of Canterbury (Cosmo Lang), above, explaining the resolutions adopted by the conference of Anglican bishops of the world held in England. The bishops voted to sanction birth control under certain closely stipulated conditions, to preach against war, to deal firmly with the divorce evil and to give women greater authority in the church.

BUREAU REPORTS BIG DEFICIENCY IN RAIN TOTAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. (AP).—All the navies of the world could float many times over in the water which failed to fall upon the United States during the drought. J. B. Kincher, chief, agricultural meteorologist of the weather bureau, today computed the total deficiency under normal rainfall for the states east of the Rocky Mountains as 230 billion tons, the daily average shortage being 7,400,000,000 tons.

Fighting ships of the United States, Great Britain and Japan, under terms of the London naval treaty, would displace only 3,000,000 tons of water.

Rains Reported
In the meantime, spotted weather prevailed, 2.16 inches of rain falling at Huron, an inch and a half at Kansas City, yesterday.

Phoenix topped the nation's temperatures with 106. Fort Worth being second with 104. Other hot spots were, Shreveport, San Antonio and Abilene with 102 and Dallas 101.

No change for Texas is seen, with continued fair weather forecast. The nation's cool spots were Des Moines and Pittsburgh with 78. San Francisco 68, and Boston 64.

Reaches 97 Here
Maximum temperature in Midland yesterday reached 97, with minimum 68. At one o'clock this afternoon, the temperature had reached 96, the low mark for early today having been 67 degrees, the local weather observer reported.

TEXAN KILLED IN CRASH

HONOLULU, Aug. 19. (UP).—Maurice M. Works, son of F. F. Works of Amarillo, broke his neck when his plane crashed into a sand dune late Monday.

ONE PLANE IS KEPT IN PASO PORT

Three Noted Airmen On Roster of the Navy Squadron

Seventeen of the F-4B fighters and two Sikorski amphibians arrived in Midland in time for a take off early this afternoon. One plane had to be left in El Paso because of motor trouble.

No trouble was encountered on the route besides this. Lt. Lee, one of the flyers told The Reporter-Telegram just before the last planes were taking off.

Fifteen F-4B Boeing fighters and one Sikorski amphibian were ready to take off from Sloan field at 1 o'clock this afternoon for Dallas, enroute to Chicago. The planes landed here from an 8 o'clock takeoff in El Paso.

One Sikorski and two fighters that failed to reach Midland with the Fifth fighting squadron will probably land in Midland later this afternoon for a night stop, and will try to catch their sky mates sometime tomorrow, it was given out by the port.

Beginning to arrive at 10 minutes before noon the ships began landing in formation for several minutes thereafter. One plane was not able to fly to Midland when its motor cut out in El Paso and the pilot dropped his machine near the administration building. Lt. Green-slade, the pilot was not said to have been injured.

The squadron has been on a four-months cruise to Panama and the Caribbean sea ports. It has taken part in exercises held off the Atlantic coast until recently.

Squadron Well Known

It is the policy of the navy department to select each year from the aircraft squadrons at sea one squadron to participate in the National Air races. The squadron selected is always a working unit, that is, one that fills a regular tactical position with the U. S. sea forces.

The Fifth fighting squadron was withdrawn from the joint army-navy maneuvers off San Francisco and notified that it would attend the air races at Chicago.

The squadron left San Diego on the morning of Aug. 18, refueled at Tucson, stopped at El Paso for the night and took off for Midland at 8 o'clock. The planes refueled here upon landing and announced Dallas as an overnight stop. Kansas (See NAVAL PLANES page 6)

YOUTH—NOW AND THEN

Now and then we regret the passing of the old swimming pool. We sigh a little for the blue-green waters that were so cool and refreshing when the sturdy bodies of little boys went plunging through them.

We talk about the truant days when children went far afield, farther and farther from the small red school house, until finally the echoes of its bell were lost down the long, sunny road.

Those who lived in the happy days have thrown a glamour across them. It is a long way down the memory-tangled road and they recall only the dramatic. Those who have not known them thrill to the unreal.

The chances are 10 to one, if a comparison could be made of those days and the present, we would discover that contemporary America is having an exceedingly good time in spite of the fact that its recreation is handed to it on a silver platter, whereas its fathers had to dig for theirs.

During the month of August the city streets are lined with children's parades in many cities. Gaily and contentedly the children march, showing specimens of the handiwork which they have made at summer playgrounds; showing off their pets, which are caged like those of a regular circus; singing songs, and now and then masquerading like the trapeze performers and clowns of the circuses which have come on gala days.

They seem to be enjoying life quite as much as their fathers did. Maybe it is because they have never tasted forbidden fruit that they are satisfied. They have never had to slip away from a geography class to climb a tree and watch the sky and thing long, long thoughts. They are taken on botany excursions and encouraged the scale to scale the heights.

They have never had to slip out of the house when no one was looking, to join the gang diving at the mill pond. The playground provides supervised swimming every day. Today's plan is much wiser and more sensible, of course. Approved play is very helpful and enjoyable. None will dispute that.

But that old, divine thrill of knowing you were doing something on your own was worth a couple of supervised hours. It gave a boy a feeling of importance. Of being a little bit daring, of approaching the blissful stage of manhood when he could swim at any hour and climb any tree without being reproved.

We have no fault to find with the modern system. It is developing stronger, healthier boys and girls. It puts its approval on the natural activities of youth instead of making children have to act as culprits who should be ashamed of their exuberance.

WATER—FIVE CENTS A GLASS

Every now and then a story drifts across the pages of the press, telling of some far land where water is at a premium. We have a habit of shaking our heads sympathetically and immediately forgetting the calamity. After all, we think, no one could be without water. Not in our land anyway. Water is a God-given gift.

Once in a while we hear a little different story coming of someone who became insane because his thirst was too much. We feel so uncomfortable when we try to visualize such a condition that we promptly put it out of our minds.

But now the situation is coming home to us. In Brown and Jackson counties, according to a story we read the other day, in Indiana it has been a long time since the air has been cool and fragrant with beating rain. Water has been getting more and more scarce. And now armed men were standing guard over the few remaining wells that give water and selling it for five cents a glass. Water was being shipped into the community in milk cars. Farmers had sold practically all of their livestock.

When we count our blessings after this, we could easily be a little more practical and put water on the list. When the well goes dry a cup of cold water is worth considerably more than rubies and emeralds.

But There's No "Relief" for Presidents!

German Republic, Facing Elections, Is Endangered by Growth of 'Hate Party'

By MILTON BRONNER NEA Service Writer.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—On September 14 Germany will have a nationwide Parliamentary election compared with which the Congressional elections in America in November will be mere child's play.

America's will be conducted in orderly fashion.

In Germany there is so much fear of violence that President Hindenburg has promulgated decrees forbidding the carrying of fire-arms and brass "knucks."

In America, of course, no matter how the elections go, the republic is safe, orderly government will go on, international treaties will be observed.

Fighting for Lives

In Germany, however, the elections may bring triumph to a bunch of feather-brained agitators who might conceivably overturn the republic and produce chaos both at home and abroad. For the next few weeks parliamentary government, cabinet responsibility, the very republic will be fighting for their lives. There is grave danger of their being ground to pieces between the upper millstone of National Socialism and the lower millstone of Communism.

In all the troubled history of the German republic for the past ten years there never has been a situation like it, nor one so grave. The Social Democratic party always has been the strongest party in the state, and most of the coalition governments have included Socialists. But some months ago Dr. Bruening formed a so-called bourgeois government comprising members of all the middle classes and excluding the extreme Nationalists, the Socialists and the Communists. The other day when Bruening was unable to pass his tax laws, President Hindenburg dissolved Parliament and the tax laws were promulgated by decree. Under the constitution the election of a new Reichstag will take place September 14.

Split Weaken Party

The issue is tremendously belated by reason of the fact that many of the old political parties have had splits, with the prospects of new parties being formed.

But old and new parties alike are fearful that they are going to lose tremendously in the elections to both the National Socialists and the Communists. There is much unemployment in Germany and this plays into the hands of the extremist parties. Of these the National Socialists are the greatest peril to the republic. The queer thing about this organization is that its absolute boss and dictator is not even a German citizen. He is Adolf Hitler, an Austrian, a former school teacher, who came to Germany to fish in troubled waters. He founded his little party in 1919, but in the past two years it has been growing like the proverbial green bay tree.

He initiated the tactics of the Communists. He started "cells" all over Germany. At first he had a footing only in Bavaria and Mecklenburg. Then he spread into north Germany. His party got a key position in the parliament of Thuringia, got into the cabinet and grabbed the positions of Minister of the Interior and Minister of Public Instruction.

Defeated by Law

The Minister of the Interior proceeded to fill the military police with men hostile to the republic. The Minister of Public Instruction proceeded to introduce into the schools religious prayers of markedly anti-Semitic tendency. The national government fought both these measures and has just won in the courts.

In the meantime, in the elections to the local parliament of Saxony,

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:—Texas politics are in a tangle in one sense and not in another. There is one crowd that is getting a bit excited, the crowd that has always supported officers that cater to the rich, the select few and all the professional class that has outgrown manual labor in its coarser sense—such as ditch digging, cow hands on ranches, mechanics in shops, agrarian population, spoken of under such aliases as the

they again made astounding gain and are trying to get the key positions in the cabinet that still is in process of being formed. Hitler has triumphantly proclaimed: "After Thuringia, Saxony is the second state to come under our influence. From this base sooner or later will start the advance to conquer the Reich."

Nationalists Weakened It is a significant thing that the advance of his party has made little inroad on the strength of the Socialists or the Communists, but in many cases has almost annihilated the strength of the old Nationalist party. Its political program is a clouded and hazy one. It seems to grow mainly by singing a hymn of hate—hate of the Social Democracy, of Parliamentarism, of the Jews.

In many ways Hitler aims at a German Fascist organization. His men go about in brown shirts. They make great display of the swastika cross which is the sign of their anti-Semitism. They have young rowdies armed with brass knucks and gas pipes whom they call their "storm troops."

Hitler and his lieutenants hope to conquer a preponderating position in the next Reichstag. They have won many of the young hot-heads in the universities, and are reaping the votes of many of the dissatisfied elements—those who complain about the heavy taxes, those who curse the Young Plan by which Germany pays its war reparations, and, finally, those who are unemployed and believe in Hitler's specious promises, that will take little less than a revolution, the rube or Hiram, as the professional class or well-to-do terms it. The reason that it is necessary for all the populace to vote in the elections as a solid vote is because it is necessary for them to chose a candidate that will give them the most consideration in the way of protecting from abuse that is constantly invading their midst by the class whose hands are too white to stoop to coarser work, but live on the toil of the laboring millions. No doubt you older people have read the story of the eagle and the fish hawk. Down on the rock bound coast of Maine a lad sat one day and watched a small fish hawk dive into the sea and come out with a fish. Perched on a crag not far away was a huge eagle that swooped down on the fish hawk and made him drop his load as soon as he flew out over the land. This was repeated until the fish hawk flew away in dismay and disgust. He had seen he was feeding the eagle only. This is a process that has been going on since long before the Christian era. Every precinct, township, municipality, state and nation has its leaders and every leader has his henchmen to further his cause whether it be in the interest of the general public or special class. In this hectic campaign for governor of Texas in this last week waged by a single man offering his beloved wife to administer justice and good government to the people of Texas on one side and a giant in stature, who habit is Houston rich as Croesus, backed by the crowd (a malady that has developed in the last four years and has caused many a decent citizen to feel unseated and to feel that perpetration of Moodyism is contributory to not only self destruction but to disfranchisement.) But the man goes further than that; he is haeping on the head of his children and his neighbors children burdening laws and systems that will take little less than a revolution.

Daily Washington Letter By Rodney Dutcher

It Looks Like the Last Congress Passed a Law About Everything—At Any Rate, the New Laws Take Up 2991 Pages and Those Who Prepare the Statutes Have Plenty of Work

WASHINGTON, August 19.—The last Congress passed 2991 large pages of laws which required 467 pages of indexing. If you look at the Statutes at Large of the Seventieth Congress you will get the idea that it passed a law about nearly everything. The index shows such subjects as acoustics, Adams street NE (Washington), dourine, garbage, screw threads, X-rays and Zunis.

Few members of Congress, probably, realize all the work that goes into preparing those darned laws into big books so that the nation will know what they are. If they all did, though, they probably would pass just as many of them. The job of compiling and publishing Statutes at Large for each Congress is that of the legal section of the Historical Adviser's office in the Department of State. The historical adviser, Tyler Dennett, also has responsibility for preserving carefully the original of every law ever passed by Congress and signed by the speaker, the president of the Senate and the president of the United States.

The signed original comes to the State Department from the White House, printed on parchment paper of 100 per cent rag. Congress passes four kinds of laws: Public laws and public resolutions and private laws and private resolutions. It is sometimes hard to distinguish between laws and resolutions, but the public measures are put into one book and the private measures into another.

Bryan in Charge

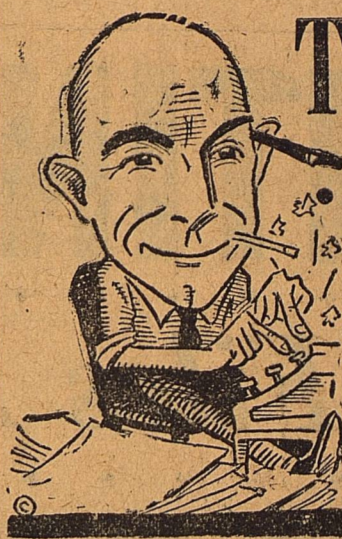

The legal section, under Henry L. Bryan, first classifies the originals as public or private. At the same time, however, it receives four copies of each law from the Government Printing Office which certifies as true copies of the signed original and then sends one to the Budget Bureau, one to the Treasury, one to the General Accounting Office and one to the Public Printer. From the fourth certified copy the legal section gets a proof, which is read against the signed original. Having been shown to be the same or made to conform, that proof goes to the printing office, which makes individual copies of each law for general distribution among those who want such copies.

More proofs are run off with broad margins and sent to the State Department, whereupon the real work of compiling Statutes at Large begins. On those broad margins each law is classified, summarized, annotated and catalogued. The same is done for treaties and proclamations, which are printed in the same volume with private laws and resolutions.

Hours of Work

Sometimes it takes hours to find out just what a single law means. The copy with the marginal notes is sent along to the printing office and comes back with the notations in print. This is then proofread against the copy which was sent. After that it goes once again to the printing office for the correction of any errors detected during the proofreading.

The next step is to check up the correctness of all marginal references to previous volumes. Then it is all sent back for plating, which brings the laws into type in their

The Town Quack

Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.

Does Midland have any summer bachelors? If not, do you think there is any demand for them here? A girl newspaper reporter at Phoenix, Arizona, wrote an article about the changes in morals within the recent years, and she had quite a lot to say about the summer bachelors at Phoenix.

It seems that the temperature gets high there during the summer, and any self-respecting married man sends his wife and children out of town to cooler climates for the summer.

At the same time, Phoenix attracts tourists from all over the country, and according to her article there are a lot of girls spending the summer there, and on account of the demand for men to entertain them, the husbands whose families are gone readily respond to the civic duty of entertaining the visiting girls.

Now Midland may have its summer bachelors, or on the other hand there may be no demand for them here. I would like very much to find out about the situation. Midland boasts of being a modern little city, virtual copies of each law for general distribution among those who want such copies.

More proofs are run off with broad margins and sent to the State Department, whereupon the real work of compiling Statutes at Large begins. On those broad margins each law is classified, summarized, annotated and catalogued. with every modern convenience. If we are overlooking anything, we ought to know about it. Letters from visiting girls, or even from summer bachelors who are wise to the situation, if any, will be treated in strict confidence. Especially will I see that the letters from visiting girls are given proper consideration.

I hear that efforts are being made to have the Black and Tans removed from Midland's principal business streets, and that telephones on the curb may have to be removed in favor of rented offices. If you don't know what I mean, maybe you haven't noticed how racial differences are disregarded by certain common carriers.

It may be out of my territory, as well as out of my province to mention it, but it seems that a certain murder case which affected Midland, but which occurred out of the district, is being kept awfully quiet. You would think the people are not supposed to know what's going on if anything is going on. I wonder.

final form. Each law is referred to in Statutes at Large as a chapter, numbered in the order the laws were passed.

The plating is checked with the second revised copy, and back goes the works to the printing office once more for binding. The secretary of state is required to produce a bound volume of laws passed, each session at the end of that session. The past session's laws require two volumes. At the expiration of each Congress, every two years, are issued the new stiff-bound volumes of Statutes at Large.

Bind Signed Originals

Statutes at Large then takes its place as the recorded law of the land and there is no appeal from the laws as therein transcribed. The signed originals of the laws are bound and placed in steel cases in a room as nearly fireproof as can be found in the state. War and Navy Building, among the State Department's archives.

Buttons Show the Quality of Boys' Pajamas

By WILLIAM H. BALDWIN Author of "The Shopping Book" Written for NEA Service

Most boys' pajamas come in broadcloth, oxford, madras and flannelette, the last giving warmth and therefore useful in winter, as well as in summer for camp wear.

One way of telling the better qualities is by looking at the buttons. Ocean pearl buttons are first quality; there are also Jap pearl and fresh water pearl buttons.

Boys' pajamas are piece-dyed and yarn-dyed, the latter being the better. Solid colored pajamas are usually piece-dyed, except when the cloth is oxford or madras.

Two-piece pajamas come in sizes from 8 to 18, whereas one-piece pajamas come in sizes from 6 to 16.

TOMORROW: Split leather.

MIDLAND in 1912

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Reporter-Telegram will run during the next few weeks a brief review of personalities, anecdotes, happenings and other features that happened in the year 1912. Afterward, other years will be taken up in the special feature.

On April 5, 1912, large crowds were going to a place near Midland described as two miles east of town and on the right of the Texas & Pacific tracks where pipes were being laid for an irrigation project.

The project itself was described as being second in importance only to the building in of the railroad. Fifty-eight candidates were carried across the burning sands of the desert and inducted into the mysteries of the Shrine at a meeting held in Big Spring for Midland.

The editor called attention in a column devoted to a full curriculum of the Midland high school to the fact that graduates of Midland high school can enter any university of the state without examination. Then, as now, a great per cent of the paper was taken up with school news when school was in session.

The Henry Junior Sunday School class gave prizes for those who found the greatest number of Easter eggs at a hunt held at the home of John Haley.

With Midland now engaged in cleaning up the city cutting weeds and other wise beautifying the place, it is interesting to read in the old newspaper that Midland was about to enter a contest in which a thousand dollar prize was to be paid by Holland's magazine to the city making the greatest strides in clean-up within its boundaries.

W. E. Chaney, prominent citizen of Garden City, told the editor that it was probable a junction of the T. & P. built from Midland as a logical connection to that point, was beginning to assume interesting proportions.

One of the prominent social organizations was known as the Merry Wives. Mrs. Graham B. Smedley was hostess on April 5. The Cole automobile was added to the distributing salesrooms of the town, George D. Elliott assuming the Sign of Progress...

BETTERMENT. That is the watchword of American progress. As a nation we are not content to stand still. We want better foods, we want newer and better ways of doing things, labor-saving devices, short-cuts. We want more comforts and luxuries for our homes. We want better automobiles at lower costs. We want better houses, better stores, better means of transportation. We want to dress better and to play and enjoy ourselves more.

Progress is reflected by the advertising found in the newspapers. It is through advertising that we first learn of the newest in merchandise, the newest methods, the newest of everything. Advertising is the sign of progress and often the source of it.

Read the advertisements in this newspaper. Study them. Profit by them. They will help you secure what you need and want for less money than you often expect to pay. Keep up with the advertising and advertising will help you keep abreast of the times. For advertising supplies new ideas, new methods, and new inspirations to a work-a-day world. Advertising is not only a sign of progress—advertising is progress.

SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE WONDERS IF TCU IS ABLE TO REPEAT

SCHEDULE SHOWS THAT CONTINGENT FROM TEXAS CHRISTIAN MAY HAVE EASIEST TIME OF THE ENTIRE GROUP

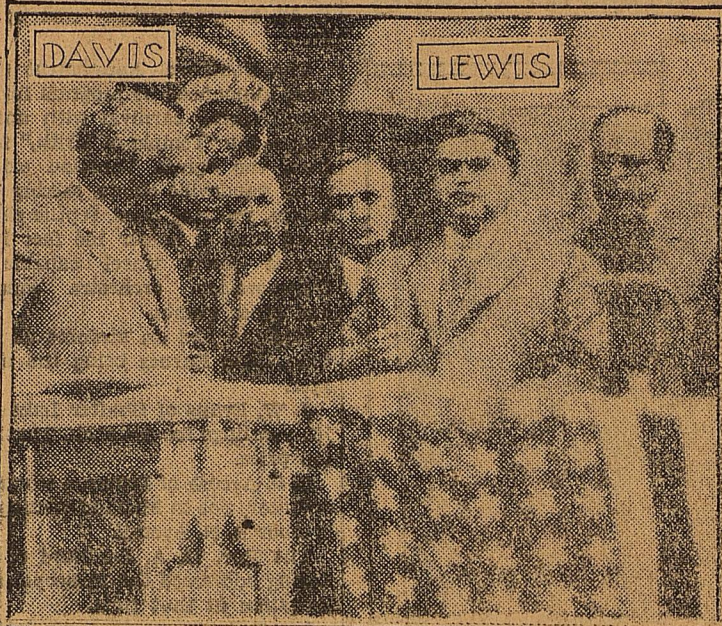

Whether TCU, the fighting Frogs from the Purple institution at Fort Worth will be able to repeat their conference championship possibly depends on their schedule, as may be seen from the Southwest conference schedule printed below.

The Frogs may or may not have a better club than that invincible machine that, groomed by Francis Schmidt in his first year at the Christian school, swept aside all opposition to grab off last season's grid-iron gonzalon.

The schedule is printed below and it can easily be seen that the Frogs have the easiest schedule of any other club in the collegiate loop.

High School Mentor Happy To Think His Team Stands Chance Copping Grid Flag

New equipment that will "improve the morale" of the high school team this season is making Head Coach Barry smile as he tries to run off a few ounces in coaching school at Texas A. & M. college.

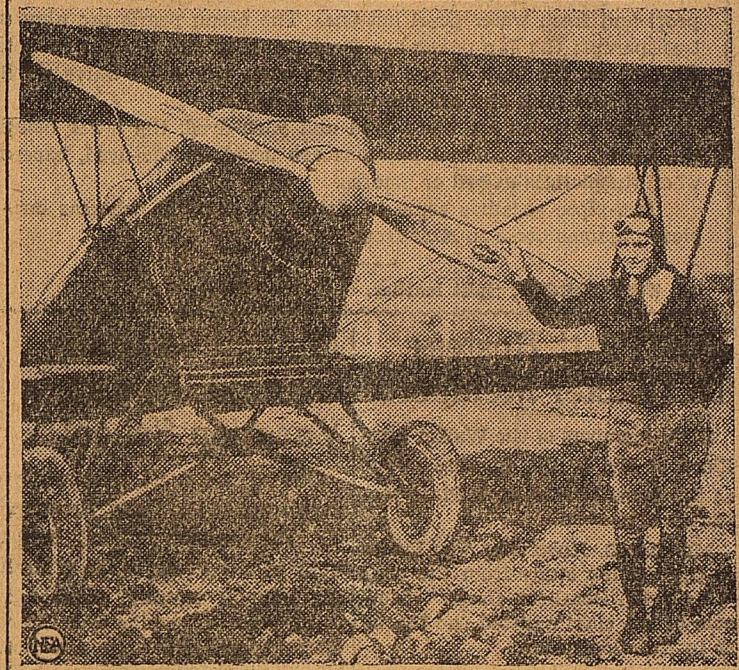

The boys are to be outfitted in new shock stuff, to have a new water heater so that the last men to the shower can get hot water; a new charging sled and various other bits of equipment that make the difference between a club equipped for a threat and one that merely has ambition.

Some idea of what a coach thinks about while on a "vacation" can be found from the following excerpts taken from a letter from Barry to The Reporter-Telegram:

I am leaving tomorrow (Sunday) for the A. & M. coaching school. I understand that the school will last until the 30th, but I shall leave about the 28th in order to get to Midland and be ready to start practice on the 1st. This school will be the most comprehensive ever held in the country. While I was in Littlefield's school 6 weeks the class was only two hours a day for 4 days each week; at the "Short course" at A. & M., we will put in about 8 hours a day and of course a man can get pretty well saturated with football in that time if he had any background to begin with. At A. & M. they are going to go into the care of equipment, handling of finances, treatment of injuries, etc.

A recent article of yours stated that I was a mere fat shadow of my former self. Let me correct that, for fear some of the boys won't recogreal hard work. Manly's the day that I did not get much of a real workout in the football class, I have wielded an axe, post hole digger, hammer, and various other weapons from time to time and have done a lot of waist line, feet, hands—all but my brain got bigger and I am returning with about 8 more pounds than I left with.

I haven't touched a cigarette, cigar, nor pipe (on one occasion I finally surrounded a plug of Brown's Mule) but I am going to have to "reach for a Lucky" before long if I keep gaining.

John Howe is supposed to have put in a new 250 gallon heater during the summer and the windows to the dressing room were to have been covered with burglar proof screens. Both jobs were duly authorized by the board. As it was heretofore, the last ones undressed got cold baths and that had a demoralizing effect on the squad immediately following the word: "That will be all today, men." Installation of the new shower will almost equal the building of the new field in improving the morale of the team. It is essential that the heater be put in before Sept. 1, because once we start practice, it will greatly aid us.

I have several letters out now to see if the heater is in. I recently sent Walter Lynch (high school janitor) a very detailed and specific instructions as to how to make a charging sled for linemen. Prof. Lackey said that I might do that and have Walter make it if he was not too busy with other school work. I suggested to Lynch that he might secure labor recruits from among the football players.

The circular letter that I sent the boys some weeks ago is working. More than half of the boys have written me and the replies have been most encouraging.

P. S. I had C&S send copies of the new rules to Dr. Wright for distribution to Golden Donovan, A. I. Flory, Jimmie Harrison. These fellows all helped us last year. We hope to have paid men this year for all games but may have to call on these men again.

If they really study the rules and prepare themselves, they may get several calls during the coming season from nearby towns.

"YOU COULD NEVER SWITCH ME TO ANOTHER OIL SINCE I LEARNED HOW CONOCO PERFORMED IN THOSE PIKE'S PEAK AND RACING TESTS"

The story of Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil, as told in the advertising, and proven on Pike's Peak, at the Indianapolis Speedway and Altoona Flag Day races, has paralleled the story which this oil has been telling in hundreds of thousands of motors.

Conoco's original announcement stated that the virtues of the Germ-Process were so radically different from any other refining method, that this lubricant would out-perform other popular and nationally known American motor oils. You were told that the metal-penetrative safety factor of this oil was so vital that the film in the "pores" of the motor metal would protect your engine in emergencies, where other oils have failed.

Well, it has all been proven in the past eight months. In addition to sensational achievements on Pike's Peak and at the Indianapolis and Altoona Races, scores of satisfactory tests have been made on private cars by enthusiastic users. Now that summer heat is here to intensify and increase motor heat, remember that one of Conoco Germ-Processed oil's outstanding characteristics is heat resistance.

We invite you to begin using this first really new oil today. Just say "Germ-Processed" . . . at the Sign of the Conoco Red Triangle.

CONOCO GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL

Following the Pike's Peak Tests, where Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil was tested side by side with three other popular, nationally known oils, the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association issued Certificate of Performance number 2263, comprising 14 points, of which the point below is one.

POINT NO. 2
 "That a reduction in the rate of wear occurring during the use of CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil over that occurring with the other oils used to the extent of 76.4 per cent was shown during these tests."

FERGUSON SUPPORTERS IN MIDLAND POINT TO DAVIS' LETTER AS MAIN CONTENTION FOR SUPPORT OF "MA"

Midland supporters of Mrs. Ferguson for governor find a letter written the Dallas News by Fred W. Davis their forte in defending their choice. They have asked that this letter be reproduced, and this The Reporter-Telegram takes pleasure in doing.

The letter follows: The attitude of those who voted for candidates for governor other than the ones in the final contest will be determined who shall be governor.

In the first primary I publicly supported Mr. Young of Kaufman and therefore the present situation is not a direct result of any vote. There is no alternative upon the part of those who participated in the election in good faith, but to make their choice. Personally, I am going to support Mrs. Ferguson.

Throughout the Fergusons' political career I have sometimes disapproved of their official conduct. In our political battles we are prone to magnify the virtues of our friends and the vices of our enemies, having had no personal contact with Mr. Sterling, I am measuring the candidates upon their declarations of principles.

Ferguson is opposed to the issuance of state road bonds and so am I. The proposal is without economic merit and can lead only to bankruptcy. The roads would wear out faster than we could economically spend a large borrowed sum of money and the cost of carrying the bonds would be so heavy that as soon as one issue was spent it would be imperative to borrow again. Mr. Sterling favors the road bonds. His alleged sympathy for the counties heavily in debt for roads is a condemnation of his acts as chairman of the highway commission, because the policy of the commission compelled the counties to borrow in order to get state-federal aid. If the counties face bankruptcy because of issuing road bonds at the demand of Mr. Sterling and his associates on the highway commission, it is axiomatic that if the state adopts a similar policy of issuing road bonds it will soon face a similar condition. The whole is only equal to the sum of all its parts. If it is right to pay back to the counties certain moneys it should be done with current funds.

Again, if the state should borrow any sum of money for road purposes, how do we know but what the highway commission will handle the money as they have in the past and demand that counties issue more bonds in order to participate in the fund? Can one conceive of a more vicious business circle and a surer road to ultimate economic ruin?

It has been asserted that the chairman of the highway commission has used the great power of his office to further his race for governor. Whether he did or not he has refused to resign and thereby remove all political obligation upon the part of 5,000 employees of that division of our state government.

Ferguson favors electing the highway commission and so do I. He also favors decentralizing its political power by dividing the state into districts and I am in hearty accord with the proposal. Mr. Sterling on the other hand is opposed to electing the highway commission. As this division of our state government handles a staggering sum of money and employs an army of citizens it is not impertinent to assume that as Mr. Sterling is opposed to election of this commission he is like Governor Moody, opposed to elections at all, except a comparative few to act as official dictators. Any party who is opposed to elections in all governmental matters, where practicable, should not receive them if he did seek them. About all the average citizen has left now in his right to vote and if that is given up or taken away from him he will be a slave both politically and economically.

There are other points in the Ferguson program which meet with my approval, such a redemption in case of foreclosures, putting restrictions on motor busses, etc., but as Mr. Sterling has not, so far as I know, expressed himself upon these particular questions it would merely be giving my opinion of his views to make comparisons.

Questions of vital and perpetual importance are at stake and it is no time to be governed by personal likes and dislikes. Four more years of official effort to disfranchise the people and four years of wholesale borrowing, such as it is proposed by Sterling, might prove to be almost disastrous to our commonwealth.

Naval Planes--

City will be the overnight stop Wednesday.

The group will vary its flying program daily when it gets to Chicago. New formations and various types of attacks upon a constructive enemy will be made each day. Nine planes will demonstrate skill in formation flying, maneuvers, and formations tied together. Another three-plane section will give an exhibition of acrobatic flying.

The squadron has lost but one man while flying a distance that would more than measure around the world, and has on its roster some of its finest pilots in the country. Lieutenant M. B. (Mary) Gardner and Lieutenant F. J. Trapnell, two members of the famous navy stunt team that succeeded the "Sea Hawks" are old pilots of the group. At present, Executive Officers Lt. David Rittenhouse, winner of the Schneider cup races at Coves, England, in 1923, Lieutenant W. G. Tomlinson, 1929 winner of the Curtiss marine trophy and Lieutenant D. S. Cornwell who was given the D. S. C. for flying a disabled plane to the ground when he found that his flying comrade could not jump—and several more famous flyers are in the organization.

The group won the efficiency trophy for 1929-30. Lieutenant Commander J. H. Campman commands the squadron.

Midland Man Wins State Sales Prize

Chester H. Shepard, district manager of Lydic Roofing company, has been advised that he was the winner of a contest in Texas for the largest increase in sales of Lat-ite shingles over last year's volume. The Barber Asphalt company of Philadelphia offered choice of a free trip to St. Louis or a check for $200 to the district manager making the greatest increase. Shepard won, chose the $200 check, and received it today.

Urges Resubmission New Railroad Plea

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 19. (UP).—D. H. Berry, city traffic expert, urges resubmission of the Abilene Southern petition for permission to construct a rail line from Ballinger to San Angelo. He lambasts the Texas rail commission for failure to aid this section of the country.

Scouting in Midland

With the coming to Midland Thursday of more than 225 boy scouts of the Buffalo Trails council it is interesting to consider the evolution of the movement in Midland through all organizations of its history.

Scouting in Midland began with a simple meeting as may be seen and developed into a strong organization.

The following shows the evolution of scouting in Midland:

Feb., 1928: W. N. Elliott, president of the Buffalo Trail council spoke to a group of representative citizens at the high school auditorium on scouting. Motion made to start scouting in Midland.

One of the first committees to function after Mr. Elliott's talk was composed of Paul Barron, T. D. Murphy and Fred Wemple. This was the first finance committee appointed to raise Midland's first quota in the interest of scouting.

April 19, 1928: The Rev. Stanley Haver organized first troop with Methodist church as sponsoring institution and a troop committee as follows: B. F. Haag, B. G. Graf, A. W. Stanley.

May, 1928: Second troop No. 53, with the Rev. T. D. Murphy, was organized with the Presbyterian church as sponsoring institution, and troop committee as follows: C. A. McClintic, H. L. McClintic, T. L. Griffin. The present troop committee is C. A. McClintic, L. O. Smith, G. A. Sundquist.

May, 1929: Third troop No. 52—Christian church, with G. W. Brennenman as scoutmaster and K. E. Ambrose, J. P. Howe and H. G. Bedford as troop committee, was organized.

Dec., 1929: Troop 54 of the Baptist church with Claude Crane as scoutmaster, scout troop committee, Fred Middleton.

A. C. Williamson, present executive, came on the job in summer of 1929. In October of the same year a reorganization meeting was held at which time new officers were elected with all the principal towns having representation on the council and executive board.

K. E. Ambrose was at that time elected vice-president and chairman of the local council. W. I. Pratt was elected area chairman of the civic service committee and Claude O. Crane troop organization chairman.

In 1928 and 1929 Rev. Haver and Rev. Murphy took the Midland boys on a camp on the Pecos in Terrell county. About 61 boys attended two of these camps, 25 the first year and 36 the next. The first council camp ever attended by Midland scouts was held this summer on the Concho.

Market Report

Talk of too much rain in eastern belt gave cotton market good opening which was steady 13 to 17 higher. Later in morning with reports of rain over central and western belt demand was checked and late morning prices eased materially. Towards noon hour market reacted within few points previous close. Trading throughout market very active with volume business heavy. Reports from Alabama and Texas points say demand for spots limited. Cooperatives reported advancing fifty dollars bale in southwest Texas.

Odessa Banker--

They came to Ector county in 1901. After he engaged in the cattle business for several years, Mr. Bates became associated with the Citizens National bank in 1908, becoming its president in 1911. Under his direction the bank has become one of the most substantial institutions in this section.

Steadily Influence Particularly did "Uncle Frank" as he was affectionately known, serve the cattlemen and his bank was a steady influence through many years for the industry. In more recent years it figured in the development of the oil industry in Ector, Crane, and Winkler counties. Mr. Bates was its active director until recent failing health.

He had been a member of the Christian church for many years, and was a member of the Masonic lodge. He was an outstanding civic leader in Ector county, and served as county commissioner and school trustee for several terms.

Mr. Bates is survived by two sons and four daughters, all of Odessa. They are George and Robert Bates, Mrs. Tom Tripp, Mrs. Henry Pegues, Miss Hattie Bates and Miss Catherine Bates. Odessa business houses closed for the services.

Five Cameras

For Color Film

One half of all the Technicolor cameras in Hollywood were tied up for six months during the filming of "Song of the Flame," First National's all-Technicolor and Vitaphone opera, showing at the Ritz theatre, tomorrow.

Of the ten such cameras in the film colony, five were in constant use in this picture. Because of the big scenes involving thousands of people, it was necessary to have more than the usual number of cameras, which is three. The same scene was taken from five different angles at the same shot, saving time for Director Alan Crosland in shooting the production.

A Technicolor camera takes six months to build and must be as precise in measurements as a fine watch. Because of the sudden popularity of Technicolor pictures, the Technicolor factory has been unable thus far to catch up with the demand for the new cameras, which are different from the old type.

"Song of the Flame" is the first all-talking spectacle picture, as well as the first all-Technicolor, dramatic opera produced on such lavish lines. It is an adaptation of the stage opera of the same name. In the cast of prominent players are Alexander Gray, Bernice Claire, Noah Beery, and Alice Gentle.

PECULIAR CUKES

LAMESA, Aug. 19.—Growing freak cucumbers is a matter which must be left to nature, it is believed after observing two cukes grown on the farm of E. W. Hester by his wife in her garden this year. The pickles grew from separate stems and buds and before they matured they had joined ends, making a V-shape. They were grown 18 miles northwest of Lamesa.

BIG SPRING WOMAN SLIGHTLY INJURED IN PLANE CRACKUP

BIG SPRING, Aug. 19. — John Blaine and Mrs. Mary Byrne, both of Big Spring, were seriously injured when a biplane which Blaine was piloting crashed two miles west of here late Monday.

The plane fell from a height of about 150 feet, shortly after it had taken off from the Big Spring airport. It was making a bank and slipped off on its right wing, downward. Lack of altitude and the fact that the ship was under full power made it impossible to pull the ship out of the slip, it was said.

Blaine and Mrs. Byrne were brought to a local sanitarium, where physicians said their injuries would not prove fatal. Both were conscious last night. Blaine received a broken ankle, a severe blow above the stomach, and serious face lacerations. Mrs. Byrne was cut about the face, and probably has a fractured shoulder, physicians said. She also is suffering from severe shock. The plane belonged to W. F. Ramsey of San Angelo, who has been here on flying instruction work. Blaine secured the ship to make a hop.

Blaine, who formerly lived in Abilene, was a test pilot in the United States army during the world war. He holds a transport pilot's license, and had hundreds of hours in the air. He formerly was manager of the airport here, but is not now associated with any flying service.

Lubbock Expects

Crowds at Derby

LUBBOCK, Texas, Aug. 19.—Several thousand South plains folk are expected in Lubbock Thursday, August 21, when the National Women's Air derby will stop here about noon. The Lubbock chamber of commerce is giving $500 in lap prizes to the contestants that will fly into Lubbock. Coming this way, the flyers will be following a combination of the southern and the northern routes from coast to coast.

The Lubbock Municipal Airport, 640 acres, being one of the largest airports in the nation, has a new modern hangar, that is just being completed and all modern equipment just installed.

The flyers are expected about 12 o'clock and will be here two or three hours.

Odessa Officers

Take Biggest Belt

The sheriff's department at Odessa is now holding a 90-foot piece of 14-inch belting, captured near there Thursday night, and thought to be stolen property from the Breckenridge oil fields. The allegedly stolen goods was taken from a car parked on the highway near here, and one arrest was made. The sheriff and another officer noticed a car parked just off the highway between Odessa and Pecos last Thursday night, while they were on their way out to the oil town. On coming back they saw the car still standing, apparently empty, in the same spot. Stopping to investigate, they found a man asleep in the car, and questioned him. The man gave his name, and it was found to tally with the name of a man wanted by authorities in another section. He was arrested on suspicion, and brought into Odessa. There, Friday morning, they discovered the belt in the back of the car. As this belting is valued at around $270, officers questioned the man about his possession of it. He gave an account, which, when checked, failed to stand up.
