Chicken Ranch Slayer Goes Capering to Death Today

PERVERSE TO LAST MOMENT

Was Convicted of the Deaths of Three Young Boys

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Oct. 2. (P).—Gordon Stewart Northcott, 23, who was convicted of murdering three boys at his Wineville chicken ranch, was hanged at the state prison here today.

Northcott persisted in his denial of guilt and reiterated his belief a reprieve yet would save his life. Mrs. Nelson Winslow, who came from Pomona to learn the fate of her two sons, believed slain by Northcott on his ranch, was denied an interview with Northcott.

TRIAL OF SLAYER OF AIRMAN DUE FOR OCTOBER 8

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 2. (P).—One of the circumstances in the tumultuous life of M. L. Edwards, airport owner slain mysteriously here in May, will be brought before the courts October 8, in the scheduled trial of D. R. (Dick) Cheatham, suspended federal prohibition agent, accused by a state grand jury of "framing" a liquor charge against Edwards shortly before he was "taken for a ride."

Cheatham will be tried in the federal court and U. S. District Attorney E. J. Holden will be chief of his counsel, as is usual in the trial of such cases. Specifically, Cheatham was billed for conspiracy to transport liquor and for transporting liquor as an accomplice in connection with the complaint lodged against Edwards.

Three other men were indicted with Cheatham, but will be tried separately, in the state courts. The agent's trial has been postponed. When the case was called, his attorneys introduced physicians to testify that he had suffered a nervous breakdown, and that in general the condition of his health was precarious. The October 8 date was an agreed one.

Body Identified; Suicide Is Theory

HOUSTON, Oct. 2. (UP).—Murder theory gave way to suicide here today when identification was made of a decomposed body found by Mexican wood cutters last Saturday. Mrs. M. Patterson identified the body as her son, Carnell, 18. The boy was sickly and moribund and had threatened suicide.

BARN FIRED BY BOMB

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Oct. 2. (P).—Reports that a barn had been fired in the country near here by an airplane dropping a fire bomb were received at the sheriff's office today. An investigation was started. The sheriff said he doubted if the airplane had anything to do with the barn burning.

Mexicans Want to Buy Divorce; Rough Play Is Cause of Marital Tiff

"How muchey divorce cost go to jail with her husband if he here? The young woman behind the desk at the sheriff's office looked up to find two Mexicans, a boy and girl, peering over at her. Standing so close together that their arms were almost around each other, the two southerners accentuated their desire to be separated, gestulating nervously in the direction of their marriage license that was spread out on the desk.

VICKERS LEAVES FOR TULSA AND INTERNATIONAL OIL EXPOSITION

Paul T. Vickers, secretary of the Midland chamber of commerce, left today for Tulsa, where he will have charge of the Midland exhibit at the International exposition. The exhibition, showing the skylines of Midland and Tulsa under a banner reading, "The World's Two Tulsas," was expressed in time to be set up by 10 o'clock Saturday, the date of the opening.

SAN MARCOS MEN SKIRT DEATH IN GYMNASIUM FIRE

SAN MARCOS, Oct. 2. (UP).—Four students of the Southwest Texas State Teachers college here narrowly escaped death when fire destroyed two of the college gymnasiums early today. The students were trapped on the second floor and forced to leap through the smoke and flames to safety.

Junior Aviator Has to "Set Down"

AMARILLO, Oct. 2. (UP).—Motor trouble forced Robert Buck, 16-year-old aviator who is attempting to set a new junior transcontinental flight record, to descend near Glenrio, 70 miles west of here today. Buck made a safe landing and the plane was undamaged according to his reports here. A plane left here to assist in repairing the motor. Buck left here early today for Albuquerque and plans to resume his flight as soon as the motor is repaired.

TRANSPORT LANDS

Lieut. Harris piloting a C-1-C transport plane from Kelly field stopped at Sloan field this afternoon and will remain until Friday morning when he will return to San Antonio. Corporal Bochar was a passenger in the plane.

Don't Wax Enthusiastic Over Her

Trying to recall what talkies you've seen her in? Or what beauty contest she won? . . . Well, think hard! She isn't difficult to look at, is she? . . . And her first name MIGHT be Opar, judging by the opal brooch, opal earrings and opal ring she's wearing. . . . Imagine this gorgeous creature melting in your arms. That's probably what she would do—on a hot day. For she's just a wax figure seen at a jewelry exhibition in New York. . . . Beautiful, but dummy!

HOBBS POPULATION SAID TO REACH 15,000

EASTLAND, Oct. 2. (P).—The body of old Rip, the horned toad that lived 31 years in the cornerstone of the old courthouse here, dying after several months on exhibition, was reported missing from the new courthouse today where he has rested in a marble tomb. The top glass of the tomb had been removed. A reward fund for the body of the toad is being raised.

ALFONSO JOHNSON LECTURE IS WELL ATTENDED; 89 OUT

"Hanner, don't grin back at them clerks in them stores." Not a moral lecture, but a lesson in economy. That is a sure-fire remedy against buying out a store when a customer goes a-buying, if Alfonso Johnson, director of the trade extension division of the Dallas chamber of commerce, is right. Johnson spoke to 89 retail merchants, clerks and other business men Wednesday evening in the ball room of Hotel Scharbauer.

INDEPENDENTS ARE ENGAGED IN A NEW MOVE

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 2. (P).—Having helped to reduce the country's output of crude oil to the lowest level in more than two years without achieving desired stabilization, the ranks of independent producers are embarking a second time in quest of a tariff on petroleum imports.

CIRCULATING THE MONEY

Prediction that the current business depression may be relieved this fall was made by Rober W. Babson, famed statistician, in a recent address at the seventeenth national business conference.

"With the haughty spirit prevailing a year ago," Mr. Babson said, "a decline was inevitable, but with the humble spirit existing today, a turn for the better is sure to come."

"Under the existing circumstances, it is very possible there may soon be a stampede of orders and congestion of freight in certain lines and sections."

Mr. Babson said he would make no forecasts as to 1931, but added he was "certainly optimistic" regarding this fall.

"It is just as evident today that business is now bound to improve, as it was evident a year ago that the high pace of early 1929 could not be kept up," he explained.

Talk about overproduction, Mr. Babson declared, "was largely hysterical." The real solution of the problem, he said lay in speeding up the circulation of money. To accomplish this Mr. Babson made the following suggestions to industry:

- 1. Reduce overhead. 2. Give better measure. 3. Increase research work. 4. Advertise more.

CITY EXPLOITATION

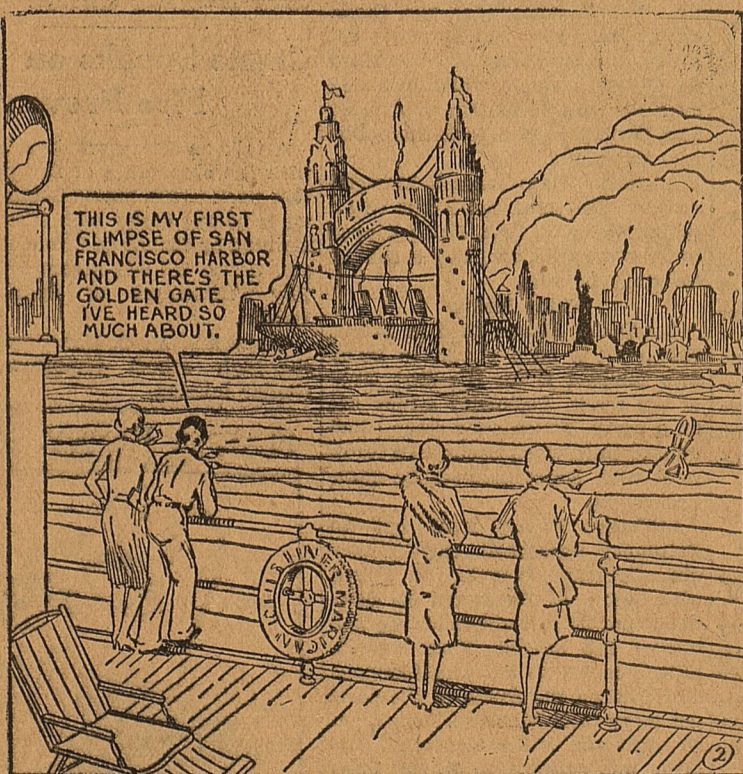

San Antonio has started out next winter to put itself on the map to the extent of $108,000 worth of municipal advertising.

The city commission has appropriated that sum for an extensive newspaper and magazine campaign. This will be the second year of publicizing the merits of the Texas city.

The second year is launched under much more auspicious circumstances than the first because due to the success of last year's program there is a more general backing of the project this winter.

The advertising is financed by an ad valorem tax at the rate of five cents per $100 property valuation, and thus every citizen is a contributor to a fund which aims to bring more citizens and investors and more progress and prosperity into the community.—El Paso Herald.

Daily Washington Letter By Rodney Dutcher

Former Senator Butler Would Please Massachusetts Mill Owners by Curbing Long Hours of Dixie Mills.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Ex-Senator William M. Butler, textile magnate, former chairman of the Republican National Committee and the friend of Calvin Coolidge, has been telling the voters of Massachusetts that if he is elected to the Senate in November he will undertake to get them a constitutional amendment and a law providing a maximum 48-hour week in American industry.

But if need not be supposed that Mr. Butler has suddenly softened in his attitude toward labor or that he is so obsessed with the desire for political office that he has forgotten his mill profits.

The fact is that Mr. Butler and other Massachusetts mill owners are united in their desire for a national 48-hour law, whereas organized labor is officially opposed.

Massachusetts textile interests have been suffering for years from the competition of southern mills which work their employees longer hours than Massachusetts mills can. It would be a fine thing, from the Massachusetts standpoint, if the rest of the country were brought up to her standard. And Mr. Butler's idea doubtless appeals to many Massachusetts workers.

Massachusetts is the only large textile manufacturing state which has a 48-hour law for women. The state's male workers benefit because so many women work in cotton and woolen mills that it is impracticable to make the men work longer than the women. But southern mills, according to labor leaders, are able to work their men and women 55 to 60 hours, and even more, each week.

Unions Oppose Law

No state has an eight-hour law or a 48-hour law applying to all private employees. The Supreme Court undoubtedly would declare such a law unconstitutional on the same principle as it has ruled against minimum wage legislation and laws providing for compulsory arbitration.

The American Federation of Labor for many years has opposed legislation covering working hours in private industry while urging the eight-hour day through trade union effort. Massachusetts and Oregon have 48-hour-week laws for women. Nine states and the District of Columbia have eight-hour day laws, the states being Arizona, California, Colorado, Kansas, Montana, Nevada, New York, Utah and Washington. North Dakota and Wyoming limit the work of women in industry to eight hours and a half a day.

Butler would not be the first legislator from Massachusetts to propose the national 48-hour law. Two years ago Congressman Dallingor introduced a joint resolution in the House for a constitutional amendment giving Congress the "power to establish uniform hours and conditions for labor throughout the United States." Such an amendment would be necessary before Congress could pass a 48-hour law which would be constitutional.

Back Five-Day Week

Leaders of organized labor have been urging the six-hour day and the five-day week as measures to reduce unemployment and already a million workers are said to be working the five-day week. But the same leaders believe it would be dangerous to have legislatures and Congress start regulating hours and wages generally. Most of union labor already has won the eight-hour day and even a large section of unorganized labor has it.

Agitation for the eight-hour day by the A. F. of L. began in 1881. In 1884 the federation resolved that "eight hours shall constitute a legal day's work after May 1, 1888" and one the latter date a big strike was called to put the idea over. The strike won the eight-hour day for two or three industries and in instances where men had been working 14 to 18 a day their hours were cut to 12. The long campaign bore fruit gradually.

Even 43 years ago labor was seeking shorter hours as an unemployment remedy. In 1887 the A. F. of L. resolved "As long as there is one man who seeks employment and cannot obtain it the hours of labor are too long." It was noted, even at that time, that machines were rapidly throwing men out of work.

Strikes Won Fights

About 1890 a New York law limiting the work day of street railway employees to 10 hours was declared unconstitutional. Meanwhile, however, many strikes were called to win the eight-hour day and these were given strong backing by the federation.

In 1914 the A. F. of L. formally rejected a proposal to work for eight-hour legislation, declaring that the question of regulation of wages and hours should be undertaken through trade union activity and not be made subject to laws through legislative enactment except as they might affect employment of women and minors, health and morals and federal, state or municipal employes.

Even if the proposed national 48-hour law had the general backing of labor, few persons believe it would have a chance of enactment for many years. Constitutional amendments are hard to get.

The Town Quack

Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.

John Nobles is still trying to figure how a washout between El Paso and Lovington would slow up Paul Vickers' start to Tulsa. Seeing Paul on the street early this morning, John asked why he was so dressed up. "I've been trying to leave for Tulsa since 4 o'clock," Vickers said. "Why don't you leave?" Nobles asked. "There was a washout between El Paso and Lovington and the train hasn't arrived," Vickers replied.

Duke Kimbrough is reported to have received the highest fee ever paid a Midland lawyer for examination of an abstract. Duke estimates that his father, who lives in another part of the state, must have spent $10,000 on Duke's education and preparation for the law, and when his father sent an abstract here to be examined recently, it was Duke's first opportunity to repay. He believes $10,000 sets a high mark here for examination of a title.

Hand-Made Hat Is Best Quality

By WILLIAM H. BALDWIN Author of "The Shopping Book" Written for NEA Service

A hand-made hat always is better than one that is machine-made. In a cheap hat, the seams are coarse, while in the better ones they are fine and almost invisible.

Good felt can be distinguished from poor felt by the feel; the better the felt the softer and silkier the feel. A cheap felt has almost a sandy feel.

In a velvet hat, the quality of the velvet is most important. Silk velvet gives a silky feel; rayon velvet has a coarser feel. Run your fingers lightly across the velvet pile. The easier the pile lifts, the poorer the velvet.

UNUSUAL MUSICAL DETAILS IN "CALL OF THE FLESH"

Ramon Navarro's much heralded flair for opera singing will be put to screen use for the first time in his newest musical picture, "Call of the Flesh," which will open today at the Ritz Theatre with a cast which includes Dorothy Jordan, Ernest Torrence, Nance O'Neil, Renee Odore, Mathilde Comont and Russell Hopton.

The story, an original by Dorothy Farnum, provides Navarro with the role of a Spanish singer whose operatic success is tempered by the complications which result as the outcome of two love affairs. The star will sing "Ridi Pagliacci," one of the late Enrico Caruso's favorite arias, and "Questra o Queila" from "Rigoletto." In an attempt to keep the picture from being too "high-brow" Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have also included three numbers composed by Herbert Stothart and Clifford Grey, who wrote the music for "Devil May Care" and "The Rogue Song." They are "Not Good Enough For Me," "Just For Today" and "Loving Thoughts of You."

Report has it that this picture tops all of Navarro's previous talking and singing efforts, being equipped with a particularly entertaining plot, interesting characterizations and picturesque locales, which include interiors of cathedrals, a reproduction of the Madrid Opera House and scenes of provincial Spanish towns. The final scenes are done in technicolor.

The picture was directed by Charles Brabin who produced the highly praised "The Bridge of San Luis Rey." Dialogue was contributed by John Colton, author "Rain" and "The Shanghai Gesture."

500 PERSONS EXPECTED TO SEE MIDLAND-STANTON GAME

MIDLAND HAS THREE INJURED MEN ON LIST BUT EXPECTS TO PRESENT FORMIDABLE LINEUP; ALL GOING

With 40 automobiles from the school already signed to make the trip and 60 more expected to join the caravan, prospects for 500 Midland people at the Friday football game in Stanton appeared likely, a report made in assembly at the high school this morning said.

The Midland team, the pep squad and the band will make 100 to go, 100 other students have signified intention of being at the game, and 300 from town are expected.

The game begins at the Buffalo gridiron at 3:30. Midland goes into the game slightly crippled from the Saturday night fray in El Paso last week, but will present a strong lineup, at that. Arnett, big linesman, is on crutches and will be in uniform. White, linesman who does most of the kicking is slightly injured. Pinnell is almost in ship-shape again. Officials for the game were announced this morning as Big Jim Cantrill (TCU) referee; Moore (A. & M.) umpire; Sims (Baylor) head linesman.

More than 150 tickets are available at the high school for those who wish to buy the paste boards before getting to Stanton, thus avoiding the rush at the gate. This game is a conference affair, and Midland must win in order to maintain the reputation of the team as a district threat.

It was announced this morning that the Lamesa game for the tenth of the month had fallen through, Lamesa getting dates mixed, thinking the club was to play here on the seventeenth. An effort is being made to get another club here for the day.

Colorado comes to Midland on the seventeenth. The river boys are hard to beat this year and may cause the locals a bit of trouble.

Midland is looking forward to playing the first home game in the new stadium. This is practically completed. Seating 1,200 and boasting a green carpeted field, there is no better scholastic playing field and stand anywhere in this section of the state, it is thought. The big stand seats 900 and the collapsible stand across the field 300. The grass in the ballwick was sowed less than two months ago, but water has been running on the field most of the day hours since that time and the playing field is beginning to take on the aspect of velvet expanse.

Conference A in Twenty-three Tilts

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 2. (P)—One hundred and one games are on the schedule of the Interscholastic League for Saturday. Roy B. Henderson, athletic director of the bureau, has announced. Twenty-three of the tilts will take place in Conference A and the remainder in Conference B.

The complete Conference A schedule follows: Vernon at Quanah; Mineral Wells at Breckenridge; Eastland at Big Spring; Brady at San Angelo; Oak Cliff (Dallas) at Ardmore; Dallas Tech at Denison; Sunset (Dallas) at Polytechnic (Fort Worth); McKinney at Woodrow Wilson (Dallas); Diamond Hill at Stripling (Fort Worth); Cleburne at Fort Worth Central; North (Fort Worth) at Highland Park (Dallas); Waxahachie at Temple; Hillsboro at Grandview; John Reagan (Houston) at Waco; Tyler at Mexia; Jeff Davis (Houston) at Lufkin; Marshall at Shreveport; Texarkana at Hot Springs Bryan at Beaumont; Breckenridge (San Antonio) at Robstown; Kerrville at Alamo Heights (San Antonio); Alice at Laredo; Athens

Coach Barry Says

"Injuries in the game with Austin high of El Paso last Saturday night affect the Bulldogs seriously in their game with Stanton tomorrow afternoon.

"White, who has done all the kicking, has had a severe charley horse in his kicking leg. So far this week, he has been out to practice every day but has not been in the line up, being unable to even run signals.

"Herschel Arnett, 170 pound guard, will not be in the game at all. Arnett broke one of the small bones in his left foot in the El Paso game and will carry the foot in a cast for at least a week longer. He will be lucky to get back into harness in time to play against Colorado here on the seventeenth.

"Cy Foster, line captain, who is the brains of the defense at defensive center, sprained his ankle badly in the El Paso. Cy will undoubtedly start the game Friday but he will be badly handicapped. This is the same ankle that kept Cy out of two important games last year and the weakness of this ankle is a source of great worry to every Bulldog fan.

"Ham Pinnell, at center, has a bad charley horse in one leg and the other ankle sprained. Ham will not be able to start the game. He has been shifted to the second team for the time being.

"George Booth, hefty right tackle, has had a bad charley horse for three weeks. It gave him much trouble in the El Paso game and has gotten worse this week.

"These handicaps will probably not be apparent from the side lines but they will nevertheless be holding the Bulldogs back. Most of the injured men on the first team with the exception of Pinnell and Arnett will start the game.

"The greatest handicap lies in the fact that these men have not been able to put any speed into their signal practice and other drills and the perfect precision and timing of plays that the Bulldogs had hoped to have ready will be lacking.

BARMAIDS STOP DRYS

LONDON. — Barmaids are the cause of the prevention of prohibition in England, according to Councilor Joseph Wilson. "The English barmaid is a lady," he says, "and forms a real barrier in this country against prohibition. The Englishman is a decent drinker and his traditional respect for women will prevent him from being otherwise."

TWO MANAGERS ASSURED OF PLACES IN TEXAS LEAGUE; OTHERS MAY BE OUT LOOKING FOR PLACES AT ONCE

By GAYLE TALBOT JR. Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS, Oct. 2. (P).—Two Texas league pilots already have tossed in the sponge, and there will be more before next spring rolls around. It is doubtful more than two managers will retain their posts, and it is difficult to name the two.

Art Phelan got the jump when he announced he did not choose to run the Shreveport Sports next season. His destination is in doubt, but run of the best minds think he will succeed Frank Snyder at Fort Worth, the latter in turn, going to the International league.

Jake Atz, whose Dallas Steers finished a strong last on full season standing, was the second to weaken. His departure was a foregone conclusion, and the appointment of Hap Morse, veteran Steer second sacker, as his successor awaits only the official announcement.

Carl Williams has indicated strongly he will turn the Wichita Falls Spudders over to the first applicant. He could have the job, as he is popular both with the fans and club officials, but he is deeply and unalterably opposed to night baseball.

There have been so many rumors concerning Dell Pratt that nobody seems to know what the Waco skipper will do with his evenings next year. It has been positively reported that he will manage both San Antonio and Beaumont, also Houston, Dallas and the Jimtown Mudcats. So far as anyone actually knows, however, he will be back at the old post.

Dell Baker is regarded as a fixture at Beaumont, at least for another year. Owner Rube Stuart is said to be well satisfied with the Exporters' showing, realizing, no doubt, that a manager should not be held responsible for a defunct pitching staff.

George Burris is said to have a great sufficiency after a year with the San Antonio Indians. An operative reports the old Giant outfielder failed to hit if off either with his players or Alamo City fans.

Only the St. Louis Cardinals know the status of Joe Schultz at Houston. Schultz did well in his first year with the Buffs, keeping them up in the race all the way, and is popular. The consensus is the Cardinals bosses will assign him to their Texas farm again.

Most of Texas' Class A high schools have played strong enough opposition already for the critics to size up the situation, and the report is vastly familiar.

"Waco and Corsicana in Central Texas. Ranger and Cisco in the Oil Belt, and Port Arthur in East Texas," is the preliminary verdict. The Breckenridge Buckaroos, last year's co-champions with Port Arthur, lost many of their stars and are not regarded as contenders. Port Arthur is included in the list largely because the experts have found it dangerous not to. The Yellowjackets were hit by graduation and should not get further than their own district, but this observer, at least, would not set a cancelled stamp that they don't reach the finals.

For two straight years Coach Tom Dennis has taken a team that nobody could see with binoculars into the final round, and he might do it again.

Coach Francis Schmidt at T. C. U. believes he has uncovered a successor to Howard Grubbs, brilliant Frog quarterback of '28 and '29, in "Sheriff" Tiner, a sophomore from Waco.

Appearing in the Christians' first three games, Tiner ran the team like a veteran and proved himself about the most accurate passer on the Frog roster.

Leland and Hinton will divide the signal-calling between them this season, but Tiner should be the top candidate in 1931.

Generalissimos of Athletics

If we only could take a peek at what Connie Mack has diagrammed on that scorecard for Coach Eddie Collins, we'd probably see something of the plan of battle the Athletics will employ against the St. Louis Cardinals in the world series. Connie, of course, is head of the Philadelphia board of strategists, but Eddie Collins, acting as his chief aid, also knows all about the plans of baseball and will lend his knowledge to the Athletics' cause.

SAVES HIS BROTHER

JACKSON, Minn., (UP).—Lovered into a gas filled well to rescue his brother who was overcome by the poisonous fumes, Lawrence Boye managed to take a fast grip on his brother before succumbing to the fumes himself and both boys were saved. Robert, 8, had been sent down into the narrow well to ascertain if a dynamite charge he had placed there had exploded, but slipped off a hook handled by workmen and was quickly overcome.

WINTER HOUSEHOLD LOW ICE COST CONTRACT

all the Ice you need

DURING NOVEMBER - DECEMBER JANUARY and FEBRUARY

Few people there are these days who do not recognize the importance of the year 'round use of ice—including even those shivery months of November, December, January, and February, when the temptation to "economize" may be strongest. To encourage safe, dependable refrigeration throughout these four winter months, we are glad to announce our Winter Household Low-Cost Ice Contract.

ONE LOW PRICE FOR WINTER'S ICE

Now for one reasonable price your refrigerator will be re-iced regularly during November, December, January, and February.

The total cost is only $5 if your refrigerator has an ice capacity of fifty pounds, and $6 or $7 if it has seventy-five or one hundred pounds capacity.

FOOD PROTECTION AT A SAVING

Here's a real opportunity for wise saving. Here, too, is the way to make sure that through winter's wild temperature fluctuations your foods will be properly safeguarded, and the health of your family protected. Ask your Ice Delivery Salesman for further details. He is authorized to accept your contract.
