AMERICAN INSTITUTE AND CONSERVATION BOARD FRAME COMPACT

A. P. I. Directors Agree Unanimously To Cooperate; Federal Body Sends Representative To Confer With Several Governors

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—The American Petroleum Institute today was in agreement with the federal oil conservation board in its plan for an interstate compact to halt over-production.

The directors unanimously agreed to cooperate with the federal board in the study of its program and meanwhile had in abeyance their own plan of limiting 1929 production to the 1928 level.

The federal board already has sent Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the geological survey, to interview the governors of three or four dominating oil producing states to learn their views on entering an interstate compact limiting production by controlling drilling.

The institute was informed Governor Moody of Texas had promised Dr. Smith his cooperation and had said he would recommend any changes in the present drilling laws of the state necessary to meet requirements of such an interstate pact.

The institute's own plan of limiting production, which was to have become effective April 1, was held up after a delegation from the institute had gone to a Washington for a conference with the oil conservation board and had been informed Attorney General Mitchell had held the board was without authority to approve or disapprove the plan or to relieve the industry from possible danger of prosecution under laws relating to restraint of trade.

E. B. Reeser, president of the institute, said the institute was "just as strong for conservation as ever"
and the decision of the directors was "the best we could reach under the circumstances." He said another meeting would be held May 28, when it was hoped some definite suggestion will have been received from the federal board.

PIPE LINER CRUSHED
LOCKHART, Texas, April 25 (AP)— Walter Robertson, 32, member, of a pipe line crew laying 10-inch pipe
through Caldwell county was crushed near here today by a heavy section of pipe. He was taken to a sanitarium and was not expected to live.

Representative Harry N. Graves
of Georgetown and Representative Leonard Tillotson of Sealy today prepared their bills for concentration, and a sub committee of seven committee to work out an agreed bill from these and the one writ-

COURTROOM SHOOTING SCENE

OLIVE HILL, N. M., April 25 (AP)— Austin Fields, brother of former Governor William J. Fields, and Chief of Police H. B. Carter, shot and wounded each other in a pistol battle in police court here today.
Deputy Sheriff Jim Walker of Carter County, a bystander, was wounded and may die.

Fifty spectators and court attendants rushed for exits and dived under chairs as the shooting started.
Walker was shot through the body and little hope is held for his recovery. Carter was wounded in the hip and was rushed to an Ashland hospital. His wound was described as serious. Fields was shot through the right arm and right leg.

Fields, an attorney, was in court
to answer a charge of drunkenness.
He was arrested last December and his case postponed three times.
Carter asked Judge J. B. Craig for a warrant to search Fields for a concealed weapon. Fields objected.
During the argument Carter approached Fields, and the shooting started.

RELATIONS BETWEEN LABOR AND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SUBJECT OF SPEAKER HERE

DALLASITES TO BE HERE

Reception Committee Designated By
C-C President

Appointment of Shine Phillips as townsman and a reception committee headed by Joe Hendrix completed plans for Big Spring's welcome to the Dallas "goodwill delegation" which will arrive in this city tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

After spending forty minutes in Big Spring the Dallas delegation will continue to Midland for an overnight stop.

The reception committee, appointed by E. A. Kelly, president of the chamber of commerce to serve under Mr. Hendrix includes: H. O.
Jones, W. C. Blankenship, Frank
Jones, Jack Carter, Clyde Fox, R.
Richardson, L. W. O'Neil, B. B.
Weaver, T. E. Johnson, Harry Ph-son, O. L. Thomas, Nat Shuck, D.
Chas. K. Bivings, Homer McNeely,
J. B. Pickle, Albert Fisher, C. M.

Daniel, Clyde Thomas, Wendell
Bohacek, James T. Brooks, L. B.
Davenport, Sam Segal, Max Jacob,
Calvin Boykin, W. V. Montin, R. L.
Mathews, Fred Hopkins, John
Price, Dr. G. T. Hall, Bruce Frazier,
Merle Stewart, I. M. Baker, J. C.
Douglas, McCall Gary, T. B. Jon-dan, R. L. Cook, Garland Woodward, B. Reagan, T. S. Currie, E. R.
King, Joe Worthy, Fred Keating,
R. L. Price, J. F. Wolcott, George
White, E. O. Ellington, Tom Ashley,
Joyce Fisher, Fred Phillips, W. W.
Lakman, Ray Wilcox, and J. D.
Biles.

In naming the committee Mr. Kelly said that the entire citizenship of Big Spring was invited to meet the Dallas group if arrangements can be made.

Stressing the important relationship between the Chamber of Commerce and labor unions in an effort to R. E. James, a member of the Tobacco Workers' International Union of Louisville, Ky., spoke before the Central Labor Council of Big Spring Wednesday night in the Hotel Hall.

Mr. James pointed out the importance of organization among industrial workers is necessary among the business men. He said that industry drove a wedge in that approach that has been eliminated entirely by his plan.

An Excerpt
"What a million dollar bond release in Oklahoma City was facing exporters' defeat," said Mr. James.
"The plea was sent to the labor union leaders to support the issue because it was for the good of the entire community and was not simply a movement that would benefit the chamber of commerce. After the bond issue had passed over which involves the failure of publishing and and both were clearly exasperated."

The Little Bitty settlement, that was recognized in settling the recent dispute between union rail ways workers and the Texas & Pacific railroad was touched upon by Mr. James. He said that while he was not a union sympathizer, he thought it was fair to both sides, but added that had there been no organization among railroad employees the working men would have undoubtedly been the entire expense of financing their losses from one city to another.

Mr. James predicted a big year lay in the near future for laboring men. He said that the development of machinery has been so rapid that less labor is required to do the same amount of work as in former years. The requirements of economics require that laborers be made.

SEVEN COMMUNITIES HIT, 7 KILLED, 25 INJURED, LOSS IS $500,000

Slocum, Southeast Of Palestine, Suffers Most;
Red Cross Of Center Cares For 125 Homeless, Most Of Them Poor Farmers

PALESTINE, Texas, April 25. (AP)—Seven Texas communities were hit by two tornadoes yesterday causing seven deaths, injuring 25 persons and causing property damage estimated at $500,000. Several hundred were left without homes.

Slocum, 18 miles southeast of Palestine, was the heaviest sufferer with seven dead and 21 injuries. Considerable property damage was reported from Benson Springs to which place the Slocum tornado jumped.

The James, Antioch, Henrietta, Cotton Ford and Jackson communities, a few miles from Center, Texas, were swept by another twister that injured two white women, a white man and a negro woman.

The Red Cross of Center was in charge of relief work
today in the five communities near it caring for the 125 homeless, most of whom were poor tenant farmers with nothing save the clothing they wore. This storm was a mile and a half wide and swept a path nine miles long.

STRIKE ON T & P NOW IS REMOTE

Employees' Leader Says "Obviously We
Will Not Revolt"
On Questioning

DALLAS, Texas, April 25 (AP)— Chances of a strike of the Texas and Pacific Railway seemed remote today after the published report of the special federal mediation board in Washington.

Officials of the employees organizations and of the road refused to talk for publication, but one of the employees' leaders when asked,
"Will the employees accept the recommendation of the board thus limiting the possibility of a walkout?" replied: "Obviously we will not revolt."

About 4,000 employees of the road
sold a strike about a month ago in protest of the road's refusal to reimburse them for losses claimed by the men on homes they had purchased in towns from which they had been transferred by the road.

A special mediation board appointed by the president recommended that the railroad and the employees divide the losses equally on the ground that both would profit by the transfer of division points.

No fatality occurred at Benson
Springs, where the storm struck again, nor at the James community, near the Louisiana state line, pounded by a second howling storm. Five residences, a gin and a store were destroyed at Benson Springs, and at James seventy-five persons were left without shelter, their homes splintered. Reports that a woman was injured were not confirmed.

The dead:
P. F. McDaniel, about 50.
Mrs. P. E. McDaniel, about 50.
Mrs. Ben Kirkwood, 30, and her two sons, 4 and 7.
Mrs. Edna Gatlin, 30.
Claude McIver, about 9.
The injured, several of whom were expected to die.

Former Road Employee Testifies Governor Of Louisiana Directed Him To Assassinate State Solon

BATON ROUGE, La., April 25 (AP)—The Louisiana House of representatives today swung into the last lap of its impeachment investigation against Governor Long and the debating and voting upon the remaining charges in the bill of impeachment was the order of the day.

H. A. Battling, "Bosman," ex-prize fighter and former body guard of the governor, was the first witness called in connection with a charge the governor attempted to induce him to assassinate Representative J. Y. Sanders Jr. of Baton Rouge, who was opposed to the governor's legislative program.

He said his latest employment was with the Louisiana highway commission. He said prior to that the governor when inaugurated employed him as a "secret" body guard.

"Did the governor tell you just what your duties were?" he was asked.

"To watch out for him and if anyone jumped on him to pull them off."

"While employed by the highway commission did you have any conversation with the governor about Mr. Sanders?"

"Yes sir, in the governor's office."

"What was the substance of the conversation?"

"The governor called Mr. Sanders some names I would not like to re-

FARM RELIEF

Representative Patman, one of the new congressmen from Texas, has his doubts about the proposed new federal farm relief board, one of the adjuncts of the plan to relieve distressed agriculture.

The results of the measure, he says, would depend on "whether the members of the board are angels or devils."

That is the trouble with most such boards. You can't always be sure that the board members know their job, and you can't be positive that they will always work for the best interests of the group they are supposed to serve.

An ever-growing segment of public opinion in this country is taking the view that the only relief the farmer will ever get will be the sort he provides for himself. He is suspicious of government boards, having had his fingers burned in times past, and he is especially suspicious of boards made up of political appointees who serve for a salary of $12,000 per year.

Wary of waiting for relief (indeed, few real dirt farmers ever had any hope of governmental relief, or any desire for it) the farmer is going about the task of relieving himself. He is practicing diversification on an ever-growing scale. Flocks of chickens cavort about every farm yard; sleek Jersey cows munch the lone grass; proud turkey gobblers strut on a thousand hills. In short, the farmer is beginning to live at home—and the farmer who lives at home has little time or inclination for government boards.

NOT FOR MIKE

Representative Mike Hogg of Houston is the son of his father—the spitting image, as we used to say, of the great Jim Hogg.

When asked if he would become a candidate for governor, Mike Hogg did not waste time or words. In true Hoggian fashion, he gave answer immediately.

It was: "Hell, no!" Would that we had more men in Texas with such directness and force. The true politician would not make a short snappy reply like that. He would say he had the matter under consideration, as his friends in all arts of the state were importuning him to run. But Mike Hogg, the son of the famous Jim, said, "Hell, no!"

MOTHER-IN-LAW

Now the Texas-Louisiana Retail Jewelers' Association wants a mother-in-law's day, to fall on the Sunday nearest April 1, which is All Fools' Day.

And we understand the jewelers aren't kidding, either. One of them suggested that mother-in-law be presented with a diamond, "so the shock would kill her."

It is one of the earth's old jokes, the mother-in-law joke is. And the world's most unjust. Mothers-in-law aren't half as bad as they're painted nowadays.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

LLOYD GEORGE'S REMEDY

The Corpus Christi Times: "Unemployment," cries Lloyd George in his campaign for a return to power, "is a national discredit, a national evil, a national canker, a national peril."

It is all that, and more. And England has handled it very badly. For years it has dragged on, making no progress, draining the nation's capital in doles to the workless, letting the nation's productive power die of dry rot sapping the industry and self-respect of the working classes.

It is a wonder that Great Britain, with this form of industrial death in her system, has done so well as she has in keeping the economic and political machinery going and meeting her foreign obligations. The unemployment pension was a natural remedy when first applied, but it has run on too long and been depended on too much. It is time for something else.

Lloyd George proposes a "great campaign of public building work, financed from the national treasury, to reduce unemployment and get the industrial machinery into motion again. He probably promises more than he can perform, but if there is no hope in that program, where is there any? England may try his remedy.

THE SPEED OF THE PLANE

The Amarillo News: The advantages of aerial travel are strikingly demonstrated by the action of David S. Ingalls, assistant secretary of the navy in charge of aeronautics, who commutes, week-ends, from Washington to his home in Cleveland.

Flying his own plane, Ingalls is able to reach his Cleveland home in less than three hours from the time he leaves Washington. When he closes his desk Saturday noon he jumps in his plane and sets to the Ohio city in plenty of time for dinner. Then he has Saturday night and all day Sunday and Sunday night at home, taking off at 7 o'clock Monday morning and getting back to the capital in ample time to begin the new week's work.

The speed which the airplane gives is a better accomplishment than Ingalls' case. With that example before them, how long will it be before business men generally begin to follow suit?

BARBS

Five women and three children were arrested by the Chicago police the other day in a raid on gambling. Something just had to be done.

Cleveland gas station attendants planted flowers around their pumps when prizes for the most beautiful stations were offered in a citywide contest. The theory probably is that you have to give a fellow something when he pays a four-cent-a-gallon gas tax.

The division of simplified practice of the Bureau of Standards of the Department of Commerce urges simplification of wheelbarrows. Meantime, how about doing a little something about lengthening the title of that division?

Talks To Parents

PRAISING THE BABY

By Alice Judson Fraze While he is a baby the child knows only love and tenderness and appreciation.

His first step is a great event and his first word a triumph. Whatever he does meets with indulgent laughter and uncritical delight. No wonder he sometimes tries to cling to the rosy days of babyhood, unwilling to face a hard, exacting world.

The process of growing up is made harder for some children than for others. The baby who is exclaimed over every time he sits all his spinach, says a new word, or does some charming little trick, grows to accept adulation as a natural accompaniment to good behavior. Admiration and attention become his daily bread.

Then one day the family decides that the baby is becoming spoiled and vain, or perhaps a new baby arrives to occupy the center of the stage. The hitherto balmy atmosphere of the nursery changes quite suddenly for one of severity.

No wonder the dethroned one sometimes goes on strike and refuses to do any of the things which have won him approbation in the past. He who not many months ago was such a bright, responsive little creature, become moody, unresponsive, contrary. Perhaps he even develops temper tantrums and night terrors.

It is wise, therefore, to refrain from constant praise and attention even to a little baby, for, while he may not know the meaning of a single word, he understands perfectly the admiration of those around him.

When the time comes, as it inevitably must, that he can no longer be continually adored, he will be saved a profound disillusionment.

He will have learned to be good for the sake of quiet approval and to be happy in his increasing power over his environment.

Hollywood's Sights and Sounds

BY ROBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—The man who earlier could see no artistic future for talking motion pictures now is predicting the eventual passing of the silent variety.

It is not clear how the movie public will demand an all-talk bill of fare, but because of production costs, he says, Joseph M. Schenck, head of United Artists, recently returned from a New York visit to startle Hollywood by announcing that he is Joseph Schenck pending consummation of a deal by which Warner Brothers would acquire half interest in the new centralized organization to be known as United Artists, Consolidated.

Mr. Schenck's about-face on the talkie question has come about, he explains, as a result of mechanical improvements in the reproduction of human voices on the screen.

He returned from a trip to Europe to view his first talkie at the time when the speaking screen was when the speaking screen was a crude novelty, and its manifold crudities at that period prompted his emphatic statements that the new medium could offer nothing of artistic value to the old silent screen.

Since that time, of course, the talkies have cleared their mechanical throats to a large extent, and the movie magnate's opinion of them has changed as they improved.

Silent Death Knell

And he believes that ultimately the articulate movie will prevail to the entire exclusion of the soundless school.

Supplying the public's demands in the talkie field, he says, the producers eventually will concentrate most of their attention on talking pictures, with the result that the "silents" will lose their value and appeal because cheaply produced.

Silence Abroad

But Mr. Schenck's prediction is realized, and even the "silent versions" of talkies, pass away, it is not guessing to forecast that the organization he heads probably would be the last to abandon silent production, entirely. Not, at least, until the foreign market is equipped for the projection of talkies, and the foreign language seekie becomes common.

BROADWAY And Mine

By Walter Winchell

NEW YORK, April 18.—The male lead in a local comedy hit has become plenty up-stage as a result of success. He demanded star billing, arguing that his name should be featured over the show on the billboards.

To mollify him the producer ordered a batch of posters with the star's name larger than the title of the play, but had his name printed in canary while the show was printed in heavy red.

The billboards were posted all over the town and nature took its course. In a fortnight the actor's name was blindingly white on a black background, while the title of the play was a tiny speck of color.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—Many leaders of American business will gather here at the end of this month to discuss a wide range of problems.

These men concede an existing national prosperity, but so numerous and perplexing are the questions which they will undertake to thresh out that the program reveals deep interest, and in some cases anxiety, about the future of the nation's economic structure.

The annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce begins April 29. It will devote special sections of discussion to the marketing of agricultural products, trade practices, manufacturing problems, transportation, water power, conservation of natural resource raw materials, modern city planning and financing, future of mass merchandising, principles of tariff legislation, business finance and the credit system, safety of life and property, city traffic and trade areas and employer-employee relations.

Will Several Business Views The chamber will pass resolutions on most of these subjects which may or may not have some important effect on the future, but which may be taken as expressing the predominant sentiment of American business men and will be handed on as such to the innumerable local chambers of commerce over the country.

The two main matters scheduled for action by the present special session of Congress are on the chamber's agenda, the tariff and cooperative marketing such as is expected to be the principal factor in the farm relief act.

The chamber will consider the question of federal and state aid for development of cooperative marketing along with other phases of the cooperative system. It will consider the tariff as regards its effect on agricultural prices, the extent to which it has succeeded or failed in maintaining industrial stability, limitation of its present readjustments, likely effects of its increase on American export trade, its flexible provisions and a dozen other related subjects.

NOW as never before you should be careful about lubrication

THE lubrication requirements of the present high speed motors are most exacting. With their fine adjustments, these motors will not operate efficiently with every oil. They require a lubricant which is made especially to meet the particular conditions which they have created.

That's why it's most important to always specify the oil you want—and it will pay you well to insist always on a brand which has back of it the resources and experience of the Continental Oil Company. Then you will always be sure to get the right oil—in the grade made especially for your motor.

Ask for these brands at the better service stations and garages.

German Pair Confers With U. S. Experts

PARIS, April 23 (AP)—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht and Dr. Alfred Voelker, chief representative of Germany to the reparations conference, arrived in Paris after a week-end of consultations in Berlin and shortly afterwards entered a conference with the American delegates Owen D. Young, Thomas Lamont and Thomas N. Perkins at the Hotel George V.

Opening of the plenary session was delayed somewhat while the experts attended a memorial service at the English Church for Lord Revelstoke, who died Friday after Thursday's tempestuous session. The German cabinet of the status of negotiations.

Nothing seemed to be left the session tomorrow except meeting preparation of the conference's death certificate and adjournment. Two possible forms appeared for this death certificate, with many favoring a more statement to the governments concerned that the experts had failed in their mission because of impossible conditions posed by one of the principal parties. Others held the report of the committee, while denoting failure, should not give the idea that it was final, but should delineate the progress made in preparing a new framework for the reparations payments.

Special Session Offers Moody Last Chance To Have His Favorite Governmental Changes Adopted

BY R. W. BARRY, Associated Press Staff Writer. AUSTIN, April 24 (AP)—Facing his last chance to realize some of the innovations of government he had hoped to bring about during his tenure as chief executive, Governor Dan Moody may be expected to make the most of the special session of the legislature which convened Monday.

ROAD WORK AWARDED Ten Counties Benefit Through $1,468,355 Expenditure

AUSTIN, April 24 (AP)—Contracts today awarded yesterday were for about $1,500,000 worth of construction work in 15 counties will be let by the Highway Commission made for ten counties, aggregating $1,468,355.

Contracts awarded by today's lettings are as follows: Cottle, Highway 28 and 4; Montgomery, Highway 19; Jones, Highway 20; and 4; Dallas, Highway 15; Hall, Highway 5; Galveston, Highway 4-A; Uvalde, Highway 55; Dimmit, Highway 85; Childress, Highway 4; Hardin and Jasper, Highway 4; Lavaca, Highway 109; Falls, Highway 14; Gillespie, Highway 9; Austin, Highway 73-A.

May Clean Up Governor Moody is hopeful the special session will clean up all unfinished business, including the appropriations, which will carry some $40,000,000 for support of the government during the next two years, within the allotted 30 days.

In this he is supported by Speaker of the House W. S. Barron and Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller. Reports of two important investigating committees will be disposed of during the session. The Senate committee investigating textbook awards has drawn and submitted its report, but action was deferred until the special meeting. The joint House and Senate committee which investigated the General Land Office will do so early in the special session and give it to the two Houses for disposition.

The Senate Textbook Committee had stirred the disapproval of Governor Moody in its reference to action of the Textbook Commission, of which he is chairman, in making large quantities of the texts in use on hand. The Governor called the investigating committee together and went before it behind closed doors. Later the committee altered its original report to soften, if not eliminate, the criticisms complained of.

The report of the Land Office investigating committee is likely to precipitate a fight in both Houses of the legislature. It would not be surprising if the results were not sensational. J. T. Robinson, Commissioner of the General Land Office, was subjected to stringent inquiry, and his acts were the subject of searching examination especially his handling of the funds contributed by purchasers of public lands to revalue the acreage under the 1925 reappraisal act. He admitted he had kept a poor account of the receipts and expenditures under this fund, and told the committee he had accepted as gifts from the land owners considerable amounts in refunds due them after expenses of the reappraisal had been paid.

As a general thing, return of the legislature has created little interest. The legislators who have come back at the governor's command seem to be indifferent about the problems mentioned in his call, and there is an air of apathy about the capitol.

An Emphatic Subject All of the functions of life are not pleasant to consider. Perhaps this is why some mothers refuse to think that such symptoms as restless sleep, loss of flesh, lack of appetite or itching nose and fingers in their children, can be caused by round or pin worms. Many mothers have proven, however, that a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, that sure and harmless worm expellant, will make these symptoms disappear. You can get White's Cream Vermifuge for 25 cents per bottle from Cunningham and Phillips, and J. D. Biles. (Adv.)
