DOING THOSE BUILDING JOBS

An editorial in this newspaper Friday, relative to the advisability of doing building and repair jobs now, while the prices of building materials are low and labor is both ample and cheaper, met with hearty response. Numbers of people have expressed commendation and have brought out facts to back up the editorial.

One Midland citizen, owner of rent property, is starting Monday on the erection of a duplex. The contractor who is to erect the building said that it will be completed at from 25 to 30 per cent less than the building would have cost a few months ago.

Other houses are starting or are under construction here. A few repair jobs and improvements are under way, remodeling or revamping property already standing. No better time can be found for this work. Material dealers say they are selling lumber and products cheaper than for many months and that the prices could not possibly remain at this low level for a long period of time.

Contractors, who may have been idle for a few weeks and who own property here, preferring to stay in Midland rather than to go elsewhere seeking jobs, declare that they would figure construction or repair jobs at a low figure, taking advantage of cheaper labor in some lines, in an effort to reduce unemployment to the minimum.

The Reporter-Telegram commends those who are going ahead with confidence, doing the repair and paint jobs that are needed and building on property that is standing idle. It is hoped that others will proceed with such jobs that have been held in abeyance for the past few months.

REGISTERING THE UNEMPLOYED

Over at Dallas, they are registering the unemployed in an effort to secure for them jobs or part time work and to give charity relief where it is necessary.

This is a wise move and could be conducted to good advantage even in Midland.

There is always a floating class of people, ready for relief from charity organizations, in good times or bad times. In fact most of them congregate where it is reported that business is good. Some of them go there to get work but many others go because they know money is in circulation and they hope to have something handed out to them.

In Midland, it is true that there are property owners and regular citizens who may not have employment full time, but it is believed that most of the unemployment here falls under the floating class. Instances have been seen where work was offered and the unemployed persons did not report.

A census of the unemployed here would bring out some interesting and valuable facts and would leave for the welfare workers and general public a definite idea of how to take care of the situation most advantageously.

SAFETY IN THE AIR

Figures issued by the Commerce Department shed interesting light on aviation accidents during the first six months of 1930.

They show that flying on regularly-scheduled commercial air lines is safer than ever before—safer, by 200 per cent, than last year, with only one fatal accident for every 3,000,000 miles flown. Yet in other types of flying, crashes are increasing at an alarming rate.

The country is fairly full of young men who have just gained their wings; and these young men, apparently, are hitting the ground more frequently than might be desired. The lesson for the average man seems to be clear; do not go up in any plane except one operated by an established company on a regular route, with veteran pilots. Shun the barnstormer, and don't let your friends cajole you into going up with them.

STICKLERS

The farmer is showing the motorists a map, on which the dots represent towns, each one mile apart. The motorist starts from A and wishes to go as far as possible, while making only 15 turns and never going along the same road twice. Suppose, for example, he went to B, then straight to C, then to D, E, F and G. He would thus travel 37 miles in five turnings. What is the farthest he can go in 15 turnings?

Solution of this problem will be found on the comic page today.

The Town Quack

Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything.

Bob Scruggs, always an enterprising business man with his hand out and his eyes open, has figured out a way to talk about his business in the coffee shop without costing him anything. He waits until someone takes the check, pays it and walks out. Bob detains a few of the quacklers, and then says, "Our coffee is paid for. Why not talk for a few minutes about Buicks?"

Elmer Bizzell got a bad deal at the coffee shop one day. He asked Percy Mims to have a cup of coffee. Hardly had they taken seats when Fred Wemple walked in. Next came Aubrey Legg and Paul Baron. Then John Nobles showed up. Elmer looked toward the door, scorching his throat with what coffee was left, took the check and paid it and said, "Fellows, excuse me but I've got to get back to the farm." You see Elmer can't sit around his coffee shop every day until he gets even like the regular coffee quacklers.

Arthur Jury didn't know what to do about that "self made man" story I had on him Friday. About 35 or 40 of his friends demanded to know whether it was a compliment or a knock, wanting to extend either their congratulations or their sympathy. Anyway, he got plenty of publicity.

A lot of people wonder why M. M. Seymour is called Oscar. He explains to you that the "O" is silent as the "T" in "whiskey."

Holt Jowell had a window display consisting of seven Collie pups at Nobles and Tolbert's Saturday. Six of the pups were marked "sold." "I bought him," one fellow would say. "And I bought him," another would remark. There was only one not marked "sold" and nobody seemed to understand why she was left.

Archduke Otto and the Hapsburg Curse

THIS HAS ALREADY BEEN TOLD: Archduke Otto of Hungary, reaching the age of 18 on Nov. 20, becomes eligible under the ancient laws of the Hapsburgs for the throne which his father, the late Emperor Karl, lost in the World War. Otto, reared in exile and poverty, has already felt the blight of the sinister "Hapsburg Curse" that has pursued his royal family for generations, more about which is told today. NOW GO WITH THE STORY.

By MILTON BRONNER
European Manager, NEA Service
LONDON, Nov. 22. — If young Archduke Otto, nearing the age of marriage, dreams of romance he cannot help recalling the unhappy love affairs that have cursed the lives of his royal Hapsburg ancestors for generations back.

For in Hungary, as in other kingdoms, marriages of state were arranged for political expediency while true love went roaming anywhere. His proud ancestors could dream of nothing less, as a rule, than marrying their equals in births and lineage. But having formally married royalty, they sought love at the hands of some captivating young woman of the common people. History is filled with such "affairs."

The old Emperor Franz Joseph of Austria-Hungary, husband of the unhappy Empress Elizabeth (and Otto's great-great uncle) had his clandestine romance with a beautiful Viennese actress. Others had as their playthings of love in the daughter of an innkeeper or the daughter of a minor member of the nobility. But to the Hapsburgs, all of them were equally "common" and beyond the pale of actual marriage to royalty.

However, in all fairness, not always did the fault lie wholly with the husband. A royal wife who nags and is spiteful can make a royal marriage just as unhappy as any other kind. More so, perhaps, when a man is forced, for reasons of state, into a loveless marriage with a woman that he perhaps never saw before.

The "Mystery of Meyerling"
The "hero" of one of the strangest romances in the left hand of the annals of time was the unfortunate Crown Prince Rudolf, only son of Emperor Franz Joseph. It remains today as one of the world's classic mysteries—"The Mystery of Meyerling."

For a time, it seemed that the ancient curse of the Hapsburgs had skipped Rudolf. He had inherited the good looks of his mother, the unhappy Empress Elizabeth. Like her, he had unusual intellectual gifts. Like her, he was open to new ideas. He seemed to have inherited nothing from his cold, callous father.

His education was deep and wide. He loved history. From it he gleaned liberal ideas. He won the reputation of being a "free thinker." He saw clearly what his father did not seem to see, that the power of the Hungarians in the empire was becoming a menace by arousing the hatreds of the other minority races.

Just as Franz Joseph cooled off to his brother, Archduke Maximilian, when the latter wanted a little real power, so a coolness sprang up between the emperor and his son. They represented two different generations, two different schools of thought.

Enters Loveless Marriage
Then Rudolf was forced into a loveless marriage. The emperor made his son marry the woman picked for him. She was the daughter of King Leopold of Belgium. Rudolf's mother opposed the match, because she hated Leopold and all his house. But Franz Joseph was adamant and so in 1881 Rudolf was duly married to the 17-year-old Princess Stephanie, a thin, ugly girl, with a nagging, jealous spirit. It was a bad match from the start. And then in 1888 came the love of his life.

Fate threw across his path the Baroness Marie Vetsera, young, beautiful, with ardent Groom blood in her veins. The girl had fallen in love with him and through a mutual friend she found a way to meet him. The infatuated girl literally threw herself into his arms.

The impressionable crown prince returned her passion. The time and circumstances were ripe for such an adventure. His married life had been very unhappy. The nagging and jealous Stephanie had nothing to give him. Nor was she beautiful. So Rudolf took his happiness where he found it. Time and again he met the lovely Marie clandestinely. He contemplated the dissolution of his hateful marriage and even went so far as to make an approach to the Vatican itself.

Of course the Roman Curia, with its close connections with the Hapsburgs, quickly communicated with the emperor. Old Franz Joseph was beside himself with rage. There were stormy scenes between father and son in the emperor's study. Finally the discouraged crown prince pledged himself to take no steps for a divorce, and also to break off his liaison with Marie.

But on the very next day, according to Rudolf's plans, the little baroness fled from her home and joined him at his hunting lodge in Meyerling.

Just what happened there will never be fully known. But on the morning of Jan. 30, 1889, the emperor learned that his son and sweet heart had been found dead in Meyerling—both of them shot.

Busy tongues gossiped. One story had it that one of the ruler's game keepers had killed Rudolf because of an alleged wrong done his daughter. Another story was that two royal archdukes had unexpectedly turned up at Meyerling with a deadly plot in mind. They hated Rudolf's liberalism and dreaded to see him mount the throne. It was said they called and drank with the young man, while the girl remained hidden in an adjacent room. They sent the only attendant away to get more drink at the village and then shot Rudolf and his Marie.

Still another story was that Rudolf had been mixed up with the Hungarian plots against the then imperial premier. This legend grew into another tale of plots and conspiracies, according to which Rudolf, with his kinsman Archduke John Salvator, had planned to seize the crown of Hungary, force the abdication of his father and seize all power. The story was strengthened by the fact that shortly after Rudolf's death, Archduke John gave up his rank and sailed away on a vessel which mysteriously disappeared in the Pacific. Another tragedy of the Hapsburgs.

Out of all the wretches of tales, Vienna and Budapest finally came to believe that this was true.

Rudolf was in despair. He hated his wife. He loved Marie, but saw no happy outcome. The girl, filled with romantic ideas, unwilling to be separated from him, had often spoken of a "liebestod"—a death of love. In a wild impulse, he yielded to her wish, shooting her and then killing himself.

Thanksgiving Designs Predominate in Appointments; Mrs. Cowden Hostess To Pioneer Club

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Cowden was prettily decorated with chrysanthemums Friday evening when they entertained members of the Pioneer club at bridge.

The Thanksgiving spirit was evident in appointments for games and in the salad plates. A very much alive turkey gobbler was presented Mrs. O. B. Holt Jr. as cut prize.

Playing were Messrs. and Mmes. Clarence Scharbauer, Harry Tolbert, Joe Youngblood, Charlie Goldsmith, Frank Cowden, O. B. Holt Jr., Dr. and Mrs. John B. Thomas, Mmes. Elliott Cowden, Clifford Hill, Clyde Cowden, and Mr. Homer Rowe, and the host and hostess.

Guests Honored
The Thanksgiving motif was cleverly featured at a party given by Mrs. Dwight Shoemaker Friday afternoon when she entertained the Mayfair club and several guests.

Capsule Party
Mrs. George Ratliff was hostess to members and several guests of the Loyal Berean church of the First Christian church Friday night, at one of the cleverest informal parties of the week. The function was in the nature of a "Capsule Party," when names of persons who had been others' capsules during a period of several weeks were disclosed. The home was decorated in seasonal flowers, and carried the Thanksgiving scheme. Assisting the hostess were Mmes. H. H. Meeks, Sidney Hall and H. G. Bedford.

Each person recited a rhyme which told who their capsule was, and the cleverest rhyme was given by Mrs. C. E. Post, it was decided by the others present. A contest "Measuring Smiles," was interesting, with captains choosing sides, known as the Blacks and Whites. The white side won with 54 inches of smiles, while the Blacks had only 43 1/2. Following this five tables of progressive "Gold Bug" were arranged, and the consequences of this jolly game sent everyone into gales of laughter.

Returns From Convention
Mrs. Thomas D. Murphy returned Friday evening from Houston, where she had been attending the national convention of the W. C. T. U. She reported good results from the meetings there.

Local Housewives' Choice Recipes

The housewife likes "different" recipes for preparing meat. Don't you like the one for "Blanquette of Lamb?"

Two pounds breast of lamb, 1 small onion, 1 small bouquet garni (parsley, thyme, bay leaf), 6 peppercorns, 1 cup stock, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoon flour, 1 egg yolk, 2 tablespoons cream, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper.

Remove bones and cut meat in pieces about two inches square. Put meat and bones in a stew-pan with sliced onion, bouquet garni and peppercorns. Add water to cover and simmer for two hours. Add salt and pepper at the end of the first hour. Ekin meat from broth and arrange on a hot platter. Strain broth. Melt butter, stir in flour and when bubbling slowly add broth, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and add egg yolk and cream beaten together. Do not let boil after adding egg yolk. When very hot, pour over meat and serve.

MIDLAND DEFEATS STANTON 13-0 IN HARD FOUGHT GAME HERE

Formal Protest of Ineligibility Here May Be Lodged by Buffs

PLAY THRILLING EVERY MINUTE AS STANTON THEN MIDLAND TAKES LEAD; DISTRICT MEN ON BOTH ELEVENS

Midland high school is champion of the eastern end of District 8. By virtue of the title, earned by Friday's defeat of Stanton by a 13-0 score, Midland plays Marfa Thanksgiving for the championship of the entire district. The home and home rule will allow the game to be staged in Marfa, unless Marfa consents to play elsewhere.

If there was any doubt as to the truth in the dope, which favored Midland by three touchdowns, most of it must have been dissipated under the relentless drive of the Midland backs and forward wall as the machine got started in the second quarter and, slowly but surely, overpowered opposition sufficiently to score two touchdowns on straight pushes before the game was over.

Stanton Misses Chance

Stanton would have scored in the first quarter had it not been for Buck Henson's nervousness in juggling a pass that was flipped 30 yards into his arms near the goal line. Not a Midland player was in bean-shooter distance of the sensational little half.

Stanton's team, drab in faded sweat shirts it had to wear when faced with the alternative of doing so or of wearing the same colored jerseys worn by the Midland club, started the first quarter in a dazzling manner that made the eastern threat assume possibilities that made for a distorted Midland nightmare. Buck Henson took the ball on the kick-off and raced 25 yards before being downed, and Sales and Wilson ripped off 10 yards in a powerful exhibition of line plunging.

Midland took the ball on a fumble and passed, Burris to Hallman, and another, Burris to Midkiff, placed the ball on the Stanton 24-yard line. Hallman ripped to the 11-yard line. Just when it seemed Midland was headed for a touchdown in the automatic way the Dogs have worked down field most of the season the ball was fumbled. Pinnell got back and threw Wilson for such a loss that Stanton was forced to punt. The ball nalled Buck Henson within inches of the goal line. The speedy half muffed his chances for sure touchdown, dropping the ball, and no Midland man anywhere near.

Midland Fights

Without knowing it, Stanton probably lost its chance to score during the afternoon—for the club either lost confidence after the firing of this brilliant shot failed to materialize into digits on the score board, or Midland awakened to a full sense of the Stanton offense and settled down to its usual brand of football. A little later in the second quarter, when "Cy" Foster, husky clean-playing lineman who is the spark of the line's play and a sure bet for all-district mention, was sent out of the game on what was described as a technicality, the Midland team assumed machine-like precision and started a drive that ended in touchdown.

The first quarter ended with Midkiff, the whirlwind of the Midland running game, turning in a 15-yard gallop to place the ball on the Midland 45-yard line.

Burris started the second quarter by drilling the air with a perfect peg to Johnson, who handled the shot like a vet. He was downed on the Stanton 27-yard line. If one could overlook notes, he would not give the reading public the next sentence, but the notes are here. Midland tried the musty "Statue of Liberty" play. Oh, well! It lost five yards, even with Midkiff trying to carry the ball. Joe Sovoldi, even, would have kicked at that assignment in a sub-championship game. It was not the only time during the day the play was called—and decidedly not the only time it lost. Stanton simply waited for it and then, evidently considering it an insult to the team's football intelligence, parked around Midkiff like a traffic jam.

Stanton men, linemen and backs, began swarming through to toss Midland backs for losses. The Dog machine punted to Stanton's 20-yard line, where the ball was downed.

Buck Henson, who looks like district material, uncorked a dazzling run of 20 yards and looked like he was going to wave his shifty hips all the way for touchdown, but a crooked elbow wrapped around his neck and he was dragged through the line for eight. Stanton was blocking everything except Midland headgears, and in a way that was beautiful, yet alarming, to see.

Wilson, a serious bidder for district honors, both from defensive and offensive play, kept up the advance, his feet drumming like an absurdly fast knell for 17 yards. Stanton began pounding right up close to the Midland 10-yard line, but a triple pass, Epley to Henson to Whitson was blocked over the goal line, and Midland was given the ball on Midland's 20-yard line.

Then Midland began to scrap. It was at this juncture that Foster was sent out of the line-up and Midland penalized to within about 5 yards of its goal line. Midland punted, the ball being downed on the Midland 30-yard line. Stanton failed to make a yard on fourth down and Midland was given the ball on the Midland 21-yard line.

Midland Offense Shattering

Fryar, head quarter, ripped through the Stanton forward line and secondary to the Midland 37-yard line. Midkiff found a hole and breathed once. By that time he was on the Stanton 49 yard line and nursing three tackles arranged in various positions across him. Hallman plunged three yards. Fryar, step a zig-zag course for 12 yards through the line. Midkiff sliced off tackle for a brilliant run to the 17-yard line. Midkiff picked up two more through the line. Hallman pierced to within the 10-yard line, where backs put it across. The extra point was made, giving Midland a lead, 7-0.

Henson dashed 20 yards on receiving the kick-off, but Stanton was forced to punt, the ball being put in play on the 50-yard line. A fumble in the Midland backfield gave the Buffs another chance, however. Stanton was again forced to punt as Burris, ferocious at his fumbling, was the second one to get back and throw Stanton backs for deep losses. The ball rolled out of bounds on the Midland 30-yard line.

Hallman made five, Midkiff five, Midkiff lost five when swarmed—and the whistle for the half sounded.

Foster Comes Back

Foster was back in the Midland lineup at the third quarter. Henson continued his streak of showmanship in returning kick-offs, dashing 18 yards to place the ball on the Stanton 25-yard line. David Allen, Midland linesman who was restored to the line-up via the 10-semester rule, made a beautiful dive to stop Henson for no gain. Stanton punted to Midland's 45-yard line. Burris, Midkiff and Fryar made first down on three plays, Fryar ending up on the Stanton 44-yard line. Midkiff made three. Hallman was swarmed, but Burris pegged a nice pass that was completed on the Stanton 20-yard line. The backs alternated to begin pounding against Stanton's goal line, and Midkiff went over on a buck. Try for extra point failed. Score Midland 13, Stanton 0.

The remainder of the game was thrilling at each moment, but no scoring was to result. Henson made another 21-yard run from kick-off; Stanton had to punt again; the "Statue of Liberty" play used by Midland was again gummed up, causing Midland to punt through expediency; Wilson made another of his sweet runs around end for a first down; Stanton kicked to the Midland 40-yard line and Midland advanced it to the Midland 47-yard line before the whistle blew for the quarter.

The fourth quarter was rather fast. Another pass combination, Burris to Johnson was good for 7 yards; the prettiest pass of the day, Burris to Hallman, who took the ball at the top of a high leap, was completed on the Stanton 25-yard line; Fryar rammed the line for five yards; the ball went over when Henson almost intercepted a Midland pass.

Midland blocked two Stanton punts, but was ruled off-side in each instance. The third kick was out of bounds on the Stanton 27-yard line.

Midland started a drive. Hallman plunged to the 15-yard line. A series of rams and Hallman made it first down on the Stanton 5-yard line. Fryar and Midkiff failed to go over, about a half-foot being the distance lacking. Again Midland blocked a Stanton punt, and again Midland was ruled off-side. Stanton recovered on this line when Burris fumbled. Foster knicked down Epley's pass to Pollock. Buck Henson broke loose and ran to Stanton's 43-yard line; a pass from Epley struck a Midland man and bounded into the arms of a Stanton player on the Midland 45-yard line, and Epley opened up all the fireworks of the much publicized Stanton aerial game. Three passes, flipped with the nimble abandon of the little quarter, failed in completion, however. Epley fumbled and the ball went over, to end the threat.

Midkiff and Fryar and Burris and Hallman started another solid drive

JAMES WHITE IS SUBJECT OF PROBE

What may prove to be the first action in a possible formal protest of Midland's win over Stanton here Friday was communicated by Stanton officials Friday evening to Marfa officials, Superintendent C. L. Sone, Stanton schools superintendent, told The Reporter-Telegram over telephone Saturday. The superintendent said an inquiry had been directed into the case of James White, Midland lineman, who is believed in Stanton to have played a baseball game last July 4 on a Midland club that carried two players who received money for playing. The game in question was that between the Oilers and Bushers. Reports say at least one of two Stanton men playing on the club had day received money for playing. Proving of charges against White would automatically give Stanton the win Midland took Friday, and would allow the Buffalo team the right to play Marfa Thanksgiving day for the district championship. Superintendent Sone said a report was true relative to Stanton's having affidavits that men on the roster of the baseball club under fire received money, but that the affidavits were not conclusive enough to use. He indicated Stanton officials would search further into reports before a formal protest would be filed. The superintendent said he understood counter affidavits had been filed in Midland. Non suspension in Marfa of plans to decide the play-off ground for the Marfa-Midland district game have been made, however, Sone explained.

BIGGER AND BETTER

THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX HAS MANY IMPROVEMENTS

The introduction of the new Chevrolet Six marks the most impressive forward step in Chevrolet's twenty-year record of constant progress and improvement. For this Bigger and Better Six offers new beauty, new luxury, new completeness and new quality—yet it sells at lower prices!

In every curve and sweep of Chevrolet's modern lines—in every detail of its new Fisher bodies, you will see the fine hand of the master designer and the skillful craftsman. And the more closely you inspect it, the more deeply impressed you will be.

The improvements in the new Chevrolet Six begin at the smart new chrome-plated headlamps and extend throughout the entire car. The radiator is deeper. The lines are longer and lower, giving an air of exceptional fitness and grace. And the interiors of the new Fisher bodies provide a new degree of comfort and luxury: greater roominess; fine quality mohair or broadcloth upholstery; more pleasing interior fittings; and a new, completely equipped instrument panel.

The chassis of the new Chevrolet Six has also been refined and advanced in a number of different ways. The frame is heavier, deeper and stronger than before. There is a smoother operating, long lived clutch; a sturdier front axle; an entirely new steering mechanism; an easier shifting transmission. In fact, every vital feature of the new car has been made better to provide more thorough satisfaction for the owner.

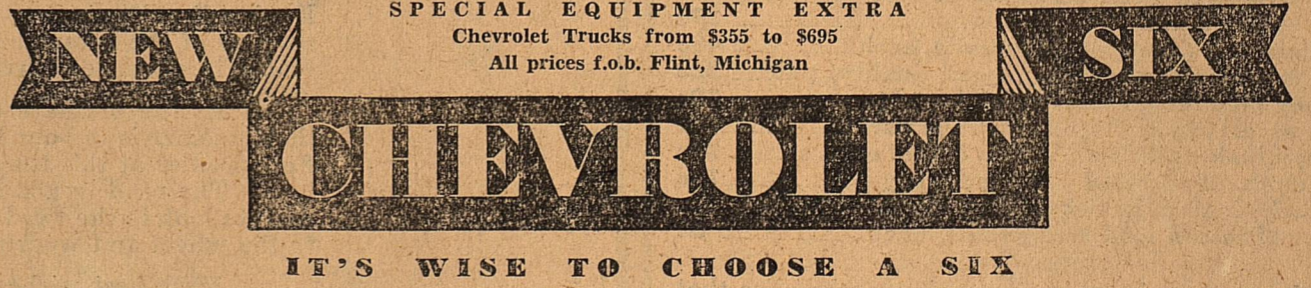

And along with these improvements, Chevrolet offers the smooth performance of a 50-horsepower, six-cylinder motor—four long semi-elliptic springs—four hydraulic shock absorbers—a safety gasoline tank at the rear of the car—and an economy of operation not surpassed by any automobile.

AT NEW LOW PRICES

Fine as it is, the new Chevrolet Six now sells at lower prices—making the economy and satisfaction of Chevrolet ownership even more outstanding. We urge you to come in and see the Bigger and Better Chevrolet. Its modern design reflects the spirit of the times—and it represents a value which will command the interest of every buyer in the low-price field.

DISTRICT 8 TANGLE

By R. C. HANKINS

A thought for today: "Consider the source!" A Scotchman might have said that. Maybe it was a Jew. Only neither of them did.

Stanton came over Friday, as you know, and played like Stanton plays—hard, fair football. No talking, just football. A bunch of sports that anyone should feel proud to have played; a worthy team to lose to, if one must lose.

I'll always remember the flashing fullback, Wilson, and the dazzling half, Henson. The way they went about their business of playing football in its orthodox forms will stand out in my memory. The Stanton line crouched, watchful, like a spring ready to uncoil; Stanton's coach, Rufus Hyde, quietly talking to his men on the sideline and congratulating each player he shifted from the line-up to make way for a fresher man; the Stanton sideline, pep squad—everything impressed me. Stanton is a worthy club to meet, and the set purpose in every Stanton face Friday was just a form of honesty, civic pride and friendly combativeness.

I really was surprised at the fury of Stanton's driving game. I don't know yet how it all happened. I still insist that Midland is better by three or four touchdowns—but no one can accuse me of being cocky about the matter. As a matter of fact, I have never been; I merely felt the conviction that Midland, by all rights of football tradition, should be stronger with its wealth of reserve, machine-like structure that has been carefully added to each year since I've been here, three years. When Stanton took those dizzy spells of running wild at the ends and through the line I realized what spirit in a team will do. And I'm proud to have seen a club fight like that from the east-ern city.

Bobby Campbell of Big Spring, sports writer of the Herald (and a good one), was over. Took up my invitation to see at first hand whether his guess that Stanton would win the game was right or wrong. If I remember correctly, he kidded me some during the first quarter, but he admitted before going back to the railroad town that Midland appeared to have the edge—"thirteen points, today, at any rate," he grinned. Bobby liked our layout.

Pink Robertson and the high school football scribe were taking notes on the sideline, as well. By finally going over to the Stanton side they were able to take as many notes as they liked. Bobby also crossed over.

There is something in the atmosphere about Stanton protesting the eligibility of White, Midland lineman. I don't know how many Stanton people know of it, or how many here. I heard a little about the matter, but know less than anyone else. That sort of thing must be settled by committees, not by the press.

After now, what? Marfa at Marfa, Stanton at Marfa, Marfa at Midland, Marfa at Stanton—or someone against someone on a neutral field for the district championship. This depends on what is done about the eligibility probe. Maybe this column has the right name, after all. And I was about to give up the idea of continuing the space filler, believing the tangle had been untangled. We'll have to wait and see.

Ford Motor Company

Office of the President

ROUGE PLANT DEARBORN, MICHIGAN

October 22, 1930.

Cowden-Epley Motor Co., Midland, Texas.

Gentlemen:

As we enter the remaining months of 1930, you, as a Ford Dealer have never had a greater opportunity to further entrench yourself as a leader in your community.

YOU RECALL WHEN THE MODEL A WAS INTRODUCED THREE YEARS AGO WE STATED WE WOULD MAKE MORE MODEL A CARS THAN WE HAD MADE OF THE MODEL T. WE STILL INTEND TO DO THAT. IN FACT WE LOOK FORWARD TO THE DAY WHEN THE 30,000,000th MODEL A WILL COME OFF THE LINE.

When the Model A was offered to the world it was years in advance of its time. Since, we have constantly added to value by improving design, materials and workmanship, and in the last 12 months we have made two price reductions. WE SHALL CONTINUE TO IMPROVE QUALITY IN EVERY WAY POSSIBLE, BUT NO MAJOR CHANGES IN THE CAR OR TRUCK ARE CONTEMPLATED.

We have the utmost confidence in the future of business, particularly of our own business and that of our Dealers. We are in the midst of the greatest expansion program in our history, spending millions of dollars this year in building new plants throughout the world, and planning to spend millions more next year. These plants are being tooled to produce Model A cars and AA trucks.

The unprecedented public enthusiasm which greeted the New Ford still exists today. This is evident from the fact that the percentage of the automobile business now being done by Ford is considerably in excess of what it was last year.

As the ultimate delivery of Ford products and contact with the customer is in your hands, it is to the interest of each and every Ford Dealer at this time to make a vigorous drive for increased business. The road to general business recovery lies in increased sales, and we look to the Ford Dealer to do his share by putting his shoulder to the wheel and working as he has never worked before.

With best wishes,

Yours very truly,
 EDSSEL FORD,
 President.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

WELL, THAT'S THAT! THANK GOSH IT'S OVER... I KNEW THE TEAM WOULD ELECT FERD FOR ITS CAPTAIN NEXT YEAR... THAT WAS IN THE BAG

BUT—I NEVER THOUGHT THEY'D ELECT BUMPS TO LEAD THE "VICTORY MARCH" THURSDAY! —BUMPS—!!! IMAGINE! I THOUGHT THEY WERE JUST FOOLIN'

THEY'VE ALL HAD THEIR FUN WITH HER, AN' THAT'S ALL RIGHT! EVERY KEEN LOOKIN' DAME LIKE HER, WHO COMES TO SCHOOL, GETS A BIG PLAY AT FIRST... BUT I NEVER DREAMED THEY WERE HONEST 'GOSH SERIOUS ABOUT HER... I DON'T UNDERSTAND

AFTER ALL BOOTS HAS DONE FOR THOSE HOUNDS!! WHY, SHE'S STOOD BY 'EM THROUGH THICK AN' THIN... AND NOW, WHEN THEY HAVE A BIG CHANCE 'Y DO SOMETHING FOR HER, THEY RUN OUT ON HER LIKE THIS

Bumps Wins

WASH TUBBS

EARLY ONE MORNING, WHEN STILL 500 MILES OFF PANAMA, EASY SURPRISES WASH AND THE PROFESSOR.

GET UP! GET YOUR THINGS PACKED—WE'RE GOING ASHORE.

I FIGGERED IT WAS THE ONLY WAY TO GIVE THEM HINDOOS THE SLIP—MADE ALL THE ARRANGEMENTS BY WIRELESS.

THEY CLIMB ABOARD WITH THE PROFESSOR'S PRICELESS INVENTION, AND AWAY THEY GO. THE HINDOOS ARE DUMB-FOUNDED. THEY SHOUT AND RUN ABOUT THE SHIP LIKE MAD MEN, BUT ARE HELPLESS TO DO ANYTHING.

A Fast One!

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

HOW LONG WILL IT TAKE YOU TO PUT THOSE FLOATS ON YOUR PLANE, MISTER RILEY?

OH, WE'LL HAVE THEM ON TO DAY AND THEN WE'LL SOON HAVE FRECKLES BACK... LET ME HAVE THAT PLANK!

GOT THE ONE ON THE RIGHT SIDE ALL TIGHTENED UP, BROWN?

YER... ALL O.K. NOW LET'S HAVE THAT ONE... WE'RE GOING GOOD!!

All Set

By Blosser

SALESMAN SAM

BY GOLLY, THAT'S JUST WHAT I NEED! I'LL GO IN AND INQUIRE ABOUT IT—AT LEAST I CAN ADD TO MY ARITHMETIC!

YEAH, AN' I'M SHORT ON LONG-DIVISION, TOO! WELL, WHAT WOULD YOU ADVISE ME TAKING UP, PROFESSOR?

OH, ER—AH—A GENERAL COURSE—

SAY! IF I WANNA BE AN OFFICER—I'LL GO TO A MILITARY SCHOOL!!

The Proper Place

OUT OUR WAY

TAKE A CHANCE ON MY MANDOWN, WOODY—I'M RAFFLIN' 'ER OFF FER ONLY TEN CENTS A CHANCE

I DON'T SEE HOW TH WORLD HAS PROGRESSED AS FAR AS IT HAS, WID TH KINDA PEOPLE ITS GOT IN IT—EVERY-BODY KNOWS OL' HARD PENNY HARVEY WONT BUY NOTHIN' LIKE THAT—HE'S TOLD TH' WORLD MANY TIMES, BUT IT MAKES 'IM MAD AS A WET HEN WHEN THEY DON'T ASK 'IM

WELL, YOU GOT TO SAY YES, ONCE IN A WHILE, IF YOU WANT TO GET A KICK OUT OF SAYIN' NO, BECAUSE, WHEN PEOPLE WANT YES, THEY DON'T GO WHERE THEY'RE SURE TO GET NO.

WHAT I'M PLAYIN' NOW IS SPOSED TO BE A COUPLA CRICKETS CHIRPIN' AT NIGHT—AN' THEN Y'HEAR SOME MICE SQUEAKIN' AN' TH' MICE WAKE UP A CAT AN' HE BEGINS TO MEOW, UNTIL ANOTHER CAT COMES ALONG—ONE MEOWS HIGH AN' TH' OTHER MEOWS LOW, THEN THEY START A FIGHT!
