Daugherty Is Back From Denton Rites

Lum Daugherty has returned from Denton, where he attended the funeral of Boone Daugherty, 89, old-timer of Denton county and well-known to Midland county old-timers. He once owned with the late W. A. Daugherty, father of Lum, much acreage in this county. Concerning the funeral in the Denton Chronicle carried the following story: "Funeral services for Boone Daugherty, 89, one of the oldest settlers of Denton county, were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the Old Alton church, conducted by Dr. Karl H. Moore, pastor of the First Baptist church, followed by a Masonic burial service in the Old Alton cemetery. Pallbearers were J. W. Stewart, Will Williams Sr., Boyd Randall, H. H. Johnson, R. L. Selby and E. P. Atkins. "A quartet composed of J. W. Penber, J. Frank Solomon, Mrs. R. M. Barnes and Miss Esther Ubben, all of the First Baptist choir, sang old hymns. B. and Joe Daugherty and Mrs. J. Howard Daugherty. Denton, Guy Daugherty, Bloomfield, N. Y., a brother, J. M. Daugherty, Van Horn, and a sister, Mrs. Mary E. Eddie-man, Muskogee, Okla.

Murder Trial Cost Taxpayers $50,000

BOSTON. (UP)—It cost Suffolk county and the city of Boston approximately $50,000 to investigate and prosecute the murder of Joseph Pansias, which probably will never be officially solved. Five trials were held during the five years that have elapsed since the shooting. Samuel Gallo, one of the suspects, was convicted once at a separate trial, again at a joint trial with Cero Gangi, and then acquitted at a separate trial. Gangi, first to be tried, was convicted at a separate trial, and acquitted at a joint trial with Gallo.

GALE OVERTURNS TRAINING BOAT, FORMER RAIDER

KIEL, Germany, July 27.—A gale-borne thunderstorm bowled over the three-masted German naval training ship Niobe off Holstein yesterday and sent her and 69 men to the bottom. Thirty-seven persons including the captain, his lieutenant, 17 of the Niobe's crew and 18 naval cadets were rescued by the steamer Theresse Russ.

Steamer Mile Away

The steamer was passing when the storm struck the Niobe one mile off Fehmarn Lightship, near Kiel. Although several naval vessels and airplanes soon were sent to the scene, there was no evidence of any other survivors. There was a slight glimmer of hope that Danish fishermen may have taken more survivors aboard a small fishing boat, which was spotted in the vicinity of the wrecked vessel. Danish naval officers were inclined not to believe this, however. The fact that most of the rescued were members of the experienced crew instead of the cadets who had just gone aboard for a sailing cruise led naval officers to conjecture the vessel was handling the ropes when the vessel went over.

Theresse Russ Transferred

The Theresse Russ transferred the survivors, many of whom were reported in need of hospital attention, to the Niobe in the night. The house is in the naval base here soon. Among the survivors were those of the 50 officer cadets and 18 sub-officer cadets, who had not gone down with the Niobe. A few minutes before the Niobe went down the giant flying boat DO-X, which visited the Niobe a few minutes ago, passed overhead en route from Travemunde to Kiel. The DO-X swooped down and signalled a greeting to the young cadets and then proceeded on her way, alighting safely after a stormy flight.

Niobe Formerly Was Commanded by Count Felix Von Luckner

The Niobe formerly was commanded by Count Felix Von Luckner, a famous war-time raider, who has spent much time in the United States recently and has been made an honorary citizen of San Francisco.

The Lions club picnic at Cloverdale park will be held Friday evening, rather than today, according to Marion F. Peters, president. The Reporter-Telegram erroneously said in the Tuesday issue the party would be held today.

ROGERS IS CHOICE OF OKLAHOMA

Jack Walton in the Lead for Chief of State

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 27.—Will Rogers—schoolmaster, not humorist—rode a rollicking tide of Oklahoma ballots toward the democratic nomination for congress-at-large last night. Although his foe, Mrs. Mabel Bassett, gained somewhat as city returns were tabulated, Rogers was nearly 100,000 votes in the lead. Tabulators neared the halfway mark in reporting yesterday's runoff primary.

Walton Has Fight

Meanwhile, former Governor J. C. (Rarin) Jack Walton, on a conventional comeback attempt, was creeping ahead of A. S. J. Shaw, former state treasurer, for the democratic nomination for the important post of corporation commissioner. One democratic congressional incumbent—F. B. Swank—found himself falling far behind O. B. Mottram, Mrs. Bassett's opponent, and Representative W. W. Hastings, with a stiff fight on his hands in the 2nd district, was just behind Alex Johnson, Okmulgee oil man, for democratic nomination. Mottram, a former state bank commissioner, Senator Elmer Thomas apparently was on his way to democratic nomination over his lawyer opponent, Tomer Smith, while Representative Gomer McKeown, also a democrat, led Bart Aldridge in the 4th district.

Wirt Franklin Leads

In the only republican race attracting general attention, Wirt Franklin, Ardmore oil man, was leading James A. Harris, former party leader, for the senatorial nomination. Disorder flared at Sallisaw, in the eastern Oklahoma hills, as the entire state cast a huge ballot. At that place, feeling ran high following the fatal wounding of a county official.

Political observers were amazed at the tide of ballots for Rogers. Howard, former congressman, who was next behind Mrs. Bassett in the initial contest, to eliminate Rogers as a candidate on grounds Will Rogers is not his true name. Howard alleged the school master's correct name was William C. Rogers, but the state election board and state supreme court upheld Rogers.

Arsenic Mistaken For Corn Meal

AXTELL, July 27. (UP)—Earl Norman, 14, and Jack Norman, 8, were dead and seven others were seriously ill after arsenic was mistaken for corn meal in preparing corn bread. The entire family was taken ill after the noon meal yesterday. The deceased were children of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Norman.

Tourist Kicked On This Beer

HAMILTON, Ont. (UP)—Tourists from the United States complained to the chamber of commerce that when they had asked for 44 beer at refreshment stands, they were served real beer and charged 50 cents for it. Under the Canadian laws, anyone may purchase 44 beer, but to purchase beer a permit is necessary. One tourist said he stopped at a wayside restaurant for a meal and was asked if he wanted a bottle of beer. He desired beer, thinking it was 44 beer. He charged that when the time came to pay the bill he was charged 50 cents for the beer.

Realization in Anarctic Exceeds All Expectation

Realization seldom equals expectancy in the life of Captain Allan Innes-Taylor, south polar explorer of the Byrd expedition, who lectures at the Yucca theatre Thursday night for a charity benefit sponsored by the boy scouts and leaves Sept. 1 to rejoin his old commander for another trip to the Anarctic. "But the afternoon of August 25, not so long ago must have been an exciting one for the young explorer, as he sailed out of New York harbor by the boy scouts and leaves Sept. 1 to rejoin his old commander for another trip to the Anarctic. "There may have been smiles of contentment from the modern greyhounds that lined the path of modern and scientific exploring expedition that modern Jasons had ever planned? In three months, after various vicissitudes the ship reached Dunedin and 6 days later left for her 2500 mile trip to the Ross sea. On Christmas day, the party was listening to a radio program from home, 10,000 miles away, when suddenly the great ice barrier was discovered and feverish activities for disembarkation began. The landing was made at Discovery Inlet, Bay of Whales and a permanent base called "Little America," established seven miles inland. There were 55 men in the landing party, 25 of whom were to remain 14 months with the expedition and the other 30 to return with the ship to Dunedin, when the coming of the winter season would force 500 of the world to transport the most

TO ADDRESS ROTARIANS

Captain Innes-Taylor this morning accepted an invitation to address the Rotary club on Thursday at its weekly luncheon meeting. He will address the Rotarians early that morning from Pecos, where he is land man for the Plains Production company.

The auxiliary bark, "City of New York," mother ship of the Byrd antarctic expedition, but the little old-fashioned square-rigger ignored them disdainfully for, old-fashioned though she was, had she not been chosen from all the ships of the world to transport the most

No Kidnapers Can Get Near Her

Italian shipping magnate, is taking no chances on his pretty little daughter being kidnaped. Many wealthy families in Europe have taken similar precautions to guard their children since the Lindbergh kidnaping case horrified the world.

GERMANY IS KEY TO PROSPERITY OF WORLD-PAPEN

BERLIN, July 27. (UP)—The speediest way back to world prosperity is through restoration of Germany's place in the sun, Chancellor Franz Von Papen said today in an exclusive interview to the United Press. "The world's prosperity," he said, "will never be restored until Germany resumes her place among the nations as a moral, political and economic equal—a buyer, a manufacturer, a seller and a big customer in the world's markets."

TWO ELECTRA MEN DEAD IN NITRO BLAST

ELECTRA, July 27. (UP)—The United States Torpedo company dynamite plant, located three miles east of here, exploded this morning, killing Lewis Kent, 24, and Pat Kent, 22, brothers. Bits of clothing were found several hundred yards away. A twenty foot hole was torn in the ground. Two automobiles were demolished.

Grantham Family Moves to Angelo

L. A. Grantham and family left this morning for San Angelo where he is being transferred as general agent for the Fidelity Union Life Insurance company. He has been living in Midland for the past two years in similar capacity, having been connected with Mimie and Crane. His new field is larger and his transfer represents a substantial promotion with the company. Grantham and family have been active civic and religious affairs while here.

Investigator's Check Returns

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP)—Of course it was just one of those things that will happen, but Detective Tom Swennes it proved rather embarrassing. Tom, it so happens, is the veteran chief of the police bad check detail. So when one of his checks came back marked "Insufficient Funds," Swennes had a lot of explaining to do. Swennes had persuaded his fellow officer, Reginald Todd, to bank for him. Todd performed the favor and returned Swennes' bank book. Tom then wrote eight checks and left the city for a week-end vacation. When he returned, he discovered his checks had "bounced." Investigation proved that Officer Todd had taken the money to the wrong bank. The clerk had placed the money in an old account Swennes had at that bank some years ago.

Late News

WILLIS, July 27. (UP)—Two masked bandits robbed the Willis State bank of $4,000 this morning and fled toward Houston in a stolen automobile. They looted Cashier E. R. Paddek and customer, C. A. Johnson, in the vault. The loss was insured. The automobile was identified as one stolen yesterday from Dr. W. J. Ingram of Conroe.

Sentence Is Not Shown on Blotter

SUNBURY, Pa. (UP)—Leonard Strukites, Shamokin, spent four months in the Northumberland county jail here despite the absence of court records to show why he was there, or how long he was to be held. Strukites thrust himself into the attention of county officials by asking how long he was to be jailed. They looked through the records but found no transcripts bearing on his case. Neither the court nor the district attorney was officially aware of his presence in jail. So they sent Strukites home. Later it developed he had been committed by a justice of the peace in March.

REID AND GRANGER THROW HIM SUPPORT

Close on the heels of the support pledged B. Frank Haag by Wed E. Reid, defeated in the race for state representative from this district, Bill Granger, Fort Davis attorney also defeated in the race, telephoned "I should like to see the man best fitted for the work win," Granger said to the Midland man, "and you may expect me to assist you in every way possible."

Haag, who held a margin of 1382 at last count, now finds his election almost certain. Reid, Fort Stockton publisher, carried Pecos county by a large majority and Granger carried Jeff Davis and Presidio counties, as well as the Balmorhea box in Reeves county.

Wed E. Reid, publisher of the Fort Stockton Pioneer, who piled up a large vote in the race for state representative, has declared himself for B. Frank Haag in the Aug. 27 run-off. Haag received about one-third more votes than his nearest competitor, J. B. Cotten.

Reid, who has the esteem and respect of his neighbors and all who know him, is said to have run a remarkable race to have done practically no campaigning. It is believed his declaration for Haag will mean many additional votes for the Midland man, as Reid has wide influence in those who know him. Granger, who also received a sizeable vote, has made no public declaration for Haag, but scores of those who voted for Granger have declared they are for Haag in the run-off.

PECOS MURDER CASE NOT UP IN THIS TERM

R. L. Thompson and George Moutray, charged by indictment with the murder of H. M. Poland, whose body was found in the Pecos river near Imperial in March, 1930, will not be tried at the current term of 12th district court in Pecos county, it was learned here today.

Thompson, former Mexia resident, is now held in the penitentiary at Walla Walla, Washington. Moutray, erstwhile truck driver of McGeary, Oklahoma, and taken to Odessa, where he was questioned and then taken to the Pecos county jail at Fort Stockton.

Thompson and Moutray were said to have been in San Angelo in March, 1930, and to have left that section two days before the body of Poland was found in the river. Poland carried large sums of money on his person. He left San Angelo with a woman, went west to Big Lake where it is thought that he was kidnaped, and taken to the Pecos river, shot in the back and dropped into the water.

Malt Plants Await Repeal

PHILADELPHIA. (UP)—Waiting for the repeal of national prohibition the oldest business firm in America is preparing its plan to resume operation. Founded in 1687, the firm of Francis Perot's Sons has made malt from that early day until the approval of the 18th amendment halted their business. Although the malt plant of the company is now located in Buffalo, the offices of the company are still maintained here where the firm was started.

THE 20TH AMENDMENT

When you speak of amending the constitution, this summer and fall, most of your hearers will take it for granted that you are talking about the prohibition law. But it is worth remembering that another amendment to the constitution is now pending, and it is an amendment that deserves to pass in jig time.

This is the 20th amendment—the "lame duck" amendment, as it is called—which would set forward the inauguration of a newly elected president to the first week in January and abolish those congressional sessions in which politicians who have already been rejected at the polls meet to make laws for the nation.

Already more than half a dozen states have ratified this amendment, and the rest should do so before another year has passed. Legislators must be reminded that the amendment is badly needed, even though public attention may be focused on more spectacular issues.

Governor Roosevelt pronounces it "Rose" with a long "o," and the hope, no doubt, that he will be picked in November.

The Town Quack

(Reserves the right to "quack" about everything without taking a stand on anything)

I heard one of those rare original jokes from children yesterday that was too good to keep. A little girl in a neighboring town, who looks to be the picture of health, had been examined on account of some slight ailment. The doctor gave her the usual thorough tests and a few days later the little girl was telling a neighbor about her troubles, with the air of a woman telling about "her operation."

I saw a fellow the other day who was gripped because he had been gossiped about by his neighbors. To hear him tell it, he is the only fellow who ever got talked about. However, he needn't feel so puffed up, because some of our best citizens are catching it every day, whether they deserve it or not.

Herb Rountree wants to know why he can't get some publicity in this column any more. You know he's the fellow who got a bucket of hot water thrown on him by some housewife where he attempted to collect for the paper. Well, the reason I have let up on him is the same reason I have for not mentioning

GARNER AND LONG GRAB HONORS IN STORMY SESSION OF PAST CONGRESS

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON—It was a session of Congress which gave more than a normal number of members a chance to distinguish themselves, to pop out from previous obscurity, to embellish or bedim their favorite records in new or expanded roles.

Senator Huey "Kingfish" Long and Speaker Jack Garner attracted more national attention than anyone else. "Texas Jack" became the first Democratic speaker in many years, had his ups and downs—downs when the House revolted against his leadership in the sales tax and original economy plans, waxed and waned as a presidential possibility and came down the home stretch a vice-presidential nominee engaged in a hot legislative battle with President Hoover.

The "Kingfish" became a radical progressive, raved periodically, renounced his Democratic leadership and incidentally took a few tall feathers out of Minority Leader Joe Robinson by tying up Joe's law firm with a number of power companies. Congress adopted measures involving the stupendous sum of $11,000,000,000, making billions available for business.

Hero Hiram Bingham
Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut became a national hero of the jubilant walks by his crusading on the floor and at the Republican national convention. Senator Edward P. Costigan of Colorado showed up as the soundest, most effective progressive arrive in several years, beginning with his memorable early unemployment relief fight.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL KNOCKS UNITED CLUB OFF LEAGUE'S PEAK

COWDEN-EPLEY FORGES INTO A TIE FOR SECOND PLACE BY KNOCKING A DECISION OUT OF PETROLEUM DRUG

By HERB ROUNTREE
Despite Joe Pierce walloping the ball for a home run with the bases loaded, United Dry Goods fell out of step last night—and Texas Electric and Midland Hardware are the only clubs left to battle it out for the first rung of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company that turned the trick, playing jam up good ball during the United errors. The game ended 10-9.

Fred Girdley hit another home run, none on ahead of him.
Another surprise of the second half flashed under the wire victor during the night, Cowden-Epley increasing its winning streak by beating Petroleum Drug.

SWITCH GAMES
Texas Electric and United Dry Goods will play their game of this week on the night of July 28, rather than July 29, according to managers, due to several Lions club players on the two clubs wishing to attend the Friday night picnic.

The game will be played at 7 o'clock. The game will switch with the engagement of Hokus Pokus and the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, which will thus be played Friday night.

ing Petroleum Drug 12-11, and setting the club up in a tie for second place, with .667. Doc Ellis for the Druggists was wild walking six, while Price and Watlington, on the mound for the Fords, issued no free trips. Lindy Hiett increased his home run hitting mark, hitting for the circuit in the first inning with one on ahead.

Both games were exceptionally exciting, due to the closeness of the scores.

Gene Raymond, former Broadway stage star, now plays his third and most important talkies role as Paul, young man, in Paramount's dramatic romance of present-day life in a modern city, "Forgotten Commandments," which closes at the Yucca today.

Raymond's extraordinary performance as Sylvia Sidney's blond-haired sweetheart in "Ladies of the Big House" brought him immediate acclaim and marked him for greater roles on the silver screen. He is the exclusive player of the "Commandments" in recognition of his previous good work in Paramount films.

His first appearance was in "Personal Maid" as the rich young wastrel who falls in love at the finish with Nancy Carroll. Then followed "Ladies of the Big House"—and now this new production, "Forgotten Commandments." As the romantic male lead, he is teamed with Sari Maritza, blonde sensation from Europe; Marguerite Churchill, former Broadway actress; and supporting players include the famous Irving Pichel, Paramount character player whose latest was "The Miracle Man" in which he played the athlete.

Raymond enjoyed a stellar rating on the Broadway stage before he was signed by Paramount.
He is the youngest member of the exclusive Players' Club in New York. He was born in New York, of French parentage, and began his stage activities at the age of five, in New York stock company.

He has light blond hair, deep-blue eyes—and a splendid physique.

Odessa Plans Birthday Fete

ODESSA, July 27.—All plans are completed for the two-day celebration August 4 and 5 when Odessa celebrates its 46th birthday. The Earl S. Bailey American legion post will have charge of the rodeo and race meet. The famed jackedrabbit roping contest will be staged both days starting the first thing each afternoon. Free barbecue will be served on the rodeo grounds.

Odessa 46 years ago was named after the famous old city of Odessa, Russia, by its promoters who believed in that early day, that it would like the Russian city, some day be one of the world's greatest wheat shipping centers. "Odessa, Queen City of the Staked Plains" was its first title. The first town-site sale was held in 1886 by H. C. Dickout, E. H. Sabine and Rev. C. Golder, when special trains were run from St. Louis and Chicago.

Odessa was one of the first educational centers in the vast staked plains region, boasting its first years a Methodist college. After a few years the college building burned, and has never been replaced. There is still a "college addition" to the townsite. In 1886 when roaring saloons adorned the corners of most of the western cowtowns, Odessa was decidedly and emphatically dry. This was for the moral influence upon the collegians of the town.

WELL FLOWS TWICE

Blue Bonnet Petroleum Co.'s No. 1 R. M. McMillan, Runnels county's new producer, flowed twice Monday, placing a total of 108 barrels of 44 gravity, sweet oil in storage, the operators reported Tuesday.
The first of the two heads began at 8 o'clock Monday morning when the bailer had been started in the hole and lasted one hour. The second flow began about 2 o'clock in the afternoon after the well had been bled six or eight times and lasted one hour and fifteen minutes. This was the first production since Saturday when the well, headed twice, making 61 barrels in an hour and 10 minutes and five hours later flowed 20 barrels in 30 minutes.

The Concho Refining Co. of San Angelo, Texas, has received a permit to haul about 300 barrels to its refinery there by tank truck. M. M. McCabe, president of the Blue Bonnet, returned Monday night from Dallas and announced that negotiations for an outlet still were pending. The well is 2,522 feet deep, two feet in the second sand. It is about five miles airline northeast of Balinger, in subdivision 22, Norvel Travis league 533.

A three-act play, "Dearie," will be staged at Valley View school Friday night by church organizations. It was announced today. Admission of ten and fifteen cents will be charged, invitation being extended to the entire public.

NEW WELL TESTED

Tested for proration Noel T. Lawson, A. E. Service and others' No. 1 M. M. Edwards, Glascock county's latest producer, pumped 91 barrels of oil the second hour Monday, giving it a potential of 2,184 barrels a day. The daily allowable was computed unofficially at 342 barrels.
The well has extended the Phillips-Corfee pool one-half mile west, 330 feet from the south line and 1,650 feet from the east line of section 16, block 33, township 2 south, T&P Ry. Co. survey, on 80 acres secured from The Texas Co. Pay was from 2,112-23 feet, total depth being 2,125.
No. 1 Edwards swabbed 169 barrels of oil in two and one-half hours on its first test, lowering the oil only from 1,700 to 1,000 feet. It ran 3-inch tubing and on last Thursday pumped 86 barrels of oil hourly for two hours before a break in the equipment necessitated a shut-down. Noel T. Lawson, one of the owners of the well, lives in San Angelo. A. E. Service and some of the other owners reside in Big Spring.

Reading Wants Amphitheatre

READING, Pa. (UP)—Civic organizations here propose that a large natural amphitheatre be laid out on the site of the former quarry facing the city on Mt. Penn.
The quarry now owned by the city, forms an opening 800 feet long and about 150 deep, on the slope of the mountain. It is termed a "blot" on the landscape and a detriment to civic beauty.
Plans of the organization for improvement of the site would be included in the city's $200,000 relief program to aid the unemployed. If the city council approves the project.
It is proposed that the amphitheatre be arranged to hold 15,000 persons and that the inner bowl be arranged for pageants, athletic contests, outdoor plays, and city demonstrations.
The quarry is just six blocks north from Penn. Avenue, main thoroughfare through Reading. Its white, bare face is visible for many miles.

Bearded Faces Ads for Fairs

NORFOLK, Neb. (UP)—Bearded faces, like in the days of the gold rushes, are becoming popular in northeast Nebraska.
The idea originated at Grand Island and McCook earlier in the summer of having the men folks grow beards to advertise the anniversary celebrations of those towns has been copied.

Five hundred men here are letting their whiskers sprout and are growing Van Dykes, pork chops and goatees to advertise the fall festival. At Neligh, west of here, 100 men have started a "Whisker Club" to boost the annual Antelope county fair.

Sincere Thanks

I wish to thank the voters of Midland County for the gratifying majority given me in the recent primary election for district clerk.
Also, I wish to commend Mr. Brunson for the manner in which he conducted his campaign against me.
I shall continue to give my best efforts to the office.
